Philomathean Society Held First Meeting

An Interesting Session Was Held Yesterday Afternoon.

The President Delivered His Annual Address—Prospects Are Bright.

The first regular meeting of the Philmathean Society of the Collegiate Institute, for the season 1905-06 was held in the Y.M.C.A. Hall on Monday afternoon at 4.30.

After a little business had been transacted, the President, Mr. Stanley Fife, delivered his inaugural address. His subject was "Oratory, and the Cultivation of the Art in Literary and Debating Societies." Mr. Fife dealt most completely with his subject, describing the qualifications necessary in an orator, and outlining a course whereby fluency and self-possession, in speaking before the public, can be gained by the amateur.

Mr. Fife's address showed much careful preparation and much ability as a speaker.

The literary part of the programme consisted of a very able paper on Wordsworth, read by Miss Burnett. It was a most praiseworthy effort, giving an outline of the poet's youth, character, and life work.

During the meeting Misses Eva Stevenson, Dorothy Fesserden, Jean Campbell and Lillian Deane, read selections from Wordsworth's poems, to illustrate the different phases of Wordsworth's writings. All the readings were excellently rendered, reflecting great credit upon the readers themselves, and also upon their training in the Institute.

Misses Gladys Crane and Edith Connor delighted the audience with piano selections. The Society has indeed a great acquisition in these two young ladies.

At the end of the programme, Miss A. Weir, B.A., criticised the meeting in a most able manner, pointing out defects in the matter which had been used, and also in the manner of its delivery. This, combined with the praise, which Miss Weir gave along with her criticism made her address a most interesting and profitable part of the meeting.

The meeting closed by the singing of God Save the King, Miss Hazel Sanderson presiding at the piano.

The Collegiate Philomathean Society has before it the prospects for a most interesting and successful year's work.

Opera House Plan Open Thursday

On Thursday evening at 7.30, in Ormond & Walsh's, the plan for the opening night of the Grand Opera House will be opened to subscribers. The first attraction will be the "Yankee Counsel," the great musical success. This will give those who have subscribed for seats ample opportunity to secure the choice of the house. The plan will probably be opened to the general public about Monday.

PETERBOROS' CHANCES OF SECURING PAINT INDUSTRY SAID TO BE EXCELLENT

Mr. R. G. Newhall Has Investigated Other Towns and Cities' Advantages and Believes That This City Surpasses Them All—The Trent Canal an Important Factor—Will Enable the Company to Procure Wood Supplies Easily—Wood Alcohol Will be one of the Products.

The Examiner is informed that Peterborough stands an excellent chance of securing the dry paint factory, to which reference has already been made in these columns. It will be remembered that Mr. R. G. Newhall, who represented the English syndicate contemplating establishing the factoiry in Canada, spent some weeks in this vicinity prosecuting his enquiries as to the advantages which Peterborough offered for an establishment of this kind, and, as was stated at the time, he expressed himself as pleased with the facilities available in Peterborough for an industry such as he proposes to operate.

Recently Mr. Newhall has been visiting some other towns and cities for the purpose of ascertaining if any of them possess superior advantages to those of Peterborough. Accompanied by his brother, Mr. S. T. Newhall, and Mr. T. Holmes, Mr. Newhall visited Port Hope on Thursday last, and was met by some of the business men who explained the advantages possessed by that town. Mr. Newhall was impressed with the fact that Port Hope has many arguments in its favour for the establishment of a dry paint factory, and the greatest of these is the fact that there is a possibility of the Trent Canal going to that town, but it was pointed out to him that whereas it was simply a probability in the case of Port Hope, the Canal was an assured fact as far as Peterborough was concerned, while in addition this city had water power facilities which Port Hope did not.

The fact that the Canal would place the city in easy communication with the back country, from which wood could be procured, is perhaps the greatest consideration in Peterborough's favour.

It is learned that the Company intends to manufacture along with their other products, wood alcohol, for which they have a process patented. So that the fact that wood will easily be procurred, should be a material consideration.

Bowmanville and Oshawa were also visited, and the former was found to be out of the question altogether, while the latter was placed on the list of likely places.

Mr. Newhall is in Toronto at the present time making investigations, and from there he will go to Hamilton and possibly London. He will also visit Niagara Falls, Buffalo and other American cities. Mr. Holmes has already been in Buffalo in the interests of the syndicate, making inquiries.

The intention of Mr. R. G. Newhall is to go to Cuba with his brother, Mr. S. T. Newhall, and afterwards to return to England, where he will lay before his syndicate the results of his trip.

Metropolitan School Of MUSIC WILL OPEN Branch In Peterborough

Mr. Cecil Carl Forsythe Will Occupy the Position of Director of Music—Date of Opening Has Not Yet Been Announced But Will Probably be About January 1st—Important Addition to Musical Circles in the City.

What will doubtless prove a most important epoch in local musical circles will be inaugurated with the opening in Peterborough, at an early date, of a branch of the Metropolitan School of Music, of Toronto.

The date of the opening here of the school has not as yet been determined upon, but it will probably be about January first. The faculty will to a large extent, be composed of members of the staff of the Metropolitan School, Mr. Cecil Carl Forsythe, organist and choir-master, of St. Andrew's church, will be the Musical Director of the School. Mr. Forsythe, who arrived in the city a few days ago, on Sunday took his introductory service at the church. He is a brother of Mr. W. O. Forsythe, Director of Music in the Metropolitan School, whose eminence in the musical world has been attained equally by his delightful composition, the excellence of his execution, and ability as an instructor.

Mr. Cecil Carl Forsythe is a former member of the Metropolitan staff and has been during the past five years a resident of Perth. He will be a distinct addition to musical circles in the city, and is thoroughly qualified in every respect for the work which he will shortly undertake. The curriculum of the new school will include elocution, and, in fact all subjects in which instruction is given in the Toronto school.

Mr. Forsythe's professional card will be found in another column. He has taken up residence in Peterborough, and will teach, for the present at his studio, 212 McDonel street.

N. D. Neill Promises To Furnish Husbands For 2,000 French Telephone Girls

Ottawa, Nov. 6.—(Special.) — The Paris correspondent of The London Mail says that Mr. N. D. Neill, the president of the Lorimer Automatic Telephone Company, Canada, is about to offer to the French Government to provide husbands for two thousand young French women now engaged in the Paris Telephone Exchange. "Yes see," said Mr. Neill to the correspondent, "the Lorimer system is bound to supersede the present operators if the Government adopts the system. I shall open a special bureau and offer to send two thousand young women to Canada. We are prepared to pay all expenses out, board and lodging, and pocket money for six months, and do our utmost to provide them with suitable husbands. Mr. Neill, who resides at Brantford, Canada, returns home in January.

Campbellford Girl Attempts Rash Act

Mary Emlaw Jumps Into Trent River In Attempt to Commit Suicide—Her Mother's Wish to Have Her Marry a Man She Disliked Cause of the Deed—Fortunately She Was Rescued by Passersby.

Campbellford, Nov. 6.—Mary Emlaw, 18 years old, attempted suicide to-day by leaping into the Trent River. A number of young men crossing the bridge at the time, saw the girl floundering in the water and rushed to her rescue. After much difficulty she was brought to shore in an exhausted condition.

The cause of her rash act is attributed to her mother's efforts to force her into marriage with a man she disliked. The mother and daughter had quite a heated argument, which resulted in the latter threatening to end her life if further attempts were made to force her to comply with the former's wishes.

Little attention was paid to this threat, and when the argument did not cease, the girl rushed from the house, and, climbing up on the abutment of the Trent River bridge, threw herself into the water.

That she was determined to carry out her design was shown by her frantic attempts to frustrate the efforts of her rescuers.

There is little doubt that the girl was in an almost insane condition when she made the attempt upon her life.

The greater part of the business done by the City Council at its regular monthly meeting last night was routine business, and nothing of very special importance developed.

Those present at the meeting were Mayor Best, Ald. Johnston, Crowe, Hall, Tovey, McIntyre, Batten, Scott and Adams.

The minutes of the last meeting were taken as read.

Communications.

The following communications were dealt with:

Nine ratepayers living in the vicinity of Division street, wrote, asking that a light be placed at some point on that street. Fire, Water and Light Committee.

Mr. A. E. Micks requested permission to erect a temporary wooden building at the north end of his store, 212 Hunter street. Request granted in case it is removed by May 1, 1906.

Mr. J. Z. Rogers applied for permission to make connection with the main sewer, where it passes close to the west side of his lot in Ward Five. —Board of Works.

Bridget Kearns asked permission to cut down two shade trees in front of her house, 467 Rubidge street. —Board of Works.

The Y.M.C.A. Debating Club wrote, enclosing a copy of a resolution passed at a recent meeting of the club. It was as follows: "Resolved, That the expenditure of $25,000 in the purchase of a new fire equipment would be in the best interests of the city." —Received.

Robt. Howland applied for an increase from $10 to his grant for taking care of Inverlea Park, as it is necessary that he should be on duty each Sunday during the summer months when the gospel services are being held to keep order.—Finance Committee.

Citizens asked that an electric light be placed at the corner of Smith and Bethune streets.—Fire, Water and Light Committee.

Property owners petitioned for granolithic walks on the west side of Reid, from Brock to Hunter Hunter streets; south side of Bolivar, from Park street to lot No. 9, plan 85; west side of Reid, from Brock half way to Hunter street. Inside the tree line, east side of Belmont avenue to Weller street. Inside the tree line, west side of Belmont avenue, from Hunter street to Homewood avenue. South side of London, from Reid street to a point 114 feet west of Reid street; west side of Jackson Park avenue. (If not granolithic walk, they would be willing to accept one of plank.)

Petitions were received for sewers on Simcoe street, from Rubidge street to a point seventy feet east of Reid; on Simcoe street, from Reid to Rubidge streets.—Board of Works.

From Scott & Hogg, applying for connection with their warehouse to connect with the south end of their building near the southeast corner, while the sewer is being constructed along the railway right of way. —Board of Works.

From Vincent Crovar, asking permission to have a small movable popcorn stand, either on Hunter or Simcoe street, near corner of George. —License Committee.

From Frost & Wood Co., fo Toronto, enclosing a tax bill that was forwarded to them by their travelling representative, in which the city of Peterborough claims taxes of $68.94 from this company, and asserting that they own no property in Peterborough, nor are they tenants, and therefore cannot see that any valid claim exists against them. They further added that they have an account with Mr. Taylor, of Peterborough, who should, no doubt, be taxed to the extent of the personal property on this bill.—Court of Revision.

Ozias de Laplante wrote on behalf of Mr. Thos. Mc Donough, protesting against the validity of taxes against his client to the amount of $29.10 on the personal assessment of $15 of the estate of the late Chas. Le Gros, and adding that said client cannot be called upon to pay the tax in question. He is not the party assessed as the owner of the goods. —Court of Revision.

From J. Robertson, applying to have his name placed on the roll of deputy returning officers for the city.—Received.

From Geo. Spencer, superintenent of C. P. R., complaining that the nearest fire alarm box to the city station and freight shed at corner Perry and George streets, is too far away for a person to sound an alarm in the event of fire, especially at night when the station night staff is limited. Mr. Spencer asked for an alarm at the end of the platform on George street.—Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From Geo. C. Robb, chief engineer of the Boiler Inspection and Insurance Co., of Canada, stating that after thoroughly examining the boiler of the old fire engine, that it would be cheaper to purchase a new boiler than repair the old one.—Fire, Water and Light Committee.

Reports.

Ald. Adams presented the report of the Board of Works, which was adopted, with the exception of clause 17, which was referred to the Board of Works. This clause is as follows:

"We recommend that a rental charge be made for all sewer connections with the outfall sewer, which was paid for by a general rate of a lump sum, equal to 57 1-2 cents per foot frontage of the property to be served, or an annual rate of 3 51-100 per foot for thirty years, and that a bylaw be prepared for this purpose, to apply to all connections that have been made as well as connections that may be made hereafter."

Ald. Adams pointed out that he considers it unfair to make the charge for connections with the outfall sewer on the basis of a fixed charge per foot of frontage, his idea being that a fixed charge for each connection was the better plan.

Legal Committee.

The Legal Committee reported as follows:

1. That the order of the Police Magistrate of Lindsay, making the City of Peterborough liable for the maintenance of Jeremiah Clary, in the St. John's Industrial School, was brought before the magistrate by the City Solicitor, and on the evidence produced the order was changed, relieving this city of the responsibility.

2. We recommend that the case of T. W. Hubbell against the city for injuries to a horse on the Brock street bridge, be settled by the city paying $27.50, and that a cheque be issued for that sum.

The report was adopted.

Extension of Debentures.

The Committee of the Whole Council was presented by Ald. Johnston, and was as follows:

1. That the assessment of the Central Milling Company be fixed at $12,000 for a period of ten years, from January 1st, 1906, on terms similar to those in the by-law fixing the assessment of the Peterborough Cereal Company, so far as they will apply, provided this is confirmed by the Legislature.

2. That the next session of the Ontario Legislature authority be applied for to change Bylaw No. 1077, authorizing the issue of $50,000 for the new Collegiate Institute, so as to permit the debentures to be issued, payable at the end of thirty years, and to extend the time in which they may be issued three years.

The report was adopted.

3. We received an account for $5.00 from Dr. J. W. Gray, for information as to the cause of a death, and we recommend that it be not paid as the city is not responsible in the matter.

4. We recommend that the following accounts, passed by the Board of Health, be paid:

Ormond & Walsh	$11 85
St. Joseph's Hospital	27 00

The report was adopted.

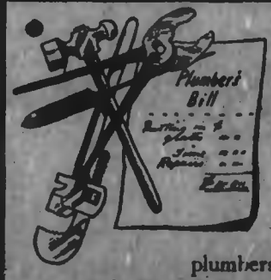
Ald. Hall moved the first reading of bylaw to appoint Mr. S. R. Armstrong auditor for the Criminal Justice accounts. The auditor will be paid $4 per day for the time he is occupied on the work. The bylaw was passed.

Ald. Hall also introduced a bylaw to pay money to the members of the police force in criminal cases, in which they have to go outside the city, and their expenses for horse hire, railway fare, telegrams, etc. The city treasurer is authorized to issue cheques on the certificate of the Chief of Police. The money is paid back to the city by the Government. The bylaw was passed, though Ald. Crowe objected to the police getting the fees, his opinion being that since they were paid salaries they should not get the fees in addition.

Barnardo Avenue Sewer.

Ald. Adams introduced a bylaw authorizing the construction of a sewer on Barnardo avenue as a local improvement and for entering into an agreement for the construction of the sewer. This bylaw simply confirms the action in the prosecution of the work, which has already been completed, and was passed.

Ald. Begley moved that the Board of Works be instructed to construct a bridge over Metcalf's creek, on Victoria avenue, which was carried, Ald. Johnston seconding the motion.



Did you ever have your range grates burn out?

If you did you will know what that means in common ranges — it means plumbers, delay, muss and big bills —because common ranges are built that way. As range grates must some time burn out you are certain to have that kind of trouble if yours is a common range.

If you have the Pandora you won't have any trouble, because you can take out the old grates and put in the new ones in ten minutes, and a ten cent piece for a screw-driver does it easier in the Pandora than a whole kit of plumbers' tools will do it in common ranges.

EVERYONE agrees that the best in anything is always the most economical even if it costs more.

But when you can get the best in tea at the same price you pay for inferior teas,

WHEN buying a range the oven construction should be your first consideration. Its baking and roasting qualities are of the utmost importance to you. A poor oven means ruined food, waste of coal, late meals and many heartaches. The Imperial Oxford Range is the result of years of experience and scientific study. It has taken years to evolve it, and years of use have proven it without a peer. There are a number of exclusive features in the construction of the that give it advantages found in no other. Of these exclusive features the most important is the heat-diffusing oven flue. This flue draws the cold air in from outside the range, superheats it and distributes it through perforations in the top of the oven. This insures fresh, heated air evenly distributed throughout the oven, the moist vapors of the oven being drawn off by openings provided for the purpose.

The Imperial Oxford Range, by this construction, gives a dry, even heat, which roasts or bakes an article thoroughly and evenly, the heat in all parts of the oven is equal, the fire side being no hotter than the other side.

If your dealer doesn't handle the Imperial Oxford Range, write to us and we will send you our catalogue and tell you where you can see the range. 21

BOARD OF EDUCATION

DISCUSSED QUESTION OF THE INSTITUTE SITE

At the Regular Monthly Meeting Held Last Night—The Reports Were Presented—Janitors to be Given Increase in Salaries—Mr. Stevenson Raises Question of the Amount of Land the School Board Has on Which to Erect the Institute.

The Board of Education held a regular meeting last night, with Mr. W. G. Ferguson in the chair. The following members were present:—Messrs. J. Crane, H. Morgan, Wm. Pringle, Dr. M. A. Morrison, J. J. Hartley, Robert Fair, Dr. Burnham and Jas. Stevenson.

The most important question before the meeting was that introduced Jas. Stevenson, in reference to the Collegiate Institute, and the armoury lots. According to Mr. Stevenson, the Government claims four out of the six lots, leaving the Board with only two on the north side, instead of three as was understood by the school authorities. This information seemed to be a surprise to the members of the Board, and after a discussion it was decided to refer the matter to the Property Committee for investigation..

Other important business was an increase in the salaries of the various janitors.

From the Boiler Insurance and Inspection Company of Canada, stating that the Central School steam boiler had been inspected, and the steam guage showed no pressure, and that safety valve and other fittings were in good order. — Received.

Increase in Salary.

The Property Committee reported as follows:—

Gentlemen,—Your Property Committee beg leave to report and recommend as follows:—

That the salaries of the various janitors be as follows, dated from the 1st of November:—

Institute, $400 an increase of $25.

South Central, $500, an increase of $75.

East Ward, $250, an increase of $50.

The re-arrangement of the above salaries is an increase of $270.00 per year, and has been deemed advisable by your committee taking into consideration the amount of work done by these men, and the time given to them by their duties.

We also beg to report that a fire occurred on Oct. 31st in the gymnasium of the Central School grounds and your committee appointed Mr. T. Rutherford as adjuste with Mr. Wm. Langford, who was appointed by the companies. The loss was adjusted at $900 and on the authority of the committee the chairman and secretary have signed the necessary documents, which we ask you to confirm.

We would also recommend that tenders be asked for the removal of the old ruin and also the building at the north end, formerly used as an outhouse.

We also beg to report that the trouble in connection with Mr. Wallace's room has been entirely remedied. Some changes have been made in the vent pipe, and everything is now apparently satisfactory. All of which is respectfully submitted.

John Crane, Chairman.

The report was accepted.

Mr. Crane explained in reference to the increases in the salaries of the janitors, that before recommending this increase he had gone into the matter thoroughly, and had made comparisons of the amount of work which each had to perform, and the increases were based upon the information resulting from these investigations.

Discussion.

Mr. Stevenson called the attention of the Board to the Separate School lots. He said that at the joint meeting of the Board of Education, Council and officers of the 57th Regiment, he had noticed by the ways displayed by the representative from Ottawa that the Government claims two-thirds of the property, leaving the Board only a narrow strip at the north end of the grounds. It was a matter which ought to be looked into.

Mr. Hartley said that the understanding had been that the Board was to have three lots, and the Government the other three. The Board was to have the use of part of the Government property as a playground, while the Government in turn could avail itself of part of the school property for parade purposes.

Mr. Stevenson said that Mr. Hartley would find that he was mistaken, and that the Government claimed two-thirds of the property.

Dr. Morrison thought that the matter should be looked into. He had thought that the understanding was that the Board should have three lots. He was in favour of the south lots in preference to the north and thought that the Board had better sell their lots to the Government, and let them have the whole property.

It was then moved by Mr. Fair and seconded by Mr. Burnham, that the matter be referred to the Property Committee to investigate, and report at the next meeting of the Board. Carried.

Reward Offered.

Mr. John Crane reported that several windows in the South Ward School had been broken, and thought that a reward should be offered for the discovery of the perpetrators.

It was moved by Mr. Crane and seconded by Mr. Pringle, that a reward of $5 be offered. Carried.

Other Business.

Mr. Pringle said that, owing to the destruction of the Collegiate gymnasium by fire, there was no place where the pupils could drill, and called the attention of the Board to the fact that Sergt.-Major Brittain was still in the pay of the Board. The matter was referred to the Supervision Committee, with power to act.

Mr. Stevenson asked if it was true that the Board was considering the drawing up of new plans for the Collegiate Institute, involving a smaller outlay, and was informed that the Building Committee was considering the matter.

The Board adjourned at 8.45.

Snow Ploughing Districts Rearranged

At last night's meeting of the Council Ald. Adams presented the report of the special committee appointed to consider the question of re-arranging the snow-ploughing districts. He pointed out that the engineer advised making one new division, the average of each of the four divisions done by contract being about eight miles. Prior to this time the three districts were as follows:

Northern, 10 1-2 miles.
Southern 7 2-3 miles.

Ald. Adams moved that the districts be re-arranged to include one additional district, and that the Board of Works be authorized to advertise for tenders, and to purchase three new snow-ploughs, which was carried.

Funeral In Cobourg Of Mrs. W. Burnet

Deceased Had Several Relatives in Peterborough.

Mr. F. C. Burnet, of the staff of the local branch of the Bank of Toronto, was in Cobourg yesterday attending the funeral of his grandmother, Mrs. Wm. Burnet, who died at that place some days ago at the advanced age of eighty-six years.

The late Mrs. Burnet, whose death resulted from senility, was the oldest surviving member of an old Northumberland County family, and was born in Scotland. Removing to Canada at an early age, she resided at Birdsall's during the greater part of her life, removing a short time previous to her demise to Cobourg. In religion she was a Presbyteriand, and was the last surviving member of those whose names appear upon the original membership roll of the Cobourg church of that denomination. Her husband predeceased her by a number of years.

A number of relatives of the late Mrs. Burnet reside in Peterborough, including Mr. F. C. Burnet, and Mr. W. F. Johnston, who are grandsons.

Mr. Burnet, of the Auburn Woollen Mills, is also a relative. Two daughters and three sons survive to mourn her loss, Mrs. McCallum, of Guelph; Mrs. Johnston, of Cobourg, and Messrs. William, Frank and Hugh Burnet.

Short services took place at the house and also the church, conducted by Rev. Wm. Beatty, after which interment took place at Union Cemetery.

LICENSE LAW OBSERVANCE.

The Wine and Spirit Journal does not seem to be well advised in recommending hotelkeepers to "sell all the liquor they can" in order to have more money to fight local option and the general movement of temperance agitation. Lookers-on see very well that if hotelkeepers, as a class, had been content with doing a legitimate business with a strict observance of the requirements of the law, the many evils that attend the intemperate use of intoxicants would not have challenged the vigorous crusade the temperance people have inaugurated. Members engaged in the traffic who observe the law and are content with legitimate profits have been heard to express the opinion that if hotelkeepers had observed instead of outraging the license law, had been content to do business under the restrictions the law imposes there would have been less ground for the demand for prohibition and local option, less demand for the "banishment of the bar." Those who have studied the question are convinced that the abuse of the license law has been largely responsible for the demand for its abolition and, with that, of the traffic. Experience has given ground for the assumption of many persons that a well-observed license law is preferable as controlling the traffic and minimising its evils, to local option or prohibition, with the great difficulty of adequately enforcing them. Whatever force there is in this contention, it is reasonably certain that the abuse of the license law is largely responsible for the insistent demands made for prohibition, largely responsible for the attitude of temperance reformers, who regard a traffic that will not in the public interest and in the interest of morality, and the well-being of the public, consent to be regulated, as one, as they sometimes express it, "to be regulated out of existence."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Out of fifty-three British constituencies in which bye-elections have been held, the Balfour Government previously held thirty-nine and now holds eighteen, while the Liberals previously held fourteen and now hold thirty-five. A Conservative Parliamentary majority of twenty-five of these fifty-three seats has thus been changed to a Liberal majority of seventeen. And even this overwhelming turn-over does not represent the full extent of the change. Many of the contests have taken place in constituencies which the Government selected in order to get a favourable result, as in the case of Brighton. In the case of the latest bye-election, in Barkston Ash, the Liberal candidate, as has happened in several other recent bye-elections, won a seat never before held by a Liberal. The Conservative majority in Barkton Ash in the two preceding contests was 1,905 and 1,241 respectively. It was turned into a Liberal majority of 228 at the recent bye-election.

To Prevent Dogs From Roaming The Highways

Ald. Begley gave notice at last night's council meeting, that at the next meeting of the council he would introduce a bylaw to prohibit the running at large of dogs on the streets, which he was introducing at the request of a large number of business men and other citizens, who objected to the depredations committed by these animals.

Ald. Begley remarked that many property owners had told him that the dogs destroyed their lawns and flower gardens much more quickly than the boys. He was simply introducing the question for the purpose of getting public discussion on the matter at the present time.

Diamond Lodge Celebrated The Ter-Centenary

The Gunpowder Plot Commemorated by Successful Concert.

Addresses Were Delivered—An Interesting Programme Was Presented.

The entertainment, held under the auspices of Diamond L.O.L. No. 80, last night, in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street, was an unqualified success. The programme was an attractive one, the speeches were stirring, the audience enthusiastic, and the occasion historic.

The hall was crowded, and it was not until eleven o'clock that the last number of the evening's events was concluded. Then the gathering adjourned to the refreshment room, where delicious viands were served in abundance. The celebration was the tercentenary of the Gunpowder Plot.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt was chairman and the following contributed to the evening's enjoyment: Misses Bartley, vocal duets; "The Maple Leaf," instrumental duet, Mrs. Patton and Master Ross Lang; reading, Miss Thomas; instrumental solo, Miss Anderson; vocal solo, Miss Elliott; instrumental duet, Misses Anderson and Stewart; vocal solo, Mr. H. Urquhart; cornet solo, Mr. W. Hughes, vocal solo, Mr. R. Freund; instrumental solo, Mrs. Patton; recitations, little Miss Annie Christie; comic songs, Mr. C. E. Coleman. All the participants acquitted themselves admirably but particular credit is due Miss Christie, whose recitations for one so young evinced elocutionary ability of an unusual degree. Mr. Coleman as a humorous vocalist created a decided hit and was enthusiastically received. The accompanists of the evening were Mr. W. H. Barrie, Prof. Milner and Miss Mulholland.

The committee in charge of the entertainment were Messrs. W. G. Bartley, W.M., Diamond Lodge; Jas. Garside, Robert Wilson, W. H. G. Armstrong, Urial Halley and W. G. Brown.

The Addresses.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, the chairman, said that there was nothing he liked to take part in, and was more in sympathy with, than the Orange Association. They should all remember what brought them together. They were rejoicing after several centuries at the frustration of the Gunpowder Plot. He did not believe the celebration of the event was an insult to their Roman Catholic fellow citizens and all should be glad that the conspiracy was defeated. He had been abused by Roman Catholics, but he thought he was able to stand all the insults hurled at him. He was well able to stand such abuse, and regarded it as a compliment. It must be remembered however that abuse was not argument. Whatever he had said was merely in defence of the possession of the faith delivered to the saints, and, as one who had been a Roman Catholic for 21 years he thought he knew what he was talking about. He therefore could not be accused of ignorance in these matters. He was prepared to answer any argument, and to show that the Protestant faith was the true faith. He had no fault to find with anyone worshipping God as he saw fit, but he objected to the interference and arrogance of the priesthood, to prevent the people of that faith from living on friendly terms with others. He had attacked the Roman Catholic church by what had been said and written by its own people with their own weapons—and not by what had been said by others. He believed with Father Crowley that parochial schools "were a curse to the church and a menace to the nation." He had no quarrel with Roman Catholics and thought they would live at peace if allowed to do so by their priests, but it was necessary to contend for the privileges and blessings which Protestants enjoyed to-day and in the defence of truth and faith. He admonished his hearers to be faithful to themselves, to their country and to their God. He strongly objected to honouring any fellow man before honouring his King and in conclusion said the Roman Catholic church was a great political power ever seeking to gain more and greater supremacy. Rev. Mr. Langfeldt read several extracts from Father Crowley's book during his address.

Rev. W. L. Armitage, of Picton, was cordially received. He did not understand when they had so much talent at home, why they had sent for him and could only interpret it as an act of friendship and kindness to bring him home again. He referred to the deep pulsation of loyalty in his own town evidenced by the Orangemen and True Blues who had turned out in large numbers to service on Sunday. He spoke of the True Blue Home for Orphans situated on the shores of the beautiful Bay of Quinte, how the little ones, who had not been as fortunate as some others in life, were carefully taught. The possibilities of a bright future that existed in their ranks were also dwelt upon. He bore from them greetings of loyalty and fellowship in the cause they represented. In speaking of the Gun Powder plot, he said the Roman Catholics, while saying that Father Garnet had known of the plot for some time before the day set for its execution, declared his information had been received through the confessional and consequently his lips were closed by the sacramental seal. The speaker asked if any one could imagine a man who knew of a conspiracy not taking steps to stop it or lifting a hand to frustrate it. Was there anything in the law of heaven or earth to forbid him from revealing it? He lifted not a hand and was therefore not innocent, and suffered a just penalty. There was no law that would excuse any man who knew of a crime to destroy the lives of his fellow men, and yet do nothing to save them. Mr. Armitage said that we did not appreciate our liberties and privileges of to-day as we should. What if the Gunpowder Plot had been successful? What would have been the condition of affairs to-day? What would have been the oppression? We do not know what oppression meant. We had come to the enjoyment of our liberties at great cost.

In closing the speaker told of the progress of 300 years of Empire, how Canada had developed as a great part of that mighty empire and the need of placing citizenship before party and properly valuing the things that are best and highest.

Rev. A. H. Brace followed, briefly. He felt that he was in good company and that Diamond Lodge should rally its forces and have fifty new members added to it during the year. He dealt with the "minority cry," and said the cry would bear watching. He thought the Roman Catholic church had the willingness, and only needed the power, to exert pressure.

Rev. Dr. Crothers spoke briefly. He congratulated the Orangemen on the privileges and liberties which they enjoyed to-day and which they should highly prize. He was tired of the cry about "coercion," minority and bigotry. He had no desire to stir up strife, but exhorted the majority to be true. He added that taking Sir Wilfrid Laurier's utterances in 1890 and again in 1895 when he introduced the autonomy bill it showed that the premier had swallowed himself.

Col. J. W. Miller moved a hearty vote of thanks to the speakers which was carried by a standing vote.

Headaches Cured

One cause of headache and nervous diseases very often is Hyperopia, or far-sightedness. If your eye is normal you require no muscular effort to see distinct objects. Some eyes are so formed that they require a muscular effort to see clearly far objects. Such eyes are DOUBLY strained when used for near vision. This EXERTION CONSTITUTES EYE STRAIN.

75 per cent. of headaches are caused by eye strain and can only be cured by removing the the cause. That is what our glasses do.

Extending The Franchise To Women Debated

Decision Given in Favour of the Negative—An Interesting Debate.

The oratorical battle in the lecture hall of the St. Peter's T.A.S. last evening on the subject, Resolved "That universal suffrage should be extended to women," attracted a very large audience, the members of the sex turning out in goodly numbers to hear the arguments presented on this question. Some good arguments were presented on both sides of the question under discussion, but those who held that the right of the franchise should not be given to women were successful, the decision being given to them.

Rev. Father McColl filled the duties of chairman, and the musical programme presented during the evening was an excellent one. It consisted of a splendidly executed pianoforte selection by the Misses Dorris, two vocal solos rendered in excellent voice by Mr. W. Williams, and a descriptive song "Old Black Joe," with hidden chorus. This was a capital number, the solos being well sung by Mr. Jas. Wyer. The members of the chorus responded to an encore with a rollicking marching song.

The main feature of the evening's programme was, however, the debate and it certainly proved intensely interesting. The speakers for the affirmative, Messrs. Frank McPherson and W. Donovan, delivered splendid addresses, bristling with beautiful tributes to the fair sex, the wonderful influence they exercise for good in the world, and the wonderful reformation that would be effected in society should they be given the franchise as they would always be found on the side of right against all forms of evil. Extracts were read from the writings and utterances of public men in favour of granting the franchise to the women, and the successful outcome of the experiment in different States of the Union and in New Zealand. The addresses of the two champions of woman suffrage were splendid ones, and showed that both had given the subject considerable study.

The speakers of the negative, Messrs. T. J. Bogley and J. Foley, contended that woman's place was in the home, where she had been installed by God as queen. The Christian mother, they argued, prayerful and pure, was the prolific source of all true happiness in the home and state, being its only true support. The beautiful example a Christian woman presents, and the wonderful influence for good she exercises in the sanctity of the home, were strongly pointed out, and the contention was strongly emphasized by both speakers that woman would degrade her noble calling should she step down from the pedestal she proudly occupies and enter the great game of politics, with its graft, corruption and evils of all kinds. Statistics and statements were also presented, refuting the assertions of the affirmative that a wonderful reformation had taken place in states and colonies where women were allowed to vote. Facts were also presented which went to prove that a large number of the so-called woman's rights agitators, social reformers and club women were furnishing grist for the divorce mills in the United States.

Rev. Father McColl, in summing up the arguments pro and con, congratulated the speakers on their efforts. He went fully into the points adduced by each speaker, and, in closing, gave his decision in favour of the negative. At the next fortnightly entertainment Rev. Father Galvin will deliver an address.

The Epworth League Held Social Rally

An Enjoyable Evening Spent in Charlotte Street Church.

Delegates to Convention Presented Their Reports—A Programme of Merit.

The rally of the Charlotte street Epworth League last night, held in the new school room, was very largely attended and was highly successful, the young people evidencing increased interest in the work of the League with the re-opening of the new rooms.

A delightful programme was rendered and a most delightful social evening was spent. A number of young people who had not previously been identified with the League, were present, and the prospects are that with the approaching winter season, the interest in the League will increase materially.

After the opening exercises Miss Bertha Parnell rendered a solo in splendid voice. A quartette by Misses Lee and Howell and Messrs. Lee and Howell and Messrs. Armstrong and Clarke followed, and was much enjoyed. Miss Myrtle Emmerson gave an address on "Herods," with which the audience shouted its approval. Miss May Huffman's piano solo was rendered with precision and skill. An interesting feature of the meeting was the report of the two delegates to the recent convention of the Christian Endeavour Societies in Belleville.

The delegates were Miss Lillie Emmerson and Mr. A. S. Clarke, the president of the League, and they gave very extended and comprehensive reports of the proceedings of the convention.

Miss Thomas gave a reading, after which refreshments were served and a delightful social hour was spent.

Mr. A. S. Clarke the president of the League, occupied the chair at the meeting, which was one of the most enjoyable ever held under that auspices.

"Ye Olde Time" Social Scored Success

Pleasing Programme Was Presented—Other Delightful Features

"Ye Olde Time" Social given last night at the George street Methodist church under the auspices of the Epworth League, was one of the most delightful of the many events of the early season, and the promoters have every reason for gratification in the success which rewarded their efforts.

Quaint and original in every feature, and sparkling with bright and catchy touches of the humourous, the programme gave unmeasured delight to the large audience which attended the affair. Notwithstanding the varied character of the numbers presented, and the charm lent in the contrast thus afforded, every feature was appropriate to the spirit in which the affair was conceived. Each selection brought with it a reminiscence of the quaint and picturesque conditions of "ye olde time," and the evening was brightened by not a few skits and playful allusions, which must have created unlimited amusement to the older members of the audience, with recollections of boyhood days, in which the hoop-skirt was a factor in daily life, with an aspect more formidable than it now possesses in its present day of degeneracy, as an attic curiosity.

The chair was occupied by Mr. F. H. Dobbin. The opening number upon the programme was an instrumental duet by Mudeline and Harold Parker, rendered with much skill in technique, combined with charming power of expression.

A recitation by Miss Mabel Christie won well-merited appreciation, as also did a second number by the same artist.

A clever skit, and one that created sustained mirth, was "Reuben and Rachel," as portrayed by Miss Effie McWhinnie and Elmer Sanderson. A song, "Jolly Old Farmer. McGee," was rendered with "olde tyme" spirit by Mr. Gilbert Scott, who was forced to respond to a hearty recall.

The dulcet cadences of "Annie Laurie," never fail to appeal, and as rendered last night by Miss Clara Belleghem, the old Scotch favourite captivated all. As an encore, Miss Belleghem sang sweetly, "The Last Rose of Summer."

"A Dialogue, "Arabella's Poor Relations," was excruciatingly funny. The cleverly conceived farce was presented by Misses Bessie Powell and Lizzie Smith, and Messrs. Arthur and Harry Mann.

A second appeal to the hearts of the Scotch section of the audience came in the winsome and captivating rendering by Josie Callender and Harry Little, of "Comin' through the Rye." The diminutive vocalists were enthusiastically encored.

Mr. James Browne, in pleasing contrast to the preceeding number, chose the Emerald Isle as the inspiration of his song, and "The Minstrel Boy" was rendered in a manner which did full justice to the ever delightful old composition. Moore's "Believe Me Those Endearing Young Charms," was given as an encore number.

A recitation by Miss Alma Knapman evidenced much elocutionary power, combined with a charming and winsome personality. Miss Winnie Anderson rendered with exquisite effect "Home Sweet Home."

This was followed by the tableaux "John Allen and Priscilla," and "The Working Man's Family," which were presented with the following cast of characters:—Misses McWhinnie, Belleghem, Goodfellow, Powell, Sanderson, Warne, Stewart and Mrs. Knapman and Messrs. Brownscombe and E. and A. Mann.

A feature, which, had it been conducted under auspices less charming, might have been regarded in the light of sordid commercialism, was the candy booth, under the management of Misses Warne, Stewart and Goodfellow.

The accompaniments of the evening were played with artistic sympathy and expression by Miss Sanderson and Prof. Milner.

THE BOARD OF WORKS AT LAST NIGHT'S MEETING WAS GIVEN GRANT OF $2000

With Which to Complete the Work on the Streets This Year—This Brings the Appropriation Voted for 1905 up to $15,000—Mayor Believes That the City Has Not Received Value for the Money Spent—Says Practically $17,000 Will Have Been Spent on the Streets This Year.

The operations of the Board of Works, for this year, occupied the boards for a considerable portion of the time of the council last night, when a number of the aldermen presented requests for improvements to the streets or sidewalks. The proposal to grant $2000 additional to the Board of Works, to complete the work under way, and to take up what new work was absolutely necessary, caused some comment, and the Mayor particularly objected to the grant, making the statement that this year the Board of Works was spending practically $17,000, which was an increase of $6,000 on the amount spent last year. The $2,000 was voted, however, the requests for improvements to the streets pouring in from the aldermen so thickly that it was seen that if the work was to be done the money would simply have to be provided.

In the discussion Alderman Adams defended the application for the increased grant, and stated that the money had been expended to good advantage, and that value had been received.

Ald. Tovey started the ball rolling when, in a vigorous speech, he called the attention of the council once more to the disgraceful condition of Park street, opposite to the Canadian General Electric Company's works, where a crossing was badly needed, as well as to Rubidge street from Wolfe street south to Park street. He moved that the chairman of the Board of Works be authorized to have these repairs effected at once, which was carried.

Ald. Johnston also had a complaint to make in reference to crossings which are needed. Seven different places were enumerated, at which repairs should be made. They were at the C. P. R. railway crossing on Mark street; Division street, where the sidewalk should be fixed; on George street, at Argyle; on Water street, opposite Mr. Trollope's house; on Water street, a deep hole prevents traffic; at Edinburgh street on George a crossing is needed. He moved that the chairman of the Board of Works be instructed to have these repairs made. Ald. Crowe also spoke of two places where the sidewalk needed repairing. Ald. Adams said that he had pleasure in seconding all these motions, but asked that Ald. Johnston include in his motion a clause to authorize a grant of $2000 from the council to do the work, as his appropriation had been exhausted.

Objects to Increase.

The Mayor objected to the proposed increase of appropriation, and stated that this year the Board of Works had been given $2000 more than last year, and he wanted to know where the money went to.

Ald. Hall supported Ald. Adams' request for an additional grant, and said that there were a great many crossings which required attention and the work should be done at once.

Ald. Johnston remarked that the Lord knew the council of this year was being sawn up pretty well, but they might as well go ahead and do this work, which was very necessary.

The Mayor said that if the grant proposed were given it would mean that practically $17,000 have been given to the Board of Works, which was $6,000 more than the amount spent last year, by reason of the fact that last year about $2,000 worth of broken stone had been bought, and had been turned over to this year's Board of Works, and had been used. He believed that the city had received less value for the money spent on the streets this year than in any previous year.

The motion to add the $2,000 to the appropriation of the Board of Works was passed, however.

Over $28,000.00 Still Of Unpaid Taxes

Mr. Green the city's tax collector last night presented to the City Council a report showing the amount of taxes collected up to Nov. 1st, and the amount still remaining on the roll unpaid is $28,714.73.

The collector wrote as follows:—

Total amount of taxes on Roll for 1905	$114,601 27
By total deposited to Nov. 1st...	85,886 54
Balance unpaid	$28,714 73
By amount deposited during Oct....	1,725 40
Paid back.....	149 28
	$1,877 68

The report of the collector was referred to the Finance Committee.

The Jackson Avenue Residents Make Protest

The residents on Jackson avenue know how to express themselves strongly when they ask the council to give them a sidewalk, as was evidenced last night when they wrote a letter, setting forth the conditions under which they lived. In part their letter, asking for a walk from Albert street on the west side, said, "It is ridiculous and a shame to have to live in houses for over a year and pay taxes thereon, and have to walk in mud and water, every time it rains to get to Albert street."

Ald. Johnston took up the cudgels in their behalf and moved that the Engineer be instructed to lay a temporary board walk to serve the residents on Jackson avenue until spring. The motion was seconded by Ald. Adams.

In the race for City League honours this winter, the newly organized Bank Hockey Club's team will have to be reckoned with, and the present prospects are that the financiers will make things interesting for their opponents.

J. C. Flanagan The Champion Hammer Thrower

Famous Athlete Talks to the Examiner Man.

Holds Two World's Records in Twelve-Pound Hammer Throwing.

The sporting editor of the Examiner had a very interesting interview with Mr. J. C. Flanagan, champion twelve pound hammer thrower of the world, at the Hotel National yesterday afternoon, but owing to lack of space it was unfortunately crowded out. Mr. Flanagan, who is now proprietor of the Grand Central Hotel, Toronto, throws the twelve pound hammer 128 feet with one hand, and with two hands 133 feet 9 inches. He established these records August 9th, 1902, the time of the King's coronation, at Stamford Bridge, London, England. He also won the all round championship at this meet. In 1898 at Morden, Conn., he won the laurels emblematic of the all round championship of America. His brother John, detective sergeant of the New York police force, holds the world's records for throwing the 16 pound and 56 pound weight. Both these gentlemen are particularly well known throughout the athletic world. Mr. Flanagan states that he has never done any bicycle riding, boxing or wrestling, as he finds exercises of this stamp detrimental rather than beneficial to one engaged in his line of athletics. While he has not been actively engaged in the sphere of sport for some time, Mr. Flanagan states that he is by no means out of the game. He is a member of the Greater New York Irish Athletic Club, and a former member of the New York Athletic Club. Some time ago Mr. Flanagan gave a hammer throwing exhibition in Ottawa, the only place where he has ever performed in Canada, and his efforts were greeted with great enthusiasm by the sportsmen of the Lakeside town.

Mr. Pentland Saw the Game

Mr. J. Pentland, formerly an old rugby football player of Detroit, was interviewed by a representative of the Examiner at the National Hotel last night. Mr. Pentland is travelling representative and manager of agencies for the McGraw Manufacturing Co., manufacturers of cement blocks, Walkerville. The head office of the firm is in Jackson, Michigan, Mr. Pentland, witnessed the game in Toronto on Thanksgiving Day, between the locals and the Toronto Argos. He was very much impressed with the splendid work of the Peterborough back division and referred particularly to the brilliant work of Shaw, at centre half.

BASKET BALL.

In the opening game of the Basket Ball season in the T. M. C. A. gymnasium to-morrow night the Harriers will play the Arrows. The admission is free.

The High Lifes Have Organized

The High Lifes organized for the coming winter last night. The following officers were elected:

President—Wm. Crowley.
1st Vice-President—T. W. McDonough.
2nd Vice-President—Harry Gunsolus.
Secretary-Treasurer and Chaperone—H. Larhaur.
Executive—Geo. Lynch, T. Laplante, Ed. Dillon.
Manager—Wm. Pentland.
Trainer—Jack Cottingham.

The High Lifes will enter a team in the city league and have already signed Miles Blewett, Harvey McCullough, F. Metcalfe, Jim Squires, George Campbell, Jack Knox, W. Menzies, a man from Waterloo and Prescott and several other first class men. The club will have an open air rink at Riverside Park. Considerable difficulty is being experienced in securing illumination for the rink. At the next meeting the advisability of the players wearing headlights, after the manner of bandsmen, will be considered, Mr. Ed. Dillon is responsible for this "brilliant" idea. Mr. Dillon will also probably figure on the line up.

HOCKEY

To-morrow night the annual meeting of the Peterborough Hockey Club will be held and the reports of last year will be presented and the officers for the coming year will be elected.

* * * *

The Farriers will hold their organization meeting in the course of a week or two. The Farriers had a strong bunch last winter, and were in the finals with the E. A. S.

* * * *

The National Hockey Team organized last night for the coming season and elected the following officers:

Hon. President—Mr. J. C. Conroy.
President—Mr. C. Graham.
Vice-President—Mr. F. Whitcroft.
Treasurer—Oher Girouy.
Captain—Kenneth Pentland.
Manager—Thos. Meredith.

The team will in all probability enter the junior or City League, in case arrangements for organizing this are carried out.

* * * *

A number of Peterborough horses will be entered at this meet and if the horses that are at present decided to start do so a large number stand good chances of landing first money.

Keep the following for reference and see how nearly correct the prophecies are:

In the stallion trot, 2.24 class, the time should be about .24. In the trot or pace, 2.24, Miss Paisley, owned by George Lipsett, looks likely for first money at .24. The 2.18 class, Looking Glass, in .22 1-2. The 2.05 pace for $1,000 stakes, Jim K. in .25. The 2.20 trot in .22, no winner picked. The 2.25 trot, $1,000 stakes, in .27 1-2, Look out for Gradiator. The 2.06 trot or pace in .21 1-2, Hal Pattern. The 2.13 stake in about .20, Miss Paisley. The 2.22 in about .26; throw your dust at Little Jap. In 2.26 trot in .29, Gradiator, Free-for-all, in .23, Little Jap or Gypsy Girl, 2.30 trot or pace, in .25, no winner. 2.33 trot or pace, in .24, Miss Paisley. Five mile race, Conduct, owned by parties in the vicinity of Niagara Falls, and will break the world's record.

Will Be No Game In Brockville

Just before going to press word has been received that a mutual agreement has been reached between Brockville and Peterborough, and the locals will not play in the Island City next Saturday. Peterborough is now in the finals with Dundas. Had it been earlier in the season the boys would have been delighted to clash with the Brockville Twelve. They are a gentlemanly bunch and a credit to any town. Here's wishing them success in the Federal League.

THROWING LIGHT ON THE SUBJECT OF Home Dyeing.

Home dyeing is a fascinating and money-saving work, when Diamond Dyes are used. Home colouring has an attraction for ladies in all ranks of society, and the wonderful results achieved by the Diamond Dyes for women, have made them the popular home dyes in all parts of the world.

* * * *

The ten cent package of the Diamond Dyes will do the same work that a steam-dyeing establishment charges one dollar for.

All faded and dingy looking dress-ses, skirts, suits, blouse, jackets, ribbons, stockings, coats, vests and trousers, can be re-coloured at the home and made to look as good as new, at a cost of from ten to twenty cents, when the never-failing Diamond Dyes are used.

It is well to bear in mind that direct money saving can only be guaranteed when Diamond Dyes are used. Have a care that you do not buy the worthless imitations sold by some dealers. Refuse such deceptive dyes if you would avoid trouble and loss of money and temper. Ask for DIAMOND DYES, and refuse all others that may be offered to you.

Story Of "Four Men In a Boat" After Mr. Jerome

Some Comparisons Made in Reference to a "Cruise."

To the Editor of the Examiner, —

Dear Sir, — Mr. Jerome K. Jerome is not a humourist of the first rank. At least he is not considered as such by those who heard him when he paid his recent visit to this city. In fact, his work entitled "Three Men in a Boat," on which his fame (?) chiefly rests, does not possess any great merit. But we judge that the fault did not lie in himself, but rather in the defective material on which he had to work. If he had had the good fortune to remain in our midst for a short time, he would have found ample scope for the exercise of his powers. He might, in fact, have manned a new boat. At the helm Rev. Mr. Langfeldt might appropriately sit. We should suggest that Rev. Mr. Crothers be made captain, Rev. Mr. Brace, first mate, and Rev. Mr. Armitage, superintendent of the general rigging. A boat so manned, equipped with the latest therapeutic devices for generating "hot air," would, we believe, furnish many a marvel for the amusement of the reading public.

But, sometimes, facts are stranger than fiction. These reverend gentlemen actually did go on a cruise on the evening of Monday, November 6th, 1905. The weather was most unfavourable when the voyage began. Clouds overspread the sky, and the waters were dark and turbid owing to a strong wind which had blown all day. But the gods were propitious, and soon the stars made their appearance, and the moon beamed smilingly upon the reverend occupants of the boat.

"All's well!" cried the reverend captain. The man at the wheel throws himself into a chair near by. His favourite books are at hand, "The Farmer's Son," "Life in the German Army," "Parochial Schools," by the excommunicated Father Crowley. Instinctively he picks up the last, and soon becomes all absorbed in the contents.

The other members of the crew wander to the wheel station, and to their edification, find Rev. Mr. Langfeldt perusing the pages on which light is thrown on the immorality of the Church of Rome. By this time the reader's better soul is aroused. He rises from his seat, throws his hands wildly about him, and denounces the whole system of Rome, which tolerates and encourages the grossest vices. "Too violent," says Mr. Crothers, "the boat is dipping. Allow me now to engage your attention for a moment." The reverend gentleman then discourses on the school question in general, and makes particular reference to the management of Roman Sunday schools. He sighs aloud, "Oh, if they would only copy me and mine."

Rev. Mr. Armitage takes up the word and rehearses sweet stories of long ago, taking for his text, "Better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all."

In the meantime, Superintendent Brace is lost in his meditation on "The Roman Church—a giant 'political' machine." But, oh, ye gods and little fishes! the mariners have forgotten their real calling and avocation. Sailors from different vessels with different views make a poor crew. They allow the ship to drift; she runs aground just as they are passing "Resolution Island." The toughty mariners are suddenly brought to their senses, but by this time their vessel has become fast in the mud. Day breaks. Kind friends help them ashore, and tell them of the brave and foolish mistake they made.

So ends the story of "Four Men in a Boat"—no one hurt, none even sore, but many amused.

KIDNEY DISEASE AND ITS DANGERS CAN BE QUICKLY CURED BY DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

Kidney disease comes on quietly, it may have been in the system for a long time before you suspected the real cause of your trouble. There may have been backache, swelling of the feet and ankles, disease of the urinary organs, such as, Kidney disease in urine, highly colored, scanty or cloudy urine, bladder pains, frequent urination, stone in bladder, etc.

Perhaps you did not know that these were symptoms of kidney disease, so the trouble kept growing worse, until Neuralgia, Indigestion, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Dropsy, and worst of all, Bright's Disease have taken hold of your system.

Doan's Kidney Pills should be taken at the first sign of anything wrong. There is no other safe way, (plasters and liniments are useless), as the trouble must be eradicated from the system.

Doan's Kidney Pills go to the seat of the trouble, strengthen the kidneys, and help them to filter the blood properly and flush off all the impurities which cause kidney trouble. Mr. Thomas Mayhew, Smith's Falls, Ont., writes: "For over four months I was troubled with my kidneys, and my back got so lame I felt miserable all over. A Splendid Lecture At The Barracks

Splendid Illustrations—He Will Speak Again To-morrow Night.

Ensign Edwards, whose headquarters are in Montreal, and who is travelling through Eastern Ontario in the cause of the Salvation Army, gave a most interesting and instructive illustrated lecture at the local barracks last night. He dealt with his subjects, "Biddy" and "Christmas Bells," in a most masterly and pleasing manner. "Biddy" was a very touching and pathetic story of joy and sorrow in domestic life. It told of a little girl being afflicted with a deadly fever, and of her faithful attendant, in turn contracting the fatal disease. It also incidentally brought in the conversion of a young doctor at the sick bed of his dying patient.

Between this lecture and "Christmas Eve," some beautiful pictures from the life of Christ were shown. The illustrations depicted the "Good Samaritan," "Christ in the Temple," and some other well known scenes from the earthly existence of our Saviour.

"Christmas Bells" concluded the programme. The scene opened with a young woman lying on her death bed in a humble hut, devoid of any of the comforts or even necessities of life. A little girl of tender years, with barely enough clothing to cover her frail little limbs, knelt beside her mother. The father had gone away nearly a twelvemonth before in search of work and had never returned. There was no fire in the house to cheer the suffering woman. "If your father was only here" she murmured to her little daughter, and then sank back on the rough bed. The child wandered out in her bare feet, unprotected from the wintry blasts by her ragged clothing, and roamed aimlessly over the bleak moor in search of the long-looked for parent. But he was nowhere to be found. She finally succumbed to the cruel blasts and lay down, exhausted, in the snow. She was aroused by the sounds of sleigh bells and a new hope sprang up in her breast. She plodded onward through the merciless night till again overcome with fatigue near a church from which the sounds of Yuletide thanksgiving pealed forth. She was picked up by a passing man, who had seen her fall. He happened to be none but the object of her search—her father—and he hurriedly journeyed with his child to his dying wife. Neighbors in the meantime had come to the aid of the sufferer, and when the father and husband returned to his home a more cheerful scene was presented than when his faithful child had left the cottage to search for him on the wild moor.

Staff-Capt. McAmmond thanked the Ensign for his very able and eloquent discourse, and announced that the same gentleman would lecture again to-morrow night.

Sunday In Mark St. Church

Sunday services in Mark Street Methodist Church are worthy of special mention. The quarterly services were largely attended and very impressive. The hour of the Love Feast was fully taken up with brief and earnest testimonies. The sermon by the pastor, Rev. J. G. Lawis, was helpful and to the point. Subject: "Doing Good As a Life Principle." The church was filled with an interested and appreciative congregation. The Sacrament was partaken of by about 115 persons. "A record for Mark Street," among whom were sixteen new members, who were welcomed by the pastor and officials seven by letter and nine on profession of faith. The evening sermon, also by the pastor, was on "The Conflict In Human Life Between the Lamb and the Beast."

THE REAL QUESTION.

? The real question of disease is "Can I be cured?" If you or anyone dear to you is losing strength, flesh, energy and vitality, if you are wise you will not spend time trying to figure out just what name to call the disease by.

It is almost impossible to draw the line where debility and weakness merge into consumption. Your trouble may not be consumption to-day, but you don't know what it may become to-morrow. Hundreds of people have been restored to robust health by Dr. Pierce's marvelous "Golden Medical Discovery" after reputable physicians had pronounced them consumptive beyond hope.

Were they in consumption? Nobody can ever know. The important point is that they were hopelessly ill but this matchless "Discovery" restored and saved them.

"I was not able to do hardly any work at all," says Mrs. Jennie Dingman, of Vanburen, Kalkaska Co., Mich., in a most interesting letter to Dr. Pierce. "I had pain in my left side and back, and bad headache all the time. I tried your medicine and it helped me. Last spring I had a bad cough; I got so bad I had to be in bed all the time.

"My husband thought I had consumption. He wanted me to get a doctor, but I told him if it was consumption they could not help me. We thought we would try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and before I had taken one bottle the cough was stopped, and I have had no more, so it restored. Your medicine is the best I have taken."

Write to Dr. R. V. Pierce. He will send you good, authority, professional advice, in a plain sealed envelope, absolutely free. His nearly 40 years experience as chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel, at Buffalo, N. Y., has made him an expert in chronic diseases.

Social Evening At St. John's

Last night at St. John's School House a number of the congregation assembled to enjoy a social evening. Previous to eight o'clock an informal musical programme was presented, and largely attended and enthusiastic meetings of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew and of the King's Daughters were held in their respective rooms. After all had assembled in the Sunday School room an informal congregational conference concerning the internal economy of the church, took place. Features of the gathering were the presence of Rev. Dr. Crothers as a guest, who gave a brief address; and the reading of a hearty and highly appreciated letter of congratulation and greeting, from the rector and congregation of St. Luke's church.

At the conclusion of the conference refreshments were served by the ladies and a most enjoyable social hour spent.

Merry Makers' Club Organized

The juniors who come to the Y. W. C. A. Saturday mornings at ten for club work and physical culture, have now fully organized their club. They have decided to be Merry Makers, and have elected their officers as follows:

President—Miss Mary Gibson.
Vice-President—Miss Marion Denne.
Secretary—Miss Robina Cumming.
Treasurer—Miss Margaret Anderson.
Organist—Miss Jean Hill.
Assistant Organist—Miss Genevieve Sanderson.

The motto of the club is to be "Serve the Lord With Gladness." The children spend a very happy two hours on Saturday mornings. They would like to have a large club and invite their young friends to visit them some morning. Any girl under sixteen can be a member of the Merry Maker's Club by paying a membership fee of 50 cents, and a Physical Culture fee of $2.50.

DR. CROTHERS' SERMON.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—It seems to me that Rev. Dr. Crothers can't see beyond the ends of his whiskers, when he undertakes to reprove the Catholic Church. At any rate he does not seem to realize his faulty logic, as exemplified in the following: On Sunday evening he concluded beyond the shadow of a doubt that Father Garnet, and incidentally, the entire Catholic Church were guilty of treason because Father Garnet was pronounced "guilty" at the trial. The judge's conviction is to the learned doctor sufficient proof of Father Garnet's guilt. Very well, so far. But now watch the jolt. Towards the end of his sermon, as reported in the "Review," the timid doctor expresses fear for the future, and foresees the possibility of persecution at the hands of Catholics because the judge in Montreal, who tried a man accused of creating a disturbance in the Salvation Army barracks, pronounced the man "not guilty." In this case the enlightened doctor will not accept the judge's acquittal as proof of the man's innocence. Such logic and this from a doctor! Oh, Dr. Crothers, Dr. Crothers, Oh!

Yours, etc.,
SNOODLES.

City's Stone Is Disappearing

The city engineer has reported to the Board of Works that private individuals were taking away stone being taken out by the employees of the Water Works, in making the excavations at Argyle and Water streets. He suggested that the police be instructed to put a stop to it. The Mayor remarked that there was a screw loose somewhere, when teamsters drew away stone from the public streets.

The matter was referred by the Council to the Board of Works to deal with.

Men Who Won Was Subject

Rev. F. J. Scott gave the address at the Y.M.C.A. meeting on Sunday to an interested gathering of men.

He began the first address of a series for this month on "Men Who Won," Peter being the character portrayed.

The speaker presented the three calls to Peter—the call to friendship; to discipleship, and apostleship.

It is to be hoped that Mr. Scott will speak again in the near future. Miss Parnell sang "Happy Day," in her usual fine voice.

That Causes Itching Scalp, Dandruff, and Finally, Falling Hair.

The itching scalp, the falling hair and the dandruff that annoys are the work of a parasite hidden in the scalp. That parasite must be killed to cure dandruff; and the only preparation that will do that is Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect."

C. H. Reed, of Victor, Idaho, says: "Myself and wife had dandruff and falling hair several years. Two bottles of Newbro's Herpicide completely cured us, after several other preparations had failed to do good." Makes hair grow glossy and soft as silk. Hundreds of other testimonials just as strong.

Some Goose Bone Weather Prophecies

The following are a few well-known, long-range weather sayings, which are unquestionably believed in by many, based upon the observed or supposed habits of animals and birds. That birds, etc., are able to foretell the weather is not doubted by thousands:

If crows fly south a severe winter may be expected; if they fly northward, the reverse.

Wild geese flying directly south, and very high, is a sure indication of a severe winter.

There are a number of different version of the goose bone theory, but the following from a recent publication of the U. S. Weather Bureau, are believed to be the original proverbs:

If the November goose bone be thick,
So will the winter weather be;
If the November goose bone be thin,
So will the winter weather be.

If the breastbone of a goose is red, or has many red spots, expect a cold and stormy winter; but if only a few spots are visible, the weather will be mild.

It will now be in order for the reader to scrutinize carefully and frequently the physical conditions of the breastbone of the goose that has been sacrificed to furnish the family meal. As a weather forecaster we venture the assertion that it will be equally as reliable as Rev. Ira Hicks.

If on November 1st, (All Saints' Day) the meat is dry, we shall have a hard winter; but if the nut be wet and not light, we may expect a mild winter.

If November 11th is fair, dry and cold, the cold in winter will not last long.

Number Of Early November Bridal Events

This Morning Saw Many Happy Wedding Ceremonies Performed—Two Took Place in St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough—St. Joseph's Church, Douro, and Lakefield Catholic Church Also the Scenes of Morning Weddings.

COUGHLAN—HARRINGTON.

In the Lakefield Roman Catholic church this morning a pretty wedding took place, when Miss Ada Harrington, daughter of Michael Harrington, of Douro, was married to Mr. Martin Coughlan, of the same township. The mass was said and the ceremony performed by Rev. Father Phelan, of Young's Point, the wedding being witnessed by a number of the friends of the bride and groom.

After the ceremony the bridal party, with the guests, went to the home of the bride's parents, where they partook of the usual breakfast, and where congratulations incidental to the occasion were tendered the happy couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Coughlan will reside in Douro.

GAINEY—McMANN.

At St. Peter's Cathedral this morning at 8 o'clock the wedding of Miss Mary Loretta McMann, eldest daughter of Mr. D. McMann, East City, and Mr. Cornelius J. Gainey, was celebrated by Rev. Father McColl, rector of the Cathedral, in the presence of only the immediate friends of the bride and groom. The bride was dressed in a pretty gown of cream voile over taffeta, and wore a blue picture hat. She was attended as bridesmaid by her sister, Miss Maggie McMann, who was also becomingly dressed in cream. The groomsman was Mr. Harry Gainey, brother of the groom.

After the ceremony the usual wedding breakfast was partaken of at the residence of the bride's parents. The presents to the bride were numerous, and their quality was evidence of the esteem in which she is held. The gift of the groom to the bride was a gold chain and locket, to the bridesmaid a ring, and to the groomsman a pair of gold cuff links.

SHANAHAN—HARRINGTON.

A pretty wedding was solemnized this morning at 9 o'clock at St. Peter's Cathedral, when Miss Hannah Harrington was united in marriage to Mr. John Shanahan, both of Peterborough. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Galvin in the presence of a number of friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride was charmingly attired in a gown of brown ladies' cloth, with white silk blouse trimmed with all-over lace, and wore a brown velvet hat to match. The bridesmaid, Miss Mary Howren, was gowned in blue cashmere trimmed with all-over lace, with yoke, and wore blue velvet hat to match.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the wedding party adjourned to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Trennum, George street, where a dainty and sumptuous wedding breakfast was served. The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful presents and congratulatory favours, testifying to their popularity among a host of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Shanahan will take up residence on Sheridan street.

MURPHY—HEFFERNAN.

This morning in St. Joseph's church, Douro, an interesting event took place when Miss Mary Heffernan, daughter of the late Patrick Heffernan, of Douro, was married to Mr. Stephen Murphy, postmaster of Guerin, in the presence of a number of friends of the contracting parties.

The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Father Keilty, parish priest. The bride was attired very becomingly in a dress of pretty navy blue ladies' cloth, with a white hat of plumes and velvet. She was attended as bridesmaid by Miss Lizzie Quinlan, of Otonabee, who was similarly gowned in blue and wore a blue picture hat. Mr. W. Heffernan, of Asphodel, cousin of the bride, was groomsman. After the ceremony the bridal party drove to the residence of the bride's brother, Mr. John Heffernan, where a wedding dinner was partaken of, and the day spent in a social manner appropriate to the happy occasion. Afterwards Mr. and Mrs. Murphy left for their new home at Guerin.

Business Expansion Creates NECESSITY FOR ALTERATIONS To Bank Of Commerce

Entire Interior of Commodious Bank Premises Will be Altered —New Fittings to be Installed in Near Future—Much New Space Will be Utilized—Increase in Clerical Staff

Rapid business expansion with inadequate facilities is the cause assigned for extensive changes which will shortly be commenced to the interior of the Bank of Commerce, corner Hunter and Water streets.

The present handsome interior and the facilities it affords have been for some time wholly inadequate to meet the demand for additional space occasioned by the rapidly growing business of the bank. This has also necessitated an increased clerical staff, which at the present time has to cope with a desk of sufficient space.

The contract for the work, it is understood, has been placed in the hands of the Globe Furniture Company, and the new fittings will be of handsome workmanship, and designed for the convenience for both customers and staff.

It is understood that the southern end of the interior of the bank, which is now unused, will be utilized for the installation of a portion of the new fittings. Though the plans for the arrangement of the improved interior have not yet, it is believed, been completed, these will include the installation of wickets for two tellers, and the additional space at the rear, which will be utilized, will provide room for a prospective and necessary increase in the clerical staff. The door at the rear opening upon Water street will, of necessity, be closed, and increased lighting facilities will be installed.

The entire fittings will be altered, though the interior will be finished in the same colour as at present. The position of the desks in the interior will be re-arranged, with a view to the convenience of the clerks in charge of the various departments.

Altogether, there is no doubt that with the completion of the contemplated arrangements the bank will be one of the most attractive in the city.

Fifty Years Married And Celebrated It

An Interesting Event Took Place Yesterday in Springville, When Mr. and Mrs. D. Wilson Celebrated Their Golden Wedding---Were Married Fifty Years Ago in Peterborough.

HAVE LIVED IN CAVAN EVER SINCE

A very happy gathering took place last night at Springville, at the residence of Mr. F. E. Wilson, when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. About thirty-five of the relatives and close friends of the bride and groom of fifty years ago, gathered to join in the congratulations which were showered upon them, for having reached the half century in their married life. The evening was spent most pleasantly, and, after the usual wedding dinner, a number of felicitous addresses were given. The health of the bride and groom was proposed by Rev. Mr. Yule, of Springville, and addresses were given by Rev. M. E. Wilson, Northport, a son of the persons who were being honoured, John Fowler, North Monaghan, A. Comstock, and Wm. Clark, Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were made the recipients of a large number of very valuable presents, expressive of the universal esteem in which they are held.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were married fifty years ago yesterday by Rev. J. M. Roger, in St. Andrew's church, the bride's name being Miss Jennie Gibson, who had only recently arrived from County Cavan Ireland. After their marriage they went to Springville, and started housekeeping on the same farm on which they now live, having resided there ever since. Four children are living: Rev. M. E. Wilson, of Northport, Mr. F. E. Wilson, of Springville; Mrs. J. E. Hooten, Cavan; and Miss Libby Wilson, Springville.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are at the present time in the enjoyment of good health, the former being 70 years of age, and the latter 69. They are amongst the most highly respected residents of Cavan, and their many friends join in wishing them many years yet in which to enjoy the comforts which they have earned.

The East Emily Cheese Factory

To-night the East Emily Cheese Factory will hold their annual oyster supper, and Mr. N. G. Somerville, the the director of the Dairy Station at Brockville, will be present and give an address on the cheese industry.

Sensational Story From London Tells Count Witte Is Dead

New York, N.Y., Nov. 8, 1905.—Hayden, Stone & Co. received the following Message from their London correspondent: "Private advices to us from London say that it is reported that Count Witte has been killed."

PETERBOROUGH CHEESE
AT LAST MEETING OF THE SEASON
BROUGHT HIGHEST PRICE

To-day 12 7-16c. Was Paid for Cheese, Which Constituted a High Water Mark for This Board—The Highest Price Paid in Canada This Year—Mr. Kerr Took All the Board Except Five Factories—Some of the Incidents of the Meeting—Salesmen Make Complaints—The Question of Turnip Feeding.

This morning's Cheese Board meeting which was the last for the season was in some respects the most remarkable for the year, the chief feature being the fact that the highest price for the season was reached, 12 7-16 being paid for all the cheese sold, and of the 3,613 boxes boarded, all but 53, those boarded by Stony Lake, were sold. It was considerable of a surprise to the salesmen that such a high price should have been reached at the last board meeting for the year, and they did not conceal their satisfaction.

Not only was this the highest price of the year on the Peterborough Board, but it was also the highest price ever received on this Board, and it was the highest paid this year in Canada on any Board.

A discussion on the question of turnippy flavoured cheese took place, and the feeding of turnips was condemned strongly. Mr. Whitton, one of the buyers, was the principal speaker on this question, and he gave his experience which was to the effect that he had found that pumpkins fed to milking cows had produced far better results than turnips, and he advised the famers to give it a trial.

As is usual at the last meeting of the Board, the customary votes of thanks were passed to the President, and to the Ontario Bank, for the use of the Board room.

Keene	153
Warminster	150
Shearer	90
Central Smith	160
Villiers	95
Warsaw	115
Westwood	200
Oakdale	77
Missing Link	95
Daisy D.	47
Lakefield	180
Pine Grove	136
Peterborough	50
Otonabee Union	65
Maple Leaf	120
Myrtle	195
Ormonde	180
Young's Point	70
Lang	135
Fraserville	130
Indian River	115
North Dummer	75
Ballyduff	80
East Emily	195
Trewern	122
Bensfort	108
Cedardale	55
Stony Lake	53
Crown	128
Mount Pleasant	67
Norwood	85
Fleetwood	150
Beckhorn	146
Hops	35

The buyers present were: Messrs. Kerr, Fitzgerald, Cook, Whitton, Gillespie, Rollins, Wrighton and Morton.

The bidding was opened by Mr. Gillespie, who offered 11 3-8 cents, and Mr. Whitton raised it to 11 1-2. Other offers were: Gillespie, 11 3-8, Wrighton, 12 1-16c, Fitzgerald, 12, Rollins, 11 2-4 cents, Fitzgerald, 12, Wrighton, 12 1-16; Fitzgerald 12 1-8c.; Kerr, 12 3-16c.; Fitzgerald, 12 1-4c.; Kerr, 12 5-16c.; Fitzgerald, 12 3-8c.; Kerr, 12 7-16., at which price the bidding stopped.

Mr. Kerr at 12 7-16 cents bought Ormonde, Villiers, Warsaw, Ballyduff, Trewern, Lakefield, Pinegrove, Warminster, Shearer, Lang, East Emily, Bensfort, Young's Point, Indian River, Fraserville, Oakdale, Daisy D., Missing Link, Otonabee Union, North Dummer, Central Smith, Westwood, Fleetwood, Mount Pleasant, Crown, Norwood, Hope, Cedardale. Mr. Kerr wanted to buy the whole board and called every factory at 12 7-16c., but five refused to sell, and he then raised his offer to 12 1-2 cents and called two of the five remaining factories, but the salesmen still refused to dispose of their cheese.

Mr. Fitzgerald then offered 12 7-16 cents for the whole of the board remaining unsold, and four of the five sold. Stony Lake refusing to sell subject to station inspection.

There was an unusually large number present at the meeting this morning, among them being some cheesemakers who took a deep interest in the discussion on the question of turnip flavour.

Prior to the opening of the sale, the salesman of Fraserville factories complained that Mr. Whitton had agreed to buy their cheese, and had held back $16, and that although he had agreed to pay him after the last meeting, he had refused to make good his promise. Mr. Whitton explained to the meeting that he had deducted the amount from the cheese because of the fact that there was a turnippy flavour, which was a detriment to the quality of the cheese.

The salesmen of the Oakdale factory also complained about the same buyer, who, he said, had deducted half a cent a pound on account of cracks which had been found in some of the cheese. Mr. Whitton explained the transaction, and said as he had agreed to make a full report on the number of boxes, and was prepared to make a satisfactory settlement if he had not paid enough.

It was decided to leave the question of the settlement with the Fraserville factory to Mr. Ward, the instructor, and if he did not substantiate the statement of Mr. Whitton on the quality of the cheese he would pay the balance due.

Mr. Whitton, before the Board closed, addressed the meeting briefly, referring to the fact that at the last meeting the top price had been reached, which was a fact to be proud of. He moved a vote of thanks to the president and directorate of the Board for the manner in which the meetings had been conducted during the year. It was seconded by Mr. Girvin, and was unanimously carried.

Mr. Young, in acknowledging the vote of thanks, expressed his pleasure at having presided at the Board meetings. The Peterborough Cheese Board had a good reputation for doing business in a businesslike manner, and he was proud to have presided over the meetings. He advised the salesmen and buyers to do business in an upright manner.

A vote of thanks was moved by the secretary to the Ontario Bank for the use of the Board room, which was also carried unanimously.

This closed the Cheese Board for the season of 1905.

Hearst To Contest New York Election

Special to The Examiner.

New York, Nov. 8.—Returns give McClellan the New York Mayoralty, but Hearst claims fraud and will make a contest. Ohio is still in doubt. Massachusetts elects a Republican Governor. The Republicans triumph in New Jersey and Rhode Island. The Democrats in Virginia. The Democratic effort to disfranchise negroes in Maryland was defeated.

The last account shows that Mayor George B. McClellan has been re-elected by a little more than 300 votes. Twenty-six election districts are still missing. William Randolph Hearst will contest the election charging that the election has been stolen by fraud. Declarations are made that a recount will show Hearst elected.

Choral Society's Good Practice

The Peterborough Choral Society had another successful practice last night. There was a good attendance of especially the soprano, tenor and contralto sections, but the basses were numerically weak. Two new part songs were taken up—Dr. Garret's "Good Night Farewell," and Pinsuti's "Tell Me, Flora." The work of the Society is developing increased interest and enthusiasm.

Live Fawn Was Brought To City

Mr. J. W. Hales, of Burleigh Township, Was the Captor.

Though hunting stories are the order of the day, it would apparently have the appearance of romance to state that a live deer was seen in Peterborough yesterday. But such was nevertheless the case, and the animal, a small fawn, standing scarcely more than two and a half feet in height, was quartered over night in the stables of the Munro House.

The diminutive "monarch of the glen," was captured about four months ago, by Mr. J. W. Hales, of Burleigh Township, upon his farm. It was at that time scarcely over 18 inches in height. It rapidly grew tame, and was allowed perfect liberty about the premises. Mr. Hales drove down yesterday from his home and intends presenting the animal to Mr. Thomas Brown of Springville.

It states that upon the whole the hunting parties located in his vicinity have been enjoying good luck, and very considerable success, notwithstanding the somewhat inclement state of the weather. Complaints a few days ago were quite numerous with regard to the loss of dogs, but the canines, Mr. Hales states have since, with very few exceptions, recovered.

As a Convalescent Food.

Mr. Wyman N. Thomas, Ompah, Addington Co., Ont., writes:—"My wife had congestion of the lungs and other troubles, and became very weak and run down. By the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food she was made as strong and well as ever. Of course I had a doctor, but she was weak, and it was Dr. Chase's Nerve Food that built her up."

The Chief's Son Had Audience With Earl Grey

Johnston Paudash Has Just Returned From Ottawa Where He Met His Excellency--Presented Him With an Address Expressing Loyalty of the Mississagua Indians--His Visit Was in Connection With Indian Claims.

GOVERNOR-GENERAL GAVE HIM MEDALS

Johnston Paudash, son of Chief Paudash, of the Mississagua Indians, has just returned from Ottawa, where he spent the last ten days, on business connected with the three bands of that tribe. His object in making the trip to the capital, was to present to the Indian Department some claims which the tribe had on lands. Mr. Paudash says that in this, he was successful, and that his trip was productive of good results.

He had a number of interviews with Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the officials in the Indian Department, to whom he presented his claims, and by whom they were considered.

Not the least interesting feature of his visit to Ottawa, was his audience with His Excellency the Governor-General, by whom he was graciously welcomed, and Johnston tells with unconcealed pleasure of his conversation with Earl Gray. He brought back with him as gifts from the Governor-General three medals, one for each of the chiefs of the three bands included in the Mississagua tribe.

On behalf of this tribe, Johnston presented His Excellency with the following address:

Four winters and ten moons have passed since our beloved O-ge-mah Equawh passed away. She never abused authority only on the side of mercy. The Great White Mother in our memory shall stand next to the Saviour of mankind. My people, whom I represent, remember with great interest when the Prince of Wales, now King Edward VII., visited our reserve, and the words he spoke on that memorable occasion have been kept sacred in our hearts and shall live on and on as inspiration of patriotism. In behalf of my people I desire to make known to His Majesty the sincere gratitude we feel towards him as our faithful King, and towards Your Excellency as his faithful representative, for the constant and great interest which is manifested in the welfare of the Indian tribes of this Dominion. I trust the Great Spirit will grant you continual health and prosperity and all wisdom needful to your high position.

In reply, Earl Grey thanked the young chief for the sentiments of loyalty expressed in the address, and stated his pleasure at meeting the representative of the Mississagua tribe.

After the purely business features of the visit had been disposed of, Johnston spent some days in the capital, making himself a good fellow and enjoying the hospitality of the numerous friends which he has made in Ottawa during his many trips there.

Lakefield And Local Option

The Northern Village in a Thriving and Go-Ahead Condition.

The promoters of the local option campaign in Lakefield are pushing village council requesting the latter village council requesting the latter to submit the question to the electors is said to be so largely signed that when it is presented to the council at its next meeting on Monday evening, Nov. 13th, the latter body will, in deference to the public opinion it represents, submit a local option by-law to be voted upon by the people at the next municipal elections.

By the way there is no excitement yet in regard to the January elections. It appears that the affairs of the village have been fairly well conducted by the Council, a considerable number of local improvements have been made, and, what is a most important element in representative popularity, the rate is low.

The village is in a very thriving position with prospects for continued advance. Though twenty-five new buildings have been erected in the village this year, there is at present not a vacant house to be had. Lakefield is having its share of the growing time which it is hoped will continue.

Four Facts For Sick Women To Consider

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has an Unequalled Record of Cures—Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Is Confidential, Free, and always Helpful

FIRST.—That almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregular and painful menstruation, leucorrhoea, displacements of the uterus, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, bearing-down pains, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.

SECOND.—The medicine that holds the record for the largest number of absolute cures of female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can.

For thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, curing backache, nervousness, kidney troubles, all uterine and ovarian inflammation, weakness and displacements, regulating menstruation perfectly and overcoming its pains. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing for childbirth and the change of life.

THIRD.—The great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

FOURTH.—Every ailing woman in Canada is asked to accept the following invitation. It is free, will bring you health and may save your life.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women.—Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. From symptoms given, your trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Out of the vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Surely, any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

Mount Pleasant Farmers Happy

Special to the Examiner

Mount Pleasant, Nov. 7.—The weather for some time past has been unfavourable for farmers pulling their roots and picking apples.

Mr. R. J. Graham, through his agents, Mr. J. A. Orton and Mr. J. D. Thornton, of Omemee, has secured nearly all the apples in this locality.

Farmers are rejoicing on account of their prosperity. The sound of the threshing mill is heard, and satisfactory proof is given of a bountiful harvest.

MOONEY'S PERFECTON CREAM SODA BISCUITS

There is nothing more necessary to equip people for the "strenuous life" of modern times than good food. Man physically should be like a well-regulated machine, and nothing contributes to this end more than food that is not only pleasing to the taste, but that also strengthens and nourishes. It has been demonstrated that there is no other food made from flour so rich in nutriment and body-building elements than are soda biscuits. This is saying much for ordinary crackers and much more for Mooney's Perfection Cream Sodas, which are widely recognized as the most perfect soda biscuits in all Canada. They are crisp and delicious, delightful to the taste, and always wholesome. Being a perfect food, highly nourishing and easily digested, they are fitted to repair wasted strength, preserve health and prolong life. Mooney's Sodas are the result of years of study of the best methods of producing superior crackers. They are manufactured in the cleanest and best equipped bakeries in all Canada. The workmen are the most skilled on the continent, and the materials used are of a very high order. The flour is a special blend, milled only for the Mooney factory, and the butter and cream are procured direct from the famous dairies of Western Ontario. Not an ounce of "inferior butter" finds its way into Mooney goods. The materials being balanced, the result is a toothsome and pure food, easily digested and converted into brawn, bone and brain. No other soda cracker quite compares with them, and no other receives such a generous welcome at a table where they have once become known. The preeminence they have attained is due to genuine merit, as they tempt beyond resistance all who like good things to eat.

The Bancroft District Rich In Minerals

Mr. T. H. Crowley, the Former Peterboro' County Mining Prospector, Has Just Returned and Brings Some Wonderful Stories of its Mineral Wealth--Sodilite is the Latest Mineral to be Discovered There.

1,000,000 TONS NOW IN SIGHT

The mineral wealth of the country in the vicinity of Bancroft has, it appears, been very much under-estimated in the past, and during the past few months some discoveries of mineral deposits have been made which stamp this district, according to reports made, as one of the richest in this Province.

Sodilite is the latest mineral discovery in this district, and it gives promise of being the most valuable of all the products of the mine, if reports as to its value are correct.

Mr. T. H. Crowley returned yesterday from Bancroft, where he spent the last week or ten days. He purchased the Stanin property in lot 26 con. B, Faraday Township. He secured this property for the purpose of developing the mica which he discovered on it early in the fall, and after he had thought it had discovered the sodilite, which now promises to prove the most valuable asset on the property. Some idea of the extent of this mineral deposit may be gained from the statement that there are in sight already 1,000,000 tons of sodilite. It is used for decorating purposes, and is said to be as hard as marble, taking a polish equally as well.

Not only is there mica and sodilite on this property, but corundum as well, and it is not in this particular property alone that minerals, which are valuable, have been discovered, for, within a mile of this lot a mine is being worked by an English syndicate with good success.

Mr. Crowley has a very high opinion of the richness of this part of the Province, and believes that it will only be a matter of a short time before the Bancroft section will be one of the most extensively worked mineral districts in Ontario.

THREE TIMES IN A WOMAN'S LIFE

TRYING

There are three periods of a woman's life when she is in need of the heart strengthening, nerve toning, blood enriching action of

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

The first of these is when the young girl is entering the portals of womanhood. At this time she is very often pale, weak and nervous, and unless her health is built up and her system strengthened she may fall a prey to consumption or be a weak woman for life.

The second period is motherhood. The drain on the system is great and the exhausted nerve force and depleted blood require replenishing. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills supply the elements needed to do this.

The third period is "change of life" and this is the period when she is most liable to heart and nerve troubles.

A tremendous change is taking place in the system, and it is at this time many chronic diseases manifest themselves. Fortify the heart and nerve system by the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and thus tide over this dangerous period. Mrs. James King, Cornwall, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled very much with heart trouble—the cause being to a great extent due to "change of life." I have been taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for some time, and mean to continue doing so, for I can truthfully say they are the best remedy I have ever used for building up the system. You are at liberty to use this statement for the benefit of other sufferers."

His Lordship Took Part In The Presention

Of the Prizes at St. Joseph's Academy Tuesday--A Delightful Occasion in Which Pupils Were Rewarded for Their Good Work--Clergy of St. Peter's Cathedral Were Present.

PRIZE WINNERS WERE REWARDED

(Lindsay Post.)

At St. Joseph's Academy, Lindsay, on Nov. 3rd, was given one of those treats to which the friends of teachers and pupils always look forward with pleasure—a musicale and presentation of medals and diplomas to the successful students of the past year. A few minutes before 8 o'clock his Lordship, the Bishop of Peterborough, entered the well-filled music hall, accompanied by the Venerable Archdeacon Casey, Rev. Father P. J. McGuire, Downeyville, the Rev. Father McCell, Peterborough, and Rev. Father O'Sullivan, Lindsay.

The programme opened with a bright and well-sung chorus, "This Festival Day." The following eight numbers were what the audience termed 'something new.' Miss Grace Podger gave in a very creditable and pleasing manner a reading, the import of which was that music conveys—not only sentiment, but thought, and music such as Beethoven's thought of a deeply religious character. The ideas expressed in this reading aroused a double interest in what followed, viz., the playing of the different movements of Beethovan's Grand Sonata in D., each movement being preceded by the recitation of a beautiful allegory, entitled "The Life of the Soul." This poem was recited by the graduates in a manner that called forth much praise. Many said, "Every member of that class deserves a medal, and to capture the trio that have been presented must certainly have taken more than ordinary ability and labour." These young ladies will indeed prove very useful members of the teaching profession. The Sonata was played by Third Year pupils, whose technique, tone-colouring and phrasing were exceptionally good. It was evident the young musicians had been accustomed to look for and try to interpret the deep thought underlying the composition of a musical theme.

At the close of the Sonata Mr. Paul Hahn delighted the audience with one of his ever-welcome cello solos. He was skillfully accompanied by Miss Thompson. In response to an enthusiastic encore he played Irish and Scotch airs.

Then his Lordship and each of the reverend Fathers present addressed the young ladies in terms of congratulation and encouragement, after which the medals and prizes were presented. This pleasing interlude over, the "Kerry Dance" and the beautiful hymn "Inviolata," were sung in excellent style.

The national anthem then brought to a close a most enjoyable evening.

Prize Winners.

Gold Medal for honours in Third Year Music—presented by the Right Reverend Bishop of Peterborough, awarded to Miss Mary Fluxey.

Gold Medal for honours in Third Year Music—presented by Mr. Paul Hahn, Toronto, awarded to Miss Cora Thompson.

Other Interesting News From Norwood —Personal Items.

Special to The Examiner.

Norwood, Nov. 8th.—On Friday evening, November 3rd, the young people of the Presbyterian congregation, held a very successful social in the basement of the church. The programme, which consisted of vocal, violin and piano solos, quartettes, choruses, and readings was much appreciated by all present. At the conclusion of the programme, just before refreshments were served, Mrs. Dr. J. C. Moffat, and Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Cummings, were called to the front, where they were each presented with a beautifully bound B ble, and Presbyterian Book of Praise combined, accompanied by the following address:

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Cumming, Norwood:

Dear Friends, — It is with extreme regret that your many friends in Norwood, and in this congregation in particular, have learned of your decision to remove from among us. This town has been your home for many years. With its business, school and church life you have been closely and sympathetically connected. Deeply conscious is this congregation of the great loss it is about to sustain through your removal; in every department of its work so generously and cheerfully have you both given of time and means and of self for the promotion of all that is good and worthy in the life and work of this part of the Lord's vineyard. In the work of the Ladies' Aid and the W.F.M.S. of which you, Mrs. Cumming, have been a valued member ever since the organization, now years ago, your absence will be greatly felt. As a member of the congregation, you, Mr. Cumming, have served, in times past, upon the Board of Managers; for many years you have been an honoured member of the session, to the work of which you have given from time to time your best counsel and heartiest co-operation. In every good word and work, the memory of you will excite us to higher thoughts and nobler deeds as we seek to carry forward that blessed work which was so near your hearts.

Our prayer is that the Master's choicest blessings may abound to your family as well as to yourselves. Our expectation is that your gifts of head and heart may be even more fully used in the service of the Master wherever in His providence your home may be. Be assured of this, that wherever you may be you will carry with you the esteem and affection of your many friends in the Presbyterian congregation of Norwood, Ontario.

Signed on behalf of the congregation.

Rev. G. A. MacLennan, Pastor.
R. Nicol, Clerk of Session,
William Webster, Chairman Bd. of Managers.

Mrs. John C. Moffat, Norwood:

Dear Mrs. Moffat, — Your many friends and co-workers in the Presbyterian church of Norwood, are to-night saddened by the thought that you are soon to remove from among us and from among those associations of the greater part of your married life and that ministry to the sick and suffering which you shared so fully with our lamented friend, your husband. Great and helpful as that ministry was we are not unmindful of your work as a member of this congregation in connection with the work of the Ladies' Aid and the W.F.M.S., into which you entered so cheerfully and without stint.

May the favour of the Master ever be your portion and in the days to come in your new home, in the midst of strange environments, and those things which may not so earnestly appeal to you, may the fruits of your service for the life and work of the Kingdom prove abundant and abiding. As you go from us be assured that you and your children carry with you the sincere regard and the best wishes of your many many friends in the congregation.

Signed on behalf of the congregation.

Rev. G. A. MacLennan, pastor; R. Nicol, Clerk of Session; Wm. Webster, chairman Board of Managers.

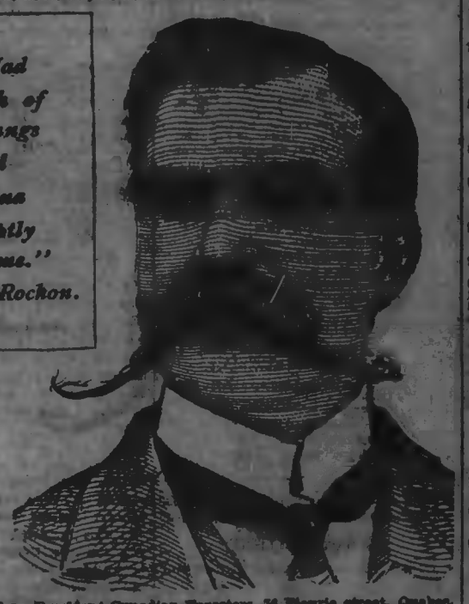
"I Had Catarrh of the Lungs and Peruna Promptly Cured me." —Alfred Rochon.



Hon. Alfred Rochon, President Canadian Foresters, 76 Fleuris street, Quebec, Canada, writes:

"I am pleased to add my testimonial to the many I see to the efficacy of Peruna. I suffered for some time with chronic catarrh of the lungs and really thought that I was not to get any relief, as I had used so many remedies and my condition remained about the same.

"Finally I decided on Peruna and that was a lucky day for me, for it proved to be the remedy which cured me. My lungs are perfectly sound now and I have not had the slightest trouble with them since, and at the slightest indication of a cold now I take a few doses, and it will always ward off any bad effects." —Alfred Rochon.

Catarrh of the lungs is, ordinarily, known as consumption. In these cases the catarrh has usually found its way into the lungs by the gradual extension of the disease from the throat through the bronchial tubes. Consumption is the natural termination of all cases of neglected chronic catarrh. Every one who is afflicted with chronic catarrh is liable to be attacked with consumption at any time. In the first stages of the disease Peruna is a sure cure.

A slight cough, which, without a vestige of doubt, would soon disappear with the use of Peruna, becomes chronic bronchitis, which requires a persistent use of Peruna for some time. There are a great many cases of consumption every year due directly to a cold.

A COUGH IS NATURE'S WARNING.

NEGLECTED COLDS PROVE DISASTROUS.

Peruna is for sale by all first class drug stores at $1 per bottle.

EXAGGERATION.

Judging from the noise made about them, one would imagine, says the Manitoba Free Press, Separate Schools in Saskatchewan are to be found in every other township. Yet in the whole Province there are but three Roman Catholic minority schools. No minority school has been erected within the boundaries of the Province within the past six years. There are in all some 700 schools in Saskatchewan, three of which, as we have said, are Roman Catholic minority schools. The Roman Catholics of Saskatchewan are nearly 20 per cent. of the population, but in place of having one school in every five, as this ratio would entitle them, they have only one school in every 233 schools. One would think that the believers in a national school system would regard the Territorial school system as just about perfect, since it has shown itself satisfactory to a mixed population. The voluntary clerical schools, which are in evidence in many places where there are national schools, are not known in the new Provinces; and the minority schools are all but non-existent. The whole juvenile population of Saskatchewan, of all classes and creeds, go to the same schools; the exceptions to this rule can be counted on the fingers of one hand. These being the facts, where is the justification for the uproar that has been made?

Belgium is to have a new Sunday law, which will go into effect on July 17 next. Sunday labour will be forbidden in all industrial and commercial enterprises except sea, canal and river transport, fishing and hawking and peddling. Only members of an employer's family living with him, or his domestics, may work more than six days a week, and the weekly day of rest is to be Sunday. The Belgians are tired working seven days a week. In this country, on the other hand, many persons are getting tired of only six days work in the week—when others have to do the seventh day of work.

A QUESTION OF PROPORTION.

The sentence of seven years in the Penitentiary, passed upon the child, Josie Carr, of Toronto, for manslaughter, consisting in the death of an infant, which occupied a baby carriage which she had stolen, seems disproportionate to other recent sentences. Josie Carr, a mere child, was found guilty of manslaughter — the death of an innocent child — unpremeditated, there is reason to believe — and she got seven years in the penitentiary. Charles Gow was found guilty of manslaughter — the death of an innocent child — unpremeditated, there is every reason to believe—and he got three months in jail. Now, there is no desire to say that Gow was not sufficiently punished, but it surely is pertinent to inquire if the quality of justice, which sentences a mere child to seven years in the penitentiary, for manslaughter, and a matured man, arrived to the full years of responsibility, to three months for a similar crime, is of the right quality. If Charles Gow's punishment was moderate and adequate, then Josie Carr's punishment was truculently, barbarously and unduly severe. Passing over this view of the case entirely, it is pertinent to inquire if a child, who was a fit subject for the work of the Children's Aid Society, should be sent to the penitentiary at all. Are there no saner, and more human, and less certainly life-wrecking modes of dealing with a depraved infant? Josie Carr's sentence of seven years in the penitentiary, may be abstract justice, but it it humane or wise?

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Conservative party has apparently an abiding trust in physical strength. They have nominated a son of Anak to oppose Hon. A. B. Aylesworth in North York, whose chief qualification seems to be the size of his boots, and his bodily strength. They have such confidence in the availing power of these qualities, that they are leaving him to fight the battle alone. The only great man at his back, is Mr. W. F. McLean, the leader of the new Conservatism, which is not at all in sympathy with the old reliable article. Even Hon. Mr. Borden's $7,000 salary tempts him not into the fight. Mr. McLean, the political Ishmaelite, has assumed the leadership of the Conservative party in the North York contest, and there is none to dispute his claim. If the Liberal party trusts to the spur of opposition to keep it up to the mark, it is depending upon a broken reed—there seems to be no Conservative Opposition these days.

Maine's Law Of Compensation

For upwards of half a century the state of Maine has enjoyed all the blessings of a prohibitory liquor law. Although prohibition doesn't thoroughly prohibit in Maine by any means, it is a pleasant theory that Maine is a sort of earthly paradise, redeemed and regenerated by the power of prohibition. That is what you often hear from prohibitionist orators. How could it be otherwise? Drink, they hold, is the most prolific source of crime and vice; abolish alcoholic liquors, and you abolish crime and vice; and the only way in which you can abolish alcoholic liquor is to prohibit its sale, manufacture and importation. The argument looks all right, and it would be all right but for the pesky inconvenient facts.

While the prohibitionists point to Maine with pride, another class of moral reformers view Maine with alarm. This other class are the advocates of a better observance of the Sabbath. Our esteemed contemporary the Lord's Day Advocate reprints an article from a religious contemporary in which the moral and spiritual condition of Maine is represented as deplorable in the extreme. "In a Sabbathless town in Maine," says this paper, "six murders and seven suicides were reported in one year. In another, at least seven outlying districts near an Aroostook village were without any religious service, and lawlessness prevailed on Sundays." And further, the Lord's Day Alliance points a moral by referring to the experience of Rev. J. V. Smith, D.D., Toronto, (formerly pastor of Centenary church Hamilton) during a recent visit to Old Orchard Beach, Maine. "He was pained," says the Advocate, "to observe how general was Sunday trading and amusements on the grounds. Practically every American shop and store was open. The merry-go-rounds and other forms of the business of amusement' were at their busiest. Almost the only buildings closed in the evening were the churches."

Of course it would be absurd to claim that this lack of reverence for the Sabbath on the part of the Maine people has any relation to the prohibitory law. But it is well to "remember Maine" as a state which the Sabbath-observance reformers view with grief when prohibitionist reformers point to Maine as a shining example. The reform orator who labours to convince people that his particular reform is a panacea for all social ills is either a very shallow fanatic or something of a knave.—Hamilton Herald.

A Delightful Lecture By H. R. H. Kenner

"Beautiful Florence" the Subject of an Illustrated Lecture in George Street Sunday School Room Last Night—A Large Attendance Present to Enjoy a Literary Treat—A Beautiful and Historic City.

THE CHARITIES OF FLORENCE

"Firenza la bella," was the subject of a lecture full of interest and valuable information, by Mr. H. R. H. Kenner last evening. It was under the auspices of the Young Men's Guild of George street church, of which Mr. Kenner is president. The school room of the church was well filled and the audience appreciated and enjoyed the lecture. The limelight views were excellent, quite up toe high average of Roy's productions. They included many of the most renowned structures in the historical city of Florence.

Mr. Kenner spent the summer of 1904 in Florence, and since his return has made a study of that city and its great men. In opening he said: "Save Rome, no place in Italy, scarce any in the world, possesses such numerous attractions—historic, literary and artistic—as Florence. The heroic memories of her struggles for liberty, and the wonderful achievements of her sons in poetry and science, in architecture, sculpture and painting, invest her forever with profoundest interest."

Florence nestles in a lovely valley of the Appenines. Her situation is so singularly beautiful that her praises have been sounded far and wide in both prose and poetry. Coleridge exclaims:—

"O Florence, with thy Tuscan fields and hills.
Thou brightest star of star-bright Italy."

The speaker then directed the attention of the audience to some of the illustrious sons of Florence. In the realm of literature Dante reigns supreme. The house in which Dante was born, in 1265, is still preserved. Then there is Boccaccio, who served as a model for Chaucer's Canterbury Tales. Petrarch, Laura's lover, was the composer of unrivalled sonnets. Associated with the fine arts there are Brunalleschi, builder of the most majestic dome that man has ever reared; Ghitta, who at the age of 58 designed and partially built the Campanile, which is universally conceded to be one of the most perfect structures in the world.

Then there is the sculptor Ghiberti, whose beautiful bronze gates of the Baptistry, Michael Angelo declared to be worthy the gates of Paradise. Then there were Benvenuto Cellini; the great Leonardo da Vinci, the painter of the Last Supper; and last, the greatest of them all, Michael Angelo. In the political world there is Machiavelli, the Mephistopheles of statesmen. In science there is Galileo who studied the moon and stars while a prisoner by order of the Inquisition. In the church there are Savonarola, famed for eloquence. Then there was the great family of the Medici, which gave eight dukes to Tuscany, two queens to France, and four popes to the Vatican.

Mr. Kenner then took his audience on a tour through the city. In the cathedral square rises one of the most remarkable groups of buildings in the world, the Campanile, the Cathedral and the Baptistry. A five minutes walk from the cathedral leads to the church of Santa Croce, the Westminster Abbey of Italy. Next is the Church of San Lorenzo, built by Michael Angelo, and where Savonarola began his preaching. The Uffizi and Pitti collections of art are unrivalled. It includes such pictures as the Madonna of the Chair, the Sistine Madonna.

Mr. Kenner closed by a reference to two charities of Florence, one an asylum for cats and the other the Brothers of Mercy.

Mr. D. W. Bamble in a few complimentary remarks, congratulated the Young Men's Guild and moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Kenner.

Mrs. Jas. Kendry, who took a course of six or eight lectures in New York on Florence, said that Mr. Kenner was by far the best and she took great pleasure in seconding the vote of thanks, which was carried unanimously.

Mission Circle Thank-Offering

Ladies of Murray St. Baptist Church Met Yesterday Afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon the annual thank offering service of the Murray street Ladies' Mission Circle was held in the church, about forty ladies being present, and an interesting programme was given. Mrs. H. P. Kennedy gave a helpful talk on the subject of thanksgiving, which was listened to with deep interest by those present. Miss. Grant read a paper on the incidents in the life of Carey, the missionary to India, in which the enthusiasm of that remarkable man in the cause of missions was referred to at some length. Mrs. (Rev.) F. J. Stout and Miss Miller delighted the gathering with vocal solos.

Mrs. M. R. Kidd also gave a paper. The meeting was a very profitable one, and the cause represented will no doubt be benefited.

Boys' Brigade Was Organized In All Saint's

An Enthusiastic Meeting Was Held Last Night When Brigade of Two Companies Was Formed — Sergt. Edwards Was Appointed Drill Instructor--Triple Objects of the Brigade.

WEEKLY MEETINGS WILL BE HELD

The meeting last night held in All Saints' school room, for the purpose of organizing a Boys' Brigade, was very enthusiastic, and a brigade, which gives great promise, was formed. It is expected that at least two companies will be formed, enough joining last night to make that number.

The officers elected last night were:

Warden—Rev. W. Major.
Sub-Warden and drill instructor — Quartermaster Sergt. J. W. Edwards.
Capt. — Geo Hillier.
1st Lieut.—Harry Flowers.
2nd Lieut.—H. Chambers.
Col. Sergt.—Rob. Pilling.
1st Sergt.—Roy Pilling.
2nd Sergt.—Roy Cranfield.
3rd Sergt.—Jack Wise.

The objects in the organization of the brigade are those of teaching sobriety, piety and reverence. This brigade was in existence some years ago but was allowed to become defunct and the effort to resuscitate it has met with a gratifying response from the boys of the church. The meetings will be held on Tuesday nights in the school room, where the drill will take place and athletics of different kinds taken up. Sergt. Edwards gave the first drill last night and the boys are taking it up with enthusiasm. In the work of the brigade the spiritual side of the boys' lives will not be lost sight of.

The brigade is open to boys over the age of 12 years and it is expected that this feature of the work of All Saints will be among the most successful and helpful.

Gratifying Progress Shown AT ANNUAL MEETING OF Protestant Home Board

Reports Presented at Meeting Yesterday Were Highly Satisfactory—What Action Will be Taken With Regard to House of Refuge? Is the Question Which Now Arises—Matter Was Discussed.

The annual meeting of the Board of Management of the Peterborough Protestant Home was held yesterday afternoon in the reception room of the building. The following were in attendance: Miss Roger, president; Miss Roger, treasurer; Mrs. ... secretary; Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Dennistoun, Mrs. J. B. McWilliams, Mrs. R. S. Davidson, Mrs. K. Eardley-Wilmot, Mrs. Munro, Mrs. Birdsall, Miss Nicholls, Rev. J. C. Davidson, Rev. Dr. Crothers, Rev. F. J. Scott, and Mr. J. B. McWilliams.

The meeting opened with a Scriptural reading by Rev. J. C. Davidson, this being followed by devotional exercises by Rev. Dr. Crothers.

The presentation of reports was then proceeded with, that of the secretary being read by Mrs. Miller.

Secretary's Report.

The report was as follows: The chronicle of events in the Peterborough Protestant Home for the past year can be little else than a repetition of the record of previous years.

The work of caring for the aged poor of the city and county has gone steadily forward, but the progress has been marked by little of interest to the public. Throughout the year the Home has been taxed to its utmost capacity, in fact overcrowded.

That the Committee of Management could not adequately provide for all who apply has been brought before the public in our annual reports for several years, but no steps have as yet been taken by the city or county. At the last annual meeting there was a much larger attendance than usual. This subject was discussed at length, and a committee appointed to consider if, in any way, the Board of Management of the Home could do anything to relieve the difficulty.

For various reasons no definite arrangements have been made.

During the year thirty have been given a home, and twenty-four are still inmates. Three of these are unable to even dress themselves, and all are more or less feeble. There were two deaths in the year.

The matron, Miss Fraser, deserves the highest praise for the capable manner in which she manages the Home, and for the peace and harmony she maintains among the inmates; no easy task among so many.

The Board of Management is most grateful to all who have in any way contributed to make the old age of the men and women in the Home more happy and comfortable.

It is still a matter of regret that so few ladies take an interest in the business relations of the Home, and new members on the Board would be gladly welcomed.

The most sincere thanks of everyone connected with the institution are due the clergymen and physicians of the city, who have invariably responded most generously to calls made upon their time.

The officers also thank most heartily the editors of the newspapers for their kindness in giving space to the work and needs of the Home.

Mrs. Miller,
Secretary.

Adopted.

Treasurer's Report.

The treasurer's report was presented by Mrs. W. N. Roger. It showed total receipts amounting to $2,433.82, with an expenditure of $2,119.75, leaving a creditable balance on hand of $314.07. The report was adopted.

Discussion.

The question arose as to the action which would be taken with regard to the matter of the building of a House of Refuge, as had been ordered by Dr. Bruce Smith, Inspector of Public Charities, during his recent visit of inspection. As the result of considerable discussion, it was decided, upon a motion by Mr. J. B. McWilliams, that upon the occasion of the meeting on December 1 of the County Council a joint meeting might be arranged between a committee representative of the Protestant Home, the clergy of the city, and committees from the Town and County Councils.

His Lordship Bishop O'Connor will also be requested to send a representative to the meeting on behalf of the House of Providence.

A committee was appointed at the last annual meeting to arrange with reference to what action would be most advisable to take in view of the proposal to erect the House of Refuge.

Mr. J. B. McWilliams, chairman of the committee, remarked briefly upon the conditions as they are at present. Owing to insufficient accommodation at the Protestant Home to cope with the number of applications received, the question arises as to whether it would be most advisable upon the part of the city and county to enlarge the Home, or to continue it merely as an Old Women's Home, with a fixed weekly rate of maintenance. The cost of the Lindsay House of Refuge had been $47,000, and should the city and county come to an arrangement in the matter, the interest upon this amount would be sufficient to maintain thirty inmates.

Rev. J. C. Davidson added a few remarks with regard to the excellence of the arrangements in connection with the Home. The highest commendation was due the matron, Miss Fraser, and her sister, whose management had been scientific and skillful. Patience, gentleness and love had been exercised in the treatment of the inmates. Reference was also made to the kindness of Mrs. K. Eardley-Wilmot and of the King's Daughters.

Rev. Mr. Davidson concluded by moving a resolution of thanks to the Board of Management, in which hope was expressed that some action might be taken toward a provision for increased facilities in connection with the Home.

Rev. Dr. Crothers seconded the motion, making, in doing so, an appreciative reference to the work of the officials of the Home.

The meeting closed with prayer offered by Rev. F. J. Scott.

President—Mrs. Roger.
Treasurer—Miss Roger.
Secretary—Mrs. Miller.
Matron—Miss Fraser.

Young Ladies' Mission Circle

Was Organized in Connection With Murray Street Church.

Last night a meeting for the organization of the Young Ladies' Mission Circle of the Murray street Baptist church, at which Miss Fisher presided, was held, when there were about thirty young ladies present, and a circle, under the title of "Willing Workers," was formed with excellent prospects.

A good programme in which different features of Mission work were dealt with in thoughtful papers, interspersed with music was given, and the officers of the newly organized circle were elected. They are as follows:

President—Miss Ivah Fisher.
Vice-President—Mrs. (Rev.) F. J. Scott.
Secretary—Miss Lila Webber.
Treasurer—Miss Annie Hardill.

During the evening Miss Hardill gave a vocal solo, Miss Hazel Kidd read a paper on "The Country of Japan and its educational work, and Miss Yelland, a paper upon "The Children of Japan."

The initial membership of the circle is about 30, and it is expected that this number will be materially increased in the near future.

Headaches Cured

One cause of headache and nervous diseases very often is Hyperopia, or far-sightedness. If your eye is normal you require no muscular effort to see distinct objects. Some eyes are so formed that they require a muscular effort to see clearly far objects. Such eyes are DOUBLY strained when used for near vision. This EXEMPTION CONSTITUTES EYE STRAIN.

75 per cent. of headaches are caused by eye strain and can only be cured by removing the the cause. That is what our glasses do.

GENTLEMEN,—For nearly two years I have been troubled with headaches from which I could GET NO RELIEF. Was advised to consult you. I have been wearing the Glasses you fitted for me for some time. My HEADACHES have ENTIRELY DISAPPEARED, and I attribute it to the use of your glasses. Yours truly,

Hockey Meeting In The Oriental Hotel

To-night at 8 o'clock in the Oriental Hotel the annual meeting of the Peterborough Hockey Club will be held. There is little doubt that this meeting will be a largely attended gathering, and all who are interested in the game are invited.

Will Play In Brockville

Peterborough will play in Brockville next Saturday, contrary to the reports to the contrary published yesterday.

RUGBY.

Mr. J. A. Eakersall, centre half of the University of Chicago football team, was in the city last night. Mr. Eakersall is one of the best half backs in the game and a couple of years ago, when Chicago defeated Wisconsin by a score of 15—6, he was responsible for all the scores, sending three drop kicks from the field over the crossbar. This was one of the most memorable matches in the history of the American game, and a Chicago paper commented on it as follows:

Chicago, 6; Wisconsin, 5; Eakersall, 15.

• • • •

In referring to "Bill" Crowley's splendid work last Saturday, the Lindsay Post insinuates that he has a swelled head. Crowley has successfully figured in too many sports to be troubled with expansion of the top piece. As to how a hero feels they might ask Sam Hughes about South Africa.

• • • •

"Bill" Crowley was the hero of the day in Peterborough last Saturday, when the Porridge town defeated Brockville Pink Pills, and, as a result, it is whispered "Bill" will have to get a larger hat. What does a hero feel like, anyway?—Lindsay Post.

• • • •

The Mail and Empire says: McPherson's absence next Saturday at Ottawa will materially impair the strength of Varsity's back division. Mac., though not showy at all, is decidedly effective, and with Baldwin out of the game, a good bit the best of Varsity's threes.

• • • •

Acting Captain A. W. McPherson, of Varsity, will not go to Ottawa to play with the team against Ottawa College Saturday owing to his presence being required at the O.R.A. meeting.—Mail and Empire.

HOCKEY.

In publishing the report of the "Hill Life's" meeting yesterday, Mr. Harry Morgan's name was omitted. "Happy" being one of last winter's star players, will be a valuable man, as his noted "staying power" will add greatly to the strength of the "High Lites'" line up.

"EXECUTIVE."

• • • •

An organization meeting of the Eko Camp hockey team will be held in the club rooms to-night. Eko Camp will probably enter a team in the City League. Mr. T. J. Wallace is a likely candidate for official goal umpire. The trainer has not yet been decided upon, but the lniment will be purchased in the cheapest place in the city. Mr. "Jack" Gammell will furnish the uniforms.

• • • •

Representatives of the Rink Company should attend the meetings of the Hockey Club to-night. The company should naturally take a wide interest in the welfare of the team.

BASKET BALL.

The teams for to-night's game between the Arrows and the Harriers will be as follows:

Arrows—Laing, Cressman, Miller, Loomis and Darling.

Harriers—Robertson, Dobbin, Hodgson, Campbell, Richardson.

John Laing will referee.

• • • •

The following members of the Arrow Basket Ball Club are requested to meet at the Y. M. C.A. at 8.30 sharp for their game with the Harriers this evening:

Laing, Tatham, F. Richardson, Miller, Darling, Loomis and F. Cressman.

As this is the first game of the season there should be a good attendance. There will be no admission.

Worry Habit Kills the Nerves

YOU CAN GET WELL IF YOU WILL STOP WORRYING AND USE

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

Dr. A. T. Schofield, a great English authority on diseases of the nerves, attributes the usual causes of such ailments to the "worry habit" which he denounces as an "unmitigated evil."

Headache at top or back of head, noises in the ears, sudden starting or twitching, tenderness of the scalp, or spine, sleeplessness, dyspepsia, pains and cramps, timidity, irritability, melancholy, are some of the symptoms of deranged nerves.

Pure air, wholesome food, rest and the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to rebuild and revitalize the wasted nerve cells is the most prominent for diseases of the nerves.

Assert your will power and determine that you will not worry or let little things irritate you, and keep using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food regularly and persistently, weak in and wreck out, and it will not be long until you will feel the thrill of new life and energy coming back to your wasted and worn-out nerves.

There is no doubt about the ability of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to cure you, for its extraordinary restorative power has been established in hundreds and thousands of cases.

Mrs. D. O'Leary, 178 Simcoe street, Peterborough, Ont., states: —"My heart has given me a great deal of trouble lately. The least undue exertion affected it, and brought on weakness and fainting spells. My nerves were also very unsteady, and I became so bad that I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which was highly recommended to me. Now I am happy to be able to say that I am completely restored to health. My nerves are strong and steady, the action of my heart regular and the dizzy spells have ceased to trouble me."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. Portrait and signatures of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.

Is Fixing Up His Premises

Mr. W. G. Rundle, the popular George street barber, is making several improvements to his barber shop and tobacco store. He is having the front window of his shop equipped with plate glass casements, and will also put in a wall showcase. The work on the window will probably be finished in a short time. The new fixtures will greatly add to the appearances of the premises.

Belleville Was His Destination

"I want to go to Belleville," said Alfred Edwards to His Worship at the police court this morning.

"Have you any money to take you there?" asked His Worship.

"Oh, yes, I have a ticket," was the reply.

"Well, leave the town on the two o'clock train this afternoon," said the court.

"Thanks," said Alfred, and he went down stairs.

Edwards was accused of absenting the family of the "bug juice," and making himself a nuisance. He got on a G. T. R. counter last night and the railway people couldn't remove him. P. C. Adams removed him last night, however, and this afternoon he will remove to Cemeteryville.

He got for a sensation in the Belleville news sheets.

Geo. Eleazer created a disturbance on George street. George evidently imagined that George street was George's street, and that George could take all the liberties he desired there. His wife said that a number of by-standers were teasing him.

"There's none of them there," she said, pointing to a representative of the local press.

The latter denied having any connection with the matter, and the slight fuss was over, after he had given a clear account of himself on the night in question.

Does Rev. Dr. Crothers Know His History?

Rev. Father McColl Writes a Letter in Reply to Statements Made in His Sermon on Sunday--Has Rev. A. H. Brace Misrepresented Protestants?--He Asks: Is Rev. F. A. Langfeldt Imitating Voltaire?

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Rev. Dr. Crothers, in his sermon on November 5, attempts to prove that Catholic countries are inferior to Protestant ones. The report says he contrasted them, but does not say whether from the point of view of morality or of material progress. If he wished to compare them from a moral point of view, he need not go outside the British Isles, as it can easily be shown that Ireland, morally, is much superior to England, Scotland or Wales. I conclude from the report of his discourse, however, that it is temporal prosperity to which he refers.

In the first place, we contend that the material wealth of any nation is no criterion of the morality of its people, or the divinity of its religion. If it were, then pagan Rome, with all its corruption, should be our model. Christ never promised earthly riches to His disciples. On the contrary, they often relinquished all to follow Him. The church, like her Divine Master, takes peculiar delight in ministering to the poor, and no doubt it is true that good Catholics are not very fond of the mighty dollar. The church, nevertheless, is not opposed to material prosperity, but, on the contrary, promotes it by every legitimate means. Let us compare England with Spain, and the United States with South America. England has more wealth than Spain, it is true, but she has also more prayers. The wealth of England is in the hands of a few, thanks to the Reformation which robbed the poor; that of Spain is more evenly distributed. Recently there has been distress in Spain on account of crop failure, and to-day, with England prosperous, we find her poor clamouring for bread, and bloodshed threatened if it is not obtained. India is a dependency of England, and the Philippine Islands were a dependency of Spain. Now, what has been the influence of these respective nations upon their dependencies? The natives of India almost continually suffer from famine and pestilence, in a country even more favoured by nature than the Philippines. Still, the people of these Islands were never in want while under Spanish rule. The natives of India, with the exception of a very small minority, are still pagan, while the Philippines are almost entirely Christian. The comparison is evidently in favour of Spain.

A short time ago an industrial delegation from Birmingham, England, went to Austria to inquire into the condition of workingmen in that country. Their report says: "We saw no case of underfed, poorly-clad or untidy children, either on the streets or in the schools." Of the workingmen's home, they say: "We were astonished at the well-to-do look of the house and furniture, and would hardly believe it was a workingman's house." Of an Austrian holiday, they write: "During the whole of Easter Monday we saw no untidy man, woman or child; everyone was well clad and scrupulously clean, and the general physique and deportment of the people was distinctively a grade higher than one sees at home." Reverend Dr., please compare that with your Guy Fawkes sermon.

In comparing the United States with South America and Mexico, we are willing to admit that the Northern States may have a more advanced material civilization than Mexico or South America. This is due partly to the great natural advantages of our friends to the South, but religion has something to do with it also. Religion affected them in this way. The Protestant settlers of the United States drove back, slew, and almost exterminated the Indians, whom they have never been able either to civilize or Christianize. The Catholics of Mexico and South America, on the contrary, Christianized and civilized the native population and amalgamated with them. This large element of Indian blood certainly must, for a considerable period, retard material progress. Notwithstanding these impediments, the Argentine Republic is a very prosperous country and bids fair in a short time to rival the United States itself in wealth and prosperity.

When dealing with the great prosperity of the United States, the question naturally arises, what has she done to civilize the barbarians within her borders? What has she done for the Negro? Is there any portion of Mexico or South America so degraded as the Southern States?

Dr. Crothers also says, "That the Catholic church ascribes her superiority to the civil powers." Here are more distinguish.

The Catholic church teaches that the church is supreme in spiritual matters, and the state supreme in temporal affairs. She also teaches, that, as the soul is above the body, so eternity is above time, so spiritual things are above temporal. If the state be superior to the church in spiritual things, then Christ should have placed Herod and Pontius Pilate above the Apostles.

If Dr. Crothers imagines he is going to restore the prestige he has [illegible] his own people, and regret[illegible] muddle he has made in his own church, by abusing Catholics, he is greatly mistaken. That sort of thing might do one hundred years ago, but people are not so easily fooled in this enlightened age.

The Rev. Mr. Brace on Sunday last accused a few Catholics who lived three hundred years ago, of being guilty of trying to blow up the English House of Commons with gunpowder. He accused the Protestants of to-day of being guilty of nine suicide. Now, will the reverend gentleman please tell us which he considers the greater crime, to blow up a few wicked politicians with gunpowder, or, Herod-like, to slay countless innocents?

Just one more question. Has the Rev. Mr. Langfeldt adopted the method of the infidel, Voltaire, in his tirades against the church? Voltaire's motto was, "Lie, lie, continue lying. It is like mud. Some of it will stick."

Mr. Publow, Cheese Instructor, to Spend Ten Days Here.

The annual meetings of the different cheese factories are approaching, and at the meeting of the Cheese Board this morning the Secretary informed the salesmen that Mr. Publow, the chief instructor of this district, would be available for ten meetings this year, for the purpose of addressing the meetings on dairy matters. It was thought advisable to arrange that two meetings be held a day, in order that Mr. Publow's services might be secured for twenty meetings instead of ten if only one meeting a day was held.

Mr. Gillespie, of the firm of White & Gillespie was appointed to make the arrangements for these meetings, and to secure the services of Mr. Publow for as many as possible.

Jack's Lake Hunt Club's Success

Mr. W. Gould of the Jack's Lake Hunting party was in the city yesterday, and reports the party as having met with good luck. He brought down with him a buck shot by Mr. R. C. Strickland, which weighs 200 lbs. dressed. Mr. Gould relates the story of the difficulties encountered in carrying the deer to the camp, and in view of the fact that they may shoot another such an animal, Mr. Gould is taking his old mare up with him in order to haul the next big one to the camp.

Messrs. Hatton and Elliott, Mr. Gould says, were completely exhausted after having to help carry the big buck to camp, and retired without supper, a sure sign that the physical effort was a strenuous one.

Bad News Is Heard From The Caucasus

Fighting Said to Have Been of Ferocious Character.

AN ARMENIAN GIRL'S FATE

Civil War Prevails in the Caucasus—Transcaucasian Railway Is Effectively Crippled—Bridges Smashed and Rails Torn Up—Count Witte Names Some of the Members of His First Cabinet.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 8.—The news from the Caucasus is particularly bad to-day. Fighting between Armenians, Tartars and Russians assumed a ferocious character, and every attempt of the troops to restore order resulted in the deputations turning upon the soldiers and fighting them with arms and bombs.

According to a merchant who has just arrived from Baku, the scenes witnessed there were beyond belief, and not only murder but torture in all forms has been perpetrated.

An Armenian girl's fingers were cut off one by one, and afterwards her arms and legs were amputated by Tartars, and she was allowed to expire in untold agony.

Caucasus Ravaged by Civil War.

London, Nov. 8.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of The Daily Mail says: "War, hopeless war, prevails in the Caucasus. The Transcaucasian Railway, the sole line, is effectually crippled and reinforcements have been compelled to march. Seventeen bridges have been wrecked and the rails have been torn up in forty places. Telegraph lines have been destroyed and Georgia and Daghestan are isolated. Every male is in arms and the War Office is helpless."

Kishineff Strewn With Dead.

The Bucharest correspondent of the Daily Mail sends the following: "There is terrifying news still from Kishineff. The city is strewn with dead. An unwieldy provisional Government has been established.

"Famine reigns throughout Bessarabia, and the Hebrews are taking refuge in the cellars, where they are dying by wholesale. A mob of a thousand rioters engaged in a massacre of Hebrews in Ismaili, Bessarabia, and a force of dragoons arriving from Bendery fired on the mob, killing forty-two and wounding one hundred and four.

Funerals at Odessa.

Odessa, Nov. 8.—Four hundred and twelve Jews, victims of the massacres of last week, were buried yesterday. A majority of the shops were closed, including many of those belonging to Christians. The scenes of grief were heartrending as the bodies were placed in trenches, each trench containing seventy. Similar funerals will continue for three days. On each grave wreaths were placed, bearing the inscription: "Martyrs to the Faith-Victims of the Autocracy."

Mobs have completely devastated, plundered and burned all the Jewish houses in the suburb of Dalnik. In the large villages of Severinovak, and Anatolivka, and the Towns of Vevidlopol, Maiaki, Akkerman, Atakies, Olviopol, and Winitza many hundred persons are reported to have been killed and thousands wounded.

Extension of the Suffrage.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 8.—The project for a sweeping extension of the suffrage in elections to the National Assembly, promised by the Emperor, is published. The new measure grants representation to the workmen on the same basis as peasants, one representative for each 250,000, and extends the suffrage to the great class of "intellectuals" possessing college degrees, who have been the heart and soul of the reform movement. Voters will also, under the new regulations, include tenants paying an annual rent of $240 petty traders, except the lowest class; holders of high school diplomas, and officials of St. Petersburg and Moscow, with salaries of not less than $600.

Witte's Colleagues.

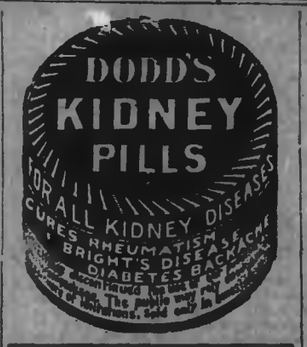
Count Witte's new Government appears to be getting fairly under way. The Cabinet is now beginning to take form. The names of the two Shipoffs, one of them, Ivan, having been Count Witte's former assistant in the Ministry of Finance, and his associate at Portsmouth, N. H., and the other, Dimitri, the Moscow semstvoist, who was president of the first semstvo congress, have been semi-authoritatively announced as his selections, respectively, for Minister of Finance and Comptroller-General. M. Nemechaieff, president of the Southeastern Railroad, who is recommended by the railroad men to succeed Prince Hilkoff, is now on his way to St. Petersburg to consider the tender of the portfolio of ways and communications. With the nomination of Prince Alexis Obolensky, as Procurator-General of the holy synod, already gazetted, this provides four of the eight ministerial posts at the disposition of the Premier. For the portfolios of education and of justice, Count Witte has been disappointed in not obtaining the men he originally desired, but he has other possible Cabinet timber in view for these posts. The former Ministers, except four who are not subject to the jurisdiction of the Premier, are slated for dismissal.

Reign of Riot Dying.

The news from the provinces indicates the dying down of the reign of riot and license following the promulgation of the Imperial manifesto. Normal conditions are gradually resuming. The most interesting developments are in Poland, where a Polish national movement has blossomed forth under favorable conditions. The greatest manifestation has occurred in Warsaw, where the town is decorated with Polish flags, whose display heretofore has been treated as a crime. A giant demonstration, including 250,000 persons, was organized, paraded the streets Monday night and listened to speeches delivered by Henryk Sienkiewics, the author, and other prominent Poles. The demonstration passed off without disturbance or disorder, though in the Jewish quarter seven persons suspected of being provocatory agents of the police service were killed by the enraged populace after the nationalist parade.

Raising Relief Funds.

New York, Nov. 8.—At a mass meeting of Jewish residents of this city, held in Temple Emanuel yesterday, $56,800 was collected for the relief of the sufferers of the massacres in Russia.



St. Thomas Is Wild Over a Fiendish Act

Richmond Beck Victim of Most Diabolical Attack.

THREE TRAMPS IMPLICATED

Story of the Horrible Affair As Told by the Young Man Himself—Is Not Yet Out of Danger — People Are Stirred to the Lynching Point—Three Suspects Have Been Arrested at Hagersville.

St. Thomas, Nov. 8.—This city and district is stirred to the lynching point by a crime at Springfield.

The story told by the victim, Richmond Beck, is that he was going to the woods on his mother's farm to work, when he was accosted by three tramps, who were sitting on the fence. They asked him his name, and he gave it. Then he asked their names. The oldest one replied "Baldwin." The tramps asked where they could get a drink of water, and were told by Beck, who went with them to get a drink. On coming back Baldwin started to lift a log at one end, and then Beck lifted. Then Baldwin lifted the whole log. Then he remarked that Beck was a husky youth, and started to wrestle with him. He threw Beck three times. On going down the third time, Beck, in some manner, struck Baldwin on the shin accidently, whereupon Baldwin got mad. He grabbed Beck and threw him, and sat upon him, while the younger man took a knife and emasculated the lad. The three men then walked away.

After they had gone, Beck walked three quarters of a mile home, and did not say anything until Sunday about the attack. When the doctor was called in and found him in a serious condition, and yesterday he was not out of danger. With the aid of Detective Heenan and the agent here, the crime was well reported to all police, who are on the look out.

The operator of the M. C. R. at Hagersville had three men arrested there, two of whom answered the description of the two younger men. Constables Winter and Cascadden drove to Delhi, and will go on to Hagersville to bring the four men to Springfield for Beck to see.

At noon yesterday a crowd of 400 people gathered at the Springfield Station, expecting that the men captured at Hagersville would be brought back on the M. C. R. mail train. There was talk of violence, but the men did not come on the train.

Beck, who is twenty years of age, and who holds a second-class teachers' certificate, is said to have no enemies, and is a quiet inoffensive youth. His father left the neighborhood twelve years ago, and ever since then Beck has been working on the little farm to assist his mother, and two sisters.

Hoodoo Engine Derailed.

Sydney, N.S., Nov. 8.—One of the worst accidents that has ever occurred in the I.C.R. yards here took place at 12.30 yesterday morning, when an engine attached to the fast express was derailed in front of the new station. The track was badly torn, but no one was hurt. No. 237 is a notoriously "hoodoo" engine. She was formerly No. 239, and has a record of about a dozen men killed and maimed.

Tammany Has Been Crippled In Gotham

McClellan New York's Mayor By Reduced Majority.

HEARST MAY CONTEST IT

Municipal Ownership Candidate Ran Less Than 3,000 Votes Behind the Successful Candidate—A Wave of Reform Sweeps Over Philadelphia and the Weaver Ticket Is Victorious—Jerome Is Elected

New York, Nov. 8.—Returns to midnight indicate that George B. McClellan, Democrat, is re-elected Mayor of New York by between 3,000 and 4,000 plurality over W. R. Hearst, municipal ownership, and that Wm. T. Jerome, independent, is re-elected district attorney by about 8,000 over James W. Osborne, Democrat.

At midnight Mr. Hearst declined to admit his defeat, and declared his intention to contest the election. He claims that he has proof of 50,000 fraudulent votes. At that time the returns from 194 election districts had not been received. McClellan had 295,598, Hearst 203,370, and Ivins 130,326 votes.

1.45 a. m.—Returns at this hour are complete in Greater New York, in the mayoralty contest, with the exception of fifty-one election districts, scattered throughout the city.

The vote gives McClellan (Dem.) 221,185; Hearst (M. O.) 218,657; Ivins (Rep.) 132,317; a plurality for McClellan of 3,185 votes.

Landslide For Reform.

Philadelphia, Nov. 8.—Philadelphia has been swept by the reform movement, the city party winning by a surprisingly large plurality.

While returns from only six of the 42 wards in this city, had been counted up to midnight, enough is known of the result in the remaining wards to indicate the defeat of the Republican local ticket from 60,000 to 75,000 plurality.

The result has every appearance of a landslide for reform, not only on the Philadelphia, but throughout the state.

Contrary to general expectations, there were no very serious disturbance in the city yesterday. The police department was at all times master of the situation, and wherever trouble was started it was quickly stopped.

Massachusetts Goes Republican.

Boston, Nov. 8.—Returns from Massachusetts State election for Governor from all of the 35 cities and towns give Bartlett (Democrat) 174,299 and Gould (Republican) 203,834. Gould's plurality 29,435.

Democrats Sweep Buffalo.

Buffalo, Nov. 8.—Revised figures show the election of J. N. Adam, Democrat, Mayor of Buffalo, by 2,898 majority. The Democrats have elected their entire city and county ticket, with the exception of the Republican candidate for the office of Overseer of the Poor, who is elected by 1,000 majority.

Albany's Mayor Has Third Term.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 8.—The Republicans carried Albany county and city by large majorities. Mayor Chas. H. Gaus was elected for a third term by 6,000 majority.

Out Went the Democrats.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 8.—The election in Connecticut yesterday was confined to the cities of Bridgeport and Ansonia, where the regular city elections were held. The Republicans made almost a clean sweep.

Turnover in Ohio.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 8.—George B. Cox at 7 p.m. concedes Dempsey's election as Mayor by 15,000, and that Pattison carries Hamilton county by 12,000. He says Pattison, Democrat, for Governor, has carried the State by 60,000.

Labor Candidate in San Francisco.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 8.—The indications are that Eugene Schmitz, the Union Labor candidate, has been re-elected Mayor of this city by 15,000 majority. With six precincts to hear from, the count stands:—Schmitz, 42,202, Partridge, 28,180.

Anti-Mormon in Salt Lake.

Salt Lake, Nov. 8.—At 9 o'cock the American party managers claim the election of Ezra Thompson, anti-Mormon candidate for Mayor. Returns from eight of the fifty-three precincts in the city give Thompson 1,324; Morris, Democrat, 808, and Lynch, Republican, 601.

DO YOU FEEL THIS WAY.

Do you feel all tired out? Do you sometimes think you just can't work away at your profession or trade any longer? Do you have a poor appetite, and lay awake at nights unable to sleep? Are your nerves all gone, and your stomach too? Has ambition to forge ahead in the world left you? If so, you might as well put a stop to your misery. You can do it if you will. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will make you a different individual. It will set your sluggish liver to work. It will get into every vein in your body and purify your blood. It will set things right in your stomach, and your appetite will come back. If there is any tendency in your family toward consumption, it will keep that dread destroyer away. Even after consumption has almost gained a foothold in the form of a lingering cough, bronchitis, or bleeding at the lungs, it will bring about speedy cure in 98 per cent. of all cases. It is a remedy prepared by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., whose advice is given free to all who wish to write him. His great success has come from his wide experience and varied practice.

O. S. Copenhaver, Esq., of Mount Union, Huntingdon Co., Pa. (Box 200), writes: "About twelve years ago I was suddenly taken with a pain in the pit of the stomach which was so violent I could not walk straight. It would grow more severe until it caused waterbrash and vomiting of a slimy yellow water. A physician told me I had a form of dyspepsia and treated me for about six months with but little benefit. Another physician told me my liver was out of order and that I had indigestion. He gave me a treatment and I got easier better but only for a short time. I then tried another one, who said I had chronic indigestion, ulceration of the lining of the stomach, torpid liver and kidney affection. He treated me for more than a year and I felt much better, but it did not last. I then took to using several widely advertised patent medicines, but received no more than temporary relief. I then tried Dr. Pierce's medicines, using his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and the 'Pleasant Pellets,' and in two months' time I was feeling better than I had for years before."

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

Affirmative Won Decision In Debate

Interesting Meeting of St. Andrew's Guild Last Night.

Hockey Team Will be Entered in Guild League—Features of the Meeting.

There was a large and representative attendance at the meeting last night of St. Andrew's Guild, and a most enjoyable evening was spent. President F. E. Kerr occupied the chair.

A feature of the meeting was the decision to enter a team in the Guild Hockey League, and to judge from both the quality and the quantity of the playing material at its disposal, the Guild will be a no uncertain factor in Hockey circles during the winter. A number of new players, it is understood, who are connected with the Guild have this year signified their intention of signing with them, and will doubtless be a material augmentation to the forces of last year.

At the conclusion of the discussion upon hockey matters, an interesting debate took place, upon the following premises:—

"Resolved that a city person is greener with regard to country affairs than a country person with regard to city affairs."

The affirmative was taken by Messrs. Fred Richardson and W. McCullough, and the negative by Messrs. Ernie Reid and F. Donaldson. After a lengthy argument in which the respective sides presented their cases with force, combined with the pleasing humourous touches which the subject naturally afforded.

The decision was won by the Affirmative, the judges being Messrs. F. E. and P. A. Kerr and Mr. D. Menzies.

"At Home" Of Brass Workers

Invitations have been issued for another of those delightful "at homes" under the auspices of the Brass Workers, to be held next Friday evening, Nov. 10th, in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street, and it is safe to say that a most enjoyable time is in store for all who attend. The Brass Workers have made a reputation for themselves along this line and promise that Friday evening's "at home" will surpass all former ones, both in sociability and enjoyment. The Misses Dorris have been engaged to furnish the music which is a guarantee that nothing will be wanting in this respect.

Leader Of Opposition Made Serious Charges

At the Sitting of the Mock Parliament in St. Paul's Young Men's Guild Last Night—A New Departure in Guild Work Which Promises to be Successful—An Interested Gathering of Young Men Last Night—Some Eloquent Speeches Were Delivered—Premier is Charged With Attempt to Bribe.

That there is material for coming parliamentarians in our midst, was demonstrated last night at St. Paul's church, when the opening of the first session of the Mock Parliament, in connection with the Young Men's Guild, of that church, took place, with the usual pagentry incidental to these occasions. The young men who took part in the debate last night, gave evidences of considerable oratorical ability, and doubtless some of them will yet make their mark in public life.

The considerable interest taken in the Mock Parliament, was evidenced by the fact that there was a large attendance of young men, and it was not confined to the members of the Guild under the auspices of which the Mock Parliament was held.

The business last night was confined to the usual opening ceremonies, including the speech from the throne, and the address in reply to the speech, with the debate which followed, and including a notice of motion, a number of questions which Opposition members fired at the members of the Government.

The opening sitting of the session was not without its sensation, moreover, and it was provided by the leader of the Opposition, Mr. E. S. Clarry, when he charged the premier with having attempted to buy the support of one of the members of the Opposition, no less a person than the hon. member for Brockville, Mr. G. B. VanBlaricom, with the offer to make him King's Printer, in return for his support of the Government.

Needless to say, these charges, made by the leader of the Opposition in an impassioned speech, in which he scored the premier unmercifully, for having sought by this means to add to his following in the House, created a profound sensation, particularly among the Government members, to whom the serious charges came as a complete surprise.

Outside of this event, the opening of the session was uneventful, and the business was conducted strictly according to parliamentary usage, those taking part evidencing a familiarity with parliamentary practise, which is an encouraging sign or otherwise, according to the point of view.

The Opening.

Rev. Dr. Torrance, who acted as Lieut.-Governor, was escorted to the chamber by Lieut. Hodgson, who had previously performed a similar service for the speaker of the House, Rev. Mr. MacKay. Upon entering the chamber and ascending the throne, Rev. Dr. Torrance read the following speech from the throne:

Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:

It is my pleasing duty to congratulate you on the auspicious circumstances under which you will begin your labours. The province has been blessed by a continuance of great prosperity, and the rapid advancement of the country requires constant development of our laws and institutions.

My Government will therefore submit for your consideration several measures of great importance, to which I invite your earnest attention.

A Bill will be laid before you providing for the acquirement by the province of all the water powers and privileges on the Niagara River as well as those now held by private corporations, with the works heretofore constructed, as those yet ungranted, and the development of the said powers and the distribution of electric power therefrom among the municipalities of the province.

Measures will be introduced providing for the reform of the legal system of the province by limiting appeals in all judicial proceedings to not more than one; by the abolition of the Grand Jury, and by the codification of the Mercantile Law.

A Bill remodelling the Liquor License Laws will be submitted for your approval.

A Bill will be introduced by the treasurer providing for the establishment of a graduated tax on all Bachelors, and the appropriation of the revenue therefrom to the promotion of the teaching of Domestic Science.

Measures will be submitted to you for the amendment of the Game Laws, by providing a close season for the Mosquito and the Mephitine Carnivora; for the extension of the Temiskaming Railway to James Bay, and for the protection of the discoverers of Minerals.

He then retired and the members of the house resumed their seats, after which the routine business was proceeded with.

Reply to Speech.

The mover and seconder of the address in reply to the speech from the throne, Messrs. F. J. A. Hall, the member for Manitoulin, and Stanley Fife, from North Renfrew, were the next speakers, each giving short addresses. The debate on the address was spirited, and was opened by the leader of the Opposition, Mr. E. S. Clarry, who scored the Government on their failure to enumerate any definite policy. The speech from the throne was criticised severely.

The Premier, Mr. R. F. McWilliams, replied to the leader of the Opposition, and Mr. G. B. VanBlaricum, one of the lieutenants of the leader of the Opposition, followed in the humourous speech of the evening. Other speakers on the address were Mr. Rosenburg, for the Government and W. S. Davidson, for the Opposition, the address being carried eventually, on a straight party vote.

A Sensation.

It was after the motion on the address in reply to the speech had been passed that the leader of the Opposition sprang the sensation on the house by charging the Premier with an attempt to buy an Opposition member, his motion being to the effect that the Committee on Privileges be a Select Committee to investigate the charges that the Premier had sought to bribe a member of the Opposition. On the suggestion of the Premier, who, of course, denied the charges, the motion was allowed to stand as a notice of motion until the next sitting.

A number of questions were asked the members of the Government by the Opposition, one of them being a request for information in reference to the Humber piggery.

Mr. Jas. Connal moved that the sittings of the house be thrown open to the general public, including the ladies, which was allowed to stand over for the meantime.

This closed the business of the House and a motion to adjourn until Nov. 21st was made by the Premier and carried.

The members of the Government are:—

Premier and President of the Council—R. F. McWilliams.

Attorney General—J. H. Larmonth.

Provincial Treasurer—W. A. McFall.

Minister of Education.—A. P. MacLean.

Minister of Public Works — H. Wightman.

Minister of Agriculture — J. McIntyre.

Provincial Secretary — M. Rosenburgh.

Minister of Lands and Mines — F. Howson.

Minister without Portfolio—W. M. Lang.

Minister without Portfolio — Ross Craig.

Mr. E. S. Clarry is the leader of the Opposition and Mr. Ross Cameron, the Opposition whip. The Clerk of the House is Mr. Graham Ferguson, and his assistant, Mr. Allan Moore.

Future meetings of the Guild, at which this feature is included will be awaited with interest and there will doubtless be even an increased attendance.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Dear Sir, — In your issue of yesterday it was reported that Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., would introduce our lecturer on Friday evening. I am sorry to say that Mr. Hall cannot be with us. The following letter will explain itself:

R. J. TODD.

The First Church of Christ Scientist, Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Sir, — I exceedingly regret that I am forced to go to Chicago on Wednesday or Thursday of this week, and that it is going to be impossible for me to return before the beginning of the following week. I am very sorry, indeed, therefore that I shall be unable to be present at your meeting in the opera house on Friday evening, November 10th, to take part in the introduction of Judge Hanna. I am sure that I appreciate very much indeed your kindness in honouring me with an invitation to take part in his introduction, and trust that my being unable to be present may not inconvenience you.

Again thanking you, I am,
Yours faithfully,
R. R. HALL.

Prince Louis Of Battenberg In New York

The British Squadron, Now in American Waters, With Its Royal Commander Received at Gotham To-day--A Splendid Reception Was Given--Three Royal Salutes Were Fired--Programme of the Visit.

MAYOR McCLELLAN WELCOMES PRINCE

Special to The Examiner

New York, Nov. 9.—Prince Louis of Battenberg and the British fleet of which he is in command reached New York to-day. The elaborate programme of welcome was carried out without a mishap. Off Tompkinsville the American squadron of welcome thundered out three Royal salutes of 21 guns each. The battery walls and the docks were crowded as the ships passed up the harbour, and thousands lined the North River shores to cordially welcome the Prince. Prince Louis and Admiral Evans stood on the bridge of the British flagship, and the Prince bowed repeatedly. On anchoring the ships of both squadrons dressed the white ensign and the American flag at the main, and the white ensign at the fore, in honour of the birthday of King Edward. The cruisers and battleships formed a line extending from a point off Forty-second street to Grant's Tomb. The vessels forming this magnificent line included the armoured cruisers Drake, Essex, Berwick, and Cornwall, under Prince Louis of Battenberg, and the battleships Maine, Maryland, Missouri, Alabama, Kentucky, Kearsarge, Iowa and Massachusetts, together with a number of cruisers of the United States navy. Immediately after his flagship had come to anchor Prince Louis exchanged ceremonial visits with Mayor McClellan.

Song Successes In "Yankee Consul"

This Comic Opera Introduces Some Big Song Hits.

"Ain't it funny what a difference just a few hours make," wrote Henry M. Blossom, Jr., some few years ago, and a little later he set about to write an opera. "The Yankee Consul" was the result, and the "difference" is found in that Blossom to-day ranks as one of America's foremost stage writers, and this line, "Ain't it funny what a difference just a few hours make," is the title of one of the biggest song hits in the opera. It is sung by "The Yankee Consul," who also sings "In the Days of Old" and "In Old New York." These are but three of more than an even dozen of successful numbers which will be sung at the Grand Opera House when "The Yankee Consul" is seen and heard here next Wednesday night in the opening bill.

More Than Half A Million Paid To The Patrons

Of the Cheese Factories on the Peterboro' Board This Year—About $528,666.66 Was the Amount Received During 1905—Twelve Meetings Were Held and the Price Was the Best in Board's History.

THE HIGHEST PRICE PAID IN CANADA

The fact that yesterday, the last meeting of the Peterborough cheese board, for the season of 1905, was held, gives an opportunity to point out some facts in connection with the cheese industry in this district, which, perhaps, may not be known to all. It will doubtless be a surprise to many to learn that during this season just closed, no less than 55,000 boxes of cheese were sold on this board. The average weight of each box is 95 pounds, so that during this year 4,715,000 pounds were made in factories on this board, and sold in this city.

The average price of cheese for the season on the Peterborough Board, has been 10 2-3 cents, or, in other words, during the cheese-making season of 1905, no less a sum than $528,666.66 has been paid to the patrons of the cheese factories on this board for the product of the dairies.

This immense sum of money cannot help placing the farmers of this county and surrounding townships, in a much better financial condition.

This year the price of cheese has been most satisfactory, and the prospects are that next year there will be a largely increased number of farmers who will go into dairying.

There were twelve board meetings during the year, and the ruling prices raged as follows: 9 5-8c., 9 11-16c., 9 1-2c., 9 5-8c., 9 13-16c., 10 1-16c., 11 9-16c., 11 3-16c., 11 1-2c., 11 3-4c., 11 5-16c., 12 7-16c.

The Peterborough cheese board this year has the reputation of being one of the best boarded in the country, and this year this reputation is enhanced by the fact that the highest price paid on any board this year was paid to the Peterborough cheese factories, and yesterday's figure constitutes a high water mark for Peterborough.

Narrow Escape From Accident

What might have been a serious accident was narrowly averted on Monday afternoon, and fortunately none of the participants were badly injured. A surrey was in waiting for persons coming in on the 2.50 express, and after getting the party which consisted of a gentleman, two ladies and a child, the driver turned to leave the station. In doing so the left front axle broke, and the horses, becoming frightened, endeavoured to get away. Minus the one wheel the horses tore down the station road, but the driver turned them into the Royal Hotel sheds. In doing so the broken axle struck a cellar-way, and the jar sent the top, with the occupants, on to the road. The horses were captured in the yard. Outside of a few bruises no one was hurt, and with the exception of the vehicle no damage was done.—Hastings Star.

King Edward's Birthday Was Celebrated

King of England To-day Enters Upon His Sixty-fifth Year--How the Day Was Observed in London, England--Part the King Has Played in Ending the War Referred To---His Large Fund of Knowledge.

HIS BIRTHDAY WAS QUIETLY OBSERVED

Special to The Examiner.

London, Nov. 9th. — King Edward entered upon his sixty-fifth year to-day, and was the recipient of the usual large number of congratulations and remembrances. The anniversary was not publicly observed, however, the celebrations of this character being deferred until a more seasonable time of the year, in accordance with the precedent established by His Majesty when he ascended the throne. The customary salutes were fired at all military and naval stations at home and abroad and flags were displayed at Windsor, Sandringham and elsewhere.

The editorial felicitations in to-day's journals are more than ordinarily cordial and happy in their tone, giving further evidence of the remarkable hold King Edward has upon the affections of his people. Some of the papers take occasion to point out the marvelous personal influence which His Majesty exerts, not only throughout the British Empire but in other parts of the world. Mention is made of the influence the King had in the settlement of the late war in the Far East, and it is broadly hinted that the present Liberal reforms in Russia are due in no small measure to the personal influence of advice of King Edward, for whom the Czar entertains the highest regard. The King has also played his part in the happy ending of the trouble in the Scandinavian peninsula, it being due almost entirely to his persuasion that his son-in-law, Prince Charles of Denmark, has agreed to accept the offer of the Norwegian throne.

King Edward has a desire, it might almost be said a passion, for composing difficulties, and the world will never know fully to what extent it is indebted to him in this particular. By family ties he has the means of knowing all the secret impulses, personal characteristics, even the small family troubles, of every monarch and every royalty in Europe, and it may readily be seen that when a foreign situation comes to be considered the King has a fund of knowledge far larger than that of any person, official or non-official, in the country.

Ald. R. H. Leary's Brother Injured

Ald. Leary has received a telegram from Los Angeles, California, conveying the intelligence that his brother, Charles C. Leary, who has been living in Mexico, has been seriously injured, although no details have been received up to the present time. Ald. Leary expects to learn further as to the particulars in the course of a few days, and may have to go to attend to his brother.

For some years the whereabouts of Mr. Leary have not been known, and it is no doubt distressing to his relatives to learn of him in this misfortune.

"Mrs. Warren's Profession" Case Was Up In Court

Special to The Examiner.

New York, Nov. 9.—The case against "Mrs. Warren's Profession," the George Bernard Shaw play which was stopped at the Garrick Theatre by Police Commissioner McAdoo, was called in police court to-day. Arnold Daly, leading actor of the company, with other members of the company and the owner and manager of the Garrick Theatre, were in court when the hearing commenced. It is probable that the case will be finally dismissed upon assurance that no further attempt will be made to produce the play in New York.

Many Improvements At George Street Church

The trustees of the George street Methodist church are expending over $2,000 in improvements on their organ. The D. W. Karn Company, of Woodstock, are reconstructing it. The organ will be brought forward three feet. The console with pneumatic action will be brought forward, so that the organist can better direct the choir. The pulpit platform will be enlarged and brought forward to enable the choir loft to be kept at its present dimensions. The front of the platform will be a handsome design in hardwood. The change will add much to the effectiveness of the organ, and will, at the same time, improve the appearance of the church.

The work will be completed about the new year. The lady members of the choir will, at the opening and thenceforward, appear in their new surplice gowns—and without hats or bonnets—a change approved by the trustees.

The Lord Mayor Of London Held Annual Show

A DIRECTOR IN THE HUDSON BAY COMPANY

Special to the Examiner

London, Nov. 9.—The time-honoured Lord Mayor's show took place to-day, and the new Lord Mayor of London, W. Vaughan Morgan, was formally installed in office, succeeding Sir John Pound. The old established custom showed little sign of becoming obsolete, and owing to the popularity of the new Lord Mayor and some unusual features in the street parade the occasion was the most interesting of recent years.

The procession started from the Guild Hall at 10.30 a.m. The route to the Royal Courts of Justice, where the formal installation took place, was by way of Gresham street, Lothbury, Princess street, Mansion House, Cheapside, Queen street, Cannon street and Fleet street. All along the route the usual bunting and decorations were displayed.

A picturesque feature of the parade was the presence, in carriages, of a deputation of Bluecoat boys from Horsham, with their masters, to signalise the close connection of the new Lord Mayor with Christ's Hospital, of which he was once an inmate and for many years past the treasurer.

The procession included three cars, one emblematical of l'entente cordiale, another of peace between Japan and Russia, and a third of the Colonies with special reference to Canada, the Lord Mayor being a director of the Hudson Bay Company. The Cutlers' Company, of which Lord Mayor Morgan is a member, attended him in the procession. The procession included the usual military display. The cavalry escort comprised regiments stationed at Hounslow, one of the bands of the Household Cavalry, the mounted band of the Royal Artillery, and the City of London (Rough Riders) Yeomanry.

The decoration in front of the Guild Hall were of the customary description. After arriving at the law courts the ancient ceremonies of installation were gone through as they have been for centuries past. The return to the Guild Hall was by way of the Strand, Northumberland avenue, the Victoria Embankment, Queen Victoria street and King street.

The scene at the annual banquet in the Guild Hall this evening was a brilliant one. The huge oaken rafters were decorated with flags and bunting, the hall was brilliantly lighted, showing to the best of advantage the glittering uniforms and the dresses and jewels of the women. The Lord Mayor sat at the south table, near the centre of the room, with the sheriffs at his right and left, and the premier and other dignitaries of state coming next. Whitelaw Reid, the American Ambassador, had a special seat of honour at the main table.

The new Lord Mayor is a member of the firm of Morgan Brothers, merchants and newspaper proprietors. In addition to his Hudson's Bay directorship, he holds a prominent position in connection with some prominent Australian companies and other great commercial concerns. He was born in 1851, educated at Christ's Hospital, and was in the banking business at Manchester till 1876, when he came to London and joined his brothers in commercial and banking enterprises. He is a Free Mason of many years' standing and a former grand treasurer of the Grand Lodge of England.

Lord Mayor Morgan has chosen for his chaplain the Rev. W. H. Hornby Steer, vicar of St. Phillips', Lambeth. As the Lord Mayor is a bachelor the duties of Lady Mayoress will devolve upon Mrs. Hornby Steer. She is well known throughout the metropolis for her activity in charitable work.

Bystander And Sunday Keeping

Bystander, Mr. Goldwin Smith, has the following in the Farmers' Sun:—

The conflict continues between the upholders of a strictly devotional Sunday and the advocates of a day of rest with spontaneous devotion and liberty of innocent recreation for the rest of the day. Whether we agree with the Lord's Day Alliance people or not, we must respect their zeal in defence of that what they believe essential to the spiritual life of the world; though their methods may sometimes be rather inquisitorial and provocative of angry opposition. For observance of a Jewish Sabbath it may be assumed nobody now contends. It would be utterly impracticable and Christianity has been plainly absolved from it by St. Paul. Besides, the Fourth Commandment only forbids work; it does not forbid recreation. Its object is humane; to secure rest, especially perhaps in the interest of the slave, by a religious sanction. It suggests nothing puritanical or austere. Compulsory devotion is no longer sustained by the sentiment of the community as it was in puritan commonwealth, Scotch, English, or American. The strong and growing tendency of opinion now seems to be in favour of a day of rest as complete as the necessities of modern industry and commerce will allow, with a part of the day dedicated to devotion and the rest free for innocent recreation, which can hardly be said to be less spiritual than mere idleness and gossip. Intense as the struggle of life now is, few questions touch humanity more nearly than this of the Day of Rest.

Fear That Both Expeditions Are Lost In Wilds

Mrs. Hubbard, Wife of Late Labrador Explorer, Believed to be Lost--She Was Trying to Carry on the Work Commenced by Her Husband--Was a Native of This County--Living Near Rice Lake.

RIVAL EXPEDITIONS IN LABRADOR WILDS

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 8.—The mail boat Virginia arrived yesterday from Northern Labrador, bringing James Richards and Peter Stevens, members of Dillon Wallace's expedition to explore the interior of Labrador. They left Wallace and Easton in September in the wildest part of Labrador, when provisions were growing scarce, while Wallace and Easton decided to attempt to reach the caribou country. Before this the party had suffered greatly, owing to the scarcity of game, being on short rations for a considerable period. Richards and Stevens gave Wallace and Easton every ounce of food they could spare, and suffered terrible privations themselves in reaching the coast.

Fear Both Are Lost.

The mail boat brought no news of Mrs. Hubbard's expedition, which has not been heard of since it left the coast last June. Reliable authorities along the coast express grave fears that both expeditions have perished, the season having been unusually poor for game, while snow fell on the uplands early in August. It is altogether unlikely that the expeditions can reach the coast later in this season. If they fail to do so they must almost certainly perish.

The Hubbard and Wallace parties are rival expeditions. Wallace was a co-worker with Mr. Hubbard, the explorer who lost his life in the Labrador wilds, and he fitted out an expedition, saying it was the wish of his friend that he should complete the task Hubbard began. Mrs. Hubbard, however, claimed that Wallace was seeking to rob her husband of the glory rightfully belonging to his memory. For that reason she fitted out a party to continue her husband's work. Her party was supposed to be better equipped than that of Wallace. Both were so eager to be first in the field, that great chances were taken.

Mrs. Hubbard was born in the vicinity of Rice Lake, her maiden name being Benson, and she has frequently visited in Peterborough, where she has many friends.

TERRIBLE PAINS ACROSS BACK

SUFFERED EIGHT MONTHS WITH KIDNEY TROUBLE. WOULD HAVE TO STAY IN BED FOR THREE DAYS AT A TIME

Doan's Kidney Pills OURED HIM

Mr. Thomas Fitzgerald, Hazeldean, Ont., writes us as follows: "I was a great sufferer from kidney trouble for eight months. I had terrible pains across the small of my back. I would have to stay in bed for three days at a time and could not do any work. I tried several remedies but of no avail, and also plasters but they were of no use.

One day a neighbor of mine advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I was so much discouraged I told him I was tired of trying remedies, but he urged me to try one box as I purchased one, and before I was through using it, I found a change for the better so I got five boxes more, and I have had no trouble with my kidneys since. I would not be without Doan's Pills in my house."

It is really not difficult to cure kidney trouble in its first stages. All you have to do is to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial. They are a never-failing cure for all forms of kidney trouble. They quickly relieve the congested, overworked kidneys, and gradually bring them back to health.

Doan's Kidney Pills 50 cents per box or three boxes for $1.25, all dealers or The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

HUNTER STREET WEST

Welcomed At Bombay By The Loyal Hindoo

The Prince and Princess of Wales Reached That City To-day--A Brilliant Function in Honour of the Visit of the Heir to the Throne With His Lady--Lord Curzon Extended the Welcome--City Beautifully Decorated.

PRINCE RESPECTS THE SANCTITY OF SABBATH

Special to the Examiner.

Bombay, Nov. 9. — The battleship Renown, having on board the Prince and Princess of Wales, reached Bombay at noon to-day. Later the Prince and Princess landed. The Renown, the convoying cruisers and a number of transports in the harbour dressed the white ensign and British flag at the main, and the white ensign at the fore, in honour of King Edward's birthday. The merchant shipping decorated also. The immense crowd on the block at the end of the harbour included hundreds of natives, as well as whites, and all cheered enthusiastically, while the forts and ships exchanged salutes. The Prince and Princess were welcomed on the pier by the Viceroy, the Governor of Bombay, Lord Lamington, the Commander-in-Chief in India, the members of the council, a committee of prominent residents representing the municipality of Bombay, and a large number of naval and military officers.

The Prince and Princess of Wales will remain in Bombay until next Tuesday, when they will start on their tour of the principal cities and native states of the peninsula. During their stay in the country the Royal travellers will have more duty than pleasure, but owing to Lord Curzon's splendid command of detail, and his wonderful knowledge of the highways and byways, the Prince and Princess will travel easily and fare sumptuously, while all unnecessary fatigue will be avoided. The Royal train provided for them is a marvel of comfort, and is charmingly decorated. In arranging ceremonial visits and durbars the strictest regard has been paid to the privileges of the native chiefs. The Prince of Wales has given strict orders regarding the careful observance of the Sabbath day, and when their Royal highnesses are travelling on that day the train will be stopped during the time of Divine service.

Miss Helen Davies Is Appreciated

"Canadienne," in Saturday Night, whose literary work is as robust as her physique, in a series of clever articles on "Choral Work in Toronto," says that the "National Chorus" Dr. Albert Ham, conductor, is rehearsing for presentation next January for the first time in Canada of Dr. Bridge's cantata for soprano solo, chorus and orchestra, "The Flag of England," a setting of Rudyard Kipling's poem. Canadienne adds:

"The soprano part is especially well taken, and in this connection it is pleasant to refer to Miss Helen Davies, of Peterborough, who created such a favourable impression at last year's concert, and who is to act as soloist in January. Among our Canadian singers Miss Davies is taking a prominent place, and it is matter for congratulation that one of "our own people" should be chosen for this work. Her voice is singularly pure and flexible, and a bright future may await this talented girl from Ontario's youngest city."

The commendation of Miss Davies' singing and her promise of a great future, are no news to us in Peterborough, who know of her ability, but it is pleasant to have such drunk recognition from Toronto, which, in music, as in other things, seems long to have laboured under doubt as to the possibility of anything good coming out of Nazareth—that is, from outside the city of Toronto.

There is more real oxygen in a liquified form in the "solution of Ozone (the coupon kind)" than in any other preparation of a similar nature. As a prompt cure in the killing of all inside germs of thirst, lungs, stomach or bowels, it has no equal when coupled with "Celery King" the famous laxative. That the stringent Ozone needed a tonic of this nature to procure the best results was so apparent that the Public Drug Co., of Bridgeburg, Ont., offer through your druggist a free package of "Celery King" with every fifty cent or one dollar bottle of "solution of Ozone (the coupon kind." Discovery Of Marble Finish For Cement

Montreal Man Sent Specimens of Recent Discovery.

Product Not Yet Placed on Market—Will be Used for Tile Floors.

The number of purposes for which, owing to present day discoveries, Portland Cement may be utilized, has been for some time a matter of amazement, and infinite, it now appears, is the only word which may be used to describe the variety of its uses.

Probably one of the most unique is that which was discovered by a Montreal man who visited Peterborough a short time ago.

Specimens of the product were yesterday seen by the Examiner at the National Hotel. It is in the form of diamond-shaped slabs, highly polished and coloured, which are intended for use in tile floors, and should serve the purpose excellently. The inventor, or rather discoverer, of this novel form of cement use, is an employee of a large Montreal marble concern, and it was while engaged upon a contract in Toronto, some weeks ago that the manner of colouring the cement was discovered — at first, purely by accident. It came about by the unintentional spilling of a few drops of a chemical compound upon some cement. The man, who is of Italian birth, at once commenced experiments with a view to making his discovery of practical service, and after several weeks spent in Lindsay, succeeded in securing a means of polishing the surface of the cement blocks to a high finish and also of imparting a brilliant and lasting colour.

The inventor has not as yet placed product upon the market, it being yet in a purely experimental stage, but from the appearance of the blocks left with Mr. Lawless, at the National, it appears as though he has been successful in developing, what will, at a later date be of very considerable practical value.

A. E. Untree, the local agent for Sanitas Mineral Water, which is bottled at the Diamond Park Spring in Arnprior, reports increasing trade for the water, and that many of our people are using it for drinking purposes exclusively until the danger of typhoid is eliminated from the town water.

The World's Week Of Prayer Held

The World's Week of Prayer of the Young Women's Christian Association will be observed in Peterborough next week, commencing on Nov. 12th and continuing to the 17th. In the Association Hall five special meetings will be held as follows:—

Sunday, Nov. 12, 4.15 p.m., "The Necessity of Choosing," Miss M. J. Barnard.

Tuesday, Nov. 14, 7.30 p.m., "The Power of Love," Miss J. C. Potter, B. A.

Wednesday, Nov. 15, 8 p.m., "The Power of Prayer," Mrs. R. P. Kennedy.

Thursday, Nov. 16, 8 p.m. "The Power of the Word of God," Mrs. E. D. Lewis.

Friday, Nov. 17, 4 p.m.—Mrs. J. McPherson.

The World's Week of Prayer Five Cents is asked of each member of the Association of Peterborough.

All the women of the city are invited to attend the meetings.

Local Firms' Patriotism

Among the decorations in the city to-day in honour of the birthday of King Edward VII., none are more elaborate than those of Messrs. J. J. Turner and Sons. They have two streamers across the street with "God Save the King" and "Long May He Reign" inscribed. The picture of His Majesty is also painted in the centre. The British ensign floats at the top of the building, and the whole front is decorated with emblems of flags. Turner and Sons are nothing if they are not patriotic.

The Noble Game Of Forty-Fives

The T. A. S. Team "Turns Down" the Knights of Columbus.

The T.A.S. "Forty-fives" Team last night turned the tables on the Knights of Columbus—unhorsing the gallant Knights handsomely. At the last tournament the Knights won out by a narrow margin of two. Last night this lead was wiped out, and a majority of 17 piled up—the score being 122-105, giving the T.A.S. a clear majority of fifteen on the round.

The victory comes quite apropos to the T. A. S. team, and to the occasion. On the King's birthday the beautiful picture of the Queen, her grandchildren, and her dogs, can be hung on the walls of the T. A. Hall, on the birthday of perhaps the friendliest King to Ireland that has ever reigned. The T.A.S. are good fighters, and, belonging to the naval branch of the service through their cold-water affiliations, it is quite a triumph to overcome a doughty band of knights, whose title suggests reminiscences of triumphs over sea and storm represented by the discovery of America. They seem to think that if the Knights of Columbus would discover another America, where they wouldn't have to encounter a T.A.S. team, they might pull off a victory in the neighbourhood of latitude 45. The trophy of the fight which has been for some time in the window of Mr. John Lynch's drug store, Hunter street, is well worth the struggle just closed, which gives the T. A.S. title and ownership.

Trooper Coates Receives Honours

Trooper F. A. Coates, a member of the South African Constabulary, who is now living in Peterborough, but who went to South Africa from Port Hope, has received from the King two bars in addition to the medal and two bars received from the late Queen at the time of their return from the war. The two bars bear the inscriptions: "South Africa, 1901," "South Africa, 1902."

THE best ranges thermometer ever invented will not produce satisfactory baking from a poor oven. A fluctuating oven heat means guess-work baking.

The Imperial Oxford oven has a steady, even heat. You don't require to touch the fire or move a damper. Baking with an Imperial Oxford is an exact science. Just place the article in the oven and time it—the oven does the rest. It is the Diffusive Flue of the that makes this possible. This flue draws in fresh air from outside the range, it is superheated and discharged through a grating into the oven. This heated fresh air permeates every part of the oven and keeps it at an even high temperature.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1905.

LONG LIVE THE KING.

To-day is the sixty-fourth anniversary of the birth of our good King Edward, who was born November 9th, 1841. Apart from the intrinsic importance of the anniversary, the occasion gains a sentimental significance, from the fact that the King's years of life have been as the years of the reign of his illustrious mother. As Queen Victoria was the best Sovereign that ever occupied the throne of Great Britain, so does King Edward give promise—as he so far has given performance—of being a worthy successor. King Edward, though he has only been a crowned king for a little over four years, has developed—or, rather, displayed, for those qualities are innate, and not acquired — qualities which entitle him to easily rank as the first living constitutional sovereign. Perhaps the two chief qualities of character, or mental endowment, which contribute to this condition are plain, everyday common-sense and tact, assisted, perhaps, by a natural ambition to live up to the standard set by his queen mother. In the history of his reign there does not seem to be a record of his having made a mistake, while there are to his credit many acts which would make the reputation of any reign, many times longer than his. His well deserved title of Peace-maker gives him a claim to the gratitude and respect of the world. Long may he reign!

DEMAGOGISM.

The Farmers' Sun, in rather a demagogic strain, speaks of the "farmers who have had to put their hands in their pockets to provide the extra sessional indemnity allowed members of Parliament." While, as a figure of speech, this is correct, as a matter of fact it is largely buncombe. The money to pay the extra indemnity is derived chiefly from two sources — customs duties and internal revenue charges. The farmer pays only his share with the ordinary citizen, and will not pay a cent more, on account of the increased indemnity, unless there is an increase in the customs duties and revenue charges. The only general way in which the farmers can be affected is through the purchase of dutiable articles, and through their increased prosperity giving them more means to make purchases. This is not suggested in excuse or in extenuation of the increased indemnity, whose wisdom, or unwisdom, is a proper subject of discussion, but to show that the appeal to the prejudices of farmers is not quite justified by the circumcumstances. The Farmers' Sun is continually denouncing class legislation, and it is continually appealing to class prejudices. The farmer, as a class, is entitled to the utmost consideration, consistent with the just claims of the rights of other classes. The farmer is the backbone of the country, and for intelligence and ability to manage his own affairs, is nearly, if not quite, on a par, with any other class, and not properly the object of a special solicitude, which patronizes him and suggests that he is in need of a guardian. The argument which repeats the history of the past, making the average farmer a "Rube," and the "easy mark," for every schemer, has lost its point.

HIS MAJESTY EDWARD VII.,
King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain, and of the British Dominions beyond the seas, and Emperor of India. Born Nov. 9, 1841.

Rev. Mr. Langfeldt Makes A Reply

To the Communication of Rev. Father McColl, in Yesterday's Examiner—He Quotes From Mr. Michael McCarthy's Book Supporting His Statements—The Roman Catholic and Protestant Countries Are Compared.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Although Rev. Dr. Crothers will be quite able to attend to Rev. W. J. McColl's statements made in your daily issue paper, I am glad to have the opportunity of getting into touch with the reverend writer, who has dropped the "silent contempt," and has at last entered the arena for public discussion. Apparently the gentlemen on St. Peter's hill are annoyed and stirred up, and have taken to writing and interpreting history to suit themselves. Being used to having their utterances accepted as gospel by their own people, they imagine that the Protestants are likwise so overawed by their sayings that no argument is needed to convince them. At any rate, liberty of conscience permits us to investigate and to believe independently of priestly interpretation.

The reverend gentleman makes this statement: "If he (Dr. Crothers) wishes to compare them (Roman Catholic countries) from a moral point of view he need not go outside the British Isles, as it can easily be shown that Ireland, morally, is much superior to England, Scotland and Wales." Naturally, as a Roman Catholic priest, he looks to the faithful daughter of the R. C. church, Ireland, to prove this statement. But then he doesn't prove it; he merely makes a statement without proof, as he has made denials without proofs. At any rate, we want something better than his statement. The public, I suppose, is acquainted with Michael McCarthy's books, which exhaustively deal with the "church, priest and people" in Ireland. If not, I would recommend them to read, learn, mark and inwardly digest those books in order to appreciate the influence of the Holy Roman Church in Ireland. Very likely, however, this Mr. McCarthy will be looked upon by Reverend W. J. McColl as being an outcast and a liar because he happens to be a Roman Catholic of independent thought and of courage to speak the truth, even when it hurts the Roman church. Yet, in spite of the want of appreciation of the man from that quarter, his books are widely read, and he, as a man, is appreciated by all intelligent and independent people, and he stands to-day in full communion with the Roman church, as does also Father Crowley, who revealed the state of affairs in the Roman church in Chicago. I fully appreciate my position as relating to Rev. W. J. McColl. My words or writings he does not believe, therefore I must store his mind with quotations from his co-religionists, and I take Mr. McCarthy's book, "Priest and People in Ireland," and quote from it in order to show the moral superiority of Ireland. I do it even at the risk of having heaped upon Mr. McCarthy and myself the wrath of the Holy Roman Church.

Page 7.—"I observe that in all those countries where a high degree of prosperity exists, where manliness of character is predominant, whether in North Europe or North America, there is one universal cause wanting which is present with us in Catholic Ireland, and that is priestcraft. Priestcraft is not rife in any of those countries. And where the religion professed in some of these countries is the Roman Catholic religion, I find that the priest has been deprived of all secular power, both in education and politics. The present trend of events in Roman Catholic France is notorious. In Paris, "chapels and convents are to let." Commissions in the army are, by War Office regulation, given to students educated at secular schools in preference to those educated at clerical schools. It appears to me, then, that the priest in power is a universal cause omnipresent in Roman Catholic Ireland, but which is wanting in all those other prosperous countries. All the other causes to which our wretchedness is at various times ascribed: drink, crime, politics, and so forth, are present in those countries, but priestcraft is notable by its absence. I am forced to the conclusion then that it is folly for us Roman Catholic Irishmen, to deceive ourselves by attributing Catholic Ireland's degeneracy to causes which are but secondary, and are found not incompatible with progress and prosperity elsewhere. It is sacerdotal interference and domination in Catholic Ireland, beginning in the infant school, and ending with the legacies for masses after death, that will be found to be the true and universal cause of that universal degeneracy upon which we so commiserate ourselves."

Page 70. "A Roman Catholic American, speaking the other day in Dublin, said, 'I have not seen a clean church since I came to Ireland.' He had been at mass in many Dublin churches, and the dirt and discomfort of them amazed him."

Page 609. "Picture to yourself the condition of the poor Catholic men and women and children of Ireland—the tens of thousands of them in the Catholic quarters of Dublin, in the swamps of Connaught, in the morasses of Munster—into whose minds the light of truth may never enter, and remember that we better-class Catholics, have been coerced by the priests into delegating all responsibility for our poor brothers and sisters to the priests' organization in Ireland. Upon the rich priests, with their sham crosses, and upon them alone, rests all the responsibility for the condition of the Irish Roman Catholic poor, whose helpless and contentious misery, in the midst of peace and plenty, is discussed and wondered at, all over the world."

Page 611. "Our general morality is deteriorating, as well as our sexual morals, while we thus continue to stray farther and farther away from the simple virtues of Christ. We make a meaner display before the world now than at any anterior period of our history."

Page 613. "But have we any real right in Parliament? Are our members, representing as they do, the priest-educated intelligence of Ireland, respected or powerful? On the contrary, might it not be safely said of them, without any uncharity, or any reflection on their personal characters, or any fear of genuine contradiction, from any reputable quarter, that they stand for the lowest watermark of intellect and capacity, ever recorded by the public even of Ireland, in the councils of the nation?"

"The sons of professional men hardly ever become priests; the sons of the gentry, never. Even the sons of well-to-do shopkeepers and farmers will not become priests."

This, and much more, portrays to the world the moral and material condition of Roman Catholic Ireland, that country for which, according to Rev. W. J. McColl, the Roman church has done so much to give it its present "prestige."

I must not trespass any longer upon your space, except that I wish to say that if the reverend gentleman wishes to hear something of South America and other countries under the influence of the Roman Church I am prepared to give him statistics. Mr. McCarthy's writings are widely circulated; the book to which I referred has had its four editions, and his statements have never been attacked. The habit of Rev. W. J. McColl of merely denying things, or, as he expresses himself, "to give him in his throat the lie," might be language worthy of the reverend gentleman, but there is no argument in it. Abuse is the weapon of a man conscious of a weak cause.

A CROWN OF GLORY

As Well as a Mark of Beauty is Luxurious Hair.

It has been truly said that the crowning glory of our race is a luxuriant head of hair.

It used to be thought that this was one of the blessings which the gods bestow capriciously, and it is only recently that scientists have discovered that its beauty is dependent upon the absence of a minute germ which flourishes in the hair follicles, where it destroys the life of the hair.

To restore this life and kill the germs which cause the mischief is the mission of Newbro's Herpicide.

Herpicide surely kills the germs, and is the best hair dressing on the market.

It contains no grease or oil, neither will it stain or dye.

G.T.R. Will Make Improvements

Mr. W. R. Tiffin, superintendent Northern Division G. T. R., was in Hastings on Monday, and inspected the company's property. We learn that it is the intention of the company during the coming few months to enlarge the freight shed and yard capacity in connection with the local station. The siding south of the station is to be removed further south and made longer by connecting it with the main line a few rods west of where it is at present. The freight shed is to be enlarged both in width and length. Owing to the large increase in business at this point it is necessary for the company to make these alterations.—Star.

Headaches Cured

One cause of headache and nervous diseases very often is Hyperopia, or farsightedness. If your eye is normal you require no muscular effort to see distinct objects. Some eyes are so formed that they require a muscular effort to see clearly far objects. Such eyes are DOUBLY strained when used for near vision. This EXERTION CONSTITUTES EYE STRAIN.

75 per cent. of headaches are caused by eye strain and can only be cured by removing the the cause. That is what our glasses do.

GENTLEMEN,—For nearly two years I have been troubled with headaches from which I could GET NO RELIEF. Was advised to consult you. I have been wearing the Glasses you fitted for me for some time. My HEADACHES have ENTIRELY DISAPPEARED, and I attribute to the use of your glasses. Yours truly,

Rumours Were Unfounded

With Regard to Accidental Shooting of Mr. Thomas Parker.

A rumour gained currency upon the streets yesterday to the effect that Mr. Thomas Parker, the well-known proprietor of the Hunter street Repair Shop, had been accidentally shot while hunting.

So far as can be ascertained the rumour, happily, is entirely unfounded. Mr. Ernie Lawrence, of McCallum Bros' staff, who returned last night from the hunting camp, states that the report is wholly unfounded. Mr. Parker's many friends will be pleased to learn that the feeling of apprehension created yesterday was groundless.

Mr. Fitzgerald left the city this afternoon for a visit to the hunting territory. He states that, up to the present, few infractions of the law, with respect to the purchase of hunting licenses are reported, although during the early season some cases developed, which may result in prosecutions.

A Monster Mastadon's Tooth Discovered

In Mr. McDonough's Cigar Store, 329 George street, is a genuine curiosity, that perhaps is unique in its class. The curiosity is a genuine tooth of the defunct race of mastadons. The mastodan was an enormous, hair-curled elephant, whose height was approximately 25 to 30 feet. This particular tooth is a solid mass of ivory, weighing some six or seven pounds. It is ten inches long, by 7 inches wide, and over two inches thick. The grinding surface is corrugated, the white enamel of this grinding surface is in absolutely perfect condition. The whole tooth, considering its age, is in almost as perfect as when the mastadon used it some 3,000 or 4,000 years ago. The present perfect condition of the wonderful specimen is attributable to the fact that it was discovered by a band of Alaska Esquimaux, in the centre of an iceberg. The iceberg had been split by the movement of a glacier. The rest of the animal, and in particular the bones, were also found to be perfect. Owing to the inaccessibility of the place where found, the tooth alone was brought to the coast and shipped by a friend to Mr. McDonough.

Eye-Witness Of Wheat Blockade Gives His View

Ald. R. H. Leary Has Returned From New Ontario Where He Went on Business—Visited Kenora and Fort William—At the Latter Place the Wheat Rush Is Described—Mining Active in the Kenora District.

REPORT PROGRESS OF NEW ONTARIO

Ald. Leary has just returned from a business trip to New Ontario, and to a representative of the Examiner he told an interesting story of the progress which that part of the province is making. Ald Leary went as far west as Kenora where he took 19 horses to dispose of. He sold a number of the animals, but as the market was a little dull at the present time he left the remainder of the shipment there to be sold later.

Ald. Leary is greatly impressed with the prosperity of that part of the province. Kenora is a bustling town of 7,000 steady population, while there is 2,000 to 3,000 of a floating population in addition. This town is the supply centre for a rich mineral and timber region, and the business that is done there is remarkable.

At the present time in the part of the town, which was formerly known as Keewatin, there is a large flour mill in course of construction in addition to the immense mills of the Lake of the Woods Milling Company, already there.

In that section the small lakes are frozen over, and teaming is being done over them, while the large bodies of water are frozen around the edged. There was no snow at Kenora, but at Ignace, 130 miles east, there was a foot, which was also the case at White River and Chapleau. While at Fort William there was none.

At the latter place there was the busiest scene he had witnessed on the whole trip. The wheat rush is on with a vengence, and not only are the elevators all full, but every foot of siding is filled with loaded cars. This summer the C.P.R. laid 30 miles of new siding there, and these are all filled with cars.

The steamers are taking it away as rapidly as possible, but the apparent delay at the unloading end of the route, on the Georgian Bay has the effect of retarding the progress of the rapid delivery of the wheat.

Ald Leary has great faith in the future of the west, and gives evidence of this faith in his business enterprise.

At Kenora Mr. Leary met Mr. R. S. Whiten, who is conducting a large and successful photographic business. He is well satisfied with the change he made but still has his love for Peterborough. Mr. Chas. Whiten is in business in the same town, and is doing well.

Croup Absolutely Cured.

"There is no remedy in my opinion that can act more promptly than Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It cured my son of croup absolutely in one night. We gave him a dose when he was black in the face with choking. It gave him instant relief and cure." — Mr. William McGee, 42 Wright avenue, Toronto, Ont.

St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid.

—The regular monthly meeting of St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid Society, will be held on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. L. Robinson, Charlotte street. This will be a combination of the business meeting and Sewing Circle.

Removal Notice.

Story Of Dinah Morris Told

By Rev. Dr. Torrance at St. Paul's Church Last Night.

Last night under the auspices of the Fraser Mission Band, of St. Paul's church, an interesting meeting was held, when Dr. Torrance told the story of Dinah Morris, one of the leading characters in "Adam Bede," George Eliot's most prominent work.

There was a large attendance and a most profitable evening was spent. Mr. John Crane presided, and at the opening Miss Mollie Meldrum rendered a piano solo in finished style. She was warmly applauded. Following this Rev. Dr. Torrance told the first part of the story. The part Dinah Morris played as a preacher was referred to by the speaker while the prayers she offered, and her address were given. Her home life was described, and her talk and unselfishness commended, and finally her marriage with Adam Bede, was referred to.

Between the first and second parts of the address, Miss Helen Davies sang a solo, which was well received, and she was obliged to respond to an encore. The meeting was most interesting.

The annual thankoffering of the Fraser Mission Band, will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 22nd.

Peterborough Hockey Club Organization

The Annual Meeting Was Held Last Night—Prospects for the Coming Season Discussed—The Officers Elected and Reports Presented—Mr. W. E. Wasson the New President—Regret at Retirement of John Ross Robertson From the O. H. A.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Hockey Club brings one to a realization of the fact that the season of winter sport is rapidly approaching, and, judging from the enthusiasm displayed at the gathering in the Oriental Hotel last night, when the annual meeting was held, the game this season will have even a wider following than it has enjoyed in the past.

The parlour of this popular hotel was filled to overflowing, fully fifty of the devotees of the game being present, and great interest was manifested in the affairs of the team for this year. No better proof of the fact that there is no more popular game being played than hockey could be afforded than the enthusiasm manifested at last night's meeting, and, according to the present prospects, the game will flourish here this coming winter season.

The outstanding feature of the meeting last night was the unanimity which prevailed, and if the same spirit is carried through the entire season [illegible] that this year will be one of the most successful in the history of the game in Peterborough. There were some changes in the executive officers, the most important of which was the retirement, after two years of a most successful occupancy of the office, of the president, Mr. A. A. Hollingshead. Prior to the election of officers, Mr. Hollingshead, in a brief address, expressed his appreciation of the honour which the club had shown him in the past two years by electing him to the office of president. He stated his intention of retiring from the club as far as occupying any office was concerned, though he expressed his wish and determination to support the team in every way possible. Mr. Hollingshead's withdrawal was accepted with regret, and a number of the members expressed their appreciation of the services which the retiring president had rendered the team in the past. The new president, Mr. W. E. Wasson, should make a worthy successor. He is thoroughly conversant with the points of the game, as well as possessing managerial ability in a high degree.

A number of the players were present, and many of the supporters of the club in the past evidenced their continued interest by their attendance at the meeting.

Mr. Hollingshead occupied the chair, and after his opening remarks the minutes of the last meeting were read, and, on motion, approved. The secretary-treasurer, Mr. C. G. Graham, then presented his annual report, which was most satisfactory, showing that last season the receipts of the club were $2,734.41, and the expenditures $22.80 less, the latter amount being the credit balance now on hand. Last year about $1,500 was received as proceeds from games, and at the close of the season there were sufficient funds on hand to purchase trophies for the players, at which fact all the friends of the team were pleased to learn. The assets of the club at the present time are over $400, consisting of $330 in stock in the Peterborough Hockey Club, Limited, and team equipment. The report, on motion of Messrs. Glover and Clarke, was adopted.

The communications were taken up, and, in reference to that of Mr. John Ross Robertson, president of the O. H. A., in which he announced his intention to withdraw from his active connection with the association, which was recognized as the leading amateur body in Canada. A motion was passed directing the secretary to write to Mr. Robertson expressing regret at his withdrawal, and to express also the appreciation which the club feels of his services rendered in the past. A similar letter will be sent to Mr. Frank Nelson, who is this year retiring from the first vice-presidency of the O. H. A.

A letter was received from Midland in respect to an arrangement by which Peterborough, Midland and Barrie should be included in a district in the senior series. It was decided to take no action on the matter referred to in the letter.

Patrons and Patronesses—Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Morrow, Mr. and Mrs. W. Denham, Mr. and Mrs. H. Le Brun, Mr. and Mrs. K. Hardley-Wilmot, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. John Crage.

Hon. President—A. A. Hollingshead.

President—W. E. Wasson.

First Vice-President—W. Crowley.

Second Vice-President — F. A. Clarke.

Secretary-Treasurer, C. G. Graham.

Executive Committee—Jas. McCabe, Geo. Lynet, Harry Morgan, Dr. Wightman, B. M. Glover.

Auditors—W. J. Green, Ross Cameron.

The delegates to the annual meeting will go unpledged, the club giving them no instructions as to whom they shall support for office. The proposed amendments to the rules were discussed informally, and it was practically decided to support that of the secretary of the association in reference to the change in the annual fee, as well as that by which the games shall be played in four quarters of fifteen minutes each, instead of in two half hour periods.

The question as to which series the team will enter, as well as to whether the club will enter a junior team this year will be left to the executive to deal with.

When Bilious and Allow

REMEMBER THAT THE LIVER IS PROMPTLY SET RIGHT BY

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

Many people are subject to periodical attacks of biliousness, sick headache, stomach troubles and bowel irregularities, who do not realize that the liver is especially responsible for this suffering.

Torpid, sluggish action of the liver is almost invariably accompanied by inactivity of the kidneys and bowels. The whole digestive and excretory system becomes clogged up and there is pain, discomfort and suffering.

Because Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have a direct and combined action on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, they effect a prompt and thorough cleansing and invigorating of these organs.

With all the poisonous waste matter removed, pains and aches disappear, the digestive system resumes its functions, the appetite is sharpened and health and vigour are restored.

As a family medicine Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have never had a rival for they get right at the cause of the common ills of human life and remove it. By their promptness and thoroughness they win the praise of all who give them a trial.

Mr. John Noyes, Ashburnham, Peterborough, Ont., states: "Having used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, with success, I can strongly recommend them. For a considerable time I was a sufferer from kidney disease and constipation, and besides being tortured by the shooting pains through the back, put up with the other annoying and often distressing symptoms of kidney disorder. At times I would go for three or four days without a motion of the bowels, and could get no relief.

"After using a few boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I was well again and feeling fine. This treatment seemed to be exactly what I needed and promptly brought relief and cure."

Football Player Seriously Crippled

Mr. F. G. Fairbourne, the father of Archie Fairbourne, the Brockville half back, who had to retire from the game last Saturday because he was suffering from water on the knee, states that his son is in the Brockville hospital still. He will be laid up for some time. Brace up, old man! Pink Pills should be cheap in the Island City.

Referring To A City League

One Should be Organized for the Coming Winter.

There is considerable controversy as to whether a City League should be organized this winter. An Examiner representative had conversing with a local sport enthusiast this morning, who was very pessimistic as to the value of a City Hockey League. But the writer of this article holds different views and his opinions seemed to be well substantiated by facts. Was the Guild Baseball League a failure last summer? Has the Guild Hockey League last winter given birth to any bitterness? No; and why? Simply because it was properly conducted. Will the City League, if one is organized this winter, cause hard feelings? No, decidedly not, if it is properly managed, and if good, competent officials are at the head of it. Yes, and take the City Rugby League, nothing but the best of feeling prevailed in it. There is nothing like a City League for bringing out good material and the Peterborough Rugby Team this year is a living example of the fact. Quinlan, Fitzpatrick, Gillespie, Mulhern, Gilbert, Walkey and others caught the rugby fever in the City League, the first league they ever played in. Hurlbutise, too, the stalwart captain of the local twelve, learned the game with the Maple Leafs of the Ottawa City League. And here's another thing; there were a few men playing with the City League teams last winter that were about fast enough for places on the junior O. H. A. seven. What do you think yourself?

HOCKEY

Manager Dan McCorry is busy signing players for the Auburn Hockey Team. There is every reason to believe that the northern aggregation this year will be a very fast bunch. If the City League is not organized they will probably play exhibition games with the hustling sevens of Bottle Lake district.

The following players are booked to turn out this year with "auburn" and black puck chasers: H. Staunton, Mark Shaw, "Ping" Shaw, "Pong" Gangon, "Jigger" Clegg, Fred Brown, "Bill" Shaw, Jack Hogan, Jack Murphy, D. Vineke, "Curly" Bellegham has been selected to fill the role of mascot.

• • • •

Port Perry are digging up a junior O. H. A. bunch. That's talk, Port, stick to it, the more the merrier. Nothing would Lindsay relish better than to administer defeat to Port Perry or Peterborough. It doesn't matter which.—Lindsay Post.

The thing is to do it in Peterborough.

The Aberdeens have organized their hockey team for this year, and are getting ready to enter the Junior City League.

RUGBY.

The Crescents will journey to Port Hope on Saturday to play T. C. S. The following members are requested to be at the G. T. R. station at twenty minutes to twelve: Ray, Stone, Wood, Macknight, Stonis, Cameron, Milliard, Patterson, Cumming, Dawe, Elliot and Cahill.

The Crescents have tried hard to arrange home and home games with T. C. S., but have failed, so will only play this one game with them. With this strong strong team the boys ought to meet with certain victory. The Crescents' average age is almost 16 years.

It is hoped that some of the local enthusiasts will accompany them. The return fare will be 90 cents.

• • • •

To-morrow night the Charlotte Street Rugby Team will meet at 8 o'clock in the Guild room for the purpose of arranging for the game with the T. A. S. on Saturday.

• • • •

The Charlotte Street Guild Rugby team will practice in Boswell's field, corner of King and Boundary Road, on Saturday at 3 o'clock. On Wednesday the Guild will send a team to Lakefield to play the team of that village. Let every player turn out and get into shape to skin the gridiron fiends of the Riverside hamlet.

• • • •

The Brockville Recorder says: A comparison of weights showed Peterborough team to have the heavier team, but the match was not rough, and in fact the Brockville lads say they were never better used away from home. The victors took them in hand and were lavish in their entertainment after the game. The Hotel National was the headquarters, and here every kindness was shown them.

• • • •

The Brockville people are making great preparations for the struggle, and the home team will probably be given a run for their money. At least that's what the Recorder says. But perhaps the Recorder's a trifle too "enthusiastic."

• • • •

The team committee will meet at the Brock Street Rink to-night at 7.30 sharp. The practice will also be held at this hour. The team of the Island City are confident of winning next Saturday's game and will undoubtedly strive very hard to win the laurels. The local boys should turn out in full force and get into the pink of condition for the game.

BOXING AND WRESTLING.

Boxing and wrestling, in spite of the hard knocks dealt these manly sports by unscrupulous out of town fakirs, are still held dear in the heart of many a true enthusiast. Last night in the south end of the city, a featherweight wrestling contest between a man of the west end and another of East City, was pulled off. The western athlete won in two straight falls, securing the first by a half nelson and crotch in twenty-two minutes. It was only after forty minutes of hard work that he managed to obtain the almost irresistible half nelson and hammerlock, and the eastern mat artist fell all over for a pin fall. The winner was the recipient of hearty hand shakes from his backers and incidentally some hard knocks, for although he won he was the under dog for the greater part of the contest, and was pretty severely punished by his stronger, but less clever, adversary. Prior to the wrestling match two padded glove gladiators of the bantam class, went six rounds to a draw. The boys are rather green at the art, and while they give promise of becoming experts, their work last night was interesting from a humorous rather than from a skilful standpoint. They were both in good condition, and took many hard blows without flinching. They had the wrestlers outdone, as far as shape went, but the mat artists are older boys, know the game pretty well and have clashed before.

Question Is: Who Is New York's Mayor?

Mr. Hearst Says Recount of Votes Will Seat Him.

TAMMANY WILL DEFEND

Meanwhile McClellan, Democrat, is in the Chair — Courts, However, Will Likely Have to Decide the Question, as Hearst Claims the Election Was Stolen—Jerome For Honest Count.

New York, Nov. 9.—A campaign to defeat Tammany Hall in the Supreme Court and to declare William R. Hearst the rightfully elected mayor of New York Tuesday in place of George B. McClellan, was inaugurated at a crowded meeting of Municipal Ownership League leaders yesterday. At its close Mr. Hearst said:

"We are going to fight to-day, to-morrow, next month and next year to make it possible for a man to cast an honest vote and to prevent in the future conditions as disgraceful as they were yesterday, especially in Sullivan's and Murphy's districts and we will exact every legal means to have every ballot honestly counted. We are receiving voluntary offers of money from business men to aid us in this appeal."

His lieutenants then announced evidence that 30,000 Hearst men were deprived of their right to vote Tuesday and that 1,000 election inspectors were guilty of illegal acts, and that the contest would be carried immediately over the heads of the board of county canvassers into the Supreme Court. They said the object of this plan was to secure a speedy and final answer and that money was not to be spared in engaging special counsel to make this plan succeed.

That the city was profoundly stirred yesterday by the charges of fraud and the manner in which returns were brought in last night may be judged from the following extract from "The Evening Post, which paper opposed Hearst throughout the campaign:

"Proffers of support have been coming to Mr. Hearst's office all day. Men who did not vote for him or his ticket —who, indeed, on the day before yesterday, were talking about 'anarchy'— came to pledge themselves against what they term 'an intolerable offence against order and the American form of government.' What the offence is, in detail, is being told in affidavits.

"In Williamsburgh an election official who took the ballots into a closet and locked himself in there with them to count them, has been arrested and the ballots seized and sealed up for examination later. Staten Island returns, which, showing Hearst leading, suddenly were intermitted and then showed McClellan in the majority, is being looked over. The reason for holding back 139 districts of Manhattan, with the moment when McClellan was running a thousand behind, and keeping them unannounced for two hours, is also being investigated."

Ivins Says Hearst Won.

William M. Ivins, the defeated Republican candidate for mayor, warmly commended Mr. Hearst's preparations to demand a recount. Mr. Ivins said:

"I am very pleased to think that Mr. Hearst is going to require a re-canvass of the vote. Tammany Hall had at its command not less than a million dollars, and I believe that every purchasable vote was purchased. The shamelessness with which Tammany Hall taxed the civil servants and drew upon the resources of Wall street, has never been surpassed. One of the marked features of yesterday's election was the breaking down, through the use of money, by Tammany Hall, of the Hearst election machinery. If Mr. Hearst had had a good working organization behind him he would have been overwhelmingly elected. Mr. Hearst and Mr. Jerome have a great work cut out for them. Mr. Hearst's vote is indicative of profound and very largely justifiable dissatisfaction with political managers, and with aimless corporate management.

"I feel sure that if it were possible to eliminate Tammany Hall's corrupted vote, Mr. Hearst would lead the poll."

Tammany Suffered Severely.

The election of T. Jerome, independent district attorney, is a severe blow to the Tammany organization, which exerted all the force at its command to defeat him. The board of aldermen, too, is lost to Tammany, they having but 25 members of the board against 28 Republican and 9 municipal ownership members.

Tammany also lost 12 members of the State Assembly from New York County, and the Assembly, when it meets in Albany on June 1 next, will be Republican by more than 3 to 1.

District Attorney Jerome announced yesterday that he will do all he can to see that there is a fair count of the vote for mayor. He gave orders to his assistants that the returns from the 18th and 6th assembly districts be guarded carefully. Charles F. Murphy is leader of the 18th, and Timothy D. Sullivan of the 6th district.

Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, refused yesterday morning to comment on the result of the voting.

Tammany Will Defend.

After a secret session of the executive committee of Tammany Hall held yesterday afternoon, it directed its law committee to exert its best efforts and take such steps and institute such proceedings as well safeguard the election of Geo. B. McClellan as Mayor of New York.

The complete returns give McClellan a plurality of 3,437 votes, the smallest ever recorded for a successful mayoralty candidate, and a result which might readily be reversed by a recount of the ballots.

Crooked Work in Kentucky.

An Employee Of St. Railway Was Killed

Conductor Passed Behind One Car In Front of Another.

DEATH WAS INSTANTANEOUS

His Neck Was Broken and He Received Other Severe Injuries—Had Stepped Off Car Just Opposite His House on Dundas Street, Toronto—Word Sent to Wife Visiting In Cape Breton.

Toronto, Nov. 9.—There was another street railway fatality last night. The victim was one of the company's employes. At 7.30, Julius Epsery, 1,273 Dundas street jumped off a westbound car and walked in front of a car coming east. The fender caught him and he rolled off the side, half-way in under the car, which was stopped before he was touched by the wheels.

His neck was broken, his right leg broken below the knee, and a cut over the left eye, supposed to have been caused by his head striking the rim of the lamp in front of the car.

Motorman Alex. Newell, 95 1-2 Fuller street, says he dropped the fender immediately and stopped his car inside or 5 feet. Newell has been a motorman for about four years.

Deceased was 30 years of age, and was an extra man. He had just reported off duty at the Roncesvalles avenue barn, and was on his way home. It was opposite his house where he met his death. He was married and his wife had only left on Tuesday to visit friends in Big Pond, C.B., Nova Scotia. The chief of police there was wired by the company to notify her of her husband's death.

The body, by order of Chief Coroner Johnson, was taken to Millard's undertaking establishment, where an inquest will be commenced to-night at 8 o'clock by Coroner Wilson.

W. G. Gray, a street railway motorman, fell off a car last night, broke a bone in the left arm, and received a cut on the nose. The pole on the car ahead of him was out of order. He climbed on top of the car to fix it. A bell was rung, the motorman on the car thought it was a signal to go ahead. He started the car, which caused Gray to lose his balance.

PATAL HUNTING ACCIDENT.

Gun Accidentally Discharged — Body Found By His Father.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Nov. 9.—A fatal gunning accident happened at Echo Bay, 15 miles east of here, Tuesday afternoon.

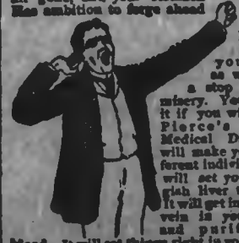
The 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Vaughan, who are in the employ of the McFadden & Malloy Lumber Co., was shot through the heart with a bullet from a Snyder rifle which is believed to have been accidentally discharged while the boy was taking it from a boat in which he had gone along up the Echo River to hunt deer. He was found lying dead on the shore by his father.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan came to the Soo yesterday with the body, and will have it removed to their former home at Stittsville, Ont.

Alien Labor Law Breach.

Toronto, Nov. 9.—J. G. Merrick, secretary of the Employers' Association, was in the Police Court yesterday, charged with a breach of the Alien Labor Act. J. O'Donoghue, counsel for the Lithographers' Union, claimed Merrick engaged John Panckoff in New York, brought him to Toronto and secured employment for him with Ralph and Clark. The case will be continued on Friday.

DO YOU FEEL THIS WAY.



Do you feel all tired out? Do you sometimes think you just can't work away at your profession or trade any longer? Do you have a poor appetite, and lay awake at nights unable to sleep? Are your nerves all gone, and your stomach too? Has ambition to forge ahead in the world left you? If so, you might as well put a stop to your misery. You can do it if you will. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will make you a different individual. It will set your sluggish liver to work. It will get into every vein in your body and purify your blood. It will set things right in your stomach, and your appetite will come back. If there is any tendency in your family toward consumption, it will keep that dread destroyer away. Even after consumption has almost gained a foothold in the form of a lingering cough, bronchitis, or bleeding at the lungs, it will bring about speedy cure in 98 per cent. of all cases. It is a remedy prepared by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., whose advice is given free to all who wish to write him. His great success has come from his wide experience and varied practice.

C. A. Copenhaver, Esq., of Mount Union, Huntingdon Co., Pa. (Box 324), writes: "About twelve years ago I was suddenly taken with a pain in the pit of the stomach which was so violent I could not walk straight. It would grow more severe until it caused waterbrash and vomiting of a slimy yellow water. A physician told me I had a form of dyspepsia and treated me for about six months with but little benefit. An other physician told me my liver was out of order and that I had indigestion. He gave me a treatment and I got some better but only for a short time. I then tried another one, who said I had chronic indigestion, ulceration of the lining of the stomach, torpid liver and kidney affection. He treated me for more than a year and I felt much better, but it did not last. I then took to using several widely advertised patent medicines, but received no more than temporary relief. I then tried Dr. Pierce's medicines, using his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and the 'Pleasant Pellets,' and in two months' time I was feeling better than I had for years before."

The Birthday List Of Honours Will Be Large

SIR JAMES ROBERT GOWAN

Commodore Paget Has Also Been Created a Knight Commander of St. Michael and St. George — H. M. Pellatt a K. B. — C. M. G. For Maj.-Gen. Lake, William Saunders, and George Doughty.

London, Nov. 9.—These honors are contained in the birthday honor list of His Majesty the King, who to-day celebrates his 64th birthday:

Senator Gowan, K.C., LL.D., of Barrie, 90 years of age; to be K. C. M. G., for services in settling the French-Newfoundland difficulty.

Maj.-Gen. Lake, commander of Canadian militia, to be C. M. G.

Wm. Saunders, director of Experimental Farms, Ottawa, to be C. M. G.

Geo. Doughty, Archive Department, knight bachelor.

Princess Royal.

The list contains a few other features of general interest, chiefly concerning individuals who are rewarded for service to the Crown. The Duchess of Fife, eldest daughter of His Majesty, is authorized to bear the title of Princess Royal, and her daughters to be designated as Highness and Princess. Baron Windsor, first commissioner of works, is created an earl. Baron Iveagh (Edward Cecil Guiness) is made a viscount. Howard Darwin, president of the British Association, is appointed a Knight Commander of the Bath.

In the colonial list, George Greville, British Minister to Mexico, is given the rank of K. C. M. G.

Honors at New York.

New York, Nov. 9.—Eighteen American and British warships from their anchorage in the North River will fire in unison at noon to-day a national salute of twenty-one guns in honor of King Edward's birthday. Rear-Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg, with his squadron, is scheduled to arrive from Annapolis early this morning. In the evening the prince will be the guest of St. George's Society at the society's annual dinner.

In Toronto.

Toronto, Nov. 9.—There will be a royal salute fired by the Field Battery at noon to-day in honor of the King's birthday.

This evening there will be a state dinner at Government House.

PROTEST FROM BRITAIN.

Objects to British Columbia and Quebec Tax On Travelers.

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—The Imperial board of trade on behalf of British business interests, has directed a despatch to the Canadian Government, voicing the strong protest of old country exporting houses against the Quebec commercial travelers' tax. In its communication it gives a list of the countries where taxes are imposed on commercial travelers. This goes to show that none of the more enlightened nations of Europe put any such restrictions on international trade.

The despatch came before the Dominion Cabinet at its last meeting, and will be brought to the attention of the Quebec authorities.

The Trade and Commerce Department is understood to have reported some time ago in favor of disallowing both the Quebec and the British Columbia travelers' tax bills on the score of interference with trade. The Minister of Justice, however, is of the opinion that the British North America Act would afford the Dominion no justification for vetoing the legislation.

Demonstration Against Turks.

Paris, Nov. 9.—The negotiations between the powers for a naval demonstration against Turkey, while agreed upon in principle, have not reached their finality owing to Russia's internal conditions, making it difficult for her to take the initiative with Austria.

Professor Drops Dead.

Quebec, Nov. 9.—Frederick De Kastner, professor of French in the Quebec high school, dropped dead yesterday morning while teaching class, from heart disease. Deceased was 65 years old, a native of Algeria, but a resident of Quebec since a young man.

BLOOD POISON

On account of its terrible effects, blood disease is called the king of all diseases. It may be either hereditary or contracted; so while it may not be a crime to have the disease, it is a crime to permit it to remain in the system. It may manifest itself in the form of Scrofula, Eczema, rheumatic pains, stiff or swollen joints, itchiness of the skin, eruptions or blotches, ulcers in the mouth or on the tongue, sore throat, falling out of hair, disordered stomach, and a general depression of the system. If you have any of these symptoms don't neglect yourself. You have no time to lose. Beware of "old fogy" treatment—beware of mineral poisons—beware of Quacks and Fakirs. OUR NEW METHOD TREATMENT is guaranteed to cure this disease, never to return. Bank Bonds will protect you. Our treatment is not injurious in any way, but reaches the very root of the disease and stir inates all poison from the system. The symptoms of disease gradually disappear. The blood becomes pure and purified, the whole system is cleansed and purified, and the patient feels prepared anew for the duties and the pleasures of life. CURES GUARANTEED OR NO PAY. 25 Years in Detroit. 250,000 Cured.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sirs.—I would like to draw your attention to the fact that the corner of Park and Townsend streets are in a disgraceful condition, and before any damage is done, the Street Inspector should look into the matter.

Yours respectfully,
A CITIZEN.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir.—I say with Mercutio, "A plague o' both your houses!" I refer to the flurry of controversy which has appeared in your paper on—heaven save the mark—religious matters. To my mind it is quite unnecessary. If the parties of the first part wish to continue pounding their separated brethren, one must expect the latter to pound back, though no good can come of either. The parsons who persistently assail the Roman Catholics, can find more profitable employment in regulating their own church households, and the Roman Catholics have no need to be alarmed. If, as the latter say, they have survived centuries of persecution and thrived under it, they can easily afford to ignore Guy Fawkes sermons, which are mere whiffs of wind compared to the cyclones of criticism they have survived. I say "a plague o' both your houses." We don't want the community torn asunder by religious controversy, in which real religion plays so little part, and real bigotry and human passions so large a part.

Yours truly.
PAX.

Mr. Walter Dean Nealand, business manager of "The Yankee Consul," was in the city to-day making arrangements for the appearance here of the opera on Wednesday next, when the new Grand Opera House will be opened. Mr. Nealand visited the opera house this morning and expressed himself as greatly pleased with its appearance. He says that it compares very favourably with any opera house in any of the smaller cities, and he predicted for it a highly successful season.

Mr. Nealand is enthusiastic over the reception which has been accorded the company of which he is the manager, and believes that it will be a worthy attraction with which to open the new opera house. "The Yankee Consul" is presented by seventy-four persons, and the feature is the beauty chorus, with fifty-two young ladies, each provided with three costumes, the cost of which is $60. Mr. Reuben Fax, the leading man in the company, is one of the best known comedians in Canada, and will be heard to good advantage in this opera.

Dredge "Trent's" Good Work On The Otonabee

Under Mr. W. Quinn's Supervision the River Below Hunter Street Bridge is Being Deepened--Great Progress is Being Made—Already a Considerable Part of the Work Has Been Done—Mr. Hall's Efforts in Securing Appropriation.

ENGINEER MERRICK INSPECTS THE WORK

Mr. Merrick, C. E., assistant engineer-in-charge for the district, of Dominion Government Works, was in town this week and formally took over the dredge Trent from the Department of Railways and Canals for the purpose of doing certain dredging in the Otonabee River. The Department of Public Works have no dredge on the Trent waters, so that when any work of this kind is required to be done by that Department they are generously loaned a dredge from the Department of Railways and Canals, providing a dredge can be spared from the regular canal improvement work without crippling the fleet of the Trent Canal Department.

Mr. Merrick made a careful survey of the water front from the C. P. R. bridge to Hunter street bridge, and laid out the necessary work for which Mr. R. R. Hall, M. P. for West Peterborough, secured the appropriation of $6,000. Mr. Merrick also placed Mr. Wm. Quinn in charge of the work as conductor, and the Trent is now busily engaged. Persons who have occasion to cross Hunter street bridge, and others who visit that neighbourhood, will be surprised to see the amount of work that has already been performed. A channel, ten feet deep and thirty wide, has already been dredged from the bridge to a considerable distance down, notwithstanding the fact that the dredge has really only been working three days. If the dredge Trent keeps up its present pace for the next few months it shall have accomplished a large portion of the undertaking. As has been before intimated in those columns, it is the intention of the Department, upon the recommendation of Mr. Hall, to have the entire river dredged from the American Cereal Company's mills to the C. P. R. bridge, so that barges and boats of all kinds may use that section of the river for dockage purposes.

Mr. Quinn is to be congratulated upon the splendid progress he has made so far with the work.

The Small-Pox Situation In Chandos Tp.

Dr. A. Bell Writes Concerning the Outbreak in the North--Forty Persons Are Sick, But the Whole District is Under Strict Quarantine—No Danger of Further Spread of the Disease—The Cheese at Glenalda Factory Said to be Perfect.

INFECTED DISTRICT WELL HANDLED

Dr. A. Bell, of Apsley, sends the following article to the Examiner in reference to the alleged infected cheese in Chandos Townshioop. Dr. Bell also speaks of the smallpox epidemic there:

Dear Sir,—Kindly allow me to explain one statement in your article last week in regard to the cheese in Glenalda factory.

When I first discovered the existence of smallpox in Chandos Township I placed the cheese on hand in above named factory in quarantine, as from information received, I believed it had been made from infected milk. It has remained in quarantine since, as owing to the amount of work entailed in trying to arrest the spread of the disease already scattered over a large part of the township, neither I nor the Board had time to give it our attention, and we also awaited the Provincial Inspector for advice.

At a meeting on Saturday a committee composed of two members of the Board, and one of our inspectors was appointed to go up on Monday and make a careful investigation into all facts, and report to Board on Monday night. The committee and myself met the officers of the factory at Purdy's Mills. They had previously obtained interviews with a number of the people, and I had full reports from my inspector, who has had charge of the infected district. The officers of the factory then gave us the following declaration, signed in our presence. In view of the evidence, the Board felt they had no right to retain the cheese, an opinion in which I agreed, and I therefore released it.

Glenalda Cheese Factory, November 6, 1905.

We, the undersigned, solemnly affirm that the statements hereafter made are the truth:

1. That Andrew Post has not sent any milk this season to the above named factory.
2. That Aaron Post has not sent any milk since the third week in August to the factory.
3. That we have examined into the case of D. Terril and E. Forbes, and find them willing to make affidavit that no infected person had anything to do with the milk sent to factory.
4. We firmly believe that the said cheese is free from any infection and is pure, and we would have no hesitation to use the said cheese by our families, and that we are willing to make oath to above statements.

(Signed).
F. V. GRUNTER, President.
LEONARD WARD, Cheesemaker.
JOHN SIMPSON, Milk Drawer.

I may add the factory books were placed at our disposal, and that D. Terril, mentioned above, was from home until after I had closed factory, and Forbes the same. Otherwise your report is correct. There has been about forty cases. All are well in hand; infected district shut right, and we have six inspectors posted on the roads to enforce quarantine.

I am yours, etc.,
ALEX. BELL, M.D., M.H.O.

This despatch was sent by James Richards, a member of Wallace's party, who has returned to St. John's on his way to New York. Mr. Whitney states that the party must have reached Ungava, and that if they are to return in the winter they are probably now making the journey on snowshoes.

Was Crushed To Death Beneath The Car Wheels

John Stone, a G.T.R. Brakeman, Killed in Lindsay Last Night---Was Uncoupling Cars in Motion--Fell Under Wheels Which Ran Over His Body--The Unfortunate Man Was Well Known in This City.

A FATAL ACCIDENT IN LINDSAY YARDS

While uncoupling a car on a train that was in motion, John Stone, an Englishman, about twenty-seven years of age, had his life crushed out at Lindsay beneath the relentless car wheels between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock this morning. While the exact circumstances surrounding the awful fatality could not be learned, it is thought that he slipped and fell under the moving train, while, as stated above, he was uncoupling a car.

Stone was well known in Peterborough and popular with local trainmen. He was brakeman three or four years ago on the "moonlight" freight that passes through here to Port Hope. Deceased was married.

Rev. Dr. Crothers Makes Reply To Rev. Fr. McColl

Pastor of George Street Methodist Church Deals With the Question of Protestantism Versus Roman Catholicism--Believes That Countries in Former Predominate Are Superior to Catholic Countries.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir, — A letter appeared in your issue of the 7th inst., criticising certain statements made by me in a sermon on the previous Sunday, and also mentioning two other clergymen.

The Rev. Mr. Langfeldt, I am quite sure, is able to fight his own battles, and I shall make an effort to defend myself.

From the heading of the letter, I expected there would be some serious reference to history, but, instead, we are treated to a number of assertions without, any argument to support them. The letter, indeed as an attempt at argument, answers itself, but, as my silence might be misinterpreted, I beg to offer a few remarks.

I wish to commend the Rev. W. J. McColl for coming out boldly over his own signature; no man with any self respect can afford to notice anonymous scribblers, whose impertinence is only equalled by their ignorance.

Rev. W. J. McColl tries to make it appear that Ireland is much superior morally to England, Wales, and Scotland.

Now, I love Ireland; it is the home of my fathers, but I am sure the reverend gentleman must have overlooked the history of the last twenty-five or thirty years — the agrarian crimes, the Phoenix Park butcheries, the reign of terror, and other crimes that have cast a blot on the country—not over all Ireland, but over the south and west. I was not discussing Ireland, however, but I did compare countries where the Roman Catholic church has had supreme power, with those countries where liberty of conscience is enjoyed to the very great advantage and credit of the latter.

The comparison by the Rev. Mr. McColl of England with Spain, is interesting. England with a population of thirty-two millions, in round numbers, Spain, with a population of eighteen millions. England, with great ports, the haven of the political refugee from all lands—it is not surprising that there should be more paupers than in Spain —still Rev. Mr. McColl gives us no statistics upon which to base a conclusion. But how about liberty of conscience. Were I in Spain, the probabilities are that this letter would not appear. What would happen? I cannot say, but nothing mild, if the church had her way. But he should remember that Spain has gone down from being one of the great powers in days of old to a position akin to bankruptcy; while England has gone up morally, intellectually, and materially.

Rev. Mr. McColl then touches on colonization. He refers to India and speaks about famine and pestilence. Is the government of Great Britain responsible for the outbreak of plague, or for the course of the winds? Can it command the sun and the shower? Has not the Imperial Government done wonders in irrigation, road building and other public works to give employment to the people? Would Rev. Mr. McColl have India back under the old regime, when France, Spain and Portugal had their trading posts — with the widow burning, idol parades, infanticide and other evils, which have been swept away by British legislation? But the reference to the Philippine Islands is the most unfortunate. To refresh your correspondent's memory I will quote from the tenth edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, vol. 31, page 668:

"The history of the Philippine Islands shows nearly the whole period of 327 years of Spanish dominion, was one of continual strife and discord, between the clergy, the military and civil powers, and the natives. The perpetual struggle for supremacy between the Crown officers and the monastic orders, the immorality of the clergy, the feuds between the respective communities, the constant influx of penniless Spanish adventurers, and the venality of the officials brought both laymen and ecclesiastics into lasting contempt among the natives."

I could say more, but I do not care to rake over rubbish heaps, unless compelled. Austria is then touched upon. I now quote from Dr. Withrow of Toronto, a traveller of repute, and I believe, a member of the Royal Society of Canada. He calls Austria just now "the storm-centre of Europe." "No ruler in Europe wears a more uneasy crown than does Francis Joseph."

"Eighty-nine (89) per cent of the population of Austria, and fifty-one (51) per cent of Hungary are of the Roman Catholic religion." The Roman church has had a grand opportunity, yet ten (10) millions in Austria and nine and one-half (9 1-2) millions in Hungary can neither read nor write. If ignorance be the mother of devotion these people must be very devout. The reference of the reverend gentleman to Mexico and South America are of a similar character. He says the Protestant settlers of the United States slew the aborigines, while the Roman Catholics civilized and Christianized the Mexicans and South Americans. If the early settlers of the United States could be more cruel than the early discoverers of Mexico and South America, I pity them—(see Prescott's "Conquest of Mexico"), and the letter writer must have forgotten the horrid cruelties of the Inquisition in Mexico and South America. I would stir up his pure mind by way of remembrance. I have already taken too much space. I will conclude by referring to the closing part of the letter where the Rev. Mr. McColl, probably through excitement, descends from the high tone of the former part of his letter, to personal abuse. I now give him an opportunity to verify it. I challenge the Rev. W. J. McColl to print in either of the evening papers the name of a single member of George street Methodist church who has already criticized my utterances of last Sunday evening, and to give proof that I have "lost prestige with my people, or that I need to rectify any muddle." Either he placed too much dependence on his informant, or he has made a too generous demand on his imagination. I await with interest the revelation of the name. I did not abuse Roman Catholics as the reverend gentleman states. I entertain great respect for many Roman Catholics, and have had some kind friends among them, but I reserve to myself the right to consider matters of history in my pulpit, even when they may possibly affect my Roman Catholic friends. We live, I am glad to say, in a land of freedom, and now I conclude by suggesting to the Rev. W. J. McColl that he do not excitedly rush into print without considering the authorities, and that he express suitable sorrow for the relation of his church to the massacre of St. Bartholomew's Day; the efforts of the Armada; the fiendish acts of Alva in the Netherlands; the horrid cruelties of the Holy Inquisition, and the Gunpowder Plot, and that he adjust himself and his methods to the twentieth century. I will then join hand in hand with him in saving men, and will esteem it an honour to propose his name as a member of the Peterborough Ministerial Association.

W. J. CROTHERS.

Many Appeals Are Yet To Be Considered

The members of the Court of Revision will meet to-night to consider the appeals upon which judgment was reserved at the meeting on Wednesday night. There are a number of important appeals which will come up at the next sitting of the court on Monday night, among them being that from the Canadian General Electric Company, claiming an over assessment on land. Of the seventy-four appeals entered, only thirty-three were considered on Wednesday night, and the remainder will probably be dealt with at the sitting on Monday night. The whole list of appeals must be disposed of not later than Wednesday, the law providing to this effect.

The members of the court have met with one or two rather difficult cases to deal with, one of them being a widow who appealed against the business assessment. She ran a small store, and her stock did not amount to more than $100, while the Act provides that no business assessment shall be less than $250. Of course, the Court of Revision could do nothing with this appeal.

Gallagher Goes On Suspended Sentence

George Gallagher, the Dummer youth, who was charged along with the two Murphy boys and Dewart, with creating a disturbance on the night of the shooting of Thomas Hill, for which Charles Gow is now serving a term of three months in the county gaol on a charge of manslaughter, was up before County Police Magistrate Edmison this morning.

He was allowed to go on suspended sentence, and must appear in a year less one week, with the three other young men who were up last week on a similar charge.

Young Gallagher is a bright boy of 14 years of age, and his condition has aroused considerable sympathy for him in the community. He does not live at home with his father and step-mother, but works and lives with the Dewarts.

Mr. Edmison gave the boy some good advice, and allowed him his liberty.

After the trial Gallagher was taken by Mr. Nesbitt to Gow's cell, where he spent a few minutes in conversation with him.

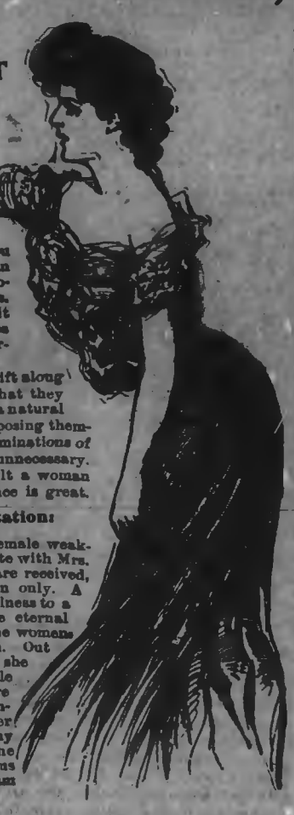
STOP! WOMEN,

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT



That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman —a woman whose experience with woman's diseases covers a great many years.

You can talk freely to a woman when it is revolting to relate your private troubles to a man—besides a man does not understand—simply because he is a man.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probably examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation:

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. — Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Following we publish two letters from a woman who accepted this invitation. Note the result.

First letter.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"For eight years I have suffered something terrible every month with my periods. The pains are excruciating and I can hardly stand them. My doctor says I have ovarian and womb trouble, and I must go through an operation if I want to get well. I do not want to submit to it if I can possibly help it. Please tell me what to do. I hope you can relieve me."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, 50th and E. Capitol Sts., Benning P. O., Washington, D. C.

Second letter.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"After following carefully your advice, and taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I am very anxious to send you my testimonial, that others may know their value and what you have done for me.

"As you know, I wrote you that my doctor said I must have an operation or I could not live. I then wrote you, telling you my ailments. I followed your advice and am entirely well. I can walk miles without an ache or a pain, and I owe my life to you and to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I wish every suffering woman would read this testimonial and realize the value of writing to you and your remedy."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, 50th and E. Capitol Streets, Benning P. O., Washington, D. C.

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women whose testimony is so unquestionable, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me." If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice—it is free and always helpful.

The Buckhorn Hunters' Luck

A STRONG HEART AND STEADY NERVES

Very important it is in this age of competition to have a clear cool head, a strong heart and steady nerves.

Too much rush and bustle, work and worry, fall to the lot of the average business man—his heart and nerve system will not stand it—he gives them too much work to do.

Women also are doing the same thing attending to their household duties and looking after their social obligations. The constant strain under which they have to continue day in and day out, the irregularities of habits and loss of rest will soon shatter the strongest system. Before long you become nervous, starting at the least sudden sound, the heart flutters and palpitates, specks float before the eyes, the pulse becomes weak and irregular, you have faint and dizzy spells, lack of self-confidence, rush of blood to the head, irritability of temper, shortness of breath, starting in sleep, sensation of pins and needles, sleeplessness, restlessness and finally physical breakdown or nervous prostration.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

are the remedy you require to restore your strength and health. Their extraordinary curative power manifests itself immediately they are taken. Through the medium of the nervous system they impart a strengthening and restorative influence to every organ and tissue of the body. Many have been cured, among them being Mr. Ray V. Coomier, Wellington, P.E.I., Mrs. E. Kilmer, Humberstone, Ont., Mrs. C. McDonald, Portage la Prairie, Man., Mr. Walter Cleveland, Bayswater, N.S., Mrs. Owen Martin, Alma, N.B. and thousands of others.

The price of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills is 50 cts. per box or 3 boxes for $1.25. Can be procured at all drug and general stores, or will be sent on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

All Saints' Never Fails To Score Success

Annual Fowl Supper and Concert Held Last Night Was Attended by Large Audience--Delightful Musical Programme By The Choir--The Choirs' Rapid Progress---Proceeds Over One Hundred Dollars.

REV. MR. SPENCER SPOKE ON "MUSIC"

A distinct and unqualified success was scored by the Woman's Auxiliary of All Saints' church at the annual dinner given last night at the church. The ladies of the church, who have on past occasions created a reputation for themselves as "Queens of the Cuisine," took unto themselves fresh laurels by the recherche menu and perfect arrangements of last night. The fowl dinner served in the basement could scarcely fail to delight the heart of the most ardent epicure. The excellence and variety of the viands, beneath which the tables literally groaned, was equalled only by splendid arrangements resulting from forethought and executive ability upon the part of the committee of ladies in charge. The arrangements of the affair were in charge of Mrs. D. L. Lundy, assisted by a number of ladies, and the successful outcome of their efforts reflects great credit upon their foresight and tireless energy. The various tables were presided over by the following ladies: Mrs. Haskett, Mrs. Metheral, Mrs. Hooper, Mrs. Arnsby, Mrs. Cooney, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Blois, Mrs. Hutchinson, Mrs. Maughan, Mrs. Garside, Mrs. Dryland and Mrs. Blondin. The net proceeds of the affair amounted to over $100.

At the conclusion of the abundant feast of material good things in the basement, the audience ascended to the auditorium of the church, in which a musical and intellectual treat of equal excellence awaited them. The church was crowded to the doors, and the splendid programme presented was listened to with appreciation and close interest.

The choir of All Saints', under the direction of Rev. Mr. Major, has acquired a position in the very van of the musical organizations of the kind in the city, and the quality of their performance last night, in harmony, expression and precision, won unstinted appreciation, and exemplified the rapid strides in their development made recently. The programme was as follows:

Solo—"The Singing in God's Acre" —Miss Elliott.

Trio—"Saviour Breathe an Even-Blessing"—Misses Lundy, Flowers and Rickey.

Chorus—"The Heavens are Telling" —The choir.

Solo—"The Last Chord"—Mr. Jos. Legge.

Chorus — "Saviour Breathe"—The choir.

Address—"Music Under Law and Grace"—Rev. Mr. Spencer, of Millbrook.

Solo—"My God, My Father"—Miss Rickey.

Chorus—"O Praise God" — The choir.

"God Save the King,"

The opening solo by Miss Marion Elliott was rendered in splendid voice and with charming effect in expression.

The trio, by Misses Lundy, Flowers and Rickey, was one of the most delightful of the evening. The three voices were perfectly balanced in ensemble, while the shading was delicate and musicianly.

The chorus by the choir, blending balance and sweetness of tone, which was most pleasing. The number, "The Heavens Are Telling," from Haydon's oratorio, "The Creation," was one which necessitated much intricate ensemble work.

Mr. Jos. Legge never appeared to better advantage than in his rendering last night of Sullivan's "Last Chord," which was sung with beautiful expression and fine regard for shading.

The remaining musical numbers were the choruses by the choir, and a solo, "My God, My Father," by Miss Mabel Rickey. Miss Rickey's rendering of the composition won a hearty appreciation. Both in interpretation, expression and tone quality her work was charming.

The address upon "Music Under Law and Grace" by Rev. Mr. Spencer, of Millbrook, was a comprehensive and instructive tal, and the only regrettable feature was its unavoidable brevity.

The speaker, in the course of his remarks, dealt with the subject principally from the viewpoint of its close identification with religious life throughout the ages. God using it as a finger or sign-post pointing upwards towards His grace, its highest point or consummation being in the House of God. The history of musical events from the date of its first mention in Biblical annals, through the Old Testament period as well as the Christian era, was graphically touched upon. Throughout the whole of its close connection with church work was pointed out.

It is to-day, said the speaker in conclusion, one of the highest points in our education, finding its highest place in God's House. Through music we frequently reach the highest point in our devotions. Objections are frequently raised as to the introduction of music too largely in church services. Though we may not be able to sing ourselves, said the speaker, if we love Christ the very music of God's Heave will lift us up to heaven, and our hearts will enter into the service if our tongues do not.

Miss May Bullen, the organist, who supplied the accompaniments had an arduous duty, which she performed cheerfully and most effectively.

At the conclusion of the programme the choir was entertained at supper in the basement.

Peterboro' Lady Was Bridesmaid

At the Kennedy-Johns Wedding in Lindsay.

In a home beautifully decorated with carnations and other flowers and filled with merry guests, numbering some fifty in all, was yesterday solemnized, the pleasing nuptials of Miss Miriam Anne Johns, second eldest daughter of Mr. Morgan Johns, 99 Liondsay street, to Mr. Joseph Kennedy of the Scotch Line, township of Verulam, son of Mr. Wm. Kennedy and brother of Mr. Robt. Kennedy, of the Kennedy & Davis Milling Company, town.

The pleasing ceremony was performed by Rev. Jas. Wallace, B. A., pastor of St. Andrew's church. The bride was entrancing in a costume of cream crepe de chine with panel front and trimmed with accordian pleated chiffon. She was assisted as bridesmaid by Miss Carrie Steele, of the Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough, who was beautifully attired in blue grey eolianne trimmed with silk lace, the yoke and cuffs being of darning on net. The groom was assisted through the trying ordeal by Mr. Wm. Lewis of the Scotch Line, Verulam. Both the bride and bridesmaid carried large and beautiful bouquets, and a sister of the groom, Mrs. W. C. Moore, of Bobcaygeon, presided at the piano, playing the wedding march. The presents received were costly, useful and numerous, the groom's gift to the bride being a handsome gold bracelet and to the bridesmaid a neat and pretty pin with opals. After the ceremony the guests sat down to a most bountiful and tasty spread of various kinds of good things and proceeded to spend a pleasant evening.—Lindsay Post.

Havelock Man And a Wild Cat

A wildcat that got loose in a G.T.R. baggage car between Owen Sound and Stratford on Nov. 1st, made things lively for the occupants, among whom was Messenger Wm. Mathison, formerly of Havelock. The cat was a monster, used by a collar manufacturer for advertising purposes. Mr. Mathison secured a revolver, but the owner of the feline did not want it shot, and the door of the car was opened and the animal allowed to escape.

Within a short time a great section of Chicago's Lithuanian colony, ten thousand at least, is to be transported bodily to the Columbia River Valley, on the Pacific Coast. The Teacher Was Honoured

Mrs. McGregor Given Address by Sunday School Class.

On Tuesday night, the members of Mrs. Wm. McGregor's class in St. Luke's Sunday school, gathered at her home, East City, to spend the evening with her, prior to her departure for Lindsay, where she will reside in future.

At a pre-arranged stage, Mrs. McGregor was presented with a handsome and costly water pitcher, of Greek ware, accompanied by the following address, read by one of the young ladies of the class:

"We have learned with deep regret of your removal from Peterborough to take up your residence in Lindsay.

"As members of the Sunday school class, we wish to express to you our sincere sense of loss which we feel, in thus having to forego the benefit of your teaching.

"We thank you for all your kindness, and for your devotion to the teaching you have given us from the Word of God.

"Will you allow us to offer you the accompanying gift as a token of our esteem of you and appreciation of your many kindnesses shown us.

"Signed on behalf of your Sunday School class.

"E. V. Dawson,
"F. H. Graham,
"H. Gilderese,
"V. Whittaker,
"K. Long,
"E. M. Pakenham,
"T. Graham,
"M. Sawyer.

The presentation was a complete surprise to Mrs. McGregor, who acknowledged the gift in a few words expressive of her deep appreciation. She referred to the pleasant associations she had enjoyed with her class, and the regret she felt at severing these associations. She assured her former pupils that she should always remember them and expressed her best wishes for their future.

Celebrated The Wedding Day

Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Ackerman, of Norwood, Married Thirty Years.

Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Ackerman, of Norwood, entertained a large party of friends on Saturday evening, Nov. 4th, it being the 30th anniversary of their happy wedded life. At 7 o'clock the guests repaired to the dining room where a magnificent dinner was in waiting and soon all were busy. In due time the bride pierced the cake—more calmly, some said, than 30 years ago. Before leaving the table Rev. G. A. McLeanan rose and after a fitting words, proposed the health of teh bride and groom which was heartily drank by all and to which Mr. Ackerman replied. The evening was spent in games and music and was much enjoyed by all. Those present from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harrison, of Peterborough, and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fitzgerald, of Tweed.—Register.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1905.

THE EXPECTED HAPPENS,

The first general election, held in the new Province of Alberta, placed the Liberal Government, headed by Hon. Mr. Rutherford, in power, by an overwhelming majority. The electors of the new province have shown that they know what they want, and in so doing have administered a sharp rebuke to the Ontario fire-brands and meddlers, who sought to fire the prairie grass into flames of race and creed rancour. We must accept the verdict of the electors, because they are the court of last resort, and must be held to express the popular feeling better than the Toronto News, and journals of its ilk, which have been most mischievously industrious in telling the people of the Northwest what they were suffering at the hands of the tyrannical Dominion Government, and what they should do to break, and shake off, the chains. The first opportunity the people of Alberta, the people most directly, and directly the only persons, affected, had of expressing their opinion of the Autonomy Bill they have heartily endorsed the legislation creating an independent province. If the people don't know what they want, who does know? They have been given a charter of self-government, and their opinion of the merits of that charter, as expressed deliberately at the polls, must be accepted.

NOT TO BE EXPECTED.

The late Government refused to reappoint a license commissioner at Ottawa who had gone into the cigar business. Now, says the Brockville Recorder, a brother of the brand new assistant commissioner there is selling cigars to the gulleless hotelkeepers, whom it is his brother's duty to prosecute for any infraction of the law. A brother of one of the license commissioners has actually embarked in the liquor trade on his own account, being one of the ten Conservatives who were given a license in the place of the ten Liberal license holders who were decapitated. It might be expected that the hotelkeepers who purchase their supplies from the cigar agent will be most rigourously looked after by the brother, the assistant inspector, and that a special watchfulness will be exercised over the commissioner's brother. It might be expected, but it isn't.

SUCCESSION DUES.

It is said the Succession Duties from the Fulford estate will amount to $350,000. Provincial Treasurer Matheson will no doubt welcome this important addition to the Provincial ready cash, though he must feel rather ashamed of his former unconsidered opposition to these duties. If his reasoning had prevailed, the province would have lost millions in revenue, which are now in the public treasury, or have been expended in the maintenance of our asylums. The late Senator Fulford amassed his millions very easily and his family will suffer none by the estate surrendering a paltry $350,000 of the five millions to the public service, and for the benefit of the people who contributed to this immense fortune.

NEW PROVINCIAL FINANCES.

Much criticism has been passed upon the Dominion Government because, in order to have control of Crown lands, in the new provinces, for the sake of the immigration policy which is to be applied by the central government, it retains the Crown lands administration, and makes a liberal financial provision.

In lieu of the public lands, each of the new Provinces receives from the Dominion $375,000 a year until the population comes up to 400,000, when the annual receipt on Lands Account rises to $562,500. When the population reaches 800,000 the sum will be $750,000, and when each or either Province contains 1,200,000 people, it will receive $1,125,000. This is to be in perpetuity.

In addition to these liberal terms the new Provinces are to receive for the construction of public buildings an annual allowance of $93,750 each, for each of the first five years, or a total of $468,750 each. With the grant of $50,000 for civil government, and the per capita subsidy, which starts at $200,000 a year each, and the debt allowance (on account of the Dominion having assumed the pre-Confederation debts of the old Provinces) each of the new Provinces will have from the Dominion for the first five years an annual revenue of $1,124,125.

This will increase, until when the population reaches 1,200,000, Saskatchewan and Alberta will each receive from the Dominion $2,220,375 annually.

BYE ELECTIONS.

On Wednesday, November 22nd, bye-elections will be held in four Dominion constituencies. In order to give a basis of judging as to probable results, the following record of the outcome of the voting on the 3rd of November, 1904, is given:

West Lambton — Conservative, 2,-952; Liberal, 3,999; majority, 447.

In Wentworth, as a matter of fact, the Liberal candidate was fairly elected, but by the blundering of a deputy returning officer, the decision of the electors was reversed.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The police magistrate at St. Thomas fined a man $20.00 for selling papers on Sunday. If the merits of the matter, and not the statute law, governed in such cases, a fine might will be imposed for the preaching of some sermons on Sunday.

The Conservative organizer in Alberta told the Toronto News, that if they got the "great solent vote," they would win sweepingly. They apparently got the silent vote, for we haven't heard anything it has said, judging from the result of the elections. Even the Conservative leader, Mr. Bennett, the fire-brand, has been snuffed out.

A sad and fatal shooting accident occurred at Bracebridge, caused by a Grimsby editor mistaking a friend, who was wearing a fawn overcoat, for a deer and fatally wounding him. Several years ago a Bill was introduced into the Legislative Assembly requiring sportsmen to wear red coats while out shooting, so as to prevent just this sort of thing. The Bill was laughed out of the House, but it would seem, the Brantford Expositor thinks, to have been sanely devised nevertheless.

Thinks Debate Should End

Mr. R. J. Todd Writes Concerning the Religious Controversy.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

I perceive through reading your valuable paper a great smoke ascending through a discussion of religion. Whether or not there is enough fire of purification of Spirit to burn up the error in connection with it is another question. The Rev. Langfeldt, who, when on an Orange platform, speaks very loudly of Protestant freedom and an open Bible, also of worshipping God by the dictation of Spirit as well as the study of the word of God, in action, conveys the impression, to my mind, that he would like to close the mouth of any one who does not think and speak as he does. He is clever indeed, in his condemnation of the Roman Catholic church, and we give him credit for his courage of convictions, if he is honest in them.

He is also very strong in his denunciations of Christian Science, of which he has shown on several occasions that he knows very little, the teaching of which is all from the Bible. (King James Edition,) and Mrs. Eddy, the leader of Christian Science, who is a devout Protestant, to quote her own words. "I love the orthodox church."

In order to enlighten Mr. Langfeldt and others who have false conceptions concerning Christian Science, we have gone to some trouble and expense to bring a man here to speak on this subject in the Opera House, to-night, subject "Christian Science, the Religion of the Bible." We, in all kindness and honour of the position he (Mr. Langfeldt) occupies, sent him a special invitation to be present at our lecture, as we did Rev. Father McColl and others. The Rev. Mr. Langfeldt hastily returned the card of invitation in the same envelope in which it was sent. (Judge ye what that meaneth.) No doubt he is doing all he can to prevent the public from hearing this subject discussed.

Now, sir, I would like to ask an intelligent public if this is the spirit of true Protestantism. I might say that as a Christian Scientist, I have always been a Protestant, and now hold a badge of honour for occupying the Master's chair in an Orange Lodge for three years in succession, and I never found in any of the teachings of Orangeism, anything to justify myself in trying to prevent discussing the religion of the Bible, or condemning rashly our Roman Catholic brethren, but, it does uphold the brotherhood of man, as also does Christian Science, and this must, of necessity include our Roman Catholic neighbours, although they differ with us in religious faith at present. They must be changed like all of us by love and its reflection, and not condemnation.

I would ask some of our other Protestant brethren who so hastily rushed to the front cheap amusing entertainments for to-night, if they have followed the golden rule, or are they too afraid of free discussion. It is true that we believe what Jesus said that they that preach the Gospel should heal the sick, and no doubt our lecturer, Judge Hanna, will tell us something about healing, but let the people come and hear, it will not hurt them, we all need healing.

In conclusion let me invite all to come to the Opera House to-night. Paul says in Col. 3rd chapter, 11th verse, "There is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free; but Christ is all, and in all."

Lumber Camps Are Sanitary

Dr. Greer and Mr. Dickson Davidson have just returned after making a trip around the different lumber camps of the Dickson Company, with a view to ascertaining the condition of the health of the hundreds of men employed in those camps. They were away three days, and in that time covered about 250 miles.

It is gratifying to learn that they found the health of the men in a satisfactory condition. There were no cases of sickness, and the sanitary conditions of the different camps were fully up to the standard.

Headaches Cured

One cause of headache and nervous disease very often is Hyperopia, or far-sightedness. If your eye is normal you require no muscular effort to see distinct objects. Some eyes are so formed that they require a muscular effort to see clearly far objects. Such eyes are DOUBLY strained when used for near vision. THIS EXPLAINS CONSTITUTIONAL EYE STRAIN.

75 per cent. of headaches are caused by eye strain and can only be cured by removing the the cause. That is what our glasses do.

Congregation Held Reunion

A Delightful Social Evening Spent in Knox Church.

The congregation of Knox church held a very successful social evening last night when a large number of the adherents and friends of the church assembled to enjoy an informal programme.

The evening was a delightful one and should do much to promote a friendly and social spirit. The affair was remarkable for the large number o fyoung persons present.

Mr. A. E. Morrison occupied the chair. The programme opened with the "Maple Leaf," excellently rendered by the Misses Bartley. Miss Gertrude Kendry followed with a vocal solo in excellent voice and was forced to respond to an encore. An enjoyable feature of the programme was a piano solo by Miss Aylmer, given in a brilliant and finished manner. A children's chorus "Jack Frost" was an effective selection and was warmly applauded.

Miss Stewart and Miss Anderson followed with a piano duet played very effectively. A broom drill by a large number of girls was cleverly performed in a manner which showed that they had received careful training. Miss Winnie Anderson was heard to great advantage in a vocal solo. The programme was brought to a close by a broom drill by the boys.

Refreshments were then served and a social hour followed.

The evening was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

Rev. Dr. Torrance through illness was not able to be present.

Rev. Father McColl To Rev. Mr. Langfeldt

The Catholic Faith is Defended by the Rector of St. Peter's Cathedral--The Standing of Michael McCarthy Is Explained--Father Crowley Excommunicated in 1901 --Irishmen Do Well Everywhere Except in Ireland.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Sir,—After reading the letter of "Pax," in yesterday's issue of your paper, I must admit the truth of his statements. However, I have entered the arena, and intend to sustain my cause.

In his letter yesterday, Rev. Mr. Langfeldt complained that I made assertions without proving them. I think that I proved quite a number in my last letter, and will prove a few more now, one of which is that Rev. Mr. Langfeldt, when speaking of the Catholic Church, does not speak the truth. In fact, I contend, that nothing describes his writings or sayings better than the words of the poet Burns:

Some books are lies from end to end,
And some great lies were never penned,
Even ministers they have been kenned,
In holy rapture,
A rousing lie at times to vend,
And nail it wi' Scripture.

A few instances of Rev. Mr. Langfeldt's misrepresentations we shall now cite:

I. The Catholic Church asserts that Jesus can only be approached through priests, the Virgin Mary, apostles, so-called saints, angels, etc.

II. That the Catholic church can secure the spiritual safety of people who continually live in sin, if they will only do penances, pay for masses, etc.

III. That obeisance is to be CONTINUALLY made before statues, pictures, and other aids to devotion.

IV. The Ganson Case, proved to be a flagrant falsehood, in the November Home Messenger.

V. That Michael McCarthy "stands to-day in full communion with the Roman Church, as does also Father Crowley, who revealed the state of affairs in the Roman Church in Chicago."

The truth is that Michael McCarthy was at one time a Catholic; he is now a member of an Orange Lodge. He is a journalist by profession, and delivers occasional lectures under the auspices of the Orange Order. He is a literary "hack," and a man of no standing.

Father Crowley, it is well known, was excommunicated in 1901, and he is still under censure. This fact is public property.

Rev. Mr. Langfeldt gives this Michael McCarthy as authority to prove that Ireland's poverty is due to her clergy and Catholic faith. Every person who knows even a little of British history, knows to what cause Ireland's poverty is due. The great American lecturer, John L. Stoddard, reasons well on this subject. Here are his words:—

"Englishmen have repeatedly said to me, 'The Irish do well everywhere except in their own country. But what a confession is this! What can it mean, but that the conditions of their life and labour there have been made practically intolerable! A sense of unjust treatment robs work of joy, and what is superficially called idleness is often only the paralysis of hope deferred.

"Others have claimed that Ireland's misfortunes have been due to her religion. But when and where have the Irish ceased to be religious? Have they not taken their religion with them, wherever they have gone? And if this has not proved an obstacle to their success abroad, how can it have produced their wretchedness at home?"

Mr. James Anthony Froude, the well known historian, in his fifth lecture delivered in New York in 1872, said:—

"He did not question the enormous power for good which had been exercised in Ireland by the modern Catholic priests. Ireland was one of the purest countries in Europe, yet there was less theft, less cheating, less house-breaking, less robbery of all kinds, than in any country of the same size in the civilized world. In the wild district where he lived they slept with unlocked doors and open windows, with as much security as if they had been with the saints in Paradise, for any danger to which they were exposed. In the last hundred years, at least, impurity had been almost unknown in Ireland. This absence of vulgar crime and this exceptional delicacy and modesty of character were due, to their everlasting honour, to the influence of the Catholic Clergy." (Times, Nov. 16, 1872.)

Both the authorities quoted are non-Catholics, and cannot, therefore, be accused of partiality towards the church.

For further reference Rev. Mr. Langfeldt may consult Encyclopedia Brittanica 9th Ed., (Art., Ireland, table LVI, also Mulhall, Leffingwell, and Statesmen's Year Book, which are the best authorities on statistics.

The chief point at issue between Rev. Mr. Langfeldt and me is, whether or not he has spoken falsely against the Catholic Church. I have specified a few of the falsehoods which he has uttered. With such a man argument is useless, as it would be with such men as Crowley or McCarthy. Each of these worthies was at one time a Catholic; so was Judas Iscariot. We understand also that Rev. Mr. Langfeldt parades the fact that he himself was formerly a Catholic.

Yours, etc.,

W. J. McCOLL.

Heavy Selling On First Night

The Opera House Plan for Subscribers Opened Last Night.

That the people of this city are appreciating the enterprise of Mr. R. H. Bradburn, in opening a modern opera house in Peterborough, was evidenced last night, when the plan for subscribers, opened at Ormond & Walsh's drug store. The plan was announced to open at 7.30, but for fully three-quarters of an hour prior to that time the subscribers were gathering, and when the selling began the store was filled to overflowing. The rush continued until about ten o'clock.

TThe opening sale was very satisfactory, and a bumper crowd for the first night, when the "Yankee Consul," will be presented, is assured. The plan will be reserved to subscribers for a few days still, and after all who have signed for seats have had them marked, the general public will have the opportunity of securing seats.

As the time for the opening night approaches the interest increases, and the prospects are that the occasion will be, in some respects, the most brilliant seen in 'Peterborough for some time.

Fred. Whitcroft Receives A Tempting Offer

Mr. Fred Whitcroft, the fast forward, who last year figured on the Midland hockey team, and who will this year play with the Peterborough team, where he learned the game, was in receipt yesterday of a telegram from Houghton, Mich., offering him $40. a week, or $480 a month for the season to play in that town in the intermediate Professional League. Needless to say that while "Whitty" appreciates the value placed on his services, he will not accept the tempting offer, having decided to remain at his home city this season and play here.

Be There At 8:15 O'clock

Since the above was in type it is learned that Messrs. Crowley and Meagher cannot play.

The team will leave for Brockville on a special car, and incidentally on a special mission, which they will surely fill.

RUGBY.

Does Brockville expect to win the game to-morrow? Well, the following notes in the Recorder should say a thing or two for themselves.

Watch the "old guard" move along Saturday.

Peterborough will have to travel some to hold down their lead.

Brockville's chances of going into the finals are yet bright.

Wilkinson's shewing last night was a surprise to the rail-birds.

The officials for Saturday's game will be two R.M.C. students.

Peterborough will arrive here Saturday on the fast express from the west, and the game will start at 2 o'clock sharp.

Hugh Hayes, of this city, says that the Dundas Rugby Team will have to be strengthened up, or it will be beaten by Peterborough. He refereed the game last Saturday between Peterborough and Brockville, and he says the former team is very strong. The wings are exceedingly fast.—Hamilton Times.

In spite of the fact that Meagher and Crowley cannot play, Capt. Hurtubise has every confidence in the ability of his team to defeat the St. Lawrence.

The Peterborough team will return to the city early Sunday morning.

To-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at Riverside Park the T. A. S. Rubby Team will practice.

To-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock the Charlotte Street Rugby Team will practice at Boswell's field.

If Subject To Salt Rheum

WHY NOT MAKE A THOROUGH AND LASTING CURE BY USING

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Many people write to tell us that they are attacked by salt rheum every spring and fall, and have been unable to obtain a cure.

Others write that they were formerly subject to salt rheum, but have been entirely cured by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

If you are suffering from salt rheum, eczema, or any form of itching skin disease, it is worth your while to make a test of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and you can do so with every confidence that the results will be decidedly beneficial.

On the first few applications you may find the ointment a little severe, but this is necessary for a proper cleansing of the sores so that the cure may be thorough.

Use warm water and Packer's Tar Soap only as often as is necessary for cleansing purposes and apply Dr. Chase's Ointment plentifully.

Dr. Chase's Ointment has a world-wide reputation as a cure for the worst cases of salt rheum and eczema. It is not like experimenting with internal medicines when you use it, for you can see the benefit derived from day to day.

Mr. Peter G. Strohm, Dunnsville, Haldimand County, Ont., writes:—"About a year ago last spring my face began to break out in blotches and pimples, and used to itch and burn so that it was impossible to bear it. At last I went to the doctor and he pronounced it eczema and gave me a week to apply. Though I returned to him repeatedly he was unable to help me.

"Reading about Dr. Chase's Ointment in an almanac I sent for a box and used it until entirely cured. Now I cannot praise this wonderful ointment too highly."

Wherever there is itching of the skin or a sore that will not heal, Dr. Chase's Ointment can be used with positive assurance of relief and cure. 60 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, is on every box. 18

Brockvillites Expect To Win

The Brockville Recorder says:

The footballers got right down to business last evening, the result of which was a rattling good practice in the rink. Fourteen candidates were out, among the old guard being Doran, Wilkinson, Fraser, Mallory, Graham and Dobble. After the practice several engaged in running around the rink, and by Saturday the old-timers ought to be in pretty fair condition. Another practice was called for the lacrosse grounds this afternoon, when in addition to the above Ritchie also signified his intention of getting out. Another practice may be held in the rink this evening. Saturday next will probably witness one of the most interesting games in many years played on the local gridiron. It will be the return match between the locals and the Peterborough team, who on Saturday last vanquished Brockville by a score of 27 to 0. This may seem a big score, but the old maxim that where there is life there is hope, has often proved true, and Brockville may turn the tables on their conquerors of Saturday last. There are several reasons for so thinking, the first of which was the team which figured at Peterborough Saturday last. With two such men as Gray and Hilliard off, both the back and wing divisions were demoralized. Gray, however, will be in Saturday's game, and with such men as Wilkinson and Mallory coming to his rescue on the half backs, and Easton at full back, no fitter back division could be wished for. Doran will be at scrap, while on the wing line will be found such stalwarts as Ritchie, Fraser, Graham and Dobble. McBobb and Fyfe are also sure to figure, and possibly from this material at present willing to get into the game, if Peterborough does not play the round they will be given a hard chase.

The Victors Have Again Organized

This Promising Junior Hockey Team Ready for the Ice.

Last night the Victor Hockey Club was organized at a meeting held in their club rooms, Hunter street.

The officers elected were:

Hon. President—R. H. Hall, M.P.
President—G. Nichols.
Vice-President—H. McCallum.
Secretary-Treasurer—W. Pratt.
Manager—S. Wade.
Captain—E. Cox.

This year the Victors will be able to place a strong junior team on the ice, and will enter the Junior City League, if one is formed. They feel confident of their ability to dispose of the majority of teams composed of players under sixteen years of age.

This team played good hockey last year, and will no doubt give a good account of themselves this season.

HOCKEY

A couple of juvenile teams have declared their intention of entering the "Junior City League." How is this for "butting in?"

The Team Will Be Crippled

Crowley and Meaher Will Not Play To-morrow.

Crowley and Meagher will be unable to play to-morrow at Brockville. Crowley is unable to obtain leave of absence and Meagher cannot play on account of a varicose vein in his leg. Crowley's grand work on the half division on last Saturday went a long way towards winning the game. Meagher is a splendid wing player and his absence will materially weaken the home line up. But cheer up, boys; they can't possibly overcome the lead and that's all there's to it.

TURF.

The proprietors of Gradiator and Bakorf will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Munroe House, to make arrangements for a matched race between the two horses. The race should be a good one, but this paper picks one of the horses to win by a big margin, but it's not the intention to say which one, although judging from their time one looks a lot better than the other.

The Possessor of a Magnificent Voice.

Mr. Clarence Bull, teacher of voice, has severed his connection with the Peterborough Conservatory of Music, and in future will teach [illegible] at his art studio, in the same premises as those occupied by Mr. Teadrum, Charlotte street.

Mr. Bull has sung and taught in several large American and Canadian cities, and is universally recognized as possessing a superb tenor voice over which he has absolute control. Mr. Bull has a beautiful voice, naturally, and one that has responded to a most thorough course of cultivation. He was for some time tenor soloist with Cosgrave's, the celebrated American orchestra, and has appeared in solo work in the leading churches of Toronto and Hamilton, as well as in many of the largest in American cities. Mr. Bull's splendid voice and perfect training warrant him every success, both as a soloist and teacher of the art.

Detective Greer Is Investigating

Circumstances in Connection With Miss Collins' Death.

Woodstock, Nov. 8.—It is highly probable that the remains of the late Miss Martha Cross Collins, who died about a week ago at her home in East Zorra, just north of this city, as the result of Paris green, alleged to have been self-administered, will be exhumed and an inquest held. Detective Greer was in the city to-day in connection with the matter. The deceased and a married sister, who lives somewhere in the Western States, had Christian Science tendencies. A brother at the time of the unfortunate occurrance stated emphatically that there were no other members of the family with the same belief, and that if he had supposed for a moment that his sister's condition had been serious he would immediately have summoned a physician. It is understood that Detective Greer came to investigate the religious beliefs of the family. He said to-day:—"I will report the details of the affair to the Attorney-General's Department, and it is probable that an inquest will be ordered."

HUMORS

Many all otherwise beautiful and attractive face is sadly marred by unseemly Blotches, Pimples, Eruptions, Fleshworms and Humors, and various other blood affections.

Their presence is a source of embarrassment to those afflicted, as well as pain and regret to their friends.

Many a cheek and brow—cast in the mould of grace and beauty—have been sadly defaced, their attractiveness lost, and their possessor rendered unhappy for years.

Why, then, consent to rest under this cloud of embarrassment?

There is an effectual remedy for all these defects, it is,

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

This remedy will drive out all the impurities from the blood and leave the complexion healthy and clear.

Miss Annie Tobin, Malden, Ont., writes: "I take great pleasure in recommending your Burdock Blood Bitters to any one who may be troubled with pimples on the face. I paid out money to doctors, but could not get cured, and was almost discouraged, and despaired of ever getting rid of them. I thought I would give B.B.B. a trial, so got two bottles, and before I had taken them I was completely cured and have had no sign of pimples since."

Burdock Blood Bitters has been manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, for over 30 years, and has cured thousands in this time. Do not accept a substitute which unscrupulous dealers may say is "just as good." "It can't be."

You Can Use "SURPRISE" Soap in any and every way, but we recommend a trial the "SURPRISE" way, without boiling or scalding the clothes.

An Inquiry Into Bavarion Mishap Now

British Sailing Master Invited to Take Part.

THE MINISTER'S DECISION

Men Who Brought Prince Louis' Fleet Up the St. Lawrence Without Pilots Considered to Be Capable Experts —Church Steeple, Barn Door and Tree Indications Are to Be Superceded.

Montreal, Nov. 10.—Hon. Raymond Prefontaine will leave to-day for Grosse Isle. The Minister of Marine has determined that the grounding of the Bavarian shall be made the subject of a severe investigation and that the responsibility of the disaster shall be placed upon the proper shoulders.

The Minister declared that if the St. Lawrence route is to be saved the most energetic steps must be taken. Mr. Prefontaine declared that he would constitute the Bavarian case one to be dealt with by the court of vice-admiralty, where the inquiry will be the most rigorous.

The Minister also announced that he had requested by wire the sailing master of the North Atlantic squadron [illegible] York to act as assessor.

CURES RHEUMATISM BRIGHT'S DISEASE BACKACHE DIABETES

Prince Louis' squadron had been brought to Quebec and taken down the river without the aid of pilots. The charts alone had been used and the sailing master would be able to render valuable assistance in getting at the bottom of a matter in which the trade of the world was interested.

The Minister and party will leave today, and after boarding the Druid at Quebec will go over the course followed by the Bavarian and ascertain exactly what there is in the claim that such and such a light was not burning when the steamer went on the rocks. The light referred to by Mr. Prefontaine is not a channel light and should have little bearing on the question. The Minister has come to the conclusion that the days are over when valuable steamers can be navigated in the St. Lawrence by a system comprising church steeples, barn doors and old trees.

The Cronstadt Troops Are In Rebellion

Russ Army and Navy Mutinies —200 Shot Down.

CITIZENS TERROR-STRICKEN

Total Number of Mutineers Was 3,000 But This Has Been Reduced to Some Hundreds by the Machine Guns of the Loyal Army — They Hunt Mutineers With Searchlights— Poor Food and Clothing.

Cronstadt, Nov. 10.—The heavens reflected the glare of smoldering fires at Cronstadt last evening. However, troops and the loyal sailors apparently have the upper hand. Fighting has ceased in the streets, and the town is quiet. Last night patrols were engaged in hunting down and capturing mutineers.

The outbreak started Wednesday afternoon when the sailors of the Seventh Fort Equipage revolted and, it is rumored, killed some of their officers. They marched out of the barracks and immediately plundered four spirit shops. Crazed with liquor they returned and seized their arms, and then went on a rampage, firing promiscuously upon the troops and the loyal sailors. Later they were joined by many of their comrades, and fighting continued from midnight until yesterday morning, when terror-stricken inhabitants began to flee.

Several regiments with eight machine guns from St Petersburg and Oranienbium were landed yesterday.

Machine Guns Carry Death.

During the rioting Wednesday night machine guns were employed against the mutinous sailors, who had been joined by a battalion of artillerymen from the fortress and which raised the total number of mutineers to 3,000. It is difficult to ascertain the number of casualties, but officers place the figure at 200. The sailors say their chief grievances are poor food and clothing, and an insufficient amount of liberty from barracks.

Roughs joined in the pillage, but the workmen did not participate in it.

Searchlights from warships and torpedo boats in the harbor are flashing across the waters in order to aid launches in their search for individual mutineers who are trying to escape to the mainland by boat. Though a majority of the mutineers have surrendered, several hundred are still holding out in the eastern section of the town. They have thrown up barricades, but are surrounded, and machine guns are posted at all the streets leading to their stronghold.

Trepoff Asked to Retire.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 10.—Both Count Witte and the Emperor have made another surrender. Gen. Trepoff has been relieved from the powerful position of Governor-General of St. Petersburg and Assistant Minister of the Interior, and Russia's Premier has agreed to immediate universal suffrage. The Emperor, in agreeing to Gen. Trepoff's retirement, conferred on him the Order of Alexander Nevski in diamonds.

The Russ and other radical papers which have been campaigning against Trepoff, hail his removal with delight as being the first victory for the free Russian press.

The New Province Is Overwhelmingly Liberal

Government May Carry Twenty Seats Out of Twenty-five in Alberta—Mr. R. B. Bennett Defeated—Conservative Leader Down and Out in Calgary—Liberal Ministers all Returned—Present Standing of the Parties According to Present Returns: Liberals 18, Conservatives 3, Labour 1, Doubtful 1.

Calgary, Nov. 10.—The first election in the new Province of Alberta has resulted in an overwhelming endorsation of the Rutherford Government, and the policy for which it has stood. The Liberal victory has been complete and decisive, amounting to a positive landslide, and when full returns are received they will probably divide the House with at least twenty supporters behind the Premier in a House of 25. Every Minister has been elected. The Conservative leader, R. B. Bennett, is among the fallen, Hon. Mr. Cushing having taken his scalp in Calgary in the greatest fight of the campaign, and the remnant of his party can claim but two seats.

Standing of the Parties.

The standing of the parties at present is:—Liberals 18, Conservatives 3, Labor 1, and one seat in doubt, Peace River, where two supporters of the Government are running, will not be heard from definitely for several days, but whoever wins, Cornwall or Dubuc, he will support Mr. Rutherford. The doubtful seats are Innisfail, Lacombe and Ponoka. In Innisfail Simpson (Liberal) is leading by a small majority. Puffer is in a similar position in Lacombe. Jackson (Conservative) will probably carry Ponoka.

Finlay Victor by 17.

In Calgary, where Cushing has a majority of 25, the poll stood: Cushing 900, Bennett 875, Macdonald (Labor) 338. There were 400 protested ballots, and the Conservatives claim Mr. Bennett will be declared elected by the courts.

The fight in Medicine Hat was a close and exciting one, and Sisson led until the last poll was heard from, when his diminishing majority vanished, leaving the Minister of Agriculture a victor by seventeen.

Bennett Defeated.

The most notable feature, apart from the Government's sweeping victory, is the defeat of Mr. R. B. Bennett, the Conservative leader in Calgary, where he went down under the onslaughts of Hon. Mr. Cushing, Minister of Public Works. Mr. Bennett was an aggressive leader, a whirlwind platform speaker, and ran in the Conservative city of Calgary, but his connection with the C. P. R. as solicitor, his unpopularity with leading Calgary Conservatives and the superior generalship of Mr. Rutherford and his associates resulted in his complete undoing.

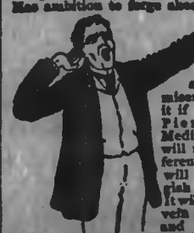
DO YOU FEEL THIS WAY.

Do you feel all tired out? Do you sometimes think you just can't work away at your profession or trade any longer? Do you have a poor appetite, and lay awake at nights unable to sleep? Are your nerves all gone, and your stomach too? Has ambition to forge ahead left you? If so, you might as well put a stop to your misery. You can do it if you will. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will make you a different individual. It will set your sluggish liver to work. It will get into every vein in your body and purify your blood. It will set things right in your stomach, and your appetite will come back. If there is any tendency in your family toward consumption, it will keep that dread destroyer away. Even after consumption has almost gained a foothold in the form of a lingering cough, bronchitis, or bleeding at the lungs, it will bring about speedy cure in 98 per cent. of all cases. It is a remedy prepared by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., whose advice is given free to all who wish to write him. His great success has come from his wide experience and varied practice.



C. S. Copenhaver, Esq., of Mount Union, Huntingdon Co., Pa. (Box 224), writes: "About twelve years ago I was suddenly taken with a pain in the pit of the stomach which was so violent I could not walk straight. It would grow more severe until it caused waterbrash and vomiting of a slimy yellow water. A physician told me I had a form of dyspepsia and treated me for about six months with but little benefit. An other physician told me my liver was out of order and that I had indigestion. He gave me a treatment and I got some better but only for a short time. I then tried another one, who said I had chronic indigestion, ulceration of the lining of the stomach, torpid liver and kidney affection. He treated me for more than a year and I felt much better, but it did not last. I then took to using several widely advertised patent medicines, but received no more than temporary relief. I then tried Dr. Pierce's medicines, using his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and the 'Pleasant Pellets,' and in two months' time I was feeling better than I had for years before."

Balfour Predicts Peace.

"A century ago Pitt, standing where I now stand, prophesied war; to-day I prophesy peace."

This was the text on which Premier Balfour based his speech concerning the relations of Great Britain with foreign countries at the lord mayor's banquet in the Guildhall last night, an occasion when custom makes it almost imperative for either the premier or the foreign secretary to discuss the foreign and domestic policies of the Government.

The Premier's reference to Russia was particularly happy. He said:

"Our friends in Russia are absorbing public interest by the great movement they are making in the direction, as we believe, of self-government. The task of the Emperor and his advisers is indeed not a light one. There is not a citizen in Great Britain who does not wish them every success; and I express the earnest wish that the movement may not be stained by the unnecessary effusion of blood. We hope that the movement will bring happiness to countless millions, unsullied by a repetition of the painful and horrible events which made the initial progress so lamentable."

The banquet was conducted with all the quaint ceremonial peculiar to the occasion.

POST CARD CORRESPONDENCE.

In this column will be published communications upon post cards only. It will remain open for the use of readers, who are invited to contribute suggestions, inquiries or replies. Anything of a scurrilous personal nature will be prohibited.

Editor Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—For some days the pugilistic parsons of Peterborough have been conducting a wordy warfare in the city papers, and from their pulpits. As a humble citizen might I suggest that the spectacle exhibited is neither edifying nor Christ-like. If the discussion is continued the results can only be evil. Rancour and a bad spirit will be engendered among our people, particularly among the younger portion—the more staid and older heads will size up the discussion for what it is worth. All classes of our community now live in peace and amity. Why should we not be allowed to continue to do so?

I have no desire to dictate to the editor as to how he should conduct his paper (for I remember, with feelings of apprehension, the severe castigation a certain cast city preacher received a few weeks ago), but I would suggest that he apply the closure at once, and put it on tight, on the present trouble-breeding and unprofitable discussion.

Yours truly,
SOLOMON.

Increased Grant Will Be Demanded

By Childrens' Aid Society of County Council.

Heavy Demands Upon Society's Fund This Year Necessitates Further Assistance.

Owing to the unprecedently large number of cases dealt with by the Children's Aid Society during the present year, an unusually heavy demand has, as is generally known, been made upon the financial strength of that institution. This has, through the efforts of some charitably inclined citizens been, to a large extent, overcome by financial assistance secured through the medium of concerts recently held. This however while it temporarily disposes of the straits in which the Society has been placed, will be by no means sufficient to supply the "sinews of war" necessary for coping with the unusally large number of cases arising during the late fall months.

Mr. George Cochrane, agent of the society, states that it will be imperative that a demand for increased assistance be made at the meeting of the county council. This body has always voted sufficient funds for the prosecution of the work, having last year increased the grant to the society from $100 to $200, a sum corresponding to that given by the town. This will, however, be insufficient to meet the present necessity. In the event of the county council refusing to increase the grant—which is strongly improbable—the the respective municipalities having inmates in the Shelter, will be called upon to supply funds for their maintenance.

THE STOLEN HORSE

An Old Proverb With a New Application.

The weeds are full of "so-called" remedies for Baldness.

You may call anything in creation a remedy, but to use them is like locking the stable after the horse is stolen.

Baldness and Dandruff are caused by a germ—if you don't kill the germ the germ will kill the hair.

Scientists have laboured with the problem of a preventative for Baldness for many years.

Newbro's Herpicide is the product of a modern idea, and will cure Dandruff and prevent Baldness because germs cannot exist when you apply Herpicide.

Herpicide is a valuable hair dressing and scalp disinfectant, as well as a cure for Dandruff.

Alsike Brought Good Returns

Mr. C. J. Hancock, of the second concession of Smith, is wearing a pleased smile. This year he has under crop twenty-four acres of Alsike, which Mr. J. McManus threshed for him this week.

The operation took two days, and fifty-seven bags were the net result of the two days' work. The seed was sold to Mr. C. N. Brown, of this city, and Mr. Hancock received the neat sum of about $800 for his crop, which was about 125 bushels.

Amendments Proposed To Constitution

The Delegates to the O. H. A. Meeting Will Have Many Amendments to Vote On--Messrs. A. W. Macpherson and C. G. Graham Will Represent the Peterborough Club--To Extend Time of Residence.

ANNUAL MEETING TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Mr. C. G. Graham and Mrs. A. W. Macpherson, who were appointed delegates to attend the annual meeting of the O. H. A. on Saturday, will have a number of amendments to vote on.

Power of Appointment.

L. W. Collinson, of Cornwall, desires to have the forms for applications, credentials and proxies placed in an appendix in the rule book, instead of in their present location. His amendments in this respect are merely formal. Mr. Collinson also desires that the annual meeting shall be held on the last Saturday in November, instead of the second, and also moves to take away the president's power of appointment of two members of the executive, and to transfer it to the executive itself.

J. A. Washburn, of Smith's Falls, would add an honorary president to the present offices, his duties being to preside at all annual meetings, and be ex-officio a member of the executive.

To Cut off Chief Revenue.

Wm. Twaits, of Galt, has an amendment to take away the association's chief source of income by abolishing the practice of allowing the association one-third of the net gate receipts in final championship matches. So as to recoup the association for the loss of revenue in this respect it is proposed by Mr. Twaits to increase the annual membership fee from $5 to $10 per team.

The secretary has a proposition to tax the clubs an additional dollar membership fee and supply each club with ten copies of the rule book.

Mr. Collinson thinks that the date of the annual meeting should be changed from the second Saturday in November until the last, while the secretary believes that if any alteration is made the third Saturday in November would be a better date.

A. W. Macpherson would give the association of its executive power to transfer a team from one series to the one below after the said team has played one game.

The president desires to put in the constitution this ruling from the chair that no one shall be nominated to more than one office.

Mileage and Residence Rule

J. W. Chowen, of Stratford, would have the mileage for eight players of the travelling club increased from five to ten cents. Mr. Collinson thinks the rental of rinks for final games outside of Toronto should not in any case exceed $50, or thirty per cent. of the gross gate, whichever is the greater, and in Toronto should not exceed $100, or thirty per cent. of the gross gate, whichever is the greater.

The residence rule, which now insists upon players being bona-fide and continuous residents of the town, city or village to which the club belongs, by first of October, has two amendments. Francis Nelson would make the date the 1st of August, while J. W. Chowen moves that it be the 1st of September.

Certificates for Players.

The secretary gives notice of the amendment: No player shall take part in any Association match unless his captain shall have furnished the referee with a full list of the players and their playing certificates. Certificates shall be issued in the following form: "On blue paper for senior, pink paper for intermediate and white paper for junior series, on application to the secretary of the association."

Legal Amendments.

Mr. Collinson wants the suspension of clubs harbouring professionals contingent upon the following: "And does not furnish satisfactory evidence to the executive that it existed wholly without the knowledge of the officers of the club." The president moves that "In all applications for reinstatement to the association to be considered at the annual convention, notice must be given in the regular way. In case of protests, Mr. Collinson desires that "Personal service on any of the recognized officers of the club, or service by registered post, on either the president or secretary of a club, to be a sufficient service."

Two unimportant amendments are suggested to the junior series rules. J. W. Chowen wants the age date named as the "31st of December" instead of "the 31st of January," and A. W. Macpherson asks that it be made clear that the date of the age limit is intended for the current season. Mr. Chowen also asks that clubs register their colours with the association by December 15, instead of January 1, as is now the case.

To Play for Stanley Cup.

R. J. Buggs suggests that the club winning the John Ross Robertson Cup shall be entitled to compete for the Stanley Cup.

In regard to the rules of the game, the president wants it made clear that all hockey sticks shall consist entirely of wood, with tape binding permissible. The secretary wants it to be an instruction to the referee to enforce the goals before each match.

Mr. Collinson desires that there be another change made in the rules and professionals debarred from refereeing games in the O. H. A. This rule was only passed last year, and proved a boon to the clubs and the association during the winter.

Changes in Rules of Game.

Several radical amendments are suggested in connection with the play on the ice. R. J. Burns moves that the game be played in quarters of fifteen minutes each, with three intermissions of five minutes each, instead of in thirty-minute halves, with ten-minute intermissions at half-time. The president proposes that goals from lifts shall not count, and the secretary suggests that a player on the defending side shall not be off-side when he takes a pass from, or plays the puck when it bounds off the goalkeeper within a space of three feet out from goal and extending to the side of the rink.

Croup Absolutely Cured.

"There is no remedy in my opinion that can act more promptly than Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It cured my son of croup absolutely in one night. We gave him a dose when he was black in the face with choking. It gave him instant relief and cure." — Mr. William McGee, 49 Wright avenue, Toronto, Ont.

Mr. W. Horace Brain, who is a candidate for the Bristol Town Council, England, says in his election address that he is convinced that nearly all the members of the Town Council go there as a kind of sanctuary to be away from their nagging wives!

Five Hundred Lockages For This Season

The Peterborough Lift Lock Closes the Season and Figures Giving Number of Lockages Given by Mr. Gillespie, the Lockmaster—564 Craft of All Kinds Passed Through the Lock This Year.

SUCCESSFUL SEASON HAS JUST CLOSED

This morning a representative of the Examiner paid to visit to the Peterborough hydraulic lift lock, and it was found that the men employed there were busily engaged in putting the finishing touches on the work of placing their big charge into winter quarters. The many intricate and delicate parts of machinery an connection with the lock makes this task one of no little magnitude, for great care has to be exercised to, in the first place, make it absolutely certain that there will be no water left in any of the parts of the lock in which it would be liable to freeze, and in order to guard against this whole reach above the lock to the Norwood road bridge, and the stretch below to the Little Lake, including all the water near the lock has been syphoned out.

Mr. H. W. Gillespie, the lock master informed the Examiner that every precaution was being taken in order that next spring when navigation was open all that would be necessary to do would be to let the water into the reaches, raise the pontoons and the lock would be ready for operation.

564 Lockages.

Asked as to the number of lockages this season, Mr. Gillespie said that 564 boats of all kinds, including steamers and barges had been locked through, since the opening of the lock on June 7th, and up to the time it closed, on Nov. 2nd.

This was regarded as a very successful and satisfactory season's work, and is evidence of the fact that the lock was a benefit to the trade of this part of the province. When it is remembered that this is only the second year since the portion of the canal from Lakefield to Peterborough was opened, it will be recognised that the growth of traffic has been large.

Passenger business has formed an important part of the traffic, for with the opening of the lock and the canal above a new objective point for excursions was provided, and it has been very popular.

Perhaps the feature of the greatest material benefit, however, is the fact that with the opening of the lock it has become possible to ship practically from Lake Simcoe to Hastings by an all water route, and the advantage of this to those who understand the peculiar benefits of shipping by water, will be appreciated.

Good Prospects for Future.

There is every reason to suppose, moreover, that the traffic of this year will be materially increased next year, for during the latter part of the season it was surprising the quantities of freight which passed through the canal. It is also expected that next season the lock will open earlier in the year than was possible this season, on account of the fact that some troublesome leaks developed which took some time to repair.

During the season just closed the lock itself has worked most satisfactorily. Mr. H. W. Gillespie has efficiently filled the duties of lock master, and Mr. Robt. Sheridan has been his assistant. Messrs. W. Jobe and Graham have also been employed at the lock, which constituted the operating staff.

Mr. R. B. Rogers' steam yacht and his houseboat, "Lotus" have been put into dry dock above the lock near the Norwood bridge, and are safely stowed away for the winter. The men around the lock will be employed for some weeks longer yet placing the lock in condition for the winter.

Brass Workers Hold "At Home"

The at-home given by the brass workers last night in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street, was in every way a success, as all such events under their auspices are. There were about fifty couples present, and a thoroughly enjoyable time was spent.

The floor was in perfect condition for dancing, and the music was of the best, supplied by the Misses Dorin, the bare mention of which fact is sufficient guarantee of its excellence.

The committee of management left nothing undone to provide for the pleasure of those who attended, and the at-home will be remembered as one of the most enjoyable in the history of the organization under whose auspices it was given.

Interesting Lecture In Opera House

Judge Septimus J. Hanna, C.S.D., Colorado Springs, Cal., Spoke on the Subject of Christian Science--"Christian Science the Religion of the Bible"--A Large Audience Greeted the Lecturer.

A DEFENCE OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

A large and intelligent audience of over five hundred was present last night in Bradburn's Opera House, attracted by the lecture delivered by Judge Septimus J. Hanna, C.S.D., of Colorado Springs, Col., on "Christian Science, the Religion of the Bible." The opera house was appropriately decorated with flags, including the banner of the lecturer's native country, and the stage was tastefully set with palms and cut flowers.

After a few brief preliminary remarks, T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., who filled the capacity of chairman quite satisfactorily, introduced the speaker of the evening to his well-pleased audience.

The judge held his hearers entirely under his control, so that there was no disturbance whatever, with his strong delivery and clear ringing voice. According to his argument, Christian Science is the religion of the Bible, and that those interested in, and following the doctrines of Christian Science, are only carrying out the works which the Master commanded, "to heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse the lepers, and cast out devils."

Judge Hanna in part said:

Ladies and Gentlemen,—I assume that there are some here who are unfamiliar with Christian Science,—some who have come for the first time to hear of it. I will address myself in part to these. I therefore say that Christian Science has a text-book entitled "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," and its author is the Rev. Mary Baker G. Eddy. It was first published in 1875. It is a treatise on healing through the power of God, or the divine Mind. Or, as we claim, it is a thorough exegesis of the Scriptural method of healing all manner of diseases, and of curing all manner of sin through the understanding of God as all-present, all-powerful, all-wise, and universal Mind. In short, it is a spiritual interpretation of the Bible; hence its title, "Key to the Scriptures."

The Author.

The author of a book of note and of value is a person of whom people desire to know, therefore I shall refer briefly to the life and character of Mrs. Eddy. It may not be amiss for me to say that for nearly ten years, as former First Reader in the Mother Church in Boston and editor of the official periodicals, I have had opportunities which enable me to speak intelligently of her life and character as well as of her labours and literary attainments.

Speaking from this vantage ground, I can truthfully say that, intellectually, she is one of the most alert persons I have ever known; that she labours incessantly and unselfishly for the cause to which she has devoted her life, and that, notwithstanding her years, she performs an amount of labour each day which, if known, would seem incredible, even if done by one yet in the adolescence of life. As to her religious character, I speak my profoundest conviction when I say I believe it to be in accord with the highest standard of Christian living.

Yet, notwithstanding her highly spiritual nature, she is withal an intensely practical person. She keeps close watch of current affair and acquaints herself with the world's doings. She is, moreover, a patriotic citizen of her native State and of her adopted city, contributing generously of her means toward their material welfare and upbuilding.

The Tenets.

I shall next speak of the Church Tenets. There is in Boston a Mother Church, organized a number of years since, having a membership of nearly forty thousand, composed of persons residing in almost every part of this country and of other countries. This membership is increasing at the rate of about 3,000 annually. The Mother Church has branch churches and societies to the number of nearly one thousand, also situated in nearly every part of this country and of other countries. Some years since the Mother Church adopted a set of Church Tenets. These become also the tenets of all of her branches, and must be subscribed to and adopted by every person becoming a member either of the Mother Church or of any of her branches. These tenets furnish a fair index to the religious faith or belief of this movement, hence I shall refer to them in substance. They acknowledge the Scriptures to be the inspired word of God. They acknowledge One supremacy and infinity of God. They acknowledge Christ, and His divinity, and declare there is but one Christ. They inculcate the omnipotence, omnipresence and omniscience of God: that God is Spirit; that man

Co-operation Of Boards Of Trades Asked

At the Sitting of the Tariff Commission in This City—Other Towns Will be Invited to Send Representatives--The Transportation Question Will be Dealt With--Effect of the Trent Canal on Export Trade.

MR. R. R. HALL, M.P., SECURES SITTING

It has been decided by the Board of Trade to invite the co-operation of the Boards of Trade of a number of the towns in this district in connection with the coming sitting of the Royal Tariff Commission to this city, and Mr. T. Q. Quartermaine, secretary of the local Board has written letters to the Boards at Cobourg, Port Hope, Deseronto, Belleville, Campbellford, Lindsay, Barrie, Orillia and Trenton. The letter is as follows:—

Peterborough, Nov. 10, 1905.

Secretary Board of Trade:—

Dear Sir,—re Tariff Commission.—

It has been arranged through the influence of Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., that this Commission will sit in our city at an early date, as, in a letter recently received by him from Mr. John Bain, Secretary of the Commission, he particularly advises that the attention of our Board of Trade should be called to the importance of having representations made respecting those particular items of the Tariff in which our members and our local import and export merchants are most interested. The fact that some of the items in the tariff are satisfactory does not imply that no representation should be made with reference to them, as representations may have been made in other quarters which it would be necessary and advisable to refute. We would suggest that your Board, along with the others near Peterborough interested in this matter, should consolidate and have your representatives wait on the Commissioners here in order to strengthen our cases for our mutual benefit. Will you kindly advise me if this proposition meets with your views and will be entertained by your Board? If so I will write you as to date of meeting, etc. In order to do an export trade, transportation must be considered as well as the tariff, and we would therefore suggest that your Board should embody, in your representation, views of opening of Trent Valley Canal in conjunction with the tariff question.

It is absolutely necessary that strong evidence and clear and concise statements of facts in all cases should be properly presented to the Commission.

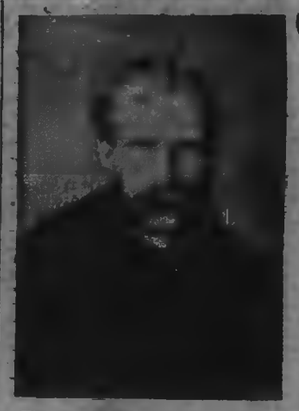
Would it not be further advisable to interest your Member of Parliament, and have him attend the Commission with your representatives?

An early reply will oblige,

Yours faithfully,

T. Q. QUARTERMAINE,

Secretary.



The gentleman pictured above is a native-born citizen, very widely known throughout the city and county. He is prominent in church and state, distinguished for his taking ways, which have insured for him a wide popularity.

In his earlier days he was associated with a leading financial concern, and has always been noted for his uprightness in all his dealings with the public.

The picture in last Saturday's paper was that of Dr. Burnham, Water street. A number of persons recognized it, and telephoned to the office that night.

An Insurance Case Tried In Division Court

Mr. Wm. Garrett, of Otonabee, Seeks to Recover Notes Amounting to $50 Given the National Life Insurance Company--He Alleges That the Notes Were Given in Error--Thought Agent Was Representing Another Co.

A LEGAL QUESTION MUST BE ANSWERED

A case of rather peculiar interest was entered in the local Division Court this week by Messrs. Hall, Medd & Davidson, barristers, acting on behalf of Mr. Wm. Garrett, of Otonabee. Mr. Garrett seeks to recover from the National Life Insurance company notes amounting to the sum of $50, given as a premium on a certain life insurance policy, which the defendants allege was taken out by the plaintiff's son in the defendant's company. The circumstances surrounding the taking out of the policy are somewhat peculiar. Mr. Garrett alleges that he had been canvassed the year before for insurance for his boy, by the agent of the Great West Life Insurance Company. He concluded that he would defer the matter for some time. Subsequently the agent in question had transferred over from the Great West to the National Life and the same agent canvassed Mr. Garrett again.

Mr. Garrett claims that he was not made aware of the fact that the local agent had changed his company and that he was under the impression when taking the policy out for his son that he was doing so in the Great West Life Assurance Company.

The first intimation he had of his son being insured in the National Life was when they received notice from that company that payment of the notes was due.

Expansion Of Business At Cressman's

This Popular Store Decides on Two Important New Features--The Dress Goods Department Has Been Doubled in Size--Bargain Annex to be Established on Fourth Floor--An Entirely New Feature in Peterborough.

"THE STORE THAT NEVER DISAPPOINTS"

It is not long since these columns recorded the inauguration of a new department in the store of A. W. Cressman, but it seems that this business never stands still, and to-day another important expansion is announced. This time there are two important enlargements being made, and, briefly stated these are the conversion of the fourth floor into a bargain annex and the doubling in size of the dressgoods department which, in this store, has always been a leading feature. The space devoted to the selling of dress goods has been doubled by removing a partition at the rear of the south store, and the new arrangement is one which will commend itself to the customers, who will be able to do their shopping much more expediously and in greater comfort. One of the greatest advantages in the new arrangement is the fact that the light is perfect, a number of prisms at the west end of the store, giving an illumination which will enable shoppers to see just what they are buying. The location of this enlarged department is also a strong feature in its favour. It is in a part of the store by itself and the buyers will be free from the interruptions which naturally detract one's attention from the work in hand. There are four separate selling spaces in this department, those for black dress goods, coloured dress goods, dress goods for evening wear and silks.

One of the features in connection with this department which discriminating buyers will appreciate is the fact that in the black dress goods and black silks sold by this store, the dying is perfect, the colouring having a durability peculiar to itself. These goods are all dyed by the Bradford Association, of Bradford, England.

Bargain Annex.

A entirely new feature, not only to this store and city, but, as far as is known, new to Canada, if not to this continent, is the bargain annex which is located on the fourth floor which has been thrown into one large room, and is being fitted up for extra selling space. The idea is to gather into this annex goods which will be sold at reduction, no goods being sold in this department at regular prices. Everything must be a decided bargain to qualify for a place in the bargain annex, and all the goods will be displayed for easy inspection on tables.

There will be two sources of supply for this department. First, large job lots of goods bought in syndicate quantities by the chain of stores with which Mr. Cressman is associated. Those large lots will be divided among the syndicate of stores.

Second,—Odd lots of goods; remnants, slow sellers from any department of the store, will find an outlet in this annex. For the present this department will only be open on Wednesdays, though possibly later on, it may be decided to open it more frequently than once a week.

Mr. Cressman is of the opinion that this feature will be a popular one with the buyers, and, as far as he has been able to learn, this store is this first to adopt this new feature.

A word about the carpet department, which was opened some months ago may not be out of place here. The success of this department has been remarkable, and the wisdom of opening it has been amply proven during the few months since it has been in operation. The show room for carpets is described by the travellers as the best in Ontario outside the large cities. The stock is large and it would be hard indeed to imagine any floor-covering want, which this store cannot supply.

Sunday Music At St. John's

To-morrow at St. John's the lady members of the choir will appear for the first time in uniform vestments. In the morning Kipling's Recessional will be sung by the choir, Mr. H. Morphet taking the solo.

In the evening Mrs. K. Eardley-Wilmot will take the offertory solo.

At the conclusion of the benediction the choir will intone an "Amen."

D. L. Darroch Is Elected To Presidency

Succeeds Mr. John Ross Robertson as President of the O. H. A.--The Annual Meeting Was Held This Morning in Toronto--The Other Officers—Honourariums Voted to Treasurer and Secretary.

ROSS ROBERTSONS' ANNUAL ADDRESS

Special Wire to the Examiner

Toronto, Nov. 11th. — The annual meeting of the O.H.A. was held in the Temple Building here this morning, and was very largely attended. There was more than the usual enthusiasm among the delegates attending, and on every hand the best of prospects were entertained for the coming season.

The election of officers, particularly that for the presidency, was warmly contested, but Mr. D. L. Darroch won from Dr. Clarke.

President—D. L. Darroch, Collingwood.

1st Vice-President — J. C. Mahon, Stratford.

2nd Vice-President—F. D. Woodsworth.

Secretary—W. A. Hewitt, (acclamation.).

Treasurer—A. W. MacPherson, (acclamation.)

Executive Committee — Messrs. J. Duff, Welland; H. D. Jamieson, Barrie; D. J. Turner, Midland; R. J. Burns, Toronto.

Mr. Hewitt, the secretary, was voted an honourarium of $400, and Mr. McPherson, the treasurer, $50.

A vote of thanks to the retiring president, Mr. John Ross Robertson, was carried unanimously.

An interesting discussion took place on the proposed amendments to the constitution.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

Mr. John Ross Robertson, the retiring President of the Association, gave his annual address, parts of which follow. Mr. Robertson said:—

To the Officers and Members of the Ontario Hockey Association:—

Gentlemen:—

Of all the years that have marched through our calendar, none to me has had an end so tinged with regret as this past year of grace.

Regret, yes, a genuine regret, for the severance of my direct connection with not only my fellow-workers in office, but with you, gentlemen, of whom so many are personal friends, who have met with me during the past six years in annual meeting, causes me a regret that is deep and sincere.

Yet with my regret there is mingled much of pleasure. Pleasure, perhaps, at the fact that another man will, before this meeting closes, have to shoulder the responsibilities of office, and assume duties in this Association, the honest administration of which is becoming more important as the years gather.

The office is not one that can be grouped in the sinecure class. No; it is an office that requires a watchful eye, a tasteful mind, so that decisions well digested may prevail, and that in the varied questions that come up for settlement, no injustice may be done to even the most humble Junior who swings a stick in the smallest stub, in the smallest town on the roll of this Association.

The Games of Last Season.

It gives me great pleasure to record—and it must be a source of satisfaction to you to know of—the large number of games and players in the season of 1904-5. There were scheduled in the senior series in three groups ten clubs, in the twelve intermediate districts forty-eight clubs, and in the junior, with ten sections, thirty clubs—in all eighty-eight.

About 300 games were played, with 4,500 players on the ice. In this great series of games, there was but one postponed game—Stratford at Woodstock—to be played after the stated time in the first round.

The Final Senior Game.

Trouble arose in the senior finals between Smith's Falls and the Marlboros. The Toronto team, with a final of five goals, went to Smith's Falls, and left the ice at half-time, maintaining that they were unable to continue because of the rough treatment by their opponents.

Smith's Falls declared that five of the Marlboros were on the ice at the close of the first half, and could have finished, and that on later goals should have come back and finished the game. The Marlboros offered—and did send—two men on the ice, a

AN OVERHEAD BRIDGE ACROSS THE OTONABEE RIVER AT HUNTER STREET NECESSITY OF NEAR FUTURE

The work which the Canadian Pacific Railway, at the request of the American Cereal Company, has been performing in removing their sidings, to accommodate the mills of the company referred to above, has revived the suggestion that the time has come for the construction of an overhead bridge over the Otonabee River, at the Hunter street crossing. For some years the necessity for such a bridge has been felt, but the reasons why its construction are desirable are increasing. Since the Cereal Company commenced operations, and particularly since the business assumed its present proportions, the sidings serving that company's works have become almost as busy as the main line on a trunk railway, and, with the transfer of from forty to fifty cars every day, the great majority of them crossing Hunter street, it is inevitable that there shall be times when the roadway must be blocked, and through no fault of any of the parties concerned.

Level Crossing Dangerous.

The danger to pedestrians, and those driving, from this source, will be increased, too, when the addition to the Cereal Works has been completed, because then it will be almost impossible for persons coming from the east to see whether there are any cars moving north of the street until they have reached the tracks. Then, with the increased capacity of the works, which the enlargement will give, there will be a still further increased traffic across the street, and, no one believes that even with the addition to the works now under construction, the limit of expansion will be reached, and with every carload of increased output per day, there comes the additional danger and delay to those who have to cross that street.

There are other considerations, too, which point strongly to the necessity for serious reflection on the part of the authorities for the construction of the proposed overhead bridge. One of these is the fact that there has been a demand, on the part of the residents of East City, for a street railway service, but at the present time, such a service is practically impossible, because of the fact that, as the facilities for crossing the river are, any service which could be inaugurated would be of very little benefit to the residents of that part of the city.

Loop Line Necessity.

Unless there is to be a loop line crossing the river at Hunter street, any service which might be given would be practically useless. If the tracks have to cross at Hunter street, as everyone admits, the question is, how is this to be effected? No person would say that the tracks should cross on the present bridge, and the fact that such a proposal would be utterly impracticable, is so plain that it needs no elucidation.

There is no way by which this could be accomplished, except by the erection of an overhead bridge, and, up to this point, two parties would seem to be interested in seeing that such a bridge were built, the public, who have to travel across the tracks, either walking or driving, and who are exposed to the dangers arising from the fact that forty to fifty cars a day are crossing and re-crossing the street, and the Radial Railway Company, who are interested in securing an easy means of reaching the part of the city lying east of the river.

Government Also Interested.

There is still another party to this scheme. The Government has already spent several thousand dollars in dredging the Otonabee River, for the purpose of making it a navigable river above the C.P.R. bridge, and thereby acknowledging their responsibility. There is little doubt that with the construction of the Trent Canal the American Cereal Company, in addition to a considerable local trade in any event, will receive a very large proportion of their grain by water freight from the Georgian Bay ports. The recent trouble, which the millers have been experiencing emphasizes the importance of availing themselves of all the facilities for shipping grain by water, and this being the case it will be necessary for the present bridge over the river at Hunter street to be either raised, or a swing placed in it, because, unless the barges are able to unload right at the elevators, it will be little use shipping by water at all. This circumstance introduces the third interested party to this proposal and, with the city, the Street Railway, and the Government working together for their common advantage, what has been looked on in the past as something desirable, but altogether out of reach, may be realised.

Nature Generous.

As to the mechanical part of the scheme there should be very little difficulty. Nature evidently had the needs of the city in mind, for the natural conditions seem to be favourable to the project. With the hills on each side of the river, with St. John's rectory on the west side, to Burnham street, on the east side, approaches to the bridge would be provided for, and it would simply be a question of trestle and steel work over the river. It is recognized that in the not distant future a new bridge will be necessary in any event, and why not do now what will have to be done sometime, and provide a bridge which will serve the city for all time?

The Council's Duty.

Of course it is recognized that a project of this kind, involving, as it does, the expenditure of a large sum of money, and having to do with different interests, cannot be carried through in a short time, but it is not too early for the city council, which should take the initiative in the matter, to take it up, and consider, in co-operation with the other interests concerned, its practicability and necessity, secure plans and estimates as to the cost of the construction of the bridge.

A number of prominent citizens to whom the Examiner has spoken on the matter, have expressed themselves as heartily in accord with the proposal, and feel that some steps should be taken at once to get the project under way.

—the real, spiritual man—is made in the image and likeness of God according to the teachings of Genesis, and that this real man must, by the necessity of this relationship to God, reflect, or image forth, the divine character. The real and immortal man, therefore, does reflect God. The mortal man, or the unspiritual man, does not reflect God, and is, not therefore His image and likeness.

The first of these tenets enjoins upon all who subscribe to them the necessity of striving, watching and praying to have in themselves the same Mind that was also in Christ Jesus, to love one another, and to be meek, merciful, just and pure.

Surely there can be no higher standard of Christianity. If there be a person on this earth to-day who can truly be said to have in himself the same Mind that was also in Christ Jesus, that person is a Christian. If there are persons who are sincerely striving, watching and praying to have that Mind, they are, in that sense, leading the Christian life. Those Christian Scientists who are thus earnestly striving, are true to the church tenets and to their teaching. If there arse those who are not so striving, they, like all others, have yet to attain to a higher standard of living.

The Scripturial Basis.

The foregoing indicates, in general terms, the Christianity of our faith. No unbiased mind will say that, in statement and theory, it does not embrace all the essentials of Bible teaching; but let us be more specific. All who believe in God at all agree that He is all-powerful, all-present, all-wise. All who believe in the Bible accept the statement of the first chapter of Genesis that God made man in His own image and likeness. We should endeavour to give these Bible truths their full weight, their deep significance. If we do so, we must believe that with God all things are possible. We must believe that if God is whole, His image and likeness reflects wholeness. We must believe that if God is pure, His image and likeness reflects purity. We must believe that if God is good, His image and likeness reflects love. We must believe that if God is Life, his image and likeness reflects life. We must believe that if God, in His wholeness, is free from sin, sickness and death, His image and likeness is likewise free. Otherwise, the words "image and likeness" were false and meaningless—a misnomer. A full belief in the first chapter of Genesis, which is the record of the true, spiritual creation, puts upon us the necessity of recognizing God as the only creator of man, and man as the image and likeness of his creator forever and forever.

Paul expressed a clear discernment of the distinction between the real man and the false, when, as recorded in Col. 3, he said, "But now ye also put off all these; anger, wrath, malice, blasphemy, filthy communication out of your mouth. Lie not to one another, seeing ye have put off the old man with his deeds; and have put on the new man which is renewed in knowledge after the image of Him that created him. . . . Put on therefore, as the elect of God, holy and beloved, bowels of mercies, kindness and humbleness of mind, meekness, long-suffering, . . and above all these things, put on charity, which is the bond of perfectness."

Here is distinctly shown the difference between the true man and the false, the immortal and the mortal, the perfect and the imperfect. Jesus referred to this difference when He said, "Ye must be born again," or "ye must be born anew," as it is in the revised version. He also referred to the true man when He said, "Be ye perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect." That is, ye must be born out of sin and imperfection into sinlessness and perfection, for this is the necessity of your birthright as the image and likeness of God.

If this Scripture is to be taken at its plain meaning, we have laid the foundation for further Scripture which shows God's power and purpose to transform the false into the true, by the destruction of the false. This is the only real transformation.

Hear the "sweet singer of Israel" in the 103 Psalm:

"Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits: Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases; who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with loving kindness and tender mercies; who satisfieth thy mouth with good things, so that thy youth is renewed like the eagle's." And listen to the prophet Jeremiah (33): "Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and show thee great and mighty things which thou knowest not: Behold I will bring it health and cure, and I will cure them, and will reveal unto them the abundance of peace and truth."

Of old, as now, those who trusted to human aid, instead of the Divine, suffered the consequences of their lack of faith and understanding. In 16 Chron. we read, "And Asa in the thirty and ninth year of his reign was diseased in his feet until his disease was exceeding great: and yet in his disease he sought not to the Lord, but to the physicians." What was the result? The record laconically tells us, "And Asa slept with his fathers, and died in the one and fortieth year of his reign." We note that Asa slept with his fathers, not his Father. How many since Asa's time have slept prematurely with their fathers for a like reason!

Jesus' Teachings.

The Old Testament teachings, as indicated by the few citations made, furnish an abundant foundation for the New Testament doctrine of healing through the divine law, and especially the teaching and works of Jesus. I might quote extensively from the New Testament did time permit, but I shall confine the quotations to the sayings and precepts of the founder of the Christian religion. This should be sufficient authority for every professing Christian.

Jesus sent forth his twelve disciples to preach and to heal the sick. He gave them a commandment, called by some Bible commentators, His Great Commission. In Matthew 10th, this commandment is thus recorded:

"Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not; but go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

"And as ye go preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand.

"Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils; freely ye have received, freely give.

"Nor yet script for your journey, neither two coats, neither shoes, nor yet staves; for the workman is worthy of his meat."

This command is a unit. It is not two commandments. There is in this language no warrant for any attempt to separate the commandment by declaring that the part relating to preaching was to be perpetuated, but the part relating to healing the sick was to be put aside, as having reference only to the time in which, and those to whom, it was given. Even if, for the sake of argument, the kind of preaching mentioned in the commandment had been practiced, and a present kingdom of heaven had been preached, we yet maintain that the part relating to healing sickness is as plain and imperative as that pertaining to preaching. We should thus maintain if we rested the question alone, upon the words I have quoted; but we are not compelled to do this. After His resurrection and just before His ascension Jesus gave to the same disciples to whom He gave His first great commandment (excepting Judas Iscariot who had betrayed Him) a final commandment. This constitutes the two last verses of the Book of Matthew:—

"Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.

"Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world."

This language is broad and unqualified. It comprehends all the commandments previously given to His disciples, and this, of course, includes the first great commandment. It is a plain and unmistakable direction or instruction. Let me plainly ask, When was it ever repealed, countermanded, qualified or changed in any manner by Jesus or any one else of those having Biblical authority to teach or preach? Where is the record thereof? We declare, therefore, on the most explicit Biblical authority, that the part of the great commandment relating to healing the sick was as imperative as that pertaining to preaching. Healing sickness is, then, an essential, and indispensable part of Christ's gospel. No right exists for the effort to put aside Jesus' commandment to heal the sick and to heal according to His teachings and His methods of healing. The same divine power that healed in Jesus' time heals to-day, so far as it is understood and practiced. There is but one Truth, and that Truth is eternal, unchangeable. The healing Christ never withdrew himself from the world. Jesus declared as the solemn conclusion of His final commandment: "And lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world."

We might well rest our contention there, but I feel impelled to call your attention to an utterance of Jesus yet more remarkable than any to which I have referred. In the 14th of John we read:

"Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto the Father."

Marvellous words! When we think of the mighty works He performed we are almost overwhelmed by the deep solemnity of such an utterance. Jesus destroyed all forms of sin; healed all manner of sickness; walked the waves; raised the dead; and did many other wonderful works. Yet in words startling in their plainness He declares that those who believe on Him shall do, not only the great works that He had done, but greater. Can this be? Is it possible that the believers in the great Nazarene are destined to do the mighty works He did and even mightier? What shall be our answer? If He meant what he said and was a true prophet, our answer must be, Yes.

The Christian Scientist endeavours to awaken his patient spiritually and point out to him his true relationship to God. This is prayer in the highest sense of the word. Not alone the prayer of sincere desire and supplication, but more, the realization of God's all-presence, all-power and all-Life.

This God is your Physician as well as mine. We can go to Him daily, hourly, momentarily, in sweet and silent prayer, and if we pray aright, He will heal us of our diseases and remove from us our infirmities. We can know, in the very depths of our being, that He is our Physician, our Comforter, our Life, our Health, our All-in-all, and in the fullest and most absolute sense, a very present help in trouble, and that in Him indeed we live and move and have our being.

HELP FOR LITTLE ONES.

It is a recognised fact that babies—and indeed all children—need a medicine of their own. Medical men know, too, that most baby medicines do more harm than good—that most of them contain poisonous opiates, that drug children into quietness without curing their little ills. Baby's Own Tablets is a modern medicine for babies and young children and is sold under a guarantee to contain no opiate or harmful drug. It cures stomach, bowel and teething troubles, and by its natural, healthy action, promotes sleep and repose. It makes little ones well and keeps them well. Mrs. W. E. Ansell, of Ayer's Flat, Que., says: "I would advise every mother with sick or fretful children to use Baby's Own Tablets. They are the most satisfactory medicine that I have ever used, and are almost magical in their effects." You can get the Tablets from any medicine dealer or by mail at 25 cents a box, by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

The natives of Guam used to catch fish by poisoning them with the juice of the fruit of a tree known as the Barringtonia speciosa. The Spanish Government forbade this wasteful method, but since the island has passed under American control it has come into use again.

The Sand-Lime Products and Their Uses

An Interesting Description of the Qualities of Sand-Lime Brick Tests Made by the U.S. Government Engineers and Others—Destined to Revolutionize the Building Trade—Durability and Strength of the Products.

A FIRST-CLASS BUILDING MATERIAL

In view of the fact that Peterborough builders will in the very near future be introducing sandstone bricks into their various building operations in Peterborough, the following information upon the uses and general qualities of sand-lime products may be of interest. The information is gathered from a very interesting booklet compiled by the National Association of Manufacturers of Sand-lime products of the United States:

The question of the strength and durability of building materials is one that is being more carefully studied as commercial progress demands congested building conditions and high structures.

The United States, in comparison with foreign countries, especially Germany, has been, until late, somewhat negligent in passing upon building materials. Some recent catastrophes and conflagrations have aroused the public to the necessity of careful investigation and the fixing of standards. A report of the Committee on Fire-Resistive Construction of the Underwriters Association, made on the Baltimore conflagration, passes on the relative merits of materials in the following words:

Stone of any kind should be classed as fragile and especially susceptible to damage when exposed to severe heat. From a fire protection viewpoint it is unsuitable both for wall and pier construction and for exterior or interior finish.

The exterior stone facing of walls was usually badly broken, the marble and granite being especially susceptible to damage. It was notable that interior marble finish, which was extensively used, was practically destroyed.

Several monolithic columns of granite in the United States Public Store House No. 1 failed, allowing one of the groined brick arches to crack and settle. A marble monolithic column on the first floor of the Calvert Building was also destroyed by heat.

Good terra cotta will trim when reasonably plain and free from ornamentation involving irregular shapes is superior to stone but not so desirable as brick.

The terra cotta trim, including highly ornamental cornices made of this material, withstood the fire better than stone but suffered considerably. Plain terra cotta withstood the test better than that which was highly ornamented or irregular in shape, thus presenting many corners and varied surfaces.

Ordinary well-burned brick of good quality is the most satisfactory fire-resistive material now used in building construction.

Ordinary brick proved itself by far the most satisfactory fire-resistive material, but even this was chipped off where most severely exposed so as to mar its appearance, but apparently not sufficiently to affect its strength. The chipping was most noticeable on pressed brick facings.

The self-supporting brick walls built up from the foundations were structurally in good condition, except some minor cracking over door and window lintels. Such walls when substantially constructed seem to be superior to curtain walls carried on steel frames.

Sand-Lime Brick.

A new building product which has been made in this country for only the past five years was not in use in Baltimore, and consequently was not passed upon by this committee. This product, sand-lime brick, has, however, stood many times the fire test beside the clay brick, and proved itself a better fire-resistant. It, therefore, deserves the public attention which it is now receiving. It is produced by the chemical action of high grade of lime and pure sand under a high steam pressure.

As is well known pure sand is the oxide of silicon, and silica when brought in contact with hydrated lime (calcium hydrate) and water under influence of a high temperature, produces a silicate of calcium. This compound like all other silicates is a very hard substance, difficult to fuse, and unacted upon by acids. It also possesses a great crushing resistance.

This product resembles Indiana sandstone, and to a certain extent is a reproduction of nature's process.

It is different from natural stone, however, in that the chemical action is uniform throughout, consequently there are no seams or laminations.

As has been shown by the foregoing report, stone is perishable. The reason is that no stone is free from impurities, seams, oftentimes invisible to the naked eye, and laminations. These conditions produce an unevenness of absorption and expansion in large blocks or stones, and consequently, when exposed to changes of heat and cold, crack and spawl. The larger the building unit the greater is the defect. Sand-lime bricks, when properly made, obviates all these defects.

Sand-lime bricks are not, as in generally supposed, mortar bricks, as mortar depends upon the carbonating of calcium for its strength, whereas sand-lime brick is strictly the silicate. A silicate is not subject to deterioration, whereas the carbonate is, and yet mortar bricks one hundred years old have been found to be harder than limestone.

Consular Report From Berlin.

In Germany all building materials must be inspected by the government for a certain length of time before they are allowed to be put upon the market. Sand-lime bricks had been tested for ten years before they were officially accepted. The history of this project is given in the following extract from the Consular Report of October 3, 1903, by the Hon. J. H. Mason, Consul General, Berlin, Germany.

During the past year frequent inquiries have been received at this Consulate from correspondents in the United States desiring detailed and precise information concerning the manufacture and use in Germany, for building purposes, of calcareous brick and stone made by artificially combining under pressure sand with slaked and unslacked lime. The range of these inquiries has been principally as to the length of time that such building materials have been made and used in this country, and whether they have stood the test of varying temperatures in wet or especially exposed situations and under heavy crushing strain, what the Government architects and leading builders think of them, and especially what patented machinery and methods of making such materials are most highly esteemed and approved in this country.

The first experiments in making bricks from sand and lime appear to have been undertaken at Potsdam about sixty years ago. They were suggested by the fact that Potsdam, like many other places in central Germany, is surrounded by a wide, sandy plain, which furnishes neither clay for brick nor stone for building purposes. These calcareous bricks were first hardened by exposure to the air, a tedious process which required several months, although the bricks hardened in that way seem to have stood all tests and continue to harden with increasing age.

About 1880 the discovery was made that the freshly pressed bricks of sand and lime could be hardened in a few hours by heat and pressure of steam, and from that date the manufacture developed into an industry which reached its maturity in Germany four or five years ago. Plants on a large scale were first constructed in this country, and the industry has gradually extended throughout the continent and Great Britain.

Beginning of the Industry in America.

The industry was introduced into the United States by Mr. F. Ohlemacher, who had been in the lime business for thirty-six years. In 1900 he and his son went to Europe to investigate the sand-lime brick business. Mr. A. Ohlemacher worked in the Budenheim factory for a year to learn about the industry. He returned home in 1901 and built the first factory in this country at Michigan City, Indiana. About the same time The H. Heunnekes Co. erected a plant at Wilmington, N.C. The success of these plants led to the erection of others. Different foreign methods were introduced in various plants, and to-day there are 25 factories in active operation in the United States and Canada, located in 17 States, and as many more are building or about to build.

The association appreciates that more specific information would be desirable. Although many buildings of all classes have been constructed in this country, utilising many millions of bricks, very little data of a specific nature has been compiled. Sand-lime bricks have been subjected to every use where clay building bricks have been tried, and, in every instance, they have been found equal and in many cases superior to clay bricks. Along the canals in Holland where clay bricks were laid in the embankments the erosion of the water and the continuous freezing and thawing rendered the clay bricks perishable. Sand-lime bricks are now being used instead and they are withstanding these conditions with no deterioration whatever. Sand-lime bricks are preferable to other bricks for sewer work because they do not disintegrate and are absolutely reliable. The government has specified them for their use in the War and Post Office Departments. They are going into public libraries, churches, handsome residences and large business operations. So many orders of great magnitude are now placed with the factories that it is apparent that the bricks are being favourably received at all points where they are manufactured.

This is becoming one of the great industries of this country, and it is the object of this pamphlet not to prophesy but to show to what lengths these bricks have been put, and how well they have already been received. This evidence entitles them to attention from all builders and architects and merits their confidence as a first class building material.

CANADA'S INFLUENCE.

Even Dan Patch Has the Warm Influence of a Canadian Thoroughbred in His Veins.

Dan Patch's exhibition in Toronto recently, when he paced a mile on a half-mile track in 2.06, was a revelation to the thousands who saw it, for such speed has never before been displayed in Canada. At the same time the only family of pacers that can be depended on to breed true to type was founded by a Canadian horse. Moreover, in Dan Patch himself there is at least one Canadian ancestor, for he traces back to Vermont Black Hawk, a Morgan horse, whose dam was bred in New Brunswick. Indeed, it has been claimed that the famous Morgan family was of Quebec origin, although more recent investigations tend to discredit this theory. Nevertheless, there is the warm blood of a Canadian thoroughbred in the veins of Dan Patch, and horsemen of this country may well take a peculiar interest in the world's champion light harness horse.

There is one great pacing family famous for its fast, game horses, and it is this line that had its origin in Canada. Tom Hal was the founder of the Hal family, and he was born about 80 years ago. Bought by a Philadelphia man, he was taken to Kentucky Whence his descendants spread all over the South, especially in Tennessee. Year after year they come to the races and carry off the big prizes, and among them may be mentioned Star Pointer, Hal Pointer, Direct Hal, Hal Direct, Morning Star, Angus Pointer, and Walter Direct. Besides sending to the Grand Circuit these great pacers, the Hal family has also contributed largely to the formation of the Kentucky saddle horse. So it will be seen what a tremendous debt the horse-breeding industry of the United States owes to the old, roan pony known to fame as Tom Hal.

Another pacer that was destined to have a tremendous influence upon the breeding of trotters and pacers in the United States was foaled in Canada several years after Tom Hal had been taken to Kentucky. This was a fast and powerful black horse known as Pacing Pilot. He was bought in the Lower Provinces by a peddler, and was taken as far south as New Orleans, before he was finally established in Kentucky. Pilot was a resolute horse, and had done a mile under saddle in 2.26, a notable performance in those days. His most distinguished son was Pilot Jr., a square-gaited, grey trotter, foaled in 1844. He proved to be the most successful progenitor of trotting speed of his day, but his fame rests upon the superlative excellence of his daughters. Among them was Miss Russell, the dam of Maud S., for years a champion trotter, and a son was Nutwood, founder of the family named after him. A distinguished great-grandson of the old Canadian pacer was Jay-Eye-See, the first trotter to take a record of 2.10. Peter the Great, the sire of Miss Wilks' unfortunate mare, Sadie Mac, was also a descendant of Pilot.

One might fill a page with the names of fast horses that trace back to Canadian sources, but mention will be made only of two Canadian families, now practically extinct. One was the Copperbottom family, whose most distinguished scion was Swigert, and the other the Royal George family. The founder of the latter house used to be the champion of Canada, at the three miles mixed, viz., one mile walk, one mile trot, and one mile run. He was a famous quarter-mile runner, and sired Palermo, one of the early winners of the Queen's Plate. The best of his trotting descendants was Thomas Jefferson, who was a champion thirty years ago, and beat such renowned horses as George Wilkes, Mambrino Gift, and Smuggler.

Enough has been said to show that at a time when good horses were few, and the science of breeding them undeveloped, the horsemen of Canada produced trotters and pacers as good as the best in the United States, without whom the whole breed would be the poorer. In the past few years there has been a revival of interest in the subject, and again Canadian-owned and Canadian-bred trotters and pacers are coming to the front. Judging by the past, there is no reason why this country should not in the future exert an influence on the trotting turf as potential as that exercised by the breeders in Kentucky, Ohio, or Tennessee.

Passing With the Summer.

That autumn seems incomplete in which the wild geese steal away unobserved, says a writer in The Toronto Globe. The rigid angle of black dots moving steadily southward, with the apparent slowth of distance, across the grey and drifting sky, has a fascination that grows stronger from year to year. The passing of these migrants is awaited with the keenest interest as the time of their appearance draws near, and their open right of way is examined throughout the shortening days in eager expectancy. The warblers, flying by night, move about among the half-naked branches with desultory activity through the day, as if to renew the acquaintance of the spring before taking their departure. The song sparrow and the white throat may even venture a few familiar notes to recall the season of awakening life. But the wild geese pass in the open day, cheered on their thousand-mile journey by the lingering brightness of the sun and guided by an impulse as true as the needle to the pole. They are indifferent to the city's smoke and vapors, and sometimes pass over so low that their outstretched necks and rotund bodies are plainly visible, and the distended quills of their steady, undulating wings make a clear pattern against the clouds.

Class-Room Humor.

The surprising answers given by school children have long been a source of merriment to those who examined their papers, but it is doubtful whether they could be any funnier than the little mistakes which occur daily in the class-room.

It happened last week in the composition class of one of our biggest city schools, says The Toronto Star. Nellie was reading her essay, which at times verged on picturesque description. "At this moment," she read, "a large boy, twelve years of age, burst in the room." What happened to the unfortunate boy after this dreadful tragedy was lost in the shouts of laughter which made Nellie's further remarks on the subject inaudible.

THE TIME WILL COME—

When it will be a disgrace not to work when one is able.

When to get rich by making others poorer will be considered a disgrace.

When the same standard of morality will be demanded of men as of women.

When the golden rule will be regarded as the soundest business philosophy.

When all true happiness will be found in doing the right and only the good will be found to be real.

When the business man will find that his best interests will be the best interests of the man at the other end of the bargain.

When all hatred, revenge and jealousy will be regarded as boomerangs which inflict upon the thrower the injury intended for others.

When the "best society" will consist of men and women of brains, culture and achievement, rather than those whose chief merit and distinction lie in the possession of unearned fortunes.—Success Magazine.

Varying Weight of the Body.

A physician points out that several fallacies are common with regard to the weight of the human body. The man who congratulates himself on his gain of several pounds in weight in a given period may have no cause for rejoicing, for he may be under a delusion. Very few persons, says the investigator, have any correct idea of their own weight. As a matter of fact, the weight of the body is continually changing owing to innumerable influences. On a warm day, after breakfast, a man will lose more than a third of a pound per hour. Seventy per cent of the body contains water, and its weight varies constantly. The inference to be drawn from the loss or gain of a pound or two may be mistrusted. Fluctuations of a few ounces are a sign that the body is in a healthy state.

Grunt-Who-Will Tower.

Anne, the duchess in wooden shoes, who brought Brittany in the pocket of her wedding gown to her husband, the king of France, kept the government for herself, and when the bishop of St. Malo protested against the stronghold which she built to cow the too independent Malouns she carved on her tower the irreverent inscription, which may still be read there, "Grunt who will, so shall it be; 'tis my pleasure," and the tower "Grunt-Who-Will" (Quiequ'en grogue) it remains to this day.

Her Little Composition.

A class was reciting in a school.

"Who can give me," said the teacher, "a sentence in which the words 'bitter end' are used?"

Up jumped a little girl excitedly. "I can, teacher. 'The cat ran under the bureau and the dog ran after her and bit her end.'"

Outrageous.

"I want ten two-cent stamps," said Mrs. Youngwed, "and please charge them, because I have no change."

"We don't do that, madam," replied the clerk in the postoffice.

"The idea! Why not? We always get our letters from you."—Philadelphia Ledger.

No Inducement.

Gambetta once offered a prefecture, with a salary of 6,000 francs, to an incorrigible Bohemian, who, however, declined with thanks, saying, "I can make more than that by borrowing."

Never use tea leaves when sweeping carpets. Dry salt is much better, or soft paper cut or torn into small pieces and wet. Spread the latter loosely over the floor, and the broom will gather them and the dust up in small balls.

Everything in fashion tends towards this winter being a good one for furs. The demand runs in the direction of fur motor-coats, and for hats, muffs and stoles. In consequence of the unusual demand furs have risen in price. Chinchilla has risen 50 per cent. since last year, and sable from 25 to 30 per cent.

How will the new English fashion in hosiery be taken by the womanfolk? For many, many years past, black hosiery has been worn on nearly all occasions, and now it is to be banished in favour of hosiery which matches the costume with which it is worn. Tweed costumes are now accompanied by hosiery into which is woven the same colours as the fabric. There is the tartan hose to wear with the tartan plaid gown and hose to don with the cloth, velvet or cashmere costume, and this is exactly of the same hue as the gown with which it is worn.

PERFUMES OF THE EAST.

The Crusaders Brought Them From the Holy Land to Europe.

During the dark ages and in early mediaeval times perfumes, with the exception of incense for ecclesiastical use, were almost unknown, and the rude Saxon thanes and Norman barons and their spouses were quite content with the smell of wood fires and huge masses of roast or boiled meat and were not at all solicitous to enjoy the pleasure of sweet odors. It seems to have been the crusaders who brought from the Holy Land into western Europe the perfumes for which the east has from time immemorial been renowned. The original home of perfumes was either China or Egypt. In the last named century the priests of the temple of Heliopolis used to offer every day to their divinity three kinds of perfumes, one in the morning, one at noon and the third at night, the last being a scent composed of sixteen ingredients, forming an ensemble called kaphi. The universality of perfumes in ancient Greece is known to every one who remembers the delightful descriptions of the perfumed baths of Roman ladies in Bulwer's "Last Days of Pompeii," and from Hellas the use of perfumery spread to Rome, where, under the empire, almost every object was scented.

Even the standards of the legions were perfumed, and the velarium of the Coliseum when the emperor was present was dusted with aromatic powders. The successive invasions of the barbarians led to the shutting up of the perfumers' shops with which the Eternal City had abounded, and until the time of the Renaissance perfumery in Italy was only vended by a few apothecaries. Its use, however, had not died out in Constantinople, and at the fall of the Greek empire the Byzantine Greeks found that their Turkish conquerors were as passionately fond of perfumery as they themselves were.

Sweet essences for secular use were first made an article of trade in France by one Rene or Ringido, a Florentine, who came to Paris in the suit of Catherine de Medicis, to whom the French people likewise owe the introduction of confectionery and if malevolent rumor is to be credited the confection of at least half a dozen subtle poisons.

Loss of Power To Digest Food

AMONG THE FIRST INDICATIONS OF EXHAUSTED NERVES—THE CURE IS

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

The most important function of the organs of the body is the digestion, and assimilation of food, and in this process is consumed an enormous quantity of nervous energy.

As the result the moment disorders of the nerves arise digestion is impaired, and the very source of health, strength and vitality interferred with.

To prevent physical bankruptcy the nervous system must be built up by outside aid, such as the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, a preparation composed of the very elements of nature which go to form new blood and nerve cells.

Besides this restorative influence on the whole system, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has an immediate and direct effect on the digestive system.

It stimulates the nerves of taste and induces a good flow of saliva to aid digestion. It excites the glands of the stomach and produces a plentiful supply of the gastric digestive fluids. It sharpens the appetite and arouses hunger.

Especially where appetite and the ability to digest have diminished, as a nervous exhaustion, anaemia, the result of sickness, overwork, or worry, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is by all odds the most effective treatment that can possibly be obtained.

It insures good digestion, regular, healthful action of the liver, kidneys and bowels, and the building up and fertilizing of the whole system.

Mrs. J. Derocher, 85 Bathune street Peterborough, Ont., states:—"I was troubled a great deal with nervousness and sleeplessness, and began a treatment with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I can say for a certainty that it is a splendid medicine, for besides steadying my nerves, it built up my system wonderfully, and enabled me to sleep and eat well. We have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Ointment in our family for years, and consider them excellent. For skin diseases I think the Ointment cannot be equalled, and the Pills are a most satisfactory laxative."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson Bates, & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box. 1

Break a Bad Temper.

Anger gets more people into trouble than meanness. We do and say things while in a temper that we spend the rest of our lives in regretting. Parents should never punish their children while in anger, for if they do the child invariably gets more than it deserves. Wait till you cool down before you whip or shut up in dark closets. Then, too, if it is the child that has a temper and not yourself break it before the age of six is reached, for if you don't then that child's temper is likely never to be conquered.

Running the Gantlet.

"Running the gantlet," a punishment supposed to be peculiar to the American Indians, was originated in the British navy. Every sailor in the crew but the offender to be punished was provided with a switch, which he was required to lay briskly on the bare shoulders of the man who did the running between the two lines. The Indians observed the punishment inflicted in Virginia and Canada and copied it as a form of torture.

SIZE OF THE UNIVERSE.

Miles Are Too Insignificant to Be Used In Its Computation.

While it is interesting to know the distance of some of the stars in miles, when stated in that way the numbers are so large that they frequently convey very indistinct conceptions to the mind. For this reason it is customary to estimate stars' distances in "light years." A light year is the distance that light, moving at the rate of 180,300 miles per second, travels in one year. This amounts in round numbers to 5,680,000,000,000 miles. The distance of Alpha Centaur is 4.35 light years, that of Sirius, the dog star, is almost exactly twice as great, or 8.6 light years. In other words, light requires 8.6 years to come to us from Sirius. And these are among the very nearest of the stars. Some whose parallaxes have been rather estimated than measured appeared to be situated at a distance which light could not traverse in less than one or two centuries. The great star Arcturus, for instance, has, according to Dr. Elkin, a parallax of only eighteen-thousandths of a second. Its distance must in that case be about 181 light years, or more than a thousand million million miles. And if its distance is so great, then, since light varies inversely as the square of the distance from its source, it can be shown that Arcturus must actually give forth 5,000 or 6,000 times as much light as the sun yields.

Yet Arcturus is evidently much nearer than the vast majority of the stars are. Not one in a million is known to have a parallax large enough even to be intelligently guessed at. There may be stars whose light requires thousands instead of hundreds of years to cross the space separating them from us.

We thus see that only a few points on the nearer shores of the starry universe lie within reach of our measurements—here and there a jutting headland, while behind stretches the vast expanse over which the hundreds of millions of stars known to exist are scattered.

Politeness of Children.

The politeness of children is only skin deep. One cannot help sympathizing with the little London girl who said sleepily to her hostess at a party she had not been old enough to enjoy, "Please, will you tell me which is the lady what's giving this party, 'cause I promised mummy to say, 'Goodby, thank you very much for the nice party,' and I can't go home till I've said it, and—and I do so want to get away from this horrible place!" But one's whole heart goes out to the little boy who, having greatly enjoyed one small insufficient chocolate, was asked sharply, "Well, Johnny, what do you say?" "More," answered Johnny.

MONUMENTAL FOLLY.

We find the following paragraph in the Globe:

"It is probable that two new monuments will soon be erected in Queen's Park, the one to the memory of Lieut.-Col. John Macdonnell, and the other to the Indian chief, Tecumseh, two heroic figures in the war of 1812 The former, who was aide-de-camp to General Brock, was killed at Queenston Heights, and the latter at the Battle of Moravviantown, while guarding the retreat of the British forces. A deputation representing the United Empire Loyalists Association waited upon the Government yesterday afternoon, and urged that appropriate monuments to the gallant fighters mentioned be erected."

We are told that the reply of Premier Whitney was favourable. It is to be hoped not. The Examiner is no iconoclast, nor adverse to a certain amount of hero worship. But the question is as to whether Queen's Park is to be entirely converted into a cemetery. It is now so studded with monuments as to suggest such a place. We have monuments to the Queen, to Hon. George Brown, to Governor Simcoe, two monuments to volunteers, a monument to Sir John Macdonald, and one, recently unveiled, to Sir Oliver Mowat. All these with one exception, are crowded into the few acres of space between College street and the Parliament Buildings. There is some reason for demanding that no more statues be erected there. In the abstract the two men, whom it is proposed to commemorate in bronze or marble, are worthy in every way of the honour, but some other place can be found where statues do not stand so thickly as to interfere with the running of a lawn mower, and spoil the beauty of the park — for an over-statued park is as much out of taste, as a flashily over-dressed child. Since the King's oak — the tree planted by the Prince of Wales in 1860 — has died, it would not perhaps be amiss to plant memorial trees. Some of the oaks in the park have died, owing to the depth of earth piled about them in the process of levelling the grounds after the construction of the Parliament Buildings. If it is decided to commemorate Col. Macdonnell and Tecumseh, plant trees, to be designated by some sort of tablet as "Macdonnell's Tree," "Tecumseh's Tree." This would be eminently fitting, in the case of Tecumseh, who was a child of the forest, or, indeed, of Col. Macdonnell, who won his claim to honour when the country was in a forest condition. This tree-planting idea, if carried out, would add to the natural beauty of the park, which should by all means, be preserved, for it is a provincial possession and not the property of the city of Toronto alone.

THE CHEESE.

The record of the Peterborough Cheese Board for the year 1905 reveals the fact that the farmers of this county have the past year realized the magnificent sum of nearly half a million dollars for their cheese. Taking the population of East and West Peterborough at 50,000, this means about ten dollars per head for every man, woman and child. There are a few of the factories outside the county bounds, but these are included in the estimate of 50,000, for the census returns give the population of the electoral districts of East and West Peterborough at 47,975. It is difficult to appreciate the immense advance in the cheese-producing industry in this district. One can only estimate it in relation to the increase in the Dominion. In 1868 Canada's exports of cheese amounted to $4,794,971. Ten years later, in 1878, this had fallen to $4,893,355; ten years later, in 1888, the exports had jumped to $8,528,212. In 1898 the amount had almost doubled, amounting to $17,572,733. Six years later, in 1904, the latest available figures show that the total value of the cheese exported had grown to $24,184,560. If the general value of production has thus increased, the special increase must have been greater in this district, for there is, perhaps, no district in Canada of the same area and population as the County of Peterborough where more intelligent dairying methods are more successfully practiced than in Peterborough. The Peterborough Board has the reputation of being the best board in the country, and the highest prices have been paid during the past season. The figure obtained at the last Board meeting—12 7-16—was the highest ever paid in this county, if not the highest at a regular sale in the country. The average figure had, at the twelve meetings, been 10 1-3 cents.

CANADA'S CENTURY.

Truly spoke Sir Wilfrid Laurier when he said that the twentieth century belongs to Canada, as the nineteenth century belonged to the United States. The appearances are that Canada will be the theatre of as great expansion of development and population in the present century as was the United States in the past century. Of the probability of this and of belief in it, we have only to call to witness our southern neighbours themselves. A tremendous exodus is taking place from the neighbouring republic to the Canadian North, and observant journals of the better class also see a great future for their northern neighbours. We find this in Collier's Weekly:—"Go North, young man, go North, is now the revised form of Horace Greeley's famous Go West maxim. The greatest wheat crop in the world has just been harvested in the new Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan. Where wheat grows so abundantly people must go and cities must arise. Because of the great material heritage of these people, the development of this new nation will be much faster than it was in the West of the United States. The youth of wisdom and ambition who dreams of great things should not overlook these significant facts. To-day the index finger of opportunity points north."

Almost every prominent United States journal, or magazine contains not only references, but many of them elaborate articles respecting the fertility, resources and great prospects of the Canadian Northwest. We can be proud of our outlook, proud of the promise the future holds for us of national greatness, and we would be looking in grateful appreciation to Divine providence which has endowed us with such magnificent possessions, if we failed to take advantage of our opportunities. Canadians has indeed been given the ten talents and it is laid upon us to make the best use of them—to make with them other ten talents.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Mail and Empire says that the Grand Trunk Pacific was a determining factor in Alberta going Liberal. There is nothing surprising or improper in that. As the organ says, "The people want the railway because their prosperity depends upon the number of railway lines thrown into the country." The chief reason of building the Grand Trunk Pacific was in the interests of the development of the West. It was nothing but natural that the people of Alberta should give their support to a party which thus practically recognized the claims of the new country to facilities for prosperity, as against a party that has obstructed the railway upon which the growth of the great West depends, with all their power. Alberta has endorsed the party of progress, and rejected the party of stagnation and discord.

HITTING BOTH WAYS.

It would be difficult to find in Ontario a class of men so blind to their own interests as the boose-sellers. It would also be hard to discover in the Province a class of people so inconsistent as the temperance party. Could a finer satire be imagined on the hotelkeepers regard for the law than the resolutions they pass, when danger presses near, agreeing among themselves to observe the statutes? These resolutions are actually given publicity! Imagine any other class of business men giving out that of their own free will and accord they have concluded to stop breaking the law! And yet hotelkeepers really appear surprised when people begin to talk of closing up the bars altogether. For many years the aggressive element of Ontario temperance people have been steadily denouncing the liquor traffic and as steadily voting against temperance candidates when they have presented themselves, and have steered altogether such an erratic, unreasonable course as to have become discredited among sensible people. Just now a local option agitation is on foot. It is also suggested that licensed bars be closed on holidays and fair days and that bartenders should be properly qualified and registered. From time to time many different methods of regulating the liquor traffic are proposed. Some of the ideas advanced might be of value if wisely carried out. The temperance leaders must, however, adopt some definite, reasonable line of action and show that they really mean business before they accomplish any important results. Those who sell liquor and those who are loud in their protests against the traffic are displaying about equal wrongheadedness and shortsightedness. Meanwhile the problem is gradually working itself out. The peculiar methods of attack and defence adopted by the conflicting elements are irritating and wearisome. However, even if both persist in their stupid, boomerang tactics the big, slow, sensible general public will solve the problem in a fairly reasonable way some day.—Saturday Night.

MR. FOY'S BAD BREAK.

The Toronto News falls foul of the letter of "My Dear Foy" to Mr. Ashley division court clerk at Belleville, in which the latter was asked to resign, among other reasons, because of having at one time, before his acceptance of office, been a Liberal candidate in East Hastings. It says:

"If the Whitney Government adopts the policy indicated in the letter to Mr. Ashley, it will be responsible for the introduction of the spoils system, the demoralization of the civil service, and the active and systematic participation of civil servants in elections."

Mr. Foy's letter is certainly most indirect in its character. It is no offence that a civil servant should have been active in political matters before being appointed. Had he not been so engaged it is pretty certain he would never have received an office. What about the men who are being remembered by the Whitney Government today? Have they not been active partisans? Certainly they have, but if the precedent which Mr. Foy seeks to create is permitted to stand the next Liberal Government which enjoys power in the province will be justified in removing them.

Despite the wholesale removals of justices of the peace, issuers of marriage licenses, fishery overseers, etc., which have taken place. The Expositor has endeavoured to believe that the Whitney Government has no intention of introducing the "spoils system," with all its attendant evils, but the letter sent to Mr. Ashley is so absolutely indefensible that it affords prima facie evidence that the Government is yielding to the clamours of its most unreasonable supporters.—Brantford Expositor.

LOCAL OPTION LEGISLATION.

For some years the prohibitionists of Ontario have paid little attention to the Local Option clauses of the Liquor License Act, having concentrated their efforts on securing either Dominion or Provincial prohibition. An explanation of this fact is possibly the unsatisfactory experience which the province has had with the Canada Temperance Act, better known as the "Scott" Act, which, after having been pretty generally adopted, was afterwards repealed to such an extent that there is not to-day a single place in the province where it is in operation.

Yet, despite this experience, Local Option bylaws were carried prior to 1904, and are still in force in the following municipalities:

1899—Binbrook.
1900—Darlington.
1896—Garafraxa East.
1893—Gainsborough.
1898—Hawkesbury West.
1890—Lanark.
1893—Luther East.
1898—Mariposa.
1897—Marysburgh South.
1902—Madoc.
1898—Melanethon.
1891—McDougall.
1892—Oliver.
1899—Beach.
1902—Rawdon.
1892—Storrington.
1891—Tilbury East.
1900—Tehkummah.

Since January, 1904, local option has been adopted as follows: Cartwright, Camden, Cardinal, Cavan, Clarke, Dawn, Euphrasia, Fenelon, Garafraxa, West Harwich, Hallett, Johnston and Tarbutt, Lansdowne, McDonald and Meredith, Marysborough, McLean and Ridout, Niagara, North Toronto, Oxford East, Raleigh, Smith, Steelton and Korah, Toronto Junction, Thamesville, Whitechurch, Williams East, Windham and Yarmouth.

Within the same period local option has been defeated in Clinton, Colborne, Gwillimbury North, Innisfil, Iroquois, Orford, Port Carling, Saltfleet, Sidney, Thurlow and York.

A determined effort is to be made at the municipal elections of next January, in many places throughout the province to still further extend the list. Local option is a very imperfect restrictive measure, but it affords at the present time, the only means outside of the Canada Temperance Act, available to those who favour prohibition to attain their end, and follows lines which have been adopted in many parts of the United States.

There is a disposition, in any event, on the part of many rural municipalities to give this feature of the Liquor License Act a fair trial, but it is evident that the chances of success depend entirely upon the strength of the prohibition sentiment in the municipality which adopts it and the activity of its advocates in seeing to its proper enforcement. What is more, the demand for its enforcement, should come from within and not from without the municipality in which it is proposed to make the experiment. Nothing can be gained by attempting to force local option in any quarter where the necessary educational work has not been done, and there is not every assurance not only of its adoption, but of the reasonable success of any attempt which may be made at its enforcement.—Brantford Expositor.

Lecture At St. Andrew's

Mr. F. A. Robinson on "The Slums of New York."

Mr. F. A. Robinson, B.A., Knox College, a third year divinity student, gave a splendid lecture, "In the Slums of New York," illustrated by excellent views, at the St. Andrew's school room last night. Moving pictures and illustrated songs also formed a prominent and very enjoyable part of the evening's entertainment.

Mr. Robinson showed some realistic scenes, depicting life in its very lowest form, in the slums of New York City. The speaker was very familiar with subject and had personally visited many of the places shown in the illustrations. The discourse on the Italian and Chinese quarters was particularly interesting. In referring to the immigrants from "sunny Italy" Mr. Robinson characterized them as the craftiest and most troublesome criminals that the American government has to deal with. He also made interesting reference to the Chinese and white people of the slums, and demonstrated the hard proposition those employed in the field of Christian enlightenment had to solve. "Always in in the Way," "Way Back in Indiana," "Little Haro," and several others were the illustrated songs rendered during the evening's entertainment. Mr. Robinson and Rev. Mr. Potter made very acceptable vocalists. The affair was given under the Band of Mercy of St. Andrew's Church and that society is to be warmly commended on procuring such a satisfactory attraction. Prior to the lecture an entertaining musical programme was given.

Headaches Cured

One cause of headache and nervous diseases very often is Hyperopia, or far-sightedness. If your eye is normal you require no muscular effort to see distinct objects. Some eyes are so formed that they require a muscular effort to see clearly far objects. Such eyes are DOUBLY strained when used for near vision. This EXERTION CONSTITUTES EYE STRAIN.

75 per cent. of headaches are caused by eye strain and can only be cured by removing the the cause. That is what our glasses do.

THE TATE OPTICAL CO.:

GENTLEMEN,—For nearly two years I have been troubled with headaches from which I could GET NO RELIEF. Was advised to consult you. I have been wearing the Glasses you fitted for me for some time. My HEADACHES have ENTIRELY DISAPPEARED, and I attribute to the use of your glasses. Yours truly,

Venerable Anglican Clergyman

AFTER HALF A CENTURY'S WORK,

Ceases From His Labours

Ven. Archdeacon Allen Passed Away at Eight O'clock This Morning at the Rectory, Millbrook—End of a Long Career Dedicated to Earnest Christian Effort --A Man of Exceptional Force of Character, and for Years One of the Most Striking Figures in Church Work in the Diocese.

DIED.

ALLEN.—At the Rectory, Millbrook, at eight o'clock on Saturday, November 11th, 1905, Venerable Archdeacon Allen, aged eighty-four years, for fifty-two years Rector of Cavan.

With the passing this morning at the Rectory, Millbrook, of the venerable Thomas William Allen, Archdeacon of Peterborough, there closed a long life of faithful and steadfast endeavour in the advancement of the cause of Christ on earth. Endowed with a vigourous mentality, unusual strength of character, and withal a kindly and affectionate disposition, the late Mr. Allen furnished one of the most striking personalities in connection with church work in the Province. A father to successive generations of church men and their families in Cavan, he was beloved not only by his parishioners, but the influence of his true Christian example spread far beyond the Church of England, and secured the universal respect of those of other communions, who admired the sterling qualities, and exalted purpose which shone forth in his daily life.

Born in Sligo, Ireland, on Dec. 16th, 1821, the late clergyman was the third son of the late Recorder Allen, by his wife, Anne Cartwright. His early education was received at the Sligo High School and at St. Paul's College, Long Island, N.Y., whose President was Dr. Milenberg. He studied divinity at the old Theological College, Cobourg, under the late Dr. Bethune, afterwards Bishop of Toronto, and was ordained deacon in July 1848, and to the priesthood in September, 1849, by the late Bishop Strachan.

Appointed a travelling Missionary in the Midland District of Ontario, in 1848, he fulfilled the duties of this office for four years. He became incumbent of St. John's Church, Portsmouth, in 1852, and in 1853 came his appointment to the Rectory of Cavan, in about immediate succession to Rev. Samuel Armour, who resigned the incumbency of St. John's church, Peterborough in 1827 to go to Cavan.

In January, 1853, Rev. Mr. Allen was made Rural Dean of Durham and Victoria in succession to Archdeacon Wilson, and in 1891 Archdeacon of Peterborough. He received the degree of B. A. From Trinity University, Toronto, in 1861, and that of M. A., in 1869. In 1902 the degree of D.C.L., was conferred upon him by the University.

In politics the deceased was in sympathy with the Conservative party. He married in January, 1850, Jessie, daughter of the late George McClellan, of Black Craig, Kirkcudbrightshire, Scotland. He celebrated his jubilee four years ago, at Millbrook, in the presence of a large number of the clergy of the district, from whom he was the recipient of many congratulatory expressions.

Soon after his appointment as Archdeacon Rev. Mr. Allen inaugurated the annual Archdiaconal Conferences of clergy, which were very successful and fulfilled a useful purpose. The last of these was held in Peterborough two years ago.

Of his children consisting of eight sons, two are clergymen, Rev. Rural Dean Allen of Millbrook, and Rev. Alex. Allen, rector of Memorial Church, Springfield, Ill., U. S. A.

VEN. ARCHDEACON ALLEN,
Of Millbrook, Who Died This Morning.

The former was but a few weeks ago appointed to the Rectory of Cavan, in succession to his father. He began his ministerial career in Peterborough, as curate of St. John's church. Two sons, Dr. Norman Allen of Toronto, and Dr. T. H. Allen of New York, are engaged in the practice of medicine; another, Walter, is a barrister, now residing in the United States; the eldest son, George, is collector of customs at Emmerson, and two others, John and Henry are engaged in farming near Millbrook.

The Venerable Archdeacon has taken an important part in Docesan and District church work, and his hale form and striking character, have been known far and near, and upon the sad intelligence of his death reaching Peterborough this morning, the flag was at once half-masted upon St. John's church and St. Luke's church as a sign of respect to the memory of the Archdeacon of Peterborough, and a stalwart champion of the Church. Embodying, as they do to a large extent, the history of the section in which he resided, the anecdotes told of the late Archdeacon Allen are legion, and may furnish a true index to a strong character which combined an adamantine firmness of purpose, with gentleness and true Christian charity, and which dominated a life the influence of which has left a strong imprint upon the life of the community.

Funeral on Tuesday at 1.30 p.m. from St. Thomas church, Millbrook, to St. John's church Cavan.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. D. R. Gardiner of Peterborough, was in town to-day.—Lindsay Post.

Mr. John Moloney, of Douro, county councillor and chairman of the Roads and Bridges Committee of that body, was in the city to-day.

Mr. Jas. J. Rutherford has gone to Fritsbury, Mass. Mr. Rutherford was a popular young man and will be much missed in Auburn athletic circles.

Mrs. Charles Stapleton, 38 Gilmour street, with Miss Helen and Baby Janet, left to-day for a short visit to Chicago to guest of her sister, Mrs. White.

Miss Jennie Hill has returned home after spending several months in Peterborough.....Miss E. Long, of Petersborough, has been a guest at Inverlock.....Miss L. Higgins, of Peterborough, is the guest of the Misses Purser.—Hall's Bridge Cor. to Lakefield News.

Rev. Edgerton Ryerson, of Tokio, Japan, will be here to-morrow and take services at St. John's church in the morning, and at All Saints' in the evening. Mr. Ryerson is a grandson of the well-known educationist, and while in town will be the guest of his cousin, Mrs. J. Harris McClellan, 19 Gilmour street.

Dr. J. W. Gray, the county coroner, celebrated his birthday on Thursday, November 9th, the same day as King Edward, and what is remarkable, his mother was born the same day and year as the late Queen, May 24th, 1819. His many friends are offering the genial doctor congratulations on having passed one more milestone, and he looks just as young as he did ten years ago.

Hunters Return From The Chase

Mr. Thomas Arnott of this city, has just returned from a hunting trip to Eel's Creek, at the head of Stony Lake, where he spent the last ten days. One peculiarity of Mr. Arnott's hunt was the fact that he was alone, but that circumstance did not seem to adversely affect his luck, for he was successful in bringing down a fine 200 pound deer. He was satisfied with the result of his work and returned to the city before the expiration of the time limit.

Mr. Arnott is known by his friends now as "the lone hunter" a title which he can well afford to own, since his success.

Mr. Mitchell Returns.

Mr. Arthur Mitchell returned last night from L'Amable, where he has been hunting. Mr. Mitchell was with the Van Allen party, of which Rev. R. McKnight, of Petenboro ugh, was also a member.

Mr. Mitchell brought down two nice deer which were the victims of his aim. The party of five had up to Thursday secured seven deer, and there was every prospect at that time of completing the number allowed by the law.

Pains in the Chest

Mr. John Clark, Port Hope, Ont., states: "Last winter I was so bad with a cold that I could not speak above a whisper, and had severe pains in my chest. A friend advised me to try Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, and one bottle cured my cold, which I believe would have been very serious if I had not used this medicine."

—A gentleman informed us that the G. T. R. contemplate placing a dining car on the line between Peterborough and Lakefield. Last Monday the noon train was an hour and five minutes coming from Peterborough.—Lakefield News.

Removal Notice.

The J. M. Greene Music Company has leased the north store and all the second floor in the front of the new opera house for a term of years and are at present moving their stock to the new premises. On and after November 4th kindly call at the new opera house for all music supplies. 3d goalkeeper and a forward, but this was of course, manifestly senseless.

Annual Meeting Of O. H. A. To-day

The Marlboros claimed that their other three men were not in the condition from injuries received, and so the result was reported by the referee to the Executive. The game was one in which for the first time in the history of the O.H.A. sufficient players claimed to be injured, as not to make a burlesque of the game if the remaining players went on the ice.

The fact is that the whole game was characterized by a roughness that it is to be hoped will never again occur in any game of this Association. The referee's report rather agreed with the claims of the Marlboros, and declared the Falls men as deliberately and brutally rough.

The Executive ordered the two to settle the championship in a sudden death game at Peterborough or Kingston, the Marlboros having the choice. The game was play d at Peterborough and the Marlboros won by a score of 9 to 3.

The Intermediate Series.

Twelve districts faced the starter in the intermediate series. In the east Peterborough scored a win after a strenuous season, and Markham pulled out a winner. Orangeville beat the Argonauts (Toronto) in the centre, and, after giving Markham an extremely rough hour in Orangeville, defaulted the return game. Peterborough overturned Smith's Falls and Markham, in turn to be put out of the running by Berlin. The Germans were thought to have the series well in hand, but Victoria Harbour swooped down from the frozen north with unexpected strength and scooped in the honors. The booty was 7 to 6, the second game being a tie at 7 all.

Keeping of Time.

The question of having competent time-keepers for our matches has become a serious one. As was pointed out at the last annual meeting, time-keepers are selected as a rule, not because of any particular ability in handling matches, but because the gentlemen named are enthusiastic followers of clubs. The fact remains that nine times out of ten utterly incompetent men are chosen for this important duty. They are more familiar with alarm-clocks than with stop-watches, and accuracy is out of the question.

Habitual Roughness.

There are one or two teams in the Association which are famed far and near for their roughness. Whether it is intentional or not is of course open to dout. But teams going to these towns, which have a reputation for roughness, always prepare for a long casualty list and experience no little difficulty in getting a team to go there for matches.

Last winter Orangeville was reported for rough work at Orangeville in its match with Markham, both by the players of opposing teams and by referees, and the charges seem to have been well founded. After being guilty of this rough work the Orangeville men defaulted—a double offence. It is true the Orangeville men are strong, husky fellows with a laborious training as a foundation, but they have a lot to learn before they become adept Bonkeyists. Possibly a great deal of their roughness in unintentional, but it is nevertheless a feature that travels with them in all their games, and the other teams of the Association must be protected. But Orangeville is not alone. A pretty strong report came from the referee last season against the Smith's Falls team. From his report the roughness would appear to have been deliberate and with malice aforethought. This coming winter it may as well be understood that rough-work will receive prompt discipline.

Charging Goalkeeper.

Year after year it has been necessary to call attention to the infraction of the rule known as "charging the goalkeeper." The object and utility of the play is obvious. It's opposition to two or three rules is equally so. With a goalkeeper busily engaged in warding off an attack on his person, he has little time or opportunity to take care of the puck. It is either off-side interference, which is strictly prohibited, or it is charging, a man who has not the puck in his possession. This is a direct violation of the rule. Apart from that, it is against the spirit of the game and cannot be tolerated. Referees constantly ignore this infraction of the rules. This year instructions will be so definite that no referee who desires to remain on our list will permit the rough play that the goalkeepers are subjected to.

Mobbing Frequent.

It seems absolutely useless to revert annually to the mobbing of hockey teams. Notwithstanding all my efforts the effect has been nil. There seems no remedy for the evil. Police protection in small towns is inadequate, and the court seems the only recourse. Most of the trouble arises outside of our rinks, and consequently beyond our jurisdiction, but those most concerned are members of our association.

While doubtless this reference to the rowdyism of last winter will have the usual effect—to make each delegate look upon his neighbour as the guilty one, and to slumber on in his own clear conscience—still it is a duty to let the association know that none of these acts of ruffianism have escaped notice. Peterborough men had chunks of coal hurled at them at the Lindsay station by a mob of hoodlums, and the men from Lindsay declare that the Peterborough followers began the trouble by throwing whisky flasks as souvenirs. The same rowdyism is reported as having taken place at the London railway station. There may be no remedy for this within our jurisdiction, but where there is bitter rivalry of long standing between any two towns trouble is easily started and precautions should be taken to furnish ample police protection by the home club.

To Shorten Time.

A proposal has been made to shorten the time of the periods and to have four instead of two. In other words to play games in four quarters instead of two halves, with five minutes between the quarters instead of ten between the halves. It is argued that hockey is such a fast game that a man cannot hold out at top speed for thirty minutes and this claim is not an unreasonable one.

No doubt the change would make the game faster, but the spectator as a general rule, won't stand for delay. As it is, referees often prolong delays, as if they were afraid to enforce the rules.

The Residence Rule.

It seems to me that the proposal to make the residence date 1st of August instead of 1st of October is a step in the right direction. It might work a hardship upon bank clerks, but they are just as liable to be moved before as after 1st October. Let us make our residence date so early that, beyond perventure we can end the journeyings of the hockey tourist.

Raising the Fees.

To raise the annual subscription from $5 to $10 is, I am afraid, a proposal that will hardly be received with favour. It is made in connection with another amendment by which it is proposed to take away the share of the Association in the final gates, on the ground that the extra $5 subscription ought to be enough for the Association.

Professionalism.

The proposal to compel clubs to furnish evidence to the Executive that the officers of the club were not aware of the existence of professionalism would, it seems to me, lead to all kinds of complications. Managers of clubs have little compunction in making declarations, and the results would lead to a lot of friction. Every club is responsible for its members and the present rule has worked fairly well.

Clubs Defaulting.

Several clubs, when they got their home games on the second round defaulted, having been beaten at home and having no chance to win the round. For instance Morrisburg defaulted to Smith's Falls, after losing the game at home. Morrisburg refused to go back, and as a consequence were suspended. In Orangeville and Markham games were suspended. Orangeville for not playing the return game with Markham. There was no justification in either of the cases for the default. It was unfair, un-British, not to say an unmanly act, on the part of the defaulting clubs.

Just Some Closing Words.

I think that these valedictory remarks cover the ground, or rather the ice, to use a simile more appropriate to the game which it is our privilege and duty to govern.

I cannot take leave of my duties without saying a word or two in reference of the principle of amateurism.

Some of you gentlemen are nearer your school days than I am nearer mine. You can readily remember the copy book head-line, on which so many of us formed our calligraphy and our character. That head-line as I remember it, read "Honesty is the best policy."

That motto had a great run. It had been running for centuries when some young Canadian, who was tired writing the same old letters, pointed out that the head-line was all wrong—that honesty was not a policy—it was a principle. So I say to you that for the purposes of the O.H.A., amateurism in not a policy, it is a principle.

One Principle for O.H.A.

We may differ in regard to questions of policy. There may be one, two or a dozen policies for the advancement of hockey and the good government of the O.H.A. There can be only one principle, if the O.H.A. is an amateur organization. That principle is amateurism without reinstatement.

The O.H.A. has so far navigated a troubled sea, and the whole coast line of that sea is strewn with the wrecks of organizations that professed amateurism and practiced expediency.

We have had the Canadian Lacrosse Association that kept amateurism in its constitution. The C. L. A. professed amateurism with exceptions and mental reservations, and where is its amateurism to-day.

We have the O.H.A., and I make bold to say that we have tried to keep the amateur flag flying. We have never claimed the sovereign powers of the C. A. A. U.,—a body which is able to make professionals of amateurs or amateurs out of professionals.

We make no man a professional, and no man an amateur. The man makes himself a professional, and the O.H.A. should never unmake him.

The man who joins himself to the idols of professionalism should not be torn from his idols.

He goes wrong with his eyes open, and must abide by his own choice. He chooses his chain and should be content to play in it.

The O.H.A. is a great organization. You gentlemen average high in society, but the O. H. A. is not great enough, and you gentlemen are not smart enough to do as the C. L. A. has done, that is, to play fast and loose with the rule "once a professional, always a professional," and escape the fate that has overtaken these organizations.

Good Wishes for All.

Of all the words and acts of my career as your President, I have nothing to retract, in so far as these words or acts have been necessary to the defence of the principles for which the O.H.A. stands.

If my words or acts have unnecessarily jarred the feelings of anybody, I need not tell you that I surrender the trust that you have committed to me without ill-will to any and with good-will to all.

You, gentlemen, and your clubs, one and all, have been kind to me—kind beyond my deserts—kind beyond my merits—but not beyond my desire to do my duty.

The years I have spent as President of the O. H. A. will always be a green spot in my memory—yes, pleasant as the thought of summer-time amid the storms of a winter night.

The O. H. A. owes much to the newspapers in our jurisdiction. The sporting editors have been uniformly kind. Their utterances have rung true in every crisis.

I need not tell you how much the O. H. A. owes to the past officers, like Mr. A. H. Beaton, Mr. W. A. Buchanan, and others whose names will bear to go.

I must acknowledge my great indebtedness to Mr. Francis Nelson, who retires with me, and your efficient Secretary, Mr. W. A. Hewitt, who has been re-elected to the office which he filled so well. If I am to relearse the virtues of all my associates in the work, this address would be prolonged beyond mildog time. I trust that the coming years will raise higher the flag of the O.H.A. and widen its domain.

We have a great game—a great country and a great empire—if you gentlemen are as great as the possibilities of the O.H.A., if we Canadians are as great as the possibilities of Canada, and if we Britons are as great as the glory of our Empire—the flag of amateurism in your hands will be as safe from harm as the Union Jack was in the hands of your fathers and mine.

J. RUSS ROBERTSON,
President O. H. A.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Mr. W. A. Hewitt, the secretary, presented the report of the Executive Committee, extracts from which follow:

To the Members of the Ontario Hockey Association:

Gentlemen,—On behalf of your Executive Committee I beg to submit the report for the season of 1904-05, which was most successful in every respect. The association fully maintained its position as the largest hockey association in the world, and the most powerful amateur organization on the continent.

While the number of teams entered in the different series was less than the year before competition was keener and the association was favoured with the best seasons sport on record. There were 40 teams entered in the senior series, 28 in the intermediate and 20 in the junior series, making a grand total of 88 teams, 9 less than the year before. The record for the past ten years is appended:

Year.	No of teams.
1896	28
1897	43
1898	54
1899	53
1900	53
1901	56
1902	59
1903	72
1904	97
1905	88

The senior championship wins, for the second consecutive year, won by the Marlboros, of Toronto, and they are deserving of the heartiest congratulations upon their successful defence of the J. Ross Robertson Cup.

In the intermediate series there were 28 teams competing in the 12 districts. The championship was won by the Victoria Harbour team who defeated Berlin in the finals by 3 goals. The first game was played at Victoria Harbour, the home team winning by goals to 4. In the return game at Berlin the score was a tie, 2 goals all, so that Victoria Harbour carried off the championship by a total score of 8 goals to 6. Both teams played fine hockey, practically the senior brand; either could have held their own in the senior ranks.

Following the practice of previous years a number of change of residence permits were granted at the early meetings of the Executive, but none was granted after the first of the year. A resolution was passed and put on the minutes that it be a recommendation to this convention that no permits at all be granted this coming season. It seems that the Executive has really no power to grant such permits under the rules but had simply been following the custom of previous years.

For fraudulent representation of the age of Willie McLean, of Port Hope, three members of the Executive Committee of the Port Hope Club, viz.: N. R. Ralph, W. H. Gaby, Jr. and H. Southorp, and the player himself were suspended.

The association experienced an exceptionally good winter, only one team being blockaded for any length of time, Stratford Juniors being the unfortunates. All the games scheduled in the first round were played off without a single postponement, an extraordinary record. One game postponed from the first game of the year was completed in the requisite time. The association's share of the receipts from the final games enabled the association to show a satisfactory financial statement at this meeting.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

For the Executive,
W. A. HEWITT,
Secretary.

Treasurer's Statement.

Mr. A. W. McPherson, the treasurer, submitted his report the introduction to which follows:

To the Members of the Ontario Hockey Association:

Gentlemen,—I beg to submit the annual financial statement of the affairs of the association, showing in detail the receipts and expenditures from Nov. 20th, 1904 to Nov. 11th, 1905.

The receipts show the fees paid for the annual subscription of teams in the different series at $5.00 per team, and for the entrance of a club to the Association at $5.00 per club.

At the end of last year we had a balance to our credit in the Imperial Bank of Canada, Toronto, Head Office, Savings Department, of $1,106.58. After paying all our expenses I am able to report to-day a cash balance in the bank at the end of another year of $1,205.93, an increase of nearly $100 over last year. This year we were particularly fortunate in having a large increase in the receipts from final games. But had it not been for the third senior game at Peterborough we would be showing a decrease of $100, instead of an increase. Each year the expenditure increases, and although the receipts are larger, our expenses more than keep pace, so that our balance in the bank is not as large as it was three years ago.

A. W. McPHERSON,
Treasurer.

The Meeting Was a Fizzle

But the Horses Will Probably Come Together.

The arrangements for the matched race between Gradicator and Baldorf were not made at the meeting for that purpose held at the Munro House yesterday afternoon, Mr. H. A. Cooke, who represented the owners of Gradicator, and Mr. Mort Mitchell, part owner and advocate of the cause of Baldorf, could not agree concerning the terms. Mr. Cooke wanted the race pulled off on or before New Year's day and for $300 a side, but to this Mr. Mitchell objected. He desired the race to be held Dominion Day next a side bet of one thousand dollars.

Mr. Cooke said that he understood the race was to be for two hundred a side before the consultation at the Munro House took place at all. But Mr. Mitchell denied that this was the case.

"I've heard Peterborough was a good horse raising town, but I never could get a cent up here in any life," said Mr. Cooke.

"Oh, it's not the money that's troubling me," said Mr. Mitchell. "I simply simply want to get the consent of the other owners of the horse before the final arrangements are made."

There was considerable wrangling done over the matter, but nothing definite decided. A race for one hundred dollars a side to be held next week and also for another hundred on or before New Years were the terms advanced by the owners of Gradicator. After that his owners will back their horse for a thousand any time the owners of Baldorf feel like putting up the money.

Mr. Mitchell said that he was of the opinion that he could make arrangements for a race to suit the backers of Gradicator, namely: to race for a side bet of two hundred dollars or to split the purse and make two races out of it at the time proposed by the owners of Gradicator.

Hockey Is On The Boom

"Jigger" Clegg's Silkworms Will Enter the Ragtime League.

Hockey is looking up in the north. Manager "Jigger" Clegg has now a bunch together that will make any of them hustle in the Ragtime League. He has on his training strings the following players: George Remington, the Tomato brothers, Mike Belleghem, Billy Terry, an imported man from Loon Lake. Look out for the pulverized ice when he gets his old "springs" going over the frozen water; "Billy" Roundhouse, "Eagle Eye" Vinette, Dick Canning, Dave Flemming, "Dery" Vinette, liniment shark; Bill McKnight, goal post, and "Sandy" Trotter, inspector of rafters. The manager has his team out for a run every night. They start at the silk works and run down to the Ashburnham wharf and then take a "jump" in the lake. After the run home is completed they are put through their facings with a skipping rope, and then given a thorough rub down by Trainer McSorley. They also train an hour or so before breakfast. The team has practicing on artificial ice since last April and are said to be in good shape. The only trouble experienced so far is the disagreements of Tomato brothers and Canning, the lightning spare man. The first game will be played a week from Saturday with the Timberville University team, last year's champions of the Snowdrift League, on Vinegar Hill Ventilated Rink, at 6.30 a.m. Walter Fleischbeck, of the Blue Grass Business College, importer of green pigs, will be referee. There will be no admission and the funds will go towards buying stockings for the ping pong team. The colours of the silkworms are orange stockings and green sweaters with a yellow streak up the back. The referee for the game, "Moonshine" Whittaker, of Haystackville, will officiate on roller skates and in a full dress suit. A special lumber wagon has been secured for the trip, and the round trip tickets may be bought from Secretary Tomato for $7.50. The new member of the team, Charlie Coon, from Coboconk, is registered at Nesbitt's Hotel.

RUGBY.

Strenuous football is, it seems, no new thing. The ambulance and the surgeons were as necessary on the football field twenty-five years ago as to-day. In the Examiner of twenty-five years ago to-day is recorded the fact that Mr. R. S. Rogers had his leg broken in a football game in Port Hope. A gentleman informs the Examiner that in his college days, thirty-five years ago, he played in a match between Varsity team and a team of Toronto School of Medicine, in which three men were placed hors de combat — one with a broken arm, and one with a dislocated shoulder, and another with a broken leg, which rung out like a pistol shot, when a man's kick at the ball missed the sphere and struck a player's shins. It was not rugby in those days, but jes' as brutal as article.

* * *

An interesting game of rugby was played this morning between the Little Petes and Crescents III., the former winning by 40-15. The line up was:

Little Petes—Picard, back; White, half back; Donoghue, quarter back; Phelan, snap; Clevers, wing.

Crescents III.—Stratton, back; Osborn, half back; Richardson, quarter back; McIlmoyle, snap back; Armstrong, wing.

HOCKEY

There will, to all appearances, be something doing in Peterborough hockey circles this year and all that is required is for the citizens of the porridge town to knuckle down and give their boys true hockey support. To have a good team and a winning team in any town, it must have the support of the citizens. Don't be afraid to give the boys a dime to get them in readiness for the winter. —Lindsay Post.

BOXING AND WRESTLING.

Mr. Vale Agar, the well known local amateur featherweight wrestler, requests the Examiner to state that he did not figure in the wrestling bout mentioned in the columns of this journal a day or two ago. The sporting editor has been assailed with enquiries concerning the contestants, but the affair was strictly private and therefore "mum's the word."

The Statue Of Satan Shocks Detroit People

Herman Menz Publicly Shows His Contempt for the Christian Religion--Believes Man is Not a Created Being But Product of Evolution—Says He Believes in Satan But Not in God.

THE MONUMENT IN FRONT OF RESIDENCE

Detroit, Nov. 10.—To show his contempt for religion, Herman Menz, a contracting stonemason, this morning unveiled a statue of Satan, which he had erected himself, in front of his home, No. 306 Stanton Avenue. The neighbors knew he had been erecting something but were horrified when they found the nature of the work. Church-going people are freely expressing their indignation, and there are hints that the sacrilegious statue may be wrecked.

On the base of this statue is this inscription in a sort of dog-Latin:

"Homo non est creatio, sed evolutio, Deus non fecit hominem, sed homo fepst deos." (Man is not a created being, but the product of evolution. God did not make man, but man has made Gods.)

Menz has long been an avowed infidel, and last summer when evangelists were holding tent meetings he appealed to the City Council to have them stopped or licensed "like any other humbug."

Asked about his unique monument, he said he didn't believe in God, but did believe in the devil, so why shouldn't he erect a statue of him?"

The monument is fourteen feet high and stands on an elevation commanding a good view of the neighborhood. Satan is shown in a stooping posture behind a pulpit. He looks over the landscape with a fiendish glare, with his horns protruding from his head, carved in the stone in front of him is the big ugly fork.

Menz was born in Germany, but has lived here twenty-one years. He has a wife and two daughters who, he says, share his views.

Mr. S. Sager Will Remove

"Big Dipper" Manager Will Leave on Tuesday for Buffalo, N.Y.

Mr. S. Sager, manager of the Big Dipper Mining Company, accompanied by his son, Herman, will leave on Tuesday for Buffalo, N.Y.

They will be joined later by Mrs. Sager and family and will take up residence in the near future. The many friends of the family in Peterborough will greatly regret to learn of their departure.

Mr. Sager will give his personal attention to a large real estate business in the American city, with which he is now identified.

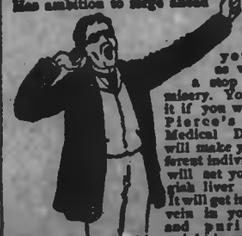
"Men Who Won" To-morrow

The second address of the "Men Who Won" series in Paul will be given at the Y.M.C.A. on Sunday at 4 o'clock, by Mr. N. A. Howard Moore, a prominent St. Andrew's Brotherhood man.

The orchestra will lead the song service, and a large and interesting meeting is expected.

DO YOU FEEL THIS WAY.

Do you feel all tired out? Do you sometimes think you just can't work away at your profession or trade any longer? Do you have a poor appetite, and lay awake at nights unable to sleep? Are your nerves all gone, and your stomach too? Has ambition to forge ahead left you in the world?



If so, you might as well put a stop to your misery. You can do it if you will. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will make you a different individual. It will set your sluggish liver to work. It will get into every vein in your body and purify your blood. It will set things right in your stomach, and your appetite will come back. If there is any tendency in your family toward consumption, it will keep that dread destroyer away. Even after consumption has almost gained a foothold in the form of a lingering cough, bronchitis, or bleeding at the lungs, it will bring about speedy cure in 98 per cent. of all cases. It is a remedy prepared by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., whose advice is given free to all who wish to write him. His great success has come from his wide experience and varied practice.

O. S. Copenhaver, Esq., of Mount Union, Huntingdon Co., Pa. (Box 102), writes: "About twelve years ago I was suddenly taken with a pain in the pit of the stomach which was so violent I could not walk straight. It would grow more severe until it caused waterbrash and vomiting of a biliary yellow water. A physician told me I had a form of dyspepsia and treated me for about six months with but little benefit. Another physician told me my liver was out of order and that I had indigestion. He gave me a treatment and I got some better but only for a short time. I then tried another one, who said I had chronic indigestion, ulceration of the lining of the stomach, torpid liver and kidney affection. He treated me for more than a year and I felt much better, but it did not last. I then took to using several widely advertised patent medicines, but received no more than temporary relief. I then tried Dr. Pierce's medicines, using his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and the 'Pleasant Pellets,' and in two months' time I was feeling better than I had for years before."

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP.

Andrew Carnegie Says the People Want It and Should Get It.

New York, Nov. 11.—Andrew Carnegie, upon disembarking yesterday from the steamer Baltic, said:

"I do not believe in the Socialist's idea of municipal ownership. All Great Britain's water, trams and sewage works are under public ownership. The line seems clear to me. The increase in value made by an increase in population should belong to the city. Now municipal ownership is a certainty, as sure as I am alive. Scotland and England are ahead of us in ownership of public property. A city should not give away a franchise that belongs to the people, but whether a city should offer it as a lease for a time is another affair. The lease given should be for as short a time as possible. The shorter the better. The ownership should always remain with the city. The people seemingly want municipal ownership and should get it."

No C.P.R. Protest.

Montreal, Nov. 11.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy denied yesterday the report that the C.P.R. had entered a vigorous protest against the alleged policy of the Government in according the Allan Line a ten year mail contract. The president explained that irrespective of the question of subsidy the policy of the C.P.R. intended to shorten the time between Britain and the Orient. This he added, was the reason their fast steamers had been built.

Jury Blames Druggist.

London, Nov. 11.—The jury in the death of the Indians, Job and Nicholas Antone, last night found they died from drinking the contents of a bottle of wood alcohol and arnica purchased from Tyrrill Duncombe, druggist, St. Thomas, "and that the said Duncombe was to blame for selling the said bottle and contents." Duncombe, who was called, said the liquor was secured as a liniment.

Now, why not have a Pandora?

Now we have shown you that the Pandora is a good range,
—that it is easily managed,
—that its grates are easily taken out and replaced without expense,
—that you can cook on the top and bake in the oven equally well at the same time,
—that it is the only range with a single piece enamelled steel reservoir,
—that it has the best broiling door,
—that it has an absolutely reliable thermometer,
—that it is most economical, because it does its work with least coal.

Now, why don't you have a "Pandora" and be certain you have the best range?

BOMBARDED WITH EGGS.

Montreal, Nov. 11.—Following a demonstration in the east end of the city Thursday evening, by which a hall was invaded and a French evangelist compelled to quit a meeting at which he was speaking, a demonstration taking the form of a small riot occurred on St. James street at 11 o'clock yesterday.

Those who made the attack on Evangelist Mage Thursday evening were largely Laval students, and Le Canada, in describing the affair in yesterday morning's issue, stated that it was a piece of "stupid vandalism." The Laval students invaded the business district yesterday morning to the number of two hundred or more. They marched along St. James street, and when opposite Le Canada office tore down the bulletin boards, of which they made a bonfire. They then proceeded to bombard the windows with eggs.

The students appeared to be satisfied with the damage which they had done, and marched away before a sufficient force of police appeared on the ground. No arrests were made. It is charged that Mage is a free-thinker, and not an evangelist. Thursday evening he spoke on "Christ in the Twentieth Century."

WALTON IN TORONTO AGAIN.

Brought Back From Buffalo on a Charge of Theft.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—Alexander R. Walton, aged 33, married, Grand Union Hotel, late of Birmingham, England, is the way it reads on the slate at No. 1 station. Walton is locked up on the charge of stealing a Masonic diamond pin from Ambrose Kent; a Masonic diamond ring and a diamond and opal ring from Ryrie Bros., and two suit cases valued at $110 from the Julian Sale Co. Nearly all these goods were brought back by Mackie. The jewelry had been pawned by Walton in Buffalo for $117.

Cast Blows Up and Two Men Hurt.

Dundas, Nov. 11.—Last evening a serious accident occurred in the moulding shop of the John Bertram machine factory. A cast, which was being run off, blew up, and ran over the mould. Ball was also burnt on his arms and face, but it is expected that they will recover.

A Century and Eleven

YEARS IS ALLEGED AGE OF

Protestant Home Inmate

Mrs. Badge, Securely Fastened in a Large Arm-Chair, Passes the Declining Days of a Long and Eventful Career—Husband Also an Inmate at the Home—Splendid Progress of This Charitable Institution—Inmates Now Number Twenty-four.

In the formost ranks of the charitable institutions of the city stands the Protestant Home. Ministering to the aged and infirm it has during the past years carried on the mission for which it foundats, unostentatiously, but nevertheless with the true Christian spirit and energy which accompanies a good cause.

The work during past years has in many of it's stages been prosecuted the face of much difficulty, but today finds as the net result of the efforts of the willing band of workers who have laboured in it's behalf with earnestness of purpose through it a period of distress and difficulty, an institution successfully carrying on a work in one of the most difficult as well as worthy fields of charitable labour.

A glance at the humble exterior of the building now utilized as the Protestant Home would scarcely lead the passing stranger to a conception of the cosy well-kept rooms within, which have furnished to many a weary and footsore traveller in life's journey a resting place, away from the "madding crowd," in which to conserve the ebbing strength of the years at dealing before the goal is reached. The same statement might indeed, in all truth be made of the 24 inmates who at present find shelter beneath the benevolent roof. Decrepit, and suffering from the ills of mind and body, what a depth of pathos is enfolded in the stories of "hope-deferred" and dreary [illegible] ambition hidden in the breasts of many an inmate of uncouth exterior.

Eleven years beyond the century mark, without strength to sit erect, and with mental capabilities impaired to a considerable extent, tells briefly the story of one life now ministered to by the benevolent hands of the Home officials for a brief space before it passes to the great beyond.

Born in England, one hundred and eleven years ago, according to the best authority obtainable, Mrs. Badge spent the days of happy girlhood, in that country, surrounded by the comforts of a happy home. Later she became the bride of her present husband, who, himself beyond the fourscore mark, remains to cheer her declining days with the companionship and love which has remained firm and unchangeable throughout the course of a long and eventful life.

Mrs. Badge now sits, all but unconscious of what is passing about her, tied in a large arm chair. The only data which are available, with regard to the almost incredible age which she is alleged to have reached, is the statement of her husband, and a jug, which was presented to her by her father at the age of 18 years, upon which is inscribed the date and circumstances of it's presentation. Mr. and Mrs. Badge resided for many years at Ida, Victoria County during a considerable portion of the time since their removal to Canada from England. They were removed to the Home about four years ago, the rest children of the aged couple reside in England.

The present conditions of the home under the careful and painstaking supervision of Miss Fraser, have the subject of much appreciative comment, who has during the past five years occupied the position of matron.

There are at present 24 inmates, the male portion being slightly larger than the female. A number have resided at the Home for a number of years, one having been there for fourteen years. A number of the inmates are over 80 years of age. Considerable difficulty is naturally experienced at times in dealing with those who are physically or mentally impaired, though during the past year, little trouble has, fortunately, been occasioned by reason of illness.

Considerable work has been done by both male and female inmates. The majority are of an industrious disposition, the yards upon yards of rag carpet in use in the building evidence the amount of work accomplished by the female inmates.

The rooms and corridors throughout the building present a bright and cosy appearance, and ample provision is made in every way for the comfort of the aged residents.

The frequent calls, and entertainment provided by various religious bodies as well as private individuals throughout the city, relieve the monotony which might under other circumstances exist. Regular calls are made by representatives of the King's Daughters, the Salvation Army, Christian Alliance and many other also. The kindness of Mrs. K. Barclay-Wilmot has also been highly appreciated by the inmates. Devotional service is held every afternoon, the clergymen of the local churches officiating in succession. Medical attendance is provided case of illness by the doctors of the city.

The House, notwithstanding the heavy expense for repairs, is now in an excellent position to carry on the work, but the facilities are unfortunately inadequate to meet the many demands for admission, and for this reason it's extension will be imperative in case the proposed House of Providence is not built. What action will be taken with regard to this matter has not yet been determined but will depend largely upon the result of the conference between representatives of the Home, the City and the County Council at the next meeting of the latter body.

Staple goods of every description, are marked down at Sutcliffe's department sale.

It is now declared that the Great American Desert contains 1,100,000 square miles or about one-third as many as Sahara. Sahara has no spot to compare with Death Valley, nor has it anything like the "mediaos," or white sand dunes, south of El Paso, each as high as the capitol at Washington.

An Excellent Paper Read By Miss McGrath

At the Regular Fortnightly Meeting of St. Peter's T.A.S. Literary Association Last Night—"Christian Womanhood" Was the Subject—One of the Most Interesting Meetings of the Association.

NEXT LECTURE ON INDIAN WOMEN

The Ladies' Literary Association, of St. Peter's T. A. S., held another successful meeting last evening, when Miss Kate McGrath read an excellent paper on "Christian Womanhood."

Miss McGrath's essay was a most praiseworthy effort, showing much careful preparation and much ability as an essayist.

Miss McGrath first dealt with Ideals; describing the efforts made by every Christian "to fashion himself after a picture of his imagination conformable to the idea he possesses of the beautiful," and which he ought to be able to attain, since he aspires towards it. The history of woman in pagan times, in the Old and New Testament, in the middle ages, after the 16th century and women of modern times was most completely dealt with and examples of noble women in each age were given. Then followed an account of the monastic life of women, which is as old as that of man. As rapidly as Christianity spread over the world, its precepts were joyfully accepted and its propagation sustained by women. Lamartine says that "nature has given women two painful but heavenly gifts, which distinguishes them, and often raises them above human nature —compassion and enthusiasm. By compassion they devote themselves; by enthusiasm they exalt themselves. It is in the conventual life, whether strictly contemplative or whether contemplative and benevolent, they find their first exercise. It was only natural that women should listen to the voice of God calling them to this state, but it was not natural to sever the domestic ties which nature had made and religion had blest. Nevertheless, women have made this sacrifice, as the convents which have been founded in every quarter in every century show.

Life in the world where the majority of women have to live, was next considered. The making of a perfect home; to make true men of their husbands and their sons; true women of the little girls growing up at their knees. All this women have in their power to do. "With His assistance who can never fail us when we do our best." The influence of the mother for good or evil, but especially for good to which she most inclines, is second to none that moves the heart of man. The essayist paid a splendid tribute to the working girl, "who is not too proud to earn her own living or to be taught at her daily tasks." Miss McGrath's discussion of "Woman's Rights" made it evident that she is not in favour of the movement. She said in part, "Women has everything to lose and nothing to gain in this movement, for, after all, men will manage affairs to suit themselves. The Almighty pronounced no idle decree when He said to woman "Thou shalt be under thy husband's power, and he shall have dominion over thee."

Miss O'Connell occupied the chair.

During the evening Miss M. Begley and Miss A. Heffernan delighted the audience with an instrumental duet, and had to respond to an enthusiastic encore; and a vocal solo by Miss V. Devlin was much appreciated by the large audience.

At the next meeting, on Friday evening, Nov. 24th, Mr. H. Burnham will lecture on "Indian Women."

Coming again.—Mark Street Church Bazaar, on Tuesday, next November 14th. Afternoon and Evening. Admission free. Supper Served 5:30 to 8 o'clock 25c. Musical Programme throughout.

He Was Boisterous At The G. T. R. Station

Two dollars and costs, $6.50 in all, is what it cost a man who came in from Lakefield Saturday night, for creating a disturbance on the G. T. R. station platform. The man objected to the station people handling his trunk roughly, and got in a mix-up with the baggageman and was rather roughly handled himself.

The Magistrate said that it was his intention to deal severely with these disorderly offenders, and imposed the fine as stated above.

"I've been in town," said Henry Brown.

"For just a day or two."

Henry, who was charged with vagrancy, stated that he was going to live with his son in Belleville.

"Have you got any money to take you there?" asked the court.

"No, sir," was the reply.

"How will you get there?"

"I'll walk," replied Hank.

"Well," said His Worship, "start your walk at once. If you ever come up before me again I'll have to give you a long term."

And Henry started out for the town where the "vags" bask in the sunshine on business thoroughfares.

"His father has been away with him at Indian River," she said.

"My little boy has been going there regularly," she said.

The case was dismissed.

Another man then proceeded to state his troubles to the Magistrate.

"If you'd keep sober there'd be no trouble at all. Your simply a nuisance; if you'd let whisky alone you would be better able to look after yourself."

The man was very persistent, however, and followed the Chief downstairs, still pestering him and repeating, "That's what you're paid for."

"Get out," said the Chief.

But the troublesome one didn't relish getting out of the police office, so the Chief ejected him therefrom.

It was like a police station in the city of New York, this morning. There has been "nothing doing" for the last few days, and the donation made up for the slumps in criminal circles.

"They've been trying to poison me again," said an old lady to the Chief, after the leechlike troubled one, who was known the colour of the pavement, had been given his ticket of leave.

"Let it again!" said the Chief.

"Yes, at it again," she said, in jocular manner, that surprised the scribe.

"They tried morphine, chloroform, strychnine and everything else," said the complainant.

"You must have a good constitution," timorously ventured the curious scribe.

The poisonings are undoubtedly imaginary. In the last house the "non-poisonous" lady boarded, they touched her for a watch chain and gold ring.

"Took it right out of my drawer," she said.

Debate In The French Chamber Was Heated

Result French Minister of War Has Resigned.

THE SITUATION INTOLERABLE

For a Time Entire French Cabinet Hung in the Balance, and Premier Rouvier Announced That He Was Prepared to Give Up Power Until Supported by Substantial Majority—Opposition's Vote.

Paris, Nov. 11.—The Rouvier Ministry met with its first check yesterday when M. Berteaux, Minister of War, peremptorily withdrew from the Ministerial benches, during an angry debate in the Chamber of Deputies, and thereafter announced his resignation. For a time the entire Cabinet hung in the balance, and Premier Rouvier announced the readiness of himself and his colleagues to give up power until they were supported by a substantial majority. After a debate of exceptional violence a motion favorable to the Ministry prevailed by a vote of 310 to 147.

However, the Ministerial majority is made up of fractions of divergent groups, and the future of the Cabinet remains in doubt.

The Premier later went to the Elysee Palace and requested President Loubet to call a special Cabinet Council today at which M. Berteaux's successor will be decided upon, and at which also a further rearrangement of the Cabinet will be considered. M. Etienne, now Minister of the Interior, is mentioned as the most probable successor to M. Berteaux, M. Thomson, Minister of Marine, succeeding M. Etienne. Gen. Langlois and Gen. Brun also are mentioned for the war portfolio, but the Socialists threaten not to support the Ministry if a general be chosen head of the War Office.

M. Berteaux last night said his resignation was not intended to embarrass the Ministry, but that he was unable to tolerate the humiliating position of the Ministry, is being dependent upon the opposition groups in the Chamber.

The crisis does not involve any important issue, but results from the breaking up of the groups of which the Ministry has heretofore relied.

NAVAL ENSIGN FROM CANADA.

Princess Louise Proud to Present It to Battleship Dominion.

London, Nov. 11.—(C. A. P.)—On presenting to the navy, on behalf of the Toronto Chapter of Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, the silk ensign for the battleship Dominion, Princess Louise said: "I am proud to make this presentation of them."

Earl Cawdor, the First Lord of the Admiralty, in accepting, said he was glad to receive it, and hoped that when the flag was flying some day Her Royal Highness would grace the ship with her presence. She bowed in acquiescence. To Lord Strathcona she said she hoped he would tell the Toronto Daughters of the Empire how proud she was to be chosen for the occasion.

U. S. Mines For Puget Sound.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 11.—To map out locations on Puget Sound for mines and torpedo stations the members of the torpedo defence board made a three days' trip of inspection of the various bodies of water. It is understood that mine equipment costing in the neighborhood of $500,000 and now stored near Fort Ward will be used.

Two Conservatives Elected In Alberta

Unparalleled Liberal Sweep in the New Province---Tory Party Annihilated--Even the Labour Candidate at Pincher Creek Gives Way Before Marcellus' 120 Majority--Rosebud Only Sure Thing for the Opposition--Conservatives Making Strong Efforts to Hold Calgary.

Calgary, Nov. 11.—As the smoke of Thursday's battle clears away, and the final returns from the outlying polls in various constituencies are received, the decisiveness of the Conservative defeat becomes more apparent. The party as a political factor in provincial affairs has been annihilated, the rout being almost without a parallel in Canadian Provincial politics. It is doubtful if even two Conservatives have been returned.

Rosebud seems to be the only sure thing for the Opposition, with High River a possible second seat.

Even Mr. Sherman, the Labor candidate in Pincher Creek, whose election was conceded Thursday night, has been beaten by the final returns, which give Marcellus (Liberal) a substantial majority of 120.

Lacombe, which has been in doubt, has gone Liberal, as expected, Mr. Puffer having 52 majority, with four polls to hear from, which will increase his lead. In Leduc Mr. Telford has 200 majority, and his opponent will lose his deposit. Griesbach shares the same fate in Edmonton.

Banff was probably the most creditable victory, where Mr. Fisher triumphed over all the influence of the C. P. R. and the dead set of the Conservatives, and won by 110 votes. This is the first time Banff ever gave a Liberal majority.

The Conservatives will make a strong attempt to hold Calgary. In Alberta there is no voters' list or registration, the franchise being exercised by anyone who will take the oath. Scrutineers may challenge votes, and in such cases the ballot is sealed up and not counted until the voter proves his qualification in court. There are 350 such ballots, and on these the hopes of the Conservatives are pinned. Liberals, however, expect to get an even break.

Some of the majorities are: Strathcona, Rutherford, 300; Edmonton, Cross, 550; Cardston, Woolf, 175; Banff, Fisher, 139; Red Deer, Moore, 29; Medicine Hat, Finlay, 50; Calgary, Cushing, 25; Gleichen, C. Stuart, 46, with one poll to hear from; Pincher Creek, Marcellus, 120; Sturgeon, Boyle, about 300; Peace River, Dubuc, probably elected by acclamation; Lethbridge, Deveber, 156; two polls to hear from; Rosebud, Clarke, small majority; Innisfail, Simpson, small majority; Vermillion, McCauley, 153; Leduc, Telford, 200.

PRESIDENT HEGEMAN AGAIN.

Examination Not Concluded In Insurance Inquiry When Adjournment Came — Valuable Figures.

New York, N. Y., Nov. 11.—Closing the sessions of the week yesterday the Armstrong committee of insurance investigation has received a mass of detail and figures, which, while apparently of little interest to the laity, is declared to be of inestimable value to the committee. The greater part of the week has been devoted to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., the examinations of President Hegeman and James M. Craig, the actuary of the company, being of a technical nature. When adjournment was taken yesterday the committee had not finished the examination of President Hegeman.

Press Puffers on the Stand.

Just before adjournment Mr. Hegeman was excused, and Joseph Howard, Jr., a writer, who has been employed by the Mutual Life, identified vouchers that he had signed for money received for writing advertisements and reading notices for the company. Mr. Howard afforded much amusement by his declaration that his only regret was that he could not sign more of these vouchers. His sole complaint was that he was not paid enough for his work. This, too, was the complaint on the witness stand of Chas. Smith, who also does writing for the Mutual Life and receives $3,000 a year for it.

A "Dirty Trick."

Mr. Howard said he had been employed 30 or 40 years by the Mutual Life, but the vouchers went back only to 1899. There were ten of these vouchers, aggregating $16,625. Mr. Howard denied that he had ever sent any despatches by wire, and was emphatic in his assertion that he had never written a line about insurance for any paper on which he was employed, and characterizing such an act as a "dirty trick."

LORD'S DAY ALLIANCE.

Nothing Accomplished During Year In Way of New Sunday Laws.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—About fifty members of the Ontario Lord's Day Alliance convention were present at the meeting yesterday in the Y. M. C. A. lecture room.

A lengthy review of the year was given by President J. K. Macdonald, who said the fact that nothing had been accomplished during the year in the way of legislation was a serious disappointment.

A resolution was passed urging the Provincial Government to legislate upon the subject of Sunday rest by enacting legislation which shall, by title and preamble, clearly show its object to be of a civil character, shall restrict to the other six days employment upon electric railways, as being local undertakings within the province, and shall provide for enforcement by enabling the Attorney-General, on behalf of those whose rights are protected, to secure an injunction against the corporation operating the railway and by such other means within the provincial authority as the Government may think necessary.

It was also agreed that the Ontario legislation, in addition to advancing upon legislative lines by the province, should unite with the Dominion Alliance in securing Dominion legislation.

In the afternoon the officers were elected.

Whirled Around Fly Wheel.

Winnipeg, Nov. 11.—William Watt, fireman of the city asphalt plant, was killed yesterday afternoon by getting caught in a belt and drawn round the fly wheel. Fellow workmen discovered the mangled body.

Destroy "Queer" Money.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Counterfeit bank notes in the sum of $255,000; "queer" coins, in the amount of $49,000, and $50,000 worth of dies, plates, milling machines and other machinery and appliances for making counterfeit money were destroyed Thursday by order of the Treasury Department.

New York's Water Supply.

New York, Nov. 11.—The plans for obtaining water from the Catskill region for Greater New York at an expense of over $160,000,000 have been accepted for consideration by the state.

JEWISH MASSACRE PLANNED.

Authorities Suppress the Disorders At Cronstadt—60,000 Killed and Wounded in the Recent Riots.

Cronstadt, Nov. 11.—The mutiny here is entirely suppressed. The mutineers who were holding out in the eastern section of the town have been arrested. The disorderly elements are under thorough control.

During the rioting the Government treasury which was surrounded by a deep moat filled with water was only saved from the mob of mutineers and rowdies by the removal of the bridges.

Massacre Planned.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 11.—Stories are being industriously circulated that a regular St. Bartholomew massacre of the Jews and Intellectuals has been planned by the "Black Hundred" of St. Petersburg for Saturday night.

Russian Casualties, 50,000.

The number of killed and wounded in the recent riots exceeds 50,000, the majority of them being Jews. Twenty-eight cities have been the scenes of terrible outbreaks and many thousands are roofless. Homes, offices, shops and synagogues were pillaged and burned.

RUSSIA AS LANSDOWNE SEES IT.

Thinks It Will Prevent Further Outrages on the Jews.

London, Nov. 11.—Foreign Secretary Lansdowne, replying yesterday to an appeal of the executive committee of the Zionist organisation of Cologne, asking for British intervention for the prevention of further outrages on the Jews in Russia telegraphed as follows:

"His Majesty's Government greatly deplores the sufferings of your co-religionists and have reason to believe that the Russian Government is making every effort to bring the lamentable disorders to an end."

PLEASANT BATTENBERG.

New York Captivated By His Democratic Demeanor.

New York, N. Y., Nov. 11.—Rear-Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg has made many friends by his democratic manner during his stay here.

There were three scheduled events on Prince Louis' program yesterday, the first being a luncheon at Governor's Island with Brig.-Gen. Grant. This was an elaborate affair, and a distinguished company was there to meet the prince and his party. The prince was received at the landing with military honors.

After luncheon the prince attended a brilliant reception at the New York navy yard, where Rear-Admiral Coghlan was the host.

Last night the prince and 250 officers of the two squadrons were the guests of the Naval Academy Association at a magnificent banquet at the Waldorf Astoria.

The prince will go to West Point today on the steamer C. M. Morse, accompanied by the ranking officers of the two squadrons. He will witness the football game between West Point and Carlisle Indians, and after the game will return to New York on a special train in time to attend the dinner to be given by Col. and Mrs. Robert M. Thompson.

Dominion W. C. T. U.

Hamilton, Nov. 11.—The delegates to the convention of the Dominion W. C. T. U., which opened in First Methodist Church yesterday morning, are all stirred up over the Mormon question, and they passed this resolution: "In view of the startling revelations with regard to the rapid inroads of Mormonism, with all its degrading tendencies, into our young nation, particularly in the Northwest Territories, resolved that we, the Dominion W. C. T. U., memorialize the highest court of appeal in all ecclesiastical bodies in Canada, that at the earliest possible opportunity they thoroughly investigate this matter and take what immediate steps they in their wisdom see fit to effectively prohibit this revolting state of affairs." The ladies also decided to write to Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of the Interior, on the question, calling his attention to the fact that despite the Canadian prohibition of polygamy, facts in their possession led them to believe that the prohibition was not regarded.

Midway, B.C., Nov. 11.—Late Thursday afternoon there were five hundred men in a mix-up, which occurred between the Great Northern and C.P.R. gangs. The Canadian Pacific men tore up the track and bent the rails of the V., V. & E. Contractor Johnston and Manager Keanedy, for the Great Northern, were in Midway yesterday, asking for police protection.

Efforts are being made to close the saloons, and the Provincial police are making a search of all men for concealed weapons.

WOMAN'S WORLD

MISS BERYL H. CLARKE.

She Is Probably the Only Blind Librarian in the World.

The unique distinction of being the only blind librarian in the world, so far as is known, is enjoyed by a Brooklyn woman, a worker in a Brooklyn library. She is Miss Beryl H. Clarke, who has charge of the library for the blind connected with the Pacific branch of the Brooklyn Public library.

Miss Clarke has been sightless since she was five years old. She has spent most of her life among people afflicted like herself, and at the time of her appointment as assistant librarian to take charge of the library for the blind in Brooklyn she was engaged in the work of teaching the blind children who had come under the care of the International Sunshine society.

Even now Miss Clarke is almost as much a teacher as she is a librarian. She devotes two days of the week to teaching the blind who have become interested in the library organized for their benefit how to read.

The city has no more earnest worker than Miss Clarke. It probably has no more efficient librarian, even handicapped as she is. It certainly has no more enthusiastic librarian. She entered upon her work with a determination to interest every blind person in Brooklyn in the library in charge of which she has been placed, and her work is beginning to show results. Of the thousand sightless persons in Brooklyn nearly a hundred are members of the library for the blind.

The library for the blind is open on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays from 2 to 6 p. m. On Mondays and Thursdays Miss Clarke goes about among the members of the library who are just learning to read, teaching them how to master the raised point print.

Miss Clarke has pupils of all ages. One of her pupils is a man fully sixty years of age, who has been blind only a couple of years.

Miss Clarke is the friend of every patron of the library. She takes particular interest in those she is teaching how to read. She is always on the lookout for books that will interest this woman or that man and is never so happy as when her readers come back to her after they have had a book for a week or so and tell her they were satisfied.

Miss Clarke knows every book in the library, for she has catalogued them herself. Not only that, but she knows on what shelf every book is located and in nine cases out of ten can lay her hand on the particular spot where the book is or where it should be. Considering that there are 500 books in the library, this in itself is no mean accomplishment.

Floors Should Not Be Oiled.

"A floor oiled is a floor spoiled," declares a man whose business it is to care for parquetry and stained woods and whose word is therefore to be relied upon.

"Too many women go in for oiling any sort of wood which had been stained and varnished. I don't in the least mind telling them they are all in the wrong.

"Wax is the best of all floor polishes. It may be used and is indeed best used without having first applied varnish, simply being rubbed over the stained surface. Prepared wax is put up in cans and looks like pomatum olive polish. It is applied in just the same way—that is, smeared over the floor surface, allowed to dry slightly and then polished with heavy flannel cloths or mops which are to be bought for the purpose.

"As for oil, it must never be used on any floor. It does not cleanse, but carries the dust and dirt into the wood as it becomes absorbed.

"If a shellac surface finish is used a floor may be wiped up with a mixture of water and milk, half and half, and dried with a clean flannel cloth. The milk has sufficient grease to cause a polish, and it is not the 'dirt carrier' that oil is said to be. Wax is not always satisfactory if applied over shellac surfaces. It is apt to cake and peel off after a time. Therefore the 'milk and water diet' is recommended for such floors."

Secret of Style.

A girl sees a pretty fashion plate. She has it copied by a good dressmaker. The dress is put on, it is good and expensive, but where is the style? The wearer is young; she has a pretty face. What is it that makes her look ordinary, commonplace? She stoops. Another girl has an inexpensive dress. She has such a look of thoroughbred that if she speaks people listen. At each turn of her head one sees a new beauty in her face. Wherever she moves our eyes follow her. What is it which makes all she wears look well? It is the true dignity and ease of her carriage.

Home Anniversaries.

The happiest households are those that do not let die out the sentiment connected with various anniversaries. Although gift giving or recognition of such events in a suitable way may be out of the question owing to the straitened circumstances of those "within the gates," there can yet be a little air of festivity when mother's or father's birthday comes round or some wedding anniversary is to be celebrated. An extra dish, a little bunch of flowers or some special music prepared for the occasion will show the kindly spirit and the loving remembrance that count far more than the money value of any gift. As the children grow up if these festivals are encouraged they will have much to look forward to and much more to remember in the years to come when they go out to do battle with the world and find that sentiment is crushed under foot and affection is regarded only as a side issue.

Overdressed Children.

An overdressed child is to be pitied. Because you have money do not inflict the burden of too much dress upon your little girl. The wife of a doctor who has money is the subject of great and unfavorable comment because of the manner in which she dresses her little daughters. They look like walking advertisements for some child's furnishing department. It is a great mistake, since it displays neither good taste nor good judgment. If you have money, dress the children well. If you would manifest good taste, dress them simply, as becomes little children, and teach them to forget they are wearing fine clothes even while you cultivate the proper pride for neatness and cleanliness.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Fine Carpets.

A good authority on Wilton and Axminster carpets tells us that they should never be swept with a straw broom. The corners and edges should be cleaned with a stiff hairbrush and the rest of the floor gone over with a good carpet sweeper. Oriental rugs should never be beaten on the line, but should be swept in the direction of the nap. If very dirty they ought to be laid, face downward, on the porch or grass, beaten with a rattan beater as they lie and then turned and swept on the right side.

Diseased Gums.

Diseased gums, which cause the teeth to loosen and sometimes recede leaving the neck of the tooth painfully exposed, are due to several causes, but every effort should be made to cure them. "Riggs' disease," a condition when the gums recede so that a tooth is finally just plucked out with the fingers, is the most dreaded of all dental troubles, and any tendency in that direction should be checked. Tonic tooth powders and astringent lotions are helpful.

One of the Small Helps.

The suggestion to cut a piece of cardboard to fit over door knobs and bell handles and keep it for use while polishing these accessories is one of the small helps in the running of the domestic machine. By this means the smudgy appearance of the woodwork about the plates, which is acquired during the polishing process, will be eliminated.

Earl Grey's Speech Makes Deep Impression

Canadians Should Not Only Aim at High Ideals, But Should Inspire Others to Strive for Purity in Social and Political Life — Address Delivered In Winnipeg, But For Canadians Everywhere.

Probably no speech ever delivered in Winnipeg by a representative of the Crown produced a deeper impression than that which Earl Grey made before the Canadian Club during his recent visit to that city. His theme was the uplifting of civic politics and the need for eradicating social as well as agricultural weeds. In the course of that speech His Excellency said:

"I am glad that I have been able to accept the invitation from your club. I have accepted it because I am aware that the Canadian Club is composed of men of all parties, whose one object is the advancement of the public good. I believe it is the ambition of the members of the Canadian Club of Winnipeg to win a high place for the Dominion in the British Empire, and to win a high place for the British Empire in the great confraternity of civilized nations. That, I understand, is the grand and the noble ambition which stirs the young and resolute hearts of the members of this club. That being so, I might quote, I think, with absolute appropriateness, that well-known stanza from Macaulay's "Lays of Ancient Rome," which might almost have been dedicated to the members of this club:

"When none were for a party
And all were for the State.
When the rich man served the poor man,
And the poor man loved the great,
When lands were fairly portioned
And spoils were fairly sold,
And Romans were as brothers
In the brave days of old."

True Citizenship.

"When I see such a large assembly of gentlemen of Winnipeg, who have come here as members of a club which has been created to advance and promote the public well-being, not in the interests of any party, but of the State, I do not think I am wrong in assuming that they are animated by the same spirit which moved the ancient Romans in the brave days of old. At the same time, I do not wish to pretend to take up the attitude that it is wrong to belong to any party. On the contrary, I remember that the laws, I think of Sparta, decreed that the men who refused to take one side or the other when a point of high principle, affecting the national well-being, was at stake, should receive the death penalty.

"Well, having been a party politician myself, and a very keen one when great issues were at stake, I confess I have some sort of sympathy with the spirit which inspired that rather drastic law. But I confess I have still greater sympathy with one of the greatest Canadians the Dominion has ever produced, one of the most inspiring orators and political teachers the British Empire has ever produced, I refer to the Nova Scotian, Joseph Howe, when he said, he hoped he might live to see the day when the question asked of every politician would be not "to which party do you belong?" but "what great public improvement do you mean to advocate, and to which great public measure, tending to advance the public welfare of the people, are you pledged?"

Few Things Impossible.

"Now, Mr. Chairman, if this Canadian Club is in favor, and resolutely and earnestly in favor, of the application of any great moral principle to the conduct of public affairs, such as sweeping away corruption and self-interest out of the public service, then I say these Canadian Clubs of Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal and Ottawa can do it. It is a favorite belief of mine, which has been confirmed by experience more and more every day, that there are few things which are impossible to the man who is really in earnest. I heard a most encouraging and inspiring sentence from Dr. Herridge, the great Presbyterian preacher in Ottawa, who said: 'In the region of high endeavor there is absolutely no limit to the ultimate horizon of a sworn purpose.'

"If you study the lives of such men as Father Damien, Charles Gordon, Cecil Rhodes, General Booth and Dr. Barnardo—all men practically of my own generation, you will realize that there is a divine force in each of you which, if you will only let it grow, will enable you to remove mountains.'

Dr. Barnardo.

"I cannot mention Dr. Barnardo's name without giving expression to the grief which has caused Canada to stand as one of the chief mourners by the grave side of one of the greatest benefactors either Canada or England ever had. A Spaniard by birth, a British citizen by adoption, Dr. Barnardo, by the strength of the Divine power which worked within him, was able, absolutely single-handed, and without any advantages to help him, to carve a way into the region of practical benevolence, and to find a haven in Canada for thousands of friendless children who, but for his helping hand, would, instead of becoming good citizens of the Dominion, have been swept by the force of circumstances for which they had no responsibility whatever, over the moral falls of Niagara.

"I hope Winnipeg may one day be able to give artistic expression to the lessons to be learned from Dr. Barnardo's life, and I say that because I believe there is no part of the world which has benefited so much from his benevolence as has the Province of Manitoba.

"The story of the penniless Spaniard working for lost humanity and for Canada from the standpoint of a citizen of London, supplies a vivid and graphic illustration of what the British Empire means to all who recognize in it the most potent instrument that has ever been created for assimilating the virtues of mankind from whatever race they spring, and for using them as a force for the regeneration of the world.

Prey of Boodlers.

"This Canadian Club, composed as it is of men whose first ambition is to serve the State, and to help every movement outside party lines which can advance and promote the national well-being, is the greatest guarantee any city can obtain that its life shall continue to be high, noble and cultured, and that the energy of its citizens shall be directed to noble ends. For the want of such institutions as this many English-speaking cities have become the prey of boodlers and grafters, of men who have sought public positions with the sole object of obtaining as much as they could out of them, with no idea of serving the public, the only idea being to serve themselves. It is, I say, for the want of such clubs as this that this sort of men have been able to direct the politics of many cities, and to become the vampires and not the guardians of the people whose trust and confidence they have betrayed.

"I have been delighted to see in driving about Winnipeg a most inspiring command, "Citizens protect your property." At every turn of the city, through all your beautiful boulevards, I have seen this injunction, and have said that at any rate this city is safe, for its citizens may be relied on to protect their own pockets and taxes as well as the grass and flowers which adorn your streets.

Good Out of Chicago.

"I would remind you that the resolute action of a few fearless citizens in Chicago and other cities, has cleared the pirate gangs of boodlers and grafters out of their City Councils, and that a few private citizens have been able to rouse a wave of civic enthusiasm which has swept corruption out of their cities. I say, if it has been possible for a few men to do this, it stands to reason that a club such as yours will be strong enough to prevent the evil of corruption from ever showing her loathsome and leprous visage in your midst.

"Last week, riding through your beautiful wheat fields, I noticed here and there a field which was evidently intended by the farmer for wheat, but which appeared to be a much finer crop of thistles and weeds than the wheat he hoped to reap. The farmer had not destroyed the noxious weeds at the right time. It is the business of a Canadian Club, to whatever city it belongs, to prevent the thistles and the noxious weeds overrunning their city by extirpating them before they become too numerous.

"It is an obvious truism that no such period of national history is so solemn or important as its dawn. Every day of the early life of a man or of a nation is fixing in permanent features the character of its future complexion, and your Canadian Club can, if it chooses, secure for your city a character which will make its influence great for good, not only throughout the Dominion, but the whole of the British Empire.

A Lot to Learn.

"I have been told that the many nationalities you have in Winnipeg may be a weakness. I prefer to regard it as a strength. I think it was Ruskin who said: 'In every moment of our lives we should be trying to find out, not in what we differ from other people, but in what we agree with them.' And so, I think it would be conduct in accordance with that suggestion, and wise, too, to try and seek out the virtues which distinguish the various races of which the fair Dominion of Canada is composed.

"We have all a lot to learn from each other, and if we look for it, I dare say we will find something to be copied in the Galician, the Frenchman, the German, the Scandinavian, the Englishman, the Irishman and even the Scotchman. Fuse all those virtues together, and roll them into one good Canadian.

"I am glad to meet the members of your club, because I believe it is your aim and ambition to develop your nationality on the highest possible lines, and that a people can only be great in proportion as they develop this principle of nationality. I hope it may become through the action of this club, that it may be the glory of the City of Winnipeg to be an influence which shall make itself felt throughout the whole of Canada for all that is highest and best in the national life, and that from Winnipeg shall issue a force which shall inspire the people to keep high ideals constantly before them; ideals which shall require them to esteem honor before success, the spirit of sacrifice and service above that of selfishness and greed, and the cult that makes for true nobility and efficiency, rather than the pursuit of pleasure and the gratification of self-indulgence.

High Ideals.

"I would ask the members of this club to aim at having in Winnipeg the best schools, the best churches, the best music, the best art, the best newspapers and the best literature in the Dominion, and to spare no effort and no money to arrive at those possessions. This may seem difficult to obtain. It is certainly a high ideal to aim at, but as I believe in the omnipotence of a club like this, if you only have the right spirit among you, and I am confident if you only have one man in this room who is really in earnest in striving for these results, that he will leaven the whole lump, and that you will reach the ideal which I have attempted roughly to lay before you."

University Not "Godless."

Toronto is wont to be classed as a "godless university" by a number of individuals who should know better. As a matter of fact, she is exceedingly solicitous for the spiritual welfare of her children. Her connection with the theological colleges doubtless has done much to counteract the negative attitude which she is compelled to adopt towards questions of creed, but in various ways she contributes indirectly to the religious life of the undergraduate. Courses in religious knowledge, Bible training and Church history have recently been added to the curriculum, and students have the option of taking these at the college of their own denominations. Another method which has been followed with eminent success is the delivering of university sermons. Famous preachers who are in a special manner adapted to an audience of university men are secured at frequent intervals. Last Sunday Rev. Prof. Kilpatrick, of Knox College addressed the students in Wycliffe Convocation Hall. On Nov. 1 Rev. Dr. Sills, of Kingston, Bishop of Ontario, will [illegible]

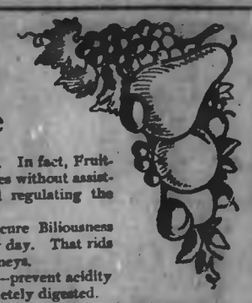
When That Biting Pain Tells of Kidney Disease



Fruit-a-tives are the first step in the cure. In fact, Fruit-a-tives will cure ordinary Kidney Troubles without assistance. They do this by cleaning and regulating the whole system.

"Fruit-a-tives" stir up the liver—cure Biliousness—make the bowels move regularly every day. That rids the system of poisons that affect the Kidneys.

Then Fruit-a-tives correct digestion—prevent acidity of the stomach—insure food being completely digested.

It is by their cleansing, purifying, curative powers on the other organs that Fruit-a-tives have such a healing, soothing effect on sick kidneys.

"I have been troubled lately with my back and kidneys and have received great benefit from taking Fruit-a-tives. I am getting along so well that I intend to continue with Fruit-a-tives until I am cured. I recommend them to my friends."

MRS. JOHN FOX, Cobourg, Ont.

If you have those sharp, shooting pains in the back—if the urine is scant and scalding—if you are bilious or constipated—cure yourself with

CANADA'S INFLUENCE.

Even Dan Patch Has the Warm influence of a Canadian Thoroughbred in His Veins.

Dan Patch's exhibition in Toronto recently, when he paced a mile on a half-mile track in 2.06, was a revelation to the thousands who saw it, for such speed has never before been displayed in Canada. At the same time the only family of pacers that can be depended on to breed true to type was founded by a Canadian horse. Moreover, in Dan Patch himself there is at least one Canadian ancestor, for he traces back to Vermont Black Hawk, a Morgan horse, whose dam was bred in New Brunswick. Indeed, it has been claimed that the famous Morgan family was of Quebec origin, although more recent investigations tend to discredit this theory. Nevertheless, there is the warm blood of a Canadian thoroughbred in the veins of Dan Patch, and horsemen of this country may well take a peculiar interest in the world's champion light harness horse.

There is one great pacing family famous for its fast, game horses, and it is this line that had its origin in Canada. Tom Hal was the founder of the Hal family, and he was born about 30 years ago. Bought by a Philadelphia man, he was taken to Kentucky whence his descendants spread all over the South, especially in Tennessee. Year after year they come to the races and carry off the big prizes, and among them may be mentioned Star Pointer, Hal Pointer, Direct Hal, Hal Direct, Morning Star, Angus Pointer, and Walter Direct. Besides sending to the Grand Circuit these great pacers, the Hal family has also contributed largely to the formation of the Kentucky saddle horse. So it will be seen what a tremendous debt the horse-breeding industry of the United States owes to the old, roan pony known to fame as Tom Hal.

Another pacer that was destined to have a tremendous influence upon the breeding of trotters and pacers in the United States was foaled in Canada several years after Tom Hal had been taken to Kentucky. This was a fast and powerful black horse known as Pacing Pilot. He was bought in the Lower Provinces by a peddler, and was taken as far south as New Orleans, before he was finally established in Kentucky. Pilot was a resolute horse, and had done a mile under saddle in 2.26, a notable performance in those days. His most distinguished son was Pilot Jr., a square-gaited, grey trotter, foaled in 1844. He proved to be the most successful progenitor of trotting speed of his day, but his fame rests upon the superlative excellence of his daughters. Among them was Miss Russell, the dam of Maud S., for years a champion trotter, and a son was Nutwood, founder of the family named after him. A distinguished great-grandson of the old Canadian pacer was Jay-Eye-See, the first trotter to take a record of 2.10. Peter the Great, the sire of Miss Wilks' unfortunate mare, Sadie Mac, was also a descendant of Pilot.

One might fill a page with the names of fast horses that trace back to Canadian sources, but mention will be made only of two Canadian families, now practically extinct. One was the Copperbottom family, whose most distinguished scion was Swigert, and the other the Royal George family. The founder of the latter house used to be the champion of Canada, at the three miles mixed, viz., one mile walk, one mile trot, and one mile run. He was a famous quarter-mile runner, and sired Palermo, one of the early winners of the Queen's Plate. The best of his trotting descendants was Thomas Jefferson, who was a champion thirty years ago, and beat such renowned horses as George Wilkes, Maybrino Gift, and Smuggler.

Enough has been said to show that at a time when good horses were few, and the science of breeding them undeveloped, the horsemen of Canada produced trotters and pacers as good as the best in the United States, without whom the whole breed would be the poorer. In the past few years there has been a revival of interest in the subject, and again Canadian-owned and Canadian-bred trotters and pacers are coming to the front. Judging by the past, there is no reason why this country should not in the future exert an influence on the trotting turf as potential as that exercised by the breeders in Kentucky, Ohio, or Tennessee.

Passing With the Summer.

That autumn seems incomplete in which the wild geese steal away unobserved, says a writer in The Toronto Globe. The rigid angle of black dots moving steadily southward, with the apparent slowth of distance, across the grey and drifting sky, has a fascination that grows stronger from year to year. The passing of these migrants is awaited with the keenest interest as the time of their appearance draws near, and their open right of way is examined throughout the shortening days in eager expectancy. The warblers, flying by night, move about among the half-naked branches with desultory activity through the day, as if to renew the acquaintance of the spring before taking their departure. The song sparrow and the white throat may even venture a few familiar notes to recall the season of awakening life. But the wild geese pass in the open day, cheered on their thousand-mile journey by the lingering brightness of the sun and guided by an impulse as true as the needle to the pole. They are indifferent to the city's smoke and vapors, and sometimes pass over so low that their outstretched necks and rotund bodies are plainly visible, and the distended quills of their steady, undulating wings make a clear pattern against the clouds.

Class-Room Humor.

The surprising answers given by school children have long been a source of merriment to those who examined their papers, but it is doubtful whether they could be any funnier than the little mistakes which occur daily in the class-room.

It happened last week in the composition class of one of our biggest city schools, says The Toronto Star. Nellie was reading her essay, which at times verged on picturesque description. "At this moment," she read, "a large boy, twelve years of age, burst in the room." What happened to the unfortunate boy after this dreadful tragedy was lost in the shouts of laughter which made Nellie's further remarks on the subject inaudible.

THE TIME WILL COME—

When it will be a disgrace not to work when one is able.

When to get rich by making others poorer will be considered a disgrace.

When the same standard of morality will be demanded of men as of women.

When the golden rule will be regarded as the soundest business philosophy.

When all true happiness will be found in doing the right and only the good will be found to be real.

When the business man will find that his best interests will be the best interests of the man at the other end of the bargain.

When all hatred, revenge and jealousy will be regarded as boomerangs which inflict upon the thrower the injury intended for others.

When the "best society" will consist of men and women of brains, culture and achievement, rather than those whose chief merit and distinction lie in the possession of unearned fortunes.—Success Magazine.

Varying Weight of the Body.

A physician points out that several fallacies are common with regard to the weight of the human body. The man who congratulates himself on his gain of several pounds in weight in a given period may have no cause for rejoicing, for he may be under a delusion. Very few persons, says the investigator, have any correct idea of their own weight. As a matter of fact, the weight of the body is continually changing owing to innumerable influences. On a warm day, after breakfast, a man will lose more than a third of a pound per hour. Seventy per cent of the body contains water, and its weight varies constantly. The inference to be drawn from the loss or gain of a pound or two may be mistrusted. Fluctuations of a few ounces are a sign that the body is in a healthy state.

Grunt-Who-Will Tower.

Anne, the duchess in wooden shoes, who brought Brittany in the pocket of her wedding gown to her husband, the king of France, kept the government for herself, and when the bishop of St. Malo protested against the strongbold which she built to cow the too independent Malcons she carved on her tower the irreverent inscription, which may still be read there, "Grunt who will, so shall it be; 'tis my pleasure," and the tower "Grunt-Who-Will" (Quiequ'en grogue) it remains to this day.

Her Little Composition.

A class was reciting in a school.

"Who can give me," said the teacher, "a sentence in which the words 'bitter end' are used?"

Up jumped a little girl excitedly. "I can, teacher. "The cat ran under the bureau and the dog ran after her and bit her end.'"

Outrageous.

"I want ten two-cent stamps," said Mrs. Youngwed, "and please charge them, because I have no change."

"We don't do that, madam," replied the clerk in the postoffice.

"The idea! Why not? We always get our letters from you."—Philadelphia Ledger.

No Inducement.

Gambetta once offered a prefecture, with a salary of 6,000 francs, to an incorrigible Bohemian, who, however, declined with thanks, saying, "I can make more than that by borrowing."

Never use tea leaves when sweeping carpets. Dry salt is much better, or soft paper cut or torn into small pieces and wet. Spread the latter loosely over the floor, and the broom will gather them and the dust up in small balls.

Everything in fashion tends towards this winter being a good one for furs. The demand runs in the direction of fur motor-coats, and for hats, muffs and stoles. In consequence of the unusual demand furs have risen in price. Chinchilla has risen 50 per cent. since last year, and sable from 25 to 30 per cent.

How will the new English fashion in hosiery be taken by the womanfolk? For many, many years past, black hosiery has been worn on nearly all occasions, and now it is to be banished in favour of hosiery which matches the costume with which it is worn. Tweed costumes are now accompanied by hosiery into which is woven the same colours as the fabric. There is the tartan hose to wear with the tartan plaid gown and hose to don with the cloth, velvet or cashmere costume, and this is exactly of the same hue as the gown with which it is worn.

PERFUMES OF THE EAST.

The Crusaders Brought Them From the Holy Land to Europe.

During the dark ages and in early mediaeval times perfumes, with the exception of incense for ecclesiastical use, were almost unknown, and the rude Saxon thanes and Norman barons and their spouses were quite content with the smell of wood fires and huge masses of roast or seethed meat and were not at all solicitous to enjoy the pleasure of sweet odors. It seems to have been the crusaders who brought from the Holy Land into western Europe the perfumes for which the east has from time immemorial been renowned. The original home of perfumes was either China or Egypt. In the last named century the priests of the temple of Heliopolis used to offer every day to their divinity three kinds of perfumes, one in the morning, one at noon and the third at night, the last being a scent composed of sixteen ingredients, forming an ensemble called kaphi. The universality of perfumes in ancient Greece is known to every one who remembers the delightful descriptions of the perfumed baths of Roman ladies in Bulwer's "Last Days of Pompeii," and from Hellas the use of perfumery spread to Rome, where, under the empire, almost every object was scented.

Even the standards of the legions were perfumed, and the velarium of the Coliseum when the emperor was present was dusted with aromatic powders. The successive invasions of the barbarians led to the shutting up of the perfumers' shops with which the Eternal City had abounded, and until the time of the Renaissance perfumery in Italy was only vended by a few apothecaries. Its use, however, had not died out in Constantinople, and at the fall of the Greek empire the Byzantine Greeks found that their Turkish conquerors were as passionately fond of perfumery as they themselves were.

Sweet essences for secular use were first made an article of trade in France by one Rene or Rinaldo, a Florentine, who came to Paris in the suit of Catherine de Medicis, to whom the French people likewise owe the introduction of confectionery and if malevolent rumor is to be credited the confection of at least half a dozen subtle poisons.

Loss of Power To Digest Food

AMONG THE FIRST INDICATIONS OF EXHAUSTED NERVES—THE CURE IS

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

The most important function of the organism of the body is the digestion and assimilation of food, and in the process is consumed an enormous quantity of nervous energy.

As the result the moment disorders of the nerves arise digestion is impaired, and the very source of health, strength and vitality interferred with.

To prevent physical bankruptcy the nervous system must be built up by outside aid, such as the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, a preparation composed of the very elements of nature which go to form new blood and nerve cells.

Besides this restorative influence on the whole system, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has an immediate and direct effect on the digestive system.

It stimulates the nerves of taste and induces a good flow of saliva to aid digestion. It excites the glands of the stomach and produces a plentiful supply of the gastric digestive fluids. It sharpens the appetite and arouses hunger.

Especially where appetite and the ability to digest have diminished, as in nervous exhaustion, anaemia, the result of sickness, overwork, or worry, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is by all odds the most effective treatment that can possibly be obtained.

It insures good digestion, regular, healthful action of the liver, kidneys and bowels, and the building up and fortifying of the whole system.

Mrs. J. Derocher, 83 Bethune street Peterborough, Ont., states:—"I was troubled a great deal with nervousness and sleeplessness, and began a treatment with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I can say for a certainty that it is a splendid medicine, for besides steadying my nerves, it built up my system wonderfully, and enabled me to sleep and eat well. We have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Ointment in our family for years, and consider them excellent. For skin diseases I think the Ointment cannot be equalled, and the Pills are a most satisfactory laxative."

Break a Bad Temper.

Anger gets more people into trouble than meanness. We do and say things while in a temper that we spend the rest of our lives in regretting. Parents should never punish their children while in anger, for if they do the child invariably gets more than it deserves. Wait till you cool down before you whip or shut up in dark closets. Then, too, if it is the child that has a temper and not yourself break it before the age of six is reached, for if you don't then that child's temper is likely never to be conquered.

Running the Gantlet.

"Running the gantlet," a punishment supposed to be peculiar to the American Indians, was originated in the British navy. Every sailor in the crew but the offender to be punished was provided with a switch, which he was required to lay briskly on the bare shoulders of the man who did the running between the two lines. The Indians observed the punishment inflicted in Virginia and Canada and copied it as a form of torture.

SIZE OF THE UNIVERSE.

Miles Are Too Insignificant to Be Used In Its Computation.

While it is interesting to know the distance of some of the stars in miles, when stated in that way the numbers are so large that they frequently convey very indistinct conceptions to the mind. For this reason it is customary to estimate stars' distances in "light years." A light year is the distance that light, moving at the rate of 186,300 miles per second, travels in one year. This amounts in round numbers to 5,880,000,000,000 miles. The distance of Alpha Centaur is 4.35 light years, that of Sirius, the dog star, is almost exactly twice as great, or 8.6 light years. In other words, light requires 8.6 years to come to us from Sirius. And these are among the very nearest of the stars. Some whose parallaxes have been rather estimated than measured appeared to be situated at a distance which light could not traverse in less than one or two centuries. The great star Arcturus, for instance, has, according to Dr. Elkin, a parallax of only eighteen-thousandths of a second. Its distance must in that case be about 181 light years, or more than a thousand million million miles. And if its distance is so great, then, since light varies inversely as the square of the distance from its source, it can be shown that Arcturus must actually give forth 5,000 or 6,000 times as much light as the sun yields.

Yet Arcturus is evidently much nearer than the vast majority of the stars are. Not one in a million is known to have a parallax large enough even to be intelligently guessed at. There may be stars whose light requires thousands instead of hundreds of years to cross the space separating them from us.

We thus see that only a few points on the nearer shores of the starry universe lie within reach of our measurements—here and there a jutting headland, while behind stretches the vast expanse over which the hundreds of millions of stars known to exist are scattered.

Politeness of Children.

The politeness of children is only skin deep. One cannot help sympathising with the little London girl who said sleepily to her hostess at a party she had not been old enough to enjoy, "Please, will you tell me which is the lady what's giving this party, 'cause I promised mummy to say, 'Goodby, thank you very much for the nice party,' and I can't go home till I've said it, and—and I do so want to get away from this horrible place!" But one's whole heart goes out to the little boy who, having greatly enjoyed one small insufficient chocolate, was asked sharply, "Well, Johnny, what do you say?" "More," answered Johnny.

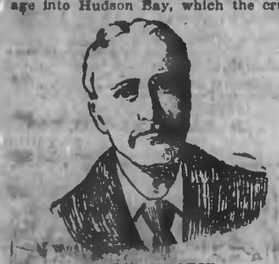
THE NEPTUNE ARRIVES.

Hudson Bay Cruiser With Major Moodie at St. John's, Nfld.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 10.—The auxiliary Canadian cruiser Neptune arrived here yesterday after a perilous voyage into Hudson Bay, which the cruiser entered on Oct. 3, later in the season than any other vessel is known to have done.



MAJOR MOODIE.

On board the cruiser was Major Moodie, Governor of Hudson Bay. He made the trip to supply winter stores to the remote police posts in the Hudson Bay country.

Twice the Neptune struck against rocks during the voyage and was leaking badly on arriving here. The Neptune was formerly a whaler.

Search For Magnetic Pole.

Major Moodie reports having had a communication from Capt. Ronald Amundsen's Norwegian expedition in search of the north magnetic pole as recently as May 22. The sloop Gjoads, with the expedition on board, spent last winter in Simpson Strait, King William Land, 400 miles north of Fullerton.

WHO IS MAYOR OF N. Y.?

Election Investigation Promises to Be of Most Thorough Description.

New York, Nov. 10.—The contest over the mayoralty election inaugurated by William Randolph Hearst, the Municipal Ownership League candidate, developed interesting and spectacular features yesterday.

For 12 hours the nearly 600,000 ballots in the boxes from the 1,948 election districts choked the streets in the vicinity of the headquarters of the board of elections in Sixth avenue. There they were refused by the officials. Apprised of the situation, the attorneys for Mr. Hearst appeared before the State Supreme Court Justice, Dickey, and secured from him an order compelling John R. Voorhies, president of the board of elections, to accept the ballots. The order was served promptly and the ballots were then receipted for by the board.

Jerome in the Game.

Attorney-General Meyer said last night, "District Attorney Jerome has placed at my disposal the machinery of his office, and will co-operate with me in every way, as I will with him, in the prosecution of offences against the election franchise. District Attorneys Perkins and Sandford are to devote themselves to this work in conjunction with Deputy Attorney-General Mason and assistants."

The investigation of the election promises to be the most thorough ever made in New York City.

McClellan Gets Parker.

Mayor McClellan yesterday engaged eminent counsel, among them Alton B. Parker, former chief justice of the court of appeals, to represent him during the mayoralty contest.

Among the attorneys aiding Hearst is William Ivins, the Republican candidate for mayor in Tuesday's election. Mr. Ivans volunteered his services.

PROTEST BY THE C. P. R.

Against the Allans Getting Ten Year Ocean Mail Contract.

Ottawa, Nov. 10.—A protest has been received by the Government from the Canadian Pacific against the Allans getting the ten year contract for carrying the mails. The C. P. R. say that they intend improving that service across the Atlantic, as well as across the continent, and the Pacific, and it would not be desirable for the Government to tie itself up to a ten-year contract.

The speed on the Pacific is to be changed from 12 to 17 knots, making the time between Vancouver and Hong Kong 16 days instead of 21. The time across the continent is about from six to four days, and the Atlantic voyage will be between five and six days.

CLUE GETS COLLATERAL.

Much Security of Allegheny Bank For Loans Recovered.

Pittsburg, Nov. 10.—Receiver John B. Cunningham of the defunct Enterprise National Bank of Allegheny, announced yesterday that he had recovered a large amount of missing collateral which had mysteriously disappeared.

"I found a clue," said Receiver Cunningham, "and it took but a short time to run it down, with the result that much security pledged in the bank for loans had been recovered."

Mr. Cunningham would not mention the value of the collateral found or where it had been located.

Kingsville Store Burns.

Kingsville, Nov. 10.—About midnight yesterday fire was discovered in Richard Gregory's large furniture establishment. Mr. Mayhew's harness shop was badly damaged by fire and water, but the other part of the Union Block escaped without any damage. Mr. Gregory's loss was $5,000 on building and $11,000 on stock, with insurance of about half. Mr. Mayhew's harness shop was damaged to the extent of $1,000.

THE BURKHOLDER VERDICT.

Coroner's Jury Clears Wife of Aspersions On Character.

Hamilton, Nov. 9.—The jury in the Burkholder inquest at Stony Creek last night had little trouble in arriving at the decision that Philander C. Burkholder last Friday night murdered his wife and baby and killed himself in a fit of insane jealousy. The jury exonerated the deceased from aspersions cast upon her character by the letter left by the deceased husband.

Clerk Beasley's Leg Amputated.

Hamilton, Nov. 9.—Yesterday morning the doctors found it necessary to perform an operation on Thomas Beasley, the veteran city clerk. Gangrene made its appearance in one of Mr. Beasley's toes some time ago, and he has not been able to be at his office for several months. The doctors, in consultation, agreed that the only hope of saving Mr. Beasley's life was to amputate his leg at the knee. Although 77 years of age, he came out of the ordeal wonderfully well, and was resting easily last night. He has served the city as clerk for 52 years.

ANOTHER BIG SALARY.

Metropolitan President Hegeman Gets One Hundred Thousand Dollars.

New York, Nov. 10.—The Metropolitan Life was the subject of much inquiry yesterday. John R. Hegeman, president, who was on the stand when adjournment was taken, was the first witness, and the expenses of the company were taken up. It was brought out that Hegeman's salary is the same as that of John A. McCall, president of the New York Life, $100,000; Vice-President Beley Fiske's salary is $75,000; that of Geo. H. Gaston, second vice-president, is $37,500, and that of Frank C. Ayers, third vice-president, $16,250. No executive officer, Mr. Hegeman said, now receives any other compensation than his salary.

Hegeman said that 35 years ago less than $250,000 would have bought out the company, while to-day $250,000,000 would not do it. He remembered when the company had to go out and borrow the money to pay a death claim, while now the company has a death claim every minute of the 24 hours and is able to pay them.

It was brought out that the average salary of an agent in the field is $11.62 a week. An assistant superintendent's salary averages $18 a week, which, with commissions, may run to $25 weekly. The average salary of superintendents is from $25 to $50 a week.

Missouri Must Show Cause.

St. Louis, Nov. 10.—Notwithstanding that State Superintendent of Insurance Vandiver Wednesday night officially suspended the certificate of authority of the New York Life Insurance Co. to transact business in Missouri, it was stated at the St. Louis offices of the company that no attention was being paid to the order. Judge Adams issued a restraining order directing Vandiver to appear before the Federal Court Nov. 20 to show cause why he should not be prevented from enforcing his order, and ordering that, pending the hearing, the order be not enforced.

Montreal Shoemakers Strike.

Montreal, Nov. 9.—A general strike has been declared by the Montreal Leather Cutters' Union, and yesterday the members were out in all the shoe factories, with the exception of the Ames Holden Company and the Slater Shoe Company, the J. & T. Bell Company and two or three smaller concerns.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 9.—The revolutionary wave continues to subside except in the Caucasus.

At Tomsk, Siberia, the whole population of 40,000, and the military stood by while 600 men, women and children were burned in a theatre.

Children Torn to Pieces.

The descent of the butchers of Moscow, with their knives and axes, upon the students was one of the most horrible chapters, but not as pitiful, however, as the attack of the Black Hundred on a procession of school children carrying red flags. When the children sought to escape, a cordon of police barred the way and the youthful martyrs were beaten into insensibility and, in some cases, were actually torn to pieces.

Valdimir Quits.

Grand Duke Vladimir has resigned the post of commander of the guard and of the military district of St. Petersburg.

Rothschild's Contribution.

Lord Rothschild of London, and Jacob H. Schiff of New York have each cabled $50,000 to St. Petersburg for the relief of the Jews who suffered from the recent disturbances.

Jews May Retaliate.

Odessa, Nov. 9.—The City Council has taken measures looking to the investigation of the recent massacres. The council declared its intention to prosecute those responsible for the massacres and appointed $25,000 for that purpose.

Reports are being circulated that the Jews are preparing for terrible vengeance on the Christians. These reports declare that the Jews intend to blow up the churches and to distribute poisoned foodstuffs to the Christians.

Kill Cossacks by Bombs.

Batoum, Nov. 9.—News received here is to the effect that there were seventeen hours' fighting at Nanakoirali Tuesday between armed rioters and 120 Cossacks under the district governor, and that 105 of the Cossacks were killed, chiefly by bombs.

EXPENSIVE INSURANCE.

Some Light on Why Industrial Policies Are Costly.

New York, Nov. 9.—In the testimony of John R. Hegeman, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., before the Legislative Committee upon the resumption of the insurance investigation yesterday, it was brought out that industrial insurance was considerably more expensive than other forms of life insurance, and Mr. Hegeman, after classing industrial insurance as retail and ordinary life as wholesale, illustrated the fact by an example in which, for a stated age, it was shown that for a $1,000 policy of the ordinary life the Metropolitan charged $14.55 annually, while for $984, the nearest amount for the stated age under the industrial plan, $31.20 was charged.

To show that industrial business was more expensive than ordinary life, Mr. Hegeman said that a premium of $65 on an old-line plan is paid once, twice, or at the outside, four times a year. In the industrial field the average premium is 10 cents a week, and for the same money 650 persons have to be called upon, and this has to be done fifty-two times a year.

Asked as to the method of arriving at the amount divided to be apportioned each year, witness said that the apportionment of dividends for 1904 were estimated and made up in November, 1902, before it was known that the earnings of 1904 would be $6,624,670. The earnings of 1903 were $5,563,961. The amount of increase was arrived at by taking into consideration the general run of the business.

Stuyvesant Fish, president of the Illinois Central Railroad, has consented to serve on a committee of three trustees of the Mutual Life to investigate that company. The other members of the committee are Wm. H. Truesdale and John Auchincloss.

MURDER OF CANADIANS.

Former Owen Sound Boy Killed For His Money Near Seattle.

Owen Sound, Nov. 9.—Murdered for their money and cremated in the building where they lived to hide the evidence of the crime was the fate of Philip H. Ross and his wife, the former an Owen Sound boy, brother of John W. Ross, Sr., Sydenham Township. The young couple were married about two years ago and lived near Kerrystown, a small town on the North Pacific Railway, 40 miles from Seattle, Wash. The deed was committed on August 27 last. For some weeks relatives here were not aware of the tragedy, and it is only recently, by a great amount of correspondence and investigation, that they have definite information that the murdered man is Philip Ross, late of Owen Sound.

Last March Ross and his wife located about two miles from Kerrystown and the former opened up a saloon, living with his wife in the rear of the place. Several large lumber camps are situated in the district, and the men have been in the habit of having their checks cashed by Ross, and in order to accommodate them he kept a large sum of money in the saloon at all times. On Sunday night, Aug. 27, he was known to have $1,100 on the premises. It is evident that when the saloon had been cleared of customers for the night that the place was entered. Ross was robbed and killed with a terrible blow on the head, while he stood behind the bar. His wife was shot down in one of the rooms at the rear. To cover up their crime, the murderers set fire to the building, which of course, was burned to the ground. The remains of the young couple were so charred that it was almost impossible to identify them. The tragedy was not discovered until A. S. Kerry, head of the lumber company, had occasion to visit the place about 11 a. m. the next day. He found the building in ruins, and the charred remains in the debris. The murdered man was about 33 years of age. He left here nearly ten years ago.

Toronto Wins From Railway.

Toronto, Nov. 9.—According to a cablegram received yesterday the appeal of the Toronto Street Railway Co. versus the Corporation of Toronto was dismissed by the Privy Council. The railway company contended in vain that as the street (Roncesvalles avenue) was not part of the city at the time of making the arrangement they (the company) were not liable to mileage upon it. The decision carries with it a financial reward of $8,000 and the costs of the law suits. Every court which heard the case decided in the city's favor.

VINEGAR GAS KILLS.

Tragedy At Norwich — Asphyxiated While Cleaning Tub.

Norwich, Nov. 9.—A sad affair occurred here yesterday morning about 8.30, whereby Mark Robinson lost his life.

He was employed at Allen's vinegar works and was engaged in clearing out an empty tank.

He was overcome by the gas and before his fellow workmen could rescue him, he was dead.

He was a married man.

Fearfully Mangled and Killed.

St. John, N. B., Nov. 9.—Samuel Hutton, aged 25, was killed and fearfully mangled in Cushing's saw mill, Fairville, yesterday. A cast-iron wheel below the floor burst and tore up the floor. Hutton fell into the hole thus made and was mangled by rapidly revolving parts of the broken wheel.

Five Killed Outright, Many Injured.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Nov. 9.—Five persons were killed, ten seriously injured and a score slightly hurt in a head-on collision between a passenger train and a coal train on the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad, near Hunlock's Creek yesterday. All of the killed were trainmen.

Floating Mine Destroys Ship.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 9.—The steamer Pleides arrived yesterday from the Orient. It narrowly escaped destruction from a floating mine. The steamer Heelho, it reports, struck one and was destroyed. Eighty-six of the passengers were rescued and 15 drowned.

Anti-U. S. Feeling Intense.

Hong Kong, Nov. 9.—Advices from Canton say that the anti-American feeling there is growing more intense. A lady was spat upon in the street, and the American Consul, Julius G. Lay, has received an anonymous letter, threatening his life if the imprisoned boycotters of American goods are not released. The Consul has written to the Viceroy asking him to prohibit an anti-American mass meeting which it is proposed to hold in Canton, but the Viceroy apparently is indifferent. The Consul yesterday proceeded to Lienchau in order to make an official investigation of the recent massacre of American missionaries there.

Hired Man's Revenge.

Guelph, Nov. 9.—High Constable Merewether yesterday arrested William Burroughs of Eden Mills, in connection with the Eramosa horse poisoning case. Burroughs, who had been employed by Dickson for two years as hired man, confessed and said that he had the paris green hid since June, and intended to use it in an attempt to get even with Dickson and Grasley, the latter of whom was to have driven the team at the plowing match.

SCHOOLS AND FARMING.

Secretary Wilson Favors It and So Does C. C. James of Ontario.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 10.—The tenth annual session of the American Association of Farmers' Institute Workers was begun here yesterday with an address of welcome by Secretary of Agriculture Wilson.

The secretary spoke enthusiastically regarding agricultural education, especially recommending the teaching of the elements of that science in the common and secondary schools.

The address was replied to by C. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Toronto, Ont., who responded heartily to the suggestions of the secretary regarding educational advantages.

WOULD ROB DOMINION.

French-Canadian Plots to Steal Nuggets From Canadian Pavilion.

London, Nov. 10.—(C. A. P.)—According to a Belgian newspaper there was an attempt some days ago to rob the Canadian exhibition at Liege. A French-Canadian named Hector Robert, for some time a resident in France and also an interpreter at Liege, approached an employe of the Canadian pavilion, and proposed that gold nuggets representing a value of 100,000 francs, should be abstracted. The employe agreed, but communicated with the police. A trap was laid and Hector Robert was caught in the act.

Markham Economist Gutted.

Markham, Nov. 10.—An explosion of gasoline in the office of The Markham Economist shortly after noon yesterday completely wrecked the building and caused a fire loss of $2,000. The office of The Markham Sun was last night placed at the disposal of The Economist, and the oldest county paper in York will be issued as usual. Mr. Corson will at once begin the work of rebuilding. He had his hands burned when the explosion occurred.

Weather Conditions Are Against Business

In conversation with one of the prominent business men of the city to-day the Examiner learned that this fall up to date the business has not been up to expected limit. The cause attributed is the fact that the weather has not been conducive to brisk selling, and this is particularly true with reference to the dry goods trade, which, more than any other business is affected by the weather.

While it has been rough and stormy during the past few weeks it has not been sufficiently cold to induce the people to buy winter clothing.

If cold sets in in the course of a few days the business will improve materially, and the prospects are that the total volume will, before Christmas equal, if not exceed that of last year.

Warsaw Items Of Interest

Personal News--Deer Hunters Return To-day.

Special to The Examiner.

Warsaw, Nov. 7th. — Mrs. Robert Crowe and Miss Ruby Crow were in Peterborough on Wednesday last.

Miss Dora Payne spent a few days in Lakefield last week.

County Constable Cochrane of the city was in the village on Wednesday.

Messrs. Harry and Roland Payne and W. H. Clements returned from Manitoba on Saturday.

Mr. Stephen Miller, who returned from Rock Lake on Wednesday night brought with him a fine deer which had been killed by his uncle, Mr. William Miller, on the morning of the first day.

Rev. Wm. Nickle left on Monday for a few days hunt along the line of the C.O.R.

That the fondness for money is not altogether confined to human beings was proven here last week. A lady, who had lost a wrist-bag containing several bank notes and some silver, was fortunate in having it returned to her the next day. On counting the money it was found that there was one five dollar note missing, which it appears had blown away unnoticed, when the bag was first found. Upon a search being made the bill was found torn in small pieces, evidently by a squirrel. Whether the little animal had decided to form a combine with his notes or monopolize the money for building purposes, is not known.

As a Convalescent Food.

Mr. Wyman N. Thomas, Ompah, Addington Co., Ont., writes: — My wife had congestion of the lungs and other troubles, and became very weak and run down. By the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food she was made as strong and well as ever. Of course I had a doctor, but she was weak, and it was Dr. Chase's Nerve Food that built her up."

A Salt Mine Near Lindsay

Some weeks ago we mentioned in the columns of this paper that salt had been discovered one mile south of Lindsay. Since that time many have visited the locality, and in conversation with some of the prospectors, they do not hesitate for a moment in saying a rich salt mine is evidently in close proximity. Near Cross Creeks, in the vicinity of Murphy's school house, there is also evidence of this product, and has been known by the early settlers of that district, but for some unknown reason it has never been looked into.—Lindsay Watchman-Warder.

Deceased Was Related Here

Late Serg. Paynter Cousin of the Messrs. Kemp, of Peterborough.

With military honours and attended by a large number of his former comrades, the remains of the late Sergt. Paynter, cousin of Messrs. William, T. and S. Kemp, of this city, were laid at rest in Beechwood Cemetery, Ottawa, on Monday. The military parade was formed up at the drill hall and proceeded thence to the house, 281 Besserer street. From there the procession slowly took its way to St. Alban's church, where Ven. Archdeacon Bogert conducted a very impressive service. The musical part was rendered by a full choir with a solo by Mr. Charles Hickman. The large gathering of soldiers and other friends of deceased filled the church. The coffin was borne on a gun carriage of the Second Field Battery, to which corps the late sergeant belonged. The horses and drivers were in charge of Sergeant Haig. The pallbearers consisted of a member of each of the following: 5th, The Princess Louise Dragoon Guards, Artillery, Engineers, G. G. F. G., Forty-third D.C.O.R. and Army Medical Corps. At the grave the last honours were paid by a firing party of deceased's comrades, in charge of Sgt. Cairns. There was a good attendance of members of other corps, the party being in charge of Sergt.-Major Chitty. Among the mourners were Masters Milton and Adolphus Paynter, sons; Samuel, W. H. and John J., brothers; William Kemp, Peterborough, cousin. There was a profusion of floral offerings, the large list being as follows: Wreath, officers, 2nd F.B.C.A.; anchor, sergeants, 2nd F.B.C.A.; spray, Army Medical Corps; anchor, Sergt.-Maj. and N.C.O.'s, Ottawa Engineers; wreaths, Mr. T. Lindsay, Mr. Walter Cunningham, Messrs. T. and S. Kemp, cousins, Peterborough; employees of Paynter & Tubman; Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Snow, mother and sisters, wife and children; crosses, Mr. and Mrs. S. Paynter, Mr. Harold Paynter, nephew, Moosejaw; star, friends of the T. Lindsay Co., Limited; fern, J. H. Gervan and family; sprays, the choir, Trinity church, Billing's Bridge; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Harvey, Mrs. and Miss Armstrong, Miss N. Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. F. Parrington, Mr. A. G. Marshall, Mr. C. A. Marshall; shield, Damon Lodge, Knights of Pythias; spray, Miss Taddy.

Henry Cooper, constable of the village of Chiddingford, Surrey, England, died the other day after having held his post eighty-six years. In all that time he did not make one arrest, which says much for Chiddingford or little for Cooper.

Would Sell Her Body To The College

A Cincinnati Girl Offers to Give Her Body to Students --Was in Need of Money-- She Did Not Care What Became of Her Body After Death--Parents Deny Being in Poverty.

A MYSTERIOUS OFFER WAS MADE

Cincinnati, Nov. 8.—A pretty girl of 18, neatly dressed, entered the receiving ward at the city hospital receiving physician. Dr. Stemler entered the room.

"Do you buy bodies here?" Before he could reply she continued in a calm, even tone, "Because if you do, I want to sell mine."

Dr. Stemler was surprised. He noted her neat appearance, pretty, rosy complexion, but did not see any evidences of insanity, hysteria or utter poverty about the caller.

He was more puzzled as she continued: "I have read of persons who sold their bodies before death for $25 and I want to sell mine. Do you want any here?"

"Why, we don't buy any bodies, and besides we have more than are needed," answered Dr. Stemler.

When questioned the visitor said: "Well we need the money so desperately, and I thought this was a sure way as a last resort to get some. My body is no use to me after death anyhow, and I don't care what they do with it when I am dead. But I do so need the money now."

Dr. Stemler, after talking with the girl for a time, advised her to go home. The girl left, after saying that her name was Rose Rau.

A visit to the Rau home later disclosed that the girl had talked about selling her body for some time it she should fail to find employment.

"Rose has not returned home yet," said her mother, "and if she has been foolish enough to do such a thing as that she can stay away if she wants to. She has a good home and we all have enough for every one of us. We told her to go out and find something to do this morning."

At a late hour the girl had not returned.

CAN'T SAY ENOUGH IN THEIR FAVOR

Why Miss Gusty V. Campbell Recommends Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets to all her friends who have Stomach Troubles.

"I cannot say enough in favour of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets," so says Miss Gusty V. Campbell, Little Shippigan, Gloucester Co., N. B. Of course Miss Campbell has reasons for making a statement like this and here they are:

"I suffered from Dyspepsia for two months and was always getting worse till advertisements led me to use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. One box cured me and I can honestly recommend them to anyone suffering from Dyspepsia."

The moral of this is that if you take your stomach trouble before it gets too firm a grip it is easily cured by Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. One box cured Miss Campbell.

But as in Miss Campbell's case, stomach trouble if neglected always grows worse. In its worst stages it takes time to cure it. But Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will do it.

DO SHOPPING ALONE.

Good Reasons Why You Should Not Take a Friend With You.

Don't take a friend along when you go shopping—that is, if it is important shopping. There isn't one woman in a thousand who can help advising you "for your own good" and resenting it hotly if you don't follow her advice slavishly.

Perhaps you're one of the people who think they don't know what they want. In reality, you know very well what you don't want—which is a long step in the right direction. And if you're persuaded into getting something you have the least feeling against you'll hate it unreasonably when you might so much better be hating either your own indecision or the too decided opinions of your friend.

When you've almost made up your mind to a purchase—something a bit extravagant, perhaps—and need something in the nature of moral support, then is the time to get hold of that decided friend. You want to be persuaded into getting that thing, though you don't admit it, but when somebody agrees with you (and friends always obligingly help you to be extravagant) that you really need it, you get it in a flurry of gratitude for such helpful advice.

Asking advice upon shopping problems is delicate business, and you must be sure that it is likely to agree with your own secret desires before you venture to court it.—Philadelphia North American.

The Skibbereen, Ireland, Board of Guardians, has decided to replace the chairs in the board room with substantial benches, but vetoed a suggestion to fasten them to the floor after the clerk had pointed out that in that case they would be no use in a fight.

Speaking at Guildford, England, Major-General Baden-Powell, a freeman of the borough, said the only thing he ever did for it was when as a mischievous youth, he stole the railway bell from Woking and deposited it in Guildford station.

New York Fashion Letter

New York, November 11th. — If you are looking for a costume that will do duty for a number of occasions, order a two-piece Princess dress of as good a quality of velvet as you can afford, but by all means be satisfied with something else unless a tolerably fine grade is procurable. Have the skirt made circular and faced about six inches at the bottom with cloth to give it weight and insure it from sagging at the sides. This frock will be the conventional princess style up to the bust, the fullness of the waist being held in with tucks or shirring, but at the bust line, which, by the way, is cut heart shaped, the bodice meets an elaborate yoke of lace and chiffon. Over this is a tiny bolero extending only a few inches beyond the yoke. This little coat can only be worn in very fine weather or under a carriage wrap. Consequently the jacket intended for street donning with the velvet suit, is a double breasted affair, square-shouldered, and reaches just below the hip line. It is trimmed with braid or dull gold galloon. The princess dress with its elaborate lace guimps, is the very thing for dressy indoor and restaurant dinner wear, and the coat turns it at once into a conventional afternoon calling costume. If one wears her gowns for several seasons, a black velvet two-piece princess model will be the most economical purchase, but when a few months wear is all that is required, any one of the many shades of dahlia is a charming colour to select.

There are many ways to furbish up a frock that is just beginning to lose its first freshness, and nothing is so useful for this purpose as ribbon—ribbons of all colours, kinds and widths,—for with a wide ribbon one can make a most dainty bolero, finished at the edge with a ruching of chiffon, which will restore much of that "new" look to a blouse, or, again, there is the ribbon fichu, which is quite new and very pretty. It is made of rather wide ribbon, with silver fringe at the ends; it is threaded through rings covered with buttonhole work and sewed on round the shoulders. There are three lengths of ribbon in all, making six silver fringed ends. The first length comes over the shoulders just about half way to the front, the under one comes half-way between the upper one and the middle of the bodice; then in the centre comes a simply tied knot. Ribbon and lace frocks are making great strides into favour. These frocks have been trying for a place for some years and nothing could be daintier or lighter-looking, but they entail a terrible amount of handwork. This, however, should be a recommendation to the home dressmaker. Probably the straight up and down style will not be quite as acceptable as it was a few years ago, and it will be rather more difficult to obtain the other effects, such as the waved, the diagonal, or that in which the points are dovetailed into each other. Still no doubt this will be achieved, and if well done the result will be a charming frock, at little expense beyond the labour.

Directoire coats are stunning and the variations in them innumerable. One swagger model is in brown cloth with rather deep pointed revers and collar of velvet embossed with cloth outlined with gold braid. A deep gauntlet cuff carried out in the same way is the sleeve finish. The skirt worn with this coat is perfectly plain. Still another style of directoire coat shows a vest of white cloth embroidered in black, dull red and glistening threads of gold. Beautiful, too, are the long redingotes of the directoire period in velvet. There is a new bottle green shade in an exquisite velvet coat of this description, I examined the other day which had revers of old rose, edged with mink.

With a directoire coat one must be careful in the choice of a hat and never buy in a gay, speculative mood thinking, "Oh, it will do!" Indeed, as regards millinery, one should never buy in the dark, as it were, but always wear the costume which it is intended to complete. And suggestive of this momentous question there is something of a cavalier tendency difficult to define about the headgear at present in fashion. This may possibly be traced to the sparingly trimmed and more visible crowns, together with the tendency of trimming, and it it were not for the poise of the bandeau one trembles to think what would be the result, an ugly bedraggled effect being almost inevitable.

The blouse coats also are eminently chic and eminently elegant, but quite different in style and in effect. They are uniformly extended below the waist line and finished with smoothly fitted girdles at that point, but very extensively as to the cut of the front and the trimmings.

Fancy sleeves make a feature, and one of the blouse coats referred to is made with those of three-quarter length, which fall over under-sleeves of chiffon. Another includes those that are full puffs above the long deep cuffs, these last consisting of row upon row of narrow black velvet, chiffon, lace and tiny edge of fur. Happily, however, there are many coats that are simpler in style and consequently of less cost, and among others must be noted those of caracule, in box style, which are trimmed only with a rich and handsome black braid that is put on about an inch within the edge and stitched down quite flat, just as it would be upon cloth.

Quite a fancy is being developed just now for plaid suitings. Some of the most attractive of the new gowns are being made in plaids, and designers have apparently put forth some of their best efforts in making up costumes. From the tiny checks, shadowy in their outline, fashion has plunged into bold plaids. These fabrics are the most difficult proposition a dressmaker has to deal with, but when a plaid gown is a success it is a remarkable one. Illustrating a novel treatment of plaid suitings is a gown made of brown and plaid, the light tones of which run into almost pink colour. The skirt for this model was extremely wide at the hem, measuring at least eight yards. Set into the circular gored skirt were panels of pleated broadcloth, a panel for each of the humorous curves of the skirt. These were so arranged that they fell together and were only visible as the wearer moved. With this skirt was an odd bolero jacket, made of the plaid, with a slight introduction of the broadcloth.

There is also a passion for veils just now; indeed, one can scarcely be said to be fashionably dressed until one has added to one's toilet this flimsy thing, which so softens the shade of whatever hat may chance to be worn. To be quite correct, the veil must neither be white nor cream, but an indescribable something between the two.

The French girls have given us rather a pretty idea in hatpins; the head of it being of artificial flowers to match those worn on the hat, and the autumnal blossoms have been utilized.

Short skirts with velvet bodices are to be worn, also lace skirts with silk bodices. This is an economical fashion, and permits of the home dressmaker making use of things she has on hand. But if will also lead to terrible combinations, and we may expect some frightful examples of mixed fabrics and swearing colours when the amateur couturiere blossoms forth.

NURSERY NOTES.

No one should allow a baby under one year to have anything but his bottle food and boiled water, well cooled, to drink.

Nervous children should never be scolded unless it is absolutely necessary and should never, under any circumstances, be ridiculed.

Children's stockings can be re-enforced by tacking a thin piece of black net or veiling on the inside of the heels and knees before wearing them.

A healthy child's head should be washed once every week in summer with soap and tepid water and in winter not so frequently. Frequent washing keeps the hair perfectly healthy and removes the dandruff.

A physician says that with delicate babies inunctions of sweet oil, lard or vaseline are invaluable. The oil should be gently and thoroughly rubbed in. A little massage over the baby's abdomen is a better cathartic than medicine.

A POPULAR LAMENT

Where Would Society Be If One Was Judged for the Sins of Others?

"O; I tried one of those hair tonics some time ago, and it never did me a bit of good."

That's what many people are saying to-day when they refuse Herpicide a trial.

It would be as sensible to say "I never travel on a railroad because I often see collisions mentioned in the papers."

Newbro's Herpicide is specially made to destroy the germ that is living on the roots of your hair.

That is why it is so exceedingly efficacious—it is there for the sole purpose of ridding the hair of this parasitic growth, after which the hair grows as nature intended.

MUTINY AT SANTA CRUZ.

Short But Exciting Mutiny at Rio De Janeiro.

Rio Janeiro, Nov. 10.—The garrison of the fortress of Santa Cruz, at the entrance of the bay, has mutinied. The city is perfectly quiet. There is no revolution. Later the mutineers in the fortress surrendered to the authorities yesterday.

The mutineers prior to their surrender killed and mutilated a lieutenant. The trouble is ended and order has been restored.

Motorman Dean Not Guilty.

Toronto, Nov. 10.—After an hour and a half the jury in the Dean case yesterday morning acquitted the motorman of the charge of manslaughter. Judge Clute, in his summing up, said the point to be decided was whether the accused had been culpably negligent. The morning was such as to cause a slippery rail, and the jury should decide whether in such a case the motorman ought not to exercise greater care, or whether in fact the nature of the circumstances overcame his efforts.

Douk Dies of Starvation.

Ottawa, Nov. 10.—The Mounted Police Department has received from Inspector Genereux at Prince Albert, a report in the case of the Doukhobor named Alexi Panamaroff. This man was committed to jail for wandering all over the country deliberately starving himself to death. Food in the shape of milk, soup, a pound and a quarter of peanuts, and one apple daily were forced upon him, but he eventually died of starvation.

Croup Absolutely Cured.

"There is no remedy in my opinion that can act more promptly than Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. It cured my son of croup absolutely in one night. We gave him a dose when he was black in the face with choking. It gave him instant relief and cure." — Mr. William McGee, 49 Wright avenue, Toronto, Ont.

Coal Gas Kills Aged Man.

Toronto Junction, Nov. 8.—Escaping gas from a kitchen range resulted in the death of William Lee of Davie street yesterday morning. Deceased, who was 80 years of age, lived with his wife and two daughters. The family retired as usual, but must have left the damper turned in the stovepipe. At a late hour yesterday morning one of the daughters awoke in a dazed condition. She was almost overcome with the fumes of gas, and seeing that the others were overcome, managed to make her way to Mrs. Wilcox, a neighbor. The latter sent for Dr. Kayler, who found Mr. Lee quite dead. Mrs. Lee and the other daughter were in a semi-conscious condition. Coroner Clendenan decided an inquest unnecessary.

Boys Have Their Troubles.

Stratford, Nov. 8.—A stray shot from an air gun struck Joseph Brown, the seven-year-old son of J. W. Brown, Canadian express agent, in the hand and broke one of the bones.

A young son of Mr. R. W. Long, divisional freight agent of the Grand Trunk, reports that he was set upon by two boys and robbed of a valuable pair of spectacles.

MINSTRELSY'S IDOL.

The Songs of "Cool" Burgess—What Is Said About the Dead Minstrel by the Press and Stage.

The New York Telegraph pays a high tribute to the stage work of the "idol of the minstrel world," who died in Toronto recently. The paper says:

I woke up in de mawnin',
An' I look up in de sky,
An' dere I saw a eagle's nes',
An' I heard de young ones cry;

Shoo, fly! Don't bodder me!
Shoo, fly! Don't bodder me!
Shoo, fly! Don't bodder me!
Foh I belong to Company G.

"Cool" Burgess, the old-time minstrel, the author of the most popular "coon" song of its decade—"Shoo Fly"—and who sang it perhaps 2,000 times, who died in Toronto recently, got his nickname by blending that one given him at the christening font with his disposition.

He was about the coolest proposition with which managers ever had to contend, and one of his eccentricities was the rule that he must be paid in advance. In those days managers were not financially responsible at all times and under all circumstances.

Just a Memory.

To the present generation Colin Burgess is at best a memory, but the time was when he was at the head of his profession. Vaudeville performers now owe him a debt of gratitude as the pioneer in demanding and receiving a fancy salary. This salary was $300 a week. Not much, as salaries go to-day, but it was considerable and a little more thirty-five years ago.

"Cool" had a bluff and forceful way about him that was not particularly attractive on first acquaintance, but he wore well, and many stars of the present day have occasion to remember his kind words and encouraging assistance.

It was he who first put burnt cork on the faces of McIntyre & Heath, who are now playing in "The Ham Tree" at the New York Theatre, and he was the discoverer of George Primrose. His career on the stage as a blackface comedian has never been eclipsed.

Engaged by Stetson.

Burgess made such a hit that John B. Stetson gave him an indefinite contract at a salary of $300 a week, whether he worked or not. He was the first minstrel to receive that amount of salary.

He was the first to use the elongated shoes to dance in, and the first to introduce the monologue. His make-up was particularly comic.

His song, "Nicodemus Johnson," as well as "Shoo Fly," is still remembered. It made him famous throughout Europe, where he sang it in all the principal cities to very large audiences.

There was something about his laugh that carried the audience with it. Full of richness, and penetrating, it proved a most valuable asset. He was a clever dancer in addition to his other talents as a minstrel, and originated the dance where the whole width of the stage had to be covered in two jumps.

Salary In Advance.

Burgess invariably demanded his salary in advance. An incident occurred in Philadelphia when he first went there. He drove to the theatre in a cab alone. At the time he was the feature of the show, but the manager had the reputation of not paying salaries. The cab was driven to the kerb and in it the minstrel waited. It was the first night in the Quaker City, and the house was packed. The cab waited for some time when finally some one told the manager that a cab with a tall gentleman with side whiskers in it was standing in the street.

The manager came out in rather a blustery way and remarked, "Who are you and what do you want?"

"I am 'Cool' Burgess."

The officious personage opened the door of the cab and with a profound bow asked the minstrel to alight.

"But there is a man to be paid," said Burgess, "and I have no money."

"I haven't either just now," was the reply.

"Then the door of this cab stays shut," was the firm rejoinder.

"Who Will Ever Forget 'Shoo Fly'?"

"I regarded 'Cool' Burgess," said Mr. Primrose, "as the dean of minstrelsy. He was one of the best laughmakers ever produced. Back of the stage we all loved 'Cool' Burgess. Who will ever forget 'Shoo Fly! Don't Bodder Me'? When a minstrel show struck a town it was a box for 'Cool' Burgess. We all loved him, all honored him and emulated him.

"When the history of minstrelsy is to be written, in my opinion, the name of 'Cool' Burgess will be on the first line of the first page. Ask any old New York theatre-goer. He will tell you that 'Cool' Burgess was the best 'nigger' minstrel New York ever saw."

A Ray of Sunshine.

Lew Dockstader wired from Kansas City: "The death of 'Cool' Burgess almost obliterates the real comedians of early days. His career was one ray of sunshine until prosperity enabled him to retire twenty years ago with a competency. During the seventies he commanded $300 weekly from John Stetson and Josh Hart, while men almost equally famous in his line were getting $40. His rough-and-ready negro dialect humor was his own, and of the old-timers only John Hart and 'Watermelon' Andrews were in the Burgess class."

A London Auction.

As an example of what queer things come up at the London auctions: At the same sale appeared lately an apron, two armlets and other pieces used in devil dancing ceremonies in Thibet, these objects being made up of bones belonging to deceased lamas—they are carved with images of Buddha; a death's head made of lacquer, to be used as a mask for the devil dancer, and a contemporary death mask of Oliver Cromwell in perfect condition. The mask taken from Neil's face brought $400 and the devil's outfit $500.

"I understand that the steak fell in love with the potato masher."

"Well, he certainly was hard hit."

It is announced that the Y.M.C.A., at Brisbane, Australia, has received from an anonymous friend a $125,000 property; the Hobart Association, a $7,000 lot, the Wellington Association land worth $18,000.

A VICIOUS HABIT.

Giving the Baby Sleeping Drafts "Just to Quiet Him."

Very often it happens, especially when mothers are ignorant, that they appreciate the value of sleep so highly that when baby will not go to sleep in the ordinary way they give "a dose," "a composing mixture," "a little soothing sirup," "a sleeping draft" or one of the numerous preparations sold under various names "just to quiet him."

Some mothers will even give the baby a little gin to make him sleep. The mother who acts thus makes a fatal mistake. It is scarcely possible to find words which will express strongly enough the evil of this practice. Mothers who get their children off to sleep by methods like these are committing the greatest cruelty.

They are doing what they can to injure not merely the bodily health but the brain of the child. Infants who are "sent to sleep" with soothing doses too often grow up stupid and dull. They are not sharp like other children.

There are indeed people who say that when children who are frequently dosed to make them sleep grow to be men and women their moral sense is blunted, and there is the fear that they may become murderers, thieves and criminals.

Should this be true, who is to blame for the crimes which are committed? If mothers understood the price which would have to be paid in the future for the hour or two of quiet gained by the quieting dose now they would surely be willing to have their own sleep broken for the rest of their lives rather than bring such mischief on a helpless little baby.

Very frequently, however, the poor little mortal escapes all risk of this kind, for he is quieted only too effectually. "He goes to a quiet place—the grave."

DYING BY INCHES.

Bloodless Girls Saved by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Dying by inches—that is the only way to describe hundreds of bloodless girls who are slipping slowly but surely from simple anaemia into a decline. They drag themselves along with one foot in the grave through those years of youth that should be the happiest in their lives. And the whole trouble lies in the blood. Bad blood is the fountain-head of all the trouble that afflicts woman from maturity to middle life. Bad blood causes all the backaches and sideaches, all the paleness, breathlessness and despondency; all the heart palpitation, sickly dizzy turns and deadly fainting spells. From fainting spells to consumption is only a step. In nine cases out of ten consumption starts from bloodlessness—and the only sure cure for bloodlessness is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They actually make new, rich, red blood, that brings the rosy glow of health to sallow cheeks, and strength to every part of the body. This has been proved in thousands of cases.

Miss Frances Peach, Welland, Ont., says: — "A couple of years ago my condition of health was very serious. Doctors said that I had no blood—that it had turned to water. I was unfit to do anything for months, and was little more than a living skeleton. I had no appetite; the least exertion would leave me breathless, and I had frequent severe headaches. I was treated by several doctors, but they failed to help me, and I was completely discouraged. Then I was urged to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and in a few weeks found my health improving. I used eight boxes in all, and was by that time again well and strong. I gained twenty-two pounds in weight, and never felt better in my life."

What Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for Miss Peach they can do for every other weak and ailing girl. They make new blood, and new blood brings health, strength and happiness. But you must be sure you have the genuine pills with the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," printed on the wrapper around each box. All dealers sell these pills, or you can get them by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, by writing The Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

Hunting Party Drowned.

Utica, N. Y., Nov. 8.—Albert B. Fuller of this city, who was hunting with a party at North Lake, went out in a boat with a guide named Charles Rose Monday afternoon. A severe storm came up and the men did not return. The overturned boat and a hat worn by the guide were found yesterday morning. It is expected both men are drowned.

Refused a New Trial.

Cincinnati, Nov. 8.—Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick has lost her last hope for a new trial unless the Supreme Court of the United States shall consent to allow a re-hearing. The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday refused her application for a new trial. Mrs. Chadwick is now in the jail at Cleveland, under sentence to the Ohio penitentiary for ten years.

His Head Knocked Off.

SHOE SCREEN.

A Serviceable Piece of Furniture For the Bedroom.

A shoe screen will be found a very serviceable piece of furniture for the bed or dressing room, and a simple one can be made from the pattern shown in the illustration by any clever woman.

The framework of this screen is made from pine or white wood, and the sticks are an inch thick by two inches and a half in width.

Its height can be governed to suit the room in which it may be placed, but for general use it can measure five feet high, and each wing may be thirty inches wide.

fifteen inches above them another rail is placed, against which the shoe pockets are attached. The sides of the screen are separated by a strip of wood four inches wide, to which the wings are fastened by means of hinges. This piece will allow the screen to be partially closed with shoes in the pockets.

The wings are to be covered with some effective material, such as china silk, cretonne or silkoline, and fastened at the edges with small tacks, over which gimp may be placed and caught down at regular distances with brass headed nails.

Pockets of denim in a color to match the draping material are made and securely tacked in place against the middle cross rail, and on one of the wings a narrow foot shelf or ledge may be supported on brackets that are screwed fast to the side uprights of the wing.—New York Herald.

Charlotte Russe.

Charlotte russe is one of the easiest as well as one of the best desserts ever invented. It is a pity that so many women accept the poor substitute sold at the bakeries. The mixture used by bakers is, of course, not cream at all. No one knows what it is, in the majority of cases. Real charlotte russe filling is whipped cream, mixed with other materials as desired. For example, a very good charlotte is made with whipped cream, powdered sugar to taste and chopped nuts. Mince fruit of every description is also used. It is very easy to devise new mixtures, and after a time one has two or three prime favorites of which the family never tire. The cake used may be plain sponge cake or lady fingers. Small paper molds are to be purchased, when individual charlottes are wanted. As a rule these are better than the large molded charlotte, as each person is given more cake.—New York Post.

Care of Our Best China.

Yes, there is science in it. Do not forget when washing gilt edged china or any delicate china with gilt designs that it must not be wiped dry. It should merely be placed on the table or in a large pan to drain until dry. Wiping such china will wear off the gold. China of this kind should never be washed in water containing borax, ammonia or soap. A piece of flannelette should be placed over each of the gilded plates and saucers that are piled together in the china closet. This protects the gilt from scratches.

The May Court Club will hold its annual exhibition of members' work on November 28 and 29. Many details in connection with the bazaar were arranged at the last meeting. Lady Evelyn Grey was present and reported that a course of lectures will be arranged to be given later in the season.

A WOMAN'S BACK IS THE MAINSPRING OF HER PHYSICAL SYSTEM.

The Slightest Backache, if Neglected, is Liable to Cause Years of Terrible Suffering.

No woman can be strong and healthy unless the kidneys are well, and regular in their action. When the kidneys are ill, the whole body is ill, for the poisons which the kidneys ought to have filtered out of the blood are left in the system.

The female constitution is naturally more subject to kidney disease than a man's; and what is more, a women's work is never done—her whole life is one continuous strain.

How many women have you heard say: "My, how my back aches!" Do you know that backache is one of the first signs of kidney trouble? It is, and should be attended to immediately. Other symptoms are frequent thirst, scanty, thick, cloudy or highly colored urine, burning sensation when urinating, frequent urination, puffing under the eyes, swelling of the feet and ankles, floating specks before the eyes, etc.

These symptoms if not taken in time and cured at once, will cause years of terrible kidney suffering. All these symptoms, and in fact, these diseases may be cured by the use of

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

They act directly on the kidneys, and make them strong and healthy.

Mrs. Mary Galley, Auburn, N.S., writes: "For over four months I was troubled with a lame back and was unable to turn in bed without help. I was induced by a friend to try Doan's Kidney Pills. After using two-thirds of a box my back was as well as ever."

Price 50 cents per box or three boxes for $1.25 at all dealers, or sent direct on receipt of price. The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

1812 HEROES CHAMPIONED.

Toronto, Nov. 9.—The United Empire Loyalists' Association through an influential deputation waited on Premier Whitney and the Cabinet yesterday afternoon to request that the Government provide monuments for the great Indian chief, Tecumseh, and for Lieut.-Col. John Macdonnell, Gen. Brock's aide-de-camp. The spokesman of the deputation were Lieut.-Col. Merritt, Lieut.-Col. Denison and Rev. Canon McNab.

Mr. Whitney assured the deputation of the warmest possible sympathy held by the members of the Government with regard to the request. But provincial governments were expected to do many things the fathers of Confederation had not thought of. In a national sense it might be expected the Federal Government might do the things asked for. However, the people of Ontario, he thought, would blame no government if they decided to erect monuments to men like Tecumseh and Macdonnell. Few had greater claims to recognition, but of course the matter would have to be considered from many points of view by the Government.

Montreal, Nov. 9.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the C. P. R., made the following remarks concerning the reports from abroad that Messrs. J. P. Morgan and J. J. Hill have secured control of the stock of the Canadian Pacific Railway: "Notwithstanding the amount of authentic information which has been given to the public on the subject, the shareholders still control the situation, and will continue to do so."

THE GIANT CAUCASUS

A REGION OF GLOOM AND TERROR AND DESOLATION.

The Strange Mixture of Races Dating Back From Immemorial Antiquity That Peoples the Slopes of These Snow Capped Mountains.

The traveler who should seek to cross from the southern plains of Russia over into Persia or Arabia by the land between the Caspian and the Black seas would find himself confronted by a sight which for gloom and terror has hardly any equal in the world, writes W. B. Hodgson in the London News. Rising sheer from the vast arid plain, like a great foam crested billow about to break on a desolate beach, a billow 10,000 feet high and 800 miles long, the snow capped Caucasus stretches across from sea to sea with a dreadful, threatening, savage majesty of mien.

Its peaks are not so high as many of the Alps, it has not the projecting spurs and isolated, craggy heights whose groupings give new and beautiful views at every step. It is just an immense mountain chain, an unbroken fold or crease on the earth's surface. Though the Alps have higher peaks the lowest pass across the Caucasus is nearly double the height of the Alpine crossing places. The Caucasus has no lakes, only turbid, muddy rivers flowing from the ice fields of its central ridge. Even these are missing in the east, where the ridge lowers toward the Caspian.

But the terror and desolation of the Caucasus forever kept apart the peoples to the north and south. On the one hand civilizations rose and fell—the Babylonian, the Assyrian, the Greek, the Egyptian, the Roman, the republics of the middle ages—but to the north the great plains were ever inhabited by the wild, lawless nomads. And so from the very beginnings of time the Caucasus has stayed the human tide, and, as conquering races swept all before them below, the weak, the peaceable, the unfit, have been driven higher and higher into inaccessible gorges and wild, bog covered valleys.

A strange mixture of races, dating back from immemorable antiquity, has been washed up like surf on to the slopes of these giant mountains. The Ud, the Kurin, the Avar, the Tush, belong to races that perished before Europe was discovered. Seven languages are spoken in the Caucasus, each unintelligible to the tribes using the rest. Some of them are related to the early tongues of Europe; others have no known affinities and seem to be among the languages of Babel that did not "catch on."

Here amid these mountains we have the ghosts of ancient peoples who have gone under in the world struggle. There may well be tribesmen here whose ancestor was driven high by the flood and settled within sight of Ararat and his cousin, Noah. There are still tribes who array themselves in helmets and chain armor and carry spears like those of 3,000 years ago. Others have strange ritual practices that have come down from the dawn of the world, mingling their pagan rites with worship of the "Christ God" and the angels of the river, the forest and the mountain. They have blood feuds which go on for generations, like those of Corsica in the past.

It is a mistake to suppose that Russia took the Caucasus by a general warlike movement. There was no need. Divided by religion into Christians, Mohammedans and pagans, divided by languages which made them mutually unintelligible, the tribes of this strange museum of bygone races could take no united action.

Throughout the first three-quarters of the nineteenth century Russia was employed in absorbing the Caucasus piece by piece. Only two of the Caucasian races made anything like strong resistance. In the east a Mohammedan prophet, Shamyl of the Avar stock, which overran a great part of Europe in the seventh century and was only finally conquered by Charlemagne, led the Leghians of Daghestan in a religious war against Russia. Crafty, daring and fertile in resource, occupying mountain slopes cut by impassable gorges, Shamyl was believed by his followers to have a charmed life. Only when the Russians built forts and military roads and gradually inclosed him at enormous expense did Shamyl surrender at his castle of Gunib in 1859. He passed some years of honorable captivity near Moscow and was then allowed, as a devout Mohammedan, to end his days in peace at Mecca.

Very different was the story of the Tcherkesses, or Circassians, who opposed Russia in the western section of the Caucasus. The Circassians were hardly the peaceable race of whose harems of east our boyish dreams were full. Warlike, splendid horsemen and marksmen, they lived almost entirely by pillage. In 1804 they submitted, and Russia, knowing them to be unmanageable in the mountains, gave them the choice of coming down into the plains or emigrating into Turkish territory. They chose the latter course and were welcomed by the sultan, but as his ships arrived at the Black sea ports to meet them long after the proper time large numbers perished of hardship and disease. Some were settled in Armenia, others in Bulgaria, others in various parts of Asia Minor, and wherever they went there has been trouble since.

THE RIVER OF YOUTH.

From all the golden hills of Dream,
Dew-cool and rainbow kissed,
It twines and curls, a silver stream,
Through valleys hung with mist.

Down past Enchanted Woods to where
Romance walks ever young,
Where Kings ride forth to take the air
On steeds with velvet hung—

Where Secret Stairways tempt the bold,
Where Pirate Caves abound,
And many a chest of Spanish gold
May solemnly be found!

Through magic years it twines and creeps
Past towers of peacock blue,
Where still some captured Princess sleeps
And dreams come always true.

Then gleam by gleam the light goes out,
Then darkened, grief by grief,
It sighs into our Sea of Doubt
And Manhood's Unbelief!

FINANCES OF UNIVERSITY.

Some Figures From the Latest Report of the Auditor.

Mr. W. H. Cross, auditor, in a report to the trustees of the University of Toronto, dealing with capital and income accounts of that institution, for the year ending June 30, 1905, says, in part, that the deficit which the Government pays is $38,741, instead of the $46,000 estimated. This is mainly due to the receipt of $67,056 in the fees, instead of the $60,000 estimated. The expenditures from revenue for the year totalled $166,087.

The general endowment fund, including sites, lands and buildings, unproductive lands, leased property, trust funds, etc., is placed at $3,215,924.

Mr. Cross says: "In 1892 a portion of the unleased lands in Queen's Park was looked upon as a means of obtaining revenue. Now that it is certain that the whole area will be required for university purposes, these lands, to which a valuation of $505,527.73 has been attached in the returns, fall to be transferred to site lands account.

"It was part of the present plan of account that adjustments of valuation of fixed assets should be made periodically. With regard to structures and their equipment, they would now be subject to decrease to the extent of their depreciation during the past thirteen years, qualified, however, by the increases to equipment which have been charged to revenue from year to year. On the other hand, the land valuations would doubtless be increased as the result of an appraisal. At present figures, $2,131,256.13, or about two-thirds of the general endowments of the university, have been absorbed in providing the existing accommodation, and you may now regard the exact valuations of each portion as of less importance than did your predecessors in office in 1892, owing to changed conditions.

"An appropriate adjustment is made of the valuation of the Upper Canada College block of land on King street, Toronto. In 1892 this block was taken into your accounts at $392,479.58, and by an order-in-council you were authorized to treat interest upon the actual cash then advanced by you as revenue. It now appears that this land has failed to realize the above amount, with interest on the cash advances, to the extent of $172,875.46, which sum has been written off."

Herd of Whales Milked.

Prof. Muller of St. John's, Nfld., who was the first man to discover that whale flesh could be prepared for eating, has now succeeded in domesticating a herd of more than fifty sulphur cow whales and has perfected an apparatus for milking them.

The milk is fresh and sweet and peculiarly rich in nutritive and medicinal qualities. The yield from a full-grown whale is from five to seven hogsheads a day. It is much thicker and richer than the best cow's milk and possesses a peculiarly pleasant and distinctive flavor, which those who have tasted it pronounce superior to any known milk.

Chemical analysis has shown that the milk of the sulphur whale is rich in those products which give to cod liver oil its value as a remedial food.

Prof. Muller has invented and patented a process for making leather from the internal membranes of the whale. When taned and finished it is of great durability and fine texture.

Besides its superior quality the whale leather furnishes singles pieces of much greater dimensions than it is possible to procure from any other animal. It is possible, according to the inventor, to obtain from the skin of a full-grown sulphur whale a strip of leather about 300 feet in length and three and a half feet in breadth. From the pleural lining a tube of leather twenty-five feet in diameter can be obtained.

CARRIED HERO TO COCKPIT.

Grandson Lives in Toronto — Grandfather Veteran of Trafalgar.

Toronto counts among her citizens the grandson of one of the men who fought with Nelson, and carried that wounded hero to the cockpit of the Victory, while the old ship flew the signal "England expects that every man this day will do his duty."

Mr. W. J. Kemish, an old navy man and a pensioner, living at 248 Brock avenue took a keen interest in the celebrations made on Trafalgar Day, in memory of that great sea battle, fought just one hundred years ago, on the 21st of this month.

Mr. Kemish's grandfather, whose name was Thomas Hastings, during his lifetime took part in some stirring and historical sea fights. At the battle of Trafalgar First-class Petty Officer Hastings was one of the crew of the signal frigate Euryalus, Capt. Blackwood. During the battle Hastings, who was one of the crew of the captain's gig, helped row that officer aboard the Victory, and after Nelson had been shot down, assisted to carry him to the cockpit.

A few years later Mr. Hastings, having risen to the rank of a warrant officer, was aboard the Shannon during that memorable fight with the Chesapeake.

When the odds were going against the British ship, Capt. Brooke shouted to his men, "Board, my brave fellows; we shall yet win the day." Hastings was one of the boarding party, and during the rush he had his right wrist cut in two by a blow from a cutlass.

Later Mr. Hastings was appointed boatswain of the Pembroke dockyard, in Wales, and received William IV. during his visit there.

Mr. Kemish followed in the footsteps of his father and grandfather, and at the age of 14 was an ordinary seaman on the paddle-wheel sloop Alecta, five guns, stationed on the west coast of Africa. During his four years' service on that station Mr. Kemish saw a lot of fighting. He assisted in the capture of six slave ships, out of the Congo, and the prize money amounted to $20,000. While on the African coast Mr. Kemish was sent in charge of a prize crew to take the captured American brigantine Woodward, with 612 slaves in her hold, to St. Helena. During the trip 168 of them died.

Upon returning from the African station Mr. Kemish was appointed to Algiers, 31 guns, attached to the Mediterranean fleet. After having spent four years on that station he was appointed to the gunnery ship Excellent at Portsmouth, and went through a first-class course in gunnery, and appointed to the corvette Fawn. Mr. Kemish was from 1864 to 1868 on the North American station. The Fawn was at Jamaica during the negro rebellion, and assisted in putting it down. Mr. Kemish remembers seeing eighteen blacks hanged one morning before breakfast. The same vessel was also stationed at St. Andrew, N. B., during the Fenian raid, and captured two boats, loaded with rifles. Mr. Kemish has amongst his medals that given for the Fenian raid. Mr. Kemish was then appointed to the Endymion, and made a trip round the world in her under Sir John Ormsby.

Returning to England, Mr. Kemish went through yet another gunnery course, and was then appointed chief gunner's mate on the H. M. S. Vulture, doing duty as a commissioned officer. Whilst in the Vulture lying at Zanzibar the body of the famous explorer, Dr. Livingstone, was brought down to the coast, and taken aboard the Vulture, and the coffin in which he was buried was made on that vessel. From 1872 to 1876 Mr. Kemish saw much service in the East Indies and the Persian Gulf. On the 4th of July, 1876, Mr. Kemish received his pension and left the service. He is also in receipt of a Greenwich Hospital pension. Mr. Kemish came to Canada in 1879, and settled in Toronto.

YELLOW ROOMS.

They Are Trying to the Eyes and Disturb the Nerve Centers.

A New York upholsterer who has given the subject much thought has laid down a few rules which are worth thinking about. "I have not," said he, "put yellow into a sitting room in ten years with the exception of the little that gets into a gold paper, and when I hear about Whistler's yellow room it makes me shudder.

"Yellows are all right for a hall or vestibule, but they must not be used in any room in which one rests or reads or works. Why? Because yellows do not absorb any light, but are strong reflectors, and the reflected rays of light are not only trying to the eyes but positively affect the brain and the spirits, creating a distinct disturbance of the nervous centers. So the modern scientific decorator, at any rate, tells us, and we believe him.

"On the other hand, buffs and creams are recommended for the nursery and children's sleeping rooms because of their tonic qualities. They are better than white, which is apt to disturb the young optic nerves by its brilliancy, and are calculated to impart a cheerful but too boisterous temperament as well as a good complexion to the youngsters."

SHE WAS IN BED FOR THREE YEARS

Pain-Racked Woman Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Strong Statement by Mrs. Jas. Hughes of Morley, Ont. She's Strong and Healthy Once More.

Morley, Ont., Nov. 10.—(Special)—What Dodd's Kidney Pills are doing for the suffering women of Canada will never be fully known. It is only when some courageous woman breaks the secrecy that covers woman and her troubles that a passing glimpse of their great work is given. For this reason a statement made by Mrs. Jas. Hughes, of this place, is of more than passing interest.

"I was a great sufferer for four years," says Mrs. Hughes. "I was treated by five doctors and a specialist from the U. S. I tried nearly every kind of medicine I could hear of, but none seemed to do me any good.

"I was in bed for nearly three years. I had pains in my spinal column, in my head, over my eyes, across my back and through my left side. I took fourteen boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and now I am strong and able to do a good day's work, thanks to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

THE MOUTH.

Cultivate Its Charms and Teach It How to Smile.

It is Ruskin who points out that in the human race alone the mouth is a mark of beauty and may be made to convey a great deal of expression, even though the lips are silent. Beginning with those lower orders of creatures which can scarcely be said to have mouths at all and running up the gamut of beasts to dogs and horses, which are about the most highly educated of our dumb kin, the mouth is everywhere merely an organ for taking in food and making sounds, says the Philadelphia Bulletin. In man alone it becomes a mark of beauty and a means of expression.

The curve of a woman's lips can express, oh, so much! There is the proud mouth, the cynical mouth, the sensual mouth, the sympathetic mouth, the affectionate mouth, the cruel mouth. Lips that tremble can tell more of grief than many a spoken word. Lips that smile can illuminate a whole household. As a mode of expression the mouth has ever been a telling factor.

As a mark of beauty the mouth can be cultivated. It needs no beauty doctor's art to train it to pleasant lines. Teach it to smile. Refuse to let it settle into hard, cynical lines. Give it the uplift and serenity that speak more plainly than words of peace and strength. By deliberate training the mouth can be made one of the most telling, most attractive, features of a personality.

Chocolate Custard.

Dissolve three ounces of grated chocolate over the fire in a little milk, and then add enough to measure a quart in all and let it boil up. Remove the pan to the side of the fire, place the cover on, and let the contents steep for ten minutes. Beat together four eggs, pour slowly into the chocolate, sweeten to taste, stir while the custard just simmers till thick enough. Add a few drops of vanilla essence; pour into glasses and leave till cold. Just before serving pile a little whipped cream on each.

GAVE ROSTAND HIS START.

Sarah Bernhardt Had Faith in the Playwright's Ability.

Edmond Rostand, the great French playwright, had the usual difficulty in getting a hearing when first he began to write for the stage. Sarah Bernhardt was directly responsible for the primal achievement of this successor of Victor Hugo. Mme. Bernhardt grew greatly interested in Rostand's first play, "La Princesse Lointaine," and suggested that he give a public reading of the manuscript at her theater.

To this reading the actress invited Coquelin, whose attention was riveted from the very first line and who, walking home with the poet, gave it as his opinion that his companion was to become the greatest dramatist of the age.

"I bind myself, here and now, to take any play which you write (in which there is a part for me) without reading it," he said, "to cancel any engagement I may have on hand and to produce your piece with the least possible delay."

Such faith as this proved a veritable backbone to Rostand, who had lost all hope of exciting interest in his work. A few years later Coquelin produced "Cyrano," the success of which has passed into histrionic history. It was gratitude to Mme. Bernhardt for her share in giving him this opportunity that made Rostand write "L'Aiglon," which many critics consider the greatest tragedy of modern times. Mme. Bernhardt made a fortune from the play, which she presented not only in France, but also in England and America.—New York Press.

The Mediaeval Kitchen.

It was the middle ages before the kitchen had been raised to the dignity of an established apartment. Strange doings went on in those mediaeval kitchens. Butchers slaughtered animals there, which were skinned and dressed as well as cooked in the kitchen. The family blacksmith kept his fire there and repaired the plows and wheels of the estate. Coal began to be used as a kitchen fuel in 1245, though not generally for 200 years after. The oven did not come into use until the year 1400, and then it was the old fashioned brick oven, which persisted for hundreds of years. The stove, when invented, took the place of the separate oven and the fireplace, with its spit, crane and hanging pots.

The Best He Could Do.

The attendants of a certain Bloor street church are chuckling over an unconscious bit of humor perpetrated by their minister not long ago, says The Toronto Star.

The church had been revisited by a former pastor, the Rev. Mr. ———, who is now following a brilliant career in the United States. He attended the weekly prayer meeting and spoke with all his old fire and powerful rhetoric, making a deep impression on all who heard him, including the regular pastor, who took occasion to allude to it in his announcements on the following Sunday:

"Next Wednesday evening," he said, "there will be the usual prayer meeting. I cannot say that another Mr. ——— will be there, but I can, I think, promise you the presence of God."

Descendant of Lord Nelson.

At the Trafalgar celebration held in Brockville, it was stated that Mr. W. S. Buell, ex-Mayor of Brockville, and son of the late Lieut.-Col. Buell, who represented Brockville in the Dominion House during the Mackenzie regime, is a lineal descendant of Lord Nelson. His aunt, Miss Senkler, residing in Brockville, has in her possession a cuff link given by Lord Nelson to his chaplain. This chaplain was the great-grandfather of Mr. Buell and a first cousin of Lord Nelson.

Reply To Letter Of Rev. E. S. Leland

Pastor of Bethany Tabernacle Writes Again on the Question of the Lord's Day—According to His Views the Seventh Day is Not the Lord's Day—Closing Letter of an Interesting Controversy.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

My Dear Sir,—I have just read the long and wearisome reply to my last rejoinder on the Lord's Day question. I have no desire to continue the discussion, but feel that some things have remained unsaid that may enlighten your correspondent, and be both interesting and helpful to your readers.

1. The sinner does not receive eternal life through keeping the law of Moses, nor any other law. Our correspondent after showing that we are not justified by law, contradicts himself immediately after by affirming that we receive eternal life through keeping the commandments, which is the same thing, as being justified by keeping the law. He quotes one solitary text, Matt. 19; 16-22, which teaches nothing of the kind. Christ answered the young man according to his own question. He asked what he must do, and Christ answered in effect that if he would be saved through doing he must keep the whole law. Israel was tested on this basis, and because they failed Christ came to deliver them from the curse of the broken law, and now we are saved through faith in Him. Yet our correspondent makes the reckless statement that we "must keep the commandments to have eternal life." This is salvation by works—the deadly heresy against which the whole truth of the New Testament is arrayed. It is against this subtle error that Paul thunders in Romans and Galatians, calling it "another Gospel," Gal. 1; 9, and pronouncing upon it God's "anathema." Yet this is the crux and core of Sabbatharian teaching. But our Gospel is one of Grace and not of works. Read John's Gospel, God's book on eternal life. In almost every chapter the fact is delared that faith in Christ as the Son of God is the condition of receiving eternal life. "He that believeth on the Son (Not keeps the commandments of Moses) hath eternal life." when the Jews asked what they must do to work the works of God, He replied: "This is the work of God, that ye believe on Him whom He hath sent," John 6; 28-29. Works are not only not a condition but are excluded. The key to John's Gospel and the purpose of the book is expressed in chapter 20; verse 31,—"Many other signs therefore did Jesus.....but these are written, that ye may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that believing ye may have life in his name." The same fact is rigourously affirmed by Paul in Romans. All our blessings are of Grace. It is the key to the New Testament or Covenant.

Romans 3; 23 is a poor showing as against the many references already given to show that the Mosaic law is no longer binding upon the believer. But the explaination of this text is not wanting. The law was good and holy and perfect in the sense that it served its purpose perfectly. It showed Isreal the impossibility of saving themselves by that means, and it will do the same for the one who places himself under law for salvation, that he may be shown his failure and go to Christ in whom it was fulfilled. The law was established according to Rom. 3; 28 by Christ dying to pay its penalty and thus confirming its rightful claim upon every one who had violated its precepts. If the law had not been just in its demands, Christ would not have honoured it by His death. Having died he established its claims and made it holy. The preceding verses make this plain. We obey God not in order to receive eternal life, but because we have eternal life. It is not do and live, but live and do. The life is the power that makes obedience possible.

2. We are not sanctified through keeping the law of Moses. It is neither the rule of our obedience nor the power that makes that obedience possible. Here again our correspondent is in error. Sanctification by Law is the heresy that Paul thunders at in Rom. 6; 6, and in Gal. 3; 3. Having discussed justification by faith in Rom. 3; 5, he deals with sanctification in chapters 6-8. In 6; 5-11 he shows that Christ on the cross not only dealt with our sins but with our sin; not only with the fruit of our sinful lives, but also with the root, the sinful nature itself. The result is that we are legally released from sin; Ver. 7. The law slew our sinful selves on Calvary. Christ sent in the likeness of sinful flesh (Rom. 8; 3) and for sin, that is as an offering for sin, "condemned sin in the flesh." The reckless perversion of this text by our correspondent is wholly inexcusable. Anybody with a fair knowledge of English can see that this has no reference to a present experience, but to Christ's sacrifice on Calvary as our sin offering. The requirements of the law being fully met in Christ, we are free from its obligations. This is plainly stated in chap. 17, 4-6. "Ye also were made dead to the law through the body of Christ"; "we have been discharged from the law, having died to that wherein we were held." Could anything be plainer. The Jaw has no more claim upon a believer than the law of the land has upon a dead man. I am discharged from the law that I may be joined to another, even to Christ. Paul tried to become sanctified through keeping the law, and the result was the cry of despair in the last of Rom. 7. Then in Rom. 8 follows the method of sanctification. Christ sanctified through the law of the Spirit of life, 8; 2. The law of Moses was a law of death. But God's law embodied in the spirit is a law of life. The Holy Spirit is the nature of God, and the spirit of the glorified Christ. It is the spirit that overcame every enemy when Christ was on earth, and will do the same for the consecrated believer. He writes God's law (not the laws of Moses) upon the heart. It is the spirit of the glorified Christ given to the church on Pentecost. He brings in a new tendency, operating with the persistency and regularity of a law. It is the same spirit that overcame sin, death and hell, in Christ for us, and now overcomes them in us. Our part is to yield implicitly to Him, while he consumes and transforms our sinful spirits till all is made new. This is God's method of sanctification. It is in this way that all the righteous requirements of the law are fulfilled in us "who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit;—Rom. 8; 3-4. It is not obedience to external law so much as to internal tendency and power, that of the personal Holy Spirit. He is the potentiality, or working capital, of a perfectly transformed life. The human spirit or sinful nature may be entirely transformed now, while that of the body awaits the resurrection. Then the whole man will be a perfectly new creation. So much for the method. But what is the body of truth or mould into which this new life is cast by the transforming power of the Spirit? Were it the law of Moses, the believer at his best would be no better than Moses, who, though himself the law-giver, could not enter the promised land. Or he could not go beyond John the Baptist, of whom Christ said, "Among them that are born of women, there hath not arisen a greater than John the Baptist; yet he that is but little in the Kingdom of Heaven is greater than he." John, however blest, under the law of Moses, could not reach the place of deliverance from sin through the indwelling Spirit in the age of grace. The Spirit was not given until Pentecost, and therefore John could not and did not become a member of the body and bride of Christ, as in the privilege of those living since. The Spirit is that of Jesus, and the truth that shapes our characters is that expressed by Christ. He is the eternal Word, Jno. 1; 1. He is the perfect man, not Moses. His law is His teaching as embodied in the New Testament, with the sermon on the Mount as the basis. The Holy Spirit rounds out the Christian life according to the teaching of Christ, and not that of Moses. The sermon on the Mount as the constitution with the rest of the New Covenant, given as the special heritage to the church, must mould and shape the life of the Christian in order to make him like Christ. Now notice the sermon on the Mount, Matt., ch. 5-8, as compared with the Ten Commandments. Both were given on a mount. The two persons through whom they were given were mediators of a covenant, the one of the Old Covenant, and the other of the New. Both persons were inaugurating an age and dispensation, the former that of law, and the latter that of grace. Both were connected with the establishment of a kingdom. Comp. Ex. 19; 5-6 with Matt. 5; 3, 10, 20; 6, 10, 17 21, etc. The inference is plain. The Ten Commandments were the basis of that system of law which was to govern the commonwealth of Nationalized Israel; while the sermon on the Mount formed the constitution of the kingdom that Jesus came to establish. The statutory laws and regulations were related to the Ten Commandments as the rest of the New Testament, or covenant, is to the sermon on the mount. But note the difference: They form the basis of two distinct covenants. The latter is much more comprehensive and searching in its demands. Many things permitted under the law of Moses are now forbidden. And the changes have to do, not with ceremonials, but with morals, such as forgiveness, adultery, offenses, divorce, swearing, retaliation, love and hate. Christ did not hesitate to say, "Moses indeed said.....but I say unto you. Moses was with Christ on the Mount of Transfiguration where the coming kingdom was displayed, but God passes Moses by, as He calls from the heavens, "This is My beloved Son, hear ye Him." Peter in his discourse to the Jews shows that obedience is to be to Christ, and not to Moses. "A prophet shall the Lord raise up to you from among your brethren, like unto me; to Him shall ye hearken in all things whatsoever He shall speak unto you," Acts iii, 22. Christ Himself said, "If ye keep My commandments (not those of Moses) ye shall abide in My love, etc." John xv, 10. If the teaching of Christ is far superior to that of Moses, and much more comprehensive and searching in its demands, why should your correspondent want to go back to the law of Moses and the Old Covenant?

3. Again our correspondent says that "In the great judgment day the rule of judgment will be the laws of God," evidently meaning the law of Moses. As a proof text he quotes Romans ii, 12. "For as many as have sinned without law, shall also perish without law, and as many as have sinned under the law shall be judged by the law." But this text proves the very opposite. Those without the law are the heathen; they will be judged without the law. Those under the law, the Jews, will be judged by the law. But we belong to a third class, who are under Gospel dispensation, and shall be judged "according to my Gospel, by Christ Jesus." If my opponent had read right on he would have discovered this fact. Nowhere in the New Testament can it be shown that the law of Moses will be the basis of judgment in the future. From Heb. x, 28-29, we learn that those living in the Gospel age, will be judged, not according to the law of Moses, but according to their treatment of the blood of Christ, and the Spirit of His Grace. Christ having met in our stead the obligations of the law for us our responsibility is to Him. "He that believeth not is judged already, because he hath not believed on the name of the only begotten Son of God." John iii, 18. "The word that I spake (not Moses) the same shall judge him in the last day." John xii, 48.

4. Again, Heb. iii, 4, does not teach the keeping of the literal seventh day Sabbath. Any thoughtful Bible student can see the impossibility of the claim as made by my opponent. He wants to know where the antitype of the Sabbath is. Well, here it is. The rest here mentioned is a religious experience. It was typified both by the seventh day Sabbath, and Israel's rest, after reaching Canaan. It is that rest which the Holy Spirit brings into the heart when we cease from self and let Christ reign perfectly within. In chapter iv, 1-5, Paul contrasts Moses and Christ. The Hebrew Christians to whom Paul wrote, were tempted to give up Christ and go back to Moses. In that case they would have lost the rest in Christ, just as Israel through unbelief lost the rest of Canaan for the same reason. Moses, the representative of the law, could not bring Israel into the land of rest, nor can the one under the law today enjoy the Sabbath rest of the Holy Spirit. God aware that they should not enter into His rest, because of their unbelief. Did God rob them of their Sabbath? Were they not keeping the Sabbath all through their wilderness journey? Then the Sabbath rest must be the antitype as shown above, of the believer's rest in Christ. In chapter iv, 4, God mentions the original Sabbath and connects it with His rest, showing that the one is typical of the other. In verse 9 the writer says "There remaineth therefore a Sabbath rest for the people of God." It is for the people of God, an experience that belongs to the believer. It is the rest of the Holy Spirit, who fulfils the law for us, by writing them upon our hearts, as shown in chapter viii. In verse 8, the writer says, "If Joshua had given them rest he would not have spoken of another day." Did Joshua give to Israel the Sabbath? To hold that the teaching of these chapters is the restoration of the seventh day Sabbath is most absurd. I challenge my opponent to find a single commentator or Bible student of any repute, outside his own denomination, that will agree with him.

5. Our correspondent is much exercised with reference to my views respecting the Mosaic law., because I disagree, as he says, with the great religious bodies of to-day. But he knows very well that the Sabbatarian takes issue with the whole religious world in keeping Saturday as the Lord's Day. If we are to follow the verdict of the denominations then why does he not do the same and keep the first day of the week? Oh, consistency, thou art, indeed, a jewel! It may not, however, be out of place here to inform my opponent that when I hold the abrogation of the law of Moses, I am in big company, for a host of the most consecrated and intelligent Bible teachers in the world, are with us. But his position is fatal to Sabbatarianism; and my opponent is beginning to feel it. The arrow is evidently taking effect. May God help his soul out of his dilemna into that blessed liberty of the children of God.

Respectfully yours,
A. E. STEUERNAGEL.

BABY TUCKER'S WONDERFUL CURE

Covered from Head to Foot with Humours—Forty Boils on Head at One Time—Could Not Shut Eyes to Sleep—Doctors Did No Good.

CURED BY CUTICURA IN ONE MONTH

Mrs. George H. Tucker, Jr., 335 Greenfield Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis., is a grateful mother. "When six months old," she says, "my little girl weighed a pound and a half less than at birth. When one month old a scab formed on her face, spreading until it completely covered her from head to foot, followed by boils, having forty on her head at one time, and more on her body. Then her skin started to dry up, and it became so bad she could not shut her eyes to sleep. One month's treatment with Cuticura Soap and Ointment made a complete cure, and now my child is as large, strong, and healthy as any child of her age. The doctor's and drug bills amounted to a large sum, and my baby grew worse all the time. Then we got Cuticura Soap and Ointment and cured her at trifling expense."

CUTICURA A BLESSING To Skin-Tortured Babies.

The suffering which Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have alleviated among the young, and the comfort they have afforded worn-out and worried parents, have led to their adoption in countless homes as priceless curatives for birth humours, and every form of itching, scaly, pimply skin, and scalp humours, with loss of hair, of infancy and childhood. A warm bath with Cuticura Soap, and a single anointing with Cuticura Ointment, will permit of sleep for baby, and rest for mother, and point to a speedy and permanent cure in the most distressing cases.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are sold throughout the world. Depots: London, 27 Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5 Rue de la Paix; Australia, R. Towns & Co., Sydney. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, Sole Props.

ADVERTISING HINTS.

The Baker and Confectioner advises merchants to "advertise a few lines at a time." It says:—

"In your advertising matter which you send out, don't try to tell the whole story at once, but reserve something for another time. This gives a legitimate pretext for other instalments of advertising matter. It will also make your material fresher and more interesting, and in this way it runs a better chance of being read. Nothing is more disheartening than to pick up a newspaper where an advertiser tries to tell about everything he has in his store. Advertising to a certain extent, can be made seasonable, as well as suggestive. There are always a number of lines which are especially suitable for the various holidays. The same idea should always be carried out in the window, to a certain extent. To crowd a couple of everything in the window at one time cuts out at once all chance for either variety or individuality in your display."

Frankfort, Germany, has just celebrated the centenary of the frankfurter. The inventor of the famous sausage was Johann Lahner, a citizen of Frankfort, who opened a pork shop in Vienna in 1787. In 1806 he invented the sausage. It was received with open mouths, so to speak. Even the Emperor ate it. Lahner made his fortune. Frankfort was proud.

Boiled Brisket of Beef with Vegetables

Get a piece of brisket of beef about four pounds, wipe it well with a damp cloth, and put it in a saucepan with enough salted hot water to just cover it; boil up, and boil slowly, allowing half an hour a pound and half an hour over. Peel three or four onions, the same quantity of carrots and turnips. Slice them and put them in with the meat about one hour before it is done. Serve on a dish with the vegetables round and a little liquor. This is the favourite English way of preparing brisket.

Do not wash oilcloths or linoleums with soap, which finally weakens and destroys the pattern, unless they are very dirty. Instead wipe them with a cloth wrung out of equal parts of milk and water mixed. This cleanses the cloths and preserves their appearance. They are also well preserved if polished with beeswax, but this is rather harder work.

MRS. HUBBARD TELLS IN WIRELESS MESSAGE OF LABRADOR TRIP

Brave Lady Well Known in This City Who Has Been Exploring Labrador Wilds--Enjoyed Her Experiences, Which Were Without Hardships—Once a Canoe Capsized—Met Indian Bands—Will Reach Quebec on November 18.

New York, Nov. 11.—Mrs. Leonidas Hubbard, jr., has sent the following message to the World from Chateau Bay, Labrador, under date of November 10th, 1905:

"Our undertaking has been successful. I went away prepared to meet many hardships—I met none.

"It was a splendid trip, which gave me pleasure, and more than pleasure, the privilege of offering tribute to one whose life and the spirit in which he lived were beautiful beyond anything that life has shown me.

Met Hudson Bay Factor.

"On June 27 at 3.30 p.m. we left Northwest River in an attempt to cross the north-eastern portion of Labrador Peninsula by way of the Nascoupee and George Rivers. On August 27 at 11.30 a.m., we were received at the George River, Hudson Bay Company's post at Ugava Bay, John Ford, the company's agent. Then more than 550 miles of our journey was accomplished without serious mishaps. One accident we had on the Nascoupee River, when a canoe turned in the rapids and two men barely escaped drowning. We lost part of the outfit but not sufficient to force us to turn back.

"When we left Northwest River, our first objective point was Seal Lake, which we reached on Monday, July 15th. We made our first camp on Lake Michekamau on August 8. We saw one herd on the height of the tableland and the head of the George River on August 10.

Guests of Indians.

"On the George River we met two bands of Indians, the first fifty miles below the headwaters. These we found to belong to the Montagnales tribe. Two days and a half below them, at Indian House Lake, we came on the Naseaubees, or "Barren Ground People." At both camps we were received in a grand manner. George Elsen, Mrs. Hubbard's half breed Indian guide, who had accompanied her husband's expedition, was able to speak to them in their own language.

"We had no illness in the party. We left George River on the steamer Pelican on October 22, reaching Rigolette on November 1st. We were fortunate enough to connect there with the steamer King Edward, which is due in Quebec about Oct. 18."

In Husband's Steps.

This is the first message beyond a bare announcement of safety from this woman who has returned from the Labrador wastes, where her husband perished in 1903, after having followed, step by step, his trail in the frozen wilds, and settled once for all, in her own mind, the manner of his death.

Bell Telephone Company
INSTALLS A NEW Central Energy Board

The Local Telephone Exchange is the First to be Equipped With This Style of Switchboard—The Change Was Made Yesterday—Subscribers Now Need Not Ring—Many Advantages Which the New System Offers—Has Capacity for 1200 Telephones.

Peterborough is the first small city in which the Bell Telephone Company has installed one of their new central energy switchboards, and that which was placed in commission here yesterday was the largest of its kind in Canada, the only other system like it being that in Toronto Junction.

The new board is a decided improvement over that which it replaces, and with its installation the subscribers will be given a much better service.

The company is putting in this system as an experiment, and if it works satisfactorily here, boards will be installed in all the cities of a similar size in Ontario. The special features of this new system are that the subscriber does not have to turn the crank to get Central, and on the switchboard there are attachments which give the operator definite information as to when the person called answers the call, and when the conversation is finished, so that it is not necessary for the operator to "cut in" to inquire if an answer has been received or if they are finished. These are advantages which will at once appeal to the subscribers as being features which will materially increase the efficiency of their telephones.

The change from the old style board to the central energy equipment was made yesterday from 11 o'clock in the morning to 6 o'clock in the evening, and this change constituted one of the most rapid pieces of work of its kind on record, and the uninitiated cannot fully appreciate the amount of work involved. In Peterborough there are 714 working telephones, and the great majority of these, all except those on party lines, are connected to the switchboard by two wires, all of which had to be changed during the operations yesterday. In addition to this comparatively small matter to attend to when changing the whole system from one switchboard to another, there are scores of other details, in connection with each and every subscriber's set of wires, that had to be attended to, and were handled without a single telephone in the city being disconnected, losing time, or having a word of conversation interrupted.

To fully comprehend the almost miraculous deed wrought between 11 a.m., and 6 p.m. yesterday one should see the seemingly numberless maze of wires handled so accurately and quickly.

At 11 o'clock yesterday morning the 714 subscribers, or those who desired to, were talking to one another through the old switchboard, and by supper time yesterday evening, the old board had been stripped of its wires and removed to another room, out of the way, while the subscribers were talking over the fine and handsome new switchboard.

This morning Mr. Dean, the local manager of the company, who naturally feels somewhat proud of the fact that he has charge of the most perfect switchboard of its kind in Canada, very kindly gave the Examiner some information to-day in reference to the make-up of the new system and enumerated a few of its many advantages.

The new board, which is the most complete and perfect now in existence, having every new device known to telephone science, incorporated in it, is a handsome cherry structure, containing eight sections, and any desired capacity can be added from time to time.

On and after this date when one wants to call the central office, it is not necessary to touch the bell handle of the instrument; the moment the receiver is lifted from the hook the central is notified. To show more clearly some of the new devices in connection with the board placed yesterday, it may be interesting to describe what takes place the moment the receiver leaves the hook. First, a "pilot lamp" at the section containing the calling subscriber's number flashed forth a warning; not only this but a white disc closes a hole in the black portion of the board, corresponding to the caller's number. The moment that the operator "plugs in" connecting the caller with the called, the lamp dies out, and a similar white disc closes a hole corresponding with the caller's number. Thus the operator, without "cutting in," can tell, at a glance when and how long the instruments are connected. When the two speakers end their talk and hang up their receivers the white discs automatically disappear. Another new feature is that in case a subscriber after talking, or by accident, leaves his receiver hanging down, a "buzzer" loudly warns the subscriber, reminding him of his omission.

The board is divided into six local and three long distance sections. In the new board every operater makes every desired connection asked for on the board, not requiring, as on the old board, to call in the services of another operator. When the numbers to be connected are a long distance apart in different sections; this will save subscribers considerable.

For people having two or three phones on the one line, a great amount of trouble will now be saved. Under the old system in such cases, when one of the phones was called by the central office, each telephone would ring; the different phones being distinguished by varied number of rings, say one ring for one phone, and three for another. With the select party signal attachment of the new board, only the particular telephone bell wanted, will ring.

The operators were yesterday supplied with a head attachment very light and simple, which combines the hearing apparatus as of old, with a portable transmitter. This saves the operator a lot of trouble and tiring stooping.

A full set of batteries was yesterday installed, with a motor for charging them. All 'phones will now use the storage batteries located in the central, instead of having individual batteries. The new system including motor of 1 1-2 horse power, bank of storage batteries, pole changer, power panel, by which all electric energy and power will be supplied, is perhaps the most compact and perfect in existence.

Mr. J. Hardwin, of Montreal, the Bell Company's electrical manager, with Mr. Dean, local manager, Mr. Geo. Jackson, the local telephone expert, assisted by a staff of eight men, worked like beavers all day yesterday, and by six o'clock, with large shears, cut the thin copper wires connecting, by cables, the two switch boards.

For weeks past, to avoid any trouble to subscribers, whilst finally changing the switch boards, and working altogether through the new one, the hundreds of wires, of the old board, 50 wire cables were connected with corresponding numbers, on the new. At a given signal yesterday evening, men armed with shears, finally divorced the two boards temporarily connected by cables.

This morning the company began their work of changing the long-distance telephones of the town, and putting in the most modern 'phone. Those now using the older instrument, the Blake transmitter, will retain such instruments unless special arrangements are made for their change. The new sets are smaller than the regular long-distance 'phone and are better adapted to the system.

All the boards and 'phones of the company are now being standardized, as well as the prices, so that all the subscribers in towns of a similar size will pay the same price for their telephones.

For the benefit of those subscribers who have not been made acquainted with the change and what it involves, the following instructions issued by the company will give the desired information:—"To call the central office remove the telephone from the hook. When you have finished talking hang up the telephone, placing the small end up. The act of hanging up the telephone gives a positive signal to the operator to disconnect your line. Be sure, therefore, not to hang up your telephone until you have completed your conversation. If the attention of the operator is wanted in order to make another call, or for any other purpose, move the hook up and down slowly three or four times. Please speak close to the transmitter."

A Prominent Resident Dead
Mrs. Philip Elmhurst Passed Away Last Night.

Special to The Examiner.

Keene, Nov. 13.—Last night at 12 o'clock, the death occurred at her home in Otonabee, at the age of 67 years, of Mrs. Philip Elmhirst, after an illness of only two days, her death being due to heart disease. The deceased's maiden name was Jane Bolton, and she leaves to mourn her loss her surviving husband and five sons, William, on the homestead, Frank, of Otonabee, John and Albert, of Carbery, Man., and Fred., of New Ontario.

The late Mrs. Elmhirst was one of the most highly respected residents of the Township of Otonabee, and was a prominent member of the Bethel Methodist church. The funeral arrangements had not been made at 3 o'clock this afternoon, but it will probably take place on Tuesday afternoon to Westwood cemetery.

Y.M.C.A. Auxiliary Annual Concert

—The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A. will hold their annual concert in the opera house on Thursday evening, December 7. It was the intention to hold a sacred concert in the church, but this has been changed to a secular concert on the above date in the opera house. Exceptionally good talent has been procured, and there is no doubt but that this will be an unusually pleasing concert event.

"Strange Japan" Is Now Open To The Gospel

Rev. C. E. Ryerson Speaks of How the Leaven of Christianity is Fermenting the Land of the Rising Sun—The Open Door for Christianity—The Change it Has Wrought and is Working.

CONTINUATION OF DEDICATION FESTIVAL

The services at St. John's yesterday morning were of especial interest. In addition to the continued dedication festival character of the services there was a most interesting address on Japan, in association with the mission work of the English church in Canada, by Rev. C. E. Ryerson, a returned missionary. At the conclusion of the service, before the the hymn, Rev. Mr. Davidson made a most appreciative and touching reference to the late Ven. Archdeacon Allen—to the large place he occupied in the activities of the Church, to his long incumbency of the parish of Cavan, one of the best administered parishes in the diocese. He had been a most heroic worker, going in and out among the people of his parish for over half a century. His death meant a loss of pleasant and uplift-association to all the clergy of the diocese. His loss would also be felt as a personal one to many members of St. John's congregation. Out of of respect for the late Archdeacon, Hymn No. 499 was sung, "On the Resurrection Morning."

Mission Work in Japan.

The preacher took for his text, The likeness of the Kindgom of Heaven to the "leaven that leaveneth the whole." He said that one walking through the streets of Tokyo where he was a missionary for several years, would notice over doorways of houses various charms to keep away evil spirits and calamities. Not untrequently now one would see the same plate of the owner surmounted by a red cross, which to many had no religious significance but was an emblem of the Red Cross work, which owes its origin to Christianity, whose leaven has been working, slowly, perhaps, but effectually. Japan has been signed with a sign of the cross. Mission work was like the net; it brought in all kinds, and though the result was not great, the seed sown was like the mustard seed, and was beginning to spread. The Anglican church in Japan had 12,000 members fully organized with hymn books, prayer books, etc., and the leaven of Christianity was working silently. Present conditions were a great change from a half century ago when the presence of missionaries were forbidden under penalty of death. Even fifteen years ago when the Canadian mission was planted there were great difficulties to encounter. Now all was changed—the gate was wide open. Now missionaries are rather welcomed and afforded police protection. The late war, contrary to what was feared, rather helped the work of the missionary; he was allowed to work amongst the soldiers and the officers afforded him many privileges.

A great work was carried on by the Y.M.C.A. (organized by a zealous Anglican) to which the Emperor gave a grant. A few years ago it was held that a Christian could not be loyal to Japan, now the authorities do not look with disfavour upon them. Fifty years ago Japan was closed to missionaries; it was now more open to their work than any country in the world outside the British Empire or the United States. The leaven of Christianity was working and now in imitation of the Christians the Buddists were establishing orphanages, and the Empress had made a grant of $5,000 to a Christian institution. Hospital work was another example the Japanese were following. The Canadian mission in Japan had established a hospital for the blind who were very numerous and the example would be followed. Tokyo had a large charity hospital under patronage of the Emperor. There had been a revolution in public opinion and sins which were once regarded with indulgence were now in popular disfavour. The standard of public morality had risen and the treatment of women had entirely changed. Formerly they were not considered worth educating, now there were schools for girls and an native university for women in Tokyo. The speaker went on to specify many other ways in which the leaven was working with prospects of not only revolutionizing Japan morally, but making her an influence for good upon China and Korea.

Rosedale Boy Burned To Death

On Saturday morning, while Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, who live near Rosedale, were both out of the house, one of the children lighted a fire in a box stove, the door of which was left open; and while the youngest, a little fellow named Charles, was fanning the flame with the skirt of his dress, it caught fire, and he was so dreadfully burned that he lived only sixteen hours. Dr. Graham, who happened to be passing soon after the accident, was called in, and did what was necessary to relieve the poor child's pain, but he died—more from shock than from the severity of his injuries—not long after midnight.—Fenelon Falls Gazette.

Cure For The Blues

ONE MEDICINE THAT HAS NEVER FAILED

Health Fully Restored and the Joy of Life Regained

When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture. It is usually this way: She has been feeling "out of sorts"

Mme Josephine Rinville

for some time; head has ached and back also; has slept poorly, been quite nervous, and nearly fainted once or twice; head dizzy, and heart-beats very fast; then that bearing-down feeling, and during her menstrual period she is exceedingly despondent. Nothing pleases her. Her doctor says: "Cheer up: you have dyspepsia; you will be all right soon."

But she doesn't get "all right," and hope vanishes; then come the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting BLUES.

Don't wait until your sufferings have driven you to despair, with your nerves all shattered and your courage gone, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. See what it did for Madame Josephine Rinville, Mastal, Que. She writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I suffered for four years with female troubles—inflammation of the stomach and fallopian tubes which caused me violent pain and often torture, so much so that I could not walk at times and attend to my daily duties. Life was misery to me. I was so blue and despondent I did not know which way to turn for relief. I had tried the doctors but they did not help me. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I bought a bottle. I am glad that I did so for I am well and strong to-day and the world looks bright, for I have perfect health, thanks to your medicine."

If you have some derangement of the female organism write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice.

Orillia Makes No Bones About It

Offers Free Sites to Industries and Will Continue To Do So.

Mayor C. J. Miller of Orillia, was a caller on Mayor Campbell of London, last week.

Orillia is the town which is giving free sites and almost free power to induce manufacturers to locate there and of course Mr. Miller was plied with questions by the Mayor.

"How do you manage to do this and evade the law?" Ald. Forristal asked.

"I didn't know we were breaking the law," Mayor Millar replied.

"But our solicitor tells us that we cannot legally offer inducements to manufacturers," another alderman said.

"All I know is that we are offering inducements and will continue to offer them," was the prompt answer of the Orillia mayor. "We purchased a large tract of land for the purpose and we are getting now in industries."

"In the matter of power we are doing splendidly. We have our own plant and secure power to generate electricity from the Ragged Rapids on the Severn River. We sell our manufacturers power for the full 24 hours at $16 a horse power per annum. And our municipal plant is such a success that we make a neat annual surplus and also light our streets free."

When the aldermen heard this they almost fainted. Such pointers from a small place like Orillia they had never dreamed of.

This is no surprise to Peterborough, where cheap power is the power that draws industries to us.

For The Relief Of Russian Jews

An Appeal to Christians for the Relief of Suffering Russian Jews.

Subscription lists, whose objects are set forth in the following heading, are being circulated by the friends of the survivors and dependents of the Russian Jews, who have been ruthlessly slaughtered in the past few days:—

We, the undersigned, hereby agree to subscribe the amounts opposite our respective names towards the relief fund for the assistance of the families and friends of the thousands of Russian Jews, Liberals and intelligent students, who have recently been slaughtered during the mob riots in Odessa, Kief and hundreds of other cities and towns in Russia".

This should appeal to Christians in Canada, who in the enjoyment of the liberties of British civilization can form no conception of the horrible conditions which prevail in Russia where Jews are as ruthlessly slaughtered as if they are wild beasts and that, too, by nominal Christians.

The list of contributors will be published in the Examiner, which has consented to receive subscriptions, which may be left either at this office or at Mr. B. Lastar's shop, 131-133 George street.

Following is a list of subscriptions to the Jewish Relief Fund, received by Mr. B. Lastar Saturday:—

A MILLION NEEDLES

COULD NOT INFLICT THE TORTURE WOMEN SUFFER FROM HEADACHES

Headache is not in itself a disease, but a symptom or accompaniment of other diseases, principally those of the stomach, liver and bowels, such as Constipation, Dyspepsia, Liver Trouble, Bad Blood, Female Complaints, General Debility and Weakness. Headache is common to both sexes, but more frequently affects females.

The varieties of headache most common are sick or bilious headache, nervous headache, headache from constipation, debility or indigestion, periodical and spasmodic headache. Undoubtedly the cause must be removed before permanent relief can be had.

Burdock Blood Bitters

removes the cause of the headache, and not only does this but it also restores the entire system to healthy action and buoyant vigor.

"I was troubled with headache for a number of years, but could get nothing to help me. I procured a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and finding it was doing me so much good, I got two more. I am now fully cured and think there is nothing in the world like Burdock Blood Bitters for headache."

Rev. Father McColl's Reply To Dr. Crothers

Rector of St. Peter's Cathedral Gives Some Facts in Reference to the Roman Catholic Countries in Comparison With Protestant Countries—The Encyclopedia Americana Quoted in Support of His Claim.

(The following letter which was in type and in the "form" ready for printing, through the accidental "pising" of the page on which it was placed, was, together with the other matter on the page destroyed as far as use on Saturday was concerned. Hence it is used to-day.)

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Sir, — I wish in this letter to give Rev. Dr. Crothers statistics in further support of my contentions in my first letter. But before quoting these statistics I desire to make a passing reference to the closing sentences of the Reverend Doctor's epistle. He claims for himself the right to discuss matters of history in his own pulpit. I do not dispute his claim, but every Catholic has a right to call him to account when he perverts history and publishes his pulpit effusions in the daily press.

He wishes me to express sorrow for the relation of the Catholic Church to the Massacre of St. Bartholomew's day, the Gunpowder Plot, etc. It is easy to exonerate the Catholic Church from any share in connection with these crimes. They were simply political crimes, not greater than those of other countries. Let the Reverend Doctor read what the Encyclopedia Americana, which is published by the Scientific American, has to say on these questions, and on the important subject of the "Holy Inquisition." Let him cease reading historical romances, or fictions of the imagination called history.

But now, let us look at a few statistics:

Ireland—

Encyclopedia Britannica, 9th edition, in its article "Ireland," table LVI., shows the number of more serious offences in Ireland, as compared with equivalent numbers of the population for Great Britain in the year 1878:

Ireland..... 3842
England..... 4797
Scotland..... 6487

The Cheltenham, Eng., Examiner, May 16, 1886:

"Death sentences are eight times greater in England than in Ireland, to equal numbers of population. Rural crime is also shown to be greater in England than in Ireland."

The writer, a Presbyterian, adds what Mulhall, the celebrated statistician, also observes:

"Agrarian crime, for which there is a pretext, that is wanting this side of the Channel, is including in the list given for crimes in Ireland."

Rev. Dr. Crothers has accused me of passing over the period of Irish history, during which took place the Phoenix Park murder, and other agrarian crimes. The Phoenix Park murder and the principal agrarian crimes occurred in the year 1882. A glance at the statistics quoted above will show the reverend gentleman that even at that time Ireland led in point of morality.

Rev. Dr. Crothers does not succeed very well in establishing the superiority of India over the Philippine Islands. He asks me if I hold England responsible for the famines and plagues which devestate India. The one fact on which I wish to insist, and which is the point at issue, is, that the natives of the Philippines are much superior to the inhabitants of India, in point of civilization and religion. The Philippines are almost exclusively Christian.

The recent visit of Secretary Taft and party to the Philippines has been the occasion of eliciting some comment on the work of the friars in that archipelago, very different from what we heard a few years ago. Major-General Leonard Wood, being interviewed by the Boston Transcript, spoke as follows:—

"The ease with which we have solved the Philippine colonization problem was due to our predecessors there. The Spanish had so done the preliminary work that it should not be difficult for us to take it up and complete it. Indeed, the Spanish did more for the Philippines than any other colonizing nation has ever done for an Oriental people. Spain actually impressed her ideas and principles upon them. She gave them her religion and language, and civilization. She did not merely scratch the surface. She really affected and influenced the lives of the natives. Malays they are, yet they are like no other Malays. In place of pure barbarism, cannibalism, and idolatry, Spain implanted the Roman Catholic religion, which is to-day the religion of nine-tenths of the people. Spain also elevated the status of the Filipino woman. In other Oriental countries the woman is little better than a slave. In the Philippines, on the contrary, the woman is the 'business man' of the couple. She it is who really manages the estate or household, and it is almost more important that we get her good will and friendship than the man's. The work done by the Roman Catholics friars in the three centuries Spain held the Islands was wonderful, and can not fail to excite our admiration. And in spite of her many troubles there Spain was continuing the work of Christianizing the Islands when our war came on."

And Congressman Herbert Parsons, a member of the Taft party, has written these words to the New York Tribune:—

"We are fortunate not only in having the Philippines, but also in having the Filipinos as our wards to educate to self-government. They are advanced Malays, and their advancement has been due to what Spain did for them, despite the oppression of her officials, and to all that the Roman Catholic Church has done. The recent Church troubles there have rather obscured the fact that until within the last generation most of the progress made there was the result of the Church's work."

There may have been strife in the Philippines but far greater strife has existed in India between the native population and their conquerors.

A further question asked by Rev. Dr. Crothers is, whether I would wish to see India once more under the old regime of France, Spain and Portugal? Here is a short history of what one Spaniard, St. Francis Xavier, the apostle of the Indies, did for the natives of India. This account is taken from the American Encyclopedia, and states that on May 6th, 1542, he reached Goa, the capital of the Portuguese Indies. In a short time he is said to have effected a complete reformation of the city. From Goa he went to the coast of Comorin, and the Island of Ceylon, and afterwards making Malacca his headquarters, visited many other parts of the East, baptizing vast numbers of natives, and leaving wherever he went flourishing congregations under the care of his disciples. During his ten years' apostleship in India and Japan he is said to have baptized more than one million persons.

England has, without doubt, one of the best, probably the best political system in the world. Notwithstanding this, her missionaries have accomplished practically nothing in India. The fault, therefore, must lie with the Protestant religion, which is incapable of turning to advantage the opportunities placed at its disposal.

Rev. Dr. Crothers has, I think, chosen a poor informant with regard to the condition of education in Austria-Hungary. He tells us that nineteen and one-half millions of the people of Austria-Hungary, almost one-half the population, are unable to read or write. For the benefit of Rev. Dr. Crothers and Rev. Dr. Withrow, from whom he quotes, I shall cite a few figures given by Mulhall, Fellow of the Royal Statistical Society, one of the best authorities known, in the Dictionary of Statistics, ed. 1892, art. "Education," pp. 231-243. Since Rev. Dr. Crothers has informed his readers that eighty-nine per cent. of the Austrians are Catholics, whereas only fifty-one per cent. of the Hungarians profess the Catholic religion. I prefer to take the former, that is, the country in which Catholics are in the great majority, and compare it with some other countries well known to him.

Austria, 130.
Grat Britain and Ireland, 123.
Canada, 100.
United States, 130.

From these figures we conclude that Rev. Dr. Winthrow has not done justice to Austria, and that he is evidently mistaken. Probably the Rev. Dr. did not understand the language of the Austrians, and concluded from that fact that they must be a barbarous, or, at least, illiterate people.

The source from which Rev. Dr. Crothers derived his information regarding Austria was a most unreliable one, and I think he has happened upon another very unreliable guide when he has taken Prescott for his authority with regard to Mexico and South America. The errors in Prescott have many a time been commented upon, and his unfairness towards Catholics has more than once been dealt with. But lest the Rev. Dr. should not accept our appreciation of the works of Prescott, we refer him to Chambers' Encyclopedia of Literature (1903), in which the history of the Conquest of Mexico is called "a historical romance and nothing more."

I fail to see, leaving aside mere romance, whence the Rev. Dr. can prove, the excessive cruelty of the Spaniards in America. Cruelty there was, it is true, in certain cases. But the fact still remains that the Catholic church protected the natives of these countries. As a proof of this assertion we have but to examine the constituent element of the population of Mexico and South America at the present day. More than one-half the population of Mexico is to-day Indian, while in South America there are upwards of seven millions of Indians, that is, fully one-fourth of its population. In the United States, exclusive of Alaska, there are only 237,000 Indians.

The Encyclopedia Americana, one of the latest and best authorities, in the article on South America entitled "Ethnology," states: "It should be borne in mind that in Spanish America the native Indian races were not driven beyond the frontier of civilization, as they were by the English settlers, but became, and remain to this day an integral part of the population."

Headaches Cured

One cause of headache and nervous diseases very often is Hyperopia, or far-sightedness. If your eye is normal you require no muscular effort to see distinct objects. Some eyes are so formed that they require a muscular effort to see clearly far objects. Such eyes are DOUBLY strained when used for near vision. This EXERTION CONSTITUTES EYE STRAIN.

75 per cent. of headaches are caused by eye strain and can only be cured by removing the the cause. That is what our glasses do.

LET THERE BE PEACE.

The Examiner would suggest to the parties to the unfortunate controversy, arising out of the so-called Guy Fawkes' sermons, that they should close the matter now. All, so far as the Examiner, is concerned, have had two rounds, so to speak, and, in the matter of fairness, the present is a good time to close the discussion. And it is none too soon, in the interests of public peace and harmony. Such discussions arouse hostility and discord among citizens of differing faith, who otherwise are living in harmony and neighbourliness. Besides, it is quite evident that no good is being done. Both parties to the controversy might continue it till another Guy Fawkes anniversary, and no one of the partisans of the respective parties to the dispute would be one whit changed in opinion, but, rather, confirmed, and at the same time, others would be drawn in, and in the personal, neighbourly, business and social relations of the community, there would be an infinity of bitterness, and heart-burnings, developed. Cui bono? is the question the disputants should ask themselves.

GOING TO EXTREMES.

Mr. T. H. Leavitt, formerly organizer of the Conservative party, in Ontario, has been appointed to the very important position of Provincial Inspector of Public Libraries, in connection with the Education Department. There is no objection, on principle, to Hon. Mr. Whitney selecting a Conservative to fill such a position. We should expect him to do so. But an ex-Conservative organizer is another matter. His appointment to a position in the Education Derpartment is very like an insult to the intelligence and moral sentiment of the province. It is perhaps true that Mr. Leavitt, with the intimate knowledge that he possesses of the workings of the Conservative machine, must be provided for, in lieu of possible leakages of information, and other trouble, but so far as decency and propriety are concerned, it would be more in the interests of the province, and of education, especially, to give him a pension outright, instead of having him associated so closely with the important interests of education.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mr. McCallum is a very tall man with a long stride, which suggests to the Toronto Star that he could walk to Ottawa and get there quicker than by running in North York.

The note circulation of the Dominion has risen from 24 to 50 million dollars since 1897. It is safe to say that the volume of business transacted in Canada to-day is double, or nearly double, what it was eight years ago.

Twenty out of every twenty-seven papers published in Alberta supported the Liberal campaign, says the Wetaskiwin Times, and the result shows that in 23 out of 25 constituencies the electors supported the liberal candidates. The firebrand wielders are poor stokers — they couldn't start the blaze.

It is practically an open secret, says the Montreal Witness, that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was personally opposed to the salary and pension grab at last session, and regarded the passing of that legislation with less complacency than any other act of his administration. It is therefore, not surprising that Mr. A. B. Aylesworth, the new Postmaster-General, in succession to Sir William Mulock, who is now contesting North York, should partly dissent from that legislation, and so inform the Newmarket electors.

The manager of the Montreal woollen mills asked the Tariff Commission for higher duties, and belittled those who sought lower duties because they did not represent so much capital as he did. He would not deny that some of the woollen mills had more orders than they could fill. Mr. Fielding asked what capital was invested in the Montreal woollen mill, and was told $300,000. Then he discovered that the stock was $200,000. Where did the other $100,000 come from? Was it borrowed? No. Then the natural inference is that the company has piled up $100,000, or 50 per cent. of the capital, in surplus profits. Ought such a company, asks the Hamilton Times, wish to tax the farmers and other consumers more in duties?

The pneumonia season has begun. Pneumonia is a deadly ailment, with a high proportion of mortality. But says an eminent medical authority, there is no reason why anybody of reasonably good health and no necessity for exposure should catch it. Prevention is better than cure, and here prevention is easy. Fresh air is the deadliest enemy of the pneumonia germ. To exclude it from living, working and sleeping rooms is to invite an attack of the disease by removing the most effective means of defence. In short, to escape pneumonia it is only necessary, speaking in general to avoid excesses of every kind and live simply, cleanly and rationally. Nature can be depended upon to do the rest. Obedience to the laws of health will as a rule secure immunity from disease which is the form of punishment prescribed for their infraction.

ONTARIO AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

The report of the Ontario Agricultural College and Experimental Farm for 1904 just issued contains much interesting information. The world-wide reputation and popularity of the institution is shown by the register of students, of whom there are 227 from Ontario, 37 from Quebec, and 66 from other countries, including Argentina, Australia, Austria, England, Grenada, India, Jamica, Scotland, Spain, United States, Uruguay, Newfoundland and Switzerland.

LITTLE DANGER OF BLOCKADE

Among the fifty-five merchant vessels, transports, etc., captured by the Japanese during the war, twenty-two, of a total tonnage of 65,843, were under the British flag, and only sixteen of a tonnage of 33,837, flew the Russian ensign, while seven of the remainder were Germans. All but five of the whole fifty-five have been finally adjudicated as lawful prizes. Despite these losses and the losses of vessels captured by the Russians, the shipping interests of the leading maritime nations, and the insurance interests as well, made a very satisfactory profit out of their transactions during the war. Should Great Britain become involved in a war, and articles of food, under existing international law, be declared contraband, it is certain that ships under every neutral flag would be busily occupied in running all risks of landing their supplies in British ports. The risks could only be made extremely hazardous by an effectual blockade — which, as the world's navies stand, would be a remote possibility; but, even so, the profits would be immense.

AN OLD SAYING

Showing How Cause and Effect Are Never Far Removed.

It is an old saying, "Where there's honey there's bees"—not less true is one which science has coined more recently, "Where there's Dandruff there's germs"—and—to push the inference still further we may truly say, "Where there's Dandruff cured, Newbro's Herpicide has been at work."

The reason of Herpicide's isolation as a genuine cure for Dandruff lies in the fact that it attacks and destroys the root of the whole trouble—a parasitic germ which feeds upon the material which nourishes the hair follicle.

Other so-called remedies are not directed at this true cause of the disease.

Fellowship Club Elects Officers For This Year

The Annual Meeting Was Held on Saturday Night in the Y.M.C.A.—A Most Successful and Progressive Organization—The Work of This Club in the City—Of Great Benefit to Young Men Coming to the City—Greetings From Winnipeg.

MR. R. E. HARDING RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT

The annual meeting of the Strangers' Fellowship Club of the Y.M.C.A., held Saturday night, was the most largely attended gathering of the year, and it was as enthusiastic as it was large.

The work of this club is well known, the aims being set forth on the membership card, by which the club-fellows agree to 1—Locate young men arriving in town and report their names to the Association.

2—To exercise a prayerful interest in young men, and to carry on a systematic visitation among them.

3—To locate them in homelike boarding-houses.

4—To introduce them to the parties and churches of their choice.

5—To report names of young men who are sick.

6—To interest strangers in Association work.

7—To notify the secretary of young men who are leaving town.

Almost three hundred men have been given visitors' tickets during the past twelve months, and monthly strangers' teas have been held. Mr. Reid, Harding, who has been president of the club for the past three years, was unanimously re-elected. This guarantees another successful year of work for the club. When his election was announced the club-fellows sang "He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

The other officers are:

Hon. President—B. F. Askerman.

Hon. Vice-Presidents—Revs. J. C. Davidson, E. A. Langfeldt, Wm. Major, F. J. Scott, W. J. Crothers, J. G. Lewis, W. J. Jolliffe, J. G. Potter, E. F. Torrance, W. Mackay and A. H. Bruce.

Secretary-Treasurer—G. L. Galley.

Executive—Officers and W. D. Morrow, G. Armstrong and M. Rosenburg.

After the election, short speeches were made by the officers-elect.

A pleasant feature of the evening was the presentation of greetings from Mr. S. F. McCoy, of Carman, Man., a former member.

Decapitation Axe Descends

Latest Victim is Northumberland Registrar.

The Conservative party of this province appear to be carrying out the spoils system to the fullest extent. Every week fresh dismissals are announced, and the vacancies caused thereby filled by some party hangon. One of the latest dismissals reported, and one that will be learned with genuine regret by a large circle, is that of Lieut.-Colonel W. W. Brown of Cobourg, commanding officer of the Third Dragoons, from the office of Registrar of East Northumberland.

Lieut.-Colonel Brown received a request last week that his resignation be forwarded, but it is reported that he intends fighting the matter to a finish.

Caught a Mink.

—Mr. Jas. McKibbon, 3 Dennistoun avenue, has not been hunting this year, but he has been getting his share of game, nevertheless. While walking up George street one day last week he saw a large mink near the corner of George and Dublin streets. The animal was captured alive, and Mr. McKibbon now has it at his home, where many persons are viewing it.

Kindly Reference Made Yesterday

By Rev. Mr. Major at All Saint's to Late Archdeacon Allen.

At the morning service at All Saint's church yesterday, the rector, Rev. Wm. Major, during his sermon made reference to the death upon the previous day of Ven. Archdeacon Allen, of Millbrook.

Rev. Mr. Major spoke of the long and valued services rendered to the church by the deceased clergyman, with whom he had enjoyed a personal acquaintance for a period of ten or twelve years. The strong character and striking personality of the late Mr. Allen was spoken of, who during his long incumbency had firmly maintained Christian principles, while possessing a warm, kindly heart and an affectionate disposition.

Special Sermon Preached by Tokio Missionary.

At the evening service at All Saints' church yesterday Rev. Edgerton Ryerson, of Tokio, Japan preached a special missionary sermon descriptive of the missionary work of the church in Japan. A similar sermon was preached in the morning at St. John's.

The music last night was of a charming character. The anthem, "Praise God in His Holiness," was beautifully rendered by the choir. Dunnett's "Evening Service" was sung. The hymns were of a missionary character, appropriate to the occasion.

Relation Of Vested Choir To Musical Services

St. John's Adoption of it Seems to Justify its Further Employment—An Aid to Seemliness of Musical Worship—Other Choirs Considering the Subject.

Whether or not it is the impulse given by the Conservatory of Music that has led to the formation of the Choral Society, and general musical enthusiasm, there is noticeable, at any rate, a greatly increased interest in music. At St. John's this has taken the form of a decided improvement in the choir, not only in externals but in the spirit of the important part it takes in the musical portion of the services. For the first time, yesterday, the lady members of the choir appeared in vestments, consisting of a modest white surplice with black college caps, sometimes irreverently called "mortar boards." The result is a great improvement, affording a seemly uniformity, not only as to themselves, but as to the boys and male members, in contrast with the headgear of various forms and tastes, according to the caprice of the wearer. The ladies also take part in the processional and recessional and the result of the innovation seems to be altogether very satisfactory and conduces much to desirable reverence and seemliness.

The musical portion of the services at St. John's yesterday was very noticeably good, and the congregation was not slow to follow the lead of increased inspiration afforded by the choir. In the morning Kipling's Recessional was sung in very good form, Mr. H. Morphet taking the solo with exceptional excellence. In the evening at the offertory Mrs. K. Eardley-Wilmot sang with excellent finish and devotional spirit the solo "Come Unto Me." The intoned "Amen" at the close of the benediction is another advance as well as the chanting of the Psalms to an easy setting which permits the congregation generally to join with the choir.

The example of St. John's in the matter of vesting the lady members of the choir will be followed by the George street Methodist church, after the rebuilding of the organ is completed. St. Paul's is also considering the matter, and the Charlotte street Methodist church, it is said, has the matter under consideration. It seems well worth while to take some pains to secure effectiveness of the musical part of church services, as essentially a feature of worship as other forms of prayer and praise, and not, as it is sometimes regarded and made, a feature apart—a form of entertainment. It seems that the choir as leader of the singing services of the church is useful, and indeed permissable only to the extent it leads and inspires the congregation. It should bear the same relation to the congregation that the leading soprano does to the choir itself. Even an anthem in an interlude of the service, as at the offertory, if in the right spirit and of the right tone, can be made to fit in with and exalt the devotional attitude of the congregation and impress the spirit and effect of the services as a whole. "Let all things be done decently and in order," as St. Paul enjoins, appears to justify the vested choir as an element of uniformity and seemliness in worship.

A Reward Offered For Paper Thieves

For some time the Examiner has received complaints from subscribers to the effect that their papers have not been received, and investigation has shown that in the majority of cases the cause of their disappearance has been the fact that they have been stolen by boys or others after the newsboys have left them at the subscribers' doors. This is very annoying, both to the subscriber who does not get his paper, and to the office, where the blame is laid by the subscriber.

It has been decided to put a stop to this practice if it is at all possible, and the matter has been reported to the police. The Examiner further offers a reward of $5 for information which will lead to the conviction of the guilty parties.

Anyone who sees a person taking a paper which does not belong to him from a doorstep should report the matter to this office or to the Chief of police.

Lamented Death Of The Venerable Archdeacon Allen

Preceding his sermon yesterday morning Rev. E. A. Langfeldt made a feeling reference to the death of the Venerable Archdeacon Allen. He said that for over 50 years Dr. Allen had been the rector of the Parish of Cavan, which had attained its present importance in the status of the Diocese through the noble work of the departed Archdeacon. His life in the ministry had been an Epistle read by men and the love and esteem in which he was held by everyone who knew him was because of the noble characteristics of the man. Ever ready to help, a household word in the community, possessed of large sympathies for his fellowmen, the venerable gentleman occupied a large place in the affections of his parishioners and friends. The church at large has lost through his death, a devoted priest who gave nearly 60 years of his life to the Lord's cause, and whose whole life was an exemplification of devotion to duty. Mr. Langfeldt said that he personally had lost a dear friend. His life was worthy of imitation. The flag at St. Luke's hung at half mast out of respect for the late Archdeacon.

Engineer Of Lindsay Waterworks Arrested

Something approaching a sensation was created in Lindsay on Friday night when it became known that Engineer W. H. Hammond, in charge of the waterworks pump house plant had been arrested during the afternoon between four and five o'clock by Chief of Police Nevison, on the following charge:

"He did during the years 1903, 1904 and 1905 steal goods and chattels belonging to his employers, the Board of Water Commissioners, of the town of Lindsay, consisting of a quantity of coal, a quantity of oil, hose and one set of scales."

Mr. Hammond was brought before Magistrate Jackson and remanded till Tuesday morning for trial, bail being accepted. His bondsmen are Messrs. George Lytle and Bert Laidley.—Post.

Mob Attacked A Young Lady's Escort

Residents near the corner of Wolfe and Aylmer street last night report an interesting event which occurred there about 10 o'clock. It appears that a young man, accompanied by his young lady was coming north on Aylmer street, and when he reached the C.P.R. tracks he was pounced upon by a mob of men and boys who were evidently waiting for him. For a few minutes there was a free-for-all fight, in which the young escort seemed to hold his own against the six or eight men who attacked him. Leaving the girl he discarded his coat and landed right and left upon his assailants, and in the course of a few minutes he had them vanquished, and re-robing himself he resumed his walk.

It is reported that occurrences such as this are frequent in this vicinity, and the suggestion is made that some effort should be made to have some police supervision of this district.

This Team Of Chargers For $3

Transfer Extraordinary in Horseflesh on Saturday.

There was a decided slump in the prices upon the local horse market, on Saturday, when it is alleged, a "deal" was effected whereby a team of noble chargers changed hands, the price being $3.

The horses, which were a portion of the "string" maintained by a well-known Charlotte street blacksmith, and turf enthusiast, were purchased by Mr. Crouter, the latter covenanting as a rider in the bill of sale, to saw a pile of wood containing three-quarters of a cord, more or less.

The pedigree of the animals is somewhat obscure, and it is thought that, owing to the fact that they have not been registered, that their new owner may intend to "spring" them at the winter meet as "dark" horses.

The name, however, does not appear to be particularly appropriate, in view of the fact that one of them bears the name of "Transparent."

Coming again—Mark Street Church Bazzaar, on Tuesday, next November 14th. Afternoon and Evening. Admission free. Supper Served 5:30 to 8 o'clock 20c. Musical Programme throughout.

Peterborough Is Now In The Finals With Dundas

Peterborough beat Brockville by a score of 17-11 at the Island City last Saturday. They are now in the finals with Dundas and will play the 4 points of that town next Saturday. Following are despatches sent to the Globe from Brockville:—

Brockville, Nov. 11.—(Special.)—The return game in the semi-finals between Peterborough and Brockville took place here to-day, Peterborough winning on by a score of 17 to 11, and the round by 54 to 11. Although the locals did not look for a victory on the first round, they confidently expected to win to-day's game. The visitors, however, were in far better condition and possessing a more thorough knowledge of the fine points of Burnside rules, won out, although the contest was hard-fought from start to finish.

The work of Peterborough's back division was admirable, while the whole team excelled in catching and punting. Their victory is all the more creditable in face of the fact that Crowley and Meagher, two of their stalwarts, were unable to play. The score at half-time was 9 to 0 in favour of Peterborough, while in the second half they scored a try and good kick. Referee Dillman, although he tried to be impartial, did not understand the rules thoroughly, and consequently there was more or less dissatisfaction. The teams were:—

Peterboroughs.—Full-back, Ford; halves Quinlan, Shaw and Mathers; quarter, Gillespie; scrap, Hurtubise; wings, Dillon, Craig, Regan, McDonald, Gilbert and Keough.

Brockville.—Full-back, White; halves, Easton, Gray, and Mallory; quarter, Kenny; scrap, Wilkinson; wings, Graham, Doran, Dickey, McRobbie, Ritchie and Price.

Referee—Cadet Dillman, R.M.C. Umpire—Cadet Lawson, R.M.C. Timers—D. Bissell, of Brockville and C. Harle, of Peterborough.

Silver Cup For The Locals

Handsome Offer of Mr. J. A. Culverwell to the Rugby Team.

Something more tangible than the mere glory which attaches to the capturing of a Rugby championship, has been hung up for the locals, in case they succeed in bringing the scalps of Dundas into camp.

Mr. J. A. Culverwell, manager of the Central Ontario Power Company, with his usual sportsmanlike generosity, has come forward with an offer of a twenty dollar silver cup, and a banquet, in the event of their winning. This handsome offer, coming with the approach of Christmas, will cause the locals to again indulge in the juvenile dreams of a "real Santa Claus," and it's pretty easy guessing that the silverware will be found safely ensconced in the blue and white stockings.

RUGBY.

A man who smuggled his son over the Atlantic on a half fare ticket when the boy was over age, has sent $12.00 to Mr. George Hannah, passenger agent of the Allan Steamship line, being the balance due. The trip was taken eight years ago. If some of those who smuggled into N'thwle Oval a few years ago would send to the secretary of the rugby club the "conscious money" due there would be no need to worry about the team's expenses for the remainder of the season. If your conscience troubles you on this score address all remittances to the "purser" of the rugby club, Mr. W. H. Walkey.

Test the Kidneys

Allow the urine to stand in a glass vessel for twenty-four hours, and if at the end of that time it is clouded or has left a sediment in the bottom of the vessel, you may be sure that your kidneys are diseased. As a means of invigorating the action of the kidneys and making them strong and healthy, there is no preparation so prompt and none so thorough as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Dr. Shaw and Dr. Black, of St. Thomas, drew another story from young Beck, indicating that no tramps mutilated him, but that he slipped when climbing a tree and was wounded by an open knife in his pocket.

Succumbed To Liquor Habit

Wm. Doyle Found in a Helpless Condition in Hotel Yard.

Yesterday morning at about twenty minutes to twelve William Doyle was taken into custody, while lying in a helpless condition in a local hotel yard, and taken to the police station. He did not revive, and the Chief thinking that perhaps his case was serious, telephoned for the Dan Spence ambulance, and the man was conveyed to the Nicholls Hospital. He has been drinking heavily of late, and while he was not apparently under the influence of liquor when arrested, his collapse is probably due to his prolonged indulgence. Word was received from the Nicholls Hospital this morning to the effect that while Doyle was very weak his condition is not at all serious and it is expected that he will be able to leave the hospital in a short time.

To the Editor of the Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—Will the Collegiate Institute Science Master, or some other expert tell me through this column why the snow like that this morning melts at once on a concrete pavement and lies unmelted on a wooden walk?

Yours truly,

INQUISITIVE.

To the Editor of the Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—The council has done well to put in concrete crossings on George street, but they would do better to keep them clean. I used the Hunter street crossing on George street at 10 o'clock to-day and the mud on it was so thick that I might as well have waded through the street mud alongside. Its positively shameful.

Very truly,

GRISETTE.

To the Editor of the Post Card Column:

Dear Sir,—The overmuch has very properly spent large sums in refitting and improving the Post Office internally. Now I can't see why the public have to crowd through a single door on Hunter street. One of the doors is screwed tight and only one is therefore available for use. Why not have both doors swinging, one to open inwards for ingoing persons and the other to open outwards?

Yours truly,

Everything Ready For First Show

Things are progressing rapidly at the Grand Opera House. It was expected that the interior finishing touches would not be completed for "The Yankee Consul," but this morning the Examiner was informed that everything would be in readiness for the presentation of the first play. The whole building is of splendid appearance, and every facility for the companies and the patrons has been provided. The ushers and house constable have been appointed.

"A word to the wise is sufficient," is an old adage that has no exception. But that a good many words to the unwise are insufficient has certainly been proven in many instances. The management intends to blot out anything savouring of rowdyism, and disturbers of the peace will be arrested. His Worship, Police Magistrate Dumble has declared his intention of dealing severely with the tough element that makes itself an intolerable nuisance to decent people who come to enjoy the play and not to be disturbed by a gang of roughs.

Sad Subjects For Lively Laughter

"Two souls with but a single thought," afforded considerable amusement to the passengers on a street car that stood on the switch near the Central Park on Saturday, between the hours of 12 and 1. Two men who were particularly well boosed up, staggered across the park with great uncertainty. They rolled and lurched, "even as a ship at sea." At one moment they bumped up against each other, at another they were widely separated. The whole spectacle was ridiculous, and the spectators laughed heartily at the ludicrous scene.

A Test Will Tell

What Liquozone Can Do for You—and It Is Free.

You who are waiting—we ask you again to try Liquozone; to try it at our expense. You'll regret this delay when you learn what the product means to you.

Do as millions have done—stop doubting; give Liquozone a test. Then judge it by results. Germ diseases—and there are scores of them—call for a germicide. Those are the diseases to which Liquozone best applies. Don't cling blindly to old-time remedies, if you don't find them effective. Let us prove the power of the new.

What Liquozone Is.

The virtues of Liquozone are derived solely from gases. The formula is sent to each user. The process of making requires large apparatus, and from 8 to 14 days' time. It is directed by chemists of the highest class. The object is to so fix and combine the gases as to carry into the system a powerful tonic-germicide.

Contact with Liquozone kills any form of disease germ, because germs are of vegetable origin. Yet to the body Liquozone is not only harmless, but helpful in the extreme. That is its main distinction. Common germicides are poison when taken internally. That is why medicine has been so helpless in a germ disease. Liquozone is exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying; yet no disease germ can exist in it.

We purchased the American rights to Liquozone after thousands of tests had been made with it. Its power had been proved, again and again, in the most difficult germ diseases. Then we offered to supply the first bottle free in every disease that required it. And over one million dollars have been spent to announce and fulfill this offer.

The result is that 11,000,000 bottles have been used, mostly in the past two years. Today there are countless cured ones, scattered everywhere, to tell what Liquozone has done.

But so many others need it that this offer is published still. In late years, science has traced scores of diseases to germ attacks. Old remedies do not apply to them. We wish to show those sick ones—at our cost—what Liquozone can do.

Where It Applies.

These are the diseases in which Liquozone has been most employed. In these it has earned its widest reputation. In all of these troubles we supply the first bottle free. And in all—no matter how difficult—we offer each user a two months' further test without the risk of a penny.

Also most forms of the following:

Stomach Troubles	Women's Diseases

Fever, inflammation or catarrh—impure or poisoned blood—probably indicates a germ attack.

In nervous debility Liquozone has been a visitless, accomplishing remarkable results.

The Boys' Dept. Y.M.C.A. Hold Their Opening

A Delightful Evening Was Spent Friday Night in the Association Hall—Moving Picture Entertainment Given by Mr. James Stubbs—Two Hours of Enjoyment—Number of New Views—Fall of Port Arthur—Trip Through British Isles.

A SUCCESSFUL OPENING NIGHT

The boys' department of the Y.M.C.A. scored a great success Friday night in their opening entertainment given in the association hall.

The hall was crowded to the doors and standing room was at a premium and many were turned away unable to secure seats.

The entertainment was given by Mr. Jas. Stubbs, who appeared under the boys' auspices for the fourth time. The large audience attending was certainly a marked appreciation of his excellent entertainment for two solid excellent entertainment. For two solid hours he held the delighted attention of his audience which is quite a feat in consideration of the large number of boys and girls who were present.

The views were shown by means of a powerful lime light and were very clear and distinct. The moving pictures were very popular and included a number of new films not shown here before, including the Fall of Port Arthur, hockey match, the waves of the ocean and others.

The stereopticon views covered a wide range humorous and descriptive. The trip through the British Isles was a central feature of the programme.

The phonograph selections were sandwiched in between the different series of views and were of a high order, reproducing the work of some of the leading musicians of the world.

That everybody was satisfied goes without saying although at the close Mr. Williamson expressed the thanks of the audience to the entertainer as well as thanks to the audience for their attendance.

Week of Prayer Opened Sunday

In Connection With Y.W.C.A. of Peterborough.

The first meeting of the first Week of Prayer, of the Y.W.C.A., Sunday, was addressed by Miss M. J. Barnard, on the subject, "The Necessity of Choosing."

"Choose ye this day whom ye will serve." It is God who calls "choose ye," but He will not always call. We should remember that now is the accepted time. We should choose Christ in response to God's love in giving us His Son, and because "There is no other name given under heaven whereby we can be saved." There is danger in delaying our choice, for life is uncertain, and our eternal life depends on the life we live here. To choose Christ results in our going out with joy — "the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you in singing and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands."

After the topic Miss M. Rushsang. Next Sunday Miss Coleman will lead a consecration service.

The next meeting of the week will be held before the Tuesday evening classes, at 7.30 o'clock. The topic is the power of love, to be taken by Miss Potter. The members are asked not to forget a nickel for the World's Work.

This week Mrs. Williamson's Bible class meet on Friday at eight instead of Thursday.

A rich man died the other day. He died in the very midsummer of life, and he left his family $1,000,000. The doctor's certificate showed that death resulted from typhoid fever. The doctor himself said to a friend: "That man was a suicide. He had a splendid constitution. I could have pulled him through if his stomach had been sound. But he ruined his stomach by hasty meals, snatched in intervals of business and by neglect of symptoms which have been warning him a year past, that his stomach was failing in its duties."

The symptoms of a disordered stomach are, among others, variable appetite, sour risings, heartburn, undue fullness after eating, dull headache, dingy complexion, discolored eye, fluctuations in physical strength, nervousness, sleeplessness dependency. No person will have all these symptoms at once.

The restoration of the stomach to sound health, begins with the first dose of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The cure progresses until the functions of the stomach are in healthy operation. Then the nerves are quiet and strong, the appetite healthful, the sleep restful, the eye bright, the complexion clear.

"Please accept my thanks for the benefit which my child received from your medicine," writes Mrs. W. A. Morgan, of Silica, Mon. "He had been troubled for nearly a year with liver complaint, indigestion and constipation. I gave him your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets,' and they did him great good. I gave him the 'Discovery' about eight months, and several vials of the 'Pellets.' He seems to be perfectly well now."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. These ORIGINAL Little Liver Pills, first put up by old Dr. R. V. Pierce over 40 years ago, have been much imitated but never equaled. They're made of purely vegetable, concentrated and refined medicinal principles, extracted from native American roots and plants. They speedily relieve and permanently cure Biliousness, Torpid Liver and Bowels and their attendant distressful ailments. One or two a laxative, three or four a cathartic.

Germany Sends A Warship To Help The Czar

Stands Ready to Take the Czar Out of Dire Danger.

GERMANY NOW INTERVENES

Chaos the Chief Feature of the Russian Situation — Various Groups of Politicians in Russia Are Divided Into Camps—Count Witte Almost Helpless, But His Collapse Is Not Yet Certain.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 13.—The dreaded intervention of Germany in the Russian crisis has come. The Kaiser, when he learned of the Cronstadt riots, sent a wireless message to the Czar offering to place the German northern squadron at his disposal. The Czar sent back a message of thanks. It has not transpired whether the offer goes beyond safeguarding the sovereign's person, but inasmuch as a German warship has been stationed off Peterhof for several days for this purpose it is inferred that Emperor William's proposal has a wider significance.

Amid the virtual chaos now existing there is beginning to develop certain eminous features which leave little hope of averting a general political cataclysm in Russia. The contending forces are divided into four camps: first, the reactionaries; second, Count Witte and his followers; third, the whole commercial class and the moderate reformers who are best described as Zemstvoists, and fourth, the Socialist workmen who created the present situation by a general strike.

Peasantry and Army Aloof Yet.

The peasantry do not figure in the problem as yet, and the rank and file of the army is still an uncertain quantity.

Count Witte and his supporters are still almost helpless, but their collapse is by no means certain. His attempt to secure the co-operation of the Zemstvoists has completely failed. Every member of his Cabinet is a member of the bureaucracy. The only uniting link is that they remained adherents of Count Witte's policy in recent years when he was in disfavor. All the independent provincial statesmen have refused office and continue their campaign independently of the bureaucracy.

No Sign of Massacre.

The groundless nature of the alarmist rumors that a St. Bartholomew massacre would take place Saturday night was demonstrated when the hours passed without the slightest development of mob spirit. The only sign of anything out of the ordinary was that the Jewish stores were shuttered up earlier than usual in several streets and localities which rumor assigned as the scenes for looting and Jew-baiting. Students in uniform avoided these quarters and the frequent military patrols indicated that the authorities realized the necessity of preventing any outbreak in the capital.

Were Whirled To Death In Cement Works

Two Men Meet Awful Deaths By Belt and Pulley.

BOTH HORRIBLY MANGLED

Two Skaters Drown—Miss Lizzie Harrison and Arthur Ingersoll Break Through Ice on Shoal Lake, Manitoba—Two Fatal Hunting Accidents, by Which Boy and Man Lose Their Lives.

Belleville, Nov. 13.—Arthur Cobb, 17 years of age, whose home was in the Township of Thurlow, was killed at the Point Ann cement works Saturday morning by being caught in a belt. He was whirled round the shaft, which makes 100 revolutions a minute and horribly mangled. Deceased was a young English lad, who, with his family, came out to this country only a short time ago.

Death Whirl at Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 13.—William Watts, an employe of the civic asphalt plant, was caught in the belt on the elevator shaft Friday afternoon and drawn over the pulley, where he was crushed to death, and his mangled body thrown down to the floor. The elevator belt had been slipping and Watts went up above to fix it. Evidently he allowed his arm to get too far under the the wheel, and it was caught. His body was whirled around the shaft by the arm, which was torn almost clear from the shoulder.

M'LEOD IS INDICTED.

But Grand Jury Says Nothing as to Morris Nathan.

Boston, Nov. 13.—The grand jury Saturday reported an indictment against Dr. Percy D. McLeod, in connection with the suit case mystery, charging that he was an accessory after the fact to the abortion which resulted in the death of Susanna A. Geary. McLeod was arraigned, and his bonds increased from $20,000 to $25,000.

The grand jury failed to indict Morris Nathan of Boston, suitor of the Geary girl, and the first person to be arrested in connection with the case, no mention of the young man being made in its report. There are 28 counts against the persons indicted in the Geary case, the allegations covering different legal phases.

Offered Cash Instead.

Toronto, Nov. 13.—At a meeting of the veterans of 1866 on Friday night, David Creighton reported that Hon. Mr. Cochrane, Minister of Crown Lands, has unofficially offered $50 to each of the veterans in lieu of the land grant to those who had not located their claim.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

Special Educational Services

HELD YESTERDAY AT

Two Methodist Churches

Rev. Dr. Potts and Rev. Dr. Burwash, of Toronto, Made Successful Appeal in the Interests of Educational Work of the Church—Alternated in George and Charlotte Street Pulpits--Large Attendance and Gratifying Results.

A large congregation attended the service at the Charlotte street Methodist church yesterday morning, when a special sermon in the interests of the educational work of the church in the Dominion was preached by Rev. Dr. Potts, of Toronto.

The sermon embodied a forceful and eloquent appeal on behalf of the work, as well as much interesting and instructive information with regard to its progress, and as a result a most gratifying contribution to the funds of the executive, which is steadily expanding the scope and character of the work, was forthcoming.

Rev. Dr. Potts spoke from the text Epistle II., Timothy II., 7: "Consider what I say; and the Lord will give thee understanding in all things."

There can scarcely be a lack of charity, the preacher observed in his opening remarks, in coming to the conclusion, that few people "consider," or follow a pulpit theme, with a view to completely grasping its significance. The pulpit should save, and does have something to say which is worthy of consideration. Due consideration should lead to an unprejudiced hearing of its utterances and a willingness to follow its precepts.

Passing on, the preacher briefly commented upon the main purpose of the Educational Society, which is the training of men for the ministry. Though the Episcopal Methodist Society, which is doing a somewhat similar work in the United States, had adopted a somewhat wider scope in its methods, it charged interest upon its loans, while the Canadian Society did not.

Speaking broadly upon education, the preacher pointed to the utterances of a number of the world's greatest philosophers upon the subject of Education. Education with us, he said, must be Christian education. Education generally runs along public and high school and university lines, but there have been many men who, by profound thought, intellectual development and wide reading, have, without a college degree, left their mark upon their generation. Education is continuous, and second to this comes thrift.

The breadth of benevolent spirit in many leading large contributors to the cause of education, who have, by means of thrift, acquired large fortunes, was commented upon. Andrew Carnegie and John D. Rockefeller in the United States, and Lord Strathcona, the late Hart A. Massey, had been munificent contributors. Among the kings of finance who had been generous contributors in Canada was Hon. Senator Cox, who has given to Victoria College alone, over $100,000.

The church was interested in all education—physical, moral, intellectual and spiritual, all have their place and serve their respective purpose. All through the history of education the church has either founded or fostered the greatest institutions of learning.

The relation of the Methodist church to education was next treated upon. It had been no sooner founded in the United States till the educational work was commenced. A look at our own country was, however, sufficient to show the immense strides which have been made. Educational institutions carrying on a great work are now established clear across the continent at the following points: Sackville, N.B.; Montreal, Stanstead, Belleville, Whitby, Toronto, St. Thomas, Winnipeg, Alberta and New Westminster.

The speaker concluded with an earnest appeal to his hearers to consider the claims of education, both as a church and as individual citizens. It was the sons of the poor men or those in moderate circumstances to whom it was necessary to render assistance. A glance at the personality of the leading men in professional life could scarcely fail to justify this, in view of the fact that they developed almost without exception from an early life amid trying conditions. The congregation was asked to accede to the claim, not only on the ground of thoughtfulness, but also upon that of sympathy and the recognition of the principle involved.

AT GEORGE STREET,

Rev. John Burwash, of Toronto, preached a very able and eloquent sermon at the George street Methodist church yesterday morning. Rev. Mr. Burwash dealt with the relation of religion to education, and advocated a more thorough co-mingling of the two in the schools and colleges of Canada than there has been heretofore. In the early part of his discourse the speaker touched upon the great principles referred to in the book of Isaiah, from which the text, "And all thy children shall be taught of the Lord; and great shall be the peace of thy children," Isaiah 54; 13, was taken, and said that while to some they may appear too political and aesthetic, they were embodied in the most common every-day existence of the nations that lived in the time the prophet has written of. Isaiah was a keen observer in every circle, society, politics, religion and art, and lived, not in a quiet age, but in stormy times, when Judea, a small country, was surrounded by warlike tribes. Isaiah said that wars could not be stopped by statesmanship, diplomacy nor military powers, but by a thorough knowledge and application of the divine principles of the religion of the living God. The preacher stated that right relations to God are the only and stable foundations of a nation's prosperity. There is an axiom that religion and politics should not go together, and to this the speaker said he agreed that in one sense secular religion should be crowded out of politics, but the universal acknowledgment of God was as essential in politics and every other phase of statesmanship. Children are the most important asset of a nation, and the most important thing of a child's education is that it should be taught the religion of God. The home, state and church should work in harmony. The interests of education in our institutions should be under the fostering care of the church. The church takes a deep interest in higher education. Some people agitated that the higher education obtained in universities was a luxurious enlightenment that could only be indulged in by the rich. But not so. The poor man's son is, in nearly every instance, the one who forges in front and who is the pride and helper of his native land. Some business men condemn the higher education. It doesn't help my business, they argue; it doesn't help to sell my goods. And one man in particular, said the speaker, stated that he wouldn't have in his employ a man with a higher education. But his error was pointed out. The very dyes that colour his fabrics are the results of long experimenting, and of the application of the knowledge obtained from the higher education. Editors to guide the press, preachers to instruct in the way of God, teachers to enlighten the country's students are all the products of the higher education. The preacher, in defending the type of sermon he was delivering, said that a man writing an anonymous letter to the press said that not enough preaching to save the soul was done in the pulpit of to-day. But, said the preacher, it was the mission of God's ministers to instruct as well as persuade.

In conclusion he said that religion should be universally backed up by Methodists, and its influences exerted in the Methodist colleges and universities.

The subscriptions and collections will about double those of former years. The treasurer of the fund, Mr. J. Jeffries, desires to intimate that if there are any who cannot now find it convenient to subscribe may communicate with him if they wish to.

The music throughout the day was of a special character, a large choir being present at both services. The morning anthem was "Gloria in Excelsis," with soprano solo by Miss Chasty, and soprano and alto duet taken by the Misses Chasty.

At the evening service the anthem was "Hark, Hark, My Soul," with contralto solo by Miss Bessie Sperry, obligato solo by Miss Chasty, and soprano and alto duet by the Misses Chasty. As an offertory selection, the choir sang with good effect, "Never Alone," Miss Daisy Sawers taking the obligato solo.

Baraca Literary Society Debate

The Question of Local Option Will Be Taken Up.

The first regular session of the Baraca Literary Society was held on Friday, November 10, in Murray street Sunday school at 8 p.m. The current topics were ably handled by Mr. John Hardwicke. Mr. Wilfred Shiner dealt with the subject, "My Favourite Author." He took for his ideal the great American poet and essayist, James Russel Lowell, and he quoted several of his poems to show why he selected him above all others as his ideal of a poet. Mr. Skinner handled his subject in a scholarly and masterly manner. Rev. F. J. Scott gave an address on the "Aims of a Literary and Debating Society." Mr. Scott, in his address, referred to the study that the ancient Greeks gave to the art of debating. He said that they had this art down to a science, and it was wonderful the interest they exhibited in this art.

Debating is the best exercise we can give to the mind, and it develops the mind in logical thinking.

Men like a mental fight better than a physical fight, and much profit and pleasure is gained from the arraying and debating of facts on any question.

Rev. F. J. Scott in closing, remarked that every man should interest himself in the society, and he would be greatly benefited. The next meeting of the society will be held on Friday evening, November 24. The question for debate is "Resolved, that local option is the only solution of the drink problem." A good programme is being prepared for next meeting and all are welcome.

Pains in the Chest

Mr. John Clark, Port Hope, Ont., states: "Last winter I was so bad with a cold that I could not speak above a whisper, and had severe pains in my chest. A friend advised me to try Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, and one bottle cured my cold, which I believe would have been very serious if I had not used this medicine."

For the second time Government house has officially recognized other religious denominations than the Roman Catholic and church of England. At last night's state dinner at Ottawa, Rev. Dr. Chapman, general superintendent, was present as representing the Methodist church, and Rev. Dr. Armstrong, moderator, as head of the Presbyterian church. Monsignor Sbaretti and the Bishop of Ottawa were the other two ecclesiastical dignitaries in the company.

Clergyman's Son Injured At Kinmount

Clifford Burgess, Son of Bethany English Church Clergyman, Received Charge of Shot in the Eye—Was Out With Companions Shooting and Looked Into Barrel of Loaded Gun—Serious Results May Follow This Accident.

CHANCE OF RECOVERY ARE VERY SLIGHT

A shocking gun accident occurred on Sunday a few miles from Kinmount, the victim being a young man named Clifford Burgess, son of Rev. Mr. Burgess, Church of England clergyman at Bethany. The facts as learned are as follows:

Burgess, who is about 19 years of age, has been assisting the G.T.R. station agent at Kinmount for several months. Yesterday he joined several companions in a walk to Three Brothers Falls on the Burnt River, and one of the party having a rifle they began shooting at a mark. When young Burgess' turn came he pressed the trigger, but no explosion occurred, and before his comrades could caution him he lowered the butt of the gun to the ground and looked into the barrel to see if it was obstructed. Just then the charge went off, the bullet penetrating the unfortunate youth's left eye and emerging at the base of the brain.

Help was at once summoned and a vehicle procured in which the poor fellow was carried back to Kinmount when Dr. E. A. White was called in. He found his patient unconscious, in which state he continued without becoming lucid for a moment. No change having occurred Dr. White decided to bring his patient to Lindsay, and the trip was made this a. m. on the 8.25 train. The ambulance was in waiting and the poor fellow was transferred to Ross Hospital. His chance of recovery is very slight.—Lindsay Post.

Presentation, Debate, and Refreshments

With Charming Musical Programme at St. John's Last Night—The Young People's Society Met to Say Farewell to Mr. J. Patte, the Retiring President of the Society—A Debate on Irish Wit and Humour.

A DELIGHTFUL EVENING SPENT

A largely attended and most enjoyable meeting of St. John's Anglican Young Peoples Society, was held last night at the school house. The evening embraced a number of events, to which attached more than ordinary interest, including a debate. A feature of the meeting, pleasing in itself, though much regretted by the members universally, on acount of the circumstances surrounding it, was the presentation to Mr. John Patte, the energetic president of the society, with an address, and appropriate accompanying gift, upon the eve of his departure from the city. Mr. Patte, the knowledge of whose intended departure, was learned with deep regret by the members of the Association, was made the recipient of a Bible, Prayer Book and Hymn Book by his associates, the presentation being made by Mr. Jas. Bell, and the address read by Mr. W. Harold Clarke. It was as follows:

John Patte, Esq., president of the St. John's Anglican Young People's Society,—

Allow us, the officers and members of the Anglican Young People's Society of St. John's church, to extend to you our hearty congratulations on your promotion to a better, and, financially, more satisfactory position. We wish to unanimously express our pleasure in your success. It will deprive us of the pleasure of your presence, 'tis true, but we are glad you are climbing the ladder of life.

We, as a society, and individually, have always recognized and appreciated the value of your services during your three years' residence in Peterborough. To you is due, to a great extent, the organization and successful career of the Anglican Young People's Society. You were the first president, and were again unanimously elected this year, and our only regret is that you will not be able to continue in that office for the balance of the term.

To us remains this organization which will keep fresh in our memory the untiring energy and executive ability of its first president. To you we wish to present this hymn book and prayer book, which we hope will revive in years to come pleasant thoughts of the many warm friends you leave behind in the Anglican Young People's Society of St. John's church.

Peterborough, Nov. 13, 1905.

Mr. Patte, who was obviously deeply affected by the evidence of esteem upon the part of his associates in the society, made a brief reply, expressive of his appreciation of the kindness manifested, and assuring the donors of the warm feeling of regard which would be cherished by him, even though the present ties were necessarily severed.

The resignation of Mr. Patte necessitated the election of a successor, and to this position Mr. Chas. Reid was appointed by unanimous vote.

A feature of the evening was the debate upon the following subject: "Resolved,—That the Irish have furnished more wit and humour than all the other nations combined."

The speakers for the affirmative and negative were the following respectively: Charles Reid, J. H. Jardine and C. G. Graham; N. A. Howard-Moore, Jas. Bell and A. E. Walker. The critic was Mr. F. D. Kerr, and the judges, Mr. and Mrs. K. Hardley-Wilmot and W. H. Cluxton.

The respective arguments were convincing and scintillates in spots with keen, incisive humour, and included as well many happy allusions and well chosen anecdotes.

The crystallization of the speeches into an aggregate result of the arguments advanced presented a task of dimensions so large that the judges considered it advisable to refer the decision to a larger electorate, and the audience, upon division, rendered a verdict in favour of the affirmative.

A recitation was given, with splendid elocutionary effect, by Miss Rowe, and two vocal solos by Miss Pedlar added much to the evening's enjoyment. The selections rendered were "All in the Garden Fair," and "Love's Old Sweet Song," both being sung sweetly and in good voice.

The serving of delightful refreshments by the young ladies of the society, brought to a conclusion an evening of great pleasure.

Mr. F. D. Kerr briefly called attention to the coming lecture by Rev. Dr. Symonds, to take place on Monday, November 20th. The subject will be "Lessons Learned from the Life of Lord Beaconsfield."

The increasing attendance at the meetings of the association, and the increased interest manifested in its work justifies the expectation of a most successful as well as enjoyable winter.

JOS. RICKERBY CHARGED IN THE POLICE COURT WITH STEALING $60.00

An Interesting Case in Which Prisoner is Accused of Taking $60 From Pocket of a Customer in the C. P. R. Hotel Bar—Thos. Moore Lays a Serious Charge—Says While He Was Buying a Drink His Money Was Stolen—Rickerby Elects to be Tried by Judge.

At the police court this morning, before Police Magistrate Dumble Joseph Rickerby was charged with "touching" Thos. Moore for a wallet containing sixty dollars.

The accused pleaded "not guilty," but did not elect as to how he would be tried. The only witness to give evidence was the complainant and he was very positive in his assertions that Rickerby was the guilty party.

Moore, who has been working all summer, according to his evidence, on the canal, had eighty dollars in his pocket book, and some loose bills, when he entered the C. P. R. Hotel on Monday morning. He stayed there for dinner, and after dinner went into the bar and bought a drink for the prisoner and himself.

"Were there any others who were in that treat?" asked Mr. R. F. McWilliams, who appeared for the defence.

"How do I know," said the witness, "I did not count them."

In reply to a further question, he said that there were others, and that the drinks had cost him a quarter.

Mr. McWilliams was particular about this point, because if the witness had lost the money in the bar, when there were others with him, besides the prisoner, one of the others might be responsible for the theft.

"No; Joe Rickerby was the man," said Moore, "he put his hand in my right trousers' pocket and took it out. He did it so quickly," he added, "that I was unable to stop him."

"You must have been pretty drunk at the time to let him do that," ventured Mr. McWilliams.

"No; I wasn't drunk at all," was the reply.

"Did you accuse anybody else of the theft?"

"No; I only accused the prisoner."

"Did you tell anybody else that your money was taken?"

"Yes; I told the bartender (Asselstine) and that young man at the end," pointing to Nat Kearns, the hostler at the hotel.

"What did Kearns say to you?"

"He told me that he would help me find it."

"Did you tell him who took it?"

"No."

"How did you expect Kearns to look for your purse when you didn't tell him how you came to lose it?"

"Well, I guess he knew it," was the reply.

"Did you tell the bartender who took it?"

"No; but he heard me accuse Rickerby of the theft."

"Did you report the matter to the police at once?"

"Yes; shortly after the prisoner took my money."

The witness was very positive in his accusation of Rickerby.

"In the information sworn before His Worship you state that the amount was sixty dollars—what have you to say to that?"

"That's a mistake; it was eighty dollars."

"How did you come to say that it was sixty dollars at this time?"

"It was a mistake, I say," was the reply.

Mr. McWilliams pressed the witness on this point, and Mr. Wood objected.

Mr McWilliams put the witness through a severe cross examination, but did not seem to shake his evidence to any extent.

The prisoner was committed for trial, and was taken before His Honour Judge Weller this morning at 11 o'clock to elect as to how he would be tried. He decided to be tried summarily.

Rickerby was granted bail this afternoon at three o'clock by his Honour, Judge Weller. The bail was fixed at $300, the prisoner giving surety for $200 himself and two bondsmen going good for the other half, giving two surties of $200 each. The case will be tried on the 28th of this month in the County Judge's criminal court.

Management Of Opera House Returns Thanks

Those interested in the new opera house with the Examiner to convey their thanks to the public-spirited citizens who subscribed to the advance sale of tickets for the opening attraction. The evidence thus given of that fact that they were willing to contribute to the support of an opera house, should the capital become interested in the project, is deeply appreciated by the management of the new playhouse, who take this means of expressing it. It is very largely due to the action of those gentlemen who subscribed that the opera house project was made possible.

The prices for the production of the comic opera success, "The Yankee Consul," have been fixed at 75c, $1, $1.50 and $2.

The plan is at Ormond & Welsh's, where advance purchases may be made, commencing to-night at 6 o'clock. The number of persons who have already taken seats indicate the general desire on the part of the public to patronize the new opera house, and the prospects are that the opening night will be a brilliant gathering.

Survey Party Making Satisfactory Progress

Mr. L. Thornton, who has been engaged on the survey being made for the extension of the Trent Canal to the Gull River, and for the completion of the reservoir system of the canal, was in the city to-day, on his way to Queen's University, where he will resume his studies. Mr. Thornton states that the work is progressing very satisfactorily, and will be continued for some time yet. Mr. D. Hanson is in charge of the work, and the men on the staff are all in good health and was enjoying the work. The weather during the last few weeks has not been very favorable, but with the return of fine weather the men will be able to continue their operations.

There have been several snow storms in that district, but they were not sufficient to interfere seriously with their work.

New Creamery Is Modern In Its Equipment

MR. G. A. GILLESPIE SUPPLIED MACHINES

Although only in running operation less than two weeks, everything indicates a bright future for the Peterborough Creamery, so quickly promoted and rapidly erected by Mr. P. Downham on Aylmer street. The first supply of milk was received on the 2nd of November, and the gradually increasing amount received daily coupled with the lively sales of the products of the creamery since that date, warrant the belief that the success of the undertaking need not be looked upon any longer as a pemdventure.

From what has been heard of similar creameries throughout Ontario it is safe to say that Peterborough can take pride in having one of the most modern and best equipped factories in operation. Speaking to a thoroughly practical dairyman who has given a great deal of attention to the creamery and butter-making interests of the Province, he cheerfully volunteered the statement that the plant of the Peterborough Creamery was the most complete and modern he had seen.

The Description of the Plant.

The weigh can for receiving the milk from the farmers has a capacity of 600 pounds, and the weigh scales a similar capacity. The receiving vat into which the milk is conveyed, has a capacity of 3,000 pounds. From the receiving vat the milk is pumped into a tempering pan, where it is heated for passing through the cream separator. It can be heated to any degree up to 100 or even 120 degrees if desired. The particular (separator which Mr. Downham selected, after careful consideration, is the Simplex Link-Blade Power machine, with a capacity of 3,500 to 4,000 pounds per hour. It is driven by a belt pulley, which gives the bowl a speed of 6,000 revolutions per minute. Not only has the effective skimming capacity of the "Simplex" been demonstrated in a highly satisfactory manner, but the skimming itself has been found at the end of each run to be substantially as good as at the beginning. The separation is thorough throughout the whole run. The bowl of these machines is smaller, being only 8 1-2 inches in diameter by 7 inches deep, making remarkably easy running. A very important feature in this machine is that it cannot be clogged or the flow of milk choked off, even when skimming 50 per cent cream. Another special feature is that the "Link-blade" device possesses the advantage of preventing any remixing or interference of the opposing currents of cream, and so increases the capacity of the "Simplex," and insures more thorough separation. As an evidence of the success of Mr. Downhamm canvass of the farmers throughout this district, nearly 10,000 pounds of milk is being passed through this separator every second day.

Pasteurized Cream.

To continue the description of the plant and process, the cream, after being separated, is run into a 300-gallon cream vat. This vat is fitted with water and steam, so that the temperature can be controlled to any desired point. What is called pasteurized cream consists of the rapid heating of the cream to a temperature of 150 degrees, and then cooling down to 50 degrees. This process purifies the cream, kills all infectious germs and enables it to be kept longer than ordinary raw cream. The skim milk is then pumped from a can on the floor to a large tank upstairs, where it is pasteurized by the exhaust steam from the engine. It is then ready to be delivered to the farmer as a valuable food for stock. Pure milk consists of 87 1-2 parts water and 12 1-2 parts solids; 4 parts of these solids are fat, so that the remaining 8 parts of solids is left in the skim-milk, which form the best meal that can be given to stock for the growth of bone, muscle and sinew.

A Power Churn.

The Big Combination Churn and Butter Maker, made by Messrs. C. Richardson & Co., of St. Mary's is in the shape of a circular drum for churning. It is driven, when churning, by rotary motion. When working, the rollers are inserted into the centre of the drum, and by a combination movement of gluten, the process of working is completed.

The driving power of the factory consists of a 15-horse power return-flue boiler and an 8-horse power engine, which affords abundance of power for all the machines in use, with ample reserve power to spare.

The contract for supplying the whole of the plant was awarded to Mr. G. A. Gillespie, of the joint firm of White & Gillespie, George street, whose practical experience gave him an advantage which Mr. Downham was not slow to take advantage of. The result has justified his confidence, as every detail was carried out to his entire satisfaction. Mr. Gillespie is the efficient district representative for Messrs. D. Derbyshire & Co., of Brockville, manufacturers of dairy machinery and supplies, from whom the whole plant was purchased, with the exception of the combined churn.

A Substantial Building.

The building is a solid brick structure, 35 x 55 feet. The brick is a specially made cement product, very hard and non-porous, being particularly well adapted for a creamery. They were supplied by Messrs. Taylor & Co., city, manufacturers of cement, tile and brick. The floor of the factory is laid in Portland cement, with sewers running through it to carry off all waste. This being the first creamery of the kind in this section, its success will be watched with interest, not only by the farmer, but by the public generally. The encouragement received so far after scarcely two weeks of operation, is, Mr. Downham states, beyond his most sanguine expectations.

BURIAL OF SIR GEORGE WILLIAMS THE FOUNDER OF THE Y. M. C. A. IN ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL TO-DAY

To-day the venerable Founder of the Young Men's Christian Association, is laid at rest, among the illustrious dead in St. Paul's Cathedral, London, and appraised by the far-reaching results of the work he organised sixty years ago, its direct beneficent effect upon the young, as well as the reactionary beneficent effect upon the old, and the world at large, there are none lying there, under the shelter of Sir Christophere Wren's magnificent dome, more worthy than Sir George Williams. It is written of Wren, "Si quaeris monumentum, circumspice." It can well be written of Williams, "If ye seek my monument look throughout all the world"—look at the millions of lives that have been guided, uplifted and ennobled, by the work he inaugurated; look at the tens of thousands of stately buildings, thoroughly equipped for the training and moulding of the tripartite young man, soul, mind and body.

In a brief reference like this, one cannot go into details, but an extract from an article by Mr. Herbert N. Casson, the following summary is apposite:

"The Young Men's Christian Associations of the world! What a parade there would be if the whole army marched past! Six abreast, in close formation, there would be ninety miles between the first and the last. There would be four hundred thousand young Americans, and three hundred thousand from the rest of the world. Two thousand would come from South America, thirty-five hundred from Australia, four thousand from the dark continent, fourteen thousand from India, China and Japan. There would be fifty-four thousand from France, a hundred thousand from Germany, and a hundred and twenty-five thousand from Great Britain.

"In the American Division, fifty-thousand boys under eighteen—the owners of the future—lead the way. General Sherman, in his march from Atlanta to the Sea, had a smaller army than this Boys' Brigade. Then come forty-seven thousand students. What a mighty college yell splits the ear as they go by! Swinging along behind them march seventy-two thousand railway men led by Tom Keenan, the "converted engineer." The [illegible] of the army follows—two hundred thousand clerks, mechanics, soldiers and sailors; while eight thousand Southern negroes guard the rear. Never before has the world had such a body of drilled and trained young manhood—trained in body, mind and morals."

Such is in brief a partial glimpse of the work instituted by George Williams, a modest draper, of St. Paul's Churchyard, London, England, who, on June 6th, 1844, began the work, which has filled, or is "filling the whole earth." He was a zealous and deeply religious member of the Church of England then, and to his dying day. He was the true missionary, seeking his own soul's safety by care for the souls of others. The story of the founding of the Y.M.C.A. is simple, but the story of the work it has wrought is still unfolding and will continue to unfold, for centuries.

In keeping with the occasion, the city Y.M.C.A., will observe the occasion. Next Sunday will be set apart for the purpose, on which occasion an address on the life and work of Sir George Williams will be delivered by Mr. G. M. Roger.

"Romance Of Sunny Italy" BROUGHT TO A HAPPY Conclusion This Morning

Francesco Marino Leads to the Altar Miss Giovanni Callo—Tinge of True Southern Romance Surrounds the Happy Nuptial Event—Bride Left Her Happy Southern Home Three Months Ago.

"A Romance of Sunny Italy" would fittingly describe the happy consummation of a series of circumstances surrounding a nuptial event which took place in Peterborough to-day.

The sun shone brightly this morning at 8 o'clock in fulfillment of the old proverb, as Miss Giovanni Callo was led to the altar at St. Peter's Cathedral by Mr. Francesco Marino, and two hearts were united by Rev. Dr. O'Brien. The bridesmaid was Miss Maria Gentili, and the groomsman, Jacobini Gentili.

Thus was reached what will undoubtedly proved the "lived happily ever afterward" chapter in a pretty romance.

Francesco Marino, the happy bridegroom, has been a resident of Peterborough since 1884, when he left the home of his boyhood days in Italy, to venture forth to more frigid climes. Arriving here, he entered the service of the C. P. R., with which he still remains, after the many intervening years of faithful and efficient service. Asked to-day as to whether he liked Canada, he promptly replied, "You damn right, yes." During the initial portion of his residence here many discouraging circumstances arose, but these were surmounted, and to-day he prefers it to his native land, to which he does not desire to return.

Mr. and Mrs. Marino after the ceremony this morning repaired to the cottage on McDonel street, where they will reside, and this to-day presents a scene of merriment and festivity appropriate to the happy occasion.

It was but three brief months ago that Miss Giovanni Callo left the romance-laden atmosphere of her southern home and came to Canada, to enter into the bonds of compound felicity. She was at this time unacquainted with her husband, and the circumstances leading to the happy nuptialization effected to-day, were described this afternoon to the Examiner by the happy husband.

Mr. Marino has a friendship resembling in its close relationship that of Brutus and Cassius, with Mr. Joseph Jennio, which has existed for years. Mr. Jennio returned to his fatherland about one year ago, for a visit, and just previous to his departure was enjoined by Mr. Marino to select for him a suitable help-meet from among the fair daughters of the land upon the Mediterranean. The absent friend proved faithful to the commission, and on his return, about three months ago, brought with him Miss Callo.

The meeting between the two was unfortunately delayed for some time owing to the prospective bridegroom's unavoidable detention at Windsor, where he was engaged in railway construction work.

The circumstances of the betrothal were described to the Examiner by Mr. Marino. It took place about one week ago. "I like her—she like me," he explained tersely—"we strike a match. I tell her about a week ago I want her to marry me and live with me. She said, all right." Mrs. Marino has the characteristic lustrous black eyes and hair of the south. She has not yet acquired a knowledge of the English tongue, but the expressive smiles and the happy light which shines forth from her eyes tell of the happiness which is hers, more plainly than words. She has resided since her arrival in Peterborough on Donegal street.

Mr. Marino expects to spend some time in Peterborough before he is again called away by business duties, and the cosy interior of his cottage home may be expected to be the scene of true domestic felicity for many years to come.

"Full Dress" Advocates A Brilliant Opening

To the Editor of the Examiner:

To-morrow night the citizens of Peterborough will enjoy the first attraction to be given in the new opera house, a feature of city life, which, up to the present time, has been denied this city, and it seems to me that on this occasion as much brilliancy as possible should be given to the affair.

I would suggest that those who occupy the orchestra and box seats should attend in full dress, and if this were done it would add much to the brilliancy of the function. For years it has been the ailment of the majority of our residents that there has been no playhouse here, and now that this want has been supplied some extra effort should be made to make the opening event as enjoyable as possible. I have suggested this to a number of persons during the last few days, and all to whom I have spoken have favoured the proposal.

I think it would be appreciated if you would advocate the proposal through the columns of your paper.

FULL DRESS.

November Bride. GARVEY-ALLEN.

This morning in St. Peter's Cathedral a pretty wedding took place, when Miss Mary Ann Allen, daughter of Mr. John Allen, of this city, was united in marriage to Mr. William John Garvey, also of Peterborough, Rev. Father Kelly performing the ceremony in the presence of a number of the friends of the contracting parties. The bride, who was suitably attired, was attended as bridesmaid by Miss Kittie Allen, sister of the bride, while Mr. Joseph Garvey, brother of the groom, acted as groomsman. After the ceremony the happy couple, with the guests, repaired to the residence of the bride's parents, where a wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Garvey will reside in this city.

THE ANGLICAN SYNOD TAKES STRONG GROUNDS ON DIVORCE QUESTION

In a Pastoral Letter to Archbishops and Bishops Advises Members of the Church—Will Refuse to Marry Persons Who Have Been Divorced From One Still Living—Reasons for This Action—Race Suicide is Condemned in Scathing Terms—Letter Deals With Other Phases of Social Life.

In the Anglican churches of this city in common with those in all parts of the Dominion, the rectors have read to their congregations the pastoral letter issued by the Archbishops and Bishops of the Upper House, at the meeting of the General Synod held in Quebec in September last. On Sunday this letter was read by Rev. W. Major to the congregation at All Saints, and in the other Anglican churches it had been read previously. Parts of this letter are of interest not only to the members of the church but to the general public, and extracts from it are given below. The letter says:

We desire you to realize more fully than ever you have done, the individual power you possess through the example of your daily life, and to use that power for the glory of our Saviour. At a time when that great influence, called "Society," seems steadily drifting towards Godforgetfulness, and irreligion, when the solemnity of the Lord's day is degraded through the frivolity of fashion, when a spiritual, yet bold profession of religion is often regarded as vulgarity, when with many it is fashionable to leave God's house unfrequented and the ordinances of religion unused, when money is poured out lavishly on luxury and soft enervating living, and paltry sums at times given by the rich to the things of God, at such a time, the voice of every godly man and woman should be raised to the interest of all that is "pure and of good report," and the worth of personal example should be realised as all important in the Home, in the area of childhood, and in the busy haunts of busy men. Better, far better, the sober strictness, at which the fashionable world may mock, than the offering of Christ's will, and our responsible manhood or womanhood to the altar of a godless, frivolous and wholly irresponsible, fashionable world.

Marriage and Divorce.

Speaking on the question of marriage and divorce, the letter takes strong ground, and says: We, your Fathers in God, would call upon the Christian force and integrity of the faithful to support us in the step which the General Synod has taken in positively forbidding any clergyman of the Church of England in Canada to solemnize a marriage between persons, either of whom shall have been divorced from one who is living at the time." The Synod has been led to take this momentous step, in the highest interests of social life and the protection of Home. It is certainly true that such a canon cannot, at times, be put into action without a measure of suffering on the part of those who have not sinned, but we would have you to realise, Brethren beloved, that such suffering is not confined to the question of the sundering of the marriage tie. Few who have attained the Higher life have done so apart from almost countless acts of self-surrender, and willing bearing of that against which the flesh rebels; the road of God's will is often a road of suffering, those who will wear the dazzling robes of victors at the last "will have come out of great tribulation," and the highest type of the consecrated Christian life is that which "beareth all things, endureth all things." The Synod has done what in God's sight it believes is right, and we, your Fathers, thank God that it arrived at a conclusion that, though it may entail suffering on the few, is certainly conceived in the interest of the many.

Observance of the Lord's Day.

For the further preservation of the purity and sweetness of Christian life, we would urge on all who "love the Lord Jesus" to leave nothing undone, by voice, by influence, by example to preserve the sacredness of the Lord's Day. One dreads to think what the fashionable mode of regarding and using that day may lead to, and we warn the Christian manhood and womanhood of the Church that where Fashion is allowed to usurp the throne of Christ, where the day is used for excited pleasure, and wholly divorced from worship, the divine object of the day is lost, and Christ is dishonoured, where above all He should be glorified. And if our united voices could reach those whose example is so deleterious to the best interests of the people, we would ask them to realise that their responsibility is as real a thing today as it will be to them and us when we stand at the last in the presence of God.

Words of Warning.

It is our desire, based on duty towards God and our people, to warn all against that godless spirit which seeks to regulate at will the results of marriage, and largely to banish childhood from the Home. We care not to linger on such a subject, but we would warn the thoughtless, as well as those who cannot be called so, that there are deadly moral and social crimes, as well as those against the laws of King and Country, and that foremost among such moral crimes is that which, rushing against the laws of God and Nature, will surely bring upon the criminals, in some way, physically and spiritually, the just judgment of an offended God.

This letter is signed by all the archbishops and bishops of the Church of England in Canada.

When you use Ozone use "Celery King" with it. Whatever kind of Ozone you buy you will need to use "Celery King" which is a companion remedy to Ozone.

The purest form of Ozone is "Solution of Ozone (the coupon kind.)" Each bottle contains about twice as much for your money as other brands, besides which each bottle contains a coupon entitling you to a package of 'Celery King' free. This is a great advantage as you save money on the Ozone and also get the "Celery King" which you would otherwise have to buy.

No other brand of Ozone contains these coupons. 'Solution of Ozone (the coupon kind)' is fifty cents and one dollar at your drug store including the coupon for the package of "Celery King." Non-Jury Sittings Of High Court

Only One Case Will be Heard at The Sittings.

Port Hope B. & M. Co. vs. Henry Anderson—A Port Hope Case.

The non-jury sittings of the high Court of Justice, opened yesterday afternoon at the court house before Mr. Justice McMahon.

The only case before the court was that of the Port Hope Brewing and Malting Company, vs. Henry Anderson, of Port Hope.

The plaintiffs, the Brewing and Malting Company, allege that the defendant was allotted five shares of capital stock in the company, at $100 each, and that he has refused to pay several calls of ten per cent. upon it. Plaintiffs claim the sum of $500.

Defendant claims that he did not subscribe for the stock, as alleged, and received no notice of its allotment.

H. A. Ward, Port Hope, solicitor for plaintiffs; R. D. Gunn, Barrie, for defence.

The case was adjourned to Lindsay where it will be heard before Chancellor Boyd on November 27, on consent of both parties.

Do You Know William Penney?

The Chief Has a Letter Concerning His Whereabouts.

Chief Ruzzel has received a communication from Mrs. W. M. Penney Belleville, asking for information about her missing son, William. The person in question obtained employment with A. McDonald last April and left his employ in July but nothing further could be learned of him by the chief. Following is the letter in part:—

Belleville, November 10, 1905.

Chief of Police,
Peterborough,

Dear Sir,—The 16th of April last my son, William, left here for a lumbering company, under the name of McDonald and I have not heard of him since. He is about 5 feet 7 inches in height, fair in complexion and very bald. He is often called by the nick name "Skinner".

Anyone that can enlighten Mrs. Penney would confer a great favour upon that lady by communicating the intelligence to her. Her address is South John Street, Belleville, Ontario. Or news of the missing man may be left at the police station or addressed to Geo. J. Ruzzel, Chief of Police, Peterborough.

The Pheasant Was Stolen In Dead of Night

Mr. Jas. McNeil, Sr., of Keene, Recently Lost Some Valuable Birds--Peculiar Circumstances Connected With the Theft—The Intruder Made an Exchange—Mr. McNeil, However, Did Not Appreciate It—Deer Hunters Have Returned.

THE LATEST NEWS FROM KEENE

Special to The Examiner.

Keene, Nov. 13.—A rather peculiar case of theft occurred in the village recently, or, probably the person who committed the act hardly considered it theft. Mr. Jas. McNeil, Sr., keeps a fine flock of pheasants in a pen behind his stable. One night recently he noticed a light in the direction of the pheasant pen, but thought it was a neighbor in his yard farther away. Next morning, however, he found that his flock, which had consisted of one cock and five hens, now numbered two cocks and four hens; the thief having taken a hen and left a cock in its place. No one in this locality keeps pheasants, and Mr. McNeil thinks that the thief must have come from a distance, although he appears to have been familiar with the premises, or had a local guide who was well acquainted with Mr. McNeil's back yard. The person or persons who made the exchange must also have unlocked the door of the pen and locked it again, as it was locked in the morning. Mr. McNeil has as yet found no clue to the identity of the person who made the exchange, but should he find him out will, no doubt, make it interesting for him.

Mr. Alexander McFarlane, who is moving to Peterborough, intends holding his sale of farm stock, implements, etc., on Thursday, Nov. 17th.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Philip Elmhirst, whose death occurred Sunday evening, will take place Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock. Place of interment, Westwood Cemetery.

Mr. Robert Adamson's sale of farm stock and implements took place Friday. The sale was well attended and good prices were realized.

Miss Jennie Plunkett leaves Wednesday to enter training as a nurse in St. John's Hospital, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mr. George Carey, of Lang, is suffering from a severe attack of pneumonia.

Rev. Alexander Cameron, of Queen's University, conducted services in the Presbyterian Church Sunday, in the place of Rev. D. D. McDonald, who is spending his holidays in Kingston. Next Sunday services will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Johnstone, of Millbrook.

Mr. Ed. Crook, who has been in Keene on a visit to Mr. W. Kempt, left Friday for Toronto.

Mr. Robert McCamus, who has been deer hunting near Bancroft, returned home Thursday. Mr. McCamus reports deer very scarce in that locality. The party of which he was a member, up to the time of his return, had only secured three deer.

Miss Daisy Jackson, of Peterborough, was in Keene a couple of days last week, the guest of Miss Jennie Plunkett.

CANADA AND JAPAN AT LIEGE

A correspondent, writing of the Liege Exposition, says:—

"I was greatly interested in the magnificence of the French exhibits in the way of rich and handsome costumes, one of which was valued at $100,000 while few came under $10,000. The next most elaborate and handsome exhibit in the main building is that of the Japanese. It covers a very large area and almost all variety of goods. And most surprising of all to find such polite and educated attendants, almost all of whom spoke French, English and German. They were very solicitous about Canada and hoped we would hold a world exposition in the near future so that they could visit us with a display of their manufactured goods. There is no doubt Japan will soon become a strong competitor for trade all over the world. Throughout Liege the Japanese had the reputation of being the best "spenders" of all the nationalities at the Exposition."

Brockville Thinks Burnside Game Is Uninteresting

Brockville, Nov. 13.—Hon. Geo. P. Graham was a spectator at Saturday's football match here with Peterborough, and his first impressions of the Burnside rules appear in an editorial in to-day's Recorder, which says: "Perhaps the best exhibition of football under the Burnside rules, ever seen in Brockville, was given by the Peterborough team, who played the locals here on Saturday. It will no doubt check the possibilities of the O. R. F. U., but the Recorder thinks the game under the Burnside rules is, to real Rugby, what play pong is to lawn tennis, a kind of parlour recreation, and not too much a game at that. If people can be amused by seeing a ball flying through the air, first to one end of the field, and then to the other, this new game will suit them, for, unless a muff occurs, there is little else to it. To men who have played football, it is a mighty tame game. There is not the opportunity for brain work in the Burnside game, and the thing is too much of a hum-drum sameness to ever retain its popularity. When properly played the game as originally played, and still played by the Quebec Union, is much superior in the judgment of The Recorder. True, when nagging and all that kind of thing is allowed, there is perhaps too great a premium put on brute strength in the old game, but when it is played under strict supervision the man with brains and speed can meet them both his own. Although on both teams playing Saturday there were several speedy men, the spectators were not treated to the spectacular dashes they have seen when the play was under the old rules.

"Under the Burnside rules, the line is rendered dead whenever the ball is theirs, and the true spirit of the advocates of the new game may, the interest of the stage back. With the subsequent sure punt, is not in it with the old heel out by the centre scrimmage to the quarter.

"So far as the new game being more interesting to the spectators (and that is the claim), it is all nonsense. For genuine sport the real thing in Rugby is far and away ahead of this poor, sickly imitator."

Group Five Is Re-arranged

At the recent annual meeting of the Ontario Curling Association Mr. Flavelle, of Lindsay, suggested that if from time the clubs in group five of the Tankard competition were differently grouped. They had been playing together for years, and he thought if they were grouped with the Toronto clubs in group one it would lead to better results. Mr. Flavelle's suggestion was approved by the meeting, and the Executive was instructed to deal with the matter.

At a meeting of the O. C. A. Executive yesterday the groups were thus arranged:

Group One.

Lindsay	Port Hope
Cobourg	Richmond Hill
Uxbridge	Toronto
Granite	Prospect Park
Queen City

Return Of The Hunters

The Lakeside hunting party, consisting of the following members, returned last night from their camp at Stony Creek, Messrs. George Williamson, Fred. Reuch, Baptiste Lamoque, John Alexander, R. Shepherd, Walter Greenwood, Wm. Greer and W. J. McCallum.

Mr. McCallum states that the game in districts in which they were located, and, in fact, the deer hunters generally "were handed up against" unusual conditions, which affected the sport in no little measure. Owing to the large amount of water in the swamps and marshes the deer almost invariably sought refuge there instead of in the hills as is usually the case. The dogs were, because of this, necessarily forced to abandon their pursuit, while the unusual depth of the water completely frustrated all efforts of the hunters to secure the game. The party secured, notwithstanding, six deers. They had the usual difficulty with their dogs, one valuable hound being lost, and will probably never be recovered. Considerable difficulty was experienced with mosquitoes, and three dogs were temporarily incapacitated through becoming involved with these spimmals.

Pains in the Chest

Mr. John Clark, Port Hope, Ont., states: "Last winter I was so bad with a cold that I could not speak above a whisper, and had severe pains in my chest. A friend advised me to try Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, and one bottle cured me completely. I believe I would have been very serious if I had not used this medicine."

Peterborough Team Outclassed Brockville

The Brockville Recorder says the Peterborough Rugby Team a compliment in reporting the game played there on Saturday. This journal says that the Peterborough team equalled any aggregation that ever set foot on a Brockville field. It says:

"Peterborough has a fully qualified football team to go into the final series of the Ontario Rugby Football Union, and judging from their work here on Saturday's event to land the championship. Although a few local enthusiastic supporters thought Brockville would have a trip to Dundas, the majority were of the opinion that the heavy score of 37 to 0 piled against the team at Peterborough a week ago Saturday that was too much to overcome. Little, however, was thought that Brockville would be defeated at home, and in many cases public sentiment was more that the locals would double the score here. But another surprise in this season's annals of football happened and Peterborough vanished with the field victors by a score of 17 to 11, and the round by 64 points to 11. The strengthening of the Brockville team may possibly have helped to keep the score down to comparatively its true Peterborough game, but the visitors put in the same condition, and another fact which went heavily against them was the lack of knowledge of the rules the many intricacies of which the visitors were fully aware. In addition their superb kicking and catching was a revelation to local fans. While it may be safely said that no better aggregation of punters ever stepped on the local gridiron.

"The record in attendance of the game was about 1,500, the largest seen on the grounds since the days when the old-timers flocked conspicuously in the Quebec Union. The weather for football was ideal, the clouds overhead showing a threatening aspect, but rain did not interfere. At the opening of the game a gale blew from the southwest, which towards the first half died away, but in the second half came up stronger than ever.

An Excursion To Dundas

The Rugby Club Will Run One Next Saturday.

At a meeting of the Rugby Club held last night it was decided to run an excursion to Hamilton on the occasion of the intermediate series O. R. F. U. finals next Saturday. The regular 3 o'clock C. P. R. train will be taken to Toronto, and from there by special with the team to Hamilton, the return fare will be $1.50, and an exceptionally large crowd is expected to take advantage of the splendid opportunity offered for a trip to the west.

Brockville is now through for the season, but the Peterboroughs are good sports and have managed they join out.

The team will practice to-night and every night this week, except Friday, at eight o'clock at the Brock street rink.

Port Hope, Oct. 11th.—The Rugby game between Peterboroughs II. team and T. C. S. II. on the School campus yesterday resulted in a tie, 7 all. Peterborough kicked with the wind in the first half, which favoured, 7 points that is the opposite half Trinity soon tied the score and had the best of the play, but the locals were willing to accept and Peterborough [illegible] to play their strength. Douro Wedding.

TOBIN-O'SHEA.

Special to the Examiner

Douro, Nov. 14.—In St. Joseph's church this morning an interesting wedding took place, when Miss Mary Theresa O'Shea, eldest daughter of Mr. Daniel O'Shea, of Douro, was united in marriage to Mr. John Tobin, the ceremony being performed in the presence of only the immediate friends of the bride and groom.

Rev. Father Phelan, of Young's Point, tied the nuptial knot and sang mass. The bride was dressed in a blue satin gown with white lace trimmings, and a white hat with plumes. She was attended by her sister, Miss Lizzie O'Shea, who was gowned in violet coloured satin. The groomsman was Mr. Michael Tobin, brother of the groom. After the ceremony the bridal party drove to the residence of the bride's father, where the wedding breakfast was partaken of and the health of the bride honoured. A night wedding will take place to-night at the same place. About twenty guests were present at the breakfast, and the festivities which followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Tobin, both of whom are well and favourably known in Douro, will reside in that Township.

WHAT WE MIGHT EXPECT.

We need not be surprised at Canadians attaining positions of eminent preferment in the United States. It is no surprise that Mr. C. C. Creelman, at one time Director of Farmers' Institutes in Ontario, was elected at Washington, D.C., recently, president of the American Association of Farmers' Institutes. It would seem that the president of the first and foremost agricultural college on the continent—that at Guelph— should be selected for a position for which by virtue of his eminence as an agricultural scholar, he is well qualified. Mr. Creelman was born at Collingwood on May 9, 1869, and was educated at the Collegiate Institute there. He entered the Guelph Agricultural College in 1885, and took associated diplomas in 1887, and graduated B. S. A. at the University of Toronto in 1888. Since then he has taken special courses in biology at Cornell University, 1891; at the University of Michigan, 1892; and at Michigan Agricultural College, 1893. He was appointed assistant professor of biology at the Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical College in 1889, and was elected professor of biology there in 1892. Mr. Creelman was largely instrumental in having botany introduced in the public schools of Mississippi. Mr. Creelman is associated with an institution, which, under the fostering care of a Liberal Government and under a minister whose superior would be hard to find, has done a work of inestimable value to the farmers and farming interests of Ontario.

MINISTERIAL TYRANNY.

There is one case of a messenger or elevator man, the facts of which have been notorious since the first days of the Whitney administration. Speaker St. John was going from the lunch room to the elevator, full of a good dinner and his own self-conceit. He addressed the elevator man demanding to know his name and religion. The man told him. The Hon. Mr. St. John instantly dismissed him. After the manner of the Irishman in the story, "not because he had anything against him, but because he had the authority." It happened, however, that the Hon. Mr. St. John had not the authority. Although we cannot, like the Orange Sentinel, profess to get direct information concerning the momentous affairs of the Whitney Cabinet, we have heard it said that Dr. Reesmo, at the following meeting of the council raised Cain, or, in a more classic figure, "awaked Mr. St. John" and warned him to mind his own business in the future and not go around dismissing employees over whom he had no jurisdiction, the department of elevators being under the suzerainty of the Commissioner of Public Works, whilst the messenger bureau comes within the sphere of Mr. Speaker. So much for the Sentinel's spiteful whine against the messenger or elevator men when Speaker St. John failed to crush.—Catholic Register.

THE JEWISH RELIEF FUND.

A hearty response to an appeal to humanity gives one a larger idea of the good qualities of our humanity, no matter how deeply it is overlaid with the crust of sin and sinful indifference to its claims. A noble response to the appeal for assistance to the suffering Jews of Russia is marking the people of all Christian countries, especially those of Anglo Saxon composition. In Great Britain the fund is growing to the half million mark. In the United States, where there is proportionately a larger Jewish population, the contributions will amount to a million. And Canada is showing a lively practical interest. In Toronto a mass meeting, held in a Jewish synagogue was a gathering of interest. It was addressed by Jewish rabbi, Christian politicians, professional men and clergymen, and the key note was the brotherhood of man and sympathy for oppressed and suffering men, by Peterborough there is also considerable interest shown and though the sum of the contributions may not be large, the contributors are necessarily nearly all Christians. It seems that Christians in the British Empire have a high appreciation of their liberty of speech and peaceable civil conditions in contrast with the horrible conditions that prevail in tyrant-trodden Russia. Here the British flag symbolizes liberty, right and justice, and the foundation of these is the Christian religion. The noble response the Christian world is making to the appeal of the suffering Jews is in itself a missionary work. It will show to the Chosen People who do not accept the Messiah who has come, that there is a sincerity and a reality in the spirit of the Christianity he has implanted in the world and may tend to modify in a practical way the Jewish attitude towards Christianity. The religion that cannot translate itself into the lives and actions of men is but sounding brass and a tinkling symbol.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It is quite consistent to speak of the local option impulse as a wave, for its chief constituent is cold water.

The Ontario firebrand journals having succeeded so well in Alberta, should begin on Saskatchewan. Their experience in connection with Alberta should be valuable.

Toronto citizens needn't kick against hanging by a strap when their taxes are lightened thereby to the extent of nearly $20,000 a month. Nearly a quarter of a million a year should compensate for a good deal of corn discomfort.

Many denied the truth of the statement of Mr. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, in asserting that Alberta was seething with indignation. Now Mr. Bennett contends that he is right but that the indignation was directed the wrong way—he was disastrously defeated.

The Dominion Woman's Christian Temperance Union meeting in Hamilton condemned the practice of Germans, Galicians and Poles living in the Canadian Northwest selling their young girls for wives. This should be condemned, especially as the price quoted in some cases is only $25 or $30. The ladies, however, did not, on the same occasion, express any condemnation of girls in the older portions of Canada being sold every day of the week in some part of the country, the consideration being a good name, a rich husband, a fine establishment, or all combined, where every element in a happy home is present except the indispensable essential—mutual regard and the love based upon it.

NEW YORK FRAUDS.

Stories come of wholesale frauds in connection with the recent municipal election in New York City and of ballot-boxes fished up from the bed of the river.

The election machinery at best is most complicated, peculiarly if one wants to vote a "split" ticket and it is surprising that Jerome, whose name was on none of the regular tickets, was able to get off as well as he did, because he was the one most likely to suffer from failure to manipulate the complicated machinery properly. The procedure is thus described:

"The names for all candidates for office appear on the ballot machines arranged in columns, the Republican ticket first, then the Democratic ticket, and so on, each under the party emblem. The Republican emblem is an eagle guarding a ballot box, the Democratic emblem is a five-pointed star, the emblem of the Socialists is a fore-arm holding a torch, and so on. The full lists of party nominations with the emblems have been published repeatedly in the various newspapers of the city.

"At the head of each column of candidate is a lever, with a knob on the end. If you want to vote a straight party ticket reach up to the lever above your candidates and pull it down, then swing back the curtain and walk out. This registers your vote. It doesn't take more than a second or two.

"If you want to vote a "split" ticket you must begin in the same way—by pulling down a party lever. Opposite the name of each candidate is a little indicator. When you pull down the lever these indicators come down also. One of them is pointing to a man that you don't want to vote for. Therefore you must push this little indicator up. Then look along the same horizontal column, to the right or the left and find the name of the candidate on some other ticket for whom you do want to vote, and pull down the little indicator so that it will point to his name. You have now fixed your choice for this office, and may proceed in the same manner as to all the other candidates."

Under these circumstances it is certain many votes would be lost to the intrepid district attorney. The machine would have to be intelligently worked in order to give him the support of the Republicans, and in many a case the party ticket would be voted for convenience sake. Apart, however, from defective machinery, there was undoubtedly a leak of common honesty, and it is not surprising that W. R. Hearst has decided to make a strong fight to punish those whom he believes to have kept him out of the mayor's chair by foul means.

THE PANAMA CANAL.

Some idea of the magnitude of the work of constructing the Panama Canal, is given in considering the expenses in connection with the work. Up to June 30 of this year the Panama Canal Commission has expended $4,000,543. Since then about $5,000,000 has been paid out.

Large as these figures are, it is more startling to read of the amounts which the different needs of the work use up. For instance, $158,000 had been charged for the general expenses of the commission, the special commissioners and the engineering committee up to June 30 last. Other expenditures were $208,000 for sanitation and $189,000 for hospitals.

Incidentally, it may be remarked that the sanitary work has been so successful that since Sept. 29 not a single case of yellow fever has been reported, notwithstanding the fact that $50 in gold is offered for the first case reported.

The charge to waterworks, sewers, and roads is $196,000, and to police and prisons $67,000. Machine shop expenses, repairs of equipment, and construction and repairs of buildings account for $548,000.

The largest items on the list are $549,000 for "canal construction," and $1,047,000 for material and supplies purchased, but the latter item does not include a further sum of $106,000 spent by the bureau of supplies on the Isthmus. Of other items the $155,000 paid for Panama railroad stock is the only one worth mentioning.

ENGLISH LIBERALS AND THE CATTLE EMBARGO.

We noted the other day, editorially and in our news columns, says the Winnipeg Free Press, the reversal by the Winnipeg Board of Trade of its opinion about the effect of the British embargo upon our cattle; but our local business men are not the only parties who have seen new light on this question. The leaders of the British Liberal party have likewise been converted to the view that there is no sufficient reason for the continuance of the embargo. The Liberals were in power in 1892, when the Board of Agriculture first made the regulation that Canadian cattle must be slaughtered at the port of debarkation, although the embargo was not made permanent by act of Parliament until 1896, when the Salisbury Government was in office. When the restriction was first enforced against our cattle the Canadian Government offered to pay for the services of the best veterinary talent at the disposal of the British Government, whom they confidently challenged to come here and find if they could a single case of contagious pleuro in all the herds of Canada. That appeal was disregarded, and for the three years they remained in power after that date they steadfastly refused to listen to any plea this country could advance against the embargo.

The Liberal party has been out in the cold for the last ten years, and singularly enough this very same men who were then deaf to all our appeals are now amazing eloquent on our behalf. The Hon. Mr. Asquith, who will be a leading member of the next Liberal Government, is a recent addition to this constituents in the East of Fife declared that the embargo was unnecessarily. He is reported as saying that "according to the best testimony—and I have gone into the matter pretty thoroughly—the danger from the possible importation of disease from Canadian cattle) is practically, and at the present day a non-existent one altogether." He further declared that the attitude all along maintained by the Conservative party on this question was dictated by unreasoning obstinacy and was grossly unfair to Canada because based on a wilful misrepresentation of the original fact; the worst feature of the case being that they, the Conservatives, profess their determination to adhere at any cost to that embargo. Other leaders of the Liberal party, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman and Mr. R. B. Haldane among them, have also come out pretty strongly in the same direction.

With such important bodies as the Winnipeg Board of Trade and the prospective leaders of the next British Government simultaneously undergoing conversion, the discouraged ranchers of the West may even take heart once more. Very few people have any idea how depressing is the present situation to the grower of cattle. Hundreds of pure bred stock are sacrificing off their stock at ridiculously low prices, the expense of wintering them, and ordinary stock are a drug on the market.

But this tardy repentance of the Liberal leaders of Britain sheds a ray of hope on the situation. The new views professed by these men, all representatives of Scotch constituencies, were doubtless obtained by them from the agriculturalists of East Lothian and the East Neuk of Fife. These shrewd, practical men are well aware that the best English and Irish steers never lay on flesh as fast as an Alberta three-year-old, which, on present methods, is only fit to make third-class beef, but can be made equal to prime Scots by a three months' course of intelligent feeding on the "neeps" of the fertile eastern seaboard of Scotland. Let us by all means make our voices heard in support of the more just and generous view of the cattle question, so ably set forth by Mr. Asquith in his Fifeshire canvass, with the hope that if the Liberals attain power in Great Britain they will give legislative effect to their present opinions.

THREATENING THE CATHOLICS

Mr. Haultain has been regarded as a level-headed man. He certainly gave evidences of his fairness and impartiality while he was premier of the Territories. He showed a changing spirit, when he engaged, in a partisan way, in the Federal elections, and he lost his judgment when he participated, at the call of certain fanatical parties, in the Federal bye-elections. It could hardly be expected, though many would have liked to see it, that he would be summoned to form a government in one of the new provinces, since he was in hostile mood, and hostile to everything that was Liberal in the man or in the State. That the choice of Lieutenant-Governor Forget of another as premier in Saskatchewan, was expedient, is exemplified by another speech of Mr. Haultain's. In it he is reported to have said that if the Catholics do not support him they will have to take the consequences. What does he mean? What can he do to terrify or injure them? It requires to be seen. He was at one time represented as satisfied with the school system as it exists in the Territories. He has been represented further as saying that if the people were left to themselves the schools would be all right. Are they in danger now because of anything the people have done? Surely not. The remark attributed to Mr. Haultain is so imprudent that one must conclude that it is not the true reflection of his mind. To threaten the Catholics is to invite a collision with them, and under the circumstances he must be more hurt than they.—Kingston Whig.

Mr. J. Jefferies Gives Lecture On Macbeth

There was a large attendance at the regular Literary meeting of George Street Epworth League last night and a most interesting and profitable evening was spent. The chair was occupied by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Crothers. An enjoyable vocal solo was contributed by Miss Marion Elliott, while the Misses Gumpright were heard in a piano duet rendered in excellent manner.

The address of the evening was given by Mr. Jeffries, who had for his subject Shakspere's play "Macbeth". Mr. Jeffries dealt with his subject in a most admirable manner holding the close attention of everyone present as he portrayed the characters of Macbeth and Lady Macbeth and their awful examples of the working of a guilty conscience.

At the conclusion of the address the pleasure and appreciation of the audience were expressed in a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Jeffries, moved by Mr. A. W. Cressman and seconded by Mr. Geo. Robertson.

Miss Chasty performed the duties of accompanist in her usual efficient manner.

Rev. Dr. Symonds To Be Invited To The Reunion

Last night St. Luke's Men's Guild met in their guild room, when there was a large attendance, and an interesting meeting was held. The vice-president, Mr. A. Kingdon, occupied the chair. The principal business discussed was the proposed congregational social, which will probably be held on Tuesday next. Rev. Dr. Symonds will be communicated with in the meantime, and if he can be present on that day the social will take place then, as it was felt that it would add much to its pleasure if the former rector could be present. In case, however, he is unable to be in the city on that day, the social will take place on the 28th, a week later. The Men's Guild is handling this event, and intend to make it a success if possible.

Further arrangements were made also for the lecture which the rector, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, will give, under the auspices of the guild on December 12. It is intended that this shall be a memorable event in guild circles.

Mr. J. J. Turner, Sr., Lectures At All Saint's

Gives Realistic Description of Canadian Manufacturers' Recent Trip—Were Honoured by Royalty—The Wondrous Sights of England and France—Were Given Splendid Reception Everywhere—Paris Gay But Not Good.

Mr. J. J. Turner, sr., delivered a very able and entertaining lecture on the recent trip of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association to England and France, in the school room of All Saints' Church last night. Mr. Turner was one of the members of the association who were fortunate enough to be able to enjoy this delightful and ever-changing journey, by land and sea. During an address of an hour and a half he entertained his hearers with a vivid description of the many places of interest he had visited, of the many pleasures he had experienced, and of the numerous personages of note he had encountered and been entertained by. The sights of London and other parts of England, the beauties of the gay French capital, Paris, the comfort of the ocean voyages on the magnificent liners, simply challenged all powers of description. The hospitable manner in which the Canadian manufacturers were entertained, wherever they went, the sumptuous banquets spread for them, the courteous treatment accorded them, and their entertainment in general by the very cream of the dwellers of England and France, go to show the high esteem and respect in which they were held by two of the great nations on the other side of the Atlantic. And had they visited any other countries there is every reason to believe that just as hearty a welcome would have been extended them.

Mr. Turner left Peterborough on June 8th, and proceeded to Montreal via the C. P. R. Upon arrival at that city he at once went on board of the Allan Line turbiner Victorian, and there had the pleasure of meeting Mr. D. F. Ackerman, and Mr. Hugh Waddell and son, Roland, these residents of Peterborough. These gentlemen were with the party for the entire trip.

On board the steamer there were every luxury and convenience. For the members of the association were provided billiards, quoits and shuffleboard which were played by the Canadians and other saloon passengers. At the grand concert and ball given on board the liner, and by the sale of a daily paper, "On the Go," published on the vessel by the association, nearly three hundred dollars were raised and devoted to charitable purposes.

On Saturday night, the 17th, the first land, being the indistinct shores of the Emerald Isle, was sighted, and that night at eight o'clock, the merry cruisers landed at Londonderry. A message was sent to His Majesty the King, stating that two hundred and seventy-eight loyal Canadian subjects had arrived, and literally taken possession of his territory.

From Londonderry they went to Liverpool, and from the great city of wharves to Windsor. Upon arriving at Liverpool they received the King's telegram of invitation, and Mr. Turner immediately cabled his sons: "Arrived; invited by the King to Windsor."

Mr. Turner spoke very feelingly of the considerate treatment received at the hands of the customs officials of both England and France and stated that the officials of both governments took the words of the members of the association that they were carrying no articles upon which duty would be levied.

The headquarters of the association while in the English capital were the Hotel Cecil, one of the grandest and most elaborate in the world.

The party was met at Paddington station by Lord Strathcona, who cordially received his fellow countrymen, and escorted them to the royal presence of Their Majesties, the King and Queen. Their reception at Windsor Castle was attended by great pomp and grandeur, and true British hospitality as well. The grounds at Windsor are a veritable paradise, and the delicious perfume of the many roses and other flowers in the garden, permeated the air with a delightful fragrance. A beautiful banquet was partaken of by the King's guests, and at the conclusion those thus honoured formed a ring, and gave three hearty cheers and a tiger for their royal entertainers.

On Tuesday, June 20th, the Canadians visited by special request, the docks and warehouses of London and India Dock Company. The steamer Yarmouth Belle was placed at their disposal and they were conveyed to many places of interest, singing as they went with a spirit and ardour that only true Canadians can put into that beautiful and expressive patriotic selection, "The Maple Leaf Forever". Mr. Turner stated that while he was shown through some of the greatest manufacturing plants in England, he did not see where the manufacturers of the mother country had any advantage over the colonists of young but progressive Canada.

A grand dinner was given at the Hotel Cecil by the London Chamber of Commerce in honour of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, and about six hundred sat down to an elaborate feast, under the weight of which the festive board groaned out its acknowledgment of the abundance of good things. Each member of the Association had his photograph taken and these are to be included in a book dealing with the visit of the party to the old country.

At this dinner Mr. Turner was taken ill and next morning was forced to secure the services of a physician. Mr. Ackerman, Messrs. Hugh and Roland Waddell and several other of Mr. Turner's friends who had accompanied him across the deep blue, called upon him and expressed their regret at his being confined to his bed when the pleasure was at the highest pitch. During his illness he was cheered by the receipt of a letter of sympathy from Lord Strathcona. When the patient was convalescent an invitation to visit the neighbouring republic was received from the French Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Turner's doctor informed him if he went, he was doing so at the risk of his life but as Mr. Turner did not relish the idea of staying on the Anglo Saxon shores of the channel while his friends were enjoying the gayety and life of vivacious, he went also.

On July 11th the party set sail for Calais, France, embarking at Dover. At Paris they were received by the Mayor and the President and members of the Chamber of Commerce. During their visit to Paris, the party stayed at the Hotel "Terminus", one of the finest on the continent.

The Canadians were very much dazzled by the glitter of Parisian splendor. The speaker referred to Paris as a very gay and attractive place, but also as a very wicked city. From Paris Mr. Turner, the Messrs. Waddell and Mr. McClellan, of Lindsay, journeyed to Bolougne. The scenery between these two cities is lovely and some natural pictures of exquisite beauty were viewed from the windows of their luxurious coach. After the return to England the men of the Land of the Maple Leaf, with the exception of Mr. Turner, sailed from Liverpool to Halifax, leaving the mother land on the 20th of July. He, however, stayed some time longer and visited more places of interest. Mr. Turner stayed a week in Plymouth and spent a few days at St. Blasey in Cornwall. He also stayed a day at Foy, Cornwall and from there went to Bournmouth and London, staying for some weeks in the latter city. On the 7th of September he boarded the Steamer Tunisian and sailed for Canada, arriving in Peterborough on Sunday morning, September 16th, after an absence of nearly fourteen weeks.

While in England, Mr. Turner had the pleasure of meeting the sister of Rev. Mr. Major, rector of All Saints'.

Prior to Mr. Turner's lecture, a short programme was presented, Miss Mary Rush singing a beautiful solo in fine voice, and sergeant Edwards reading some very humorous selections. At the conclusion of the programme light refreshments were served.

The affair, which was an open meeting, was under the auspices of All Saints' Men's Guild was most successful in every particular. The lecturer probably covered more ground during the course of his able discourse than any other speaker who has addressed a Peterborough audience ever has done. A hearty vote of thanks moved by Mr. G. L. Maughan, chairman, and seconded by Mr. Jos. Legge, was unanimously carried.

BIFOCALS or Double Lenses

When a person must wear corrections for both far and near vision, two pair of glasses can be used or else bifocals. There are several forms of these, but the form most in use is the cement wafer, these having proved practically to be the most satisfactory. It takes a person some little time to get used to bifocals. Once however, accustomed to them, those who wear them are usually pleased and unwilling to take any other.

I keep a large assortment of lenses and cement wafers for rimless or rimmed frames always in stock.

Poland Is Now The Scene Of The Disorders

Russia Scotches Movement For Polish Separation.

MARTIAL LAW PROCLAIMED

Germany and Austria Stand Behind Russia With Assurances of Support —Russia Has 600,000 Troops In Poland and Thinks That Number Sufficient to Quell Any Rising —The Czar's Ukase.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 14.—Poland is not to be permitted to become a second Finland. The Russian Government in a strongly worded communication published yesterday morning serves notice on the Polish nationalists that the ancient kingdom of Poland has now become an integral part of the Russian Empire, and that while the Government intends to fully observe the national rights of Poland, any attempt to wrest Polish autonomy from the Emperor would be considered an act of revolt.

The ukase says:—"In accordance with the ukase of December 25 last the exceptional laws hindering the free development of the nation were abrogated and the Poles were given the same rights as the Russians.

"The general measures adopted by the Government were extended to Poland, which also was given the right of participation in the douma and freedom of meeting. Finally, on October 30 the Poles were fully recognized as free citizens, thereby obtaining full opportunity to prove their capacity.

Dangerous and Insolent.

"Forgetting the painful lessons of the past, the politicians who are directing the national movement in the Kingdom of Poland are making attempts as dangerous for the Polish population as they are insolent toward Russia to bring about the separation of the empire.

"There could obviously be no question of realising pacific principles in a country in revolt. Therefore, for the restoration of order all the districts of the Vistula are temporarily declared to be in a state of war.

"The future of the Polish people thus depends upon themselves. The Government having a desire to continue safeguarding the integrity and national rights of the Polish people, extended by recent legislative acts, expects the people to recover from the political intoxication which has come over the kingdom of Poland, the population of which has become a prey to the agitators, while at the same time it is putting the people on guard against entering a dangerous path which, unfortunately, they have not for the first time trod."

Bourse in a Panic.

The formal proclamation of martial law throughout Russian Poland and the promulgation of the Government's intention to suppress the Polish movement to secure autonomy almost created a panic on the bourse yesterday, imperial fours again falling to 86. Industrials seem to have no bottom.

The city was full of rumors to the effect that the imperial ukase was issued over Count Witte's head at the instigation of the reactionaries, which is equivalent to the count's retirement, but it can be stated with positiveness that the action was taken upon the Premier's advice.

Assurances of Support.

It is generally believed here that both Germany and Austria have given Russia assurances of support, but of what nature cannot be learned. The present move in Poland certainly will not receive the sympathy of the Governments beyond the western border.

The danger is that the Poles may provoke an active measure which would mean nothing short of civil war. The number of troops, 600,000, in Poland, however, is sufficient to cope with the situation.

Cabinet Meets.

The second session of Count Witte's new Cabinet was held yesterday afternoon. The council decided to remit a portion of the land payments due next year by the peasants in the provinces affected by the famine, and to remit entirely the payments for 1906, due on land held by peasants killed during the war. The amount remitted totals $13,-000,000.

Agrarian Disorders.

Disquieting reports of the progress of the agrarian disorders were received last night. The military authorities are rushing troops and machine guns into the affected areas. Inhabitants of Karsk and Tutugansk are organizing for the protection of their respective towns. The village of Balantia, in the Government of Saratoff, has been fired by peasants.

Odessa Jews Rejoice.

Odessa, Nov. 14.—The dismissal of Prefect Neidhardt, to whom is attributed the responsibility for the recent outrages, was announced last night and caused much rejoicing among the Jewish population. His successor, Gen. Gregorieff, is a conservative anti-semite.

A Jewish engineer named Abrahamson has been made manager of the South-Western State Railroad. The announcement of his appointment caused a sensation.

Mutiny In Garrison.

Helsingfors, Nov. 14.—A revolt broke out Saturday in the garrison of Sveaborg. Hundreds of the men claim they have been retained with the colors from two to three years beyond the legal period of service and also complain of their conditions of life. The mutineers refused to obey orders, and in several of the barracks beds, chairs and kitchen apparatus were thrown out of the windows. There was no bloodshed.

Looks Like a Battle.

London, Nov. 14.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of The Daily Mail says that 24,000 Georgians armed with modern rifles, hold Georgia (in Transcaucasia), despite the three important Russian forces converging thereon, and that, except for runners, Georgia, has been completely isolated for many days.

Insurrection at Vladivostock.

London, Nov. 14.—The Shanghai correspondent of The Morning Post reports that blood has been shed in insurrection at Vladivostock and that foreign residents there are asking for warships for their protection.

Tolstoi a Minister.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 14.—Count John Tolstoi, who resigned the position of head of the Academy of Fine Arts, owing to Gen. Trepoff's representative policy, was yesterday appointed Minister of Education.

Odessa's Death List.

Odessa, Nov. 14.—The death list of Jewish victims to the recent outbreak here has been increased by 114s who succumbed to injuries.

Russian Prisoners Released.

Yokohama, Nov. 14.—Thirteen hundred and seventy-four Russian prisoners, including 1,252 bluejackets from Port Arthur and one colonel, one lieutenant-colonel, and eleven soldiers, captured at Kiulenchang and Telissu, have been released.

ONTARIO WOMAN KILLED.

Fighting a Muskrat With a Clubbed Rifle, She Was Fatally Wounded at Humbolt, Sask.

Humbolt, Sask., Nov. 14.—Mrs. Tallow, wife of a young farmer from Ontario, was almost instantly killed by accidental shooting on Sunday. Her little dog was fighting a muskrat, and she went to its assistance with a 22-calibre rifle. She struck the rat on the head with the butt end of the rifle, heedless of her husband's warning, and it exploded, the bullet passing through her hand and lodging in her abdomen. She died just as her husband got her back to the house.

FRENCH DOCKMEN STRIKE.

Employes In Various Naval Headquarters to Quit Work To-day.

Paris, Nov. 14.—The union of the Government employes of the arsenals and dockyards at Toulon, Brest, and other naval headquarters, has ordered a general strike beginning to-day.

Military forces are being concentrated to preserve order at the ports.

The strikers claim that liberty of speech is denied them by the dismissal of workmen who criticise the naval administration.

The federation of Government employes has issued an appeal to the employes of the post and telegraph department, the mine, military arsenals and tobacco and match and other state industries to give their moral support to the naval strike.

JAPANESE FOREIGN LOAN.

An Immediate Issue of $250,000,000 at 4 Per Cent.

London, Nov. 14—The Associated Press is informed that the Japanese Government has decided to issue immediately a new foreign loan of $250,-000,000 at 4 per cent., which will be used partly for converting the external six per cent. loan and partly for the redemption of the internal loans.

It is understood that France will participate to a considerable amount, the Rothschild's Paris house being the issuing house there.

The exact rate of issue has not yet been decided upon.

Naval Militia For Canada.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—Hon. Raymond Prefontaine leaves for England a week from to-day. He goes to discuss with the Imperial authorities a naval militia for Canada. The Minister intends getting all the information he can obtain to assist him in carrying out his proposition to establish schools of navigation in Canada.

New York, Nov. 14.—John A. McCall president of the New York Life Insurance Co., was called before the Legislative Insurance Investigation Committee yesterday and peremptorily ordered by the committee to demand the return from Europe to the United States of Andrew Hamilton, the lawyer who had charge of the legislative matters for the New York Life. Mr. McCall was further ordered to demand an accounting from Hamilton of the moneys expended by him, and of the balance which he owes the New York Life Mr. McCall denied that it was the policy of his company to have Mr. Hamilton remain abroad until after the investigation had been concluded, and said that on the contrary he would very much like to have Mr. Hamilton return.

McCall Will Pay If Hamilton Doesn't.

Mr. McCall, replying to Mr. Hughes, counsel for the committee, said he had called the attention of the board of trustees of the company to his testimony before the committee relative to Hamilton and gave Mr. Hughes a copy of his statement, which said that if Hamilton did not return to the New York Life the sum of $235,000 by Dec. 31, he would himself pay it to the company. Mr. McCall said Mr. Hamilton was either in Paris or Nauheim.

Another interesting line of examination was opened up just before the adjournment for the day, when John McGinnes, an employe of the Equitable Life, produced letter books and memorands showing instructions from former Comptroller Jordan of the Equitable to A. C. Fields, relative to the killing or assisting the passage of every bill introduced into the Legislature that would effect or help the interests of the insurance company, or any of its officers. This line of examination will be followed out when the sessions are resumed to-day.

Hegeman on Stand.

Other witnesses yesterday were John R. Hegeman, president of the Metropolitan Life, and Vice-President Fiske, who were interrogated along the line of agents' salaries, legal expenses of the company, real estate holdings and the methods of acquiring properties.

When Mr. Hegeman resumed the stand the statement of his syndicate participations was read. It covered a period of ten years and witness said the syndicates had netted him about $48,000. This amount is exclusive of $16,000 he paid into the treasury of the company in May or June, 1905. This payment was made after consulting counsel, when the Equitable trouble was in the public eye, last spring. Witness said he did this, not because he had done anything wrong, but he did not want to have anyone feel that he was taking advantage of the company or his connection with it.

The low rate of interest at which Mr. Hegeman secured loans and the reason of the rebates of this interest that Mr. Hegeman received from the old firm of Vermilye & Co., was testified to by several members of that firm, which has since gone out of business. The firm was the banker of the Metropolitan, but since March the business has been taken over by Wm. Read & Co. Mr. Read was a witness yesterday, and said that Mr. Hegeman got the loans at a rate below the market because Mr. Hegeman had been a client for a number of years and because of the volume of business he transacted with the firm of Vermilye & Co.

MONTREAL ROWDIES AGAIN.

French Presbyterian Evangelist Object of Another Attack.

Montreal, Nov. 14.—Following after the two demonstrations which have been made against Mr. Mage, the French Presbyterian evangelist, who is endeavoring to hold sessions in the east end of the city, another attack was made Sunday evening. On opening the hall, at the corner of St. Catherine and Mahonnenve streets, for the service, it was found that the Bibles and hymn books had been taken, and the electric light bulbs smashed. Not satisfied with this a bottle of strong ammonia was in a highly volatile state, and when opened by unsuspecting people several were temporarily blinded.

In spite of disarrangements Mr. Mage procured lamps and held his meeting. Crowds gathered outside, but the presence of a considerable police force kept them in fair order. During the meeting a malcontent arose and called upon all good Catholics to leave the place. Two or three followed his example, walking out noisily.

Mr. Mage states that he is teaching "higher Christianity," and he proposes to continue his teachings, in spite of the rowdy, discordant mobs, who apparently forget that free speech is one of the pillars of the British Empire.

W. C. T. U. Officers.

Hamilton, Nov. 14.—After a spirited contest Mrs. B. B. Wright, London, was elected president of the Dominion W. C. T. U. yesterday. On the final ballot she won out by 58 to 14. The other officers chosen were: Hon. president, Mrs. Annie O. Rutherford, Toronto; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Annie M. Bascom, Toronto; recording secretary, Mrs. E. W. McLaughlin, Montreal; treasurer, Mrs. Sara J. O'Dell, Ottawa; Y. secretary, Miss E. G. Waycott, Westmount, Que.

GETS 233,935 VOTES.

As Opponents Polled Only 62,739 Against Him Prince Charles of Denmark Will Be Norway's King.

Christiania, Nov. 14.—At 2 o'clock this morning the returns of the plebiscite were still incomplete, but no change in its main features is now possible.

The results in 518 constituencies show 238,935 votes in favor of Prince

PRINCE CHARLES OF DENMARK.

Charles of Denmark as King of Norway and 62,739 against him. The Republicans expected to poll 33 per cent. of the votes, but only obtained 21 per cent.

After midnight a great crowd cheered Premier Michelsen and President Berner of the Storthing. The Premier addressed the people from a window of the palace and congratulated them on the result of the plebiscite.

THE COMMON SNAIL.

An Air Breathing Creature That Lives Without Air.

The common snail has lungs, heart and a general circulation and is in every respect an air breathing creature. This notwithstanding, he can live an indefinitely without inhaling the least atom of air—that which is usually considered the essential to existence in all creatures supplied with lungs. Leppert says, "To all organized creatures the removal of oxygen, water, nourishment and heat causes death to ensue." When that statement was made he does not appear to consider the snail as one among the great host of "organized beings," for experiments prove that any or all the usual life conditions can be removed in its case without terminating its functions.

It is a fact well known that the common land snail retreats into his shell on the approach of frosty weather in the fall and that the opening or mouth of the shell is hermetically sealed by a secretion which is of a silky texture and absolutely impervious to both air and water. In this condition it is plain that he is deprived of three out of the four elements of life mentioned by Leppert—viz., air, water and nourishment.

Taken after he has been thus handicapped for months, he may be plunged into a chemical mixture 100 degrees colder than the degree marked at Fahrenheit's zero and allowed to remain in that chilly solution for weeks. Yet as soon as restored to normal temperature life is renewed, and the snail soon regains his natural powers, clips the silken curtain from his house door and begins to feed as naturally as though just awakening from a winter's sleep. Spallanzani kept a snail of the great helix family hermetically sealed in a glass tube from which all air had been carefully removed for a period of four years and two months, yet he declared that the creature regained all its normal functions within less than an hour after being exposed to a temperature of 90 degrees.

SOUTHEY'S GUILLOTINE.

It Did Not Serve the Purpose For Which It Was Made.

Lord Southey once in a fit of disgust with life had a magnificent guillotine erected in the drawing room of his magnificently appointed house in the Rue de Luxembourg, at Paris. The machine was an elaborate affair, with ebony uprights inlaid with gold and silver. The framework was carved with great artistic skill, and the knife, of immense weight and falling at the touch of a spring, was of ornamental steel, polished and as sharp as a razor.

The spring which liberated the knife was placed within easy reach of any one kneeling upon the scaffold. In fact, every detail was arranged with a view to the convenience of the would be suicide. The day that the engine of death was entirely finished Lord Southey completed his testamentary dispositions, shaved, had his hair cut and, clothed in a robe of white silk, knelt upon the platform under the knife.

The guillotine was placed before a large mirror, wherein the person committing suicide could see his own image until the last. Murmuring a short prayer, Lord Southey placed his head in the semicircle and pressed the spring.

The next morning he was found calmly sleeping in his bed. The spring had failed to work, and after several fruitless efforts Lord Southey was compelled to relinquish his attempt upon his life. Thoroughly cured of his spleen, he presented the guillotine to the Glasgow museum, whence he made an annual pilgrimage to see it until the end of his life.

In the Days Before Sugar.

Once upon a time, when there was no such thing as sugar—lovers of lollipops, only think of it—bees were of much greater value than they are now, for honey was then the chief if not the only sweetener, and wax was largely used in the making of very fine candles for altars and royal banquets. Some of the laws of old Ireland so green and of little Wales dealt with the subject of bees, which shows how important as well as industrious were these busy insects. Every owner of bees was required to distribute some of his honey among his neighbors every third year. Why? Because his bees had gathered their honey from the opening flowers on his neighbor's lands. There was a nice sense of justice for you! And some there are that would like to see it applied all round, even in the present day.

Children's Food.

Bread and butter should not be given to infants under eighteen months of age except in small quantities. When given the bread should be cut as thinly as possible. Gravy or beef tea may be given with vegetables for dinner to children under two, but they are better without any meat. Children should never be allowed to eat between meals.

Thin Necks.

If your neck is thin and scrawny wash it with hot water every night, rubbing thoroughly afterward with a Turkish towel, after which massage the skin with cocoa butter or cocoanut oil. Wear loose collars and dispense with these accessories whenever you can.

Brass Candlesticks.

A housekeeper who lights her dining room and bedrooms with candles smiled at a request to explain the exquisite neatness of her brass candlesticks. "You do not scratch your brasses when you scrape the wax off," said the inquirer, "and I should like to know how you avoid doing so." The answer was that the wax was not scratched off at all. The brasses were merely plunged into hot water long enough for the bits of wax to melt and run off of their own accord. The polishing of the brass was the work of the man who took care of the furnace, since polishing brass is a matter of more muscle than the average maid possesses.

PAUL OF RUSSIA.

His Assassination Was Like the Ending of Julius Caesar.

The 25th of March, 1801, was the day on which the Emperor Paul of Russia was assassinated. Paul had received some whispers of the plot against his life and had arranged to leave St Petersburg the following day and go to Moscow, where he fancied he might be safer. On the evening of the 25th he retired to rest at an early hour that he might thoroughly rest himself before commencing his journey. At 11 o'clock about a score of the conspirators—officers holding high rank in the army—appeared at the gate of the palace. It was closed, but the officers presented an order, signed by the emperor himself—or, rather, with a forged signature attached—and, informing the sentinel that they were called to hold a council of war with the czar, were admitted.

The emperor's aid-de-camp was one of the foremost of the conspirators and went in advance of the others to Paul's bedchamber, before the door of which was a Cossack soldier on guard. "The emperor sleeps," said the man. "I must rouse him. There is fire in the city," replied the treacherous aid. The Cossack, seeing others push forward, shouted out to alarm the emperor and immediately fell, pierced by the swords of the conspirators. Paul attempted to bolt the door, but being unable to do so seized his sword and turned boldly on them. "What is your design?" he demanded of Count Plato Zonboff, "and what do these men want who are with you?" "We demand your abdication," replied Zonboff, who then read a formal deed, which had been previously prepared.

"What! Do you, who have been loaded with bounties by me, turn thus upon your master?" said the emperor.

"You are no longer our master," replied Zonboff. "The nation has provided you a successor in the shape of your son Alexander."

Paul at this raised his sword, and the conspirators, who had not expected him to show so much courage, drew back, with the exception of a man named Beningsen, who urged the others forward, saying:

"If you hesitate, you are lost."

Then Count Valerian Zouboff struck the first blow, and the others quickly followed his example. As Paul still struggled an officer's sash was passed around his neck, and the life was choked out of him, his last words being: "And you, too, my Constantine!"

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

You can't satisfy some people. Don't try.

If you do a disastrous thing carelessly, it is the same thing as if you did it on purpose.

Some people's idea of being sincere is to say disagreeable things to their friends' faces.

Some honest always look as though the occupants were in the midst of a house cleaning.

If the women were called upon to vote for the nicest man in town, how many would vote for their husbands?

Never worry about anything that you can put off until tomorrow. Many of the worries of today, if put off until tomorrow, will take care of themselves.

A man and his girl can endure a great many hardships when they are courting that they don't know are hardships until after they are married.—Atchison Globe.

London's Enormous Trade.

You get some idea of London's trade by moving through the tall warehouses of the docks, says The London Daily Mail. Consider a few figures. Thirty-six thousand tons of tea are stored here in a single year. In the vaults, with their twenty-eight miles of gangway, can be stored one hundred thousand pipes of wine. Two hundred and fifty thousand tons of wool, worth £20,000,000, arrive annually at the Port of London. Twenty thousand tons of tobacco are here in bond, valued at £9,000,000. There is accommodation in the cold storage warehouses for eight hundred and sixty-four thousand sheep. Sixty thousand pounds of ostrich feathers have been stored here at one time, and several millions of bird-skins arrive annually, too numerous for computation. In addition, the London Docks have accommodation for sugar, ivory, spices, bark, gums, metals, marble, drugs, dates, pepper, rice, coffee, cocoa, isinglass, coal, grain, furniture, wood, timber, carpets, butter, cheese, poultry, even for sea-shells, sponges, musk, ambergris, and beeswax! In a single room you may look at elephants' tusks worth nearly a hundred thousand pounds.

Placing the Mirror.

A well placed mirror has the effect of a pool of water in a garden. It makes reflections and a pleasant spot, upon which the eyes may rest. In a dark corner a mirror is nearly equal to a window—provided it reflects a bright portion of the room. If the mantelpiece has no mirror do not add one. Decide what you wish the mirror to reflect and hang it accordingly. The room may be deficient in sunshine. Place the mirror where it will catch the reflected light, or the room, may have a charming view from one window. Duplicate the view in the mirror.—Pictorial Review.

The Feeling of Autumn.

On the 13th October John Burroughs wrote:

The beginning of a change in the weather from very warm to cold and rain, the birds suddenly very numerous and friendly, robins all about the ground piping and darting among the apple trees, sparrows flitting and chippering about the house. A moment ago a sparrow came and tapped on my window and looked in roguishly upon me. Snowbirds are here, too, with their quick and almost spiteful ways.

Social robins in the vines
Shout and call in festive mood;
Ruby kinglet in the spines,
Clucking chipmunk in the wood.

Alder berries red as blood
Gleam above the darkling flood;
Drifting threads by spider spun,
Gleam and tremble in the sun.

SIR HENRY IRVING.

Much was it once, to move o'erwearied life
To wholesome laughter; much it was to lure
From withered hearts the enriching tears of grief!
Much was it once, in motley and in mask,
To lead this cynic and too saddened age
Far out of life's lost Islands of Romance!
Much was it, in the midst of optic fires,
Of transient moods and momentary ways,
To guard with jealous hands the Calmer Light!
Much was it, when the years all arid seemed,
To freshen, as at cooling founts, our souls
Whereon obliterating dust and hate
Too heavy lay!

Oh, much indeed it was
To charm Earth's fretting children to forget!
But more than all Art's dream and anodyne
For languid sorrow were the clash and war
Of Wrong with timeless Light, the wider view,
The tangled years made lucid to the eye,
The mimic hopes and loves that chasten men,
The broken threads of life caught up and held
One whole again, the Good made Beautiful.

All this was much, and with it brought its hay;
All this is old, and earned long since its crown;
Its thundered thanks, impassioned quick applause!
But, oh, how loftier than fame is love,
In this great heart that warmed to little things!
The hand not once withheld, the valient will
Made quick with stooping kindliness of soul,
The mind austere and, calm that mourned amid
Illusions lost, yet laughed, and lived, and loved!

This, this it is that still makes silence beat!
This weaves its aureole of softer lights
About the honored brow, and stands enough!
Yet we, one hour inadequate, must turn
With fond and broken words for memory.
And now the final curtain drops about
That thrice crowned head, in pride and silence lay
Love's unreluctant tribute at the feet
Of him who under cloak and domino
And flash of rimble wits forever held
That Love was best, and for the elusive Dream
Gave youth and age, and left more rich the world!

THRIVE IN THE SLUMS.

Remarkable Jewish Vitality Under Very Adverse Circumstances.

The London Lancet publishes the result of an investigation of the physical condition of children living in the slums of Leeds, which shows a marked superiority of Jewish children in every case taken. The comparison is made with similar conditions in regard to age, degree of poverty, character and residence.

A systematic examination of 3,000 children showed that the poor Jew is three pounds heavier and two inches taller than the non-Jew at the age of eight; six and a quarter pounds heavier and two and a half inches taller at the age of ten, and seven pounds heavier and one and a quarter inches taller at the age of twelve. The bone formation is much more satisfactory. The Jews' teeth are better, and there is a striking absence of rickets. The nasal channel is large, and there is remarkable freedom from adenoids as compared with the non-Jews.

Professor Huxley.

Prof. Huxley was a man of very simple and direct manner. In the classroom he made his lectures graphic by finding illustrations for scientific truths in everyday examples, as when in treating of animals that change their color he referred to the fact that when he was tired or nervous he fancied he was grayer than usual. He was gallant to the fair sex. One of them, who attended his South Kensington lectures, asked him to introduce her to Herbert Spencer and was amused by his mock serious response, "I thought I was your first love." To this same lady he said, in talking about the death of Agassiz, the news of which he had just heard, "I wonder where he is?" He made the remark in a tone of profound sadness.

We are often reminded of what Mrs. Chillingly said when asked who managed her household. Her reply was, "My husband has agreed that I may decide upon all the small questions if I will let him decide the large ones." As small ones arose many times each day and large ones only at intervals of months, it ended in her "ruling the roost."

Malicious.

Mrs. McCall—I do wish I could get a good maid. Mrs. Vandine—You might interview mine. I think she'd be delighted to go to you. Mrs. McCall—But why don't you keep her? Mrs. Vandine—Oh, she won't stay! She says she wants a place where she won't have so many dresses and hats to take care of.—Answers.

If woman could have half the wishes she would double her fatality.—Franklin.

Cured When all Else Failed

"Could I live my early life over, this testimonial would not be necessary, though I was no more sinful than thousands of other young men. Early indiscretions, later excesses, exposure to contagious diseases all helped to break down my system. When I commenced to realise my condition I was almost frantic. Doctor after doctor treated me but only gave me relief—not a cure. Hot Springs helped me, but did not cure me. The symptoms always returned. Mercury and Potash drove the poison into my system instead of driving it out. I bless the day your New Method Treatment was recommended to me. I investigated who you were first, and finding you had over 25 years' experience and responsible financially. I gave you my case under a guarantee. BEAUTIFUL HANDS.

They Are Worth the Little Trouble It Takes to Acquire Them.

Beautiful hands are bought with eternal vigilance. Do you admire them sufficiently to pay the price? Any hand that is kept well is in a certain sense beautiful. An ungainly hand well kept passes for more than a well shaped hand neglected. But even the shape of the hand may be cultivated to taste.

While using the broom, dustpan, coal bucket and even during general straightening gloves should be worn. When it is impossible to wear gloves a free use of lard or castile soap about and under the finger nails prevents dirt settling. Health is the first requisite to pretty hands. "Cleanliness is next to godliness" in the case of the hands as in everything else.

A pinch of borax or a few drops of ammonia in the water, with the use of pure castile soap, does wonders. When the hands yield to only one good treatment a day it should be given at night. Oatmeal, cornmeal or bran soaked a few minutes in hot water is a good wash for hands that have become hard and dry. A good cream to rub them with afterward is made of mutton tallow, honey and lemon juice melted together until of the consistency of cream.

Sink of the Sun.

We sometimes see a huge ring or halo round the moon, occupying a space in the heavens so large that ninety moons' breadths would but just suffice to span it. Yet the body of the sun would fill all that space ere we had approached within 2,000,000 miles of him. Once on the apparent surface were we permitted to travel thereon and with the speed of an express train it would require five whole years of continuous journeying before we could make the circuit of the orb.

THROWING LIGHT ON THE SUBJECT OF Home Dyeing.

Home dyeing is a fascinating and money-saving work, when Diamond Dyes are used. Home colouring has an attraction for ladies in all ranks of society, and the wonderful results achieved by the Diamond Dyes for women, have made them the popular home dyes in all parts of the world.

One ten cent package of the Diamond Dyes will do the same work that a steam-dyeing establishment charges one dollar for.

All faded and dingy looking dress-ens skirts, suits, blouse, jackets, ribbons, stockings, coats, vests and trousers, can be re-coloured at the home and made to look as good as new, at a cost of from ten to twenty cents, when the never-failing Diamond Dyes are used.

It is well to bear in mind that direct money saving can only be guaranteed when Diamond Dyes are used. Have a care that you do not buy the worthless imitations sold by some dealers. Refuse such deceptive dyes if you would avoid trouble and loss of money and temper. Ask for DIAMOND DYES, and refuse all others that may be offered to you.

Lord Nelson and Canada.

Mr. Henry J. Morgan, author of Men and Women of Canada, writes The Globe from Ottawa: In a recent issue of your paper you recall the incident in the life of Nelson where the hero, not long before the battle of Trafalgar, visited the premises of Messrs. Pettit & Son, undertakers, Brewer street, Golden Square, to take a view of his coffin. You rightly state that the coffin in question was a gift to his chief from Capt. Benjamin Hallowell, who had this gruesome token of affection made from a piece of the main mast of the French frigate L'Orient, captured at the battle of the Nile. "In order that Nelson might be buried in one of his own trophies," but what, perhaps, is not generally known, to our people in connection with this occurrence is that Capt. Hallowell was the son of a Canadian gentleman—a gallant Empire Loyalist, who, after an exciting and eventful career, died at York, now Toronto, where he was a landed proprietor, March 28th, 1799. Mr. Hallowell, Sr., according to Sabin, was the father-in-law of another eminent Canadian, Chief Justice Elmsley, at whose house he died, and by whom his remains were interred in the old Garrison burial ground at York. I presume at the Old Fort. The Township of Mallowell, in the County of Prince Edward, was named after him. Although his distinguished son, Capt., afterwards Admiral, Hallowell, is stated by no less an authority than the Dictionary of National Biography to have been born in Canada, I am otherwise led to believe that his place of birth was Boston, Massachusetts, where his father, previous to the American revolution, held office as Commissioner of Customs, with a seat in the Royal Council. The son lived, as I have said, to become an Admiral, and besides receiving the Neapolitan Order of St. Ferdinand, was decorated by his Sovereign with the Grand Cross of the Order of the Bath. Having in his later years, succeeded to the estates of the Carews of Beddington, he assumed the name and arms of that family. He was a worthy and gallant officer, whose meritorious services in every sea entitle him to a conspicuous place in the naval annals of his country.

THE CLAY BELT.

A detailed account of the resources and nature of the territory in the valley of the Mattagami, in the neighborhood of Abbitibi Lake and river has been submitted to the bureau of mines by Mr. H. L. Kerr. Mr. Kerr went north in charge of an exploration party sent out by the Department last spring. The expedition consisted of a geologist and an agricultural expert, together with a number of surveyors and voyageurs. Its chief purpose was to report on the possibilities of the country in the clay belt for settlement. The following is an extract from his report:

"Most of the time was spent on the Mattagami River. Topographically, that country may be described as made up of a vast plain with very occasional abrupt elevations of considerable altitude, from the tops of which the view extends for miles on all sides over land as level as a prairie and timbered largely with black spruce. Towards the south this passes into the Rocky-Huronian belt.

"The Mattagami itself is a splendid stream ranging from four chains in width in the upper part of its course to seven or eight chains in its lower stretches. It has in general, an even, gentle current, broken in several places by rapids and waterfalls. Several among the latter—Sturgeon Falls in Mahaffy Township, Yellow Falls two or three miles below Speight's first base line, Island Falls, a mile below this, and Jump Over Falls, about three and a half miles below the mouth of the Muskeg River,—offer splendid facilities for the development of water power.

"Most of the rock exposures were encountered six or eight miles north of Niven's First Base line, and consist of various Huronian schists, with intrusive masses of diabase. In places the rocks have been disturbed, and the only economic mineral seen was located. The small vein consisted of galena, and the general make-up of the region, where the rock exposures occurred, would suggest that it might be worth prospecting. The soil in this section of the country is sandy, and is forested chiefly with fair-sized jack pine and black spruce. Hurricanes of recent years have wrought havoc with the timber, and for miles we encountered continuous windfalls.

"North of this area the country becomes level, with good soil of clay and clay loam. Black spruce rather under the average size makes up the greater part of the forest, although some fine white spruce and frequent stretches of magnificent poplar and balm of Gilead and white birch were observed. By far the best country from an agricultural point of view seen during the summer is that section lying west of the Mattagami, and between Niven's Third Base and Speight's Second Base. Here the timber is larger and the land dryer, being drained by three rather fair-sized rivers, tributaries of the Mattagami.

"Muskegs, which were met with only occasionally in the southern part of the country, became more frequent toward the north, and in the extreme north cover considerable areas. Some of these contain several feet of excellent peat, which may eventually prove valuable when the country is opened up. From the little work done on the Frederick House and Abbitibi River I would infer that these peat bogs are more abundant in that region.

"The Indian inhabitants are not very numerous, but those whom we saw seem to be prosperous, and some more industrious than others have begun to cultivate the land and raise potatoes and other vegetables."

The expedition saw traces of beaver, moose, red deer, bears, martens, etc. Wild currants, gooseberries, red raspberries, and both high and low bush cranberries, all comparable to those in Southern Ontario, were abundant. Although slight frosts occurred in the early part of the season the first of any consequence was on Sept. 26, when 9 degrees were registered.

THAT STAB-LIKE PAIN IN THE SMALL OF THE BACK COMES FROM THE KIDNEYS

AND CAN BE CURED BY

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

It is not the back that is aching, but the kidneys which are situated beneath the small of the back.

Therefore, dull pain in the back, or sharp, quick twinges, are warnings of sick kidneys—warnings of kidney trouble. Plasters and liniments will not cure a bad back, for they cannot reach the kidneys which cause it. Doan's Kidney Pills reach the kidneys. That is what they are for and that only. So, if you would be free from backache, swelling of the feet and ankles, frequent or suppressed urine, painful scanty urine urinating, specks floating before the eyes, frequent thirst, brick-dust deposit in the urine, or anything wrong with the urinary organs or bladder, you must keep your kidneys well. Help them to work freely, and help them to flush off all the body's waste and impurities.

Doan's Kidney Pills are made from the purest roots and herbs, and have a remarkable healing and toning effect on the kidneys. Mrs. Barting, 39 Locomotive Street, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I had been troubled considerably with my kidneys, using many remedies, but finding no relief. I tried Doan's Kidney Pills and found them to act directly on the kidneys, and making them strong again."

Price 50 cents per box, three boxes for $1.25, all dealers or The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

A QUAINT WARDROBE.

The Outfit of a Seventeenth Century Gentleman of Fashion.

In the year 1361 Sir Ralph Verney, aged thirty-seven and recently widowed, decided to make the "grand tour" of the continent with his son Edmund, aged fourteen. He gave a list of the clothes that were to be sent after them to Lyons. It included "6 fine night coppes laced marked V in black silke, and 3 fine night coppes plaine," for his own use, and "4 new plaine coppes marked V in blew silke" for the boy. There were also Holland shirts with lace and "New Cambrick double Ruffle Cuffes marked V. in blew thread, 6 paires of little Holland Cuffes for Man, 3 paires of Cambrick double Best-buse," and a large number of "fine Holland Handkerchiefs Buttoned." Also "2 Turkie Towells Wastcoates Lined, 2 Dimothy Wastcoates, 4 Face Napkins and 2 old Handkerchiefs and 2 paires of old Lined Stockings." At Lyons a "Blacke trunke with 2 lockes and Wooden Skarres" was packed to go to Florence and the widowed baronet's careful inventory of its contents shows that there was a great deal of the heavy mourning which the "etiquette of grief" required. "Black Cloath Doublets, Black Breeches and Cloaks, Blacke Cloath Cape for a Cloake and 2 other peeces of Black Cloath, Black Hats and Hatbands, Old Blacke Tafaty gaiters and new Black ribbon roste and severall peeces of extra crape."

Sir Ralph Verney's baggage contained no fewer than "6 serge undercoppe and 6 Browne calfeo undercoppe." These were for wearing by day when the wig was taken off. And "3 plaine new night coppe coarse and 30 Fine Peaked night coppe and 2 Night Perriwiggs." His toilet equipment included "12 Tortus shell Agendas, 2 gold Picktooths, Hair Powder, 2 Paires new Barbing Lasnes, Shars, and 3 Head-rubbers." And there were "Muske for Powder, Ciprus Powder, and a Purse." For emergencies there were a "Black Leather needle case with a great gold Bodkin, Papers of Pinns, Blew Thread, Shirt Buttons, and old White Round Buttons, Cap-strings and Tape." In the interests of health "3 papers about Phisick" and "Sir R. Hastings' plaster for a straine" were taken, but "rose water, rose vinigar and elder vinigar" were perforce left behind, though considered most necessary for his comfort for the winter.

Of precious possessions subjected to the risks of travel there were a few rings "whereof one hath 3 Diamonds like harts," two silver rings of the boy's and "a Bubble" of Mary's hair. He took to Florence as a gift to a friend there the new Paris luxury "the Tooth Brushes and Boxes," and in reply to the thanks he received for them said, "These are such inconsiderable Toyes that I must intreate you to speake no more of them."—Chicago News.

Better Than the Toothpick.

We are told that the health and prosperity of the teeth are greatly promoted by the prompt use of the toothpick immediately after eating and that this being so only a "Miss Prim" or an "Aunt Betty" would presume to object to it. We reply that if this is so the person afflicted should at once repair to the dressing room and, away from the observation of others, should relieve his teeth of their fatal burden. It is advisable, however, that he should employ for the purpose the highly hygienic dental floss. This is pronounced by all good dentists far less harmful to the teeth than the ubiquitous toothpick, which has, as we firmly believe, pushed its way into pretty well society by false pretenses and a species of blackmail.—Dude's Weekly.

First Typesetting Machine.

In answer to the query, How old are typesetting machines? the London Chronicle prints an extract from a copy of the Birmingham Herald of 1838: "Dr. Church is now at Birmingham preparing the new printing machine. The compositor has only to sit down at this curious mechanism as he would at a pianoforte, and as he strikes the keys the types all fall from the case into their proper places with a velocity that keeps pace with the most rapid speaker. The form having been worked off, the type moves into the melting pot, from which it is returned, recast into its original state without any diminution of material and thence distributed into the case quite new. One of these machines placed at the bar of the house of commons would always insure a correct report of the debate. Dr. Church, the inventor, is a native of Bolton, in New England."

A Fantastic Duty.

A fantastic duty falls, every fifth year to the lot of the mayor of St. Ives in Cornwall, England, when the bequests left by John Knill, a former collector of customs, are distributed. Accompanied by the borough mace bearers, he has to walk in procession, with ten maids dressed in white and ten old widows, to the monument known as Knill's steeple, round which, to the strains of a fiddle, he and his strangely assorted companions are required to step a measure. Then the bequests, which include £5 for the best knitter of fishing nets, and £5 for the best curer and packer of fish, are distributed. After this the trustees adjourn to dinner.

A Man of His Word.

"I've been urging that physician you recommended so highly to me."

"Ah! And you found him all that I said, reliable in every respect, eh?"

"Well, he assured me he would put me on my feet inside of two months."

"And did he do it?"

"That's what he did. I've just sold my automobile in order to pay his bill."

Cheer Up.

Get out o' the valley o' Desolation. It's only a step to the hills of Joy, where the birds are raising and the morning breaks in splendor to the music of the trumpets of God.—Atlanta Constitution.

A good baking oven is what every housewife requires in a range. Other advantages add to the usefulness of the range, but an easily regulated, perfect baking and roasting oven is an indispensable feature. It is the perfection in operation of the oven of the

that has made it such a striking success.

It is in the oven construction that the greatest difference is found between the Imperial Oxford and any other range on the market. The diffusive oven flue draws the cold air from the floor, super-heats it, and distributes it throughout the oven, keeping it at an even temperature in all parts. This flue also makes it easy to regulate the heat of the oven and secures a marked saving in fuel. If your dealer doesn't handle the Imperial Oxford, write to us direct and we will send you our catalogue and tell you where you can see the range.

The Powers' Move Against The Sultan

Germany Not to Participate in Turkish Demonstration.

KAISER HAS NO WARSHIPS

An Austrian Admiral May Command the International Demonstration, Which Will Likely Be Against a Port or an Island and a Withholding of Customs — Serious Consequences Are Not Feared.

Paris, Nov. 13.—A Russian warship now off the island of Crete and another at Piraeus, Greece, have been assigned to participate with the French ships selected, but which have not yet started in the naval demonstration against Turkey as a result of the Porte's refusal to agree to the financial reforms determined upon by the powers for Macedonia. An Austrian admiral probably will assume command of the international squadron, but this depends upon the rank of the officer Great Britain assigns to the command of her warships.

Germany, while not opposing the principle of the demonstration, says she has no available warships in the Mediterranean. This is considered to be a diplomatic move to retain German prestige in Turkey.

The demonstration will not take the form of closing the Strait of the Dardanelles, as suggested, since this would interfere with neutral commerce. The actual form will be determined upon by the admirals, but it is considered likely that the international squadron will occupy a Turkish port or an island and will withhold the customs until the Sultan accedes to the financial reforms.

The demonstrations is not expected to have serious consequences, such as disrupting the political relations of the powers with Turkey as chiefly designed to give the Sultan grounds with the Mussulman element for yielding to the demands of the Christian powers.

Great Britain in any event will join in the proposed demonstration against Turkey.

The next step will be an ultimatum in which it will be stated that in the event of a refusal by the Porte to accede to the demands of the powers, a demonstrauon immediately will be begun.

JUDGE REBUKES STUDENTS.

Denial of Right of Speech Strongly Characterized by Le Canada.

Montreal, Nov. 13.—In addressing the students of the law faculty of Laval University on the Mage incident Saturday afternoon, the dean, Hon. Judge Mathieu, said:

"As I am your friend, I can and must take the liberty to say to you things which you will find perhaps disagreeable. I regret that you, French-Canadian students, living under the protection of the British flag, should have seen fit to go and prevent a lecturer from freely expressing his views. Gentlemen, never forget this: there is a public law, in a civilized country, and one has the right to act and to speak as he pleases, provided his act and his speech do not offend the established laws. Mr. Mage had the right freely to express his view, liberty in religious matters being recognized by the law of the land. You could oppose his views with superior views, but neither error nor truth can be fought with decayed fruit and rotten eggs."

Referring to the conduct of the students, Le Canada asks: "Why deny to others the right to meet and speak? Does anyone wish to have here a gay system, which Russia is at present doing away with in floods of blood?"

SUICIDE OF A GIRL.

Agnes R. Foran Broods Over Punishment and Takes Paris Green.

Guelph, Nov. 13.—Agnes R. Foran, the eighteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Foran, living two miles from the city, committed suicide by taking a dose of Paris green on Friday evening. The girl, brooding over a severe chastisement put upon her by her father, because she scolded the smaller children, took advantage of her parents' absence from home to commit the rash deed. When found she was in a comatose state and medical assistance was called. Through a misunderstanding no physician attended the girl, who died a few hours later without medical aid. She was a strong, healthy girl, and had no love affair to prompt her except her father's chastisement. Dr. Savage, coroner, was called, but after looking into the circumstances deemed an inquest unnecessary.

Abner Nichols Busy Life Ends.

Carleton Place, Nov. 13.—Abner Nichols, for thirty-seven years a resident of Carleton Place, died Saturday, aged 70. For three years he was a councillor; five years deputy reeve, and one year reeve of the village, and for two terms mayor of the town by acclamation. He was an ex-president of the Conservative Association.

American Association of Farmers Institutes Honors Ontario Man.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—The American Association of Farmers' Institute Workers Saturday adjourned their annual session after electing officers. Its members were received at the White House by President Roosevelt and afterward at the Department of Agriculture by Secretary Wilson.

The officers elected are: C. Creelman, Ontario, president; W. W. Miller, Ohio, vice-president; John Hamilton, Department of Agriculture, secretary-treasurer; executive committee, D. J. Lee, Louisiana; W. L. Amos, Maryland, and F. H Hall, Illinois.

A King From Michigan.

Bessemer, Mich., Nov. 13.—Bessemer may furnish a ruler for the new vacant throne of Norway. Invitations have been received by Louis Munthe from one wing in the Norwegian Storthing to visit Christiania and establish his claim as a direct descendant of Haakan V., the last independent king, who died in 1319. While a student at Lund University, Mr. Munthe took a prominent part in the Danish-German war, and also on the subsequent attempt to overthrow the Danish dynasty. The failure of this attempt caused him to make a hasty departure for America. The legitimate party in the Storthing insists that the Norwegian throne shall be filled by a descendant of the native royal line.

Perjury Charge Foundationless.

Bridgewater, N. S., Nov. 13.—The charge of perjury instituted against C. E. Kaulbach, ex-M. P., Lunenburg, had its final hearing before Judge Forbes in the County Court Saturday. There was not the slightest evidence to substantiate the charge against Kaulbach, and the judge expressed regret that the matter had been brought into court.

Bit Man's Ear Off.

Sault Ste. Marie, Nov. 13.—William Jollineau, a laborer, and Robert Lang, a blacksmith, got mixed up in a barroom fight in the Windsor Hotel Saturday. Jollineau bit Lang's right ear off in one piece, almost as clean as if cut with a sharp knife.

To Butter Pans.

Too few housekeepers know how to butter pans in the most approved way. A brush is a more thorough and a much neater way of applying the butter or lard to pans. A paint brush will answer the purpose, but one of the best should be chosen, as there is then not so much danger of the bristles coming out, and it lasts much longer. After thoroughly washing the brush soak it overnight in cold water. When ready to grease the pans melt the butter or lard, dip in your brush and paint your pans. By using a brush you can go into all parts of the pan, which cannot be done when a paper is used, and the fingers should not be used. When through wash the brush thoroughly in boiling water.

First Thing in the Morning.

When you awake in the morning yawn several times. It opens the throat and starts vibrations. Stretching sets a sluggish circulation into full pace. It wakes up sleepy cells and hustles out old tissue; it keeps stiffness at bay; prevents the joints from getting bent to stay. Your arms are not easily stretched out straight, perhaps. See if they hang straight down or are a little crooked at elbow, and if they are give them a vigorous stretching and relaxing.

A Footbath in Bed.

When an invalid is lying in bed a footbath may be given under the bedclothes and often proves soothing and will even induce sleep when other remedies prove of no avail. The patient, lying on the back, bends the knees up, and the feet are then immersed in the footbath up to the ankles. To dry them a towel is held above the footbath, and the feet are received in its folds while the bath is withdrawn.

WILFRID WILLIS SHOT.

Aurora Boy Meets Death While Hunting on Saturday.

Aurora, Nov. 13.—As the result of a shot from a rifle in the hands of a boy companion, Wilfrid Willis, aged 12, is dead.

The shooting occurred about 5 o'clock on Saturday afternoon when Austin Ratcliffe, aged 16, and young Willis, were returning from a shooting expedition in the woods, a little north of Aurora. While passing through some thick brambles Ratcliffe, who was behind with the little 22 calibre rifle, tripped over a stick. The gun exploded, and the shot struck Willis.

Ratcliffe scrambled to his feet and ran for help to the nearest farm house. It was some time before he could get back, as he had not noted the position of the woods where the accident occurred. He, just in company with the farmer Ratcliffe found the wounded boy, who was hardly able to speak, much less to make any discovery. He was placed in the farmer's wagon and taken to the town, where he passed away about 10 o'clock.

The Germans said that they were spies, but they were captured with the natives with whom we have been fighting, and some of the children could not have been older than five years.

Are you now convinced that Red Rose Tea "Is Good Tea?"

I have made an honest effort to convince you that Red Rose Tea is good tea.

I have shown you in these talks that Red Rose Tea combines the good qualities of rich, strong Northern Indian tea with the delicate fragrance of Ceylon tea.

That by this combination of two good teas, Red Rose Tea is better than either—with a "rich fruity flavor" exclusively its own.

I have told you why it is always uniform in flavor and strength, of its selection at the gardens, how it is tested and blended—I have tried to tell you all about Red Rose Tea and why it is good tea.

I want you to try Red Rose Tea because I want you for a permanent customer. I know if you once try it, you will use only Red Rose Tea.

The price of half a pound of Red Rose Tea is small—that small investment may show you how much tea value, tea quality and flavor you have missed. Is it not worth trying?

FREE SAMPLE—We will send a large sample of Red Rose Tea, by post, free, if you will write and tell us the priced tea you are now using, and whether black or green.

PANIC-STRICKEN WARSAW.

Jews Barricade Houses in Constant Fear of Attack.

Warsaw, Nov. 13.—The proclamation of martial law in all of ten Governments of Russian Poland has caused surprise and exasperation here, and there are apprehensions that it will provoke disturbances worse than those that have already taken place.

The city is panic-stricken. There are persistent rumors of the organization of anti-Jewish riots, and the houses of Jews are barricaded and watched day and night. The Jews are arming themselves with knives, revolvers and rifles.

INSPECTED THE BAVARIAN.

Mr. Prefontaine Says She Will Be Floated—Blames the Pilot.

Montreal, Nov. 13.—Hon. Mr. Prefontaine, who returned from Grosse Isle yesterday morning, is of the opinion that the Allan Liner Bavarian will be got off before the end of the week, and he has not changed his opinion as to the full responsibility of the pilot in the matter.

Although he does not wish to prejudice the public, he declares that the case is as plain as noon-day. La Canadienne, the Government steamer, passed down only half an hour before the Bavarian, which, as a matter of fact, was over a mile out of her course, and that without any explanation.

He declared that perhaps the vice-admiralty enquiry would have to take a very wide scope, but the whole truth would have to be ascertained. The Bavarian's position is not as bad as that of the Victorian when the latter grounded above Quebec.

A Young Bride Was Lured To Insane Asylum

Mrs. Deane-Reid, New York, Tells How She Was Enticed to Enter The Bloomingdale Asylum — Detained There Forcibly—A Horrible Tale of Persecution Unfolded—Prepared to Take Her Life in Preference to Re-entering the Asylum.

ACCUSES WIFE OF ONE OF BROTHERS

The New York World says: A beautiful girl of twenty-two, her luminous brown eyes revealing alternately despair, hope, defiance and sorrow, unfolded yesterday afternoon in the County Court at White Plains, an amazing story for which society at Mamaroneck, Scarsboro and other favoured suburban towns thereabouts, have waited with the keenest expectancy.

The girl was Sarah Delano Deane-Reid. She was married in this city on October 25. The following day she drove to the Mamaroneck station with her husband. Her three brothers, the "big Delanos of Westchester," according to her story, set upon and beat her husband, and then hurried her away to Bloomingdale Asylum for the insane. Her face was burned by carbolic acid, with which it is alleged she attempted to take her own life.

Questioned as to this attempt on her life as she was entering the grounds of Bloomingdale Asylum, and her present frame of mind, the girl answered with apparent deliberation:

"I would rather be dead than be sent back to the asylum. I would take my life rather than go back. I have fought for my mind even at the risk of my life, and death is better than a lunatic's cell."

Here Mrs. Deane-Reid stoked for breath. The pallor of her face showed dead white around the flaming scars. She well knew that much depended upon her testimony whether or no Judge Platt would grant the petition of her husband that she be liberated from Bloomingdale and freed from the control of her brothers.

She turned her eyes from Judge Platt to her counsel, J. M. Digney. At the latter's table sat Henry T. Dykeman, attorney for the Delano brothers, and further back Supt. Lyons, of Bloomingdale, and half a dozen witnesses.

Mrs. Reid on the Stand.

There was a brief legal skirmish before Mrs. Deane-Reid received word that she could appear in the court room. She fastened an instant at the door to the Judge's chambers, then walked briskly to the witness chair. Dignity and grace marked her carriage. Her girlish figure was gowned becomingly in dark green-plaid skirt, brown waist and turban hat of brown, studded with green velvet ribbon. Smart patent leather boots showed beneath the walking skirt. Her left hand was ungloved, displaying the gold wedding band circling her finger.

"I am twenty-two years old, and I have never before been in a court room," were her first words.

She looks no older than she said. Abundant brown hair hung low on her forehead. Her features are regular and beautiful. The eyes, set widely; the full lips and strong, but perfectly moulded chin indicated strength of character and intelligence.

She told briefly of her childhood in Stamford, Conn., of her three brothers, Victor, Clarence and Frederick; how she had made her home with one or the other since her mother's death when she was a child. She was graduated from Mrs. Hazen's school in Pelham Manor on June 4, 1902, and for the following two years lived with Victor Delano.

A rich man died the other day. He died in the very midsummer of life, and he left his family $1,000,000. The doctor's certificate showed that death resulted from typhoid fever. The doctor himself said to a friend: "That man was a suicide. He had a splendid constitution. could have pulled him through if his stomach had been sound. But he ruined his stomach by hasty meals, snatched in intervals of business and by neglect of symptoms which have been warning him a year past, that his stomach was failing in its duties."

The symptoms of a disordered stomach are, among others, variable appetite, sour risings, heartburn, undue fullness after eating, dull headache, dingy complexion, disordered eye, fluctuations in physical strength, nervousness, sleeplessness, despondency. No person will have all these symptoms at once.

The restoration of the stomach to normal health begins with the first dose of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The cure progresses until the functions of the stomach are in healthy operation. Then the nerves are quiet and strong, the appetite healthful, the sleep restful, the eye bright, the complexion clear.

"Please accept my thanks for the benefit which my child received from your medicine," writes Mrs. W. A. Hogrey, of Jonesville, "He had been troubled for nearly a year with liver complaint, indigestion and constipation. I gave him your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' and they did him great good. I gave him one 'Discovery,' pellet right after meals, and several vials of the 'Pellets.' He seems to be perfectly well now."

Those ORIGINAL Little Liver Pills, first put up by old Dr. Pierce, have been imitated, but never equaled. They're made of purely vegetable concentrates and relieve gastronomic irritation directly from native American roots and plants. They promptly relieve sick headache and dyspepsia, biliousness, Liver and Bowels and their attendant distressful ailments. One or two a laxative dose, four a cathartic.

This Man Was Tangled Up

The Dire Plight of a Native of Finland.

Constable Adams arrested a man on Sunday that certainly didn't know where he was at. He was sitting on a trunk when the officer arrived at the G. T. R. station to take him into custody, and not being able to speak a word of English, was unable to give any account of himself. This morning every means of communicating with him proved of no avail. The police were of the opinion at first that he was from Brockville, and had gone crazy over the result of the game, as he was heard to mutter inarticulate sounds something like "seventeenoleven." He went down on his knees and did everything else to make himself understood. The police decided to liberate him as he was not drunk or disorderly, but simply nonplussed. When officer Adams showed him to the door the hitherto deepsiirng look vanished from his face, and he shook hands and took off his hat in acknowledgment of his liberator. He was trying to obtain employment at the Dickson Company's office at noon, and made gesticulations to show that he wanted to saw and chop wood. The clerk stated to the Examiner that he would probably be accommodated, and he may go back to the woods with a gang of men who are leaving tomorrow.

MONTREAL SUNDAYLESS.

Police Chief Will Allow Business "Wide-Open" Privileges.

Montreal, Nov. 14.—Chief of Police Campau stated yesterday morning that he had instructed his men to take absolutely no notice of Sunday openings in Montreal, that any stores, shops or theatres could keep open on Sunday without police interference.

He said he had taken this step in view of the decision of the police committee that the province had no power to enact Sunday closing laws. Therefore, in the interim, until the point is settled, Montreal may be pretty wide open on Sundays, although, as it is now, the opening of very many places of business is connived at on Sunday.

He pleaded guilty and Judge McMahon, in giving sentence, said he believed the boy's story that he took the securities as an object lesson to Wall street of the ease with which such thefts might be made.

Farmers Make Strong Demand For Better Tariff Treatment.

START WITH THEMSELVES

Would Forego Protection on Their Own Products—Want British Preference Maintained — Vegetable Growers Ask for More Protection—What Manufacturers, Who Were Heard, Ask of Tariff Commission.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—The great, silent mass of consumers populating the rural sections of Ontario found voice before the Tariff Commission yesterday, and the first day in this stronghold of protection was almost entirely occupied by their demand that if the tariff be changed at all the tendency should be downward. The representatives of the Farmers' Association for Ontario and the Dominion Grange set the illustrious example of offering to forego the protection on their own products if similar treatment was accorded to other industries. This spirit of self-sacrifice rather surprised the Ministers, but their various efforts to probe the earnestness of the farmers failed to weaken their determination. Many arguments were presented to show that the farmers are discriminated against. One delegate went so far as to hint at the desirability of reciprocity with the United States. There was a general desire that the British preference be maintained. A delegation of vegetable growers asked for more protection and various manufacturers made minor requests.

The commissioners attended in force, there being present: Hon. W. S. Fielding, chairman; Sir Richard Cartwright, Hon. Wm. Paterson, Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Hon. Sydney Fisher, and the secretary, Mr. John Bain. The meeting was held in the council room of the Board of Trade. These were the requests made in brief:

By the Farmers.

A considerable lowering of the minimum tariff.

A substantial preference to send farm produce to England.

By Vegetable Growers.

The vegetable growers desire a protective duty on stuffs from the States.

By the Manufacturers.

Manufacturers of baby carriages want relief from the duty on reeds and other materials not made in Canada.

The soap manufacturers seek relief from the toll on cotton seed oil.

Men's clothing manufacturers object to any advance on the duty on British woolens.

Wicker basket manufacturers want protection against outside goods, and allege that foreign baskets are prison made.

Lithographers ask for better discrimination on articles that are dutiable.

It is expected that the Dominion insurance act will be revised at the forthcoming session of parliament.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

East Emily Cheese Factory Oyster Supper

A Delightful Evening Was Spent There on Monday—The Annual Social Gathering in Connection With This Factory Was a Great Success—Mr. N. G. Somerville, of Brockville, Addressed the Meeting on the Dairy Industry.

A NUMBER PRESENT FROM PETERBOROUGH

An entertainment and oyster supper under the auspices of the East Emily Cheese Factory was held on Wednesday, November 8th. Over 300 persons were present, among the number being Mr. G. A. Gillespie, of Peterborough.

Mr. W. Switzer, the chairman, in his address spoke of the success of the factory since it started. He was proud to say that their cheese had gone forward at top prices all summer. He gave credit to Mr. Warde, the cheesemaker, for his good work and excellent management and asked the patrons to co-operate with Mr. Warde in supplying the milk in best condition. He was satisfied that with united effort East Emily Cheese Factory would continue to go on and prosper. He announced that he had a very interesting programme to run off and hoped all would enjoy themselves during the evening.

Mr. N. G. Somerville, Superintendent of Brockville Cool Curing Room, also addressed the meeting. Mr. Somerville was in this section last fall and delivered addresses at all the annual factory meetings, and East Emily repeated the invitation to Mr. Somerville to be present again this year. He said he was glad to be present and that the patrons and their wives were to be congratulated upon the excellent supper provided and also upon the success of the evening, there being several in attendance from adjoining factories. Mr. Somerville also spoke of the success of the cheese season which was now closing, was a very satisfactory one and claimed that the sales of butter and cheese totalled up the large amount of $30,000,000. The carrying on and developing of this great industry should be a question of paramount importance to every dairy farmer and he believed it was. In Ontario we have 126 million acres of land, only 14 millions of which has yet been surveyed. We have in Ontario the territory and resources capable of supporting many millions of people and of being developed into a great nation. We are just on the fringe of what this great nation is destined to be.

Fathers and mothers give your sons and daughters good education and encourage them to remain on the farm. We want the brightest boys we have, for a man to be a successful farmer must be a man of intelligence, tact and good judgment. Farming is one of the most independent occupations in which we can engage. The overcrowding of professional life is one of the problems of the day.

It will be admitted that farming is not overcrowded and that farm products are in good demand and the prices are on a whole remunerative. It seems to me in view of these facts that there is too much inclination on the part of some farmers' sons to leave the farm and venture upon city life without thinking of the result. We would assert that feeling of disquiet which keeps so large a number of our rural population perpetually longing for new fields of enterprise. We would have them settled at least a portion of them, upon the farm and lead all their energies to the improvement and adornment of their home. The moral quality which farm life tends to foster, Independence, finds there a grander growth than in any other pursuit. A farmer, if he is a wise husbandman, looks to permanent occupation of the soil. It may be the old homestead, the place where his eyes first saw the light, the scenes of his childish sports endeared to him by all the precious memories of father and mother. What son of the farm, whether will upon the farm or struggling for wealth in the fierce competition of the cities, or battling with the waves for his bread was not the dear old spot enshrined upon his heart, a place of mightly pilgrimages in his dreams. Blessed is the man who has such a country home, however humble, around which all the friends of his youth and childhood cluster where every tree and shrub is a keep-sake of loved ones now scattered over the whole earth or gone home to the better land. Farm life is not only one of the best schools of physical and moral training, in youth but one of the strongest bonds of virtue in after life. In the age of homespun the farm not only fed but clothed its tenants; they drew almost everything they needed out of the bosom of the soil and now that the arts have made an exchange of products so economical to the farmer, he by no means scatters away his independence. He can, if necessity require it, go back again to wearing homespun and make the farm his kingdom and other men his vassals. I would sincerely favour country placed having public lectures, literary societies and church entertainments. Let a young man be given a place in a debate and we find him seeking information in every direction and knowledge gained in this way and used in debate is lasting. Not only the information gained in preparation but the art of public speaking is something that every young man should cultivate. A young man who can find recreation and companionship in books will not be apt to get into bad company. Boys should have ideals set before them in life. It is said that every young man in the United States starts out with the idea that some day he may be President. It would not be a bad idea if some of our young men would start out with the idea that some day they might be Minister of Agriculture. There is no royal road to learning. The heights by great men reached and kept, were not attained by sudden flight, but they while their companions slept were toiling onward in the night.

The dairying is one of the leading branches of agriculture the speaker asked for the hearty co-operation of all the dairymen in the Peterborough section. What we want is more co-operation, more enthusiasm and cohesion, by every patron of cheese factories putting forth an honest effort to supply his factory with milk of the very best quality and then employ competent men to manufacture it into cheese, there is no doubt but what we can still continue to hold our place on the foreign market against all competitors. Mr. Somerville spoke at some length on the best methods of caring for milk and also the benefits to be derived from the cool curing of cheese.

Deers, Bear And Honey Were the Spoils

Remarkable Result of an Early Morning Hunt.

Thrilling Experience Near Stony Lake of Mr. Walter Crowe.

Two large bucks, a 500-lb. bear and three pails of honey were the aggregate result at 9 o'clock on Thursday last, the day upon which Mr. Walter Crowe "a-hunting went."

Like a gentleman referred to in Saturday's Examiner, Mr. Crowe was a "lone hunter," the scene of his exploit being a point known as the "Four Mile Meadows," situated near the head of Stony Lake, and upon the opposite side from Crowe's Landing.

Starting out at an early hour, Mr. Crowe's first encounter was with a buck of huge proportions, which was quickly despatched, and the performance was shortly afterwards duplicated, the combined weight of the two antlered monarchs being over five hundred pounds.

But the exciting feature of the hunt was still to follow, and it materialized within the next few minutes, when the hunter observed a huge black bear some distance up a hollow tree. Becoming alarmed at Mr. Crowe's approach, the huge animal quickly descended, and, with jaws open, and with a most menacing attitude, advanced towards him. When within a distance of twenty yards, the plucky hunter, carefully awaiting his chance, laid the monster low with a shot which, entering behind the ear, penetrated its brain.

The animal was found to tip the scales at over five hundred pounds, and measured from tip to tip eight feet and three inches. The skin alone is valued at over $60, it being a most handsome specimen.

The booty secured in the morning's hunt did not end here, however, for an examination of the tree trunk upon which Mr. Ursus Americanus was doing his "mid-air" stunt when first sighted, disclosed the fact that within was a large quantity of honey, from which three pails were later secured by the hunter.

Mr. Crowe is naturally much elated over the phenomenal success attending his morning's quest, and it is doubtful if the present season will bring forth anything more startling in the way of hunting exploits.

WHY HE WAS NOT PROMOTED

He watched the clock.
He was always grumbling.
He was always behindhand.
He had no iron in his blood.
He was willing, but unfitted.
He didn't believe in himself.
He asked too many questions.
He was stung by a bad book.
His stock excuse was "I forgot."
He wasn't ready for his next step.
He did not put his heart in his work.
He learned nothing from his blunders.
He felt that he was above his position.
He chose his friends among his inferiors.
He was content to be a second-rate man.
He ruined his ability by half-doing things.
He never dared to act on his own judgment.
He did not think it worth while to learn how.
He tried to make "bluff" take the place of ability.
He thought he must take amusement every evening.
Familiarity with slipshod methods paralyzed his ideal.
He thought that it was clever to use coarse and profane language.
He was ashamed of his parents, because they were old fashioned.
He imitated the habits of men who could stand more than he could.
He did not learn that the best part of his salary was not in his pay-envelope.

Funeral of Late Archdeacon Allen, Tuesday

Venerable Gentleman Was Laid to Rest Yesterday—Funeral Was the Most Largely Attended Ever Seen in Millbrook—Clergy Present From All Parts of Archdeaconry—Archdeacon of York Represented Bishop.

MEMORY OF BELOVED ARCHDEACON REVERED

All Millbrook was in mourning yesterday; the flags at the town hall and other buildings were at half mast, the window blinds were drawn, and the stores closed, while a large concourse of people paid their last respects to the beloved rector of the Parish of Cavan, the Venerable Archdeacon Allen.

At 1.30 p.m. the burial service began at St. Thomas' Church. The altar, prayer desks and pulpit were draped in black, as was also the Archdeacon's seat in the sanctuary. The body had been taken to the church in the morning, to lie in state, and a large number of people had a last look at the departed. A beautiful oak casket contained the remains, which were robed in a white surplice and stole. As the solemn strains of Chopin's "Dead March" pealed forth from the organ, the clergy, robed in their vestments, entered the church in procession. The Bishop of Toronto was represented by the Venerable Archdeacon of York, Dr. Langtry. The others were: Rev. Messrs. J. P. Lewis, M.A., John Fairncomb, M.A., and F. J. Lynch, from Toronto; J. C. Davidson, M. A., Wm. Major, and E. A. Laugfeldt, M. A., from Peterborough; George Warren, M.A., Lakefield; A. J. Fiddler, M.A., Colborne; E. Daniel, M. A., Port Hope; J. H. Taney, Omemee; E. W. Pickford, Norwood; A. B. Chaffee, B.A., Coboconk; W. J. Creighton, M.A., Bobcaygeon; C. H. Marsh, Lindsay; J. Scott Howard, Newcastle; W. J. Summerhayes, Gore's Landing, and E. E. Spencer, curate at Millbrook.

Rev. Rural Dean Creighton and Rev. Rural Dean Davidson read the solemn burial service. The hymns sung were: "The Strife is O'er, the Battle Done," "Now the Labourer's Task is O'er," "For all the Saints, who from Their Labours Rest."

Venerable Archdeacon Langtry closed the service with prayers, and the Benediction. As the clergy and the bearers with the remains passed out of the church, the congregation sang, "Lord, Now Lettest Thou Thy Servant Depart in Peace."

St. Thomas' church was filled with a large congregation of parishioners and friends of the departed clergyman; many were not able to gain admission for lack of room. The sons of the late Archdeacon were the bearers, who carried the coffin on their shoulders. Interment took place at St. John's cemetery, Cavan, in the family plot, Rev. C. H. Marsh, of Lindsay, officiating at the grave. About two hundred carriages were in the procession to the cemetery.

George Street Girls' Guild

Last night the Girl's Guild of George street church held a meeting which was attended by a fairly large representation of members. The president, Miss Ackerman, presided and a profitable evening was spent.

The question of a programme for the meetings of the winter was discussed, and it was decided to take up the study of some book, reading one chapter at each meeting.

The Transparent Covers Barred

A circular letter has been addressed to postmasters by the Deputy Postmaster-General, forbidding the transmission of envelopes having the address on the enclosure in a transparent cover. The reason assigned is the delay caused in sorting. The British post office was the first to raise the objection.

Merrell and Meredith's Big Reduction Sale

This Progressive Clothing and Men's Furnishing Store Announces a Sacrifice Sale $50,000 Worth of Goods to be Sold—A Genuine Bargain Offering—Big Sale Opened This Morning—An Opportunity to Buy Right.

ENTERPRISING FIRM MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT

It's a hummer—that is Merrell & Meredith's over-stock clearing sale of suits, overcoats, gentlemen's furnishings, hats caps, etc., etc. This sale began this morning and as remarked its a hummer, and the hum must be kept up if low prices for first-class goods will effect the clearance that is absolutely necessary.

Why, necessary? Because, the weather clerk has failed to furnish the cold period that would warrant the purchase of $50,000 worth of winter clothing which must be reduced in volume.

The goods must go, and the prices have been cut so low as to provide a temptation to buy, which human nature, which dearly loves a bargain cannot resist.

The swing of the Twentieth century is in this sale, because in the first place Merrell & Meredith carry an immense and splendidly selected stock of "Twentieth Century" clothing which is as much ahead of other brands as the twentieth century is ahead of the eighteenth; and in the second place, there is too much of a good thing in the way of too much stock for the season, and, in line, with modern business methods the shelves must be lightened.

To prove that this is a bona fide clearing sale—that this firm is doing all that it advertises, the public to a man is cordially invited to come and see for himself. He is invited to examine for himself and convince himself of the all-woolness and yard-wideness of the great bargains offered. The visitor finds and will find all goods plainly marked, so that the tremendous reductions in price are to be seen at a glance—the white ticket shows the real value price and the attached red ticket, the reduced selling, the reduced clearing, the reduced going price.

The public is, just now particularly, invited to visit their store which for the past twenty years has been the source of deluge of clothing bargains—the centre of the best and cheapest clothing ever sold in the Midland district. But of all the bargain chances ever given at 375-377 George street the present sale of Merrell & Meredith is the greatest. Never such an immense, such a varied, such a first-class stock, offered to the public at such sweeping sacrifice prices. This is a money-making reduction sale in a double sense. Merrell & Meredith make money by converting merchandise into cash by means of reductions in price for the best ready-to-wear clothing on the market to-day. The public make money—in their own way—that is make money go further—buy more and buy better clothing than a dollar has ever been known to do in Peterborough.

Merrell & Meredith invite and stock—its in the way. Now they want to put it in your way—in the way of bargains, in the way of reductions in price unique in the history of the clothing trade in Central Ontario.

Merrell and Meredith invite and urge the public to come and see their stock, to examine it thoroughly, to note its value and then note the reduced prices—prices fixed without regard to value—prices fixed with one sole object—to make the goods go and they are going with a rush — they must go; for flesh and blood can't resist the price temptations, the gilt values, the glorious bargains, the gilt-edge goods represented by Merrell & Meredith's over stock sacrifice, twentieth century bargain sale of Twentieth Century clothing.

Come and see us, come and see.

"Wont we be asked to buy?"

No—goods and prices do the selling—That's the reason why.

Citizens Are Paying Their Taxes Promptly

Mr. Green, the Collector, States That Not More Than $8,000 Will Remain Unpaid To-night—To-day is the Last Day of Grace—The Showing This Year is Better Than That of 1904—A Good Sign.

RATEPAYERS PAY BILLS SATISFACTORILY

To-day is the last day of grace for tax-payers, and Mr. W. J. Green, the collector, has been a busy man during the last few days. He started to-day that the money had been coming in very well, and that he believed there would not be more than $8,000 remaining unpaid at the close of the day. There was about the same amount last year and in view of the fact that the amount on the roll this year is considerably larger than that of last year, the showing is better than it was in 1904.

While, in all probability the statement which the collector will present to the council will show a larger sum than $8,000 unpaid, it must be remembered that there were about $2,000 rebated on the taxes paid by August 1st, and the council has remitted about $2,000, both of which amounts are counted in the balance. This year the money has come in very well, an indication of the fact that the people are pretty well fixed financially.

A SPECIAL CENSUS HAS BEEN SUGGESTED; MANY DISAPPOINTED

Many Expressions of disappointment at the figures of the assessors with reference to the population of the city are heard daily on the streets. That the increase in population has been only 216 seems incredible to most people who have witnessed the growth and development in nearly every line within the last year. A suggestion was made this morning that a special census be taken so as to get more nearly at the correct number. The suggestion may find its way as far as the City Council.

Judgment Was Delivered BY JUSTICE STREET IN McWilliams-Dickson Cases

In the First Case the Former Lost--Case Dismissed With Costs--The Second Case is in Doubt--Both Parties Claim They Have Won--Some Parts Referred to a Referee--Full Text of Judgment Not Yet Received.

To-day judgment was given in the two cases tried here at the Assizes, upon which the greatest interest was centred, viz., those of McWilliams vs. Dickson Company. The Globe of to-day, gave the judgment as follows:—

McWilliams vs. Dickson Company.—Judgment (R) in action tried without a jury at Peterborough. Action to replevy a quantity of basswood, ash, elm, maple, cedar, hemlock and other sawlogs cut by defendants upon lot 18 in the fifth concession of Cavendish, and removed by them to Burleigh Falls, on Stony Lake. Held, that plaintiff had failed to make out a right to the logs in question. Action dismissed with costs. A. B. Aylesworth, K.C. and R. F. McWilliams (Peterborough) for plaintiff. G. H. Watson, K. C. and G. M. Roger (Peterborough) for defendants.

McWilliams vs. Dickson Company, (No. 2).—Judgment (R) in action tried without a jury at Peterborough. Action to recover the value of certain logs claimed by plaintiff, which were taken away and converted by defendants. The logs in question were cut by plaintiff during the winter of 1903-04 upon lots 18 to 23 in the fourth concession, and lots 19 to 23 in the third concession of Cavendish. Held, that plaintiff is entitled to recover the value of the timber cut upon certain of the lots, excepting the pine timber, which goes to defendants. Referee directed to ascertain the amount (if any) to which plaintiff is entitled in respect of the timber in question. The inquiry must be based upon the provisions of the consent order of May 26th, 1904, declaration that logs cut upon the different lots were mixed together in one mass by plaintiff after they were cut, so that it became impossible to separate them. If the parties are unable to agree upon a referee, counsel will be heard upon the subject. Costs of action and reference reserved until after finding of referee. Same counsel as in the previous case.

The first case, it will be seen, has been decided against Mr. McWilliams, and in the second it is very difficult to understand at first glance the effect of the judgment. Both parties admit that it is vague, but both claim that they have gained a number of points. Mr. McWilliams states that he is satisfied with the judge's finding in the second case, while the counsel for the Dickson Company claims the plaintiff, Mr. McWilliams, is farther behind than he was before. Mr. Bennet, of the firm of Rogers and Bennet, states that the effect of the judgment is that the plaintiff is not entitled to the lands at present. He is, however, entitled to some of the timber on certain lots, while the Crown is entitled to certain lots to which the plaintiff did not show titles. The plaintiff is entitled to reference to establish the amount, if any, to which he is entitled in respect to the trouble in question.

The defendants state that in the payment made to the plaintiff on April 12 of $5,957.93, they paid more than the latter was entitled to by the order of Justice Falconbridge, to which the parties consented. The order was on the basis of 20 per cent. of the timber and $4.30 per thousand for cutting, while they actually paid $4.50 per thousand for cutting, and on the basis of 25 per cent. of the timber. The defendants therefore claim that they are not asking anything to which they have no claim, when they object to paying the $3,000 claimed by the plaintiff.

Chief Bond Was Drowned In Haliburton

Port Hope Guardian of the Peace, With Sister-in-Law, Met Death—Was in the North on a Hunting Trip—The Circumstances Not Yet Known--Deceased Was Well Known Here—Clever Chief of Police.

ANOTHER HUNTING FATALITY REPORTED

Port Hope, November 14.—A telegram was received here to-night by an undertaker, telling him to send coffins to Haliburton for the bodies of William Armstrong Bond and Miss Georgie Grice, who are drowned. Bond was Port Hope's Chief Constable, and Miss Grice was his sister-in-law.

The telegram came from Mrs. Lillie Bond, who, with her husband, her little daughter, and Miss Grice, her sister, left last week on a hunting trip to Haliburton. Miss Grice's home is in Toronto, and Chief Bond came from Toronto, where he was on the police force.

News of the death of Chief Bond, of Port Hope, was received with great regret by the Toronto police force last night. For five years prior to July 7, 1904, when he went to Port Hope, he was attached to No. 3 division, and was very popular with his comrades. After leaving Toronto he achieved notoriety by getting the first information leading to the solution of the Maxtin murder case. He was a native of Boston. Chief Bond was a son of Mrs. Elias Bond, of Queensville, and leaves, besides his wife and one child, five brothers and two sisters.

Miss Georgie Grice, his sister-in-law, who was also drowned, was a daughter of Mrs. Lavina Grice, of 211 Ontario street. She was formerly a stenographer in the J. D. King shoe warehouse, and lived at the home of her sister, Mrs. Bond, both here and in Port Hope. She was but 21 years old, and was well known in the vicinity of Aurora.

This morning Mr. Alf. George, of Port Hope, passed through this city on his way to Haliburton to bring back the bodies of the two persons who were drowned.

City Engineer Gives Opinion On Opera House

Says the Building is Constructed in Perfect Conformity With the Building By-law—Fire Escapes Are Equal to Any Demands Which May be Made Upon Them—As Good as Any Mr. Hay Ever Saw.

SHOULD REASSURE ALL THE CITIZENS

To set at rest fears to confirm the fears which have been expressed by some timid persons as to the condition of the opera house, the Examiner interviewed Mr. T. A. E. Hay, the city engineer to-day on the question of the stability of the new structure. As building inspector for the city, Mr. Hay has inspected the work as it has progressed, visiting the building two or three times a week for this purpose. He was also there this morning to make a final inspection of the fire escapes, and he stated that he had found them properly erected and sufficiently strong to carry any weight which might be placed on them. He considers that the facilities for emptying the opera house quickly, should occasion demand it, are excellent, and that they are equal in every respect to any he had ever seen any place. In his opinion the exits are such that within three-quarters of a minute the entire house could be emptied, if those inside kept their heads.

As to the construction of the building, he said that it was of a substantial character, the outside walls to the top being of a thickness of 14 inches, as the building bylaw provides.

The construction of the galleries is such that they help to bind the walls together, and there is no weight which could be placed on them which would affect them. The bottom floor rests on the ground, and the galleries are supported by steel columns. The building, as far as stability and safety are concerned is, according to the city engineer, equal to all the ordinary requirements, and as good as any house of a similar kind that he has ever seen.

Coming from such an authority as this, it should satisfy anyone who previously entertained any fears.

Woman Was Wounded In Italian Settlement

Mrs. Harrington Shot in the Forearm, Bullet Entering Thigh--Claims to Have Accidentally Discharged the Revolver Herself--This Story Not Probable--Wounded Woman Now in St. Joseph's Hospital.

At about four o'clock yesterday afternoon a woman, Mrs. Harrington by name, was shot first through the fleshy part of the forearm, the bullet then glancing off and penetrating the thigh. The injured woman claims to be responsible, herself, for the wounding, which she says was accidental, and says that she pulled the trigger of the revolver, but the Examiner was informed by Dr. McNulty, the attending physician, that in his opinion such was not the case, as the bullet entered the arm from the outer side. The injured woman was taken to the hospital and it is impossible to yet ascertain the seriousness of her injuries. Her husband, who was in Toronto, was sent for at once.

Mrs. Harrington was wounded at a residence of the Italian settlement, next door to the Montreal House, at which place she resided. She is now in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Opera House Tickets Returned To Owner

Two proofs were furnished yesterday of the value of want ads. in the Examiner. On Monday an advertiser placed a notice in this paper asking for the return of a baby's head shawl which was lost, and yesterday afternoon the missing article was returned to this office.

A more remarkable circumstance than that even, is recorded.

Yesterday's edition of the Examiner contained the following ad.:

LOST — BETWEEN FRIDAY NIGHT night and Sunday, presumably on the street, 2 tickets for the "Yankee Consul" to-morrow night in the Opera House. The tickets were Nos. 1 and 3, Row R, Parquette. The finder will kindly leave at this office.

Before 6 o'clock the identical tickets were brought to this office and were given to the gentleman who had lost them, much to his delight. They were found on Saturday morning near Mitchell's barber shop, Hunter street, by a boy, and that he returned them so promptly after they were advertised for is a tribute to his honesty, because of all the things a boy likes, there is perhaps nothing so dear to him as a free ticket to a circus or a show.

Needless to say, he was rewarded suitably. These are but examples of what occurs nearly every day, and go to prove the truth of the statement that the want ad. columns of the Examiner is a money-maker.

Traffic Manager Says Judgment Benefit Farmers

Mr. T. F. Richards, Tariff Manager, of the American Cereal Company, is in the city to-day on his way to his home in Chicago.

Mr. Richards when seen this morning by the Examiner stated that nothing of immediate local significance attached to his present visit, in the nature of a look-in in passing.

Asked as to any recent developments with regard to the question of the equalization of freight rates regarding which a decision was given in August last by the Railway Commission at Ottawa, he stated that no further action in the way of a second appeal was at present considered. The railways, however, have entered an appeal, which may be argued. The decision of the railway commission, affected the position of the Cereal Company very slightly, and detrimentally rather than otherwise. It would, however, be of a very considerable advantage to farmers.

Speaking generally with regard to the local business, Mr. Richards was most enthusiastic with regard to the prospects of its continued expansion. The Trent Canal, he regards as a great, progressive and positively necessary public work and its completion would be attended by results the benefit of which can scarcely yet be fully comprehended.

Used Telephone Switch to Trap Her Husband

A Philadelphia Woman Tells How She Secured Evidence For $10,000.00 Judgment Against Her Rival—Girl Influenced Her Husband Against His Will—A Former Shop Girl—Alienates Rich Husband's Affections.

INTERESTING CASE OF DOMESTIC INFELICITY

Philadelphia, Nov. 14.—Mrs. Catherine B. T. Dunham, prominent society woman of West Philadelphia, who obtained a judgment for $10,000 for alienation of her husband, Howard Dunham, a wealthy stock broker, against the former shop girl, Winnie McMichael, has at last broken the silence maintained upon request of her lawyers, and told of the attachment that has wrecked the Dunham home for seven years.

The $10,000 judgment against Winnie McMichael was obtained without Mrs. Dunham's testimony, she being barred as a witness because still legally married to Dunham. The suit has been appealed.

"Things are going on just as they did before the verdict," said Mrs. Dunham to-day. "I am truly sorry for my husband. He is under a spell, and I verily believe he cannot help himself. For several years after he first felt this fascination he used to come to me and declare he would never go with the girl again. In my presence he telephoned her never to come to his office or to his home again. He even gave me a letter to mail and it said:

"Hereafter I do not know you and forbid you to ever recognize me again. Your influence is bad, and that we ever met is unfortunate.

"I warned her and urged my husband to have nothing to do with her. Every time he promised. Once, in a burst of remorseful confidence, he told me the whole truth. But even after that he went back. From the bottom of my heart I sympathize with him, for man is weak, and he is a weak man. After all the trial and all the disgrace and all the exposure, I am informed that they still meet.

"I have studied this case as only a heartbroken wife could study such a matter. How did I learn the truth first? I forget, whether from his admissions or from hearing her own words spoken over the telephone. I had an arrangement so that when she called him up I was put on the wire. Time and again I listened to her talk to him and heard insinuating remarks that I wish in my heart I could forget."

Mrs. Dunham told of finding a letter from Winnie McMichael in her husband's pocket in 1898, and of her going to the girl's mother and warning her that her daughter was going with a married man.

"I admit that after that I hounded them. I did it to save my husband. His best friends went back on him. Even his brothers denounced him and would not speak to him on the street. I wrote letter after letter to her and to her mother. I went to the priest and got him to intercede. But in spite of all, the attachment continued, and although my husband promised and promised, he could not break away.

"Her mother came to my house to see me. 'Is this your house?' she said. I told her it was. Then, why don't you let Jim go if he wants to?' she said. 'Why hang on to a husband if he wants to mix up with trash? You are a rich woman yourself.' Her sister came to me too. For the sake of my children I would not listen to such talk.

"Now that I have a $10,000 judgment against her, which I have no doubt will be sustained, I intend to enforce it. Of course, the seizure of her body by the sheriff was a mistake. But she had boasted that she was going to another State. When she has lost the house and all the fine presents my husband gave her she will go back where she belongs—in Hope Alley—and working as a saleswirl."

A Clean Sweep Was Required

Hon. Frank Oliver on the Alberta Victory—A Final Settlement of the Racial and Educational Cries—Premier Scott Will Carry Saskatchewan Almost as Completely—Views of the New Member of Interior.

PROSPERITY WAS ALSO A FACTOR

Winnipeg, Nov. 13.—Concerning the feeling prevalent that Mr. Rutherford's victory in Alberta is too sweeping, Hon. Frank Oliver, who passed through here to-day, hurrying back to Ottawa, said: "A decisive and overwhelming victory was just what was required to settle the important questions raised during this campaign. No one can hope to raise the school or racial question again after the answer given by the voters in Alberta last week. Under ordinary conditions a strong and efficient Opposition is a most desirable and even necessary adjunct to our system of government, and the time will naturally come in Alberta when there will be a reasonably strong Opposition. In this election, however, it was necessary in order to settle some questions permanently that the Government should win a decisive success, and certainly nothing more could have been wished for."

"How will the elections go in Saskatchewan?" was asked of Mr. Oliver.

"In Saskatchewan," he replied, "one of the questions which gave us the most trouble in Alberta will be eliminated. In Alberta the contest over the location of the capital was an exceedingly difficult one to deal with. In the southern part of the Province it was constantly said by Conservative workers that a solid Conservative delegation ought to be sent to Edmonton from the south in order to protect the city of Calgary and the south generally. This idea was used by the Conservatives constantly throughout the contest. In Saskatchewan there is no question of this kind raised. The matter of the capital is being left entirely to the new Legislature. So far as I learned from Saskatchewan, it appears that the victory there will be almost, if not quite, as decisive as in Alberta. Mr. Walter Scott and his advocates are making a splendid presentation of their case, and there can be no doubt that the electors of the Province will continue the new Ministers in the positions to which they have been called.

"There is no doubt that our success in the elections has been based in part on the general prosperity of the country. The far West has had a most successful season, crops in Saskatchewan being the best ever known. The progress made along the Calgary & Edmonton Railway has been phenomenal, and all portions of the Province have shared in the general prosperity of the country."

Thought the Czar Was "Popped"

The Bull Pup and the Soda Water.

There was a loud, re-echoing bang, followed by a crash, and a clatter, in the back of Rountree's shop this morning. Everybody in the store stood perfectly still for a few minutes, imagining that somebody who was following the Czar of Russia, or some other despot, had finally caught him somewhere in the rear premises.

"They followed someone down the lane and shot him!" hysterically screamed a frightened lady.

One of the employees at last mustered enough courage to go and see what was the matter.

"Why, here's 'Sanitaris' lying down in the lane, with his tongue hanging out: somebody has shot him," he exclaimed, referring to Mr. Rountree's bull pup.

"Send for a veterinary surgeon at once," ejaculated another.

But just then "Sanitaris" got up, shook himself, and dragging that portion of the wall farthest away from the rear store-room, spilled down the alley like a shooting star.

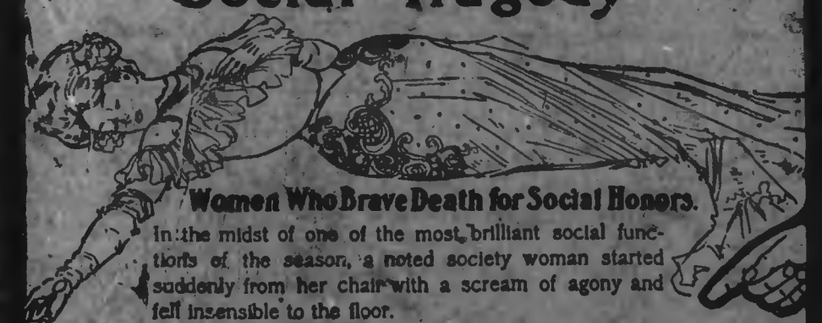
After the gathering had collected its wits it soon saw the solution which would not have made Sherlock Holmes' hair turn gray. Multitudinous pieces of glass were found in the liquor store-room, and on one piece was the label "Gurd's Soda Water." Thus the matter was cleared up.

The pug, who had managed to sneak into the store-room, had been playing with the bottle of soda water and the contents wouldn't stand for all the strenuous juggling the playful canine took the notion to give it. Hence the explosion, and the "false alarm."

To Prevent Divorce:

—A New York preacher suggests that in the marriage ceremony the bride and groom should promise to remain husband and wife until death. That would settle the divorce question; but quarrels shiver promises as a breath withers the frost.

Social Tragedy



Women Who Brave Death for Social Honors.

In the midst of one of the most brilliant social functions of the season, a noted society woman started suddenly from her chair with a scream of agony and fell insensible to the floor.

A few hours later the distinguished physician told her anxious husband that she was suffering from an acute case of nervous prostration brought on by female trouble, and hinted at an operation. Fortunately a friend advised her to try

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The result was that she escaped the surgeon's knife and to-day is a well woman.

The derangement of the delicate female organism sets every nerve in the body quivering with pain. Headaches, backaches, torturing bearing down pains and dragging sensations make women nervous and hysterical.

Mrs. T. E. Gillis, of Windsor, N. S., writes:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—When I commenced to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was suffering with weakness and womb trouble, headaches, backaches, and that worn-out, tired feeling. I have only taken the Vegetable Compound a few short weeks, and it has made me well, strong and robust. I believe that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is without equal for female troubles.

Mrs. Laura Emmons, President Loyal Home Workers, Walkerville, Ont., writes:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am enjoying such good health that I feel it a duty to write and thank you for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered for more than five years with ovarian troubles, causing an unpleasant discharge and weakness which no amount of medicine, diet or exercise seemed to correct. Your Vegetable Compound however, reached the root of my trouble, cured me and made me strong, healthy and well. I want to say to every suffering woman, don't dally with medicines you know nothing about, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham's advice is free to all. Her address is Lynn, Mass.

LABBY POKED RIDICULE.

Kills Woman Suffrage Bill by His Wit in Parliament.

Could a policeman be a woman? Are archbishops ladies?

These two problems were propounded by Henry Labouchere in the British House of Commons during a debate on the perennial question of woman's suffrage at the last session. It is rarely that the House of Commons hears a witty speech, but for over an hour the members held their sides with laughter at the torrent of wit and humor which "Labby" delivered on this subject.

It was the droliest speech heard in the House for many a year. Standing at the foot of the gangway, wearing his favorite cutaway coat of blue, of a cut, color and style essentially old-fashioned, the editor of Truth poked ridicule at the bill to grant the right of parliamentary votes to women until the measure was effectually put to death.

"When you argue with a woman you begin to realise how she differs from a man," he said in an attempt to depict what would happen if lady legislators sat in the House, as the proposer of the measure suggested.

"Men are very weak in regard to women. If a male and a female member of the House rose to speak simultaneously the man would always chivalrously give way no matter what his politics.

"And supposing that a man lived with his wife!"—the House as almost convulsed with merriment at the supposition—"and they were both members of Parliament, the husband, after listening to his wife maundering along in this chamber, would return home to go through it all again!

"You would turn this venerable and respectable Parliament into a promiscuity of sexes. There are a lot of young men here, and all sorts of political flirtations would go on. It would not be safe. As an old man—I am 76—I would not place any such temptation in the way of my honorable friends opposite.

"I am not going to be crushed under the dominion of women. I am the successor of St. Paul, who objected to women talking in the churches, the discussion-places of his time. Take the church now. Are archbishops women?

"Could a policeman be a woman?" he asked. "Could a woman be a soldier? Women are more beautiful than muscular, but they have no sense of proportion. They exaggerate one thing and despise another."

The Ruling Passion.

"What is Jenks sore about?"

"He saw an old man who could hardly walk crossing the street, and he didn't have his automobile along."

Distributing His Credit.

"Your clothes always fit so well you must always patronize the same tailor."

"Do you take me for a millionaire?"

The Game Of Golf As An Aid To Longevity

There must be benefit in the rage for a game that fascinates old and middle-aged folks during their day after day into the open air and harmonizing them to vigorous exercise. Nor can the remedy be physical only, for persons only, if it keeps three men young and vigorous in their sympathies, will they value a public holiday, because they have a use to put it to, they will not begrudge the holiday to those in their employ. If they learn to take to the health-giving effects of open air exercise, as shown by their own experience, they will respect what teaches with regard to their families. Observation shows that golf has a strong influence in preventing all those illnesses that beset ordinary men.

There is little reason to doubt that a city man will live longer for having played golf. I have heard doctors aver it between strokes. But the enemy patrols with it a new disease. No sooner is a man's system of dumbbell relieved, or the liver put on its good behaviour, than an affliction peculiar to golf declares itself. From it there is no release this side the grave. When leave-time partners stand every whit or to get relief, and spend months in Florida or California—where the links are excellent—but all to no purpose. Round as a man may move under the search of a doctor, yet this baffling paw disease may have him in its grasp. He is perfectly well in the morning; by noon he is listless and depressed; by two o'clock he has either a headache or such a pain in his side or in the leg that he must quit the other fellows. A walk will do him good. Nor is he so ill that he cares to go home and lie down, which would alarm his wife, and lead to the drinking of nasty medicines. Moreover, the whole bunch of the crowd can't attend him, unless some unfortunate gets the misfortune to sprain his ankle. He feels better shortly, but not well enough to return. The pain while quite distinct does not rack him as recently. The motive responsible to run to the golf shops at times of clothing one turns in-stinctively towards a familiar haunt. He will not play, of course, but stroll about over the green grass. As he arrives he is hailed with an enquiry if he is ready for a game? He says he is not feeling very well and has really not intended to play, which proves to be all the cue that the fellows want. They arrange to play a few holes, but gently, without hurry, with the exception of invalids. After holing on the first green in bogey, the disease abates entirely, and they keep up a spirited contest until dark. Medical men are not themselves exempt from this singular malady, and I know a man who voluntarily stretched himself on a table and thus had apparent removal by a surgeon fearful of his wife's anxiety about his symptoms.—Canadian Magazine.

RUGBY.

Tomorrow night in the Y.M.C.A. Hall a meeting will be held for organizing a hockey club in connection with the George Street Young Men's Guild. All young men of the Church are invited to be present at 8 o'clock.

Stratford, Nov. 15.—The Stratford hockey club intends to get its men in training at once. At any rate it will be seen to that the shameful lopsiding will not find the teams in poor condition.

Roberts of last year's juniors will move up into intermediate company. Miller will also be found in the bunch. This will likely be the line-up:—Goal, Woods; point, Roberts; cover, Forbes; forwards Hern, Edmonds, Lloyd and Miller.

Lal Earle, formerly of the Marlboros, who played last year in the professional league is seeking to be reinstated as an amateur. He never was anything else as far as playing ability goes. Do you remember when he played down here a couple of winters ago? He didn't have a chance to show up at all when he was in Peterborough and that is simply because he wasn't fast enough. As for the rest of the Hamilton players—well just think of them.

RUGBY.

About a dozen were at the practice in the Brock street rink last night. The team is in for a pick up game and enthusiastic Dandy Dan—the rate for the disposition is 2.40 minute large number of supporters will go with the locals and encourage them to strive for the laurels. Peterborough is hoping to carry off the silverware and its dollars to toughnuts that they will.

Our Yankee cousins are beginning to celebrate the adoption of rugby as the it is played in Canada—but perhaps the shute they have Canada more like the "American" game has come to be so brutal that it should be stopped.

Someone told Stapleton that Mar. kids sent he wasn't for out. Miller.—Brockville Recorder.

BASKET-BALL.

On Friday night in the Y.M.C.A. at 8 o'clock the Shamrock and Arrows will play a game and from 9.00 to 9.30 school there will be special apparatus work by the gymnasium class. Admission free.

There will be a practice of the Brownies at the Y.M.C.A. on Friday night from 8 to 9 o'clock.

THE TURF.

The Eastern Circuit for this winter promises to be very interesting. Peterborough horses will probably be seen in a number of the events at the different tracks in the circuit.

Mr. A. Rountree, secretary of the Turf Club, has received a communication from W. E. Knight, secretary of the American Trotting Association, stating that Mr. H. A. Cooke, who is at present in the south-east with the Peterborough, has not been officially reinstated. He will probably be reinstated by the association.

Catalogue Of Dickens' Works

A Curiously Arranged List Loaned by Local Gentleman

The following curious catalogue of Dickens' works is worthy of preservation:—

"Oliver Twist" came next some very "Hard Times" in the "Battle of Life" and after having been sifted from the "Wreck of the "Golden Mary" by "Our Mutual Friend", Nicholas Nickleby," had just finished reading "A Tale of Two Cities" to "Master Chuzzlewit," drink which time "The Cricket on the Hearth" had been sampled right merrily while "The Chimes" from the adjacent church bells heard when "Seven Poor Travellers" commenced singing "Christmas Carol", "Barnaby Rudge" then arrived from "The Old Curiosity Shop" with "Some Pictures from Italy" and "Sketches by Boz", although the latter, who had made quite an "Pickwick Papers", when "David Copperfield" who had been taking "American Notes", entered and informed the company that the "Great Expectations" of "Bentley and Son" registering "Mrs. Lirriper's Legacy" had not been realized; and that he had seen "Boots at the Holly Tree Inn taking "Somebody's Luggage" to Mrs. Lirriper's Lodging" in a shop that was "No Thoroughfare" opposite "Black Sheep" where "The Haunted Man," had just given ape of "Dr. Marigold's Prescriptions" to an "Uncommercial Traveler", who was brooding over "The Mystery of Edwin Drood."

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE

Biology Has Proved that Dandruff is Caused by a Germ.

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived the human race has been troubled with dandruff for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf, by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it zaps the vitality; causes itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists, in Canada, the United States, in store, to Hyslop Co., Oakville and Wilson, special agents.

Mark Street Ladies' Aid Bazaar and Tea

Splendid Success Was Scored Last Night by the Ladies of Mark Street Methodist Church—About $200 Were the Receipts—Over 400 Persons Took Tea—The Booths and the Ladies Who Were in Charge.

FINANCIAL RETURNS WERE SATISFACTORY

That the Ladies' Aid Society of the Mark street Methodist church is an aggressive and enterprising organization has been amply demonstrated, but never more strikingly than it was last night when the second annual bazaar and tea under its auspices was held in the town hall, Mark street.

It was thought, last year, by many when the first event of this kind was held that it would be difficult, if not impossible, to surpass it, but the ladies of this church are never satisfied with past successes, and in the bazaar of this year they have scored a success which makes that of last year pale, in comparison. In every respect the bazaar and tea of yesterday was an improvement over that of last year, both in point of attendance and in the financial returns, which are an important consideration. It is estimated that more than 400 persons partook of the dainties which the ladies had provided in such profusion; a considerable increase over the number last year.

The hall was very tastefully decorated, and great credit is due the ladies for the pains they took to give the interior of the hall a pleasing appearance, which they succeeded admirably in doing.

The booths at which goods were displayed for sale were increased in number of those of last year, and the returns from the sales were also in excess of those of the last bazaar, an exceedingly gratifying state of affairs. Those in charge of the different booths were:—Mrs. Taylor and Miss Smith, general goods; Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Byrne and Miss Jessie Anderson, fancy articles; Mrs. Lewis and Miss Dormer, handkerchiefs; Mrs. A. A. Fowler, Mrs. J. McDonald, dolls; Mrs. Sheverin, bargain counter; Mrs. Harry Gibbs, Miss Effie Fowler and Miss Ethel Henthorne, candy.

During the afternoon and evening a number of musical selections were given by Mrs. Howry, the Misses Davis, Miss Mabel Hooper and Miss Carlisle.

The ladies wish to thank Messrs. A. W. Cressman and E. F. Mason & Co., for goods given and loaned for the event. The receipts from this year's bazaar will be in the neighborhood of $200, which is most satisfactory to the ladies under whose auspices it was held, and to whose energetic work the success is due.

The officers of this progressive society are:—

President—Mrs. Harry Girvin.
Treasurer—Mrs. J. Smith.
Secretary—Mrs. H. Gibbs.

There are at the present time, after about two years' existence, thirty-five members and they are all working harmoniously for the success of any enterprise undertaken by the society.

PROMINENT CANADIAN OWES LIFE TO PE-RU-NA.

Suffered Ten Years—Lost 100 Pounds in Flesh.

Mr. J. N. Lafleur, the well known grocer and liquor dealer, of Montreal, Que., has been one of the leading business men of that city for thirty years. He writes as follows:

"I feel exhausted, and tired, and coughed continually. When in health my weight was 250 pounds but I have lost 100 pounds this year. Catarrh has made me almost blind and deaf. I am discouraged.

"Finally I tried Peruna, and after another, and now I must say that my health is much improved, and I have great confidence in the efficacy of that wonderful remedy."

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING.

Strong Words From Toronto Pulpit On a Recent Sunday.

Rev. J. T. Sunderland spoke on a recent Sunday morning on the text "It is more blessed to give than to receive." He strongly condemned that spirit, too common in our day, which wishes to get what does not belong to it, and receive what it does not pay for. He said, in part: What is a worthy aim of life for a man? Is it to receive without rendering a full equivalent? Does any really high-minded man want to get more than he gives? What do we call a man, who, in business matters, obtains what he makes no proper return for? We call him a rogue or a swindler. Is it worse to be a rogue or a swindler in business than in other things? Is it more criminal to rob a man than to rob society? Or to rob in matters which the law takes cognizance of than in matters which it does not? Says a distinguished and honored statesman: "The darkest hour in the history of any young man is that in which he first consciously cherishes the desire to get something for nothing." History bears out the saying is true. Such a young man has set his foot on a downward road. No human being, at least, no one that has health and strength has any right to want to get something for nothing. He who cherishes such a desire is nourishing in himself either the pauper or the criminal habit of mind. He who, being able to support himself, is willing to be supported by another, is in spirit a pauper. He who is willing to get a living by any practice or business, no matter how legal it may be, which does not involve the rendering of a just and full equivalent for what he receives, is at heart a criminal; all that he lacks is either the opportunity or the courage to make him a criminal de facto.

Here lies the greatest evil of lotteries and gambling. It is not so much that men lose such or such sums of money. That is bad enough. But the worst evil lies in the demoralising and degrading influence of what is done, on men's characters. It lies in the fact that gambling and lotteries cultivate in men a willingness and a desire to obtain something for nothing; to get something that is not rightly theirs; to gain possession of money which they render no just equivalent. That spirit always and everywhere undermines the integrity and tone of the moral character of the man or woman who harbors it.

We often find success in life measured by what men get or accumulate, without reference to the return they make to society. No standard of measurement could be more false. It is the standard of the robber. Are we to call that man successful who, by his financial shrewdness, amasses millions, and does nothing with his wealth to benefit the world? Rather should we call his life a lamentable and disgraceful failure.

Are we to call that man successful who has found a lucrative sinecure—a place with large pay but with little or nothing to do, and little or no service to render to anybody? Rather ought we to pity any man, and pray God to have mercy on his poor, poverty-stricken, selfish soul, who desires any such pauper place. A true man wants to pay for all he gets in this world; he is not a mendicant. The kind of place a real man seeks is one of activity, of influence, of achievement, of service, where he can be benefiting better than a leech living on the blood of others. He wants to do his proper part—his own, right, strong part—in the world's work. He wants to be of some use. He wants to lend a hand in assuaging the world's sorrows, righting its wrongs, and bringing for humanity a better day. No one who is a man can for one moment be willing to be a pauper, or a parasite, or a cipher, much less a robber.

The only rule of action that is for a moment worthy of a true man is, not to give as little as he can, but as much as he can; not to give merely as much as he receives, but more. He who is really a man desires to make some positive contribution to the world's advance. He is not content to leave the world as good as he found it: he wants to leave it better than he found it.

Croup Absolutely Cured.

WHAT ALBERTA MEANS.

The remarkable sweep the Liberals made in the Alberta elections will, the political cognoscenti claim, be repeated in Saskatchewan, when the elections are brought on there. It would seem to be idle to seek positive causes for the conditions that only give the Conservatives two members out of a Legislature of twenty-four; negative reasons are enough. It is quite evident that the electors would not consent to be stampeded by the race and creed cries, the nation-splitting policy of the Conservative party. It is quite evident that the people of Alberta, the people directly and, in one sense, the people only, interested, are perfectly satisfied with the measure and form of autonomous existence guaranteed by the autonomy bill, which embodied the conditions of their provincial charter. That's the point. The people of the new provinces know what they want, and have sharply resented the cry of the Conservatives, that they were being oppressed, and robbed of their rights. The Conservative party, if it still amounts to that, was not perhaps very deeply concerned for the rights and liberties of the people of the new provinces. In its desperate condition of disorganization and internal disruption, the leaders of that party, or those assuming the place of the quondam, or nominal leaders, probably thought that they saw an opportunity of increasing the party capital, and did not hesitate to move to that end, even at the risk of creating disruption and discord in the country. Their game, transparent as it was, would not perhaps have failed so disastrously, had not the facts been so utterly against their crusade of national mischief making. Their appeal fell upon deaf ears. The electors of Alberta refused to regard themselves as being oppressed; refused to see in the Autonomy Bill an outrage upon their liberty; refused to regard the Liberal party as oppressors and tyrants. By their action in the recent elections the people of Alberta have shown that they are determined to enjoy the self-government, conferred by the autonomy bill, with which they have been invested; shown that they consider themselves capable of managing their own affairs, and capable of electing the Legislature to make their laws, and of endorsing the government which is to administer these laws and the affairs of the province—that they can do all this without the advice, assistance or offensive interference of self-constituted protestors, who seek to promote the party game under solicitude for the people of the new provinces, who are perhaps the best judges of what constitutes provincial rights. The carpet-baggers have had a quietus, which will probably be intensified when the elections of Saskatchewan have a chance to speak.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

There is considerable comment over the alleged dissatisfaction at Ottawa, over the distribution of King's Birthday honours. As we understand the matter, the criticisms are not altogether founded on personal disappointment, but, having regard to the high character of the honour, upon the fact that the recipients of the honours have no superior claims to others who were overlooked. A title itself, while an honour, is liable to be an embarrassment to any person not possessed of the means to maintain the associated dignity. To many very worthy persons, in regard to real merit, a title would be as embarrassing possession as a seal skin coat to a lady dweller in the slums.

"Honour and fame from no condition rise,
Act well your part—there all the honour lies."

THE SPOILS SYSTEM.

(Hamilton Herald, Independent.)

It seems to be the general policy of the Whitney Government not to apply the spoils system to the Ontario civil service. Dr. Reaume's address at the North Essex Conservative association on Saturday may be accepted as a reiteration of the government's policy and as a direct reply to the former demand made by eastern Conservatives that Liberal officials be dismissed whenever Conservative members and local Conservative organizations request their dismissal. The Minister of Public Works declares that no Libral officeo-holder will be dismissed unless they are convicted of offensive partizanship while in office. "If proper charges are filed against any office-holder and backed up with sworn affidavits," he said, "such charges will be at once investigated, and the offenders removed from office if proven guilty."

If Dr. Reaume speaks for the Government (and what he said is merely a repetition of what the Premier has already said,) it is clear that the Whitney Government does not favour the patronage plan suggested by the Hastings Conservatives, but intends to retain in its own hands the power and responsibility in the matter of civil service dismissals and appointments, in which decision the Government shows wisdom.

Evidently, however, the Government is not above making exceptions in special cases. What about the Harford Ashley dismissal? Was the procedure described by Dr. Reaume followed in that case? Mr. Ashley has been dismissed from his division court clerkship, and the only reasons for his dismissal, so far as the public knows, are that he was an active partizan before his appointment and once upon a time accepted a Liberal nomination for the legislature. It was because he was guilty of these crimes that the attorney-general demanded Ashley's resignation. It would be interesting to learn whether, in the eyes of the Government, the offences which justified the attorney-general in demanding the resignation of this Liberal official were also sufficient to warrant his dismissal. If so, the Government's high professions of fairness in the treatment of Liberal officials would appear to be designed more for ornament than use.

Dr. Reaume has been selected to speak the Whitney Government's mind on the subject of the spoils question that "no Liberal will be dismissed unless they are convicted of offensive partizanship while in office." This seems to be frank, but there is no precedent for such a course of action. Heretofore Jedburg justice has been the rule. Liberal officials have been decapitated and tried afterwards. If Dr. Reaume's dictation does not include an anti-dated conviction, the public may be justified in regarding it seriously.

SHARP DEALING IN ALBERTA.

(Canada Gazette.)

A good story is being told in Lethbridge of how the shrewdness of a Canadian buyer was well matched in a business transaction by the quickness of a United States seller who had taken up sheep ranching. The Canadian bought a herd of 2,400 sheep, but they were to be driven from Raymond to Lethbridge, a distance of eighteen miles, before being weighed. This was so obviously an attempt to reduce their weight that the sharp "Yankee" resolved not to lose on the deal if he could help it. Accordingly, he hired a man to draw a quantity of beet pulp from the sugar factory at Raymond and Lethbridge. When the sheep were being driven along they ate the pulp and drank water, which the result that they gained ten pounds each in weight. The rancher's foresight enabled him to net an extra profit of $1,000.

TARIFF ANOMALIES.

The tariff commission has only begun its work in Eastern Canada, but it is already disclosing a conflict of interests which are apparently irreconcilable.

Where is the line to be drawn between finished products and raw materials? The average person would imagine that steel rails, for instance, could be classified strictly as finished articles, having relation to the cost of nothing but railway construction. But it appears that steel rails are the raw material of other branches of the steel industry. Representatives of the Montreal steel works on Tuesday informed the tariff commission that steel rails accounted for 11 per cent. of the cost of producing steel castings, switches, frogs, and other railway appliances made by the firm. Their protection on these articles had been reduced from 30 per cent. to 15 per cent. by the recent duty of $7 per ton upon steel rails, which had been imposed to insure the manufacture of rails in this country.

Representatives of the Canadian woollen industry waited upon the commission and asked for further protection, claiming that cheaper labour and cheaper coal gave their British competitors an advantage which was not offset by the Canadian tariff. Per contra deputations from the Merchant Tailors' Association and the Montreal Wholesale Dry Goods Association asked for the reduction of the duty on various classes of woollens, the tailors asserting that it was necessary to import British goods in order to do a high-class business.

The Dominion Association of Cigar Manufacturers asked for a reduction of either the customs duty on raw leaf, or the excise duty on cigars made in Canada from imported leaf, or a reduction on both, which would bring their taxation down to $8 per thousand. They did not want to pay increased customs duties for the advantage of the growers of the Canadian leaf. The Canadian tobacco growers on the other hand want a higher margin of protection, whether through the customs or the excise duties.

The same conditions will be revealed through the whole range of Canadian industry.

"Rats" is the Word.

—A well-known employee of a local "financial" institution will have a decided aversion for rats in the future. Last night, while he was peacefully slumbering, dreaming, no doubt, of the "village on the bay," an impudent rodent stole stealthily into his room, crept up the leg of the bed, crawled over the covers until it came to the young man's face, and then began to devour the forehead of the unsuspecting youth. The victim of the dastardly attack, feeling the blood trickling down his face, woke up with a shout, at which the bold intruder scuttled across the room out into the hall and down to its earthy retreat. The rat at this moment is probably telling its companions of its narrow escape from the greedy and revengeful clutches of the "brute."

Bargain Annex Proves Popular

That bargains appeal to the great majority of persons was demonstrated this morning at Cressman's store, when the opening of the bargain annex took place. Mr. Cressman states that he is delighted with the result of the first day's sale in the bargain annex, and is convinced of the wisdom of his decision to establish this department.

New Bookstore Was Opened

Mr. R. J. Soden Opened To-day With Attractive Premises and Stock.

With the opening on Hunter street of the new bookstore by Mr. R. J. Soden, Peterborough regains one of her old citizens, the proprietor of the attractive premises having removed from here about seven years ago, and has since resided in Montreal.

The new store presents a bright and attractive appearance, both exteriorally and interiorally, though the fittings are as yet but partially installed.

The stock will include all the staple lines of stationery and books, including a well selected line of Christmas novelties. A complete stock of commercial stationery will be a feature.

Subsidiary lines will include pictures, wall paper, fancy leather goods, cut glass and china. Christmas novelties will be a specialty. The lines of china will comprise Limoges and Royal Crown, and will be sold in individual pieces or in sets. The assortment of leather and ebony goods is complete, and comprises a wide range.

A commodious room at the rear of the store will be fitted up temporarily for the display of toys and Christmas novelties, although this section will be utilized later, when the fitting up of the front portion is complete, as a picture framing, moulding and wall paper department.

The store was opened to the public this morning and the splendid display justifies the expectation of the continued success of Mr. Soden in his new enterprise.

"Bill I Opener" Kicks At Price Reduction

The Examiner has received the following letter from a citizen with the request that it be published:

Editor Examiner.

Dear Sir,—Just for your ears, Mr. Editor, I want to say "I'm a sucker." I'm sorry I have such a poor opinion of myself, but the proof is indisputable.

I pride myself on the "Esprit de corps" which I possess for Peterborough. I love to talk of this progressive city and the hustling men who make it so. And this pride is not misplaced generally, you will agree.

The idea of a new opera house found my heartiest sympathy and support. It was a pleasure to place my signature to the "Guarantee List." With some four or five hundred others I conclude that we subscribed together at least $1,500. Now, that was real fine, was it not? I take pride in the fact that this indicates the liberality of the citizens of Peterborough to a marked extent.

It was agreed when we signed, that the man or woman who loved Peterborough so little that he would not assist in this laudable enterprise in this manner would, in consequence, be made to pay the $3 "famine price" rate for a seat, and take the tail-ends at that. Now, it appears that a five-hundred-dollar and more profit for one night is not sufficiently satisfying for the management, and in the face of this verbal agreement, GREED overcomes all obligations, and the prices to the public are suddenly reduced.

Really, Mr. Editor, I cannot say more for chagrin. I would have preferred my watch stolen.

Yours truly,

BILL I. OPENER.

In reference to the above the Examiner interviewed the management of the opera house, and it was learned that "Bill I. Opener" has hardly stated the case in its entirety. There was no promise made that the prices would not be reduced, and when the citizens were asked for subscriptions it was not as pay for seats. The money subscribed was given as an evidence of their desire to see an opera house here and to aid the project. The seats were given as a bonus with the subscriptions, and it was not understood that the amount subscribed was pay for the seats, but they had the choice of the house, and those who come later have to take what are left.

The management is of the opinion that no complaint is justified from those who, in their desire to see an opera house in Peterborough, subscribed.

Norwood Ratepayers To Vote On Finlay Assessemnt

Norwood, Nov. 13'—A special meeting of the village council was held on Monday evening. Those present were Reeve Pakenham, Councillors Webster, Squire and Elliott.

Mr. Sherry, solicitor for the village, called to the attention of the council that to grant Mr. Finlay a fixed assessment would require a by-law and the consent of the ratepayers.

Moved by Coun. Squire, seconded by Coun. Elliott, that the clerk have prepared a by-law covering a fixed assessment of J. Finlay & Son's manufacturing establishment and storehouse for a sum of $4,000, same as present rate of assessment for a term of ten years. The said by-law to be prepared and submitted to the electorate at the municipal elections on the first day of January, 1906. The same to be done according to law.

Lindsay Girls Attracted Him

Saturday evening a young man travelling to Peterborough on the 8 o'clock train jumped off at Lindsay station, attracted by a couple of maidens. He was coatless and the night was cold. He prolonged his stay too long, the train pulled out, and he was "Johnny on the spot." His language, strong as it was, didn't recall the train, and he had to remain till the "flyer" came along.—Post.

Rev. Dr. Crothers To Rev. Father McColl

Another Letter in the Controversy on Conditions in Roman Catholic and Protestant Countries—The Historical Side of the Matter Dealt With—Seeks to Justify His Statements.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Dear Sir, — I fully appreciate the efforts you put forth in the direction of peace. No one is more anxious than myself to dwell on good terms with my fellow citizens, but when I am accused of perverting history, I must, in self defence, endeavour to put myself right. I have no desire whatever to hurt the feelings of my fellow citizens of another faith, and have been careful not to discuss dogmas or theological peculiarities. Each one has a perfect right to believe as he pleases.

My aim from the beginning was to compare countries in relation to liberty of conscience. My position in this respect has not been seriously assailed by my reverend opponent.

Concerning Ireland and crime, I find by consulting the tenth edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica that so far as the convictions for the years 1890 and 1900 are concerned, there was very little difference between England and England and Wales. The slight difference is in favour of Ireland. This is not surprising when we consider the fine body of constabulary scattered all over Ireland." My contention is referred to the Philippine Islands has not been disproved. In addition I will quote from Bishop Brent of the Protestant Episcopal Church, Bishop for the Philippines. Giving the friars credit for many things, Bishop Brent says: "There is another aspect of Christian life less pleasing to contemplate. No one but a blind partizan seriously denies any longer the grave moral laxity that has grown up, and still exists, under the shadow of church and parsonage in the Philippines. Inch by inch I have been forced back by the pressed of facts."

Alleyne Ireland, Colonial Commissioner of the University of Chicago, makes the statement: "The evils which stem from the concentration of power in the person of the Spanish friar in the Philippines, cannot be exaggerated."

Aquinaldo wrote to General Otis, "For this reason it is a widely known and notorious fact, recognized by all foreigners, who have studied Philippine affairs, that the primary cause of the Philippine revolution was the ecclesiastical corporations, which had robbed the country, preventing progress and liberty."

Civil and religious liberty was not enjoyed until the United States took possession of the islands. I heartily commend the Rev. W. J. McColl in his remarks, viz., "that England has without doubt one of the best, probably the best, political systems in the world."

We agree on this, as I trust we agree on some other points. But why is it the best system? Because there is no other country where liberty of conscience is so fully and freely enjoyed.

I pass the remarks about Francis Xavier. He was a most self-denying man, and I hope to meet him in the land where the names Roman Catholic and Protestant will not be known.

I wish however to correct my reverend adversary on the point that "her (viz. England) missionaries have accomplished practically nothing for India." Now, my difficulty is just here—no authorities that I can furnish are acceptable to the Rev. W. J. McCoil. He waves them aside.

They are biased; they are romancers. Many Romanist a romance; but still I will give the best I have.

There are thirty-four (34) Protestant and British societies working in India to-day.

There are 445,000 communicants and adherents. There are 4,500 day schools, and 300 hospitals and dispensaries.

I quote from Beach's Atlas of Protestant Missions. Can it be said that nothing has been done? Of course, the reverend gentleman considers that nothing good is done, unless it be done by the branch of the church which he represents. But I trust he will come to a broader view and confess that though we do not worship in the same way, still we are doing good. The reverend gentleman has a unique mode of argument. He simply denies. Historians that do not suit him are romancers. Before going once more to Spain, I note in the Montreal Witness of May 19, 1905, that King Alfonso, in a letter to the Bishop of Barcelona, promises his ardent help to impede the establishment of Protestant churches in that city.

How is that for liberty of conscience. I quote from Macaulay in his essay on Sir James Mackintosh: "Our ancestors knew from the experience of several generations at home and abroad how restless and encroaching was the Church of Rome." Again in the same essay: "We know that the liberal professions of James were highly approved by those very governments, by those very societies whose theory and practice it notoriously was to keep no faith with heretics and to give no quarter to heretics."

In regard to the relation of the Roman Catholic Church to the massacre of St. Bartholomew's Day. The reverend gentleman says, "It is easy to exonerate the church from any share in connection with this crime." What says Froude, the historian? "The scope of the massacre was settled by the Pope's order with an inscription immortalizing his own gratifications and approval. He struck a commemoration medal with, on one side, his own image, on the other the destroying angel impassing the Huguenots."

What says Goldwin Smith? In a letter to the New York Sun in August past, he says, "A Catholic priest is perfectly justified in saying that the motive of the massacre of St. Bartholomew was political rather than religious, though religion was the basis of the parties; but history will not bear him out if he contends that Rome was clear of the business."

In regard to the Holy Inquisition, I refer the Rev. W. J. McColl to the Encyclopaedia Britannica, M. 13, p. 83.

Now I conclude. This has been a painful subject to me. Not wittingly would I hurt the feelings of any; but I submit that I have furnished proof that rests on something more than "historical romances."

Unless something exceedingly remarkable exists I shall trouble you no more on this matter, and bid farewell to my reverend adversary, hoping that we shall do our best, and at last hear the "Well done."

Yours,
W. J. CROTHERS.

The Sand-Lime Products and Their Uses

An Interesting Description of the Qualities of Sand-Lime Brick Tests Made by the U.S. Government Engineers and Others—Destined to Revolutionize the Building Trade—Durability and Strength of the Products.

A FIRST-CLASS BUILDING MATERIAL

On Saturday the Examiner published some interesting information regarding the manufacture and uses of sand-lime products. The following is a continuation of the article:—

The following are claimed to be the characteristics of sand-lime bricks:

1. Improves with age.
2. Great crushing strength.
3. Low in porosity.
4. No efflorescence.
5. No scaling.
6. Slight heat conductivity.
7. Unaffected by acids.
8. Absolutely sanitary.
9. No disintegration with extreme climatic changes.
10. Practically no expansion from heat.
11. Great chemical resistance.
12. Economy in laying up on account of: Uniformity of size, shape and colour; minimum of waste; facility with which brick can be cut.
13. The only brick with which a two-sided finished eight inch wall can be built.
14. The natural colour is that of Indiana sandstone, but colours and shades can be made, and they are proof against climatic changes. Unlimited effects are possible in colours. Many shades of which cannot be produced in other building materials.
15. Superior brick for underground purposes, especially sewers.

A Few Tests.

Crushing Test.—Sand-lime brick, per square inch, 3,100 to 7,800 pounds. Indiana sandstone, 4,153 pounds. Clay brick, (common), 300 to 2,300 pounds; (hard burned) 1,900 to 4,300 pounds; (re-pressed) 4,200 pounds.

Crushing Test After Freezing.—Sand-lime brick, 15 to 20 per cent. higher than above tests. Indiana sandstone, 6,381 pounds. Clay brick, (salmon), 5 per cent. lower; (hard burned), 5 per cent. higher; (re-pressed), 5 per cent. higher.

Absorption Test.—Sand-lime brick, 2 to 9 per cent. Indiana sandstone, 5.66 per cent. Clay brick, (salmon), 17 to 22 per cent.; (hard burned), 8 to 12 per cent.; (re-pressed), 10 to 15 per cent.

Freezing Test.—Sand-lime brick, loss from 1-3 of 1 per cent. loss by weight after freezing for many years in distilled water for 24 hours, freezing at 5 degrees F. for 12 hours, immersing in distilled water at 70 degrees F. for 8 hours; and this repeated 10 times. Indiana sandstone, .37 per cent. loss by weight after freezing. Clay brick, (salmon), .74 per cent. loss; (hard burned), .13 per cent. loss; (re-pressed), .22 per cent. loss.

The following tests were made by the Henry S. Spackman Engineering Company, Philadelphia, Pa., at the request of the association. The samples in every instance were selected by the Spackman Co. The clay bricks are those used in the Philadelphia market and are considered equal to any clay bricks in the country. The sandstone was also taken from a building under construction. The sand-lime bricks were selected from a lot of 300,000 at a neighboring plant.

Crushing Test.

Crushing Strength per Square Inch.—Sand-lime brick (common) 3,714 lbs.; after freezing, 3,928 lbs. Sand-lime brick (face), 5,023 lbs.; after freezing, 5,763. Clay brick (salmon), 2,236 lbs.; after freezing, 2,218 lbs. Clay (hard burned), 4,288 lbs.; after freezing, 4,577 lbs. Clay brick (re-pressed), 4,469 lbs.; after freezing, 4,966 lbs. Indiana sandstone, 4,153 lbs.; after freezing, 6,641 lbs.

Freezing Test—Sand-lime brick (common) loss by weight, 4 per cent. No cracks or deterioration. Sand-lime brick (face), loss by weight, 0.39 per cent. No cracks or deterioration. Clay brick (salmon), loss by weight, 0.74 per cent. No cracks or deterioration. Clay brick (hard-burned), loss by weight, 0.18 per cent. No cracks or deterioration. Clay brick, (re-pressed) loss by weight, 0.22 per cent. No cracks or deterioration. (Indiana sandstone, loss by weight, .37 per cent. No cracks or deterioration.

Note.—The above tests were made by immersing in distilled water for 48 hours; then freezing at a temperature of 5 degrees F. for 12 hours; then immersing in water at 70 degrees F. for 8 hours. This repeated ten times, with freezings and thawings.

Absorption Test.—Sand-Lime brick, (common) 16.07 per cent. by weight. Sand-Lime brick (face) 9.00 per cent. by weight. Clay brick, (salmon) 16.88 per cent. by weight. Clay brick (hard-burned) 9.16 per cent. by weight. Clay brick, (re-pressed) 10.71 per cent. by weight. Indiana Sandstone, 5.66 per cent. by weight.

Note,—The above tests were made by saying for 48 hours at a temperature of 70 degrees F. and then immersing in distilled water for 48 hours.

Indiana Sandstone has been taken for comparison in making tests as it is recognized as one of the best and most popular building stones.

Acid Test.

Acid Test.—Action of Acidified Atmosphere.—Samples exposed to moist atmosphere of sulphuric, nitrous and carbonic acid for a period of 28 days, each sample washed daily with clean water so as to resemble the condition of the atmosphere in chemical works: white bricks would be subject to slight grey and wet periods. No effect from this test on sand-lime brick.

The same test as above was made with sulphurated hydrogen, and produced no effect on sand-lime brick.

Samples were separately immersed in solution of 1 per cent. and 5 per cent. of sulphuric, hydrochloric and nitric acids for 8 days and produced no alteration in sand-lime brick.

The same experiment was made by using 5 per cent., 10 per cent. and 50 per cent. of sulphuric, hydrochloric and nitric acids, with no effect on sand-lime brick in the 5 per cent. and 10 per cent. solution and only slight attack by the 50 per cent. solution.

Conclusions from these experiments, that sand-lime brick has great power of resisting the action of strong acids and that no atmospheric conditions are likely to corrode or disintegrate Sand-Lime Brick.

Corrosive Test.

Corrosive Test.—Sand-Lime brick was exposed to the corrosive action of a moist atmosphere containing sulphuric, nitric and carbonic acid for a period of 16 days, and washed with clean water daily without any effect on Sand-lime brick.

The same test was made for a period of 4 months without any effect on Sand-Lime brick.

Fire Test.—United States Government Arsenal, at Watertown, Mass., heated three Sand-Lime Bricks for a period of one hour over an open wood fire. Numerous cracks were found. Bricks were then crushed and showed an average ultimate strength of 4020 pounds per square inch.

R. W. Hunt & Company submitted a Sand-Lime Brick to a temperature of 2,000 degrees F. for one-half hour and it showed no bad effects and no indication of fusing.

Sand-Lime Brick is without exception a fair substitute for clay brick for all kinds of building, and is in many respects superior to it. For these authorities, who, as is well this reason the German municipal and say, in which John Stone a brake-known, are very strict in their specifications and requirements, are giving Sand-Lime Brick the preference more and more.

The following are some of the public buildings constructed with Sand-Lime Brick:—

No Sleep For The Kidneys.

Old people are especially liable to Kidney and Bladder Irritation. The organs are weakened by age. This starts up inflammation—blood is not properly purified as it goes to the kidneys—and the bladder is unable to retain the urine properly. There is a constant desire to urinate day and night—and sound, restful sleep is unknown.

BIFOCALS or Double Lenses

When a person must wear corrections for both far and near vision, two pair of glasses can be used or else bifocals. There are several forms of these, but the form most in use is the cement wafer, these having proved practically to be the most satisfactory. It takes a person some little time to get used to bifocals. Once however, accustomed to them, those who wear them are usually pleased and unwilling to take any other.

I keep a large assortment of lenses and cement wafers for rimless or rimmed frames always in stock.

James H. Hyde On the Stand In New York

Tells the Story of His Life to the Insurance Committee.

SUCCESSOR TO HIS FATHER

Traveled and Studies With This Object In View — A Salary of $30,000 Per Annum When 24 Years of Age, Which Was Increased to $100,000 When He Was 29—A Story of Graft in Insurance Business.

New York, Nov. 15.—James H. Hyde, former First Vice-President of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, was the most conspicuous figure at yesterday's session of the Armstrong Committee on Insurance Investigation. The first witness called was John McGuinness, employed by the Equitable Life, who was on the stand at adjournment Monday night.

His Father's Successor.

Mr. Hyde was the next witness. He testified that he was 29 years old, and became second vice-president of the Equitable one month after graduating from Harvard. He had always been brought up to believe his life work was to be the legitimate successor of his father, the founder of the Equitable. He had traveled and studied with that object in view. His father had instilled in him his views on life insurance. He was a director of the company two years before he graduated. From his earliest youth he had lived in a life insurance atmosphere, and had expected to make it his life work.

Declined Salary at First.

During his father's illness, James W. Alexander turned over to him little by little matters of detail. He did not receive a salary upon his first connection with the company. He was offered a salary, but declined. The president and various members of the executive committee then suggested that as he had qualified himself by two years' work, he should have a salary, and President Alexander in 1900 fixed it at $50,000. Mr. Alexander asked if this was agreeable to him (Hyde).

Salary Increased to $75,000.

In 1902, Gen. Louis Fitzgerald resigned as chairman of the finance committee, and Mr. Hyde was appointed to the chairmanship. For the added responsibilities falling on Mr. Hyde, his salary was advanced to $75,000. His duties constantly increased in the various departments, and in 1903 his salary was made $100,000, at which it remained until his resignation last spring. The witness never spoke to any of the officers or members of the executive committee, or in any way suggested an increase in his salary.

Mr. Hyde said the only political contribution of which he knew was that of $25,000 to Cornelius N. Bliss, treasurer of the Republican National Committee, in the last Presidential campaign. This contribution was solicited by H. C. Frick, said Mr. Hyde.

Thought Himself Generous.

Last summer, when the banking department called for the repayment of the $685,000, and the Equitable Life repudiated it, Mr. Hyde said Alexander and Mr. Jordan raised as much as they could and then he (Hyde) made up the balance, $212,000. He said he thought he was generous in this, as he had not received any benefit from the loan.

Fund to Buy Off Suits.

Mr. Hyde said that the objects of the mysterious $685,000 loan by the Mercantile Trust Co. to the Equitable Life Assurance Society were to buy off inconvenient suits, and to buy up the stock of the Equitable as it came into the market.

Mr. Hyde was asked if he was willing to serve the company at $75,000 salary, and he replied that he was, and he caused a laugh by remarking that he "did not think he could get it anywhere else." A list of Mr. Hyde's directorships, also his personal stock holdings in companies in which the Equitable was interested, was then presented and introduced in evidence. Mr. Hughes said it was not his purpose to go over the matters covered by Superintendent Hendricks' report. Mr. Hyde was asked if money could be obtained on his voucher without coming under the notice of any other officer. Witness said it could be done, and this method was put into effect by an order of the president.

The Geo. H. Squire Account.

Mr. Hyde knew only by hearsay of the George H. Squire trustee account. The syndicate to float the $50,000,000 International Mercantile Marine Co. was the syndicate in which Mr. Alexander asked Mr. Hyde to give G. H. Squire, trustee, a participation from the share of "J. H. Hyde and associates." His attention as vice-president of the Equitable Trust Co. was never called to the Squire account. He did not know of what Mr. Squire was trustee, and never inquired why Mr. Alexander wanted him to give George H. Squire, trustee, a participation. Mr. Hyde said he received a salary of $5,000 when he became vice-president of the Equitable Trust Co., and in 1903 this was advanced to $12,000. Of the International Mercantile Marine Syndicate, $250,000 was allotted to George H. Squire, trustee, by J. H. Hyde and associates. When Mr. Hyde made calls on the Squire account, the amount was borrowed from the Equitable Trust Co., but Mr. Hyde said he did not know about this. His curiosity as to the Squire account was not aroused when he was asked to make the allotment, but he has since learned that it was the purpose to apply the profits of this account to the payment of the $685,000 loan account of which J. W. Alexander and Thomas D. Jordan were trustees. Instead of profits there was a loss. Mr. Hughes said that matter would be taken up later.

Where is McIntyre?

Mr. Hyde was asked where W. McIntyre, former fourth vice-president of the Equitable, was, and he replied that he had seen by the newspapers that he was in Boston.

PLUMBERS' COMBINE.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Citizens who have wondered in recent years why the cost of plumbing has increased so rapidly found in the revelations before Police Magistrate Denison yesterday one explanation of the cause. The Secretary of the Master Plumbers' Association admitted in the witness-box that when half a dozen plumbers were invited to tender on a certain job they not only met in solemn conclave and decided what the amount of the lowest tender should be, and who the successful tenderer should be, but that after the arduous duty had been performed the men who figured on the job voted themselves a bonus by way of compensation for their labor, which the man who got the contract had to pay.

Bonus of $200.

In one case this bonus amounted to as much as $200, and in the case of the Normal School, a Government job, those men who figured on the job and did not get the contract, apparently voted themselves $150 each, which the successful contractor had to disburse to them. This action was taken, as witness admitted, without the cognizance of the men who had to pay the contractor, whose only protection was the "plumber's conscience" as to what would be a fair amount.

The Supply Agreement.

The agreement with the supply houses was produced, and recorded in the minute book of the Master Plumbers' Association showed that efforts had been made to enforce its provisions, prohibiting the supply houses selling to the general public or giving non-members supplies, except at an increase of 20 per cent. over the price charged to members. A proviso permits the supply houses to quote prices for information to the general public, but they must quote a price 25 per cent. in excess of the actual selling price.

The Accused.

The defendants in the case are: W. J. Storey, W. Bush, F. Lawlor, Charles Corner, Fred Armstrong, P. Hayes, R. W. Harrison, C. R. Beavis, K. J. Allison, W. H. Meredith, Lewis Lagrow and W. J. Mason.

Crown Attorney Curry is prosecuting and Messrs. W. R. Riddell, K.C., G. G. Smoke, A. F. Lobb and John J. O'Donoghue appeared for the defence. The charge is having interfered with the business of John B. Reeves and conspiring to enhance the price of plumbers' supplies.

POLICE CAPTURE THEM.

C. A. Hellems, Alleged Forger, Arrested With Woman at Falls.

Niagara Falls, Nov. 15.—C. A. Hellems and Mrs. Winship, for whom the police all over the province have been searching, were captured here Monday night. Hellems is wanted on four charges of forging checks.

At Woodstock he got fifty dollars on two checks on the Marino National Bank of Buffalo, to which he is said to have forged the name of W. T. Marten & Co., wholesale clothing manufacturers of Buffalo. He gave his own name as C. A. Holmes. At Simcoe he cashed a forged check under the name of C. A. Hallams, and at Port Dover another one under the name of C. J. Maby.

At Woodstock he and the Winship woman abandoned the latter's little boy, who has since been recovered by his father.

Graf Waldersee's Ill Luck.

New York, Nov. 15.—The Hamburg-American liner Graf Waldersee, after spending two days on a mud bank in the upper harbor, yesterday, just after starting, had her steering gear disabled and she was forced to signal for tugs to tow her to her pier.

An Upheaval Throughout Old Russia

Revolt Spreads to Siberia and Extreme Points of Empire.

RIOTS AT VLADIVOSTOCK

Russia Must Again Face an Industrial Crisis as a General Strike Has Been Ordered — Workmen's Delegates Give Reasons For Again Precipitating a Reign of Terror—Poles Not For Separation.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 15.—In view of the condemnation to death of many of the sailors who mutinied at Kronstadt, the delay in carrying out the reforms outlined in the Imperial manifesto, the proclamation of martial law in Poland and other repressive acts, the council of workmen's delegates have decided to proclaim a general strike throughout Russia to-day.

Upheaval Travels Far.

The upheaval in Russia following the promulgation of the reform manifesto has now reached Vladivostock and Yeniseisk and other extreme points of the Empire. Confirmation has been obtained from various sources of the reported uprising at Vladivostock, where affairs were quite critical. Many persons were killed and the foreigners have taken refuge on the ships in the harbor. Many public buildings, stores and houses were pillaged and set fire to by the mob.

The American embassy has received from Consul Greener at Vladivostock details of the outbreak which began Sunday afternoon immediately after the departure of the Russian armored cruisers Gromobol and Rossia. The people who had gathered in great crowds, began to break windows and pillage and in the evening set fire to the theatre, the Golden Horn Hotel, to several blocks of Chinese buildings in the northern part of the city, and to the officers' residences and to other buildings in the eastern quarter. The fires burned all night. Seventy buildings were consumed. Troops were summoned to restore order and fired frequent volleys, killing many persons.

Mr. Greener added that twenty-four merchants vessels in the harbor were now crowded with inhabitants.

A Criminal Move.

The despatch sent out by the Warsaw committee yesterday said:

"The official note justifying the proclamation of martial law in Poland as ostensibly for the purpose of frustrating a separatist movement is a criminal manoeuvre of the Government, intended to divide the Polish from the Russian revolutionary movement. We affirm that the revolutionary Polish proletariat, together with the revolutionary Russian proletariat seek common freedom and not separation."

Succeeds Trepoff.

Prince Urusoff, former Governor of Tver, Central Russia, was yesterday appointed Assistant Minister of the Interior, in succession to Gen. Trepoff.

Policemen's Plunder Retires Them.

Odessa, Nov. 15.—Considerable uneasiness continues to pervade this city. Looting and attacks on individuals are reported to have occurred in various quarters. A number of policemen have resigned, and it is openly asserted that they secured sufficient plunder during the disturbances to make them independent.

Hungry, Mobs Riot.

Yeniseisk, Siberia, Nov. 15.—The troops here were forced to intervene yesterday and scatter a mob which was attacking the treasury, the police station and the residences of the rich. The scarcity of food was one of the causes of the outbreak.

Over 100 Killed.

Odessa, Nov. 15.—News has reached here of fresh disorders in the small town of Krivoirog, in the Government of Ekaterinesav, in which over a hundred persons were killed and the town was sacked and half burned.

Two Men Turn on Gas.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—John Kelly, a stableman employed in O'Leary's livery stable, Spadina avenue, was found in his room, 25 Chestnut street, yesterday morning. He was in bed with the gas turned on. Coroner McCallum did not think an inquest necessary.

John Joseph Wilson, 19 Kentilworth crescent, attempted to suicide yesterday afternoon with a razor. He will recover.

Mark Pearson, who appears to have no home, was found unconscious in the office of P. C. Larkin, 40 East Richmond street, where he had been allowed to sleep for the night. The gas was turned on. He is recovering.

Starvation Threatens.

Halifax, Nov. 15.—Advices from St. Pierre, Miquelon, state that a serious condition of affairs exists there. The place has a population of six thousand, and the failure of the fisheries, and the consequent dullness of trade, have caused great destitution, and the inhabitants see starvation staring them in the face unless the French Government lends a hand towards improving business and other conditions.

The residents have commenced to emigrate to Canada and return to France.

Warrant For T. W. Lawson.

Boston, Nov. 15.—Counsel representing Charles W. Barron, stated yesterday that Judge Wentworth of the Municipal Court, had decided to issue a warrant for the arrest of Thomas W. Lawson, on a charge of criminal libel preferred by Mr. Barron. Before the warrant had been served an agreement between counsel was affected whereby Mr. Lawson is to appear in court next Saturday. Meanwhile counsel for Mr. Lawson, the defendant, will apply for a warrant for the arrest of Mr. Barron for criminal libel.

Ontario Horticultural Society's Show Largest Ever On Continent.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—The Ontario Horticultural Exhibition and Honey Show was opened yesterday afternoon in Massey Hall. Hon. Nelson Monteith and Hon. Mr. Whitney were present at the opening. The show is claimed to be the largest of its kind on the continent. There have been flower shows at which there were a greater number of exhibits of superior quality, but no other show has had such a large number of first-class entries in all the different departments. The fruit is particularly well represented. The entries and the number and quality of the samples is superior to any previous year.

WHO ARE THEY?

Brockville Adulterators of Foods Are, However, Convicted and Fined.

Brockville, Nov. 15.—The Department of Inland Revenue has made an onslaught quietly on several Brockville merchants, on the reports of the Dominion analyst, charging them with selling adulterated foods and spices.

A representative of the Department collected samples of goods on sale some time ago, and the Government analyst did the rest.

The imposition of fines ranged from $10 to $25, which have been paid on demand.

Now the retailers will get after the wholesalers to make their losses good.

Drowned Chasing Muskrats.

Edmonton, Nov. 15.—Two young sons of C. Hesing, a farmer at Stony Plain Centre, were drowned while chasing muskrats over the ice on a lake.

Some Anecdotes Told About Earl Grey

SENATOR KIRCHHOFFER TELLS A FEW INTERESTING STORIES.

Earl Grey Spoken of in the Vernacular at Ottawa as "The Real Thing"—Entirely Free From the Vice of "Incuriousness" — His Excellency's "Wants to Know" of Value to the Dominion of Canada.

Hon. J. N. Kirchhoffer has written for The London Outlook a personal sketch of Lord Grey as he is known by Ottawa officialdom, which differs materially from other biographical notes on Canada's Governor-General. The article is, in part, as follows:

It may be said that all Governors-General of Canada have been popular. The office itself is popular, partly because it symbolizes the Crown to a loyal people and partly because it has been occupied by a line of hospitable and agreeable notables, of whom not a few have been men of brilliant parts. Canadians relished as an entertainment the wit and vivacity of Lord Dufferin, valued the steadiness of Lord Lorne, admired the grand seigneur in Lord Lansdowne, thoroughly liked and respected Lord Aberdeen, and were delighted both by Lord Minto's soldiery and sportsmanlike qualities and his remarkable development in statesmanship.

Earl Grey "The Real Thing."

Perhaps it was because each of these Governors seemed peculiarly identified with some distinct school of thought, or some set, or some party, or some method of taking pleasure, that none was, as Earl Grey is, generally spoken of in the vernacular as "the real thing." Canadian eulogy can say no more. He has insisted perhaps less than any of his predecessors on the divinity which doth hedge a Governor-General without any air of playing to the gallery, if a gallery can be said to exist in a country so little cumbered by either nobbery or snobbery. As one Radical of the mild Canadian variety, trying to define the Earl's charm, said, his art consists in his seeming uncommonly approachableness in consequence of himself approaching all sorts of people with genuine interest.

Free From Damning Trait.

But his most remarked quality, and it may account more than any other for his success, is an entire freedom from the vice of incuriousness, which Kipling selects as the damning trait of many Britons. Lord Grey always "wants to know." Now almost everybody who does things and knows things likes to give information about them to sincere seekers for it. A reasonable inquisitiveness is as much a Canadian as a Yankee characteristic. He who possesses and evinces it, who takes and gives information readily, may be said to "belong" all over North America. Lord Grey's shrewd curiosity is of great value to him, and not a little to the country. It helps him as a host—it often leads him afield for inspections, occasionally enables him to diffuse useful information, and it prompts an inclusive hospitality. Not only the official staff, but the unofficial friends, scout for interesting guests.

To give one instance of many, Lord Grey greatly pleased the whole tribe of growers and dealers and shippers concerned with wheat, the great Canadian staple, by imparting, in a public speech, some of the valuable information gained in table-talk with Mr. Nosse, the Consul-General of Japan.

At the same time he remarked, on the same excellent authority, that British Columbia salmon-curers might profit by remembering that the heads, tails and fins, now treated as refuse of the canneries, are highly valued as food by the Japanese and Chinese. Why not save for, and export to that demand? "Horse sense," says the typical Canadian, rubbing his eyes to behold a Governor of parts so practical.

Value of Curiosity.

As an instance of the value of curiosity, not long ago there met at the Governor-General's table two men of diametrically opposite creeds, Mr. Ralph Smith, M. P., of British Columbia, represents, cherishes and is cherished by the extremely Radical and aggressive Labor interest of his province, three thousand miles from Ottawa, on the Pacific coast; Col. Pellatt, of Toronto, interested in street railways, lighting companies, Niagara Falls electrical development, steamboats, railways, a South American power company and his regiment, the Queen's Own Rifles. Who could have suspected him of being also one of the largest shareholders in those coal mines of Mr. Smith's bailiwick, concerning whose labor condition the Governor-General asked a question. Mr Ralph Smith replied shrewdly that the gentleman on the other side of His Excellency could discourse instructively on the subject, as he paid out three or four million dollars a year to British Columbia labor. "At the rate of three to four dollars a day to each of the downtrodden miners," said the colonel. How fortunate for the Governor. Both sides of the great labor controversy present, and ready to talk. It may be safely assumed that Lord Grey went to bed that night knowing more of the matter than he could have gathered in a month by any other plan.

A Sour Foreman.

Incidental to this discussion, there was some talk of the Niagara Falls electrical development. Lord Grey had heard something of the enterprise. It involves a prodigious tunnel under the huge cataracts above the Great Fall. The exit of that tunnel is in the middle of the Horseshoe Fall, 150 feet under its brink, and curtained by a torrent 20 feet thick, the whole of which pours down 1,400,000 gallons a second, or the volume of about 320 rivers each discharging as much water as the Thames at Teddington. The tunnel will carry down to the lower river a current 27 feet a second, and equivalent in volume to sixteen Thames. A fortnight later the Governor, his wife, daughters and suite had all gone down far under the furious river in oilskins, and witnessed that tremendous commotion of spray and compressed air which is visible from the tunnel's mouth. What with occasional dropping of bits of stone, the dimness of the tunnel, which cannot be wholly lighted by electricity because explosions by dynamite wrecks electric lamps, and a sense of the huge cataract overhead, it is not surprising that the workmen are not fond of seeing visitors, especially ladies, in the great drift. Indeed they have evolved a superstition on this point, perhaps because of an accident. At any rate, visitors are supposed to bring or threaten bad luck. "It would be different if they had any business here," said a sour foreman.

How the Countess Won Him.

Perhaps the countess had heard of all this. So she proceeded to have business there. She wished to lay a brick, one of the millions in the lining. The workmen watched her take a trowel, work up deftly her allotment of mortar and place her brick in good shape. A lady capable of that feat could scarcely be dogged by demons of bad luck injurious to respectable workmen. Lady Evelyn enhanced this favorable view by skilfully imitating her mother.

Her brick being well and truly laid, the Governor-General desired to put one in, but it occurred to him, fortunately, that however permissable bricklaying by the ladies might be, no man might lay one in that tunnel without infringing the iron rule of the bricklayers' union against work by non-members. It would never do for him to cause a strike! Could not the members present waive a point and admit him to the union then and there, on payment of the usual entrance fee? They could and did. He laid his brick to general satisfaction, and congratulated himself on being thereafter free to take up the trade in any part of Canada.

A Great Irrigation Project.

A great irrigation project, involving an expenditure of about $35,000,000 has been authorized by the Secretary of State for India. The area commanded by the canals is about 6,250 square miles, although only a small part of it will be reached for a number of years to come. In this area, it is estimated, about 3,000 square miles will be irrigated. The water will be taken from the Jhelum River, in which there is now unappropriated at the site of the headworks a flow of 5,600 to 7,900 cubic feet per second. It is believed that the investment of public funds in these works, great as the sum may be, is well warranted by the economic advantages of the undertaking, and the reasonable assurance of ample interest payments

Shunned Obligations.

Two Scotch fishermen, Jamie and Sandy, belated and befogged on a rough water, were in some trepidation lest they should never get ashore again. At last Jamie said:

"Sandy, I'm steering, and think you'd better put up a bit of prayer."

"I don't know how," said Sandy.

"If ye don't I'll chuck ye overboard," said Jamie.

Sandy began: "Oh, Lord, I never asked anything of ye for fifteen years, and if ye'll only get us safe back I'll never trouble ye again, and——"

"Whisht, Sandy!" said Jamie, "the boat's touched shore; don't be beholden to anybody."

Spotted Dresses.

For removing grease from a woolen or silk dress try sprinkling the spot with warmed flour. Rub the surface quite hard, then brush the flour off and repeat the process. The spot will gradually disappear. French chalk may also be used for removing grease. Rub the spot well with the chalk and then hang the garment in a dark closet for a few days. If the spot has not entirely disappeared you may then repeat the process.

Women

Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets Hit the Right Spot.

When a woman gets all run down, feels tired and out of sorts it is pretty hard to tell what part of her peculiar organism is causing the trouble.

She takes different medicines, but they do her little good. They don't hit the right spot.

It is useless, for example, taking a stimulant to heal inflammation or correct an irregularity.

Whit the exception of Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women, no compound remedy for the female sex exists to-day. By compound remedy we mean one containing the alterative and tonic medical ingredients necessary to regulate and strengthen every organ of the female system.

And that is just what these tablets do.

In taking the ordinary remedies you may miss the very ingredients your system requires. These tablets contain every ingredient. They go to the weak spot wherever it may be.

It is not necessary to guess at the cause of the trouble and perhaps take the wrong medicine half a dozen times. It is not necessary to even know exactly the cause of the trouble.

Dr. Hugo's remedy contains something for every organ of the female system; something for the stomach to help indigestion—for the bowels to cure constipation—for the nervous system to tone up the nerves—for the liver and kidneys to make them active in carrying off impurities—something for the uterine system to stop all drains, allay inflammation and make women regular.

The tablets are sure to go to the right spot and get there the first time.

The remedy is now recognized beyond doubt or question as the best adapted to the special needs of sick and run-down women, no matter what the cause.

NELSON AND HIS COFFIN.

Made of Mainmast of French Flagship L'Orient to His Order.

Before Nelson left London to meet the foe he crushed at Trafalgar he felt the hand of death upon him. He wrote to his brother that "the next time he met the French and it came to battle he would pay forfeit with his life." That presentiment had since then settled deeply into his mind and, with his thoughts full of it, on the 9th or 10th of September he sent a message to Messrs. Pettit & Son, undertakers, of Brewer street, Golden Square, on whose premises his coffin—made of part of the mainmast of the French flagship L'Orient, blown up at the battle of the Nile—had for the past five years been lying stowed away, that "he would probably want it soon." Being in London for the last time, he took the opportunity of going and looking at the coffin by himself.

I have often heard my father tell (said the grandson of old Mr. Pettit, the head of the firm), that when he was a boy his father one morning prior to the battle of Trafalgar told him that if he and his younger brother would wait in the passage adjoining the warehouse they would see the great Lord Nelson, who was coming to see his coffin. Lord Nelson duly arrived in a yellow chariot, and, passing quickly to the back of the warehouse, stood gazing at the coffin for some minutes and then left.

This same coffin Nelson six years before had kept for months in his cabin on board the Foudroyant. It was Capt. Ben Hallowell's present to his chief after the battle of the Nile, "in order that he might be buried in one of his own trophies." A piece of L'Orient's mainmast when the big French three-decker blew up dropped on the deck of Capt. Hallowell's ship, the Swiftsure, and the coffin had been made from the wood (fir) of the mast, sawn into half-inch planks and fastened together with spike drawn from the cheeks of the mast, the whole, a contemporary description says, "being covered on the outside with fine black cloth and lined inside with white silk stuffed with cotton."

ENGLAND'S NEW WARSHIP.

Dreadnought Will Be the Largest Man-of-War Afloat.

The keel plate of the Dreadnought, which is to be the most powerful battleship in the world, has been laid at Portsmouth, England, says a London cable. Her displacement will be 18,000 tons. She will be armed with ten 12-inch guns of the latest type, each capable of throwing a 960-pound shell a distance of twenty miles, with a muzzle velocity of upward of 2,500 feet a second. Her striking power will be as great as any three battleships of ordinary type at such a range as that at which the engagement opened in the battle of Tsushima Strait, for no other warship hitherto has mounted more than four 12-inch guns, so there is nothing afloat that can stand up against her in a sea action.

About 11,000 tons of armor will be built into her hull, and the Dreadnought will be driven by turbines at twenty knots' speed. For the first time on record on a battleship the officers' quarters will be placed forward, the designer's chief difficulty being to provide accommodation for the 900 officers and men, owing to the great demands on her space made by ammunition, storage of coal, etc.

She will carry 500 tons of projectiles for her main guns, 200 tons of cordite charges, 300 tons of stores, 2,500 tons of coal and guns to a weight of 600 tons without mountings. She is designed to be a floating fortress of the most formidable type.

New Zealand's Premier.

Mr. Seddon, the Premier of New Zealand, says M. A. P., as everyone knows, is equally at home when dictating to the House of Parliament, haranguing an electioneering meeting, opening a bridge, or laying a foundation-stone. Here, however, is a new and recent experience. Whilst opening a railway near Blenheim, New Zealand, Mr. Seddon received a deputation of farmers. After despatching the business brought forward, and before the deputation withdrew, Mr. Seddon turned round and asked if he could do anything else for them. The weather had been very dry, and one wit asked if he could fetch along some rain. Mr. Seddon readily replied, "I'll attend to that also when I return to Wellington." Hardly had he got back to the capital of the colony when welcome rain began to fall throughout the country, and Mr. Seddon—quick-witted enough—wired to the spokesman of the deputation, "Have attended to the matter of rain." It was thought Mr. Seddon's health was on the decline, and that after holding the New Zealand Premiership for twelve years he would have to resign, taking the lighter position of High Commissioner to the colony in London. But after eighteen months of indifferent health he is himself again, and is preparing for another big fight at the general elections for the colony to be held in December next.

A Better Way.

"Did he make his money grinding down the faces of the poor?"

"No; grinding down the faces of the rich. He is a beauty doctor."

One That Misses.

"Do you think dreams ever come true."

"I know they do."

"Sure that isn't one?"

Some of Them.

That upon all we well may doubt
Descend the rain, and hail,
Because the just must change about—
The unjust are in jail.

Too Literal.

"What did they arrest him for?"

"The doctor told him he ought to take on flesh, and he stole a quarter of beef."

Easy to Take.

"At last he has struck a doctor who just suits him."

"Must have prescribed the rest cure."

NELSON, MAN AND HERO

WORLD HAS HELD NO RIVALS FOR HIM AND SHAKESPEARE.

Collingwood's Tribute as True To-day As It Was a Hundred Years Ago—A Lover of Old England—His Death-bed—"Kiss Me, Hardy"—Nelson's Religion in Private Diary—His Last Prayer to His Country.

"There was only one Nelson," said Collingwood when his chief lay dead in the cockpit after Trafalgar; and the hundred years that have elapsed since then have only served to justify the tribute of one great seaman to the greatest seaman the world has ever seen. In the recent Empire-wide celebrations of the centenary this idea was well exemplified in them all. England has had her Heroes of peace and war; to the history of the world she has contributed hundreds of famous names. But other countries have their great men, too, and for every great Englishman but two, France or Germany or Spain or Italy or Greece might match a favorite son. For Shakespeare and for Nelson the world has held no rivals, and such was their greatness that whatever the future holds in store, their glory can never be eclipsed. Nelson's genius cannot be exaggerated. Nelson was not an immaculate hero, and on the brightness of his shield there are two spots, that someone has likened to spots on the sun; but posterity has never loved him the less for them. It is not now that they should be remembered against him.

Nelson, the Lover of England.

Comparisons between Napoleon and Wellington are frequently made to the disadvantage of the latter; but there is one comparison between Nelson and the French hero that we desire to consider. Leaving aside the question of their relative abilities as men of war, why did they fight? In the French army there was no soldier whose love of France did not equal Napoleon's. The great general fought for his own glory and his own power. His country was merely the instrument of his ambitions. Glance now at a letter Nelson wrote to Collingwood:

"We can, my dear Coll., have no little jealousies; we have only one great object in view, that of annihilating our enemies, and getting a glorious peace for our country. No man has more confidence in another than I have in you. We are one, and I hope ever shall be."

After the terrible night at Teneriffe, when he lost his right arm, he wrote his chief, Admiral Sir John Jervis: "I am become a burden to my friends, and useless to my country. I became dead to the world; I go hence and am no more seen. I hope you will be able to give me a frigate to convey the remains of my carcase to England. God bless you, my dear sir." But before the ink was dry he began to recover from the awful depression of a supposed lost life.

On His Deathbed.

These extracts show Nelson to have put love of country before every other motive. In his dying hours his intense patriotism shone forth, and with it a gleam of that staunch religious faith that was so strong a characteristic. After he had been carried below, mortally wounded, he refused to allow the surgeons to attend him, but bade them bind up the wounds of his suffering sailors. "For to me," he said, "you can do nothing." There he lay, fanning himself and assuaging a fiery thirst with lemonade, and at every cheer of his crew as desk after desk flashed over his face. There is nothing in literature more moving than the simple account of his death. Capt. Hardy, came down to the old hero as he lay breathing his last. He roused himself to ask:

"How goes the day with us?"

"Very well," replied Hardy; "ten ships have struck, but five of the van have tacked, and are coming down upon the Victory; but I have called two or three fresh ships round, and have no doubt we shall give them a drubbing."

"I hope," said Nelson, "none of our ships have struck?"

"There is no fear of that," replied Hardy.

"I am a dead man," then said Nelson; "I am going fast; it will be all over with me soon."

"Kiss me, Hardy."

Hardy then went up to the deck, but returned in about 10 minutes, and, taking Nelson by the hand, congratulated him, even in the arms of death, on his glorious victory; adding that fourteen or fifteen of the enemy were taken.

"That's well," replied Nelson; "but I bargained for twenty"; and then, in a stronger voice added, "Anchor, Hardy, anchor. Do you make the signal. Kiss me, Hardy," said he.

Hardy knelt down and kissed his cheek.

"Now I am satisfied," said Nelson; "thank God, I have done my duty."

His articulation now became difficult; but he was repeatedly heard to say, "Thank God, I have done my duty," and expired at 4.30 without a groan.

Nelson's Religion.

In his private diary, Oct. 8, with the enemy in sight and battle certain, Nelson wrote this passage:

"May the great God, whom I worship grant to my country, and for the benefit of Europe in general, a great and glorious victory; and may no misconduct in anyone tarnish it; and may humanity after victory be the predominant feature of the British fleet. For myself, individually, I commit my life to Him who made me, and may His blessing light upon my endeavors for serving my country faithfully. To Him I resign myself and the just cause which is entrusted to me to defend."

His Last Prayer.

His last message to his country was a prayer that in the event of his death, Lady Hamilton and his daughter, Horatia, might be provided for. This great man evinced, first, a sense of his dependence upon a higher power; secondly, a strong affection for his fellows; and, finally a patriotism that was superior to all other qualities. Thus it came that he was a hero.

THE LOST LEADER.

Just for a ribband to stick in his coat—
Found the one gift of which fortune bereft us,
Lost all the others she lets us devote.

They, with the gold to give, doled him out silver;
So much was theirs who so little allowed.
How all our copper had gone for his service!
Rags, were they purple, his heart had been proud!

We, that had loved him so, followed him, honored him,
Lived in his mild and magnificent eye,
Learned in his great language, caught his clear accents,
Made him our pattern to live and to die!

Shakespeare was of us, Milton was for us,
Burns, Shelley, were with us—they watch from their graves!
He alone breaks from the van and the freemen,
He alone sinks to the rear and the slaves!

We shall march prospering — not through his presence;
Songs may inspirit us—not from his lyre;
Deeds will be done, while he boasts his quiescence,
Still bidding crouch whom the rest bade aspire.

Blot out his name, then, record one lost soul more,
One task more declined, one more footpath untrod,
One more devil's triumph and sorrow for angels,
One wrong more to man, one more insult to God!

Life's night begins. Let him never come back to us.
There would be doubt, hesitation and pain,
Forced praise on our part—the glimmer of twilight;
Never glad confident morning again!

Best fight on well—for we taught him—strike gallantly,
Menace our heart ere we master his own;
Then let him receive the new knowledge and wait us,
Pardoned in heaven, the first by the throne!

Robert Browning wrote this poem in a spirit of fervid republicanism when he was thirty years old. Wordsworth, to whom there is reference in the verses, was in his youth an ardent republican, but later became a Tory and accepted a position as stamp distributer under the Government. He was also poet laureate for a few years. Browning was anxious to express his resentment at what he considered Wordsworth's defection from the cause of liberty.

The TERRIBLE PANGS OF DYSPEPSIA CAN BE CURED

To be dyspeptic is to be miserable, hopeless, confused and depressed in mind, forgetful, irresolute, drowsy, languid and useless.

Constipation, headache, heartburn, sour stomach, distress after eating, belching of wind, faintness, and dizziness and palpitation of the stomach are a few of the many distressing symptoms of the poor, weak dyspeptic.

Dyspepsia is a disease that in one way or another remembers nearly every sufferer, and the only way to rid of it is to tone up the stomach, liver, kidneys and blood. This will be quickly done by the use of

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

It regulates the stomach, stimulates the digestive and assimilative powers to healthful digestion, removes acidity, purifies the blood, and tones up the entire system.

Mrs. M. A. McNally, Brook Village, N.S., writes: "Last winter I was troubled and was fast losing flesh—eating did not seem to do any good. I suffered from dyspepsia, loss of appetite and headache. I tried everything I could get but to no purpose. I finally started to use Burdock Blood Bitters, and from the very first dose I felt relief coming. I continued using it and now without any ill after effects. It gives me great pleasure to recommend Burdock Blood Bitters, for I feel it saved my life."

SPOOKS IN ROYAL PALACES.

Ghost of Virgin Queen Seen at Windsor Castle Ten Years Ago.

There is one subject on which it is impossible to induce Sir Richard to talk, namely, about the ghost of Queen Elizabeth, who is supposed to haunt the library at Windsor Castle, within the Marquise de Fontenoy. The ghost of the virgin queen is asserted to have been seen there ten years ago by a young officer of the Grenadier Guards on duty at the castle. Capt. St. Leger Glyn, grandson of the first Lord Wolverton, and even by no matter of ghost and ghost-hunter, a woman as the late Empress Frederick of Germany, when ever staying with her mother at Windsor Castle, would spend all the time that she could spare in the library. The empress was quite positive about the matter, and as Sir Richard had received much kindness at her hands, it is probable that he was reluctant to seem to cast doubt upon any assertion that she might make.

Empress Frederick was, however, by no means the only personage of importance to be imbued with the belief that Windsor Castle—portions of which are more than eight hundred years old—is haunted. For the wife of the present Archbishop of Canterbury, who accompanied him to Canada last year and who is, moreover, the daughter of the late Archbishop Tait of Canterbury, a woman imbued with a vast amount of piety and common sense, vouches for the fact of having seen in the close of the deanery of St. George's Chapel the ghost of King Charles I., who met his death on the scaffold and who lies entombed in the vaults beneath the chapel. The apparition was seen by her on the evening of January 30, which is the anniversary of his execution, and Mrs. Davidson's testimony is corroborated by quite a number of other residents of the castle, to whom the ill-fated king has likewise appeared, usually on the anniversary of his death. The ghost of Herne the hunter, when seen roaming under the trees, many centuries old, of the Home Park of Windsor, has for centuries been regarded as foreshadowing a death in the reigning house.

All the ghost of King Edward's palaces are supposed to be haunted by supernatural occupants. Thus, at Holyrood, where so many deeds of violence have been perpetrated, the ghost of Rizzio, the murdered favorite of Mary Queen of Scots, is supposed to promenade the gloomy old galleries after dark; and it is noteworthy that, although an immense sum of money has been spent in rendering the palace fit for royal habitation, any member of the reigning family, if forced to spend a night in the capital of Scotland, prefers to Holyrood an hotel or one of the country houses of the great nobles of the neighborhood.

Hampton Court Palace has its more than one occasion in the last two centuries witnessed a sudden exodus of the numerous tenants and servants living in the place, in consequence of the antics of a spectre alleged to be that of Queen Anne Boleyn, who was beheaded by her husband, King Henry VIII.

It is all very well to laugh this; but servants do not give up palatial dwellings, rent free, and with immense reluctance relinquish so great and highly prized a privilege as free apartments in a royal palace for the sake of mere fancy or imagination; and it may be mentioned that there are official records to show that in the reign of King Edward II. the corporation of the City of London paid for twelve thousand masses to be said for the repose of the soul of Queen Anne Boleyn, with the object of "laying her ghost," in spite of which the latter continues to haunt the palace of Hampton Court to this day.

Gen. Booth's Successor.

This description of Gen. Booth's married life makes an interesting supplement to the account of his work which appeared in last week's M. A. P. The general's married life was stormy, the courting of the young couple was romantic and hectic with difficulties, and the letters passed between them were singularly affectionate and spiritual after the marriage. William Booth, stimulated by his enthusiastic wife, thus guided a ministerial likelihood with the chance of promotion to preach the byways and alleys of London. Booth's first attempt at speaking frightened her husband and began a series of platform women. She ran to a chapel. He started on the Salvation Army as the Christian solution of the old tent in the Quakers' burial ground that Lecklean. This movement saw by persecution. Frequently his life was in danger from the mob. Both he became old he led the marches and processions in the open air, and his great height and striking face always identified him as the leader. He brought a storm of sticks and stones. His servants do not collect an idea of the man. He is tall and soldierly yet grey eyes alight with kindly and courage, a noble shaped Iron-Duke head, a long, firm, well-shaped mouth half hidden under a flowing beard and moustache, until a bald head covered with white hair. He has no mercy. A friend roughly left him a few years ago without means. He drives no agony from the Salvation Army, he wears one suit of clothes a whole year, and his waistcoat is red jersey. The tall, unpolished hat forms the sole insignia of "the general," and when he has finished with it no ring shop would give twopence for it. He has no politics; all his thoughts and aims are for the advancement of the religion he preaches—for that he sacrificed ordinary comfort and the chance of prolonging life much beyond the boundary of years he has reached. As he pathetically says: "My wife is in heaven and I have no home, merely a place where I keep some furniture." In spite of success and affection that surround him, Gen. Booth is a lonely man.

"Sea" Water Power.

Buffalo, Nov. 11.—At yesterday's meeting of the International Waterways Commission, Chairman Ernest Taintor, after hearing arguments for a couple of hours, that the commission would not favor granting permits for the use of more than 10,000 cubic feet of water at the Falls and that amount would have to satisfy all the interests concerned. Mr. Pennypacker the determination of the commission to preserve the interest of navigation regardless of consequence to any person or corporation.

Engineers for the commission testified that the use of 5,000 cubic feet of water per second would lower the level of Lake Superior about one-fifth of a foot and that the use of 6,000 cubic feet would lower it one-third of a foot.

FEDERATION OF LABOR

President Gompers Addresses Convention of Organized Employees Here.

Pittsburg, Nov. 14.—Old Carnegie hall was crowded yesterday when President Samuel Gompers met the American Federation of Labor in order for the opening of the annual convention. All the delegates representing every state in the union, Canada, England, and other foreign countries were present.

President Gompers stated that the 118 international unions in the Federation consist of, approximately, 27,000 local unions of the respective trades now existing. He deplored the fact that ignorance, vice and bitter antagonisms have been directed against our humanizing movement by a number of so-called "civic" associations and citizens' leagues. These associations, or their unscrupulous and temporary greed again, associate themselves in organization for the purpose of depriving workers of that right and benefit.

Condition in Canada.

Speaking of the conditions of labor in Canada, he said:

"The condition of the labor movement of the Dominion of Canada is constantly growing and becoming of a more satisfactory character, not only to our movement in the United States, but to the workers of the Dominion themselves, despite the fact that they have the same contention and opposition to confront us. In the region to which I had in addition thereto an element which advocated a labor movement isolated from that of the movement of American continent. The rest of the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress call attention to the fact that the movement is now practically confined to but one person who finds it to tour the Dominion as an agent of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. The officers confidently expect that in the near future this division will be entirely eliminated by reason of the growing intelligence of the workmen, who, in the beginning, attempted to enroll themselves in such an isolated body, but who have become convinced of its folly and have joined the international trade union movement."

International Friendship.

Referring to international progress and brotherhood of labor, Mr. Gompers said:

"In no country have the workers more than those of Great Britain been our own; and to comment further on the bond of amity and fraternity, and kindly to be helpful to our fellow workers of the world, the labor parliament of Great Britain—the British Trade Unions in their congress—sent their ambassadors of peace to this convention of the American Federation of Labor, in the persons of William Mosses and David Gilmour. We extend to them a thousand welcomes."

Attempt to Buy Witness.

Montreal, Nov. 14.—A sensation was caused in the Gallery election case yesterday morning when a very respectable looking witness named Denis Maher said he had been offered $50 to come up to the trial and give evidence against Mr. Gallery. He swore that he had replied to the offer, which was made by a man named George Gagnon, that "he would do anything to see Gallery hanged," but he had refused to reply to the invitation and had not gone near the petitioner's solicitors to give any evidence.

THE ZAMBESI BRIDGE.

Highest in the World and Built of Steel —Length 650 Feet.

The Zambesi bridge, or the Victoria Falls bridge, as it is variously called, is a record bridge in many respects, says J. Hartley Knight in the engineering Magazine for October. It is the highest—420 feet—in the world, and it was built in the shortest time recorded for such a work—six nineteen weeks. Sir Charles Metcalfe once declared that no other bridge of its size and importance had ever been built so cheaply.

The total length of the bridge is 650 feet, of which the central steel segments for 500 feet between the pin centres on the two banks, the handsome lattice made up of the two chord spans. The great centre span rises in a graceful parabolic arch to the centre, the spring of which starts from the tops of the main booms. The vertical rise to the crown is 90 feet. The main span is made of twenty bays each 25 feet long, and lateral stability was secured by a wide spread at the foot of the bridge.

At the rail level the distance between girder centres is 37 feet 6 inches, whereas at the bases the width between pin centres is 50 feet.

The roadway projects beyond the side girders so as to allow a clear 30 feet between parapets. The bridge is of steel, and as it is painted with grey paint it is rendered as invisible as possible against the cliffs of spray—"the smoke that sounds," as the natives call it—that rises from the falls, and the usual distraction of the spectacle which so many feared has thus been obviated.

Little Prince John.

For the first time since the days of the Plantagenets the name of John is borne by an English prince as his chief appellation. The infant son of the Prince of Wales, recently baptized, is named John. The name was one of many given to the third son of the present King, who lived only a day. Beyond the Tweed, at one time, the name is said to have been regarded as unfortunate. Little Prince John has four brothers and a sister. His biggest brother, Edward, familiarly known as Eddie, is only eleven years old.

"JUST A BOY."

Playing tricks upon the girls,
Getting into lots of scrapes,
Circling round in giddy whirls,
Wriggling into forty shapes,
Getting scolded every day,
Having sport without alloy,
Shirking work and courting play—
This is being "just a boy."

Making sport of everything,
That before his vision comes,
Keeping ever on the wing
Till the place about him hums,
Making grownups say: "Oh, do!
Why is it you must annoy?"
Do they really wonder why?
It's because he's "just a boy."

Mimicking the peddler's cry,
Stealing rides upon the cart,
Listen to his saucy cry,
"Aw, you think yer mighty smart!"
As he scrambles off behind.
Anything but shy and coy
Is this urchin, you will find,
Just because he is a boy.

Hunting trouble in his hair,
Always spoiling for a fight,
Turning up most anywhere
In a very sorry plight,
Something that you cannot lose,
Him there's nothing can destroy;
Him we nothing can refuse,
Just because "he's just a boy."

The Etymology of Bloater.

Why is the savory salted herring upon which so many people banquet at breakfast-time called a bloater? Likely enough the common or domestic wag will be ready with the self-suggested answer that it is because he bloats! Well, Johnson and several other philologists define "bloat" as being "to swell, to inflate," and herrings are certainly not swollen by becoming bloaters; indeed, the case is the contrary, a fact which was put upon record early in the 17th century by the postmaster Joshua Sylvester, who, in his "Tobacco Battered," wrote:

. . . herrings in the sea are large and full,
But shrink in bloating.

The explanation is that salted herrings are called bloaters because they are "bloted"—that is, soaked (in a picke of brine, to wit); from the Swedish "blota," to soak. In the Swedish tongue these prepared herrings are "blot-fisk"—i.e., soaked fish. And if the irresponsible humorist of the breakfast-table is pretty nearly right after all though, perhaps, without knowing it.

"Ananas."

Probably the earliest account we have of bananas (or "ananas," as they were at first called) is from the pen of Lady Mary Wortley Montagu, who, being on a visit to Hanover in 1716, sat at a table where two of the fruit—hot-house grown—were produced at dessert, and she went into ecstasies over them. "They are," she wrote, "perfectly delicious. They are naturally the growth of Brasil, and one cannot imagine how they come here (Hanover), except by enchantment. Upon inquiry I find that they (the Hanoverians) have brought their greenhouse stoves to such perfection that they lengthen their summer as they please, giving to every plant the heat it would receive from the sun in its native soil. I am surprised we do not practice in England so useful an invention."

GEORGE STREET

FINE HUMOR AT SCHOOL

MUCH OF IT IS UNCONSCIOUS, BUT OF FIRST ORDER.

What Occurs When a Child is Taught Orally and Without Explanations—Dr. Macnamara, M. P., Gives Some Remarkable Examples in His Work, "Schoolroom Humor" — Some Absurd and Amusing Stories.

Dr. Macnamara, M. P., in his book, "Schoolroom Humor," has made a collection of children's mistakes and absurdities which is very amusing. Some of the stories are examples of unconscious satire; such, for instance, is that of the case of the boy who said that "the marriage customs of the ancient Greeks were that a man had only one wife, and this was called monotony."

Other stories show us the working of a child's mind in the way in which it has been taught. For example, a boy who had learned his "Duty Towards God" orally, being asked to write it down, produced the following: "My duty toads God is to bleed in Him, to faring and to loaf withold your arts, withold my mine, withold my sold, and with my serath to wirchp and give thanks, to put my old trash in Him." This example is fifty years old, but the book contains more modern results of bad teaching.

Thus, a child wrote down this version of the tenth commandment: "Thou shalt not cumt thy neighbor's house, thous shalt not cumt thy neighbor's wife, mornin' circus, mornin' 'oss, mornin' ass, nor anything that is his."

Many of the answers in the book show that the children had been taught mere isolated items of information, which they supposed to have no object except to provide questions in school. In such cases what is learned is only words.

A child, being asked to name the chief mountains in Scotland, answered: "Ben Nevis, Ben Lomond and Ben Jonson." Dr. Macnamara thinks that girls are more conscientious than boys, and see sooner what is expected of them.

A boy, being asked "Who was Guy Fawkes?" replied: "Guy Fawkes was a man made by another man," whereas a girl said: "Guy Fawkes was a man who tried to destroy Parliament."

A child was asked to think of a creature that wriggles about in the earth and sometimes comes to the top through a hole. "A worm," replied the child. He was asked to think of another creature with the same habits, and cried in triumph, "Another worm." Lessons to that boy were a kind of game of question and answer.

Some other questions and answers follow: "What is a celestial pole?" "A heavenly perch." "What is poetry?" "Poetry is when every line begins with a capital letter." A child wrote of an imaginary expedition to the north pole. "At last we reached the north pole. We sailed into the harbor and went to see the town."

In an account of the Salvation Army a child wrote of the women: "They have names on their hats like sailors. They make a deal of noise; the worsed two is called captain and leftenant." Another child defined a nib, as "the thing there isn't when you buy a pen," while still another youngster described a fishing-net as "a lot of little holes joined together by a bit of string."

A teacher after explaining the use of the hyphen asked a boy why there was a hyphen in "bird-cage." The boy answered: "It is for the bird to perch on, sir." That boy, Dr. Macnamara says was among the dunces, but it was probably because he was more interested in birds than in hyphens. His answer showed he had a trick of learning things for himself.

A Kindly Scot.

The late Dr. George Macdonald was noted for his kindness. He once went into a chapel at Malvern, records a biographer, and was distressed beyond endurance at the worn aspect of the disspirited preacher. When the service was over he told the preacher that it was high time he took a holiday, and that it was his duty to do so. He was met by the statement that it was impossible. He asked that the officers of the church should be summoned. When they came in he revealed his identity, and described himself as a preacher out of harness, but prepared to take there and then the conduct of the service for the next month. But now a fresh difficulty arose; the gratified minister had nowhere to go, so George Macdonald told him that this was easily settled. He could go to his own house at the seaside; and so the compact was settled.

On another occasion (says the same correspondent), he went into a shop in the town in which he then resided, and seeing at a glance that the girl who served him looked fragile and ill, he enquired the cause. She was standing at the counter all day, and nursing a sick mother overnight. "Then," said he, "I will just send one of my own girls to take your place every day for an hour or two, while you get a breath of fresh air"—and he was as good as his word.

The Earl of Darnley.

The Earl of Darnley, who took his seat in the House of Lords as one of the Irish representative Peers, says The London Star, restores the number of these noblemen from Ireland to the full total of 28 provided under the act of union, a number not reached, in a strict sense, until 1885, when the late Viscount Powerscourt, sitting as a representative Peer, was raised to the Baronage of the United Kingdom. Though the Earl of Darnley enters the House of Lords in this manner, all his predecessors in the title since 1722 sat there in their own right as Barons Clifton of England. The Earl of Darnley is Baron Clifton in the Irish Peerage, but he is only heir to the Barony of Clifton in England, now held by his niece, the youthful daughter of his brother, to whose Irish Earldom he succeeded nearly five years ago. The English barony descends through the female line when there is no direct male heir. The new representative Peer is a kinsman of the late Mr. Charles Stewart Parnell, having had a common ancestor in the father of Sir Henry Parnell, first Baron Congleton, a distinguished member of the House of Commons in his time.

Bequeaths 200,000 Beetles.

The late Alexander Fry of London bequeathed his magnificent collection of beetles, containing 300,000 specimens from all parts of the world and 72,000 distinct species, to the Natural History Museum.

Consolidation of Country Schools.

One remedy for the lack of trained teachers and the dearth of scholars where teachers can be found for the small district schools is the consolidation of sparsely peopled school districts. The consolidation has been begun in this country. The plan is to unite two or more feeble schools and provide transportation for children living at a distance. The advantages of the system of consolidation are evident. It substitutes for a mixed, ungraded school in a poorly ventilated room with a single, underpaid teacher a graded school in a suitable building with modern appliances for giving instruction and competent teachers. Wherever centralisation has been carried out and given time to develop it is found that it decreases the per capita cost of education and gives longer school years and better teachers and equipments. The old time district school was seen at its best where the inhabitants were settled in proximity. The extension of roads has distributed the population, and the modern improvement of roads makes it possible to gather the children from widely-scattered homes to a central point for lessons.

What Are Piles? You May Ask.

And Why are They Always Relieved and Cured by the Use of

Dr. Chases Ointment?

The itching, burning sensations of piles or hemorrhoids, the feelings of uneasiness and discomfort, and the loss of blood, are familiar to many who may not know the name or nature of their ailment.

Piles are small tumours, which form at the opening of the rectum, and are described as itching, bleeding or protruding, according to the symptoms that is most prominent.

The cause of greatest suffering is the intense itching, which is an almost constant symptom, while the greatest danger arises from loss of blood. You can scarcely imagine one in greater misery than the victim of a severe case of piles.

By reason of its remarkably soothing effect Dr. Chase's Ointment brings almost instant relief from the dreadful itching. It heals the ulcers, stops the loss of blood, and makes a thorough cure of this obstinate and loathsome disease.

The old idea of a surgical operation, with all the accompanying pain expense and risk, as the only cure for piles, has given way before the extraordinary success of Dr. Chase's Ointment, which has demonstrated its power in thousands of cases where operations have failed.

W. S. Talbot, of Talbot Bros. tobacco merchants, 822 George street, Peterborough, Ont., states:—It is from a desire to help other sufferers that I offer a statement of my experience with Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for itching piles. I was for a long time troubled with this unpleasant and torturing disease and through I tried very many treatments remained unCured until I came across Dr. Chase's Ointment.

It was highly recommended to me and I find that every word of praise is true. I can truthfully say that I am completely cured and knowing the misery that the ointment produces I am anxious for others to know of this surprising virtues of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Do not make the mistake of dropping this treatment as soon as the itching stops. Make the cure lasting by persistent use. Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

LANGUAGE OF COLORS.

Black Indicates Hatred and Red Anger, Says Mrs. Besant.

The language of colors as interpreted by Mrs. Annie Besant, the theosophist, is the latest fad to interest London women. According to Mrs. Besant, thoughts can be seen in colors, and those she calls by the rather abstruse name of "thought forms." She has embodied her ideas of this thought color language in a book which the Theosophical Society has just printed. Here are some of these "thought forms:"

Black, says Mrs. Besant, means hatred and malice. Red of all shades, from lurid brick red to richest scarlet, indicates anger.

If you have a clear brown thought you may be quite certain that avarice is your strong point or your besetting sin, but if your thoughts show a hard, dull brown gray it simply means selfishness — a color which is "painfully common."

Deep, heavy gray signifies depression, while a livid pale gray is associated with fear. Gray green is a signal of deceit, and brownish green, flecked with points and dashes of scarlet, betokens jealousy.

Green seems always to indicate adaptability, but mingled with selfishness it becomes deceit. Affection expresses itself in all shades of crimson and rose.

Deep orange imports pride or ambition, and the various shades of yellow denote intellect, and dull yellow implies that such intellect is being devoted to selfish purposes.

The different shades of blue indicate religious feeling, "from the dark brown blue of selfish devotion or the pallid gray blue of fetich worship tinged with fear up to the rich deep clear color of heartfelt adoration and the beautiful pale azure of that highest form which implies self renunciation and union with the divine."

A Silent Woman.

The opposition to the payment of the church tax in Scotland is occasionally relieved by a ray of humor.

Quite recently the Rev. J. Stephenson, president of the Free Church Council, resolved to face a week's incarceration rather than submit to taxation. He had no property which could be distrained upon, and on the form which he received on which to state what he was willing to hand over to be sold he wrote:

"Self."

In the next column, in which, says The London Standard, he was required to state the value of the goods, he inserted:

"Wife won't say."

THE KOGMOLLYCKS.

Northerly Fellow Indians Loses Faith In Medicine Men.

A report received the Mounted Police Department Ottawa from Sergt. Fitzgerald, a capable officer, who until recent was in command of the Mounte police post at Fort McPherson, which well up in the Arctic circle, contains considerable information with respect to the Eskimos and their habits.

"The Eskimos belong to this shore," he writes, "are ca Kogmollycks. There are two tribe one being Co-puck natives, and the er Herschell Island natives. The are fairly well built, the men averag 5 feet 3 or 4 inches in height. All older men have their lower jaws ced in labrets, and the women their chins tattooed. Of late ye they have stopped this, and men a omen of about twenty years have arks. There are about 250 Kogmollyc but they are very dirty in their ha and never wash.

"The Minatalmutes, or Deerm are inland Eskimos. Their hunting gr start from about forty miles m Herschell Island, on Beaufort Sea, run west of Point Barrow. They a strongly-built people, the men be about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches in hei The older natives have the labrets tattooing, the same as the Kogm lycks. They number in all about There are a few families of Eskim from Behring Straits who call thems selves Masinkas. There is no marriage law with them. When a man is ready to take a wife, as a rule about the age of eighteen, he goes and lives with her in the house of her parents. That is the only form gone through. If they cannot agree they separate, but they generally get on well together.

There are always a few medicine men in each tribe. If anything is about to happen he has a dance and tells the tribe all about it. If a native is sick the medicine man is called to drive the devil out of him. If the natives can get a doctor they always prefer it, so it would seem that they do not put much faith in the medicine man at the present time. I have found these natives very honest, and all the time I have been at Herschell Island I never heard of a case of stealing among them. They are a very hospitable people, and if a stranger comes to their house or tent everything they have is at his disposal. They are very healthy-looking, but I do not think that they live to a great age, as there are few men over fifty years of age among them. Eight died last year. The Eskimo is very much like the Indian. He will do anything to get liquor."

Hopeless.

Sergeant Sayer once went the circuit for some judge who was prevented by indisposition going in his turn. He was afterward imprudent enough to move as counsel for a new trial in one of the cases heard by himself on the ground of his misdirecting the jury as judge. Lord Mansfield said, "Brother Sayer, there is an act of Parliament which in such a matter as was before you gave you discretion to act as you thought right." "No, my lord," said the sergeant, "that is just it. I have no discretion in the matter." "Very true, you may be quite right as to that," said Lord Mansfield, "for I am afraid even an act of Parliament could not give you discretion."

An Invitation Declined.

A keeper was in the hyenas' cage at Hall by the Sea, England. One of the animals improved the opportunity to turn upon the man in an ugly mood. The keeper promptly defended himself and, to teach the animal manners, gave it a drubbing until it slunk into a corner. One of the spectators, a dear old lady, then remonstrated with the keeper and thought he had acted cruelly. The man stepped out of the cage and, advancing to the lady, said, "Praps, mum, you'd like to go inside and manage him!" The invitation was not accepted.

WEARY DAYS AND SLEEPLESS NIGHTS

Many men and women toss night after night upon sleepless beds until near dawn. Their eyes do not close in the sweet and refreshing repose that comes to those whose heart and nerves are right. Worry or disease has so debilitated and irritated the nervous system that it cannot be quieted. Or, again, you have heart palpitation and sensation of sinking, a feeling you are going to die; or perhaps you wake up from your sleep feeling as though you were about to choke or smother, and rest leaves you for the night. Allow these conditions to continue and you will feel your health declining.

It is the nerves and heart that are not acting properly.

They can be set right by the use of

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

They soon induce healthful, refreshing sleep, not by deadening the nerves, but by restoring them to healthy action and removing all symptoms of heart trouble, which is often the cause of nervousness and sleeplessness.

Mrs. Ennis Chambers, Massey Station, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with dizziness, weak spells and fluttering of the heart. I was so bad at times I could not lie down in bed at nights but would have to sit up. I doctored for a whole year and got no relief. I took three boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and was so completely cured I have not been troubled since. I cannot recommend them too highly."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box or three boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or sent direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

The Royal Yard-Arm.

When Henry I. was king there were frequent complaints by both buyers and sellers of goods of the varying number of inches to the yard, according to the district and to the disposition of the dealer. One day the King himself, in making a purchase of cloth, found cause for dissatisfaction on this account; and so, calling one of his courtiers to him, he bade him measure the length of his — the King's — right arm. The man did so, and told him that it was exactly thirty-six inches long; and Henry ordained on the spot that thenceforth that was to be the length of the standard yard; and so it has remained ever since.

Samuel Johnson's Preciousness.

Goldsmith and Boswell and Johnson having met at the usual hour at the chop house, Boswell observed that he had just encountered the Prince of Wales on the street.

"Do you think, asked Goldsmith, turning to Johnson, "that the Prince of Wales will ever be king?"

"It is impossible!" retorted the great doctor. "Utterly impossible!"

"Why do you think so?" asked Boswell.

"Why, confound you!" roared the doctor, getting red in the face. "Why, because, sir, the attitude he gets to be king he ceases to be Prince of Wales."

Some Table Lore.

It is bad luck to shake hands across the table.

It is an ill omen to turn a loaf of bread with the cut side downward, after having helped oneself from it.

If a loaf of bread parts in the hand while it is being cut, it indicates the parting of some couple in the house—perhaps the master and mistress.

If a knife falls from the table, it means that a man is coming to the house; but if a fork falls the visitor will be a woman.

If the teapot lid is left up, it is a sure sign that a stranger will soon appear.

Some Physical Facts.

A person's eyes are out of line in two cases out of five and one eye is stronger than the other in seven persons out of ten. The right eye is also as a rule higher than the left. Only one person in fifteen has perfect eyes, the largest percentage of defects prevailing among fair-haired people. The smallest vibration of sound can distinguished better with one ear with both. The nails of two fingers never grow with the same rapidity that of the middle finger growing fastest. In fifty-four cases out of a hundred the left leg is shorter than the right.

Old Way to Cut a Sweetheart.

This is how young women were wont once upon a time to try if their lovers were true to them: Get a clean bladebone of a shoulder of lamb; borrow a penknife from a bachelor, but on no account tell him what you want it for; take a yard of white ribbon and tie it to the bone, which then hang as high as you can reach in your bedroom chimney, and on nine successive nights, as you go to bed, pierce the bone in the thin part (each time in a different spot) while repeating:

"'Tis not this bone I means to stick;
But my love's heart I wants to prick;
Wishing him neither rest nor sleep,
Till unto me he comes to speak.

At the end of nine days your sweetheart will ask you to bind a wounded finger, or to attend a cut which he will have met with during the time the charm was being performed.

"I" and the London Smart Women.

A new meaning has recently been given in London to the simple little personal pronoun "I." "Smart women nowadays never use the first person plural when speaking of themselves and their husbands, their plans, possessions and intentions.

"I am going to Hamburg," means "I and my husband are going." "I have taken a shooting box in Scotland and shall entertain there," does not mean a lady hostess alone. It includes the husband. But he is never mentioned nowadays. To acknowledge him, mere man, as the provider of yatching and trips abroad, of motor cars, shooting boxes and the country houses is to completely destroy yourself socially. "No "smart" society woman ought to be seen often with her husband, and to speak of him makes her "impossible."

In the Days of Chivalry.

Most people will be somewhat surprised to hear that the idea of women requiring escort, especially of a really protective nature, is of comparatively modern origin, says a contributor to the Grand Magazine. But such appears to be the case. Nothing strikes one more forcibly in the study of mediaeval literature than the absolute freedom women enjoyed to travel and wander alone without fear of molestation. The times were unsettled, undoubtedly, and men lived for fighting only; but, nevertheless, the helpless and defenseless were safe enough, so far as one can judge from contemporary literature. I do not deny that they came to grief occasionally, but as a general rule men respected the other sex in the days of chivalry, and even the worst of scoundrels allowed an unprotected woman to ride by unharmed.

Chaining the Bride.

A curious old wedding custom, which still survives in some parts of North Devon, is that of "chaining the bride" at the entrance to the church. At the conclusion of the nuptial ceremony the young men of the village stretch flower and ribbon-decorated ropes across the gateway, and so prevent the exit of the wedding party until the bridegroom throws a handful of small silver far into the roadway, whereupon the chain is dropped and a rush made for the money, the bridal folk being then free to pass on their way. Sometimes—if the bride is very popular—several other chains are encountered along the road, and the bridegroom's pockets are depleted accordingly.

Reading For Fun and Profit.

Fear is expressed in some quarters that the multiplication of public libraries will lead to a decay in home libraries and that people will not read with the thoroughness and profit of former days. It is alleged that our fathers paid a stiff price for a book and read it to pieces to get the worth of their money, with the result that they learned more than does the library patron who skims through a volume only to slip the honey of interest. There is something in this theory, but the matter of cost is not enough to account for that hunger and thirst after information which make reading profitable.

The free library may be a dissipation to some, but it is a boon to many who are too poor to buy the books which will do them good. One who appreciates a really good book will make great sacrifice to own it, but that person must first know the worth of the treasure, and the library often points it out. Lovers of Shakespeare and the Bible are not satisfied to let these volumes rest on the library shelves, and it will be the same in the case of any loaned book; which the borrowers diligently read. From borrowing they will pass to owning. In these days of complex life it is seldom that one book completely covers a subject. Each book is one of a series like the school text book, and the student must fare on from height to height until the top is reached. In point of fact, the public library is a co-operative scheme—one book serves many minds. Furthermore, it gives free play to advance by the law of selection.

WEAK MEN AND WOMEN

The Most Perfect Restorative Known and Invigorating Tonic Vitalizer —Greatest Health-Renewer

Nature's greatest cure for weak, pale men and women is Ferrozone. It is invaluable for run-down, overworked, delicate people, and will restore them to robust health more quickly, at smaller expense, than any other tonic you can select.

We quote the following cases to show what Ferrozone has done for others. In your case it will act just as efficiently:—

FOR BUSINESS MEN

The Experience of a Well-known Lawyer Proves Ferrozone an Ideal Tonic.

Mr. N. W. Burke, a well known lawyer in Meriden, says:—"When I first took Ferrozone I was in a nervous run-down condition, almost sick enough to give up work. I lacked strength, and felt as if I could not get down to work. Ferrozone at once gave me a good appetite, and drove away the nervous, apprehensive feelings that formerly made my life miserable. As I continued the use of Ferrozone I grew stronger, and am glad to say it has brought me back to perfect health. I know that Ferrozone is an excellent tonic for business men and people inclined to a sedentary life. I can recommend it to such."

FOR NERVOUS WOMEN

Nothing Compares With the Nerve-Strengthening Power of Ferrozone.

Mrs. E. D. Summerson, of Centreville, says:—"I am glad to think that there is at least one honest remedy for nervous people. No one can imagine what I suffered with my nerves, and I sometimes wonder at the number of useless prescriptions and medicines I took. But Ferrozone acted differently from all the rest. It built up my system, and gradually the irritability left my nerves, and I got well. Ferrozone cured me by removing the cause of my trouble, and by giving me enough additional strength to overthrow the attack of nervousness. I can recommend Ferrozone strongly."

THOUSANDS ANNUALLY CURED BY FERROZONE

If you want to get well and keep well, by all means use Ferrozone. If you suffer from insomnia, nervousness, debility, loss of appetite, poor digestion, or any other symptom of disordered blood, nothing will tone up and vitalize your system like Ferrozone. ANECDOTES OF IRVING.

Incidents in the Great Actor's Life That Prove Him to Be a Many-Sided Man.

It is always said of Irving that he never required more of any member of his company than he had a right to expect in proportion to the salary paid. He knew better than most actor-managers the market value of talent, and he paid accordingly. One day when superintending Lyceum rehearsals, a super intensely annoyed him. The super had one line to say, which was, "The enemy are upon us." The tone of voice this super assumed soon got on Irving's nerves.

"For heaven's sake," he exclaimed, "speak it as if the enemy were in the wings. They might be miles away from the way you say it."

"If I could say it better I should be earning more than 25 shillings a week," he retorted.

"Is that all you get?"

"Yes, and I have others besides myself to keep."

"Very well, then, speak it as you like." But before the first night the super was speaking his lines as "the governor" wished him to, and the Lyceum exchequer was debited with more than 25 shillings a week in consequence.

Could Be Severe at Times.

When Irving wanted to be nasty he could be, remarked an old Lyceum hand once. His patience with the rank and file was extraordinary, but where a rebuke was deserved Irving's biting sarcasm was quite to the occasion.

There was in one production a super who, though he had only a couple of lines to speak, made his entrance in such a way as to lead one to believe he was sustaining the leading role, and his behavior to his fellow-actors was equally unwarrantable. Irving soon got on the track of this man and ran him to earth at rehearsal. In due time the super entered holding his head in the air and recited his line, "My lord, the carriage is waiting."

The man repeated it in a louder tone, whereupon Sir Henry demanded that it should be repeated again still louder. Yet again did he make the super repeat it and louder still, and yet again was the same demand made. The man was becoming enraged, and at last shrieked out the words.

"Very good," said Sir Henry. "Very good indeed, but couldn't you just manage to put a shade of temper into it?"

When He Drew $13 a Week.

A pay roll which has just come to light of the old Queen's theatre, London, which used to stand in Long Acre, but which disappeared years ago from the list of London playhouses, was discovered recently. This pay roll is dated 1867, at which time the present Sir Henry Irving, his famous comrade, Ellen Terry, and Sir Charles Wyndham, Toole, and Lionel Brough all were members of the company at the Queen's.

Oddly enough, according to this record, Sir Henry's salary at that time was only £2 13s 4d, or about $13 a week, whereas the present Sir Charles Wyndham was getting $15 and Ellen Terry $25. Lionel Brough, who must now be receiving at least $200 a week from Beerbohm Tree, was then drawing $12.50. Toole was by far the best paid member of the company, with a salary of nearly $60 a week, or about what a "star" of to-day would spend on motoring.

Life Passes For Bohemians.

On Sir Henry's first visit to San Francisco he fell so much in love with the Bohemian Club that he gave every member a life pass to the Lyceum theatre in London, and when he sold the Lyceum a few years ago he stipulated that the Bohemian passes should be honored as long as the theatre stood.

Irving's reception at the Bohemian Club was as wierd as it was novel. He was escorted to the dining-room by a club member made up as Cardinal Wolsey. In the dining hall a stage had been erected. On the stage stood George Bromley, the high priest, who conducted Irving through a ridiculously funny ritual.

Suddenly there appeared on the stage eight of the characters Irving had made famous—Macbeth, Louis XI., Mathias, Cardinal Wolsey, Thomas a Becket, Shylock, and Richard III.—all in complete costume.

They marched to the front of the stage, and, pointing their fingers at Irving, recited in unison:

"You who has painted to the modern world——"

Then each of them spoke his line. Macbeth said "My blood-stained soul"; Louis XI, "My mean hypocrisy," and so on, following in unison again with another line.

The orchestra meantime had accompanied this scene with pianissimo music, which, when the phalanx spoke "List, list; O, list!" broke out into "Ta-ra-ra boom-de-ay," and Shylock, the cardinals, Macbeth, and the others all took hands and joined in the wild dance.

Forget Mark Twain's Name.

Among the many people entertained by Sir Henry Irving during his lessee-ship of the Lyceum was Mark Twain. Irving gave him a banquet in the green room after a performance one night, with a most distinguished company present. When Sir Henry arose to propose the guest's health, the latter's name escaped him completely, and the result was something like this, but the reader must imagine the high nasal tones of the actor, his twitches, and snorts:

"Gentlemen: I rise to perform a very agreeable duty—a most extraordinary and pleasurable honor (mental aside: 'What is that name?') We have with us to-night as our guest the most distinguished of our compatriots from across the water ('I'd give to-night's receipts if I could think who the devil he is')—a man whom you all know and love (Ha! ha!)—a man whose genial humor, whose delicate satire has amused and entertained two hemispheres ('Drat my memory!') a man whose name is a household word wherever the English language is spoken ('Except me!')—A man in a word who is the laughing link which binds England and America closer than any international treaty can do. I propose the health of—of—this man—I propose the health of—of—(in a sudden burst of mnemonic discovery)—of Samuel Mark Twain!"

No joy or pleasure on this earth quite equals that which comes into the home when baby arrives. Who can describe the happiness of man and woman, joined in wedlock, as they look upon the fragile, delicate mite that is blood of their blood and flesh of their flesh? And who can depict the hopelessness and dejection that hover about the home where the wife is incapable of becoming a mother? Barrenness proceeds from some derangement of the distinctly feminine organs. Many of the common ailments known as "female troubles" cause it. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription overcomes barrenness by stamping out diseases of women, and by healing and curing ulceration. It tones up the system, stops drains, and restores strength. During gestation it modifies morning sickness, gives elasticity to the overstrained parts concerned, makes the hour of baby's coming short and almost painless, and gives wonderful recuperative power to the patient. By making the mother strong and cheerful, it makes the little one healthy, vigorous and good natured. Insist upon this medicine dealer giving you Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription when you ask for it. Substitutes are often dangerous.

Mrs. James W. Hacker, of 620 Catherine St., Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "Your medicines have done wonders for me. MR. WHYTE'S DENIAL.

Vice-President of C. P. R. Contradicts Premier Scott's Statement.

Winnipeg, Nov. 9.—The following statement has been issued by Second Vice-President Whyte of the C.P.R.:

Second Vice-President Whyte of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company takes this means in fairness to his company to give the public of western Canada his word that the statement credited to Premier Scott at Saskatchewan, that Benoit, C.P.R. agent at Prince Albert, was impelled by the company to run as Conservative candidate for Batoche, with a promise that he would be furnished with campaign money; that his salary would be kept running through the sessions and in addition would make his salary a permanent annuity is, from beginning to end, absolutely false and without foundation.

Benoit himself has wired Premier Scott, denying the statement and informing Premier Scott that he had no grounds for making it, and, furthermore, that the officials of the company had told him that if he sought political honors he would have to sever his connection with the company.

For Walking, Not Sitting.

The Rev. Dr. Charles Tisdall, chancellor of Christchurch Cathedral, Dublin, who died recently, was reputed to be the best-dressed clergyman in Ireland. Many stories are told of the elegance of his attire. An Irish clergyman once said to Chancellor Tisdall's tailor, "Make a pair of trousers just like the trousers you make for the chancellor." The order was executed, and in a few days the clergyman entered the tailor's shop to complain that the moment he sat down a rent appeared in his trousers. "Oh," said the tailor, "I made you a pair of trousers like Chancellor Tisdall's walking trousers. They were made for walking, not sitting. No wonder they burst when you sat down!"

Over the Entrance.

One of the morning papers tells a good story of Dr. Jowett, the master of Balliol. An Oxford undergraduate was expatiating to him on the merits of the typical French novel. After listening in silence for a while, the master asked, "What sentence is written above the entrance to hell?"

"Abandon hope, all ye that enter here," replied the other.

"No," said Jowett. "It is 'Ici on parle Francais'."—London Globe.

Reward After Many Years — Interesting History of a Note.

The fall sitting of the Civil Assize Court, with Justice Falconbridge presiding, was opened in Toronto the other day. The first case disposed of was the suit of George E. Davis v. the Trusts & Guarantee Co., administrators for the estate of the late George W. Todd of that city. The defendants offered no evidence, but moved for a non-suit, which was not granted. Justice Falconbridge discharged the jury and rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $5,000, with interest from August 4, 1903.

An interesting story is revealed by the action. In 1867 Mr. Davis, then a boy, picked up a helpless peddler named Todd on a road in Scarboro Township, New York State, and looked after him until he was well again. On leaving, the peddler handed Mr. Davis sufficient money to pay the doctor's bill and directed him to draw up a note for $5,000 in his own favor, the same to be made payable on Todd's death. The note was signed by Todd in the early sixties and was presented as an exhibit in court. The suit was instituted on the basis of a technicality of law in connection with the note. The old peddler died some time ago, leaving an estate valued at nearly $50,000. He leaves no direct heirs and did not draw a will. Some nieces and cousins survive him.

Queer Business Interruptions.

As electric transmission lines are multiplied the stories told by linemen of queer interruptions to the service increase. A few nights ago there was sudden trouble on the Cataract Power Company's lines near Allanburg. Lights went out in the company's gatehouse and the supply of electricity failed. Inspectors went out on the lines, and, after a long search, found that a large crane had flown against the transmission wires and had been electrocuted. His body, lying across two wires, continued the short circuit and crippled the line. Not long ago a cat climbed a pole on the Lockport transmission line and was electrocuted while stepping from one wire to another. A short-circuit was established and trolley lines, electric lights and other systems depending on electric power were paralyzed till the linemen found the charred corpse of the cat and took it off the lines.

It Looked Easy to Him.

Little Nathan had been taken to his father's office, where, it appears, he was considerably impressed. Afterward at home he made known his intentions concerning the future.

"When I get to be a man," he said, "I'm going to make lots of money, like papa does."

His parents gave him to understand that they approved of his ambition, after which Nathan indulged for some time in serious thought. At last he turned to his father, asking:

"Papa, is sitting in a chair that turns around all you have to do to make money?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Buried Alive.

In the early history of Japan it was decidedly a dubious honor to be closely related to any person of note, for one of the laws at that time decreed that when a person of rank or importance died all the immediate relatives must be buried alive in a perpendicular position around the personage's grave. Their heads were left above the earth, and thus they remained until welcome death came to free them.

FOOD—NOT MEDICINE.

If all the treatments for consumption were put in book form it would make a pretty big library. But after all there has been little improvement over the old treatment of rest, fresh air, sunshine, plain, wholesome food and Scott's Emulsion. The latter supplies nourishment that cannot be secured in any other way, and after all, nourishment is what the consumptive needs first.

A gain in weight, however slight, is a long step toward improvement. If there is the least thing to build on Scott's Emulsion will enable the patient to make that gain. People have gained a pound in weight from a bottle of Scott's Emulsion—it's an exception when they don't.

We have seen Scott's Emulsion take hold of a patient and bring about a change for the better inside of a week. It always helps even the most stubborn cases.

THE GRATITUDE OF MOTHERS

Marvellous Cure of Two Babies Suffering for Months from Sore Eyes —Doctors, Hospitals, and Many Treatments Were of No Avail.

SPEEDY CURE IN EACH CASE BY CUTICURA

"I feel it my duty to tell you of two most wonderful cures of sore eyes by Cuticura Ointment. My little son had an attack of measles which left his eyes in a shocking state. The lids were inflamed and sore, and every lash fell out. They would be stuck in the morning, and bleed when washed, causing untold suffering to the child. I tried everything recommended, but nothing did any good. Then I got Cuticura, and from the first application I have had cause to be thankful. Before I had used one box the lashes showed signs of growing, and in a few months they were as healthy as ever. I recommended Cuticura to a Mrs. Phillips, whose little one was cured of sore eyes with less than one box.—Mrs. C. Todd, Old South Head Road, Waverly, Sydney, N. S. W."

BABY PHILLIPS

Cured by One Box of Cuticura After All Else Had Failed

"When my little girl was a few months old her eyes became very sore. I took her to the ——— Hospital, and subsequently to the Children's Hospital at——— for twelve months, but her eyes seemed to be growing worse. One doctor told me they might be bad for years. I was one day stopped on the street by a Mrs. Todd who told me that Cuticura Ointment had cured her boy. I commenced using it that very night. The cure has been marvellous. Before I had used one box of Cuticura they were as healthy as ever. —Mrs. F. Phillips, Grafton Street, Waverly, Sydney, N. S. W."

Sudden Death Of Lindsay Citizen

Lindsay, Nov. 13.—Mr. Joseph Rickaby, one of Lindsay's quarter-century residents, died suddenly at his residence, Cambridge street, last night. He attended the evening service at the Methodist church, and on returning retired early to bed. In less than an hour he awakened his wife, complaining of a pain in the arm and head. A doctor was summoned, but did not think the case serious. Mr. Rickaby soon passed into what the inmates of his house thought a quiet and beneficial sleep, out of which he never awakened. Mr. Rickaby was highly respected, and his sudden death is a great shock to his friends.

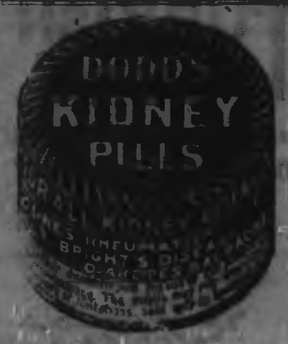
As a Convalescent Food.

Mr. Wyman N. Thomas, Ompah, Addington Co., Ont., writes:. — My wife had congestion of the lungs and other troubles, and became very weak and run down. By the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food she was made as strong and well as ever. Of course I had a doctor, but she was weak, and it was Dr. Chase's Nerve Food that built her up."

THE POLYGAMY BUGABOO.

The Hamilton Times does not share the alarm of some ladies of the W. C. T. U. over the Mormons of the Northwest. We have not been able to trace it back to any justifying facts in the history of the Canadian settlement. Those who are in the best position to discover it, if it existed, declare that the practice of polygamy has no part in the life of the people there. In the township of Harwich, Kent county, Ontario, there has been for many years a settlement of Mormons, the name of the organization being "The Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ, of Latter Day Saints." They have their peculiar beliefs, but polygamy is never mooted, and they are good citizens and neighbours. We fancy that the thrilling alarm manifested in some quarters about the settlement in Manitoba, is unjustified. We don't like the exclusive settlements idea, no matter of what race or sect, but we have faith in the power of the Canadian law and its administration. We think that the chances of having to invoke it against a concerted campaign for polygamy are very remote. Not Solomon himself could make it popular in Canada, where every woman wants one man, such as she can scare up, all to herself. Joe Smith's ideas don't go with the Canadian maidens.

MAYOR TOM JOHNSON, Cleveland, proposes an Anti-Suicide Bureau for his city. Why, give the people who are tired of life, free transportation to Belleville.



Conference Of Charity And Correction

The Eighth Annual Meeting Will be Held in Toronto on Wednesday and Following Days —Objects of the Conference is to Bring Into Closer Relation Friends of the Cause—Reformation of Criminals is Aimed At.

AIM TO AVOID CHILD PAUPERS

The eighth Canadian Conference of Charities and Correction, to be held in the Educational Building, Toronto, on Wednesday, November 15, and the two following days, will be an important meeting. The object of the conference is to bring into closer relationship the many friends who are engaged in caring for the neglected and unfortunate classes in the community, and will include within the range of its discussion every phase of philanthropic work, the safeguarding of childhood, the custodial care of the feeble-minded, the sick and the insane, the reformation of criminals, the structure and discipline of prisons and other public institutions, the relief of distress and poverty in such a way as to avoid pauperism, in fact anything that affects the welfare of those who are dependent upon their fellows for assistance or support.

The opening meeting will be held at 2 p.m. on Wednesday, and the chair will be taken by Lieut.-Col. J. E. Farewell, the president, at 2.30 p.m.

Addresses of welcome will be given by His Worship Mayor Urquhart, Hon. W. J. Hanna, Provincial Secretary, and Prof. Goldwin Smith. Responses will be made on behalf of the conference by Mr. Adam Brown, of Hamilton, and Mr. J. J. Kelso, Superintendent of Neglected and Dependent Children of Ontario.

There will be sessions Wednesday at 8 p.m.; Thursday at 9.30 a.m., 2.30 p.m. and 8 p.m., and Friday morning at 9.30 a.m.

IMPORTANT STATEMENT.

The Maximum General, Minimum General, and British Preference in the Next Canadian Tariff.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—The most important incident at yesterday's sessions of the Tariff Commission was an indication given by Hon. William Paterson as to what lines were to be followed in the coming tariff revision. There are to be three columns in the tariff, a maximum general, a minimum general, and the British preference. And, in regard to the British preference. Mr. Paterson said there would be a greater latitude allowed. It would not be a matter of a preference of one-third to British goods, but in fixing the tariff on various lines, a set rate would be made for goods imported from Great Britain.

The whole of the morning's session was occupied by the representatives of the wholesale dry goods section of the Board of Trade. A number of memorandums were presented, the general trend being a strong objection to the request of the cotton and woollen makers for increased protection. Their views were presented from the standpoint of the merchant, and with many arguments and figures in detail.

Hardware men, printers, picture framers, manufacturers of mirror plates, cordage manufacturers, and the canning industry appeared and voiced their grievances.

FUNERAL OF SIR GEO. WILLIAMS.

Immense Concourse Attend Service at St. Paul's Cathedral.

London, Nov. 15.—(C. A. P.)—The body of the founder and president of the Young Men's Christian Association, Sir George Williams, who died Nov. 6, was buried beneath the dome of St. Paul's Cathedral yesterday, in the presence of an immense throng of mourners, including a hundred ministers of various denominations, nearly a thousand delegates from British and foreign branches of the Young Men's Christian Association and other organizations with which Sir George Williams was connected, and the Lord Mayor and sheriffs, in their robes of state.

The general public filled the rest of the cathedral to its full capacity. The service, which was conducted by Archdeacon Sinclair, was fully choral.

The funeral procession through the streets was very impressive. Two hundred and thirty carriages followed the hearse.

BIG CHEESE RECEIPTS.

Kingston and Napanee Districts Have a Large Output.

Kingston, Nov. 14—A low estimate places the total sales of cheese during the past season of Kingston district at 60,000 boxes, or about 5,100,000 lbs., valued at $382,500; Napanee district, 65,000 boxes, or 5,525,000 lbs., valued at $490,125. The farmers in the two districts got over $1,110,000 for their products of the dairy. Some 27,000 boxes of cheese were registered at Kingston board, and the average price was 10.6c. The boardings at Napanee were 28,871, and average price 10.6c. The quality of the make during the season was very high. Kingston factories especially showed marked improvement. Many factories do not board, but sell under contract.

Imperial Troops Leave.

Halifax, Nov. 15.—The Dominion liner Canada arrived here yesterday from Montreal to take on board the first party of the Royal Garrison Regiment for Liverpool. The remainder of the Royal Garrison Regiment and two companies of the R. G. Artillery will sail on the Dominion liner Kensington on the 22nd.

New Use For Peat Dust Is Discovered

In view of the fact that a number of Peterborough citizens are identified with the peat industry, the following article from the Ottawa Free Press will be read with interest there:

Owing to the considerable efforts made in Canada to work large peat fields, Mr. P. B. Ball, the Canadian commercial agent in Birmingham, had sent the Government some information about the peat industry in the Old Country. Reclaiming land is of interest there, but that does not affect Canadians to the same extent. Within a few weeks a new company has started manufacturing electro-peat coal in Ireland by the Bessey system. By this method the peat is taken direct from the bog by a huge excavator, and pressed into a submarine like boat by an electrifying process. By the application of an alternating electric current the amorphic properties of the peat are preserved intact.

Mr. Ball writes that peat has been put to various uses. A good bedding for horses and cattle is obtained by the conversion of the upper and more fibrous layers into moss-litter. After serving its purpose the litter makes good manure. In granulated state peat makes a perfect deodorant and is useful where sewerage is not in operation. Nurserymen find peat dust useful for ripening grapes, fruit, and peat loam has been found to produce more luxuriant flowers than other soils. For packing eggs peat dust is largely in demand by shippers to West Indies, Canary Islands, Spain and other places. Eggs packed in peat will retain their freshness for a considerable time. A large number of antiseptic toilet and dusting preparations have been made with peat as their base.

Feeders and stockers—For the better class of feeders the demand was fairly good, with the result that the market was well cleaned up at fractionally unchanged prices from those prevailing on Thursday. Milch cows—There was a good active demand for springers and milkers. While quite a number were on the market there were few extra choice cows, and the prices paid were about in accordance with ordinary grade cows. From $40 to $50 was the prevailing figure, but the demand is a shade dull at present.

Hogs—The run of hogs was moderately large, viz., 1049. Mr. Harris last night reported the market as unchanged at $5.50 for selects, and $5.25 for fed and fats.

The English Premier Is Very Candid

"No Use Having a Leader Unless You Follow Him," Said He.

TORIES VOTE CHAMBERLAIN

Premier's Speech Interpreted as Threat to Resign the Leadership of the Unionist Party, and Was Delivered in View of the Proceedings at the National Conservative Union at Newcastle-on-Tyne.

London, Nov. 15.—(C. A. P.)—Just before the meeting of the British National Union of Conservative Associations, it was announced that Capt. Wells, chairman of the Central Conservative organization, has resigned. The incident derived its importance from the fact that it meant the passing of the party organizations under the control of Mr. Chamberlain's supporters. As he had previously captured the Liberal-Unionist organizations, the fiscal reformers are now supreme in both wings of the Unionist party, and are in a favorable position to impress their views still more upon the present Government.

Favor Fiscal Reform.

By a practically unanimous vote the conference passed a resolution in favor of closer union within the Empire, and declared that it could best be obtained "by such a readjustment of taxation as will, without increasing the cost of food to the poorer classes of this country, tend to secure fairer treatment of British manufacturers by foreign nations, prevent the practice of dumping and largely increase reciprocal preferential trade between the different parts of the British Empire."

This resolution, which is Mr. Chamberlain's policy in succinct form, was carried with only two dissentients.

Balfour Policy Shelved.

An amendment favoring Mr. Balfour's retaliatory policy, as explained in his historic "half sheet of notepaper," received less than a dozen votes.

Balfour's Frank Talk.

Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, Nov. 15. —Premier Balfour at the night session of the Conservative Association urged the Unionists to get together. He said that the Government must be given a free hand to retaliate against unfair foreign competition, and so readjust the fiscal policy of England as to encourage British manufacturers, and draw the Empire together by preferential treatment of colonial goods.

In the course of his speech Mr. Balfour declared frankly that he was not afraid of the Opposition, but of his own friends. With great deliberation and emphasis he added:

"I am here to say exactly what I think about the situation, and I mean to say it. There is no use in having a leader unless you mean to follow him. I speak here as your leader for the time being, and my advice is to forget differences which are outside of practical politics of the hour. If you reject my advice disaster will overtake our cause."

London, Nov. 15.—Premier Balfour's unusually candid warning to his followers at the conference of the National Union of Conservative Associations at Newcastle-on-Tyne last night is interpreted in some quarters as a threat to resign the leadership of the Unionist party if dissensions continue with regard to the fiscal policy, and judging by the editorials in this morning's newspapers there is small likelihood of his appeal having the desired effect.

This Rule Seems Hard.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—One of the clauses enacted by the Railway Commission about a month ago is that shippers are only entitled to recover $5 a package from railway companies for lost packages. On Oct. 17 Charles Bellamy of Sault Ste. Marie shipped three packages of household effects, valued at $565.95 to Whanapitae, Ont., over the C. P. R. In mistake he signed a release of responsibility form instead of a shipping form. The form he signed has a clause to the effect that the company would not hold itself liable for more than $5 on any package. Yesterday, Justice Teetzel gave judgment for $15 to Bellamy, whose goods were lost in transit.

Stands to Gain a Half Million.

London, Nov. 15.—(C. A. P.)—The Privy Council has given its decision in the case of the Montreal Street Railway against the City of Montreal. The railway's appeal was allowed with costs yesterday. The court came to an unanimous decision that the railway is not liable for a percentage to the city on the earnings of suburban lines. The decision does not apply to Toronto, Winnipeg or other cities. Messrs. Davey and James and Robertson agreed that on their 30-years' contract the railway stands to gain by this decision approximately half a million dollars.

Ontario Credit Good.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Col. Matheson said last night. "I could have disposed of the bonds had I desired at a better premium than could have been gotten for them last year. Ontario's credit in London is almost as good as that of the Dominion, and better than that of the sister colonies. It was never better than it is now. I am sorry the newspapers have seen fit to attack the for it hurts our credit there. Why did I sell them? It was because of the advice of many of the most prominent financiers. Their unanimous opinion was it would be better to wait."

Is This City Neglecting Its Opportunity?

Strong Letter From "Sentry" in Which He Points Out That Peterboro' is Losing an Opportunity to Secure Dockage Facilities—The City Council Should Co-operate With the Government in Establishing Docks.

A MATTER FOR PROMPT ACTION

To the Editor of the Examiner:—

Permit me through your columns to draw the attention of the people of Peterborough to the apparent inactivity of the Peterborough City Council in the matter of providing the city with convenient dockage facilities, from the C.P.R. bridge to Hunter street bridge. I may say at the outset that the member for West Peterborough, Mr. R. R. Hall, has carried out his part of the undertaking in a very satisfactory and commendable manner but unless the city council comes forward with some policy in the matter and takes advantage of the work already being done the ratepayers of the city will be asked in a few years time hence for money to do an amount of work which could be done at the present time much more advantageously and at very little expense to the city.

It is a well known fact that Peterborough business men and others have looked forward to the time when our waterfront from Hunter street to C.P.R. bridge would be put in such condition that it would afford facilities for barges and steamboats to use this available water front for dockage purposes. With this end in view Mr. Hall with his usual progressive spirit and energy secured a handsome appropriation from the Department of Public Works to have the river dredged. This work so far as the Dominion Government is concerned is being prosecuted with commendable energy. At the present time the dredgings from the bottom of the river, which is a splendid quality of gravel is being cast to the west side of the C.P.R. spur line. When the dredge commences to take the second cut, which will be shortly, it will be necessary to take the dredgings away on a scow and dump them into some place handy, and not required for navigation purposes. And this is just where the city should show its readiness to co-operate with the Government and take advantage of the opportunity afforded them. It is well known that if the city intends to fill in certain water lots and and level up the water front they will require a great deal of earth. Why can they not now arrange to begin this work and have the dredgings that would otherwise be dumped in the river below, used for this purpose? What work the town eventually intends doing in this regard could be done for about one-quarter the cost at the present time. So far, I am led to believe that the City Council has not made one move in the matter. Had not the members of the city council better wake up? This is a valuable opportunity being passed by if there is not some action taken in the matter by the city council at once.

Yours truly,
"SENTRY."

Peterborough, Nov. 15th, 1905.

DEFAULTING BANK MANAGER GETS SEVEN YEARS IN KINGSTON

Special Wire to the Examiner.

Hamilton, Nov. 16.—Millhouse Belown, the defaulting manager of the Bank of Hamilton's city branch, at the police court this morning, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to seven years at Kingston.

Auxiliary Water Main Nearing Completion

The water commissioners are progressing well with their work of laying the auxiliary water main from the Auburn power house to Smith street. The total distance is over 4,000 feet, and of this only about 1,000 remain to be laid, the work having proceeded as far as Barnardo avenue. A 12-inch main is being laid to supplement the main of the same size already in on that section, and with the increased pipe capacity which the new main will give, it is expected that for years to come the main supply pipes will be sufficient to give all the pressure required, both for ordinary and emergency uses.

Mr. W. Henderson, superintendent of the waterworks, states that he hopes to place in a large number of services yet this year, and they will work up to the time the ground freezes.

The Details Of The Chief's Drowning

Haliburton, November 15. —The following particulars of the recent drowning accident have been secured: While going up Crooked Lake yesterday in a small skiff for a deer hunt at the head of the lake, fifteen miles from Haliburton, a party, consisting of Chief of Police William Bond and Miss Grice, of Port Hope, and Jas. Peterson of Harburn, were swamped. Mr. Bond and Miss Grice were drowned, but Mr. Peterson clung to the boat and was saved. The body of Miss Grice has been found but Bond's body is still missing and is being dragged for. Mrs. Bond and her little daughter will remain at the residence of Mr. P. A. Curry, until the body of her husband is recovered.

Mrs. Shearer Gives Her Version Of The Accident

Says the Wounding Was Purely Accidental—Denies Reports to the Contrary—The Revolver Accidentally Discharged—The Wounded Woman at the Hospital.

Mrs. A. Shearer, the mistress of the Italian boarding house, next door to the Montreal House, when Mrs. Harrington, her sister, was wounded by the accidental discharge of a revolver at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, states that the shooting was purely accidental and indignantly resents insinuations to the contrary. She also emphatically denies that there was any card-playing or drinking going on at the time of the accident. Mrs. Harrington states that when the doctor arrived; she and three boarders were present, contrary to the report that the house was occupied by no one but the wounded woman when the physician came to attend her injuries. Mrs. Shearer then explained how the accident happened. She said her sister was examining the revolver, probably thinking it was unloaded, and she cautioned her against meddling with the weapon and advised her to lay it aside. She then went into the front part of the house, leaving the victim of the accident sitting beside the stove in the sitting-room. She heard the report after she had left her sister, but it was very dull and she did not think at the time that it was caused from the explosion of the cartridge. She went out, however, to see what was the matter, and noticed the blood on the arm of her sister's waist. She then came to the conclusion that the revolver had been accidentally discharged. Mrs. Shearer added that she has managed boarding houses in Peterborough for the last five years and has never got into any trouble.

The bullet struck Mrs. Harrington's elbow, glancing off and entering her thigh, where it was located yesterday afternoon, about two inches from the wound, the X-rays being used. The injured woman was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital, where she is now progressing favourably. The wound is not at all dangerous.

The revolver, which is of 32-calibre, containing six chambers, was shown to the Examiner representative. The weapon is rather old and all the chambers are empty. Mrs. Harrington claims that there was only one cartridge in the magazine at the time of the accident.

Some of the little things that make Semi-ready excellence

It is the little things that make perfection.

We find that little things which most manufacturers neglect have made Semi-ready tailoring the best in the world.

All our garments are sewn with silk—cotton would hold nearly as well and look as well until the garments were sold.

But we want to sell you Semi-ready garments right along, so we make them so they'll give satisfaction to the end.

Silk thread, well-bound button-holes, strongly sewn buttons and the best quality interlinings, make much of the difference between Semi-ready tailoring and ordinary clothes.

D. W. Dumble's Decision On Sunday Labour

Is Followed by Mr. J. B. Flint, Police Magistrate in Belleville—Latter Says He Knows of No Law in Force in Ontario Forbidding Sunday Labour.—An Interesting Letter by Mr. Flint on Question of Sunday Labour.

DISCUSSION ON THIS MATTER

The example of "Judge Dumble, a very prominent Methodist," is followed in Belleville in a Sunday labour case. The following letter from the Ontario of that city explains the circumstances:

To the Editor of the Ontario:

My Dear Sir,—The Government, having acquired the Lake property opposite the Quinte, ordered that all buildings should be removed therefrom. The buildings were put up for sale, and I became the purchaser of the house, the contract of purchase giving fourteen days for removal. I gave a contract to two persons, agreeing to pay them a stipulated sum when they placed the building upon my property. If they failed to do so, they were to receive nothing. The contract can be seen at any time.

They could suit themselves as to time of removal and mode.

I gave no permission to them to work of cut trees on Sunday. Considering the necessities of the railway and parties using it, they saw it was necessarily to work as speedily as possible to prevent blocking the railway and causing loss. Illness prevented them going on with their work, and as the railway is in use daily, they found that it would be necessary to continue their work on Sunday so as to cause as little loss and inconvenience as possible. They were stopped about noon by authority.

Now, whatever views people may have as to working on Sunday, one thing is quite clear, that the decisions of the Privy Council in England annulled the "Lord's Day Act," as passed by the Ontario Legislature, and declared that the Act was inoperative and had no effect. The decisions destroyed the Act, and I am not aware of any law in force in Ontario forbidding Sunday labour.

Even had the Sabbath Observance law been in force, the cases decided in our courts by eminent judges, declare that such work as these contractors performed on Sunday was of such a necessary character that they would have had a perfect right to continue it on Sunday. The railways of this country, cement works at Point Ann, paper mills, canning factories frequently run on Sunday, and have a perfect right to do so under the law as it stood before the decision of the Privy Council. How much greater their rights when there is practically no law in force in Ontario prohibiting Sunday labour?

In this Province railways carry passengers and freight on Sunday, street cars run, cabs convey passengers, milkmen, livery stable men, pursue their avocations, drug stores are open for sale of goods part of Sunday. Judge Dumble, of Peterborough, a very prominent Methodist, delivered judgment recently, dismissing a case against a large industry which runs on Sunday and which was charged with breach of the Sunday Act. I pursued the same course with the paper mills of Glen Miller, which were charged with running on Sunday. In this case it was the duty of the contractors, in the interests of the public, to clear the railway and the public street as quickly as possible, and they were acting within their rights when stopped.

I am yours,

JOHN J. B. FLINT.

Miss Olga Kalneng Welcomed Freedom

Olga Kalneng, a pretty and fascinating little Russian girl with "The Yankee Consul" Company, which played here last night, is among those who were intensely interested in the recent declaration of freedom in Finland. The recent manifesto issued by Czar Nicholas declaring freedom and a release from the tyrannical oppression that has been the bane of life in Finland, was particularly gratifying to the little Russian girl, whose home is in the far-away land. Olga was born in the little village of Regas, Finland, and is the daughter of a poor farmer, whose meagre earnings wrested from his poor, tax-ridden farm, were barely enough to support his poverty-stricken family. At the age of nine Olga showed remarkable cleverness as a fancy dancer, and finally, at the instigation of a friend, took up dancing as a profession. For several years she worked diligently to perfect herself in the art, and finally secured a place in the chorus at the Theatre Royal, St. Petersburg. Her nimble dancing soon attracted the attention of the ballet master, and when one of the principals was suddenly stricken with illness Olga was hastily substituted. She was shortly afterwards engaged at a large salary as principal dancer at the Theatre Royal, and later came to America, and added to her fame by appearing in several big musical productions. This season manager John P. Slocum engaged her to create a solo dance in "The Yankee Consul," and her splendid work added lustre to the performance. But her triumph did not lessen the girl's love for her mother country, and when Finland was trying to win freedom, Olga's sympathies lay in that direction. When the company was playing in Montreal last week Olga read the newspaper reports of her mother country's victory, and in her enthusiasm cabled her congratulations to her mother in the little village in faraway Finland.

No Franchise For Women

The Y.M.C.A. Debating Club Decides Against It.

The bi-weekly meeting of the Y. M.C.A. Debating Club held last evening was no doubt the best of the season thus far. Vice-President Reid presided, and was subsequently elected President in place of Mr. Coleman. Mr. Reg. Orr was elected to the post of 2nd Vice-President.

Mr. Don Downie gave a masterly and comprehensive review of current events, noting particularly the Russian situation, the American elections and the Northwest elections. Several local matters were dealt with as well.

The debate, "Resolved, that the franchise be extended to women," proved to be an interesting contest. Messrs. Rosenburg and Shiner supported the affirmative and Messrs. Williamson and Walker the negative.

The Board of Judges decided that the negative had presented the stronger argument and gave their decision accordingly.

The club adjourned to meet again on Wednesday evening, Nov. 29th.

Rideau Masonry Outlasts Modern

The masonry work of the famous lift lock at Peterborough is very defective, according to reports from that place. In striking contrast to that specimen of modern work, says the Brockville Times, we may point to the masonry of the locks along Rideau Canal built one hundred years ago. There they stand, as sound to all intents and purposes as they were when the British military engineers finished them over three generations ago. At Jones' Falls there are five locks immediately over the other, with a huge semi-circular retaining wall to the basin above them, the admiration of the thousands of tourists who pass through the Rideau every summer and an example of good, honest work.

Rev. Father McColl To Dr. Crothers

A Reply to Rev. Dr. Crothers' Letter of Yesterday—Another Contribution to the Current Controversy—Further Citation of Historical and Other Authorities.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—I am pleased to see that Rev. Dr. Crothers, in his last letter, admits what I contended in reference to the superior moral excellence of the Irish people. If he investigates a little more he will come to a similar conclusion about the Philippines.

He finds fault because Prescott's History of the Conquest of Mexico is called "a historical romance," and forgets that I quoted Chambers' Encyclopaedia of English Literature as authority for the statement. Such, indeed, I consider it. Besides, from personal reading I know well how Prescott misrepresents Catholic teaching and practice.

The Rev. Dr. is most unfortunate in his choice of authorities. I proved the puerile absurdity of Dr. Withrow's statements concerning the low standard of education in Austria, and will now show the unreasonableness of Bishop Brent's assertions, when he accuses the Catholic clergy of laxity in the Philippines. Charges similar to his have been made by reverend gentlemen residing not so very far from Peterborough, about Catholic clergymen in general. There is there is no reason for complaint if I prefer General Woods' testimony to that of the Rt. Rev. Bishop. The general, as I showed in my last letter, testifies to the morality of the Filipinos, and especially praises the virtues of their women. Then he adds, "The work done by the Roman Catholic Friars in the three centuries Spain held the islands was wonderful, and cannot fail to excite our admiration." Now, do not reason and common sense tell us that a lax clergy could never accomplish such work as he says was done. "A stream can never rise above its source."

Dr. Crothers practically admits what I said about the small results from Protestant missions in India. He says they have now 445,000 communicants in that country, which is a mere bagatelle when compared with its 340,000,000 of population. According to Marshall, there were over 1,000,000 Catholics in India, in 1620. To-day there are more than 2,000,000.

I am expected to accept Froude and Goldwin Smith as proof that the Catholic church approved the massacre of St. Bartholomew. Did Dr. Crothers ever read Catholic historians on this subject? If not, he has only one side of the question. However, it is not necessary to quote a Catholic historian to show that Rome was "clear of the business." In the Encyclopaedia Americana we find the following: "Roman Catholics as well as Huguenots fell victims to the political and personal hatred of the slayers. . . . The victims are calculated from 10,000 to 100,000. The Calvinist martyrology cites 786 names: 2,000 is the number computed by late historians. At Rome the massacre was represented as a victory over a great Huguenot conspiracy against the king; it was for this reason the Pope ordered the Te Deum to be chanted and a medal to be struck commemorating the event." This exonerates the Pope from any approval of the massacre. The Te Deum was sung in the French church at Rome, under French auspices, as an act of international rejoicing in consequence of the first report. These were not like the days of telegraphy and telephones, and hence a false report could not be easily disproved. Later on, the truth became known in all its details, and the sovereign pontiff, in his discourses, and by his bulls, publicly expressed his horror at the crime.

For the further enlightenment of our reverend opponent on this question of intolerance, I shall here conclude a quotation from a lecture entitled "Innovations," by Dr. Littledale, a bitter enemy of the Catholic church:—

"Everybody knows there was a horrible massacre of the French Protestants on St. Bartholemew's Day, 1572; but few know that the atrocities which the Protestants themselves, ten years before, had committed at Beaugency, Montauban, Nimes, Montpellier, Grenoble and Lyons, equalled, if they did not exceed, that terrible crime. Again, I do not suppose there are ten persons in this room who ever heard of the Nones of Haarlem in Holland. William the silent, Prince of Orange, the famous leader of the revolt of the Netherlands against Spain, posted a large body of soldiers around the Square of Haarlem, one Corpus Christi Day, when the Catholics were all at church. As soon as service was over, and the congregation streamed out, they were hemmed in and massacred by the Protestant soldiery. A slaughter of not much less atrocity signalized the introduction of Lutheranism into Sweden by the butcherly tyrant Gustavus Vasa."

If Dr. Crothers should desire any further topics for meditation in connection with this subject or with the Spanish Inquisition, I shall refer him to the history of Henry VIII's reign and to that of Elizabeth, who put to death in a single year a larger number of persons than suffered during the 350 years of the Spanish inquisition.

When Dr. Crothers even refers to freedom of conscience and intolerance, he gives proof that his historical knowledge is very meagre, and that he does not realise the very fragile glass house in which he lives. His reading has been within the compass of very narrow limits, otherwise he would know that Spain, as well as every other Catholic country tolerates all religious denominations. See Encyclopedia Americana for Spain, etc. He does not even read the best Protestant writers, therefore it would be too much to expect him to read Catholic authors. The fact is, I have refuted all his arguments by Protestant testimony.

Read the best authorities, Doctor, and you will not then quote the fairy tales of Dr. Withrow, the Episcopalian Bishop Brent or the Montreal Witness, which carries as much weight with us as the Orange Sentinel. Do this, Rev. Dr., and keep out of bad company. Then it will be quite certain that you and I shall have no more controversy.

Geo. Rickerby Defends His Brother's Case

Protests That He is Innocent of the Charge of Theft—Gives His Version of the Affair—Joseph Rickerby, According to the Writer, Not the Man Who Stole the Money—Some Sidelights Shown.

INTERESTING CASE IS REVIEWED

Editor Examiner.

Dear Sir,—In reading the report last evening of the charge against my brother Joseph, I would ask your reporter to do him justice by giving the facts in full. He has taken care to eliminate whatever facts that would seemingly exonerate him (my brother) from any guilt. That my brother is innocent can be proven by ten witnesses.

The above assertion can be substantially proven. Your report said: "Although Moore was severely cross-examined by defendants' counsel, his evidence was little shattered." Now, in his warrant he swore that the amount lost was sixty dollars. On cross-examination by Mr. McWilliams he said it was eighty dollars. Both statements were made on oath, and either one is certainly false. I believe neither. He positively swore that he paid for his dinner with even change. The bar-tender and two other witnesses swear that he handed a five dollar bill, and he then and there declared that the change he received was all he had on his person, and, as a passing remark, said, "when I blow that I'm broke." Further, on oath, he said, "Rickerby and I had a drink together." On cross-examination by defendant's counsel, he admitted that there were others. Pressed further by Mr. McWilliams, he said, "The drinks cost me a quarter," thereby admitting that even six might have drank on that treat. He swore that he had only three or four drinks. The bar-tender and others swear that twenty would be a considerate estimate. Apart from what he drank before coming to the C. P. R. After the supposed losing of the money he told three or four persons that he had lost his pocketbook. When asked who took it he answered, "I don't know, there have been so many in here," and after perusing a half dozen different persons he left. Yesterday he swore that he accused no one but the defendant.

Now, Mr. Editor, would you not call the above statements conflicting. And in justice to my brother, I ask you to publish this letter and accept the thanks of

Respectfully yours,
GEO. T. RICKERBY.

Note.—Mr. Rickerby has quoted from the wrong paper. What he attributed to the Examiner did not appear in its columns. The Examiner stated: "Mr. McWilliams put the witness (Moore) through a severe cross-examination, but did not seem to shake his evidence to any extent."

As a Convalescent Food.

Mr. Wyman N. Thomas, Ompah, Addington Co., Ont., writes:.—My wife had congestion of the lungs and other troubles, and became very weak and run down. By the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food she was made as strong and well as ever. Of course I had a doctor, but she was weak, and it was Dr. Chase's Nerve Food that built her up."

Luak, a Sakai, was digging for potatoes with a wooden spade at Ulu Juk, Perak, in the Malay States, when a tiger seized his left leg below the knee. He turned and hit the tiger on the head with a big slopper, which he picked up, killing the animal with one blow. He had to force open the tiger's mouth with his wooden spade to release the leg.

A RIGHT WAY and A WRONG WAY

Many people have many ways to bring about the same result. Most of them are mistaken ways, but this is not known until the test of time points plainly to the error. Practically there are but two ways to accomplish anything; a right way and a wrong way. Take, for instance, a man with a bad back, there are lots of them, and of various kinds, some with stitches and twitches, others with cricks and twinges; then there's the dull, heavy continuous kind that lasts all day and doesn't sleep at night. They're all bad enough, they're all hard enough to get rid of. Some people rub the back with liniment, others cover it with plasters, either or both means often bring relief, but the pain comes back—it's the wrong way to cure the trouble.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

have a way to cure backache, a way that's all their own—the Right way. They're made for the kidneys only. When the kidneys fail in their work of filtering the blood the back aches because they are strained in the small of the back; headache is the kidney's warning of trouble, and every day you let the warning go it brings you nearer to urinary disorders, Diabetes, Bright's Disease, etc.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure every form of kidney ills and that's why they bring such quick relief from backache. Mr. Fred Gray, Good Corner, N.B., writes: "I was greatly troubled with pain across my back. I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and received so much benefit from them that I consider them the best remedy for kidney trouble there is. I would not be without them in my house."

Headaches Cured

One cause of headache and nervous diseases very often is hyperopia, or far-sightedness. If your eye is normal you require no muscular effort to see distinct objects. Some eyes are so formed that they require a muscular effort to see clearly far objects. Such eyes are DOUBLY strained when used for near vision. This EXERTION CONSTITUTES EYE STRAIN.

75 per cent. of headaches are caused by eye strain and can only be cured by removing the the cause. That is what our glasses do.

ALONE.

Germany seems to have reached the stage of splendid isolation. For thirty-five years—since 1870—it has posed as the dominating power in Europe. Now it is alone; France, England and Italy are in close accord; Russia is out of the running and Germany occupies a position of aloofness among the powers. All the first-class European powers are agreed on a policy of dealing with Turkey with ungloved hands except Germany. The Emperor put his finger in the Morocco pie with the result of bringing about an alliance between what had long been regarded as impossible elements, England and France. The only possible national chum Germany can look to is Russia. In this matter the German Emperor has antagonized European opinion which is inclined to let Russia work out its destiny alone, but the German Emperor has tendered his help to the troubled giant. This latter country is reaping the harvest of centuries of tyranny, and in view of this fact, instead of offering to assist in perpetuating the conditions of the past in Russia, which are responsible for so much suffering, bloodshedding and oppression, Emperor William might be well employed in setting his own household in order. National sins and shortcomings bring retribution as surely as private offences of the same kind, and though the day of reckoning may seem far away, it is certain to come.

COMPENSATION.

The Tariff Commissioners must have been startled by the testimony of Mr. Wright, the Montreal representative of A. & S. Nordheimer, the piano makers. The commissioners expect every manufacturer to ask for an increase in the tariff on his own wares, but Mr. Wright—told them that the Canadian piano manufacturers were at their wits' end to keep up with orders, and that the entrance of some higher class American pianos would afford temporary relief. "Had it not been for some of the higher class American pianos finding a way into Canadian homes, Canadian manufacturers would not be turning out the excellent instruments that are now on the market," said Mr. Wright. It is refreshing, says the London Advertiser, to hear such evidence. A certain amount of foreign competition is an excellent thing for any industry. It not only prevents monopoly, but it also tends to keep the the quality of the domestic product on a par with the best that foreigners can show. Canadian organs and pianos are the equal of any that are made, and are able to hold their own in the markets of the world. Mr. H. M. Field, the great Canadian pianist, who is well acquainted with conditions in Germany, informed the Examiner recently, that Canadian homes have, as a rule, far better pianos, than the average in the German homes.

FARMERS' HALCYON DAYS

"Cheese reached 12 cents on the Brockville board on Saturday, the highest paid this year, and still some factory men refused to sell. The supply for cable orders must be short. This is a great year for the Canadian farmer," says the Ottawa Citizen. It might have used Peterborough as a "terrible example;" at the last cheese board meeting, cheese reached 12 7-16 cents, and some factories refused 12 3-8 cents. This speaks well for the quality of Peterborough cheese, especially in contrast with that of the Brockville district, which has long arrogated preeminence in cheese production. If buyers on the same market conditions offered nearly half a cent more for Peterborough cheese than they did for the Brockville product, the inference is easy—"money talks."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Premier Whitney says Hon. Mr. Matheson succeeds better in negotiating a provincial loan in England than appears on the surface. This is enigmatical, but Mr. Matheson explains — he didn't get financiers to subscribe the loan, but he "had a good time"—at the expense of the province.) Nobody will grudge Mr. Matheson living well in London, as a representative of the province, but even if he were only working for his board, he should have something besides a good time to show for it.

Toronto has 65,000 persons entitled to vote at the municipal elections. Yet it is not probable that more than half of these will take the trouble to exercise their franchise.

There are twenty-five seats in the Alberta Legislature, and the Conservatives have capture one single seat—that represented by the riding with the romantic name of Rosebud. It seemed to be plucked by the rude hand of the Coercionists.

If we want some indication of how Mr. Haultain will succeed in Saskatchewan in the coming general elections it seems to be furnished by the result in the constituency in Alberta which he formerly represented. Mr. Mackenzie the Liberal candidate, a despatch from McLeod tells us, had the greatest victory in the late campaign, there, having been elected by a majority of 222.

The Liberal victory in Alberta is perahps too much of a good thing, the indication being that there will perhaps be no Conservative Opposition in the new Legislature, or if any, only one or two. To a certain extent this is to be regretted but the result as an expression of popular opinion is to be hailed as a valuable expression of this opinion and indicates how mistaken or misleading were the Ontario journals which magnified day to day, or rather created, popular discontent with the Liberal Government.

The Hamilton Herald hints that the people of Alberta didn't vote on the provincial rights issue, because the Liberals fought shy of it in the campaign, and put the railway question to the front. If the people had been suffering from Federal oppression they would have known it, and wouldn't have allowed any party to side-track their grievances. If a man is suffering from a howling toothache, his attention can't be diverted by a suggestion that his corns are shooting.

The Brant County Alliance has decided not to submit local option by-laws in any of the municipalities of the county in the coming January elections. The Brantford Expositor remarks that one reason for this decision, it is said, is a feeling in the rural municipalities that prohibition in the county would be useless unless the city and Paris were included. He that as it may, there is undoubtedly a feeling of unreadiness and uncertainty in the temperance ranks, and it is doubtful if anything would be gained by precipitating a contest at this time.

REDUCTIO AD ABSURDUM.

When young Mr. Bennett, of Calgary, has crawled from beneath the wreck of his political fortunes, and has time for reflection, he will see that he has himself to blame for an anti-climax and reproach from one end of ridicule and reproach from one end of the country to the other. His speeches in London and North Oxford must return to plague him. No doubt many of his hearers took him at his word, and believed that he honestly interpreted western sentiment. They were deceived as to the real situation, but it is questionable whether Mr. Bennett himself was deceived for a single moment. Here is a passage from his speech in London on May 30, which no public man with a sense of responsibility would have uttered:

"If you turn down Mr. Hyman on the 13th of June, I think they will withdraw that clause. Never in the history of Canada have men had so great responsibility as is thrust upon you, electors of London. Once this act goes upon the statute book, it cannot be withdrawn. They say they will go to London and get an act indorsing it before we may do so. I tell you, the west will never stand that. THERE WILL BE A REVOLUTION BEFORE THE WEST WILL SUBMIT. We had a premier of this country once who said he would have shouldered his musket on the banks of the Saskatchewan had he been there. Then if with all his sunny ways he would have done this thing for grievances such as had these people, what may we not have the right to do when confronted by the grievances that are being thrust upon us to-day? May we not have the right to take all the cannon, all the gatling guns we can get?

In the light of recent events in Alberta, these words are merely ridiculous, but they were eagerly seized upon at the time by the inflammatory press, and had some effect upon public opinion in this Province. "We do that in our zeal our calmer moments are afraid to answer." Mr. Bennett may have been jealous, but he was not honest with his audience. He would not have presumed to use such language in his own Province. It is plain that he was trying to gudgeon the electors of London and North Oxford and produce an effect at any cost. There was an exaggeration that verged on the burlesque in all of Mr. Bennett's speeches in this part of the country, and the wonder is that any intelligent persons failed to detect the note of insincerity. Here are a few extracts from his addresses in London (vide Free Press report.) which showed him to be inebriated with the exuberance of his own verbosity:

"The Government said the west should not control their own lands. They were afraid to let go the graft they had created. But who bought and paid for these lands? Who bought the land of these great provinces in the east? It was the British soldiers, and they paid for it with their blood." (Great cheering.)

"By the memory of the men who died on the Plains of Abraham, the west asked for the control of the land that were their own. They had the same right to them as the people of Ontario had to these lands bought and paid for by British blood.

"Suns might rise and suns might set. Civilization might broaden and widen. But forever and forever our hands are tied, and, our feet are bound by this restriction Sir Wilfrid and Mr. Hyman would place upon us.

"They tell you the west don't care. Well, I am here to say the west cares, so far as I am concerned. Do you think I would have come so long a journey as I have that I might speak to you, if I did not care? And so long as I have a voice within me to speak, so long shall my voice be heard in that western country; so will I never cease to agitate until we get the rights of free men and not slaves and vassals.

"Men of London, I ask you in the name of a free and aspiring west, one day the home of your children and your children's children, I ask you, not because of any resentment against Mr. Hyman—he only stands for a bad and vicious principle—but because you are unalterably opposed to coercion in its worst form, I ask you to go to the polls, and as free men strike a blow for freedom and freedom's cause in this great land by marking your ballot for my friend, William Gray."

All of which was the veriest balderdash. Mr. Bennett knew it then; the electors of London and North Oxford know it now, if some of them were misled for the moment by his rhetorical fervour. The spouts of Mr. Bennett's eloquence have been rather mercilessly closed, but the discipline may do him good.—London Advertiser.

Success Of The Soo Industries

The Lake Superior Corporation, as our readers are aware, is the successor to the Consolidated Lake Superior Corporation, which was proclaimed bankrupt about two years ago. The affairs of the re-constructed undertaking have, under new and conservative management, been put in good order, and the directors have just issued a report, with which the shareholders have every reason to be satisfied. With the exception of a few disputed claims, the old indebtedness has now been liquidated, and the company will have, after the final settlements shall have been made, the balance of the treasury bonds in hands, amounting to probably over a million dollars, for the uses of the corporation. In the commendable desire to restore confidence in the undertaking and avoid even the semblance of "making a showing," they have erred on the side of over-cautiousness, and we are justified in stating that income might quite properly have been credited with an additional amount of approximately $100,000. Again the valuation at which the assets have been placed is the lowest possible one, and in this year's statement have been included and charged against the year's operations all the extraordinary expenses incidental to reorganization and the rehabilitation of works and property. We regard the future of the company as being exceptionally promising, and with the high prices now obtainable for steel, and the present considerable demand for that product, the company starts a new year under peculiarly favourable auspices. It is also satisfactory to learn that recent developments at the Helen Mine have appreciably increased the value of that property.

The foregoing, from that responsible and non-partisan journal, the Canadian Mining Review, affords further evidence of the wisdom of the late Ross Government, in spite of the obstruction of the Conservative Opposition, in giving the timely and much needed assistance, which placed the consolidated industries upon their feet with such splendid results achieved and prospective, as those indicated by our contemporary.

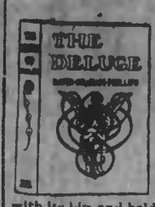
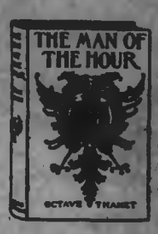
Four of the Best Sellers



Mr. Phillips' new novel is important to every fiction lover because it grips the attention in a vise of steel. "This shall be," says the harrator at the beginning of the story, 'a cross-section out of the very heart of our life to-day, with its big and bold passions."



Octave Thanet, long known and loved as a writer of short stories, has wrought her master-work in her first novel of full size, "The Man of the Hour." It enriches our literature and illumines our problems of labor, love and life.

"Mr. McGrath has a way of darting into one of those little doors to which the average person gives no particular attention, and yet which invariably leads him to the very heart of the Castle Delectable. It is a book to win the heart, not only at Christmastide, but the whole year round."

'By the terms of his grandfather's will, Jack Glenarm, globe-trotter, was to spend one whole year in a strange, candle lighted palace by an Indiana lake. PETERBORO'S OPERA HOUSE OPENED LAST NIGHT; A BRILLIANT FUNCTION

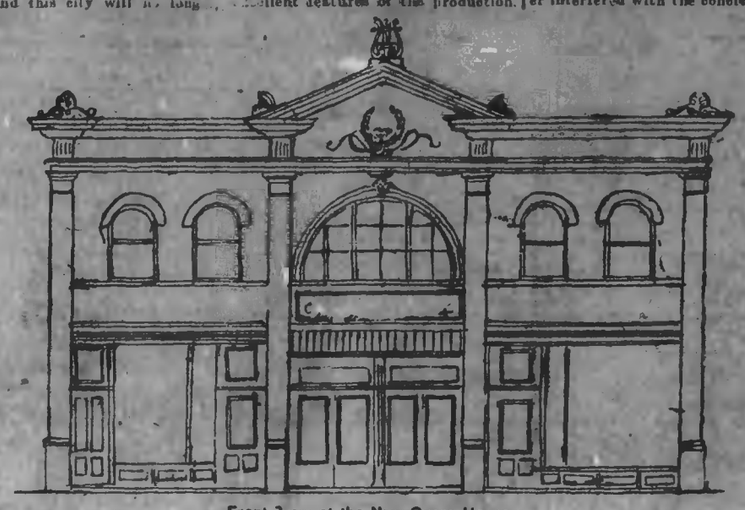
"The Yankee Consul," the Opening Attraction—New Play House Was the Scene of a Fashionable Gathering Last Night—A Credit to the City—About 1200 Persons Attended the Initial Performance—Bright Prospects for the Future—Mr. Reuben Fax Greeted as an Old Friend.

With a brilliancy befitting the occasion, the Peterborough Opera House last night was op[illegible] be[illegible] public, and this city will [illegible] long [illegible] handsome and excellent features of the production.



Front View of the New Opera House.

in this respect, at least, have to take second place to such burgs as Lindsay and Belleville.

That there is a general desire on the part of the public for opera house attractions, was apparent last night when, in spite of the high prices which prevailed for the opening night, the new house was almost filled, and the prospects for the new play house, judging by the events last night, are of the best.

A description, in detail, of the new house has already been given in these columns, and the great majority of the citizens are fairly familiar with its construction, since its advent has aroused such interest that every day just prior to its completion, it was visited by hundreds of interested spectators, who showed a deep interest in the progress of the work.

The management of the opera house is to be congratulated upon the enterprise shown in erecting a play house, which would accommodate any of the shows on the road, and is that given last night the adaptabilities of the stage were put to the test and were found to meet the requirements.

Last night there were in the neighbourhood of 1200 persons in the opera house, and to say that they were pleased with what they saw, and heard, would not be over-stating the situation, for the applause which greeted those taking part in the production of the opening attraction, "The Yankee Consul," was sufficient proof of this fact. Reuben Fax, who played the part of the Consul in this opera was given a good reception, many of the audience having seen him before in the "Bonnie Briar Bush," so that, to them, it was like meeting an old friend, and one who had never failed to please them.

Not only was the stage attraction satisfactory, but the comfort with which the patrons of the house were provided, was of such a character to place them in a happy state of mind, generally one of pleasant surprise, that Peterborough could boast such an opera house as that to which they were then introduced, and these facts combined served to place the audience in good humour, which increased, as the evening progressed.

There is no doubt that the opera house, which has opened so auspiciously, will increase in popularity, particularly if the attractions secured are up to the standard of that of last night, which they, no doubt, will be.

The fact that the stage is large, well equipped, and capable of accommodating any show which may play on this circuit, will be a decided point in its favour in securing the best of the attractions in Canada.

The staging and costumes of "The Yankee Consul" last night were, of course, the most elaborate ever presented in Peterborough. The costumes, which form such an important part of the charm and brightness of the play, were rich and beautiful creations.

The staging of the production was elaborate, and with the splendid facilities of the new opera house, the oft-repeated cry "in days of old" of insufficient stage space will be no more resounded in Peterborough. In the new theatre special provision has been made with regard to staging, and all productions can now be amply accommodated.

Mr. Reuben Fax, in the title role last night, was most effective, and the bright sallies and bon-mots with which the comedy abounds were performed by Mr. Fax with true "Yankee Consular" spirit of careless abandon. His rendering of the many bright song hits was, in most respects, up to the Hitchcock order, though a slight lack of sympathy on the part of the accompanists was observable at some stages of the performance, this being most noticeable in the tuneful "Old New York." Mr. Fax scored a decided hit in "Ain't It Funny What a Difference." Miss Vern Nicholena took the role of the daughter of the ponderous Donna Teresa in a charming manner, completely winning the favour of the audience. Miss Emma handled the difficult role of the wealthy widow Donna Teresa most effectively, and was screamingly funny throughout.

The choruses were one of the most excellent features of the production. They were bright and attractive, and the ensemble effect musically, and in general effect was superb. Altogether the production gave general delight and was in every respect appropriate to the occasion, fulfilling its mission admirably as an opening night performance.

The Next Attraction.

The next attraction at the Opera House will be Winston Churchill's great book play, "The Crossing," and this promises to be the dramatic event of the season. It will be given next Wednesday.

"The Crossing" is by far the most pretentious production of the season. Every particle of furniture, every candle stick, and every bit of tapestry is carried by the company, and two cars are necessary to bring the things here from New York. Mr. Churchill himself who, with Mr. Louis Evan Shipman, made the dramatization of the best selling book in years, personally supervised the making of the play and both insisted upon everything being correct and of the period in which the play is laid.

Some excellent opportunities are offered for handsome stage settings, and the scenic artists have taken advantage of them all. The first act shows an old inn down in New Orleans, the second is at Les Lales, one of the famous plantation estates. In the third act one sees a handsome room of one of the splendid New Orleans homes while in the last scene is shown the palace of the Spanish Governor.

Bridge Contract Almost Complete

Mr. Frank Conroy, of East City, Returns From Bryson, Que.

Mr. Frank Conroy has returned from Bryson, Que., where he, with his brothers, David and Edward, have been engaged upon a bridge construction contract, begun some time ago.

The bridge is a steel, three-span structure across the Ottawa River, from Calumet Island to the mainland in Pontiac County. About forty local men are engaged in the work, which is now nearing completion. The unfavourable condition of the weather interfered with the concreting work, and this portion will be left till the early spring.

Messrs. David and Edward Conroy will remain till about Christmas at Bryson to complete some timber work yet remaining to be done.

Rev. Dr. Symonds Will Attend St. Luke's Reunion

The many friends of Rev. Dr. Symonds in St. Luke's congregation will be pleased to learn that he has decided to accept the invitation to be present at the congregational reunion on Tuesday night, which is being arranged by the Girls' Guild and Men's Guild. To-day Rev. Mr. Langfeldt received word from Rev. Dr. Symonds to this effect. He said: "Although I have two engagements, both rather important, for Tuesday afternoon and evening, I cannot possibly miss the chance of an old time St. Luke's social." This gathering will be for the members of St. Luke's congregation only.

The Art Association To Hold Exhibition

The Peterborough Branch of the Woman's Art Association of Canada will, in all probability, hold next year an exhibition similar to that being held in Toronto this year. The members of the local branch are seeking to awake sufficient interest in the development of art to make such an exhibition possible here.

The Toronto Globe speaking of that being held in Toronto says:

Dutch art once more occupies the galleries of the Woman's Art Association, and the collection this year presents a striking and attractive exhibit. Josef Israels is well to the fore and a selection from his black and white work fills one corner of the salon. Johan Hendrik Van Mastenbroek has a most impressive winter scene on view. "River Maas, near Vamur," and "Morning Fog," is an excellent companion. Willem Steelink's "Shepherd and Sheep" is a beautiful evening subject, in which distinction and softness of colour are happily blended.

"Hans Sachs," by Van A. H. Trigt, catches the eye with its firm colour, and Johannes Weiland has two thoroughly Dutch subjects in "The Laundress" and "Pancakes." "The Sick Child," by J. H. Wolter is a similarly interesting piece. Louis Apol, Bernardus J. Blommers, Johannes Hendrik Weissenbruch, Karel Klinkenberg, Anton Mauve, Willy Sluiter, Paul, J. C. Gabriel, Jacob Maris, and many other notable artists are well represented among the hundred or so pictures on view. The catalogue gives biological notes of the painters, and portraits of the more prominent, Israels' last photograph being included.

Local Officers Will Be Commissioned

On Saturday, Sunday and Monday next Staff. Capt. Creighton, chancellor for the East Ontario and Quebec Provinces of the Salvation Army, will visit Peterborough and will conduct special meetings. On Saturday night there will be a welcome meeting. On Sunday the staff captain will address the three meetings, his subjects being: 11 a.m., "The Heavenly Soldier." 3 p.m., "Young People of History and Bible." 7 p.m., "Sin, Its Cause, and Cure." On Monday night the commissioning of the local officers and bandsmen will take place.

The local officers in charge are looking forward to these special meetings with the expectation of enjoying a more than usually profitable series of meetings.

Give the Boys A "Final Lift"

The Peterborough Rugby Team is where it has often been before, in the finals, for the Rugby championship, and many times they have emerged victorious, to the glory of themselves and the credit of the city. On Saturday the team goes to Dundas, to—bring back the championship, it is hoped—and the public can help the team, both materially and morally, by patronizing the excursion, with the financial profit that represents, and by being present on the field to cheer them on to victory. It's a pleasant journey, the rate of travel is low, with good stop-over privileges. Try to put your business in shape to go with the boys. They deserve the best encouragement you can give.

RUGBY.

Peterborough,

November 16th.

To Sporting Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—There has been considerable controversy of late concerning the excursion of the team to Dundas next Saturday. Everybody is of the opinion that a large number should accompany the boys, and for that matter everybody said the team deserved better support during the entire season, but it was not accorded them. Now, I wonder if the talk of going to Dundas, will simply end in talk. A prominent real estate advertiser says in his advertisements in the current magazines that "money talks". Boys as actions speak louder than words so does money signify more than "hot air."

If the [illegible] doesn't help the team out of the hole Peterborough's reputation as a good sporting town will be rendered very questionable.

Brockville didn't help along its team as well as it should throughout the season, but at the last game, according to the Brockville Recorder, fifteen hundred turned out and encouraged the team to try to win.

Here's success to the Peterborough intermediate rugby team of 1905. Let the people of Dundas see that we take an interest in the welfare of our splendid aggregation. We have the men, and while that's true, we need the money, too.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space,

Yours truly,

SUPPORTER.

Dundas is Confident

A man from Dundas, an old player on the team of that town, was in the city the other day. He made reference to the team of that town as very fast men, although light, and said he had great confidence in their ability to "cop" the intermediate trophy. He referred to Bert Cameron as a good man, and said the whole bunch played lightening ball. The people of Dundas are said to be willing to back their boys to a finish and the people of Peterborough—give the boys some excellent support? But any rate the knockers of this place are picking the locals to win and a big crowd will probably see them play in Dundas on Saturday. Both teams are now sure of victory but "All's it funny what a difference a few hours make," and if Peterborough loses, look out for the Lindsay Post "sporting column "When the Hammers go Rap, rap, rap."

• • • •

The Hamilton Tigers and Toronto Argonauts play in Montreal next Saturday. Although the Argos made a good showing against the Burlington [illegible] last Saturday, their chances for victory look mighty slim.

The Silkworms? Not For Him!

Mr. H. Staunton, to whom the Examiner's genial contemporary has referred to as "Freight Car", is indignant that his name should have been mentioned at all in connection with the Silkworms. The journal referred to states that the management of the Silk Worms, emphatically deny the rumour that they have offered "Freight Car" Staunton $10 a month to play with them this year.

Mr. Staunton never asked the Silk Worms for a position on the team and would not be seen in such slow company. Mr. Staunton has just turned down several tempting offers, the last one being $5 a month and board to play with the "moonbeams" of Another, who are picked by the wise ones to win the championship of the "Tall Timber League". Mr. Staunton has not yet decided what aggregation he will play with but he certainly will not chase the puck with the SILK Worms. Later—Just as the paper was going to press it has been learned that Mr. Staunton was to-day seen heading for the woods, but as the Examiner was unable to obtain an interview with him it is impossible to state where he was going.

HOCKEY

To-night a meeting to organize the George Street Guild Hockey Club for this season will be held in the Y.M.C.A.

• • • •

Tickets for the Brockville Hockey Club are on sale at the cigar stores in town. It's time local club was following suit.

• • • •

Rumours have been floating around to the effect that the reason the city leagues is not organizing is because they cannot obtain the rink. This is not correct as no application to the Rink Co. has been made. The Rink Co. is willing to allow any league to use the rink, and is prepared to make terms, and it is pretty nearly time that there was something being done in the matter.

HOCKEY

The Examiner has been told to let the West End Hockey Club know that it's pretty nearly time to organize.

THE TURF.

Mr. Eddie Andrews, a clever knight of the sulky, of Buffalo, will take in the Canadian fair races this winter with a good stable. He intends locating at Toronto, Lindsay or Peterborough in a few weeks, to condition his horses properly. He has a green gaiter that will be heard from in the $1,000 stake at Ottawa."—Horse World.

• • • •

The Canadian ice racing circuit will be the best in the history of the frozen north. The bell will tinkle for the first start at Dufferin Park, Toronto, the last week in December. Among the other places of prominence down the line are Port Perry, Lindsay, Peterborough, Picton, Belleville, Kingston, Ottawa, and Montreal. Newmarket, Orillia, Barrie, and other places will probably give meetings.

• • • •

Lady Gothard, Little Jap, and Gradiscalet are all to be considered in this stake.

• • • •

Cook is rounding his string of horses into good shape. They will probably be heard from at the winter meet in the Midland Circuit.

BOXING AND WRESTLING.

Charlie Conkie, of Hamilton, and Harvey Parker, the welterweight champion wrestler of the world, will clash at Hamilton at the drill hall, on the 27th of this month. Parker is commonly known as the "Little Demon" and has wonderful vitality. Although he is over forty he is by no means ready to be "Osterized", and is still of the fastest mat athletes in the world. At the recent tournament, held at Sohmer Park, Montreal, for the 158 pound championship of the world, Conkie got second place and Tremblay the French Canadian champion, first. Guess he has gone down hill lately. Parker wheels prove a winner as he threw Tremblay, Conkie's vanquisher, about a year ago, obtaining two straight falls.

Springville Is Forging Ahead

Trade Conditions There Are Said to be Good.

Special to the Examiner.

Springville, Nov. 14th. — Our village is fast coming to the front, every day showing evidence of enterprise and advancement, both in fact and reputation. On Friday last a large force of men were busy improving the church property, showing that the zeal of perfection or the ideal of this enterprising congregation, or their popular pastor, had not yet been reached. Wednesday and Thursday of this week had been announced as the days when all able bodied men or willing workers could as let the good work very materially by being present and taking part in the work allotted to them.

Mrs. Miller of Peterborough, is conducting a singing class, which meets on Wednesday evening.

We welcome with pleasure the arrival of Mr. George Monerief and family as a worthy addition to our population. Mr. Monerief has purchased the residence and general store erected by the Rev. Dr. Campbell, in which Mr. F. E. Wilson has carried on business for the last four years. Mr. Monerief intends continuing the business and adding very extensively to the lines now carried. Mr. Monerief has been well and favourably known as an enterprising and successful farmer in the neighbourhood, where he has resided since boyhood. We wish Mr. Monerief every success.

Mr. F. E. Wilson has been utilising the shipping facilities provided by the C.P.R. at this point, shipping a considerable quantity of grain from Kendry station. The importance of this enterprise is very apparent to the farmers here, and they have been liberally patronizing the home market. Mr. George Mather, grain dealer of Peterborough, seems anxious to control the situation. He has been in our village posting bills announcing his intention of placing a man on our market in competition with Mr. Wilson. The importance of the situation is apparent, worthy of careful consideration, especially of the farmers.

Rev. George Yule has received a call to the Winchester Presbyterian church in the Brockville district.

Michael Kelly, a carpenter, employed by the Western Transfer at Lethbridge, Alta., died as the result of injuries received from a runaway accident, the team having collided with a telephone pole, precipitating him from a load of furniture. His brother John was killed under similar circumstances on May 21st. A telegram yesterday requested Michael to return to the bedside of his dying father.

Burglars who broke into the Bonaventure restaurant at Montreal, after plundering the place to the extent of $130 in cash and goods, left a drink for the proprietor, with the following note attached to the cork of the bottle: "Here's to your good health. We leave you a drink to drink to our good health."

For Anaemia You Must Have Iron

And Anyone Can Use Iron, as it is Combined With Other Ingredients in

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Anaemia or bloodlessness is indicated by paleness of the lips, the gums and the eyelids, and is most frequently found in girls and young women.

Other symptoms are deficient appetite, impaired digestion, irritable temper, shortness of breath, dizziness, fainting, headache, easily fatigued, depression and despondency.

The blood is lacking in the life-sustaining power which is necessary to the proper working of the bodily organs and can only be restored by the use of iron as any qualified physician will tell you.

But iron alone cannot be taken into a weak stomach. In Dr. Chase's Nerve Food iron is combined with certain nerve restoratives in such a way as to be easily assimilated into the blood, and thus afford immediate and lasting benefit to the system.

And more than this, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, through its action on the nerves, sharpens the appetite and aids digestion so that help is also afforded in deriving the full nourishment from the food taken into the body.

On account of these two ways in which Dr. Chase's Nerve Food enriches the blood and builds up the system, it is beyond doubt the most effective treatment of anaemia and similar wasting diseases that was ever compounded. Note your increase in weight while using it.

Mrs. M. A. McCree, Tory Hill, Ont., writes: "My system was all run down when I began to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I was weak and very nervous and felt so tired and worn out that I could scarcely drag myself about the house. It seemed impossible for me to get rest or sleep at night and I felt that I was gradually growing weaker and more nervous and irritable. Since beginning the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I feel altogether different. It has gradually strengthened my nerves and built up my system wonderfully. I sleep well now, and am being thoroughly restored to health and strength. I believe it is the best medicine to be had for the nerves."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 5 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, is on every box.

THERE has only been one real improvement in cooking ranges in many years. That improvement is the Imperial Oxford Diffusive Oven Flue.

While other makers were adding dampers, racks, door openers and shakers in a vain attempt to make improvements, we studied the heart of the range. We knew that the only improvement you wanted was a better oven, an oven that would help you bake better bread, pies and cakes, roast beef to a turn, retaining its juice and flavor.

The important feature of this system is the diffusive flue which draws in fresh air, superheats it and distributes it evenly throughout the oven. The article on the bottom shelf farthest from the fire is getting as much heat on all sides as the article on the top shelf next the fire.

We would like to explain this more fully. If your dealer doesn't handle the Imperial Oxford Range, write us for particulars. We will send catalogue and tell you where you can see the range. 14

Great Fall Of A Building In Hamilton

Just Missed Burying Twenty People In Its Ruins.

WARNED IN NICK OF TIME

Wall of Office Building In Hamilton Collapses, Owing to Being Undermined by Excavation—Two Women Make Triple Jumps For Life and Fortunately Escape — Firms Which Occupied the Building.

Hamilton, Nov. 16.—Practically the whole wall of the office building known as the commercial centre, 36 to 40 James street, near the corner of Main street, fell last evening at 6.20. It is a three-storey stone structure, with a depth of over sixty feet.

Half a minute before it fell there were twenty people in the building.

The Canadian White Co., Montreal, which has the contract of building the new Federal Life building, was making an excavation right beside the wall, and had gone to a depth of twelve feet. The wall was a flimsy affair of stone about twenty inches thick. The excavation weakened the foundation which slipped out for nearly the whole width of the building, and the wall right from the roof came crumbling down.

Women's Close Call.

Mrs. Myers, 35 Rebecca street, and her little daughter Clara were the only ones in the building when the wall fell. Mrs. Myers was in the office of Mr. Harrison, of Harrison & Lewis, next the wall on the second floor. The floor caved in under her feet, but she sprang into Mr. Lewis' room adjoining. This floor went down, but Mrs. Myers managed to spring from it on to the floor of the next office, with the help of her daughter, and both escaped without injury.

The wall carried all the floors down with it. The wall crumbled into the excavation that had been made. Three-quarters of an hour before it fell ten men were working right beside it, and the wagon they were loading was buried in the ruins.

Warned to Get Out.

Fortunately, T. L. Sweney of the American Express Co., on the first floor noticed that the wall was beginning to bulge, and he notified all the other people in the building to get out, a few seconds before it fell. Mrs. Myers and her daughter were the only ones not notified of the danger.

The American Express Co. occupied the whole of the first floor, Harrison & Lewis, Miss S. L. Teetsel, George S. Papps, Peter Balfour, Charles P. Hardy, M. Mattice, the Scarborough Co. and the Hamilton Telegraph School occupied the other two floors. All their furniture, books and other belongings were buried in the ruins. When the excavation was commenced, Building Inspector Anderson notified the owner of the building, M. A. Pigott, that the wall was not safe, and Mr. Pigott applied for an injunction to stop the work. An agreement between him and the insurance company was reached and the work was continued.

Arrest In Recent Proceedings.

The first sensation of the election campaign occurred Tuesday night, when Robert Lake was arrested, charged with impeding justice. It is said that Lake offered a man named Burton, who had been challenged in the election, money to remain away from the Court of Revision so that he would not be counted. It is said that Lake paid him $10. He was arrested at the instigation of the Conservatives.

Intended For Police Chief.

Constantinople, via Sofia, Bulgaria, Nov. 16.—Fehmi Pasha, the chief of the secret police of the palace, was intended to be the victim of Monday's bomb outrage. The pasha, however, escaped uncatched, and the explosion did little damage.

No joy or pleasure on this earth quite equals that which comes into the home when baby arrives. Who can describe the happiness of man and woman, joined in wedlock, as they look upon the fragile, delicate mite that is blood of their blood and flesh of their flesh? And who can depict the hopelessness and dejection that hover about the home where the wife is incapable of becoming a mother? Barrenness proceeds from some derangement of the distinctly feminine organs. Many of the common ailments known as "female troubles" cause it. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription overcomes barrenness by stamping out diseases of women, and by healing and curing ulceration. It tones up the system, stops drains, and restores strength. During gestation it modifies morning sickness, gives elasticity to the overstrained parts concerned, makes the hour of baby's coming short and almost painless, and gives wonderful recuperative power to the patient. By making the mother strong and cheerful, it makes the little one healthy, vigorous and good natured. Insist upon the medicine dealer giving you Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription when you ask for it. Substitutes are often dangerous.

Mrs. James W. Hacker, of 629 Catherine St., Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "Your medicines have done wonders for me. For years my health was very poor; I had four miscarriages, but since taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription' I have much better health, and now I have a fine healthy baby."

For 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only, you can get a free copy of that celebrated doctor book the Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages. Illustrated. Cloth-bound, 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Leaders Of The Party Are No Good

Statement of Antigonish Conservative Candidate.

CONTESTANTS IN N. YORK

Hon. Mr. Aylesworth and Mr. A. McCallum Nominated—Messrs. Pardee and Lesueur In West Lambton and Messrs. Smith and Sealey In Wentworth — Speeches at Various Nomination Meetings.

Halifax, Nov. 16.—Mr. William Chisholm was nominated by the Liberals of Antigonish yesterday for the seat vacated by Mr. C. F. McIsaac, Commissioner N. T. R. Mr. E. L. Girroir, who was defeated by Mr. McIsaac in 1900, was nominated by the Conservatives. Mr. Girroir is making his whole canvass on the question of increased indemnities, and at the nomination yesterday declared that Messrs. Borden, Foster and other Conservative leaders were no good, and he could not conscientiously follow them. Mr. Chisholm's election is conceded.

Two In the Field.

Sarnia, Nov. 16.—The nomination meeting here yesterday afternoon betrayed rather a slender interest in the bye-election in West Lambton. The attendance compared with former occasions was far from large, the Town Hall being scarcely half full. It was decidedly a Pardee meeting, the greatest applause breaking out when the Liberal candidate arose to make a short reply at the close of Mr. Lesueur's address. Mr. William Douglas, Camlachie, the returning officer, presided at the meeting after the nominations, when the only names put up were those of Mr. Fred. Pardee and Mr. R. E. Lesueur.

Mr. Aylesworth and Mr. McCallum.

Newmarket, Ont., Nov. 16.—Hon. A. B. Aylesworth, K.C., and Mr. Archie McCallum were the only two nominations received by Mr. S. A. Lundy, of Aurora, who was returning officer at the nomination here yesterday noon.

Both nominations were signed by a large number of townspeople and farmers of the vicinity.

Following the nominations the Liberals held a meeting, at which Hon. Mr. Aylesworth and Mr. Hugh Guthrie, K.C., delivered addresses.

Smith and Sealey Again.

Hamilton, Nov. 16.—The nominations for Wentworth took place at the Mountain View hotel yesterday.

E. D. Smith was nominated by the Conservatives and W. Oscar Sealey by the Liberals.

Both condemned the salary grab and David Henderson, M.P., for Halton spoke on behalf of Mr. Smith. He defended the salary increases.

HYDE V. HARRIMAN.

One Affirms and the Other Denies in Insurance Investigation.

New York, Nov. 16.—E. H. Harriman, chairman of the board of directors of Union Pacific R.R., former member of the board of directors of the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the former friend of James H. Hyde, against whom the latter charged acts of unfriendly nature in his testimony Tuesday was one of the chief witnesses before the legislative committee on insurance investigation yesterday. Harriman was called immediately after recess and his testimony was a series of denials of the charges made by Hyde.

After Harriman had testified, Hyde was called again and asked if he heard Harriman testify. He replied that he had. He reaffirmed his precious testimony and supplied data about several questions concerning which Harriman was uncertain.

Mr. Hyde and Mr. Harriman was completed and the next witness who is awaited with much interest is Odell, who has requested that he be examined.

RETIREMENT OF DR. MAY.

His Position as Library Inspector Goes to Mr. Leavitt.

Dr. May has held the office for 30 years and drew a salary of $1,700 per annum. He is 77 years of age.

Assignment Follows Fire.

Petrolea, Nov. 16.—The Petrolea Packing Co. made an assignment to Charles Egan yesterday. The total loss on the company's fire was $175,000 and total insurance carried $140,000. The amount payable by the seventeen insurance companies interested will net the company $118,574.

Big Firm In Difficulties.

Quebec, Nov. 16.—Carrier, Lane & Co., one of Canada's most prominent manufacturing establishments, with headquarters at Levis, is in financial difficulties, and a demand of assignment was made upon the firm by the Bank of Montreal, whose claim amounts to $100,000.

Grounded In Delaware.

Philadelphia, Nov. 16.—The British steamship Britannia, which sailed late Monday for Havana, struck a ledge of rocks yesterday, which tore a hole in her bottom. She was run aground in the Delaware River, opposite Bellevue, Delaware, to prevent her from sinking.

Great Storm Prevents Bloodshed in St. Petersburg's Streets.

GENERAL STRIKE IS NOW ON

Inhabitants Terrorized When 100,000 Men Walk Out—Government, as Usual, Unprepared—The Strikers Declare for Republic and Make Very Incendiary Speeches—Imperial Ukase to Give Land.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 16.—The proletariat of St. Petersburg summoned another general political strike, beginning yesterday at noon.

The order was wonderfully successful, almost 100,000 men walking out. The suddenness and magnitude of the movement has terrorized the inhabitants, and has caught the Government, as usual, unprepared.

The streets are already full of Cossacks, cavalry and infantry, but the authorities in the face of such a gigantic revolutionary demonstration, seem to be hesitating over what course to pursue.

A large meeting of workmen is being held at which the most incendiary speeches are being made, and resolutions adopted.

A fierce northeast blizzard and snowstorm which blew down on St. Petersburg last night, prevented bloodshed in the Russian capital. The bitter cold night forced the strikers to remain indoors, and did more to preserve order than all the Cossacks' cavalry patrolling the streets. Heavy military reserves are stationed in all industrial districts, but up to midnight there was no rioting.

Give Land to Peasants.

The Associated Press is informed from a high source that a ukase will be issued whereby a large portions of the Imperial domain, which covers almost a third of European Russia, and which at present is the property of the Emperor and grand dukes, will be given to the peasants.

Land will be supplied to the landless peasants, in 15-acre allotments, not as a free gift, but on easy terms, the payments to be made through the peasants' bank and to cover a period of 35 years.

$20,000 NETTED TO THEM.

Product of the Plumbers' Association's Commissions in Two Years.

Toronto, Nov. 16.—The examination of Mr. W. H. Meredith, Secretary of the Master Plumbers and Steamfitters' Association, yesterday morning, disclosed the fact that the members of the association had divided among themselves in less than 2 years, from the commissions exacted on each contract carried out by the members, a sum slightly under $20,000, and that there was a few days ago a balance of $7,500 available for the next dividend.

County Crown Attorney Curry was unable to ascertain where this balance is, which had recently been transferred from the Ontario Bank to the Bank of Montreal, and has since been withdrawn from that institution. It was intimated that if he did find it, Mr. Curry might seize the money as having been improperly obtained as a result of conspiracy.

The Police Magistrate suggested that the evidence already taken disclosed grounds for prosecution of individuals upon the charge of taking money by fraud.

It was also established that the operations of the combine are not confined to Toronto alone, but extend to other cities and towns in the Province.

The minutes also showed that action had been taken by the association to enforce the agreements with the Central Supply Association and the Journeymen's Union, No. 46, respectively.

Load of Hay In a Blaze.

Ottawa, Nov. 16.—A farmer named Bothwell, driving on a load of hay along the Chelsea road, to Ottawa, lit his pipe yesterday morning and in a moment the hay was in a blaze. Bothwell unhitched the team and saved the horses from a scorching, but the rig and contents were destroyed.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-west Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

Homestead Duties.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Application for patent should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

It makes the hair soft and glossy as silk; delightful odour, and refreshing hair dressing. It permits the hair to grow abundantly, and kills the dandruff germ. Sold by leading druggists. Post-election Outing Of Buffalonians

Prominent Gentlemen From American City Spend Enjoyable Week at Stony Lake—First Visit to Kawarthadom Was Highly Satisfactory—Will Return Next Year—Returned Home To-day—Personnel of Party

WEEK'S CRUISE ON STR. STONY LAKE

A sojourn in the bracing November atmosphere of the Kawartha Lakes could scarcely fail to impart to the most emaciated system an invigorating effect. A party which returned this morning, after about a week's stay, amid the fragrance of the pines certainly could not be accused of anemic tendencies. Physically speaking, however, they were "all to the good" before their departure, so that the net results of the expedition, must be regarded mere in the light of a mental invigouration incidental to a week of rollicking amusement.

The party was composed of thirteen prominent Buffalonians, who indulge in a post-election outing annually. This year, the party, in a desire for "pastures new," were brought hitherward under the direction of Dr. Clarke, who was a candidate at the recent elections for the shrievalty of Buffalo. As might naturally be expected, the result of the quest exceeded anticipations, and like everyone who has once tasted the delights of an outing in the Kawartha region, the party looks forward to a duplication of the trip next season.

About a week was spent at Stony Lake, the party being quartered upon the steamer Stony Lake, upon which, it is unnecessary to say, they were shown a good time by Captain Scollard.

The visit just concluded is the first for the majority of the party to this section of the Dominion. Dr. Clarke, however, is a well-known summer resident of Stony Lake, having for years spent a considerable portion of each summer at Mount Julian. The party contented themselves principally with a cruise about Stony Lake. Next year, however, they intend to take a more extensive journey through the chain of beautiful back lakes. Several members left last night for their homes in Buffalo, though the majority remained until this morning, leaving upon the noon train.

The party was composed as follows:

William Bray, John Grimm, Dr. Meahl, Fred Murray, treasurer for the county of Erie, William Bradish, Deputy Collector of Customs, John T. Clarke, John Diebolt, William Landfield, Councilman John Stets, J. Miller, Edward Beck, president of the Beck Brewing Company; and Wm. Meinake, all of Buffalo; Supreme Court Judge, Frank L. Laughlin, New York, and Chas. Armstrong, of Havelock; W. M. Langford, Mount Julian acted as guide.

"THE DAYLIGHT STORE"

It beats all how many stores are throwing Dollars at the Clothing buyers these days. Half-off sales, all off sales, take-'em-at-any-price sales are an epidemic just now. "HAVE A CARE." If you have come in. This is a money-saving Store, so they say. "They" means our patrons. Everybody has the "newest," the "best," the "latest," the "grandest," etc., etc. Take a day off and if you find you want anything in the way of Fall and Winter Clothing or Furnishings, come here for it. See our "SOVEREIGN BRAND." There is none better, for better can't be made. We have no hesitancy in saying that Sovereign Brand Clothing is CHAMPION in points of workmanship, quality, style and fit. VOL. XXXIX NO 117 PETERBOROUGH SATURDAY NOVEMBER 18 1905 PRICE TWO CENTS

Council Will Consult With Government

With Regard to Matter of Utilizing Dredging to Fill in Depression in City Property Beside C.P.R. Tracks—Deputation Appointed at Last Night's Council Meeting—Will Go To Ottawa If Necessary.

WILL CONSULT MR. R. R. HALL, M.P.

The suggestion has been made that the material resulting from the dredging at present being done along the river bank from Hunter street to the C. P. R. bridge might to advantage be utilized in filling in the depression in the city property beside the C. P. R. tracks. This might be done with very little additional expense at the present time, though if left till a later date, when it will become necessary, the cost will undoubtedly be a greatly increased one.

As a result of the action taken at last night's meeting of the Committee of the Whole, an understanding will probably be secured with the Dominion Government with regard to the matter.

The Board of Works will probably first consult with Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., as to the best course to pursue, and if necessary a deputation will probably be sent to Ottawa as provided in the following motion:—

Moved by Ald. Johnston, seconded by Ald. Crowe, that the matter of trying to get the material being dredged from the river by the Dominion Government deposited upon the property owned by the city be referred to the Board of Works with powers to send a deputation to Ottawa if found advisable, and the expenses of the deputation be paid on order of the mayor or chairman of the Board of Works.—Carried.

Surface Drain Construction is at a Standstill

The men employed laying the surface drain from the west side of Bethune street to the creek have reached the G. T. R. tracks, and have to wait until the Supt. of the Company gives permission to excavate under the tracks before they can proceed. It is expected that this permission will be received by Monday when the men will finish the work. A catch basin will be put in on the west side of the tracks. This will finish up the work on the streets for the year.

Save Stories In Competition

The suggestion is made that those who have entered stories in this competition should clip them from each paper, as they appear, and place them in scrap books. They would then have the complete series of stories intact.

First Story In Competition Given To-day

The Competition to Encourage Literary Talent—Peterborough's Bright Students of the Collegiate Institute Submit Stories—Some of the Peculiarities of Competition Thirteen Young Ladies Enter Stories.

STUDENTS APPRECIATE THE EXAMINER'S OFFER

The Examiner to-day publishes the first of the stories submitted for the "Story Competition," inaugurated by this paper for the purpose of developing and encouraging the literary ability of the pupils in the Collegiate Institute. That the action of the Examiner is offering these prizes was appreciated by those to whom it was made is evidenced by the fact that fourteen stories written by the bright pupils of the Institute were submitted in the competition. These stories will be published one each Saturday, until they have all been printed, and at the close the judges will make their award. The judges will be three local gentlemen chosen because of their literary ability, and will be strictly impartial, and no way connected with this office.

Since the announcement was made in these columns that the competition would be inaugurated, a number of prominent citizens have expressed themselves as being highly in favour of the proposal, and the response which it has met with by those whom it was intended to benefit has furnished ample proof of the fact that it was appreciated. If it serves to develop any literary talent which the students already possess, or it it has encouraged them to attempt a new line of work, the Examiner's aim will have been reached.

This competition has developed some rather peculiar situations, among them being the fact that out of fourteen students who submitted stories thirteen were written by young ladies, not a very high commendation for the literary tastes of the young men who attend the Institute. Of the fourteen who sent stories the majority were in the first and second forms of the Institute.

Eye Injured By Hot Lead

Mr. H. Staunton Victim of Painful Accident.

Mr. Harvey Staunton, 20 Benson avenue, an employee of the Peterborough Light and Power Company, met with a very painful accident yesterday. He was working at the residence of Rev. J. G. Potter, and let drop a pail of hot lead that he was carrying. Some of the contents splashed up and struck him in the right eye. The flesh around the injured organ was badly burned, and while the lead struck the ball of the eye the sight will not be destroyed. It was very fortunate for Mr. Staunton that he was not totally blinded.

Report That Peterborough Radial Railway Company Will Extend Lines to Lakefield

There is every probability that the Radial Railway will extend their line to Lakefield at least, and in all probability, to Young's Point. The Examiner has learned on what is regarded as good authority, that negotiations are under way for the purchase of the right of way to Lakefield, and that the estimated cost for right of way and construction is in the neighborhood of $300,000. Mr. J. H. Larmonth, the Manager of the Company, when seen to-day, stated that the matter was not discussed at the annual meeting of the Shareholders held yesterday afternoon, when the Directors were elected. He stated that he was unable to say definitely whether the line would go to Young's Point, the report of the engineers on the survey and the estimates of cost being in Chicago, where the decision as to the proposed extension would be made. He said that no new plans affecting the lines in this city were discussed, the present condition of the affairs of the Company being satisfactory. The former Board of Directors were re-elected.

White Fawn Was Secured

The Blewett Hunting Party Secured a Novelty.

One of the most successful of the hunting parties which have so far returned is the Blewett party, of Lakefield. It is composed of the following veterans of the chase, who have this year, however, been located in terra incognita—otherwise the Parry Sound district, this being their first journey into that section: Messrs. John and M. Blewett, J. Hunter, Mitchell McClure, of Lakefield, and John M. Lumsden, of Peterborough.

The party was successful in laying low eight antlered monarchs, one of these being a 200-pound buck. A small white fawn was also among the trophies of the chase. This is regarded as a prize in view of its rarity.

Power Company's Annual Meeting

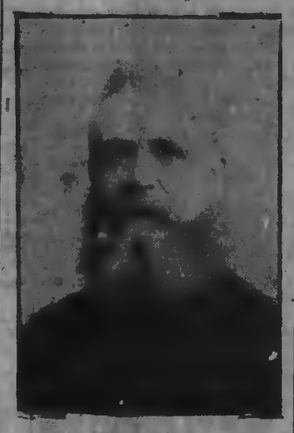
Shareholders of Peterborough Hydraulic Company Met Yesterday.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Hydraulic Power Company, was held yesterday afternoon in the office of Messrs. Donaldtoun, Peck, Kerr and Stevenson. There was no special business transacted, outside of the election of the Board of Directors, the old board being re-elected. The Board is composed of Messrs. Robt. Stuart, H. P. Crowell, Hon. G. A. Cox, John Stewart, J. H. Larmonth.

The officers were not elected yesterday, but those who held office were: President, Mr. R. Stuart; Vice-President, Mr. John Stuart; Secretary, Mr. E. Gordon; Assistant-Secretary, W. L. Templeton; Manager, J. H. Larmonth.

A bylaw was passed changing the date of the annual meeting to the third week in February, to conform with that of the Radial Railway Company, the officers of the two concerns being almost identical. The reports of the company were not presented at this meeting, but will be at the next meeting.

The Hydraulic Power Company is the concern which owns all the power properties supplying power to the Radial Railway Company and the American Cereal Company. It also owns the property upon which the mills of the American Cereal Company are erected, the latter leasing the land to erect their mills upon.



The picture to-day is that of one of the best known men in the city. He has been a resident of Peterborough for many years, and, prior to coming here, was a prosperous farmer in a neighbouring township. At the time this picture was taken, twenty-five years ago, he was president of the Dominion Grange, a farmers' organization. He is a prominent Methodist and interested in the preservation of the public health.

The picture published last Saturday was one of Sheriff Hall. It was not recognized by many, but His Worship Mayor Best first informed the Examiner of its identity. Mr. Robert Innis, and Mr. G. M. Roger also recognized it.

Bad Boys and Snowballing

The youths of the city can't apparently resist the temptation of snowballing, when the snow is in condition. One doesn't mind how much they "plunk" each other, but their reckless firing, regardless of other persons — old or young, men or women—who may be in the line of fire, should be stopped. Last night on Hunter street at eight o'clock, a gentleman and two ladies, seated in a reception room, were startled by the crash made by a snow ball which broke one of the large panes in the lower sash. The police should give the boys a warning and, if need be, a lesson.

Coasting on the pavement is another practice which is liable to result in accidents to the youngsters—as happened to-day—or to the pedestrians.

Attacked By Howling, Hungry Pack of Wolves

Havelock Man Surrounded on Sunday Last While Driving at Head of Stony Lake—Mr. R. H. Jackson States That Animals are Numerous and Ferocious—Hound Torn to Pieces on the Run-Way—Other Incidents.

SETTLERS' FLOCK WAS DECIMATED

The Jackson hunting party returned on Thursday night from the head of Stony Lake, where they were located during the hunting season.

The party, consisting of Mr. R. H. Jackson, of the Crown Hotel, and Messrs. Greig, Swanston and Taylor were domiciled in Mr. Jackson's cottage, near Eel's Creek. They were successful in bringing into camp five deer.

Mr. Jackson states that the wolves in that section have this season played havoc with the deer, and in fact have become so numerous as to be a menace to human life. On Sunday last a man, driving in from Havelock, was surrounded by a pack of ferocious, howling monsters, and was forced to get out of his buggy and and seize his horse, which had become affrighted, by the head. The pack approached rapidly, and had it not been for the timely arrival of a number of men from a lumber camp in the vicinity, an attack, he believed, was certain. Thomas Hull, who resides at the head of the lake, has been a severe sufferer from the ravages of the wolves, ten of his flock of sheep being killed a short time ago, together with a heifer. The The destruction of deer by the same cause is regarded as most disastrous by the returned nimrods. A hound which was in pursuit of a deer upon a run-way was attacked and torn to pieces by the ferocious brutes.

With the present large bounty upon wolves a systematic destruction of them should be a money-making proposition, and with the close of the hunting season the settlers in the district affected will probably turn their attention in this direction.

Was Injured While Coasting

While sleighriding down the Stewart street hill, in the northern part of the city, Percy O'Donnel, youngest son of Mr. Michael O'Donnel, 56 Harvey street, met with a very painful though not serious accident. His sled, which was going at a high rate of speed, shot off the road, and the occupant went head foremost into a telegraph pole. He was stunned and bruised, and badly shaken up, but was not cut or lacerated in any way.

The habit of boys coasting down steep hills upon which it is impossible for them to control their sleds should be prohibited by the authorities, as they make themselves a nuisance to drivers of vehicles and the general public as well.

While the young citizens need all the outdoor exercise they can get, at the same time they should not be allowed to engage in so dangerous a pastime—dangerous to themselves and others as well.

Peterborough's Debentures At a Premium

Municipal Debenture Tenders Opened Last Night—Aemilius Jarvis & Co., Toronto, Secure Them at a Premium of $344.22—First Occasion in Many Years That They Went to Outside Purchaser.

PORT ARTHUR NOT THE ONLY PLACE

The loud paean of rejoicing, which emanated from Port Arthur, after the recent sale of their municipal debentures, at the rate of 103, as been generally regarded as being somewhat phenomenal, yet the western town is not the only place where debentures sell at a premium.

With the return yesterday of Ald. Mason, chairman of the Finance Committee, the tenders recently advertised for, for the purchase of local municipal debentures, were opened.

Fourteen tenders, in all, were received, the highest being that of Aemilius Jarvis & Co., of Toronto, whose tender was $44,653.30, the total issue being $44,309.08, showing a premium of $344.22.

The debentures issues were as follows:—

$15,000, 4 per cent., 30 years, waterworks.

$12,000, 4 per cent, 20 years, bridges and street extensions.

$3,385.07, 4 per cent, 30 years, sewers.

This is the first occasion in many years when Peterborough municipal debentures have been sold to outside purchasers, and also the first time in a long period, that they have gone at a premium.

STORY COMPETITION For Examiner Prize

THE UNFORTUNATE TRIO

WRITTEN BY MISS FLORENCE HURLEY.

Miss Florence Hurley, a pupil of the Collegiate Institute, Upper Form I, is fifteen years of age, and is a daughter of Mr. Dennis Hurley, of Norwood, though she is at present residing in the city. She received her preliminary education at the Public School, Section No. 6, Asphodel, from which she passed the Entrance Examination to the Collegiate Institute. She is studying in preparation for teaching.

There are many interesting incidents pertaining to the history of Peterborough, but my essay shall be confined to one whose boundaries shall be between Rice Lake and the surrounding country for some fifty miles.

I will ask you, dear reader, to go back with me some fifty years, when the country was covered with a wealth of wood. The tall hemlock, the mighty oak were supreme in the forest; no railways disturbed their quiet repose, nought save the rustling of the leaves, occasionally mingled with the sound of the wood-cutter's axe, could be heard for miles around.

Within about five miles from Rice Lake was a little clearing, where stood a rude hut formed from the roughly-hewn logs of the forest.

In front of this humble dwelling was a small patch of corn, whose silken braids glistened in the sunlight as the wind, gently murmuring through their long leaves, swayed them to and fro.

The occupants of this home were of the name of Appleton, and were of Scotch descent, their grandfather being a Highland soldier who had come to Canada in the early forties.

The members of this family, with whom our story is concerned, are Lucile, and her brother, Louis.

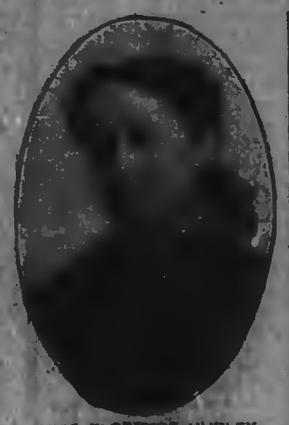
Lucile was a comely maiden of some sixteen summers, with long shiny ringlets, large blue eyes and a smiling countenance. Louis was two senior by two years. He was a tall, manly boy, with a frank countenance, which won friends for him wherever he went.

It was a bright July morning, and as Lucile was busying herself with the household duties, there came a gentle tap at the door, and her cousin, Alfred Perrin, entered. Alfred lived about half a mile from the home of Lucile, and consequently was able to pay them a visit quite frequently.

Alfred told them of a large berry patch which was about a mile away, and had come to get Lucile and Louis to accompany him thither.

After many useless remonstrances on the part of Lucile he still insisted on their going. At last she consented, so taking a small basket, they set out in the direction of the berry patch.

Ah! little did they think when



MISS FLORENCE HURLEY,

leaving that dear old threshold, what time would have elapsed, or how many changes would have taken place before they would again behold it.

As they passed through the woods Lucile gathered many of the beautiful flowers, but, accordingly, as they came by ones which she deemed more beautiful, the older ones were discarded for the fresher.

At last they reached the berry patch, and, after eating their fill, they proceeded to fill the basket, which was readily done, the berries being large and very plentiful.

Then Lucile, in quest of the beauty of natural scenery, proposed continuing their journey until they reached the lake.

They crossed many narrow, deep ravines and the long wooded flat along the lake shore to the east of Pine-tree Point. Finding it difficult to force their way through the thick undergrowth that always impedes the progress of the traveller on the low shores of the lake, they followed the course of an ascending ridge, the sides of which were gracefully adorned with flowering shrubs, wild vines, creepers of various species, wild cherries of several kinds, silver birch, oaks and pines.

It was just sunset, and as they reached the top of the hill Lucile lingered to drink in the beauty of the scene.

Below lay the lake in all its tranquility which might aptly be likened to a lake of liquid silver as the golden rays of the setting sun fell on it. The air was heavily laden with the sweet perfume of the flowers; the birds skipped from bough to bough making the air vibrate with the sweet sound of their notes; and as Lucile scanned this scene she exclaimed to Louis, "Oh, that I had the gift of an artist, that I might do justice to this gorgeous work of nature."

But the sun was already sinking in the west and they knew they must now return home.

They returned in the direction they thought they had come in the morning, but, after walking for perhaps an hour, what was their dismay, when they found they were in a very thickly wooded plain altogether unknown to them.

But the darkness soon enveloped the woods and they knew they must pass that night in the forest.

But despair is loth to enter the hearts of the youthful, so after debating for a few moments as to their shelter for the night, Alfred proposed placing the large pieces of bark together to form a shelter resembling the Indian wigwam.

While the boys were erecting this, Lucile was getting the dry leaves which were to be there bed.

At last the wigwam was completed and the floor heaped with the leaves.

Then the three children knelt down as they had been accustomed to doing at home, and, joining their hands, breathed a prayer to Him who had preserved them thus far in their eventful lives, and asking His help for the future. Methinks the angels must have loved to look down upon those innocent children, placing all their trust in their heavenly Father.

But sleep was a stranger to their watchful eyes, their thoughts continually returning to that little home which they had left that morning, while time and again the question came to their minds, where will our parents think we are to-night?

Tired nature, overtasked, at length gave way, and sleep came down upon their eyelids, deep, unbroken sleep, which lasted till the broad sunlight, breaking through the leafy curtains of their forest bed, and the sound of waving boughs and twit-
